A Call For Town Fellowship!

Fellowship is an invaluable asset to any growing community. It costs nothing, yet it pays handsome dividends.

Fellowship makes for the unity that is invaluable in building up a happy, prosperous community.

The value of good cheer and friendliness to your neighbors cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents. Most of the real happiness in life comes from kindness and good fellowship.

A real smile is contagious. Your hearty "good morning" reflects into the lives of those with whom you come into contact. And it is surprising how many "blues" one can disperse with real cheerfulness.

We want Charlevoix to be known throughout the land for its fellowship, its contentment, its friendliness and its spirit of co-operation.

You, as an individual, can add to Charlevoix's good name by the friendliness and fellowship you show your neighbors. They need your help and friendship. You need theirs.

Good Will, Loyalty and Co-operation are the things that will make Charlevoix an ideal place in which to live. Let's all be good fellows!

We, the undersigned, Believers in Charlevoix, heartily endorse the above:

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

Although earnest efforts have been made in recent years to cut down America's fire loss, it is still said to exceed a half million dollars a year, to say nothing of the sacrifice of the lives of thousands of human beings. The real tragedy in this picture is seen when we realize that most of this enormous loss of life and property was caused by carelessness—most of it could have been prevented.

October 6-12 has been set aside as "Fire Prevention Week." It is a week when we should see to the removal of every fire hazard, a time when we should study the simple rules of fire prevention, a week in which we should decide to reduce America's ash heap to a minimum. We can accomplish this if we have the will to that end.

FEDERAL FARM BOARD.

At the very outset the Federal Farm Board is anxious to have it known that it sets itself up as neither dictator nor mediator, and to have the banking and business communities understand that it will interfere at a minimum with established institutions.

It is the purpose of the board to establish liaison with all other agencies of the government with those functions its own may interfere, and with such private organizations, as, say the American Railway Association.

Applications for loans exceed the total amount available, but most of the applications are of a very hazy character. Actual loans granted this year will be comparatively small in amount, members of the board declare.

WASHINGTON'S WARNING.

In the farewell address, delivered on September 17, 1796, the ninth anniversary of the completion and signing of the Constitution, George Washington expressed the earnest hope "that the Constitution may be sacredly maintained—that its administration in every department may be stamped with wisdom and virtue—and the happiness of the people of these states may be made complete by so careful a preservation, and so prudent a use of this blessing, as will acquire to them the glory or recommending to the applause, the affection, and adoption of every nation."

He also expressed a solemn warning that we should "resist with care the spirit of innovation upon its principles, however specious the pretext. One method of assault may be in effect, in the form of the Constitution, alterations which will impair the energy of the system, and thus to undermine what cannot directly be overthrown."

DETROIT'S WARNING.

The terrible holocaust at Detroit, where 20 lives were snuffed out in a fire which suddenly swept through several rooms of a night club should serve as a warning of the danger that is always present when fire hazards are not eliminated.

At Detroit, as in most cases, carelessness was to blame. Somebody erred and almost in the twinkling of an eye revelry was turned into shambles and merry-makers were being burned and trampled to death inside the blazing inferno.

Fire Prevention Week has been set for October 6-12. It should have a new significance this year. Governor Fred W. Green in a proclamation to the people of Michigan calls attention to the necessity of making this special week more than just a gesture. Much of the enormous losses of life and property in this country can be wiped out if there is a determined will to bring it about. Only through co-operation can this be accomplished. Are you willing to share your part of this great responsibility?

THE WIDOW'S MITE.

Everybody is familiar with the story of the "widow's mite"—it is one of the most beautiful passages in the Bible—the story of a lowly soul willing to sacrifice all for her faith.

But there is a modern day version of this ancient incident—the almost unbelievable story of unprincipled rascals bent on stealing the widow's mite from thousands of trusting and unsuspecting women in this country. During 1928 over seven hundred million dollars was paid out by life insurance companies in the United States to the beneficiaries of policy holders. A large part of this huge sum went to widows—in countless instances it represented the entire amount of their husband's estate. Without it want and penury would be their lot.

In many of the large cities gangs have been organized to prey on these defenseless creatures. Lists of deaths in the obituary columns of the nation's newspapers are scanned in search of victims. In many instances widows are solicited to invest this little nest egg in some worthless security, even before the policy of their late husband has been paid. Of course promises of big dividends is a part of their sales talk.

Nothing could be more contemptible. Warnings have been sent out by the Better Business Bureaus for women suddenly bereft of their husbands to scrutinize carefully all solicitations from unknown firms. There is only one safe method for the woman suddenly in possession of a little nest egg to follow—consult your banker, or some reputable business man or woman in your community before making an investment. It will save you much sorrow and misery, if not actual want.

SCIENCE MARCHES FORWARD.

So numerous and varied are the discoveries made by science that one tends to pay only passing heed to announcements of new findings. Yet one recent discovery is of note because it means that a force whose principal use heretofore has been in the medical field now takes, as an ally of industry, a diametrically opposite character.

The subject of the discovery of the X-Ray, that peculiar type of energy which allows photographs to be made through objects that are not ordinarily transparent. X-Ray equipment, in its new role, is utilized in the metal trades to reveal defects that can be detected in no other manner. Blow-holes, shrinkage, porosity, and other imperfections are disclosed on the X-Ray plates, and as a result faulty materials can be eliminated before they are made a part of an intricate machine.

Undoubtedly there are in the X-Ray many other possibilities, at present undreamed of, that some day will be discovered and give everyday application. Yet it is doubtful if any use will surpass the significance of these rays in medicine, for there they have truly worked a revolution. From searching out the location of fractured bones to detection of tuberculosis, where they have become an indispensable aid of the Michigan Tuberculosis association, doctors, and tuberculosis sanatoriums in their fight against the disease, the potent X-Rays have played their part. Even if they will mean the saving of countless sums of money to business and industry, the result will not approach their significance as preservers of life and health.

Medical science certainly will not begrudge conversion of one of its chief aids to the uses of commerce an industry. Rather it will share the general hope that still more modes of use may be found for the rays and their benefits extended to an ever wider circle.

HOME PROJECT WORKERS CALLED TO MEET

Marion and Phelps Ladies Gather Oct. 3 at Marion Town Hall.

Women of the Marion Center and Phelps communities are asked to meet at Marion Center town hall on Thursday, October 3rd, at 2:30 local time.

The gathering is called to select leaders to attend meetings at Boyne City held under the supervision of state extension specialists, who will present the Home Management project in Charlevoix county. The course will cover three years. There will be four meetings, the last coming in December.

FORMER RESIDENT VICTIM OF MISHAP

Injuries Received Last Week Fatal to Virgil Davis.

Virgil Davis, a former Charlevoix resident, was fatally injured a week ago Monday while filling a silo at his late home near Barryton, Ill. He died at a Chicago hospital the following day.

Mr. Davis was formerly head of the swine department at Loeb Farms and was well known here. Of late he was manager of a large farm near Barryton, Ill., and was helping repair a silo when the fatal accident occurred. He is survived by his wife and two daughters.

It is said that people have a too stooping posture, but it would not hurt them here in Charlevoix to stoop over the workbench a bit more.

The people who get to work later in the morning, are apt to make up for it by quitting earlier in the afternoon.

THREE INJURED WHEN AUTO STRUCK A TREE

Boyne City-Youths Returning From Traverse City Fair.

A midnight drive home from the Traverse City fair ended disastrously for Ivan Davis, Merritt Smith, Victor Clute and Melvin Clute, Boyne City young men, last Thursday night. All but Melvin Clute were severely injured when their Chrysler sedan left the road north of Elk Rapids.

All except the driver, Victor Clute, had been sleeping, and it is supposed that the driver, too, dozed at the wheel. There is only a slight curve at the point where the accident occurred and this is the only explanation of the accident that is given. If this is correct theirs was the second accident on U. S. 31 north of Elk Rapids within two weeks from the same cause.

The most seriously hurt was Ivan Davis, who has a fractured skull and other injuries. Merritt Smith received a broken nose and Victor Clute was cut on the head. They were taken to the Edenshores club house on Torch lake where Dr. Duffy of Central Lake gave them emergency attention. Davis was taken during the night to a hospital at Petoskey, where fear is felt for his life. The accident occurred a half mile south of Edenshores at 12:30 a. m.

The auto struck a tree that crashed through its top.

WESTERN UNION OFFER SPECIAL SERVICE

Plan to Deliver Unscaled Telegrams During Jewish Holidays.

Unscaled telegrams will be delivered by the Western Union Telegraph Co., during the celebration of Yom Hashana, the Jewish New Year, which starts at sundown of October 4th, according to an announcement made Tuesday by the manager of the local Western Union office. This special service has been provided in order that Orthodox Hebrews may comply with a Mosaic law which prohibits their tearing anything during the holidays.

The exceptionally large volume of greeting telegrams sent during the Jewish New Year celebration has induced the telegraph company to provide special facilities for their transmission this year, as in previous years. Not only will additional operators and messengers be assigned to offices in Jewish sections but the company has also provided a special Jewish New Year blank and envelope which will be used for all greeting telegrams. In addition a number of suggested phrasings for these messages have been compiled for the convenience of patrons.

The company announced also that it has made provision for the sending of cable greetings to European countries. Messages may be sent for as little as $1.25 to these countries.

CITY IS IMPROVING WEST HURLBUT AVE.

A much needed city improvement is well under way this week. Under the supervision of the city street department, a force has completed the grading and are now well along with the work of graveling West Hurlbut avenue between State and Grant streets.

This thoroughfare has been in terrible condition, inasmuch as Hurlbut avenue leads past the hospital, it is important that it should be in good condition.

RED AND WHITE SWAMPED ONAWAY

form. The boys are taking their work-outs as seriously as they would a regular contest and seem to be imbued with a spirit to get some place.

Kipke had 30 men in uniform Monday and Tuesday afternoons. He split them up into two squads and spent the early practice period in running signals and learning new plays. Light scrimmage sessions wound up each day's work-out.

There is a wealth of good material. Bill Novak fills the pivot position like a veteran, and in Arvill, Stroud and Rex Supernaw, Kipke has an excellent backfield. Supernaw proved the scoring ace in the Onaway contest. He is exceptionally fast on end runs, goes well through a broken field, follows his interference well and seems to have the ability to pick holes and get through them. Arvill is a terrific line plunger and a stone wall on defense. The line is heavy and a bunch of scrappers.

Charlevoix meets their real test Saturday afternoon when they go to Boyne City for their traditional struggle with that school. Boyne trimmed Charlevoix last Saturday 27 to 0, and have a strong team. If Charlevoix can get away with a victory over Boyne they should win the remainder of their schedule easily.

A large delegation is planning to follow the team to Boyne Saturday. Get in line with the rest and give the boys your support.

W. E. Parmelee makes screen windows and doors.—Adv. 134f.

POMONA GRANGE WILL ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Meet Saturday, October 5th, With Peninsula Grange.

Charlevoix Pomona Grange will meet with Peninsula Grange on Saturday, October 5th, at 2:00 p. m.

Special attention is called to the importance of this coming gathering. Delegates to the state Grange will be chosen at the afternoon session, and officers for the ensuing two years will be elected in the evening.

All Granges should be well represented. The success of the work in the county depends largely upon the officers chosen to direct activities, and it is important that every organization send a good quota.

WORK STARTED ON NEW STATE STREET SEWER

Work was started on the installation of the State street sewer system. Henry Marshall has the contract. The job calls for the laying of 1,800 feet of sewer and there will undoubtedly be many laterals in connection.

If everybody did as everybody does, what a blank, colorless world this would be.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Our Scholarly Senate.

"Does the Senator yield and to whom?" It is the voice of Vice-president Curtis preceded by the sharp stroke of his gavel. Instantly the three or four-cornered Senatorial debate gives way to one voice at a time, and order is restored. Thus the president of the Senate, like a watchful schoolmaster, presides over his sometimes unruly scholars.

This is not the only characteristic of Senate proceedings that reminds visitors of the classroom. There are the rows of little desks half covered with stationery and legislative documents, each desk carefully marked with the name of its occupant. The roll call at the opening of each session also is reminiscent of "dear old golden-rule days." Senators who make a speech prepared in advance stand by their desks and read from the written copy, much in the manner of one making a schoolroom recitation. The more irreverent have even remarked that the disguised gibes hurled across the aisle are not so far removed from small-boy pantomime of nose-thumbing and surreptitious grimaces.

Legislation and the Market Basket.

"To interrupt the tariff in terms of the market basket," is one aim of the committee on Living Costs of the National League of Women Voters as expressed by its chairman, Mrs. Harris T. Baldwin of Washington.

"The relation between tariff legislation and living costs is a subject on the study program of the league," Mrs. Baldwin said. "We do not take any definite action on a legislative subject until we have studied it in detail for two or three years. This involves an immense amount of reading and research, but it has been proved the wisest course to follow. Our chairman in various states are following a concrete program of education along tariff lines, and, of course, we in Washington are following tariff proceedings through every stage."

Women have shown themselves surprisingly responsive to the technical-political subject of duties, protection, ad valorem rates, etc., Mrs. Baldwin says. The rural woman, who feels most directly the effect of taxes and other economic legislation, is especially well informed on the subject, and they in particular are well awakened to the relation between prices of food and the duties thereon.

Other subjects on the study program of the committee are the regulation of public utilities, the elimination of unnecessary costs in producing and distributing necessities of life, the agricultural depression and measures for reconstruction, and so on.

Senators and Sugar.

Although the sugar schedule proper will likely not be reached for many days, its friends and enemies are lining up on the Senate floor.

Senator Furnifold Simmons of North Carolina, veteran finance minority leader, has declared indignantly that the increase in duty on sugar alone would absorb the largest part of the increase afforded agriculture. Nobody challenges the statistics he read to prove his point.

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, chief tormentor of Senator Reed Smoot in the 1922 battle on sugar tariff, is in his usual fighting form this session. In a speech on the Hawley-Smoot bill, he recently attacked Senator Smoot for appropriating to himself the consideration of the sugar schedule on account of his well-known personal interest in the subject.

"Can you name a single large staple crop of the south that will be benefited by this proposed tariff?" thundered Senator Walter F. George of Georgia. If Senators from Louisiana and Florida had any desire to voice their faith in protection for their cane growers, they must have thought it wiser to keep silent. Senator George is known to be a strong opponent of increased sugar tariff.

Among the Republicans the chief position so far has been defense of the bill as a whole, of course. Yet it is known that Senator William Borah of Idaho has had under consideration for some time a bounty plan as a means toward relief for the sugar farmer. Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, also recently advocated a bonus plan for beet growers rather than a higher tariff, as in his opinion a tariff increase will not help the farmers. Senator Lynn J. Frazier is also inclined to the bonus plan. Washington observers expect the Progressives, in accordance with their often voiced sympathy for the farmer, to withhold their support of a tariff that will burden farming groups and yield practically no benefit to a small group of cane and beet growers.

The Trend of Tariffs.

The two greatest newspapers of Spanish America, "La Prensa" and "La Nacion," both comparable only to the New York "Times" in size and influence, are devoting their best thought to the American tariff question. "La Prensa" sums up with the statement: "A policy based on egotism is not a good mercantile policy. In international commerce, although there may be no definite plan of reprisals, every blow dealt is returned."

"La Nacion" finds that the tariff bill shows up two distinct international commercial policies in the United States: one seeks the equalization between farmers and industrialists, the other seeks to exclude foreign products from the home markets. "The first is the policy promised and upheld by President Hoover; the second that demanded by certain agricultural interests and speculators in cereals."

"La Prensa," with characteristic national pride, advocates neither protests nor petitions; protests are out of place, petitions for favor undignified. Negotiations, as between equals, would be the only method acceptable.

"La Nacion" states that organization of production and private co-operatives is going ahead encouragingly, "to ourselves defend our own production."

Small Sweets Unpopular in England.

Englishmen prefer to "reach for a sweet" in the privacy of their homes; therefore the British market for American candy bars and five-cent boxes is distinctly hampered. The Department of Commerce recently made public a statement from the trade commissioner at London regarding United States confections in England. According to his report, the profits realized from chewing gum have been small as compared with the expense of advertising, although the chewing gum habit is increasing abroad.

Large packages of chocolates that can be taken home and eaten with no vulgar display are more popular in Great Britain. Jelly candies, candy-coated gum, marshmallows and mints are believed to have the greatest potential market possibilities, says the trade commissioner. However, American manufacturers must remember that the British trade dislike anything oddly sized or priced as is the case with our favorite five-cent bars and packages of candy. The corresponding English bar sells for four cents in American money, and the next size sells for six cents.

Prohibition South of the Rio Grande.

Chile and Mexico are the two countries suffering most from the abuse of intoxicating liquors by their citizens, and are the two which are making the most energetic efforts to control drinking to excess. Their campaigns differ from the United States type of prohibition in that they—especially Chile—begin by imposing severe punishment for drunkenness, and for habitual cases establishing hospital treatment. Vendors incur severe punishment for selling to habitual drunkards, to intoxicated persons, or to minors, or who permit intoxicated persons to enter their establishments, remain there or drink until intoxicated. Practically all the punishments provided for these infractions are prompt sentences to hard labor.

Public opinion has called for this effort to stamp out drunkenness in Chile, and its results will be watched with keen interest by the world.

Women in Washington.

There are approximately 78,900 women in Washington employed regularly both in private concerns and in governmental business, according to a count of the Census Bureau, and the number of women workers is increasing steadily.

The largest group consists of women in clerical positions and forms 69 per cent of the total. Professional workers make up the second largest class. There are 8,800 women in this division which includes doctors, nurses, school teachers and lawyers. Seven thousand two hundred women engage in manufacturing occupations of various sorts, and 5,300 in trade activities. A variety of endeavors that must be lumped together under the term "miscellaneous" claim the attention of the remaining 3,100. Not a few of these women own and operate their own enterprises, and a surprisingly large number are found in the employer class. What women proved they could do during the emergency of war they continue to do.

AVOID CARELESSNESS.

Secretary of labor, James J. Davis in a most eloquent appeal to the workers of America said:

"To every worker let me say: Your country needs your product, your employer needs your skill; and your wife and children need their bread-winner. Avoid accidents. Help your employer and your associates to keep you safe."

UNDINE SCHOOL NOTES.

Third week of school. We have sixteen enrolled in school this year.

Our new students are: Milton Brooks, seventh grade; and Patricia Baxter, beginner.

A new heating system and a new floor were put in during the summer. Six chairs, three seats and a new set of maps have been ordered.

Our new books have come. Everybody is busy.

The first grade have learned the poem "Come Little Leaves." The second grade learned "America."

The fourth grade seem to be enjoying their new studies, Geography and Hygiene.

Baseball is the main recreation at noon. Champion players are: Marie Klooster and Albert Joe.

Visit our school. You are welcome any time. (Written by Celia Tepakeyoh, seventh grade).

THE FOREST FIRES.

We must be careful of fires. The woods have been in a condition where flames may be easily set and grow into destruction and conflagrations.

Rains may come but only a long continued wet spell will eliminate the dangers that the long, dry season has brought. A good many inches of rainfall will be required to remove the danger.

Break that match, throw no lighted cigarette stubs into the brush, put out that camp fire, do not burn brush or refuse until the danger is past. Be careful and save your home and that of your friends and neighbors.

Oldest Licensed New York Driver
Still on Road with 1914 Oakland.

Elmer T. Smith of Union, N. Y., who at the age of 85 has the distinction of being the oldest licensed driver in his state, also is an Oakland owner and booster of many years standing.

Smith purchased his first Oakland in 1914 at the age of 70 and still has it. A few years ago he bought a 1923 model but in time disposed of it. Recently he purchased a 1929 Pontiac, just to show he appreciated the easy operating and comfortable riding of Oakland-Pontiac cars.

Chrysler Addresses Dodge Men On First Anniversary.

"The Restoration of Dodge Brothers' Prestige" was the subject of an earnest talk by Walter P. Chrysler to the executives of the Dodge Brothers organization on the occasion of the completion of the first year of Chrysler ownership of the vast Dodge properties.

Mr. Chrysler pointed out that under the management of the Chrysler organization, the Dodge Brothers Six has shown a gain in sales of 57 per cent greater than that of the former Victory Six in the year before Chrysler acquired Dodge. The increase in Dodge Brothers truck, bus and coach business for the same period has also been substantial, Mr. Chrysler said.

In this first year of Chrysler ownership of Dodge Brothers, plant efficiency has been greatly increased under the direction of K. T. Keller, vice-president in charge of all Chrysler Motors manufacturing and general manager of Dodge Brothers, Engineering design, quality of materials and craftsmanship has been further improved with a corresponding increase in the value of the product. The great Dodge Brothers dealer organization, always one of the strongest in the industry, has grown still stronger.

Much of this growth in volume and prestige, Mr. Chrysler attributes to the restoration of the policies established in the business 15 years ago by John and Horace Dodge, and to the re-establishment of the name of Dodge Brothers in the motor car markets of the world.

"Under the ownership which preceded Chrysler, there appeared a tendency to get away from the name of Dodge Brothers, and from the prestige for value, dependability and mechanical excellence which that name had so long carried," said Mr. Chrysler. "While the company was still known as Dodge Brothers, its cars were known as the Victory Six, the Standard Six and the Senior Six. The trucks, buses and motor coaches manufactured by the company were sold under the name of Graham Brothers.

"To the Chrysler organization, our purchase of these great properties brought three assets of incalculable value—the vast and fine manufacturing facilities in these splendid plants, the soundly established and aggressive organization of Dodge dealers, and the name of Dodge Brothers.

"In my judgment the greatest of these was the 14-year old prestige of the Dodge Brothers name. We could have reproduced the brick, mortar and machinery of the manufacturing plants. Conceivably, we might in time have duplicated in the marketing of a fine product the prestige of the Dodge dealer organization. But only to Dodge Brothers and to a business built upon the principles of integrity, progressiveness and fine craftsmanship could there belong the public approval and the prestige which attach to the name of Dodge Brothers.

"That is why we immediately revived the original Dodge Brothers emblem, restoring to Dodge Brothers products that sterling sign of quality, dependability and value. That is why our first Chrysler-engineered Dodge car is named the Dodge Brothers Six. That is why we have given to our trucks, buses and coaches the name of their makers—Dodge Brothers. That is why every Dodge product, no matter what its model name, carries also the name of Dodge Brothers.

"This grand old name is the greatest thing that came with the acquisition of Dodge Brothers and, under Chrysler management, I firmly believe it shall go steadily forward to greater and greater eminence. With your cooperation and with that of our fine dealer body, I confidently predict that the name of Dodge Brothers will enjoy in the future a prestige even greater than was ever imagined by the founders of this great manufacturing institution."

"There are 2,594 different machines in operation in the Plymouth Motor Corporation's plant in Detroit and each machine is operated by its own electric motor," says P. C. Snuerbrey, operating manager of the Plymouth plant.

DAIRY

HIGH-PRODUCING COW IS FAVORED

Costs More to Feed but More Than Makes It Up.

Ohio, with the sixth largest number of dairy cows among the important dairying states, supports more than one-third of a million cows kept for milking purposes than are actually needed to produce the same volume of milk and butterfat now being obtained. This is the conclusion from statistics on the dairy industry of the state and on the performance of the 9,171 cows in herds in cow-testing associations.

Ohio has approximately 926,000 cows and heifers two years old and over. Average production of milk is about 4,500 pounds per cow per year. Average production of butterfat is about 160 pounds per year. But the 9,171 cows in the cow testing associations averaged a production of 7,451 pounds of milk and 315 pounds of butterfat in 1927. If that had been the average for all the cows in the state, only about 555,000 cows would have been needed to produce the same quantity of milk, and only 470,000 to produce the same weight of butterfat. That presupposes that the quality of all cows in the state, and their care and management, were kept at the same standard as those of the cows in the cow testing associations.

Looking at it in another way, if all the cows in the state were brought to the same standards of productivity as those of the cows in the associations, the milk flow in Ohio would amount to nearly seven billion pounds a year instead of only a little more than four billion. And the butterfat produced would total more than 222,000,000 pounds instead of 118,000,000 pounds.

Charts and records of feeding, kept in the cow testing associations, show that it costs more to feed the high-producing cow, but that increased cost is far below the proportionate gain.

Best Roughage for Milk Cows During the Winter

The best roughage for milk cows in the winter is a mixture of legume hay and some kind of succulent material such as silage or roots. Alfalfa hay is one of the best hays for feeding to milk cows, although clover, soy bean hay and others be longing to that family give excellent results. Corn silage is perhaps as common a feed as is available for supplying succulence, although mangels, carrots and sugar beets are also excellent. If legume hay and such succulent feeds as were mentioned are not available, corn hay, sudan hay and millets will give satisfactory results. When a nonlegume hay such as the three just mentioned is fed it will be necessary to make up the protein in the grain mixture. That will necessitate the use of some high protein concentrate such as linseed oil meal, cottonseed meal, gluten meal, soy bean oil meal, peanut meal or coconut meal.

Start Dairy Industry by Using Pure-Bred Sires

Dairying, as with other forms of live stock production, is not a thing which should be promoted. Indirect ventures usually result from promotion and rapid expansion. It is growing, and the use of good bulls, good pastures, and good home-grown feeds are excellent steps on which to build for the future. A hickory grows slowly; a cedar bean grows rapidly. The hickory lasts from year to year and makes a touch and desirable wood. The cedar bean dies at the first touch of frost. The dairy industry started by the use of better bulls, grows like the hickory, slowly but steadily, and withstands cold, low prices, and other discouraging influences.

New Electric Clippers Are Handy for Dairyman

A new electric clipper and groomer, operated somewhat on the principle of a vacuum cleaner, has been invented for the use of the dairyman who wishes to produce the cleanest milk possible with the least effort and expense. This device attaches to the milking machine vacuum pipe line and removes dirt, dust, germs, hair and filth which might get into the milk and injure its quality and purity. A similar device, but operated independently by an electric motor instead of the milking machine system, is another recent development that has proven its ability to keep dairy cows clean economically.

Cull Boards

The need of more economic and efficient production is quite apparent on every hand. The dairy farmer must cull out the low producing cows from his herd and build for a greater production for each cow through keeping records of production, by using better sires, and by following the best methods in feeding, breeding and management. The same problem must be considered by the manufacturer and distributor of dairy products.

beyond expectation

No matter how high your expectations, prepare for a surprise when you see the new Dodge Six Two-Door Sedan. It is a full 5-passenger model—extra-spacious, extra-comfortable—with liberal head-room, leg-room and elbow-room. It has the usual long list of Dodge Six engineering advancements, including weatherproof internal-expanding 4-wheel hydraulic brakes, 8-bearing rear axle and 7-bearing crankshaft. There is an unusual appeal in its smart, distinctive style. Yet its price is lower than that of any other Dodge Brothers Six model.

FISHING BETTER SAYS THE STATE

REPORTS DOUBLING OF COM-MERCIAL INDUSTRY.

Value of Fish Taken From Michigan
timated at $3,397,428.88.

The commercial fishing industry has doubled in value in Michigan in the past six years. From an industry that marketed fish valued at $1,673,667.87 in 1923 an increase is noted each year until last year the value of fish taken from Michigan waters for commercial purposes has a total value of $3,397,428.88.

These figures, compiled by the fish division of the department of conservation, show a steady growth in the value of the industry for each of the six years from which totals were taken. The figures show that in 1928, for which a summary has just been completed, 21,367,934 pounds of fish were taken from the four Great Lakes bordering the state and from Saginaw Bay where commercial fishing is permitted.

While there was little or no increase in the number of pounds of fish caught, the rising value of fish is credited with the greatly increased value of the industry. Whitefish was the only species of commercial fish that was caught in increasing quantities last year. In 1927 commercial fishermen disposed of 4,180,751 pounds of whitefish. Last year that number reached 4,652,187 pounds.

Lake trout and Whitefish continue to lead by a wide margin all other species in the commercial fishing industry. Lake trout was slightly in the lead with 5,702,174 pounds caught with a total value to the industry of $1,425,543.50. Lake trout brought an income to fishermen of $1,064,651.36 in 1927.

Lake Michigan, which has produced more commercial fish than any other one body of water bordering the state in 1927 continued in the lead last year, but with Lake Huron creeping near in the final figures.

Figures show the total number of pounds of commercial fish caught in 1928 divided as follows: Erie, 746,966; Huron, 6,757,687; Michigan, 6,941,525; Saginaw Bay, 3,195,541;

Superior, 3,636,215. Lake Superior fishermen enjoyed an increase from 3,120,729 pounds caught in 1927.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCTOBER 6-12

all inspection blanks handed in by her pupils, to C. D. Livingston, State Fire Marshal, Lansing, where these reports will be counted and tabulated. Should any parents fail or decline to make inspection reports as requested, the teacher will report same to the State Fire Marshal.

It will be observed that there are no requirements for reporting the condition of any farm property. All that is required is to make the inspection and state that it has been done. It is our belief that such inspections will naturally bring out many unsafe conditions that the owner of the property promptly will make safe against fire.

This is the first educational inspection service ever undertaken by any state to our knowledge, and we feel that farmers, assisted by their children, in working in unison along this line, will greatly lessen the great unnecessary destruction of farm buildings and personal property. We want every possible cooperation from teachers in the rural schools, their pupils and their parents and we expect it will be forthcoming.

CONGREGATIONAL MIS- SIONARY SOCIETY MET

Mrs. Hattie V. Collins Speaker at Gathering Last Wednesday.

One of the best meetings of the Congregational Woman's Missionary Society this year was held at the church last Wednesday following a one o'clock luncheon to which all the women of the church were invited.

Mrs. Hattie V. Collins of St. Clair, was the speaker and told of Congregational missionary work in the state in a most interesting manner.

Thirty-four cents of every dollar contributed to missions is used in our own state, largely in grants to home missionary pastors, and the story of their labors is comparable to the days of the circuit rider, for many churches are linked together forming large parishes reached with a Ford.

It is urged that strangers and newcomers should be more heartily welcomed, and anyway those who are trying to sell them something greet them very cordially.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mrs. Florence Stout, who has been quite ill at her home here, is much improved at the present time.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Rauch and family have taken up their residence at 214 Norwood road, having moved early this week.

The Congregational Ladies' Aid will meet Wednesday, October 2nd, at the home of Mrs. George Swinton, 210 Dixon avenue.

Charles Summerfield of Chicago, is the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stewart at their home on South Bridge street.

Sheriff Dave Vaughan and Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis were called to Boyne City Tuesday afternoon on business.

Mrs. Clarence Heise and daughter, Beth, have gone to Cadillac for a two week's visit with Mrs. Heise's sister, Mrs. Glenn Holeccheck.

Clara Sanzi, who has been the guest during the summer months of Mr. and Mrs. George Gladys at their home on Bridge street, left Tuesday afternoon for her home in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Holeccheck of Cadillac, formerly of this city, are the proud parents of a baby daughter, who will answer to the name of Alice Darleen.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney H. Smith, who have been the guests for the past ten days of the former's mother, Mrs. Saul Peters, left Tuesday morning for Bad Axe.

The Charlevoix W. C. T. U. will entertain the district convention at the community club room on Friday, October 11, beginning at 10:00 a. m. and closing about 5:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Verle Crandall and son, Loren, left Wednesday afternoon for LaCrosse, Wis., where they will join Mr. Crandall, who is stationed with the government bureau of fisheries at that place.

Robert Burns is enjoying a week's vacation from his duties as superintendent of Pittsford high school, which has been closed for fair week. He is stopping with his parents at their home north of Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hamilton and daughter, Clara, left Wednesday morning on a motor trip through the upper peninsula to Canada. They expect to be gone about ten days and will return by the way of Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Guild and family of Marion township, left last Sunday by motor for a week's visit among relatives and friends in Flint, Detroit, Portland, Lansing, Greenville, and other southern Michigan points.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Dean left Saturday for Northville, Mich., where they expect to make their future home. Mr. Dean was formerly superintendent of the government fish hatchery at Charlevoix and is now on the retired list.

Mrs. James Gaskin, Sr., returned Sunday morning from Detroit, where she made an extended visit with relatives. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Russell Blakeslee, who will visit her parents here for an indefinite time.

Alderman Jess Smith of the third ward, with Mrs. Smith, left Charlevoix Sunday for a two months' tour through the northwest. They will visit relatives and friends at Marysville, Calif., and Portland and Seattle, Oregon. They will make the trip by auto.

Dann and Cecil Ogden left Sunday for points in southern Michigan. The former has gone to Monroe, Mich., where he has accepted a position in the Greening Nursery, while Cecil went to Lansing to take up his studies at Michigan State College again this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minler and children left Wednesday morning for Lindsay, Calif., where they expect to make their future home. Mr. Minler sold his farm equipment and household goods at auction sale last week and now plans to make his permanent home in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalus Henry and little daughter left Sunday by motor for Mr. Henry's home at Vadersburg, Ind. Mr. Henry has been employed at H. Pearl's barber shop for the past two years, and upon leaving Charlevoix was undecided as to whether he would return here.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Breitmayer have returned to their home in Jackson, Michigan. They spent a week at Chula Vista resort on Lake Charlevoix while visiting Mrs. Breitmayer's mother and sister, Mrs. Adah Shockley and Mrs. H. I. Ochs of this city.

All Sunday school workers are invited to attend the county convention to be held in the Boyne City Presbyterian church next week Thursday, October 3rd, beginning at 2:00 p. m. central standard time. There will be a basket supper and social hour at 5:30 p. m. and an evening session beginning at 7:00 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Usher and daughter, Alice, left Tuesday morning by motor for a week's visit with relatives in Grand Rapids, Ithaca and other southern Michigan points. They were accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Axford and little daughter, who will make an indefinite stay with Mrs. Axford's parents at Sparta.

Oluf Nordrum has returned to Charlevoix from an extended trip to the upper peninsula, where he visited in Manistique, Isabella, Fairport, Fayette, Garden and other fishing ports on the peninsula and also made a call at Grand Marais in the interest of the Chicago and Minneapolis branches of the Booth Fisheries Co. Mr. Nordrum reports excellent catches of whitefish in the Bay 'D' Noe section.

Miss Lillis Flanders and Miss Mary Powers, who left here last week on the first leg of their journey to California, started on their long trip on Monday of this week from Honor, Michigan, where they had been spending the past week. They were joined there by Miss Powers' mother, who will accompany them. The duration of their stay in the west was undetermined when they left Charlevoix. The party will make their headquarters with relatives in California, and if they find the Golden State to their liking, may take up permanent residence there.

Dr. B. C. Smith and wife of Middleville, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. McKinney of South Haven, and Herbert Mitchell of Palm Beach, Fla., who were the guests several days last week of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Fitch, have returned to their respective homes. Dr. Smith is the new grand chancellor of the Michigan Pythian Grand Lodge, and he and other members of the party were here for a meeting given at the local K. of P. hall in honor of Mr. Fitch, who recently completed his term as grand chancellor of the order.

RETURN MAN FROM MUNI- SING ON COURT CHARGE

Sheriff Dave Vaughan and Deputy Henry Cook returned early this week from Munising with Louis Chuk, formerly of East Jordan, who was arrested on an attachment for failure to make payments in accordance with the decree of divorce recently granted his wife. He will be held in jail until the October term of circuit court.

When you drive an auto, of course you are all right. It is the other fellow who needs watching.

M. T. A. WILL HOLD A FREE CLINIC SOON

Opportunity for Free Chest Examination to be Given.

Opportunity for a free chest examination will be given the residents of Charlevoix county on the 8th of October, when the Michigan Tuberculosis association will conduct a clinic at Charlevoix. Mrs. Ethel Langenberg, R. N., is in the county at present making arrangements for the clinic.

The examinations, which will be given without charge to the patients, are financed entirely by funds raised in the annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals.

Calling attention to the early danger signs of tuberculosis, the Michigan Tuberculosis association warns that only through early discovery can early recovery from the disease be insured. The following symptoms of the disease are given as danger signals that should lead to a thorough chest examination: unexplained loss of strength or weight, too easily tired, afternoon fever, indigestion or lack of appetite, and a cough that does not yield to the usual methods of treatment.

Records show that a large majority of the cases of tuberculosis diagnosed in chest clinics come from families where some member has had the disease. Special attention will therefore be given in the coming clinic to persons who have had prolonged contact with a case of tuberculosis.

COTTAGE PILLAGERS TAKEN BY OFFICERS

Louis and Francis Theodore Bound Over to Circuit Court.

Louis and Francis Theodore, Indian youths arrested the latter part of last week by Sheriff Dave Vaughan for breaking and entering the Shepler cottage at Hay Shore, waived examination in Justice Robert Withers' court Tuesday afternoon, and were bound over to the October term of circuit court under bond of $1,000 each.

Both have admitted their guilt and a large portion of the stolen property has been recovered. Louis Theodore, older member of the duo, was out on probation for a car theft at Leland, Mich., and is likely to get a prison sentence when brought before the court.

There might be a modification of the office holder's oath to read, "I do solemnly promise to enforce such laws as suit my purpose."

DETROIT NEWS TREE CAMPAIGN

PAPER STARTS MOVE TO PLANT
HALF MILLION ACRES.

President Hoover, Governor Fred W. Green and Others Supporting Reforestation Scheme.

What we believe to be the greatest forward move ever attempted in Michigan along reforestation lines is being sponsored by the Detroit News. The plan was announced in their edition of Sunday, September 22, and has the support of President Herbert Hoover, Governor Fred W. Green and the State Department of Conservation's forestry division.

The following articles by Albert Stoll, Jr., announcing the project, is self-explanatory:

"A permanent reforestation plan for state-owned lands in Michigan, in which schools, organizations and public-spirited citizens may take part, is announced today by The Detroit News.

"The purpose is to plant pine trees on the hundreds of thousands of acres of land laid bare by the woodman's axe during the half century of intense lumbering in Michigan. This land will grow nothing but such trees; as it stands it is a burden to the taxpayer and a liability to the community.

"Title to 1,300,000 acres of land is in the State of Michigan, largely through tax delinquencies, and 9,000,000 more acres are in private hands but reverting to the state because of non-payment of taxes at the rate of 250,000 acres a year. The state is financially able to plant only 15,000 acres a year, and it is to supplement this program with private gifts that The News has devised its program.

"Arrangements have been made with the Michigan conservation officials to plant seedling pine trees in 12 of the great forest reservations now under state administration, which embrace 373,000 acres. Ordinarily the cost of planting an acre of this land in either Norway, white or jack pine (the three pine tree species native to the state) runs from $5.50 an acre to $7.50 an acre, depending on the location and topography of the area to be planted.

"Under The News' plan any individual organization will be given the opportunity to plant 40 acres or more at the rate of $2.50 an acre. This covers merely the planting labor cost, while the land, seedling trees and other expenses which go to make up the $5.50 or $7.50 figure will be borne by the state.

"As soon as a planting is completed those who participate will be notified of its exact location. In a prominent location on the plantation The Detroit News will erect an in-

YOU'D BE AMAZED AT HOW LITTLE IS KNOWN ABOUT YOUR BUSINESS

Don't you know there are many people, with money in their pockets (at least at times) who visit certain stores very seldom, or maybe never!

It is not because of not liking the store or its proprietor or its clerks—it is because they just never got into the habit of looking over the stock.

They really don't know what a merchant has in stock, especially in unusual or new goods.

It is a great mistake to think that even your regular customers know all that is necessary about your business.

You'd be amazed to find out how little actually they do know.

Telling the story constantly in advertising is the best way. Telling something about the new goods and their values, the same as the mail-order catalogs do—making the public, the regular customers as well as those who have never gotten into the habit of visiting you, unconsciously form a desire to have them. That brings additional sales and makes new customers out of those who never visit your store.

To be sure there are a few who do not read their home paper, and a few who do read it "brag" how they never read the ads. But there are hundreds who pass your store and never see the window displays you have taken more or less care to prepare for the showing of your goods. Just watch people as they pass along the streets if you doubt that.

Telling of your business constantly in the ads, gets your story into the consciousness of people who would not otherwise know of it, even though they are not conscious of how they learned it.

destructible metal sign bearing the name of the donor or donors, and the size of the acreage planted. The expense of this will be borne by The News.

"The donor also will receive from the conservation authorities of the state a letter stating that the reservation will be forever set aside as a forest reserve subject only to administration by the proper forestry officials. At no time will the land be utilized for any other purpose nor can it be disposed of under any circumstances. It becomes an enduring, permanent reservation and if in the future it becomes necessary or wise to harvest a timber crop, for each tree cut a new one will be planted. In the event that a forest fire or some tree disease or parasite should destroy the tree growth the state will replant the area as soon as it becomes feasible and at no cost to the original donor.

"Donors may send their contributions of $100 for each 40-acre unit direct to the Reforestation Committee of The Detroit News, stating the acreage desired and in what name the plantation is to be dedicated, the only reservation being that not less than 40 acres can be planted. LAW VIOLATORS GIVEN SENTENCE

SPECIAL COURT SESSION HELD HERE MONDAY AFTERNOON.

Delos Ostrum Must Pay Fine and Costs Totalling $1,000 and Serve
Year for Liquor Violation.

The hand of justice fell heavily upon several law violators sentenced by Judge Farm C. Gilbert at a special court session Monday afternoon.

Delos Ostrum, farmer residing between Charlevoix and Bay Shore on U. S. 31, pleaded guilty to a charge of violating the liquor laws. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $500, and costs in the same amount within five days and serve one year at the Ionia state reformatory. On default of payment of fine and costs, he must serve two years. This was Ostrum's second offense.

Ivan Castle, who was returned recently from Charlotte to face a charge of statutory rape, pleaded guilty Monday afternoon. He was sentenced to serve from 2 to 15 years at the Ionia reformatory at hard labor. The court recommended the minimum sentence.

Louis Theodore, Bay Shore Indian, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the Shepler cottage near Bay Shore. He was sentenced to serve from 18 months to 5 years at Ionia, the recommendation being 18 months. Theodore may also be sentenced for breaking and entering a car theft at Leland. His companion in the Shepler robbery, Francis Theodore, age 18, was placed on probation until October 28, when he must report to the court. Deputy Charles Marshall was named probation officer. It was Francis' first offense.

Irving Dufore, age 27, farmer residing east of Ellsworth on Six Mile lake, and Roy Mathers of Boyne City, who were taken over the week end by local officials on wet charges, both pleaded guilty as charged and will appear for sentence October 28. They were required to furnish bond for their appearance, the former in the amount of $1,000 and the latter $500.

Two divorce cases were heard by the court. One, the Cihak case, was continued to the October court term.

FIRST P. T. A. MEET- ING IS OCTOBER 9TH

Organization Sponsors Reception for School Faculty Members.

The first P. T. A. meeting will be held at the gymnasium Wednesday, October 9th, at 8:00 o'clock. Also at this time there will be a reception for the teachers under the auspices of the P. T. A.

It is hoped that the parents who have children in the high school, as well as in the grades, will be interested in the work and attend the meetings this year. The program committee is working hard to prepare worthwhile programs for the benefit of parents and teachers.

The P. T. A. meetings will begin on time, 8:00 o'clock, at the gymnasium. Let this year begin by all attending the first meeting.

Norwood L. A. S. will serve their annual Chicken Pie supper at the town hall in Norwood, Friday evening, October 4th, beginning at 6:30 o'clock, standard time, until all are served.—40t1.

MARY BREWSTER PLAY THURSDAY

HOME TALENT CAST OF SIXTY ARE TAKING PARTS.

Norene Moran, As Arabella, Has Leading Role—Fay Bradley, Dean
Davenport and Others in Cast.

"Here Comes Arabella," a three-act musical comedy, will be shown in Charlevoix, October 3rd. The play will be staged at the gymnasium, and is entirely home talent. It is being given under the auspices of the Mary Brewster Circle of the Congregational church. The production is said to rank with "Flapper Grandmother," "Cupid-Up-to-Date."

A cast of 60 people are included, and the ages of the participants range from six years on. Some of the best local talent available has been engaged for the characterizations.

The story centers around Arabella, an orphan child. The title role is played by Norene Moran and is handled in a most efficient manner. Miss Moran not only possesses unusual dramatic talent, but an exceptional soprano voice.

Bob Adair, in the person of Fay Bradley, is a young artist struggling for fame and recognition. One of the high lights of the show is when Arabella and Bob sing, "That Wonderful Thing Called Love."

Dean Davenport plays the part of Sydney Hopewell, playwright and room-mate of Bob. The roles of Jack and Bill, college chums, taken by Fitch Tooley and Russell Chipman, lend to the play a distinctive collegiate atmosphere.

Imogene Henrietta and Crystall, real flappers from the personality school, are played by Helen French, Katherine Fitch and Margaret Fitch. Ethel Mellin as Aunt Prudence, and Phila Armstrong as Aunt Debby, with flares in their dresses and mid-Victorian ideas, produce one of the hits of the show. The village cross, Mrs. Aaddles (Helen Button), Mrs. Larkins (Mrs. A. J. Craig), and Mrs. Weeks (Lydia Phillips), furnish the patrons with many a laugh. Their Ladies' Aid song is especially funny.

Oscar North as "Uncle Josh," with a peg leg and a drawl, is the best loved character in the show. Mr. North is up to his usual standard of characterization. Leo Carey as Levinski, a Jewish producer, makes you believe he was born "in ze theatre on ze East Side."

Sixteen little girls, eight as Robin Redbreasts and eight as Grandmothers, add much to the beauty and excellence of the play. Sixteen, not so little, delight the tired business man with hearts in their feet and music in their throats.

A special matinee for school children will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30, and the evening curtain is at 8:00 o'clock.

KNOLLWOOD FARM INTER- EST SOLD TO SHAPTONS

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Shapton, who have managed Knollwood Farm, located on the Charlevoix-Ellsworth road south of the Belvedere golf course since its acquisition by Andrew L. Creamer and William Flynn, have purchased Mr. Flynn's interest in the farm. The property was extensively improved by Messrs. Creamer and Flynn and the program will be continued under the new ownership.

Children's matinee Thursday afternoon at gym. Admission 15 cents.—Adv. 40t1.

CHARLEVOIX HIGH JOINED DEBATERS

WILL COMPETE FOR INTER-SCHOLASTIC CHAMPIONSHIP.

Team Coached by Miss Bea Ferneau to Meet Unannounced Neighboring School November 15th.

Charlevoix high school has become a member of the Michigan High School Debating League this year and will compete for the inter-scholastic debate championship of the state, according to an announcement by Professor G. E. Densmore of the University of Michigan, manager of the league.

The first step in the forensic race for state honors will be taken on November 15th when the local high school debating team, coached by Bea Ferneau, of the high school faculty, will meet one of the neighboring schools, to be announced later by the university, in a debate on the subject: "Resolved: That a Judge or Board of Judges be Substituted for the Jury in all State and Municipal Trials in Michigan."

Three other state-wide debates on December 6, January 10, and January 24, will constitute the four preliminary debates in which all schools will participate in order to compete for entrance in the elimination series of debates which begin on February 14th.

Only the 64 schools with the highest percentage of victories will be entered in this elimination series and each of these 64 schools will receive the University of Michigan Wall Plaque Trophy through the co-operation of The Detroit Free Press. This trophy is in the shape of a shield, the design of which was taken from the well-known University of Michigan shield. Its base is of American walnut, 17 inches in height and 15 inches across the top, and the medal, super-imposed upon the shield, is 9 inches in diameter, three-eighths of an inch thick, and is cast in solid bronze with all lettering artistically embossed.

While the elimination series, beginning on February 14th, is in progress the 61 schools will debate among themselves with the defeated schools dropping out after each debate until only two undefeated schools remain. These two schools will be taken to Ann Arbor, at the expense of the university, for the state championship debate on April 25th. Each of the six debaters participating in this final debate will be presented with a gold watch by The Detroit Free Press and both schools will receive a large bronze trophy cup, one engraved First Honors, the other engraved Second Honors, presented by the University of Michigan extension division.

The University of Michigan extension division will recognize the success attained by the two semi-final schools by presenting each with a bronze trophy cup properly engraved. A large number of high schools from all parts of the state have already joined the league, and it is expected that by October 19th, the date when the league enrollment closes, the membership for the year will surpass last year's record membership of 250 schools.

Any four-year high school in the state may become a member of the Michigan High School Debating League by applying for membership to Professor G. E. Densmore, Manager, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The Michigan High School Debating League, the largest forensic organization of its kind in the United States, was organized by the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan in 1917 with a membership of 64 schools which as steadily grown to the membership of 250 schools of last year. With this largest enrollment in the history of the league, 1,500 high school debaters participated in 625 debates which were heard by 130,000 people of the state. The final state championship debate of the year, held in Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor, where Cheboygan high school defeated Grand Rapids South high school, was attended by 4,000 people, which is the largest audience ever to attend a debate in this state.

1929-30 GAME DIGEST READY FOR SPORTSMEN

The 1929-30 digest of game laws of Michigan have been distributed by the Department of Conservation to all county clerks and those authorized to sell licenses and may be obtained by hunters this week.

The digest contains summaries of all the changes enacted by the 1929 legislature, and now in effect. It also includes specialized provisions relating to various counties.

TWO LIVES LOST IN TRAIN CRASH

FREIGHTS MET HEAD-ON TWO MILES WEST OF PETOSKEY.

Engineer and Fireman of Local Freight Killed—Entire Crew of Southbound Badly Injured.

Two veteran trainmen lost their lives late last Friday afternoon in the worst wreck in the history of the Traverse City-Petoskey division of the Pere Marquette Railway company. They were caught in the wreckage when they jumped a moment before the northbound local freight and a southbound engine and caboose crashed head-on at a sharp curve two miles west of Petoskey.

Those killed, crew members of the northbound freight, were Charles E. Markham, for 43 years a Pere Marquette employee, and Harry DeFerre, head brakeman, who had been making the Petoskey run for 25 years. They were buried beneath a tangled mass of iron and steel. The bodies were sealed from escaping steam and badly burned from fire which started soon after the crash. Fire hampered rescue workers, and it was some time before the bodies of the head trainmen could be removed from the wreckage.

All crew members of the southbound train were injured, although none seriously. They were Engineer Frank Mertes, Conductor Henry Ely, Brakeman Peter Wilkins and Theodore Sherwood, all of Traverse City. They were taken to the Petoskey hospital for treatment of their injuries.

The impact of the collision was so heavy that it knocked the southbound outfit back fully 50 feet from the point where the engines met. The two great engines were badly demolished, particularly that of the local freight.

The pilot steel of the engines was broken like wooden splinters and scattered about the scene. The heads of the engines were hammered in and the wheels and rods twisted and broken. The cab of the southbound engine was wrecked, but not so badly as was that of the local freight.

The news of the wreck flew like wildfire and within a short time cars began flashing to the scene. Hundreds of cars carried many people there and all night they tramped about the scene. The early comers aided railroad men in taking the injured to hospitals and in cutting away wreckage to get free the bodies of the two other victims.

Wreckers from Traverse City and Grand Rapids were called to the scene and wreckage was cleared away so that traffic on the road was resumed the following afternoon.

Investigations are being conducted to determine the cause of the wreck.

Burgess Club Held Meeting.
The Burgess Home Management Club met on Tuesday, September 24, with Mrs. Platt Webster. The subject was "Farm Kitchen," and leader, Mrs. Amandus Evers. Twelve members and one visitor were present. The next meeting will be held October 22nd with Mrs. Harold Hamlin. All members are urged to attend.

BOYNE TOO GOOD FOR CHARLEVOIX

VICTORS IN SATURDAY'S TILT
BY 27 TO 0 SCORE.

Red and White Outfit Outplayed in Every Department by Heavy Brotherton Coached Machine.

Charlevoix's aspirations for leadership in the proposed but still mythical Little Six football league of Northern Michigan class C schools went to smithereens last Saturday at Boyne City, where the local gridgers were defeated by a 27 to 0 score.

Coach Brotherton's Blue and White warriors were masters of the situation from the first quarter to the final whistle. They cashed in on two Charlevoix's errors for a pair of their markers and consistently outplayed the local eleven. Only in one department did Boyne City fail to outdo Charlevoix, and that was in gameness. Coach Kipke's men looked good in the losing role and made the victors fight every minute.

VanHoesen, fleet and hard-hitting Boyne halfback, accounted for all of their touchdowns. He skirted left end for their first marker in the opening quarter after Charlevoix lost the ball on a fumble deep in their own territory. Boyne kicked from placement for the extra point.

Charlevoix came the nearest to scoring in the second quarter. Boyne kicked to Stroud, who returned to center field. A pass, Supernaw to Novak, put the ball within easy scoring distance. Two smashes at the line failed, a well placed forward pass over the goal line was dropped, and the ball went over. Boyne punted out of danger and Charlevoix never seriously threatened the victor's goal after that.

Boyne's second touchdown came in the second quarter. An intercepted pass on Charlevoix's 10-yard line paved the way, and VanHoesen slipped around left end and over the goal twice before his efforts counted. The first play was called back when one of his teammates was off-side, and after two attempts through the line failed, another end run turned the trick.

That marker ended the scoring for the first half. Charlevoix was to have little respite, however. In the opening play of the second half, VanHoesen received Charlevoix's kickoff and galloped through the whole Red and White eleven for a touchdown. Such reverses would break the spirit of many teams, but it only served to arouse Charlevoix's fighting spirit and during the remainder of the third quarter they stopped every advance Boyne made.

Charlevoix still continued strong until the middle of the fourth period, when another intercepted pass gave Boyne the ball. They made two first downs on a series of end runs and line bucks, putting the leather on Charlevoix's one-yard line. Kipke's men held for two downs within the shadow of their own goal, but were unable to stem the rush. Another VanHoesen left end run put the ball over and a kick from placement added the extra point.

From a side-line critic's point of view, the local eleven was woefully weak in two departments. The first, and most important, seemed to be tackling, and the second was their forward passes. Kipke's men, with but a few exceptions, would not leave their feet after a runner. They must learn they cannot stop a man by grabbing him around the neck. There was possibly some excuse for the poor passing. Boyne's defense cracked Charlevoix's forward wall consistently and hurried each play. But even at that, only a few of the many passes came anywhere near a man who could receive them.

One consoling fact remains, however. Kipke has a hunch of fighters, and with some of their faults overcome, they are going to be hard to beat. The game Saturday also revealed that Boyne has a powerful football eleven. While VanHoesen is apparently their outstanding star, the Brotherton machine has a number of good ball-toters. Their backfield runs mighty nice interference and they have a line that is both heavy and fast. The team that beats Boyne will have to be a good one. Charlevoix makes their first home appearance of the season on the South Side field Saturday afternoon, against Conch Cohen's East Jordan aggregation. The team has been smoothing down some of the rough spots this week and are out to redeem themselves following last Saturday's heating.

HILTON SCHOOL NOTES.

One month of school gone. Visitors are welcome at our school any time.

Our seventh and eighth graders are enjoying their new history notebooks. We have an enrollment of 20 pupils. One-fourth this number answering as eighth graders.

We are pleased to hear that Orville Hilton, our director, who has been quite ill, is much better at present.

Those who visited school last month were: Dorothy Smith, Minnie Gornell, Elizabeth Pavlik and John Pesek. Come again.

We are preparing a Halloween program to be given Wednesday, October 30th. Further announcement will be made later.

The eighth grade has been studying insects in agriculture. They have made several good drawings. Some of them are on the bulletin board.

Pupils having an average of B or above in all subjects for the first month are: Elsie Rumisek, Lula Savara, Bessie Pesek, Vereil Mason, Edward Vratnina and Elsie Hilton.

Poems we have learned in the language classes during the past month are: "Long Time Ago," in the chart class; "Goodbye, Goodbye to Everything," in the first and second grades; "The Raggedy Man," in the third and fourth grades; and "School Days" in the fifth and sixth grades.

THE WINNER.

It is not simply potatoes and beets and corn and cucumbers that one raises in his well-hood garden; it is the average of human life. There is life in the ground; it goes into seeds; and it also, when it is stirred up, goes into the man who sows it. —Charles Dudley Warner.

MURRAY SCHOOL NOTES.

Mr. Furgeson purchased a new Ford.

A Bee was held for Mr. O'dell on Monday.

Mr. Palmer was a visitor one day last week.

The fourth grade are studying soil in geography.

Friday was a very busy day as we had a test in every subject.

Mrs. Mabel Anderson and Mrs. Ruth Hair culled at school Friday.

The fifth grade are making a poster in Reading to represent the composition of milk.

Frank Mindel was the honor student, receiving two A's. Frank is in the seventh grade.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were report card days. Many of us have decided that this month we will study a little harder.

The seventh grade are taking a trip around Michigan on maps. We have visited the salt region, fruit region, iron region, copper region, the largest cities, and passed through canals and straits.

The people being neither absent or tardy were: Grace Anderson, Bethel Brecheisen, Fritz Deschermier, Dorothy, Roy and Leonard Furgeson; Ralph, Nellie and Agnes O'dell; Anthony, Frances and Katherine Speigl; Arvilla Yahr.

(Will the writer of the above send us their address, route number, and your request will be taken care of. Ed.)

MARION SCHOOL NOTES.

Beginner: "Oh, I'll give them back."

We received our new report cards on Monday. They are much nicer than the old ones.

The seventh and eighth grades are very busy on their new history notebooks which they like very much.

Mr. Dutcher to beginner: "If you have no colors ask Hilda if you may borrow hers; say thank you."

We have been taking advantage of every nice day—since school started by playing ball at recess and noon.

We have 40 pupils enrolled this year with the following new ones: Orren Manley, Eunice Manley, Stanley Kulpa, Frank Kulpa, Effie and Leslie O'dell, Robert Balch, Glen Crain, and James Raymond.

We have had the following visitors the past month: Mrs. Grace Dutcher, Mrs. Myra Redner of Big Rapids, Miss Daisy Dutcher, Miss Elizabeth Floyd of St. James and Mr. Palmer, school commissioner. Come again!

The eighth grade have been busy testing different kinds of soil in their agriculture work. They are also collecting samples of currant leaves to be sent in to the state agriculture department, where they will be examined for rust.

Mr. Dutcher has put up two honor rolls, one for being neither late nor absent and one for scholarship. Those who have been neither late nor absent are: Evelyn, Levi and Robert Balch, Kenneth and Marion Cellner, Elmer and Glen Crain, Floyd and Marjorie Faltling, Billy Hardy, Clare McGhan, Leslie O'dell, Bessie Straw, Hilda and Jason Vanzant, Christina Withers, Darleen and Geraldine Williams and Frank and Stanley Kulpa.

The students who have all B's or above are: Celia Crain, Alice and Eleanor Ecklund, Floyd Faltling, Caroline and Freda Greiner, Bessie Straw, Marie Vanzant and Darleen Williams.

NORWOOD SCHOOL.

All the grades had tests last week.

We are all glad to have Mrs. Lashbrook back this year.

The fifth grade are studying South American for Geography.

We are waiting anxiously for our new geography and history books.

Ralph Teboe was absent from school one day last week to help with threshing.

Twenty-three pupils enrolled the first day, two more enrolled later, making an enrollment of 25 at present.

Those not absent nor tardy for the month ending September 30th, are as follows: Ollie Teboe, Anna Teboe, Forrest Kerr, Charles Greeley, Fred Wagner, Forrest Wagner, Mildred Hensel, Nelson Kirby, Doyle Richardson, Delta Richardson, Martin Richardson and Marjorie Richardson.

The Visitor.

On Tuesday morning of this week, the scholars were silent and meek, when all at once there was a bang. A dog came in to see the gang, and he jumped upon a seat or two, looking like he said, "How do you do."

It made everyone laugh to see the teacher fly like a bumble bee. She went out and shut the door and we saw no more of that dog.

is more than "miles per gallon"

Owners tell you the Dodge Six is unusually economical on gas and oil. They emphasize, too, that this is only one item in its economy. Big, durable, oversize tires mean higher mileage. Body construction is such that utmost strength and rigidity are secured with a minimum of weight. The extra-large clutch—massive 7-bearing crankshaft—8-bearing rear axle—8-inch frame—permanently efficient internal-expanding 4-wheel hydraulic brakes—together with a score of unseen but all-important mechanical superiorities, insure that never-failing dependability which is the foundation of Dodge Six economy.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

Public Demands Riding Comfort.
Comfort-producing features of lower priced cars have lead the way in crystallizing public opinion of automobile riding qualities. All cars have shown an enormous improvement from a riding standpoint in response to this public demand. Motorists are no longer content to ride around behind so many horsepower.

Cars are lower and springs are softer, but these improvements would not be possible but for improved road conditions over the country. It cannot be denied that on certain types of roads, care has to be taken over the rough spots or the springs will bottom more than they should. But, according to the chassis engineers, why design a car for rough roads when more than 90 per cent of the travel is on smooth roads.

This is very true. It is the direct reverse of the spring suspension situation compared with what it was a few years ago. At that time so much of the travel was over roads that were bad, that if the car were not primarily designed for rough roads it would be generally unsatisfactory. The result was that the fine riding qualities that we have today over the average road did not exist.

Today there are practically no towns in the United States of over 5,000 population that are not located on the hard road systems. In other words, a greater amount of spring flexibility can be allowed under minor road shocks. When the springs are backed up with good shock absorbing devices that prevent excess jar or recoil under bad conditions, an almost perfect combination exists.

For instance, features not ordinarily found in medium priced cars are standard practice in Essex the Challenger. Starting with the power plant, we find the famous super-six principle employed. This involves the balancing, within strict limits, of each working part, thus eliminating at the source, vibrations inherent in any internal combustion engine.

Body construction of a type usually found only in the higher priced cars is used. Seats and back cushions are extra wide and deep. The springs used in these seats and cushions embody the latest engineering design and assure riding comfort. An exhaustive research was conducted by Hudson engineers to determine comfortable seat postures and this research resulted in the adoption of adjustable seats that provide an easy ride for the passenger though he be tall or short.

In the chassis, splayed springs of extra length and strength make for easy riding over even the roughest roads, and this riding ease is further controlled and enhanced by the use of hydraulic shock absorbers of an efficient type.

18-Year Old Oriole Car Outlasts Its Owner.

Do you recall the Oakland 33 Oriole Speedster whose low lines created a new vogue back in 1911? Built a foot or two closer to the ground than its towering contemporary cars, the Oriole is credited with having sounded the knell of the high-wheeled, top-heavy stem-winders whose brass-bound glory previously had been accepted as the last word in automotive design.

The Oriole was radically new. It had wire wheels, open bucket seats leaning against a big cylindrical gas tank, an almost horizontal steering post and a hood strapped down over its big four-cylinder engine. The spare tire slanted rakishly aft.

The car followed closely the lines of the racing machines of that day in which Oldfield, DePalma, Tetzlaff and Harroun were competing at speeds of 60 to 70 miles an hour against such pilots as Bragg, Hughes and Bruce-Brown. During 1911 Oakland built 673 of these rakish Oriole Speedsters with the factory's limited production facilities always proving inadequate to meet demand.

Some of the Orioles competed in the speed contests and road races that were popular from 1909 to 1914. One of them was purchased in 1912 as a used car by Fred O. Grimes, veteran garage man of Hillsboro, Texas. Through the intervening 17 years the Oriole wore out four speedometers with a total mileage aggregating many hundreds of thousands of miles. During recent years the Oriole was utilized as a service car with which Mr. Grimes rescued countless automobiles from the mud roads in the country surrounding Hillsboro.

Dodge Brothers Set Record In Export Truck Shipments.

Shattering an all-time record in the history of the company, Dodge Brothers export shipments of trucks and commercial cars from plants in the United States and Canada totaled 8,163 units for the first eight months of this year. This large volume represents an increase of more than 11 per cent over the corresponding period last year, and factory officials analyze the record as reflecting widespread approval of the new complete line of four and six-cyl-der trucks now offered by Dodge Brothers.

Partial credit for the gain in the export market is attributed to the recently announced four-cylinder trucks now available in the half-ton, 3-4 ton and one-ton capacities. In addition, five capacities of six-cylinder trucks ranging from the 3-4 ton to the heavy duty three-ton type are offered. Unfilled orders have required overtime production schedules at times to keep pace with the demand.

"This record also indicates the steady improvement of business conditions abroad," said C. W. Matheson, general sales manager of Dodge Brothers. "Indications are that the balance of the present year will show substantial increases in export business, inasmuch as full production is under way on all models just recently added. Stocks in dealers' hands are surprisingly low."

"Buyers in the foreign markets are measuring the truck and commercial car by the same standards of the passenger car. They are insisting that appearance and performance must be incorporated in the vehicle at an attractive price with positive assurance of dependability and economy. The rapid construction of highways and widening projects abroad are causing industrial leaders in all countries to appreciate the advantages of motor transport for long and short hauling. In competitive markets where prompt and regular deliveries are demanded, commercial vehicles are winning popular favor in practically all trade lines."

"Dodge Brothers complete motor coach and truck line is meeting the requirements of this expanding field through a wide range of capacities and prices, each designed to fill a definite need with minimum outlay in purchase and operation."

AT THE MOVIES

"China Bound" Is Riotous Comedy.
George K. Arthur and Karl Dane become world travelers in their new funmaker for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, "China Bound," which comes Tuesday to the Palace Theatre. They are on their way to the Far East, Karl as a stoker of a liner, and George as an unwitting but not unwilling stow-away.

Both their sweethearts are on the liner, but so is Angus McAlister, a Scotch antique dealer who is taking his daughter Joan (Josephine Dunn) and her maid Sarah, played by Polly Moran, with him on a buying trip to China—and away from George, to whose attentions he objects.

Beery Picks Jesse James As Model for "Bad" Paris.

Wallace Beery draws his had men characterizations from life. His favorite model is Jesse James.

"I went to school in Kansas City with his son, Jesse James, Jr.," Beery said recently, during a brief interval in the "shooting" of "Stairs of Sand" Paramount's picturization of the Zane Grey novel, which comes to the Palace Theatre for two days beginning on Saturday next.

"Jesse James was a very sympathetic villain. In many respects, he was a hero. His exploits were daring. Although an outlaw, he was very human."

Beery was born and raised in the region where the famous outlaw lived. He has absorbed much of the history and color associated with the James gang. And he used what he learned to advantage in menace roles in the films.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.
Subject: "Unreality."
Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.
Reading room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Reality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, Sept. 29th.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth" (Ps. 33:6).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages, from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is" (p. 275).

The boys don't feel quite comfortable in their new school suits, until they have had some good rough and tumble fights and have rolled in the dirt with them.

POTATO SHOW ASSOCIATION ESSAY CONTEST

Open to Grade Students of Upper Michigan Region.

The Top O' Michigan Potato Show association will conduct a poster contest this year among the high schools of the territory to take the place of the essay contest which has been dropped this year. The purpose of this poster contest is not only to stimulate interest in the potato show among high school students, but also to offer students of the 12 counties the opportunity of competing in design and putting across the idea relative to one of the leading industries of the territory. The poster must convey the idea of advertising the Top O' Michigan to the counties as an outstanding potato district.

The rules and regulations are as follows:

1. Prizes to be distributed as follows: First, $12; second, $10; third, $8; fourth, $6; fifth, $4.

2. This contest is open to any boy or girl in any grade or high school of the Top O' Michigan counties.

3. The poster must appear on card board or paper mounted on card board, not smaller than 8½x11 inches and not larger than 14x22 inches. Either crayon or water colors may be used. The poster must be along the following lines: (a) Advertising the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show; (b) Production, marketing or utilization of potatoes or apples.

4. The poster must be submitted to teacher in whose class the student studies, who will select the best two and forward to the secretary of the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show at Gaylord.

5. A number should be securely attached to the poster in the lower left-hand corner and a sealed, numbered envelope containing the name, address, school, grade and name of teacher also attached.

6. All posters must be in the hands of the secretary of the show by October 21st.

7. The winners will be announced on Thursday, November 31, during the boys' and girls' day program.

8. All posters receiving prize awards will be retained by the association. All others will be returned to the student if requested.

9. Pack carefully so poster will not become torn or bent.

For further information, address the Secretary, Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show Association, Gaylord, Michigan.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

Plans are now under way for visiting some of the Charlevoix county rural schools next week.

The class enjoyed very much the program Monday morning under the guidance of Miss Juanita Baker in honor of Miss Faida Ogden's birthday.

The Normal wishes to thank the Board of Education for the two magazines, "The Elementary School Journal," and the "Progressive Teacher," which they secured for use in the Normal department.

The training room is enjoying a basket of plants contributed by Bernice Edwards.

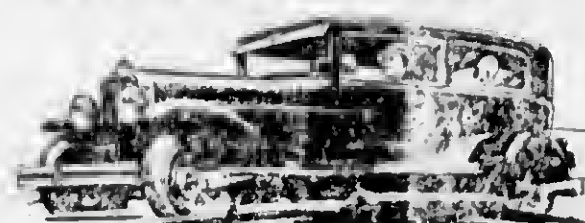

Leroy Plum and Albert Thorp have also brought plants.

RURAL CARRIERS MEETING AT CENTRAL LAKE

About 45 attended the district meeting of the rural letter carriers' association held at Conway last Saturday night. The meeting took place at the "Shamrock" cafe where an elaborate dinner was served.

The next meeting will be held at Central Lake in about five weeks. E. S. Carroll is president of the association in which five counties are included. This will probably be about the last meeting that Mr. Carroll will be able to attend as his 25 years of service expires on December 26th.

Outperforming all other low-priced sixes at lower cost than ever

During 1928, a large public utilities corporation operated 996 automobiles of 33 different makes. And according to its own accurately recorded cost figures, its Pontiacs cost one cent less per mile to operate than any other low-priced six in the field at that time. Yet even that great record of economy is being surpassed by the Pontiac Big Six because of a number of refinements and advancements which this latest Pontiac includes.

A City of New Telephone Buildings

IN 1926, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company entered upon the largest expansion program in its history. The intervening three years have witnessed the engineering and construction of 25 new telephone buildings and major building additions throughout the state.

Grouped together, these structures, housing thousands of telephone workers and millions of dollars' worth of equipment, would make an imposing "business city."

But this building construction represents only a portion of the extension of telephone plant by this Company during that period. Total expenditures for telephone plant expansion in Michigan the past three years were $72,000,000, greatly increasing facilities and improving the service. This is a continuing program, for as business and social activities increase, demand for still greater telephone expansion develops.

This plant expansion and improvement would be meaningless if it were not translated into terms of service and a desire to afford increasing telephone comfort, convenience and satisfaction, and to meet the growing needs of the state.

Our policy—"To continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety"

ANNUAL SAFETY CONGRESS.

It is expected that 7,000 delegates will attend the Annual Safety Congress which convenes at Chicago September 30 to October 4. Every state and every large municipality in this country, together with representatives from all foreign countries will have representatives present. All industrial enterprises of any magnitude which is expected to be the world's greatest gathering ever held in the interest of accident prevention.

No one will dispute the worth of such a gathering. The tragic story of death by accidents in this country during the past few months alone describes in burning words the necessity of a safety consciousness on the part of the public—the need of cutting down this terrible toll in human lives and property.

We have said many times that most accidents are preventable. Carelessness, incompetence, ignorance, play the leading roles in this drama of wanton disregard of public safety rights and protection. Nor will this loss be curbed until the reckless are weeded out and the average citizen makes every day in the year a "safety first" day. We can cut down accidents in the home, in industry, and on the highways, but the campaign to do this must be waged, not in Chicago, but right here at home.

DIGNITY OF LABOR.

I cannot think of any American men or women pre-eminent in the history of the nation who did not reach their place by toil. I cannot think of anything that represents the American people as a whole so adequate as honest work.

We perform different tasks, but the spirit is the same. We are proud of work and ashamed of idleness. With us there is no task which is menial, no service which is degraded. All work is ennobling and all workers are enabled.—Calvin Coolidge.

REAL PROGRESS.

State Highway Commissioner Dillman has finally succeeded in arranging with the railroads of the state for signals and lighting at a large number of crossings on trunk highways. This is one of the most important actions of the Highway Department since its organization. The growing number of automobile fatalities at grade crossings constitutes one of the ghastly phases of highway casualties. Many of the crossings are obscured by buildings, trees or shrubbery. At certain places sharp curves make it impossible to see a train save for a short distance before it comes thundering across the highway.

By the terms of the agreement just reached these blind crossings are to be abolished. Trees, signboards, buildings and other obstructions are to be removed. It is the plan to render the dangerous crossings safe by making it possible to see the approach of a train for a considerable distance.—Pontiac Daily Press.

ALWAYS A WINNER.

We notice that a number of sections in Michigan are getting real reputations for dairy cattle. A few years ago herds from outside states were shown at many Michigan fairs. Naturally they went home with most of the prize money and ribbons. The situation seems to be changing. From reports of a number of fairs this fall we note that local dairymen carried away most of the honors. That is a healthy sign for the farming industry.

When the summer tourists have all returned to their homes we have a little deeper appreciation of the dairy cow. The summer tourists make a big dust and things look busy when they are around. Nothing should be said to detract from the value of the summer visitor. But it is as we were just saying, when the tourists go we think more of the dairy cow and her great value to the country. She is a humble worker with a payroll just about every day. She deserves a lot of respect.

It is said that Canada and the United States have lived amicably without firing a shot at each other until the present when they are, to all intents and purposes, engaged in a whiskey war. Such a question for conflict bespeaks tragedy.

PIONEERS CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Party of Charlevoix Relatives and Friends Gave Them Surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Crompt, who live on the Ellsworth-Arwood road south of the city, had a pleasant surprise on Tuesday, October 1st. The occasion for the surprise was their 50th wedding anniversary and a party of relatives and friends from Charlevoix made them an unexpected visit to help celebrate the day.

The Cromptons are pioneers of this region. They moved here 54 years ago from New York State and have lived on the farm since that time. They are 77 years of age and unusually active. Mr. Crompt manages his own farm with assistance of one of his sons. On the day of his golden wedding anniversary he assisted a neighbor to cut corn until noon and then surprised his guests by giving them a dance or two. Mrs. Crompt boasts that she does all her own housework and in addition, planted and cared for a large garden during the past summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Crompt are the parents of nine children, seven of whom are living. They are: Mrs. J. S. Reed, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Dan Canham, Charlevoix; Louis Crompt, Belknap, Wash.; Antoine Crompt, Vancouver Island, Wash.; Eugene Crompt, Chicago; Frank Crompt, Detroit; Edward Crompt, at home. There are 22 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

A sumptuous dinner was a feature of the anniversary party. Gifts to the happy couple were presented by the visitors.

Honor Sunday School Members.

Members of the Congregational Sunday school who were present ten or more Sundays in July, August and September, were entertained Tuesday evening at an "honor banquet" sponsored by the Woman's Missionary Society. There were 40 eligible to attend and seven of these had not missed a Sunday.

A feature of the evening was a birthday cake, sufficient to serve the entire assemblage, a present from Mrs. Charles Hyers. The occasion for this pleasant surprise was the eighth birthday anniversary of Patty Lou Hyers.

Hogs—Steers—Sheep Say: "The Purina Pound Is Cheapest"

IT'S not what we say about Purina Chows that counts—it's what the animals say. Through 2,413 feeding records from all leading hog raising centers, 90,247 hogs shout, "Purina makes pork at $6.50 per hundred," while 19,890 steers add, "and makes beef at $10.08." At the same time 33,399 sheep say, "$9.98 per cwt. gain." No wonder Purina feeders are making money—more money than by any other plan of feeding. No wonder we became enthusiastic about Purina and decided to become the local authorized distributor of the Checkerboard line.

You'll be an enthusiastic booster, too, once you've led Purina to your poultry and live stock. Why not phone us for a supply—or drop in.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Women and the Tariff Bill.
If the men of the Republican party are split on the tariff the women seem to be lining up solidly against tariff increases that will raise the cost of food and clothing.
Women of both major parties are organizing to make clear to Congress their needs and demands on the tariff before the Hawley-Smoot bill is passed.

A Consumers' Committee to investigate living costs has been formed, and is rapidly operating to organize both Republican and Democratic women in every state, that they may intelligently point out to their Senators and Representatives the view of the women voters.

Mrs. George Orvis, former Rep-lican National Committeewoman from Vermont, is chairman of the organizing committee.

Mrs. Daniel O'Day, vice-chairman of the New York Democratic State committee; Miss Helen Varick Boswell, vice-chairman of the New York Republican County committee; Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, a former president of the Women's National Republican club; Mrs. Frederick W. Cameron, Jr., of Albany; Mrs. Wm. F. Carey, Miss M. Frances Hildreth, president of the Republican Business Women, Inc.; Dr. Valeria H. Parker, Miss Ella Schooley, Mrs. Travis H. Whitney and Mrs. Stanley P. Woodward, president of the National Motion Picture League, are among the other members of the organizing committee.

"According to the most conservative estimates women form 85 per cent of the ultimate consumers of the country," Mrs. Orvis said, explaining the reasons and purpose of the committee. "They manage the family budget and do the bulk of the nation's spending. Obviously they should be considered in fixing the tariff rates."

"When it was pointed out that the tariff means a definite increase in the living costs of every family in the country it became clear that the women should know why this increase is imposed."

"We are not beginning on the premise that the Hawley-Smoot tariff is undesirable. We are a committee which proposes to find out the reason for the increased rates. If they are necessary, naturally we shall not complain."

Mrs. O'Day took no such pacific angle toward the proposed bill.

"It is necessary that the women of the country understand the iniquitous quality of this proposed tariff," she said emphatically. "Excessive protective tariffs mean international antagonisms, and international antagonisms mean wars."

The resolution opposing such tariff increases recently sent by Republican Business Women, Inc., to all Republican members of Congress shows how much study the women of the G. O. P. are giving the tariff issue as well as their courage in stating their convictions. It will be difficult to foist on intelligent housewives of the country such tariffs as the sugar increase which will cost them between $50,000,000 and $70,000,000 and bless one beet sugar company to the tune of $2,500,000 to $3,500,000 annually.

The stated convictions of women will undoubtedly become increasingly noticeable in their ballots. The statistical report analyzing the 1928 presidential election returns shows that the women's vote was the dominant factor. The total vote cast for the presidential electors in 1928 was ten million greater than in 1920, an increase of 40 per cent. It is more than likely that the women voters will cast 50 per cent or more of the ballots in the next presidential contest. Issues bring out the women's vote more than any other factor. Women love issues. Tariff-mongers will do well to listen to the women now that they have seized upon the tariff bill as a matter for their study programs. Intelligent women are doing a great service by letting their Senators know their minds on these subjects.

Hoover Saves the Pelican.

The pelican, picturesquely ugly bird, is to be saved from utter extinction by presidential decree. President Hoover has set three of the Florida keys, Snake Key, Deak Man or Bird Key, and North Key, (known collectively as Cedar Key) as a bird refuge. This territory is a nesting place for pelicans, as well as for numerous species of herons and cormorants, and many other water fowl. Some of these species, notably the pelican, are becoming rarer all the time, so it has been decided to aid in their propagation by reserving this ground for them.

Restrictions governing the keys are numerous and rigid, and they forbid any conceivable action that might result in injury to the birds or to their eggs.

Twentieth Century High Schools.

If high schools continue to add new subjects to their courses as fast as has been done in the past year or two, there will be little left for college years. Aviation, stagercraft and radio are a few of the newest additions.

However, as long as high schools disdain the teaching of such fundamental subjects as geography, and teach aviation to students who could not possibly name three American republics—and much less their capitals—there is little danger of turning out too many Lindberghs.

Children Labor Long Hours.

The life of the barefoot boy is not entirely one of fishing and roaming country lanes, judging from a statement recently issued by Miss Grace Abbott, Chief of the Children's Bureau in Washington. A study of 647,309 children between the ages of 10 and 15 who are engaged in agricultural work made by the bureau yields some interesting figures.

The majority of boys and girls were found working on home farms.

If the count had been taken during harvest season, however, the number of hired child laborers would have been much larger, the statement says. At the height of the season in California, for instance, there are about 5,000 children employed in the fields as compared with 1,832 in January. Children in the beet fields of Colorado number about 6,800 during rush periods.

Long working hours are characteristic of farm work in which children are engaged. At harvest time, in order to get in the crop before it could be spoiled by frost, three-fourths of the Colorado children worked from 9 to 13 hours a day on their fathers' sugar beet acreage, sometimes pulling and topping by lantern light or the light of the moon.

Hoover's Camp An Historic Site.

When General Robert E. Lee wanted a post of observation during the Civil War, he chose Clark's mountain overlooking the Rapidan river in Virginia. When President Hoover desired a fishing camp, he elected the upper waters of the Rapidan. It is reported that he may take Premier Ramsay MacDonald there to confer on a disarmament agreement looking toward permanent peace. One would never guess that the sunny country through which the Rapidan flows ever heard a cannon boom or a rifle crack.

There are other historical traditions connected with the famous stream. It is said that General Stonewall Jackson actually drew his sword in battle for the first time at Cedar mountain near the Rapidan. The river was originally named for Queen Anne of England (the "Rapid Anne"), but the postoffice department, with an eye to practicality rather than romance, abbreviated the name to its present form. Other streams whose names are derived from the renowned Queen are the Northanna, the Southanna, the Fluvanna, and the Rivanna.

Politics This Week.

The tariff bill, the writing of which took comparatively little time behind closed doors, isn't making much headway in open debate. Nobody is intentionally filibustering it to death, but the difference between that time-worn political strategy and drowning it in a flood of oratory is not highly noticeable.

The sponsors of this 1929 model of protection are trying to speed matters by lengthening the sessions and conceding a few things to the opposition. Most important of these has been their abandonment of "conditions of competition" as the basis of flexible tariff changes for the oil or "costs of production" phrase. Compromises will undoubtedly help matters, but what with spending hours on a single small amendment like the manner of marking imports, and frequent diversions from the business at hand to decide upon the President's attitude toward tariff, or little side excursions into prohibition and the Vire case, it begins to appear probable that the consumer may eventually be spared any form of relief whatever.

Senator Couzens of Michigan has made the most startling revelation so far: that the chairman of the finance committee voted in committee meeting against the majority of high rates. Presumably the Senator from Utah is willing to leave the tariff feast to others—asking only to be allowed his desert of sugar duty.

Rivals In the Air.

The air mail and passenger service from the United States to Buenos Aires is going to be a hot fight from now on between the company now operating out of Miami by way of Panama and the west coast, and the rival company operating out of New York by way of Brazil.

The west coast line has just announced the opening of passenger service on its already established mail line, and the extension of both services to Buenos Aires on October 12th, which, being the anniversary of the discovery of America, is a date to conjure with in Latin American affairs.

The east coast service has already put two ships into service and before October 1st will send its first huge ship through from the United States to Buenos Aires. This service will carry passengers, it is calculated, from New York to Buenos Aires in seven days.

Buenos Aires already has an air and fast steamship service with Europe, via Brazil, and the same company not long ago established an air mail line between Buenos Aires and Santiago. In addition, preparations are being made to establish the long-planned Zeppelin service between Spain and Buenos Aires.

East Jordan Potato Club Meets.
The members of the East Jordan Potato Club held another of their interesting meetings in the East Jordan high school on Wednesday night, September 25th.

Gardelle Nice, vice-president, presided and conducted a short business session. On roll call it was found that 15 of the 16 members were present. County Agent Mellencamp then explained in detail the manner of filling out reports to complete the project. Of greatest interest to the club members was a demonstration on how to select potatoes for exhibition. One of the requirements of potato club work is that each member exhibits 32 potatoes. The proper type, size, weight, color, texture and many other factors were discussed.

During the last week each field has been visited and carefully measured, so that upon digging time the actual yield can be determined. The next event of interest will be the potato show to be held in East Jordan in October and the district show at Gaylord on October 30 and 31 and November 1st.

It will pay you to watch the progress that these rural boys and girls are making.

A PROCLAMATION

By the Governor

For some years past it has been the custom to inaugurate a campaign of education and action for Fire Prevention, with the view of reducing the great unnecessary fire losses which cause an enormous destruction of property each year.

The time designated for this commendable undertaking is the second week in October of each year, therefore as Governor of Michigan I proclaim the week from October 6th to October 12th, 1929, Fire Prevention Week.

The work which will be accomplished during that period will result in a great saving of life and property, therefore it is essential that it be given the cooperation which the movement deserves. It should be observed in cities, villages, and rural communities to the fullest extent.

Henceforth there has been a lack of extending fire prevention week activities into the rural districts where it is so much needed. A scattered population, numerous buildings grouped and no apparatus nor means for fighting fire, the farmer is quite helpless in case his buildings take fire, facing the complete destruction of his accumulations of years. Therefore, it is hoped that the work may this year be extended into the rural districts.

Great benefits would follow in the years to come if teachers in rural schools would instill in the minds of the growing pupils the most common dangers of fire on the farm, and how to combat them, with the suggestion that they closely watch for fire hazards, that their parents be advised and the property made safe.

With the near approach of time for the starting of heating plants, furnaces, stoves, pipes, chimneys, etc., should be placed in safe condition, rubbish removed and burned, all combustibles, gasoline, oils, paints, varnishes, etc., should be safely stored.

The marked interest shown by the Michigan Fire Chief's association, in their efforts to make Michigan safe from fire furnishes an example of what may be accomplished by other similar organizations.

Through the united action of the citizens of our state, it is hoped that we may be able to continue to decrease the great unnecessary fire waste.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the state this 12th day of September, in the year of our Lord, 1929, and of the commonwealth the 93rd.

Fred W. Green,
Governor.

DETROIT NEWS

TREE CAMPAIGN

is no limit to the maximum number of acres.

"School children are especially urged to hand together and plant 40-acre plots as memorials to their school for the year in which the planting takes place.

"Civic and social organizations can do this in the name of their organizations, and individuals for themselves or as memorial forests for any purpose. The plan is state-wide. Anyone can participate.

"It is generally conceded that it will be only through a greatly awakened public interest that Michigan's forest will be restored, and The News believes that it is now offering the public an opportunity to perform a service for the state and for those who are to come after us that will endure through the ages.

"The benefits to be derived from the restoration of Michigan's forest growth throughout her denuded areas will be far-reaching. The communities affected are at present non-producers. They can not pay their way; they are a drag upon the more prosperous sections of the state, but through no fault of their own. Bringing back trees means land productivity and land producing a crop can always pay its taxes.

"Where forests are under management, as they will be in this case, they furnish employment for the settlers and residents of nearby communities and by so doing will make them independent of outside help.

Communities to Profit.

"The benefits to the communities in which these pine plantations will be established will be far-reaching. The project will immediately and continuously furnish labor for those settlers and residents of adjacent communities who are now without any means of enduring support. Trees will have to be planted, fire lines constructed, the plantations administered from the day they are started until the timber reaches maturity or merchantability. This will assure steady employment and encourage homesteading and settlement rather than land abandonment.

"Each year the plantations will become more valuable, and eventually they will begin returning to the state a good profit upon the investment. As the trees mature they will attract recreationists and naturally the surrounding communities will benefit accordingly. Idle lands produce nothing for the counties and townships in which they lie; productive lands means prosperity, progress and independence, and this is essential if the northern counties are to bury forever the 'hugaboo' of bankruptcy.

"The districts will be enabled to maintain their own schools, keep their roads in repair, build new highways and bring their local governments up to where they belong. Now they must depend upon their more prosperous neighbors.

"The recreation industry of the state, even though a growing one at present, will be given a tremendous impetus. Tourists, health seekers, vacationists and resorters know the value of tree growth. They cannot be content without it. It creates resorts and camping sites; it shades trout streams and lakes, keeping the waters cool helping to prevent rapid runoff of rainfall, and the root systems serve as a great underground reservoir for the conservation of water supplies."

The Courier heartily endorses The News reforestation plan, and urges the citizenry of Charlevoix county generally to lend it their financial and moral support.

If penitentiaries would adopt a four-hour work day, four hours for recreation such as baseball, tennis and movies and concerts in the evening, the convicts might be persuaded to remain contented, and if were added a table d'hôte, they might not rebel more than once a year.

FREE CHEST CLINIC AT THE COURT HOUSE

Examination Oct. 8 Sponsored By Michigan Tuberculosis Assn.

"Only through early discovery of tuberculosis can a cure from the disease be made certain," warns the Michigan Tuberculosis association in advising persons who have the symptoms of tuberculosis to attend the free chest clinic which will be held in the court house, Charlevoix, on October 8th. The clinic hours will be from 9:00 a. m. until 12:00 noon and from 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Chest examinations at the clinic, given free to the residents of Charlevoix county, are financed by funds raised in the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals, in which the citizens of Charlevoix county participated.

"Early recognition of tuberculosis is not always easy," state the examining physicians of the Michigan Tuberculosis association, "because the onset of the disease is usually so insidious that it often secures a firm foothold before the patient realizes that anything out of the ordinary is wrong with his health. But for that very reason, it is important that knowledge of its early symptoms be common property."

"Early warning signals that should lead to a thorough chest examination are: a cough that does not yield to the usual method of treatment; unexplained loss of strength or weight; persistent digestive disturbances and loss of appetite; a slight elevation in the temperature afternoons; or a continued unexplained tired feeling. "Tuberculosis may or it may not be the reasons for these symptoms," advise the physicians, "but the only safe course to follow when they are observed is to secure a thorough examination."

ALBA MAY GET NEW STATE BANK

Application for Charter Has Been Filed With State Commission.

Application for a charter for the establishment of a state bank at Alba has been filed with the state banking commissioner, it was stated at the Capitol last week. Action on the petition will not be made until an investigation.

The application carried the names of L. G. Balch, J. J. Porter, Wm. A. Stroebel, Roscoe Mackey and W. G. Cornell of East Jordan, and Wm. Parks of Petoskey.

The bank is proposed to replace a private institution which failed because of frozen loans due to crop failures.

OIL TEST WELLS BEING PUT DOWN

The Antrim Oil Corporation began drilling near Central Lake last Thursday morning. The drilling outfit was transferred from Kearney township where they have put down a test well. Two other wells have been in operation in Antrim county so far. As to developments, it cannot be ascertained. The company is keeping all developments a secret until such time as they propose to make it known.

The well which is being put down now is located on the W. R. Knowles & Sons' farm, just west of Central Lake.

According to officials of the company several more test wells will be put down in the near future and then wait for further developments.—Central Lake Torch.

Coming October 14th.
Monday, October 14, is the date when Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be at the Hotel Charlevoix. Headache, dizziness, nervousness, indigestion, crossed eyes or any other symptoms of eye strain corrected. Glasses guaranteed to fit.—Adv. 4012.

SOME HUNTERS MAY EAT BEEF

OLD CAMP DEER CLAUSE IN HUNTING LAW IS CHANGED.

Present Rule Reads One Deer for Each Camp of More Than Four Members—No More.

Pork and beef may pursue the deer hunter into the north woods this year despite his appetite for the more appropriate venison and all because, apparently someone made an error in drafting a revision of the game laws for the 1929 legislature.

On the face of things as they stand now it appears that, regardless of the size of the hunting camp or the number of members belonging thereto, there will be but one deer permitted for camp use.

Prior to the revision the law permitted the issuance of a camp license to each party of "not less than six members nor more than six." This was interpreted to mean that parties of more than six could have two camp deer and more than 12 hunters could have three and so on.

In the revision last spring the "not more than six" was dropped out of the law with the result that it now states that a camp license can be issued to parties of not less than four members and leaving no provision for larger parties.

Conservation director George R. Hogarth, however, is of the opinion that the legislature did not mean to change the law in this respect and will ask the attorney general if it will be possible to interpret it so as to permit the old system. Otherwise the larger camps, and the department records show that they are numerous, will eat at camp much the same as they do at home after the first deer is disposed of.

Several large local parties will be hard hit by the new ruling. They usually have several camp deer.

CO-OPS. TAKE ON WIDELY KNOWN FEEDS

Authorized Dealers of Famous Purina Mills Products.

Charlevoix Co-operative association has just become an authorized local dealer for Purina Mills, famous mixed feeds sold in the checkerboard bag, according to an announcement by Clarence Meggison, manager of the company.

Everyone connected with the local concern are farm trained and will be able, through the handling of the Purina account, to render invaluable service to farmers in this territory. Purina dealers in every section of the country have become noted for the use of outstanding merchandising ideas. The local dealer will put into effect at once the same successful business plans as is endorsed and used by other Purina dealers in the United States and Canada.

Charlevoix Co-operative association will handle the full line of Purina Chows which includes mixed feeds for cows, horses, hogs, sheep, and dogs. The service of Purina specialists and service men will be available to farmers in this territory since the establishing of a dealer here to handle the accounts. Purina Mills is one of the oldest feed manufacturing concerns in the United States. It has 19 plants in the United States and Canada. It has long been noted for its careful policy of selecting representatives to handle their account.

"It will be our aim to give the very best service possible to our customers and to actually help them with their feeding problems through specialists that will be at our command through the Purina organization," Meggison said in making the announcement this week that his company had been named to handle the checkerboard account.

CHURCH OF GOD Rev. J. T. Mark, Pastor

Divine healing services will be held at the Church of God chapel on West Hurlbut avenue next week, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings. These meetings are conducted by Rev. Yerte from Belding, Mich., who has been used by the Lord in restoring to perfect soundness many sick, lame, blind, deaf, and otherwise afflicted ones during the past few years.

A special invitation is extended to all who are in any way afflicted to come and hear the Bible teaching on this important Bible subject.

Don't forget the date and time, October 6, 7 and 8, at 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10:00 o'clock Sunday.

Election of officers will be held next Sunday and everyone is requested to be present.

FORMER RESIDENT DROPS US A LINE

CHAS. E. SEE LAUDS OREGON,
HIS PRESENT HOME.

Mention of Old Hunting Gang Brings Forth Pleasant Memories of His Residence Here.

We are reproducing below a letter from Charles E. See, former Charlevoix merchant, now residing at The Dalles, Oregon. Charley makes us a little peeved by taking exception to our ignorance of geography, but his reminder of the "old hunting gang" sort of takes the sting out of his gibes. We might add a few funny happenings at the old deer camp to refresh his memory, but don't dare to get personal. His interesting letter follows:

My Dear Mr. Usher:

"As I am a little under the weather today, and putting most of my time in sitting around the house and criticizing my wife and listening to the radio, thought I would write a letter to you.

"We are having lovely weather just now, but it is pretty dry. No rain to speak of since May. As a rule, the dry spell is broken by a good rain in September, but last month we had but a fraction of an inch. During the day it warms up to around 70 or 80 degrees and cools off at night to between 35 and 40 degrees.

"Many of the gardeners have their third crop growing. They will have an early crop of spinach, followed with tomatoes. The last of these are harvested during the first half of September, sometimes in August, then another crop of spinach, lettuce, onions, etc., are raised. Sometimes these last crops are touched by frost, but in most seasons they get them off before we have a heavy frost. This does not apply to the hills. Only in the valleys can it be done.

"Just now the fruit raisers are harvesting prunes. Some are still working on peaches, and in another week the latest peaches will be harvested. This year the cherry crop in this vicinity was a little lighter than last year, but the price was better. The apricot, peach and prune crop were very satisfactory. The apple crop is very short here and in fact, I think all over Oregon. The cantaloupe industry is a great feature here. Thousands of crates are shipped every season.

"I get the Courier regularly and enjoy reading it. In the last issue I see that Jesse Smith left for a western trip by auto and that they will visit Portland and Seattle, Oregon. While Oregon would not object to having Seattle as one of its cities, I don't think you should try to rob Washington of their prize city by giving it to Oregon. By the way, I wish I had some way of getting in touch with Jess. I would like very much to have them pay us a visit. We were favored with a visit from Mrs. See's brother, Will A. Aldrich and wife of Chicago. They were attending the Typographers national meeting at Seattle, and returned home via Portland, The Dalles and Boise. We had a very nice visit. Unfortunately conditions were very unfavorable for taking in the scenery, as it was during the many forest fires which were sweeping Oregon and Washington, and the pall of smoke was so thick at times that we couldn't even see the hills a mile away. We accompanied them as far as Pendleton a week ago Saturday and took in the Round Up. It was a great affair. I think at least 30,000 people sat in the grandstand and bleachers the day we were there. One would wonder where all the people come from in this section of the state when there are so very few cities of over seven or eight thousand people. As the distance from here to Pendleton is 133 miles, we came back to a small town about 35 miles from Pendleton that night, coming home the following morning. We drove to Portland to meet Mr. Aldrich and wife. While there we met Frank Chaloupke and had a nice visit with him. He lives in Los Angeles, Cal. most of the time. We had a visit a few days ago from my sister and her husband, who have a summer home at Camp Sherman, a little place in one of the government forest reserves. They are about 175 miles from here, and near Bend, Oregon. A great deal of travel from that section to Portland comes this way, as the roads as a rule are better than by the way of McKinzie Pass, which is a considerably shorter route.

"I occasionally see the names of my Charlevoix friends in the Courier, but more often the names of those who have come there since we left. Now that the hunting season in Oregon is open, I naturally think of our old hunting bunch. I quite often see the names of Fitch, Col. Hamilton, Benton and Dick Lewis of East Jordan, but don't hear much about Hube Ackert and George Stafford (Mutt and Jeff) as we called them.

"I notice by the Courier that Charlevoix has a bumper resort crop. I hope next year will be as good. Also that the cement factory is likely to be a reality, and that the Newwaygo company have merged.

"With kindest wishes for all our Charlevoix friends, I remain Yours truly,
Charles E. See."

MILL WORKER KILLED AT ANTRIM IRON CO.

Joseph Frederick Durant, an employee of the Antrim Iron Company engaged in unloading cars of logs near the sawmill, was instantly killed last Monday morning.

Mr. Durant's head and left shoulder were crushed by two logs which rolled off the car together, catching his head and shoulder on one of the skids. It is probable he never knew what struck him.

BIG HALLOWE'EN PARTY IN OFFING

CAMP CHARLEVOIX HOST EVENING OCTOBER 31ST.

Louie C. Reimann Extends Cordial Invitation to Public to Attend—
"Hard-Time" Rules to Govern.

A group of 11 enthusiastic workers put in a useful day at the "Lumberlost," a new home of Camp Charlevoix on Oyster Bay last Wednesday. The "bee" was sponsored by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce and from a standpoint of enthusiasm and results accomplished on a par with the previous "bee."

Considerable was accomplished toward clearing up the grounds at the camp and Mr. Reimann, together with Association of Commerce officials, wish to extend their thanks to those who participated.

Those who reported were: Don Campbell, W. C. Bellinger, Frank F. Bird, A. C. Belding, Carl Erber, Lloyd Curtis, Jerry Haggerty (team and man), Albert O'Brien, Guy Pearl with team and George Beeman. Mrs. George Burns, Mrs. Ray O'Brien and Mrs. Ernest Reimann engineered the dinner at noon, which according to reports, was one of the most popular activities of the day.

Camp Charlevoix will play host at a different sort of affair in the near future. Mr. Reimann has announced a "Hard-Time" Halloween party for the evening of October 31st.

There will be old-time dances, old-time fiddlers and piano, apple bobbing, fortune telling, walk through the haunted cabin, marshmallow roast and all the fixins'. The party will be called at 8:30 and last until the last ghost is laid. The new clubhouse will be the scene. The new hardwood floor has been varnished and waxed and is ready for use. The big fireplace will have a roaring fire. Pumpkins and cornstalks will be used for decorations.

The public is invited to share in the fun. The party is open to all and free. The general committee in charge consists of Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell, Will Bellinger, Mrs. Geo. Burns and Oakley Saunders.

"Bring a pot-luck lunch, come in your old clothes and join the fun!" is the invitation Mr. Reimann has extended.

PLANTED THIRTY CANS BASS IN SEVEN LAKES

Consignment from Comstock Park Was Distributed Last Week.

Thirty cans of large mouth hick bass from the state hatchery at Comstock Park, were planted in lakes in the vicinity of Charlevoix last week under the direction of Clarence Wood, chairman of the fish and game committee of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce.

Mr. Wood was assisted by property owners living on the various lakes. The shipment was divided between Susan, Adams, Nowland, West Twin, Twenty-Six, Matchett and Cunningham lakes. The bass were in the fingerling stage, between two and three inches in length.

The annual chicken supper will be held next Wednesday evening at the Baptist church parlors.—Adv. 4111.

MAIL CONTRACT IS NOT SECURED

GRAND RAPIDS-PETOSKEY AERIAL PLAN DELAYED.

New Proposal Will Likely Be Made to U. S.—Plane Schedule Due by November 1st.

Though the Furniture Capitol Air Service of Grand Rapids, on the basis of an announcement about two weeks ago, is to inaugurate airplane service into Northern Michigan early in November in the expectation of carrying mail, the postoffice department has apparently granted no contract for the route yet.

Postmaster M. O. Champney of Traverse City, who has endeavored for many months to develop interest both here and in Washington in air mail through Northern Michigan, has word from the department that the first proposal of the Grand Rapids line has been turned down, but as the contract the line sought was most unusual, this is not surprising. It requested a contract for all of the first class mail. It may be that the cost of this, even at the rate the air line was probably willing to accept, would be prohibitive, or it may be that the department simply is not ready to establish such a precedent. Similar offers have been made by air mail operators in various parts of the country, opposed always by the railroads. Contracts that would include all first class mail were discussed by postal officials and operators to no agreement and at the recent Cleveland air races.

Undoubtedly if its first offer has been refused the Furniture Capitol Air Service has dispatched another, though no word has come from the company since Neil Wagenaar, its representative, announced the line here September 20th and said that the air mail contract would be sought and probably granted. He had made a survey and determined that an air mail contract between Grand Rapids and Petoskey would pay, he said.

According to a letter received by Perry F. Powers, Cadillac postmaster, from Congressman James McLaughlin "nothing is to be done at this time," though it is possible the letter may have antedated the petition of the Grand Rapids men.

The congressman's letter follows, in part:

"He tells me that his office has considered the matter of air mail contracts north from Grand Rapids or Muskegon through Cadillac, Traverse City, and on to Petoskey, and has decided that nothing is to be done at this time.

"He believes that the cost to the government would be too great, more than it is willing to pay, considering the cost and the amount of mail to be carried; but, evidently the costs are being reduced and contracts are being let at much lower figures than were in vogue only a short time ago, in fact, he says that the present rate, 74 cents a pound, is about one-half what the government was required to pay in its early contracts.

"I told him a few of the many favorable things that may be said of your city and of places which wish and ultimately will have air mail service, and he promises to keep them in mind; also that he will let me hear

POTATO GRADING LAW IN EFFECT

STATE MAN WAS HERE TO EXPLAIN NEW REGULATIONS.

Those Having Bin From Which Spuds Are Sold Must Stamp Every Customer's Sack.

The new Michigan potato grading law was put into effect in Charlevoix last week with John E. Koon, Lansing, representing the Michigan department of agriculture. Mr. Koon explained the new grading and stamping law to the store men of Charlevoix and to farmer- and others interested.

Under the new law all potatoes offered for sale as table stock must be graded and stamped according to the United States department of agriculture standards. The only exemption is where the farmer or potato grower sells direct to the consumer. Then the grading may be done away with and the sacks do not have to be stamped.

All grocers and others selling to consumers must grade the potatoes and stamp every sack or container. The only exemption is when the sale is made direct from the sack in which the grocer buys the graded potatoes. If these sacks are out where the customer may himself see the stamp and know the grade and kind of potato he is buying, then the grocer does not have to grade the potatoes or stamp the sacks.

Rules and Regulations.

The following is the order sent out by Herbert E. Powers, Michigan commissioner of agriculture:

1. All table stock potatoes commonly known as Irish potatoes must be graded unless sold by the producer direct to the consumer.

2. There are three grades of table stock potatoes: U. S. Fancy Grade, U. S. No. 1 Grade and U. S. No. 2 Grade.

3. Potatoes must be graded and stamped on the premises where prepared for market. Preparations for market means proper grading and proper marking or stamping. When graded on the premises where prepared for market and when legibly and conspicuously labeled, stamped or tagged with the name and address of (Continued on page 7.)

LOCAL SHOE DEALER TO CHICAGO SCHOOL

Will Take Training Course at Scholl Orthopedic School.

Notice was received this week by P. D. Campbell of the Campbell Boot Shop, this city, to report to the Scholl Orthopedic Training School at Chicago, to receive a course in advanced foot comfort, shoe fitting and orthopedics.

The course is under the direct supervision of Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the internationally known foot specialist, who has branches all over the civilized world and main headquarters in Chicago.

Mr. Campbell views this training as an opportunity that seldom comes more than once in a life-time. He said that the course comprised a thorough training in the better fitting of shoes. Mr. Campbell left for Chicago Monday.

Coming October 14th.

Monday, October 14, is the date when Dr. Leaby, the Optometrist, will be at the Hotel Charlevoix. Headache, dizziness, nervousness, indigestion, crossed eyes or any other symptoms of eye strain corrected. Glasses guaranteed to fit.—Adv. 4012.

CHARLEVOIX GETS FEDERATION POST

LOCAL WOMAN HIGHLY HONORED AT LANSING MEETING.

Mrs. R. B. Armstrong Chosen President of Northwestern District of State Last Week.

At the election of officers of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs at Lansing on October 4, Mrs. R. B. Armstrong of Charlevoix, was honored with the post of president of the district in Northwestern Michigan.

The complete list of vice presidents follows:

Northeast district president, Mrs. A. E. Mulder of Clare; chairman of library extension, Mrs. Mary Frankhauser, Lansing; upper peninsula district president, Mrs. H. A. Newkirk of Norway; west central district president, Mrs. Shears R. McLean of Holland; northwestern district president, Mrs. R. B. Armstrong of Charlevoix; General Federation of Women's clubs director, Mrs. Eben Mumford, Lansing.

President and vice presidential elections will not be held this year. Mrs. R. C. Prout, Wakefield, was made second vice president.

Mrs. Armstrong's election to the post of president of the district in Northwestern Michigan, which includes 53 clubs in 17 counties, is a fitting recognition of her many years of service and activity in the Federation. She is the first president chosen from any city north of Manistee and, considering that the Charlevoix group is but a small one compared to others in the southern portion of the district, it is a great honor to have one of its members chosen to head the district.

Mrs. Armstrong induced the Charlevoix group to federate back in 1917. Before that time and up until the present, she has been very active in women's club work, both at home and at state meetings, where she served on committees in various capacities. Her selection to the present high post was made at the meeting in Big Rapids last May, and was confirmed at the Lansing gathering last week.

Her duties as president of the district will take her away from home considerably to direct the activities of the 53 clubs which she now heads as district president. Judging from Mrs. Armstrong's splendid record in the past, we can foresee a very successful regime in her present high office. The Courier joins others in extending congratulations.

SELLING OF UNDERIZED WHITEFISH COME HIGH

Beaver Island Fishermen Pay Fines and Costs for Second Offense.

Charley Martin and Carl Left. Beaver Island fishermen, were assessed fines of $50 and costs of $25.85 each when they pleaded guilty last week to a charge of selling under-sized whitefish. It was the second offense for both men. Deputy Game Warden Henry Fike made the arrest.

CHARLEVOIX WON SATURDAY GAME

STOPPED EAST JORDAN OUTFIT
BY 25 TO 7 COUNT.

Kipke's Eleven Smothered Visitors in Opening Quarter—Show Improved Form.

Still smarting from their 27 to 0 defeat at Boyne City a week ago Saturday, Charlevoix's Red and White football eleven took their revenge on the home field Saturday by handing Coach Cohen's East Jordan aggregation a 25 to 7 trouncing. It was a far different team than the one Boyne City met, and the score comes a long way from indicating their superiority over the Jordanties.

Kipke's men unleashed an attack in the opening quarter that took East Jordan completely by surprise and piled up an 18 to 0 lead before the visitors knew what it was all about. In the opening moments of the game, Charlevoix backed East Jordan up to their own goal, blocked a punt from behind the line and recovered the ball for a touchdown. Captain Kelderhouse, who played a stellar game in the line, accounted for the marker.

The second touchdown came almost as quickly as the first. Soon after East Jordan lost the ball after receiving Charlevoix's kick-off, Bill Novak reeled off a sensational 40-yard run to make the score 12 to 0. Jordan again elected to receive. Two thrusts at the line failed and on the next play Foster blocked East Jordan's punt, giving Charlevoix the ball in mid-field. The old army cross-buck, with Foster carrying the pigskin, netted over 40 yards to the visitor's 8-yard line, from which point Novak slipped off tackle for the third touchdown making the count 18 to 0. Charlevoix again kicked to Jordan. An attempted cross-buck lost 3 yards and they punted to Novak. The quarter ended with the ball in Charlevoix's possession on their own 30-yard line.

Kipke's men should have scored in the second period. The play was almost entirely in Jordan's territory, but four penalties robbed the local eleven of every advantage they gained. The half ended without further scoring, although East Jordan's attack stiffened to a point where they were herding dangerous. Novak had been removed for a substitution, and without his leadership the team was not doing so well.

They came back strong in the second half, however. Foster received Jordan's kick-off, returning to mid-field. Two thrusts at the line failed. Supernaw reeled off a beautiful end run to put the ball in Jordan's territory. Arvilla cracked the line for two successive first downs to the visitor's 10-yard strip. On the next play Supernaw slipped over the goal, but the play was called back and Charlevoix penalized. Arvilla hit the line for 2 yards, a cross-buck made it first down and a similar play put the ball within a yard of the goal and Stroud went through for a touchdown. A pass netted the extra point, making the count 25 to 0. The remainder of the quarter went scoreless.

Two fumbles, the second giving Jordan the ball on Charlevoix's 20-yard line early in the last quarter, an 8-yard pass and then a costly penalty for holding which put the pigskin on the 1-yard strip, gave East Jordan their only score. They passed for the extra point and the count stood 25 to 7, ending the scoring for both sides. (Continued on page 8.)

BRADY ENTERS BOAT IN NATIONAL RACES

Took New Model Outboard to Peoria Regatta in Quest of Record.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Roy Brady left early Wednesday morning for Peoria, Ill., to take in the national outboard championship regatta.

Mr. Brady is entering a new type boat of his own design and construction and expects to show the boys at Peoria some real speed. In trials held recently in Lake Charlevoix, the boat negotiated the course at a speed considerably in excess of 40 miles per hour with a class B motor.

All record for outboards for the year will be made at Peoria, there having been a series of regional meets throughout the country with winners competing at the national regatta.

The Baptist ladies will hold a rummage sale, Saturday, October 12, in Nell's Cafe, next door to Vnn-Allsburg's.—Adv. 4111.

Vicks Now Passes 26 Million Yearly!

More and More Millions Follow Trend of Modern Medicine and Treat Colds Externally

To keep pace with the ever-growing demand for Vicks VapoRub, the external treatment for colds, another increase is being made in the figure of the Vicks slogan, made famous when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly."

Only a short time ago, the well known "17 Million" was raised to "21 Million." Again this figure has been outgrown, as more and more people turn to this better way of treating colds. There are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly"—a far for every family in the United States.

A generation ago, when Vicks was originated, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needlessness "dosing."

Mothers especially have appreciated this modern vaporizing ointment, because it checks colds without risk of upsetting children's delicate stomachs.

And so Vicks spread, until today it has become the family standby for colds—adults as well as children—in more than 60 countries.

COMPLICATION YIELDS QUICKLY TO NEW KONJOLA

Stomach Trouble, Constipation and Rheumatism Yield to Powers of New Medicine.

MR. HENRY WOODWARD

"I had been suffering for some time from miseries in my stomach," said Mr. Henry Woodward, 121 Madison street, Howell, Michigan. "I was always constipated. Nothing that I ate seemed to agree with me. On top of these ailments I suffered terribly from the pangs of rheumatism. At times it seemed almost impossible for me to move about."

"I used Konjola, and have benefited wonderfully. My stomach no longer bothers me in the least. My bowels now move freely and the constipation is a thing of the past. No more strange laxatives for me. The awful pangs of rheumatism have gradually left my body. I am glad to be able to endorse Konjola for the benefit of others. If only one other sufferer is helped as a result of my recommendation I will feel that I have done a good turn."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

New Senator of Log Cabin Origin.

The days of Abraham are not yet over! Who could have thought that in the year 1929 there would come to Washington a Senator who was born in a log cabin? Yet that is exactly where the junior Senator from Tennessee was born.

Now Senator Brock is a millionaire. He is not the richest man in the Senate, but he is among that select circle of very rich men who used to be pointed out to visitors to the Senate gallery, but, alas, no longer attract any notice.

Who, for instance, cares if Senator Couzens of Michigan is the wealthiest man in the Senate and that the humble Ford car was the source of his great wealth? Nobody. What counts in that body is brains, personality, energy, determination, education, scholarship, and influence.

Like Senator Tyson, whom he succeeded, Senator Brock is a native of North Carolina, and then on of a Confederate soldier. At 23 he began to make his way in life, on a salary of $30 a month. By dint of personality and tremendous energy he pushed his success into prominence. He is modestly very religious, a Methodist.

What's the Cure?

German efficiency seems to be coming close home to most unromantic problems. A commission of German physicians, sponsored by the Ministry of Transportation and Commerce, are reported to be busily engaged in voyaging up and down the Baltic Sea, investigating the efficacy of various remedies offered for sea-sickness, for which purpose they solicit the cooperation of passengers.

We will maintain that our German friends will never find a better remedy than the time-honored one that Spaniards offer the unsuspecting traveler: "Sea-sickness? That's nothing, I know an infallible cure." The victim invariably falls for the "cure," and is told all he has to do is sit in the shade of a tree!

Ancients Knew Modern Medicine.

Centuries before the dawn of Christianity physicians were given to extolling the virtues of particular elements or compounds. It is curious to note how some of these products have survived to this time as first-rate health ingredients.

An Egyptian physician 5,000 years ago wrote a document, Eber's Papyrus, which showed that yeast was used in the time of the Pharaohs for ill of the flesh. Even since man has made bread, the onetime mysterious little plant has been a subject for study and research. Hippocrates and Pliny the elder spoke and wrote of its health-giving qualities, although they are not likely to have understood exactly why this particular food was medicinal in effect.

We moderns consume it — with little knowledge of the pioneers who first "promoted" it.

Nurses Plan to Fly.

A speeding car will soon be regarded as an old-fashioned vehicle for delivering medical aid to a patient's bedside. So prophesies the Registered Nurses' Aviation Association of the Civil Air Corps of the U. S. A., an organization lately formed but already representative of eight states. Its members declare that the near future will witness the sight of nurses flying all over the country.

Imagine a doctor at some remote place phoning his trusty nursing aide to say, "Hop in your plane and come over. I need you right away." It is estimated that had this been possible during the Mississippi flood, an enormous saving in time and human lives would have been effected. An added advantage of the plan is that nurses will be able to pilot doctors to distant points in cases of emergency.

The Association also plans to do everything possible to educate the public as to the great service airplanes can render in time of illness. Headquarters are at the Palmer House, Chicago. Laura Belle Erman, of Chicago, is president; A. H. Stolzenbach of Lima, Ohio, is secretary; and Fannie P. Tansey of Chicago, is assistant secretary.

A Woman in the Senate?

Official eyes in Washington are looking with eager interest in the direction of Illinois to see if that great corn state is going to send a woman to the Senate. Mrs. Medill McCormick, known popularly as Ruth Hanna, has a background that furnishes zest to the campaign. And as she is opposing Senator Charles Deneen, the man who defeated her husband, that gives it a personal element that always spices a political fight.

Political forecasters are wisely refraining from making any prophesies on this fight. They see on one side the prestige of two great names: McCormick and Hanna; of great wealth; of a great newspaper, the Chicago Tribune; and of a great farm. Mrs. McCormick has been interested in farming and she knows how to talk the language of the corn grower and the butter maker. And then she is a woman.

On the other side, these wise men see a different situation, one of the most curiously wrought combinations in American politics. The Deneen machine is tied up with Chicago, and the Senator has back of him a record in public life that is not to be sneered at—district attorney, attorney general, governor, and United States Senator.

A woman Senator would be a most interesting novelty in Washington, but the Senate is no novelty to Mrs. McCormick. During her young ladyhood she saw the inside and the outside of the body through her father, Mark Hanna's eyes. And when her husband came to Washington to fill a similar position, she was no novice. It is said that she is the finest organizer in Illinois politics. It will probably be no easy job to defeat her.

Politics This Week.

"Bob white quail, paintbrush handles, mill feed, phenol and creosote acid."

So ran the theme song of the all-talkie production, Tariff Legislation, on the Senate floor last week. No, those items aren't things on which increases in duties are demanded. They are five products that the tariff commission in its whole seven years of experience successfully recommended for lower tariffs as compared with the 32 articles given higher duties. Senators who stood for abolishing the flexible tariff provision recited them over and over again, some of them in earnest disgust and others in light derision depending on their mode of attack.

Senators LaFollette of Wisconsin, and Borah of Idaho, share honors as star characters of the east, though the former might safely be designated the lead hit. Within three hours he had punctured all arguments for a flexible tariff by the simple method of detailing the working of that system over a period of seven years. His most successful talking point was the case of sugar: the part selfish interests played to delay and thwart the commission's recommendation for a substantial decrease in the sugar duty in 1924.

It is of record that the most notable case arising under the flexible provision concerned this effort to procure a reduction in the tariff on sugar. The case earned a reputation as a "national scandal."

Unfortunately this recommendation of the tariff commission came during a political campaign, and the president, it is said, thought it inexpedient to adopt it and put it in effect.

The tariff commission stated in its report that "the cost to the country of retaining the rate of 1.76 cents per pound as against the establishment of a rate of 1.23 cents per pound is approximately $75,000,000."

Now tariff experts have demonstrated that the rate on sugar in the Smoot Bill will increase the burden on the American pocket-book some $65,000,000 annually.

Airways to Link Cuban Cities.

A Cuban national aviation service which will link up all the large cities of the Island is now being established in Havana. The Cuban-Curtis Aviation Company, whose president is W. D. Pawley, a man of long experience in aviation, has already started work on a new airport at the town of General Machado, near Havana, where they will construct large hangars and other buildings necessary for complete air service. The company has a fleet of 15 airplanes already in Havana, ready to begin regular service in a few days.

Chinese and Western Art Meet.

Paintings exquisitely done on silk, 46 samples of Chinese art of the 17th century, are the latest gift to the Library of Congress in Washington from Mrs. William H. Moore of New York City, who acquired them from Dr. Frederick Peterson of that city.

The pictures are arranged in series, half of them depicting the cultivation of cereals, and the other half — There is a "Death Chamber" in the FLY-TOX factory. This chamber is about the room size. It is used to test the quality of FLY-TOX as a spray to kill flies, mosquitoes, bedbugs, roaches, etc. During a test a large number of young, healthy insects are placed inside the cabinet. These insects are raised in incubators for testing purposes. While the insects are flying and crawling around in the "Chamber of Death," FLY-TOX is sprayed inside. Less than a teaspoonful is used. Instantly there is a change. Within five minutes not a buzz is heard. All insects are dead. To make sure they are really dead, the insects are carefully removed from the "Chamber of Death" and placed in incubators in an effort to revive them. If a wing flutters, the FLY-TOX tested never leaves the factory. This test is your guarantee of FLY-TOX quality. It does what you want it to do—kill insects in and about your home. Yet, FLY-TOX is positively harmless to people. FLY-TOX was developed at the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research fellowship. It will not stain. Has a delightful perfume-like fragrance. There is only one FLY-TOX—insist upon the genuine in bottles with blue labels.—Adv

129,000 Additional Telephones in Three Years

DURING the past three years, 129,000 additional telephones were installed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, as follows:

1926	-	-	46,000 additional telephones
1927	-	-	38,000 additional telephones

TAKE ON AGENCY OF ALLADIN LAMPS

Wood Bros. Will Handle Well Known Make of Lamps.

Wood Brothers, our progressive local hardware dealers, make announcement elsewhere in this paper which is of particular interest to every home owner who is without electricity for lighting. They have just secured the local franchise for the famous new instant-light Alladin kerosene mantle lamp, which gives a beautiful modern white light equal to ten ordinary oil lamps. It is over four times as economical as the best open-flame lamp, the reason being that it burns only 6 per cent kerosene to 94 per cent air. It will save its cost in a few months' time.

The Alladin is simplicity itself in operation—anyone (even children) can run it. It is perfectly safe. Does not require generating, pumping-up, or pre-heating. It gives off no offensive odor, does not sputter, hiss or make the slightest noise—burns without smoke.

These new Alladins may be secured in either bronze or nickel finish and are available in either table, hanging, bracket or floor lamp styles. The Alladin floor lamp is something new and distinctly different—never before available in an oil lamp.

All Alladins may be equipped with either plain glass shades or decorated glass or parchment shades, except the floor lamp which comes with parchment shade only. All decorated shades are beautifully designed and are in five colors.

Every home not equipped with electricity should have at least one Alladin. It would be advisable to visit this store at as early a date as possible while the line is complete so that you may secure a wider choice. Read the important announcement elsewhere in the paper for further details.

In the proposed new calendar there will be no Friday the thirteenth.

HOW PROSPERITY SPREADS.
The nice thing about prosperity is that it is contagious. When it exists in one spot it has a way of spreading to other spots. Indeed, this is inevitable; it is impossible for one locality to keep its good times to itself in this modern world.

These thoughts are provoked by a recent article in the Magazine of Wall Street by Theodore M. Knappen, who considers the possible effect on America of the establishment by American manufacturers of branch factories in foreign lands.

This is the tendency, that has grown by leaps and bounds in recent years.

The big automobile companies are perhaps the most noted for it. Ford and General Motors are developing factories in Europe on a very large scale; indeed, Ford is building a factory in Ireland to make all of his tractors, and will even produce there for the American market. But other industrialists, in all lines have followed suit; and Mr. Knappen examines this development to see whether or not it may eventually be a bad thing for the American wage-earner.

On the surface, it looks as if it might. Our export trade is one of the things responsible for our prosperity. If our manufacturers put up factories overseas to meet this trade, won't this cut down production at home—and, while meaning great profits for the stockholders, mean hard times for the workers?

Mr. Knappen concludes that there is nothing to fear. For prosperity is infectious. Every American factory established overseas helps to increase the prosperity of the district in which it is established. That district may import less of a particular kind of goods from this country; but, being more prosperous than before, its total imports will be greater than ever. There may be readjustments, but there will be no hardship.

Prosperity spreads. Anything that makes for better times abroad makes for better times here as well.

WHY HAVE COLDS?
Colds are constantly gaining added disrepute as new discoveries are made of the damage they cause. Industrial physicians find that colds and the illnesses following them are responsible for nearly one-half of the absenteeism in offices and factories. Colds lower the body's powers of resistance and consequently become the forerunners of such diseases as bronchitis, pneumonia, influenza, sinus trouble, and tuberculosis.

Since the winter season is the time of the year when colds are most frequent, it is a good plan to begin now the practice of measures that will prevent them. Ways of heading off colds are given by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association in the following rules:

1. Cultivate the "fresh air habit." Keep the bedroom windows open at night, even though closed during the day. Keep house temperatures around 70 degrees and the atmosphere moist.
2. Be sensible about protecting the body. Have a warm bed or add warmth by extra sleeping garments. Keep the feet warm. Never sit around in damp clothing or shoes. Dress to suit the weather rather than by the calendar.
3. Avoid all coughs and sneezers. If you have a cold, cover up each cough and prevent its spread.

PULLMAN SURCHARGE.
There is every indication that a determined effort will be made during the next regular session of Congress to obtain the passage of a bill making illegal the collection of a surcharge—the so-called Pullman surcharge.

This is a matter of vital importance, affecting every city, town, and hamlet in the country depending upon the railroads of this country for the greater portion of their transportation. During 1928 the railroads of the United States received approximately forty million dollars in revenues from the sleeping and parlor car surcharge. This is about one per cent of the total freight revenues of that period, which would have to be added to freight rates should this surcharge revenue be lost to the carriers.

CHRISTMAS CARD RACKET.

Right at this time of the year residents of many cities are receiving boxes of Christmas cards which they have not ordered, yet which the manufacturers hope will be paid for. This is in line with the now obsolete practice of sending ties in a similar manner, a plan that was so thoroughly exposed by the country newspapers that the concern backing it went bankrupt. There is no obligation on the part of a person receiving this unordered merchandise. It need not be paid for and it need not be returned. If an authorized agent calls for it, the package may be turned over to the agent but it is perfectly proper to place a storage charge against the merchandise. There is no better way of eliminating this practice than by refusing to assist in its development. The merchandise is seldom worth the price asked as the margin of profit must necessarily be great because of the unreturned goods.

THE CARELESS MOTORIST.

Some motorists must be unbelievably careless. At any rate, safety experts have found that a large percentage of all grade crossing accidents are caused, not by the train hitting the auto, but by the auto hitting the train. In other words, the train was actually on the crossing and not simply approaching it, when the automobile came along. How can you understand the mental processes of a motorist who gets in an accident like that? A mistake in judgment, or a fool-hardy determination to beat the train to the crossing, would explain things where the train strikes the car. But where the auto strikes the train—well, it simply must be that the driver of the auto wasn't paying attention to his job.

THE BASIS OF A NATION.

Statesmen are talking about creation of a "United States of Europe." That is a good thing to talk about and it may come to something. Prospects for immediate culmination of such a plan are not promising.

A strong nation must have certain things in common. The United States of America was created from peoples who spoke the same language and had the same general background and the same ideals of the future. Men thought, 150 years ago, along about the same line in government or the constitution would never have been adopted.

Europe has more in common among its various nations today than ever before, but it still speaks many languages and thinks in many different terms.

The future may produce something.

YOUR OWN HOME TOWN.

If you want the place in which you live to be a place in which it's good to live it is up to you to do all you can to make it so. If you do all you can to make it a good place to live in and the other fellow does the same, then no one will need to complain. To do that though, you will have to be loyal to it, stick up for it, boost it and fight for it. But that is only part of it, you'll also have to do a great deal of hard work for it.

ENGINEER OF ISLAND MAIL BOAT INJURED

Harry Moore, engineer on the Beaver Island mail boat James B. Sanford, was quite seriously injured last Friday evening when he was run into by a bicycle at the island. He was brought to the Charlevoix hospital Saturday morning suffering from internal injuries. His condition at the present time is reported as satisfactory.

FAIR MEETING POSTPONED TO THURSDAY NIGHT

Because of a mistake in dates, the annual meeting and election of officers of the Charlevoix County Agricultural society, announced for last Saturday, was postponed until Thursday evening of this week. The meeting is called for 7:30 in the evening at the court house.

Take Prisoners to Ionia

Sheriff Dave Vaughan, accompanied by Deputy Henry Cook of East Jordan, left here Monday on a trip to Ionia and other southern Michigan points. Delos Ostrum, Ivan Castle and Louis Theodore, sentenced to terms in Ionia at a special session of circuit court last Monday, were transferred to the state reformatory to start serving their terms.

Hostess at Bridge Party.

Mrs. Andrew McCall, Jr., entertained five tables of bridge last Friday evening at her home on East Huribut avenue in honor of Mrs. Anna Wirthlin of St. Louis. Cards were followed by a pot-luck supper. Mrs. Homer Brady won high score at bridge.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the many friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and floral tokens given during our recent bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Vern Boyer.—Adv. 411f.

Vice president, Rev. W. H. Helrigel, Boyne City.
Secretary, Joseph Muses, Boyne City.
Treasurer, Earl Clark, East Jordan.

Children's Division Supt., Mrs. Gladys Davis, East Jordan.
Young People's Division Supt., Miss M. F. Nash, Boyne Falls.

About 20 Sunday school workers from Charlevoix attended the meeting. The Charlevoix Congregational Sunday school was awarded the silver loving cup for the best exhibit of Junior handwork.

New officers and directors will be elected at annual meeting Charlevoix Co-Op. Association Wednesday evening, October 23rd. Be there.—Adv. 411f.

DISTRICT W. C. T. U. MEET HERE FRIDAY

Afternoon and Evening Sessions At Community Club Rooms.

The District Woman's Christian Temperance Union meets here Friday at 10:00 a. m. in the community club room. The morning session will be mainly devoted to business and a fellowship luncheon will be served at 1:00 o'clock.

The afternoon session will be called at 2:00 o'clock and the program will consist of papers and talks on topics of interest to temperance workers.

Members of the local union are urged to be present at all the sessions. Those who attend the luncheon, which will be pot-luck, should bring their own dishes and silver.

PROF. METZELAAR U. OF M. DROWNED

Washed From Small Boat On Grand Lake Near Alpena Friday.

Dr. Jan Metzelaar, 37, University of Michigan professor, was drowned last Friday in the rough waters of Grand lake near Alpena while conducting a fish survey with G. McCrimmon, 25. The latter clung to their overturned rowboat for nearly four hours before being rescued.

Prof. Metzelaar was quite well known at Charlevoix, having conducted researches in local waters for the state conservation department on several occasions.

FORMER RESIDENTS OBSERVE SILVER WEDDING

Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Wicks, former residents of this city, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on October 5th, at the Denborn Country club, Detroit. Dr. Wicks practiced dentistry here for eight years, and together with his wife, who was principal of our high school at the time of their marriage, moved to Detroit. They received many beautiful gifts of silver as expressions of the high regard in which they are held.

SUPERVISORS OCTOBER SESSION OPENS MONDAY

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors open their annual October session at the court house in this city on Monday, October 14. In addition to the usual grist of routine matters of business to be disposed of, several special propositions will demand attention, one of them being the selection of a county airport. At the June session a committee was appointed to select a centrally-located airport site and report at the October meeting.

BOYER INFANT BURIED HERE LAST SATURDAY

Andrie Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Boyer, died Wednesday, October 2nd, at Hurley hospital, Cadillac, age three years and five months. The remains were brought to Charlevoix and funeral services held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Boyer on Saturday, Rev. John E. Lockyer officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

WORK PROGRESSING ON NEW BUSINESS BLOCK

Foundation of Milton Block Building Has Been Completed.

The foundation wall of the new Milton Block business block at the corner of Bridge and Mason streets has been completed.

Work on the structure, which is to be of concrete and pressed brick construction, was started last week. The building will have a frontage of 29 feet on Bridge street and depth of 84 feet on Mason, and will be one-story.

The new building will be a fine addition to the business district. William Taylor is in charge of building operations.

The L. O. T. M. Busy Bees will have a baked goods sale Saturday of this week at Jacob's grocery.—Adv. 411f.

OIL COMPANY NOW DRILLING AT LARKS

Must Drill Day and Night Until Operation Is Completed.

Work on the Jos. Miller well at Larks lake, Emmet county, is progressing rapidly. The derrick has been erected for some time and the North States Oil company is sinking pipe and casing rapidly. At present they are down 120 feet.

Mr. Beak of the Miller organization says that now the actual work of drilling has commenced it is almost impossible to halt operations without abandoning the well as there is great danger of cave-ins. Drilling must go forward day and night, week day and Sunday until the well is completed.—Emmet County Graphic.

The annual chicken supper will be held next Wednesday evening at the Baptist church parlors.—Adv. 411f.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Don't be neutral toward the church. She has too much that is needed for a true life.

Morning service at 10:30. Special music. Sermon by pastor.

Sunday school at 11:30.

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES.

McGEAGH SCHOOL NOTES.
The third grade is making Indian scrap books.

The seventh grade drew very good maps of South America.
Our new blackboard is completed. We certainly are glad to have it to use.

The girls are planning a short program for observation of Columbus day, October 11th.

The neatness contest ends Wednesday. The score is running close as each side is trying to win.

Beth Heise is back in school after spending two weeks in Cadillac at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Anna Holeccheck.

Last week we started a spelling contest. The one who has the most perfect lessons this month will be given a prize.

Our boys played a game of football with St. Mary's eleven a few days ago. We lost 33 to 0, but we hope to do better next time.

The eighth grade are working on their nature study project. They are mounting leaves and writing descriptions of the trees and weeds.

The visitors of the past week were Ruby and Mildred Wiles, Lavonia Kenney of Detroit, June Schneider and Mrs. Wiles. We would be glad to have more visitors.

We received our report cards last week. Jack Schneider of the fourth grade received more A's than anyone else, but quite a number of us were glad we worked hard.

MARION SCHOOL NOTES.

Three new pupils have entered our school this week making an enrollment of 43. The new pupils are: Francis, Helen and Winifred Miller.

Mr. Dutcher had a birthday on Monday. He received many nice remembrances and said he wished he had a birthday every day, but after 43x21 (number of pupils times his age) he changed his mind.

B. C. Mellenkamp called on us twice last week in regard to club work. We all enjoyed his talk about clubs and look forward to having him with us on October 10th to organize the Boys' Handicraft club.

The girls of club age met Friday night after school with Mrs. Charles Withers to organize the Girls' Sewing club. They elected the following officers: Darleen Williams, president; Geraldine Williams, vice president; and Bessie Straw, secretary. We are all glad that Mrs. Withers has consented to be our leader again this year.

The third grade language class played a game on Monday called "All Eyes and No Ears." They chose sides and under the direction of Freda and Caroline Greiner took a ramble through the woods and fields. One side was to identify trees while the other side identified flowers. The tree side found 11 different kinds, while the flower side won the title of "All Eyes," by finding 19 varieties.

NORWOOD SCHOOL NOTES.

We are all pleased with our new pencil sharpeners.

Lynn Kerr was absent from school because of illness.

The seventh and eighth grades had a history test Monday.

The percentage of attendance for the month of September was 96.4.

Dorothy Hull was absent from school one half day because of illness.

Forrest and Alton Kerr were absent from school one day this week to cut corn.

Roberta Hull came to visit school Thursday morning of last week. Come again, Roberta.

Autumn is here and the leaves are falling down. Some are purple, some are red, and some are brown.

To the south the birds are flying fast.

We bid them good-bye as we see them fly past.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS.

The County Normal students are visiting rural schools on Wednesday of this week.

The Technique of Teaching class has been reporting on the various types of organization of school government. Several students knew something personally of student government and gave very interesting reports.

Miss Richardson had charge of morning exercises on Monday. As this day was the anniversary of the birth of James Whitcomb Riley, a short sketch of his life was given and several of his poems were read. Mr. Riley is noted especially as a dialect poet. Some of his poems are: "The Raggedy Man," "Elizabeth Ann," "The Old Swimming Hole," "Old Glory" and "A Song."

FIRE PREVENTION DON'TS.

Common suggestions on fire prevention includes the following:

Keep matches in metal boxes where children cannot reach them.

Don't keep ashes in wooden boxes or deposit them against wooden buildings or partitions.

Don't change your electric wiring without consulting a competent electrician.

Don't hang electric cords on nails. Don't go into closets with lighted matches or candles.

Don't pass stovepipe through ceiling, roofs or wooden partitions. Every open fireplace should have a screen.

Don't use gasoline or benzine to cleanse clothing near an open flame, light or fire.

Don't use kerosene, benzine or naphtha in lighting fires or to quicken a slow fire.

FOR POSTERITY.

The reforestation plan of the Detroit News, which has the approval of Governor Fred W. Green and the Department of Conservation, is the first attempt on a large scale to reforest the cut-over lands of Michigan. It provides an opportunity at a small cost for many Michigan citizens to have a part in bringing growing timberlands back to these denuded areas.

Michigan has, about six million acres of cut-over lands. Under the plan devised by the News these lands may be reforested at a cost of $2.50 per acre. A gift of $100 to the fund will reforest 40 acres, the state making up the difference in cost between the $2.50 figure and the $5.50 to $7.50 expense estimated for actual reforestation.

The state will protect the new growth and eventually receive the full benefit when the trees come to merchantable size. It will have the right to cut them scientifically and replace them with new plantings.

The name of every donor of a 40-acre tract will have his name kept in perpetuity as a citizen who was mindful of the coming generations—who wanted to leave the world just a little better than he found it. The News plan will also serve to emphasize the necessity of reforestation, the opportunity we possess for recovering the former timbered grandeur of the state. It should have the earnest support of every patriotic citizen.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

Of all the special weeks in the year, "Fire Prevention Week," is probably the most important from an economic standpoint. America's loss by fire annually mounts into staggering totals, most of which is the direct result of carelessness.

During the week of October 6-12 we will observe "Fire Prevention Week." Whether one lives in country or town he should be interested in assisting to remove potential fire hazards, which oftentimes threaten the destruction of entire communities.

While fire waste, is an economic problem it also has its humanitarian side when one considers the heavy loss of life caused each year through fire. Occasionally, a disastrous fire occurs such as the recent night club fire in Detroit, in which 22 persons lost their lives. Such disasters receive national attention, but as a matter of fact they comprise a fractional part of the total life loss each year.

Your interest in this special week is a badge of good citizenship. As good citizens we should help cut down this unnecessary loss of property and human life. It is an important duty.

FARM LANDS BECKON.

In a lifetime there will never be another opportunity to buy lands as cheaply as now. So says Dean Russell, of Wisconsin, recognized authority on farm economics.

The decline in land values has run its course.

Ultimately, and permanently, says Dean Russell, land values must reflect the relative profits after fixed charges are met, as other business does, and agriculture can neither expect nor demand any other policy.

Land values will advance as farm profits advance. In place of overproduction, Dean Russell finds actual shortage in beef which is selling at the highest price since the war.

Many cattlemen were deflated out of existence.

Dairy cattle are bringing the highest price since 1920.

Stocks of condensed milk are lower, with one exception, than for eight years.

The farmer's job is looking up in these things because it cannot look any other way.—Capper's Weekly.

PROOF LACKING.

Senator Howell of Nebraska, charged lack of enforcement of the prohibition law in the District of Columbia, and President Hoover asked for specific proof. The president explains that it is the intention to make the city of Washington a model of law enforcement. The senator replies that he is unable to give names and dates and thinks it is unfair to be asked to do so.

What Senator Howell charges is probably true, but when it comes to a question of proof, well, that's an entirely different matter. The same charge might be made at any state capital, with the same results. It is one thing to say that drinking in a certain group is the rule, but there are recognized standards which prevent one from pointing out any specific instance. That may be a wrong standard of social conduct, but it is the accepted custom and as such it is a hardy soul that dares to overstep the boundary line.

Anyway, Senator Howell's statement is likely to result in a tightening of enforcement in the capital city. If the nation is to become dry in more than name only, Washington is a good place to make the start.

PROFITS IN DAIRYING.

There is always talk about the possibility of the dairy business being overdone, of the folly of advertising more and better cows, of the unwise agitation for better sires and more proficient herds, but neither government nor private investigations bear out the alarm that is contained in this kind of conversation. People are using more dairy products, consumers are demanding better quality and while increased production may some day lead to slightly lower prices there will apparently always be sufficient profit in business-like dairy farming operation to warrant its increase.

the person or persons responsible for the grading and packing, and the name of the grade, together with true net contents, and are thus delivered to the grocer or retailer, the grocer or retailer's responsibility then begins.

4. If the grocer or retailer sells potatoes properly graded from a sack or container properly marked and the sack or container remains in plain view of the purchaser so that such purchaser may ascertain and know that the potatoes are in fact graded and that he may know which grade of potatoes he receives and the name and address of the person responsible for the grading, the grocer is not required in such case to label or mark each individual package going to the consumer.

5. The grocer or retailer can not, however, empty potatoes from the sack above described into a bin or other receptacle, or mix them with other potatoes unless he again grades such potatoes in accordance with the requirements of Act No. 220, Public Acts of 1929, and when selling same marks the individual packages going to the consumer as by law required.

7. The stamp, label or tag used by the grocer or retailer shall be securely affixed to the package going to the consumer, and shall be printed in letters not less than 3-16 of an inch standard type.

SWEET HEADS TOURIST ASS'N AGAIN

Elected at Annual Meeting Last Week at Grand Rapids.

Carroll F. Sweet of Grand Rapids was re-elected president of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association at a meeting last Thursday night at the close of the two-day annual membership meeting in Hotel Panslind at Grand Rapids. Charlevoix was not represented at the meeting.

Other officers named were: First vice president, A. E. McCrea, Muskegon; second vice president, L. J. Thompson, Grand Rapids, treasurer, H. E. Hastings, Muskegon and secretary-manager, Hugh J. Gray, Grand Rapids.

The executive committee is composed of the officers, C. I. Monroe, Watervliet; John E. Berglin, Big Rapids, and Elmer J. Hanna, Harbor Springs.

At the suggestion of Mr. Hanna, who asserted that it was one problem to get tourists to come to Michigan, and distinctly different one to hold them, the organization decided to undertake an educational campaign among its members. Members will be taught how to receive guests and adequately care for them, an appropriation of $5,000 being made for the purpose.

President Carroll F. Sweet, in a resolution passed, was authorized to name a committee to look into the neglected land problem and report to the board of directors, the association voting to spend not more than $5,000 for that purpose.

The report of Secretary-Manager Hugh J. Gray indicated an exceptionally successful resort season. It enumerated the media used in advertising, including a list of prominent newspapers in large cities from Chicago and Detroit south to the gulf, and a number of leading magazines.

The radio advertising, which brought marked results, the work of the Chicago office and the exhibitions at the outdoor shows in Detroit and Chicago were stressed as important factors in the year's campaign. The postcard inquiry showed that 81.6 of those queried came to Michigan as against 71 per cent in 1928. The average stay was 18 days and the average number in the party were four during both the 1928 and the 1929 season.

Slow thinking is said to cause many automobile accidents, but it is the only thing that is slow about many automobile drivers here in Michigan.

JURY OF 276,003 COWS

The Verdict of 276,003 Cows

"AMAZING," say feeders when shown the results of the eight months' dairy profits survey conducted by the Purina Mills. Figures were obtained on 276,003 cows fed hard mixed rations, Purina, and 55 other commercial rations. Here's what they showed:

Yearly Profit per Cow:
Average on hard mixed rations $124.10
Average on 55 commercial rations 138.70
Average on Purina Cow Chow 164.25

The average Purina profit was $39.50 per ton of feed more than on other commercial rations and $27.04 more than on hard mixed rations.

Frankly, Purina results are the one big reason why we decided to handle Purina Cows—because we know they'll make you more money. Come in and let us help you with your feeding problems—or phone us.

ENCAMPMENT HUNT OPENS NEXT WEEK

LODGE CHOOSES SIDES FOR ANNUAL GAME CHASE.

Losers Put On Feed for Winning Side at I. O. O. F. Hall Monday Evening, October 21.

Charlevoix Encampment No. 19, have announced their annual hunt for members in good standing and their families. The big event opens with the initial day of the rabbit and partridge season on Wednesday, October 16, and continues over the week end.

The losing side puts on the dinner for the winners at the I. O. O. F. hall the evening of Monday, October 21st. Points allowed are: chicken 1, rabbits 3, partridge 5. The usual program of dancing and cards will follow the game feed.

The lodge membership has been divided into two sections, each headed by a captain. Following is the line-up:

Captain Fred Gill.

Captain Oscar Nelson.

Nelson Tillotson, Jake Linderman, Ed. Heise, Arthur Ranger, Frank Bird, Carl Barnhart, Oluf Nordrum, Jud Hardy, George Cook, Otto Stolt, Charles Reinhart, Lance Neff, Fred Bergman, William Bogart, Floyd Webster, Grant Crandall, Peter Bakke, Roy Bowdish, C. S. Dodge, Reuben Geer, Harold Ikens, Robert Mitchell, John Nordrum, Andrew Ross, Knute Svensdal, Swain Smith, Alce Shearer, Robert Withers, Chas. Works, Harry Webster, Ray Shearer. All game must be at the hall the evening of October 20.

That annoying HUM or BARREL-LIKE METALIC tone prevalent in Dynamic Loud Speakers, is entirely eliminated by BRANDES' "THE WIZARD OF TONE QUALITY." Let Us Demonstrate. Charlevoix Hardware Co.—Adv. 4111.

Played on a rain-soaked field and through intermittent showers, the game was marked by both brilliant playing and costly fumbles. Both teams muffed the ball repeatedly and Charlevoix lost much valuable ground through penalties. They were far superior to the Jordanites, however. According to official record, Charlevoix gained 10 first downs to Jordan's 4. They piled up an enormous advantage in yardage gained and outplayed the visitors in every department with the possible exception of passes.

Bill Novak played sensational football at quarter until removed. Super-naw slipped away for several long end runs and was strong in defense. Arvilla gained consistently through the line, as did also Stroud at half-back. The line held solidly and broke through repeatedly to stop East Jordan plays and throw them for losses.

On the whole the team made a far better showing than a week ago. Their tackling was more accurate. With an equal gain in form as the

SEEKS WHEREABOUTS MEMBERS OF FAMILY

Antioch, Ill. Woman Solicits Aid Through Courier Columns.

Mrs. Beulah Jayne Roberts Foth of Antioch, Illinois, has asked us to aid her, through the columns of the Courier, in her search to locate her mother, from whom she has been parted for 25 years.

Mrs. Foth's letter reads in part:

"My mother's maiden name was Maud Jones. She married a Mr. Roberts, who was killed in a lumber camp near Charlevoix. She then married a Mr. Lake. I was born in Charlevoix and at the age of four years, was adopted and separated from my mother. Now that I have learned where I might find her or her family, I am writing you to help me in locating them.

"Will anyone knowing of the Jones, Roberts or Lake families kindly send such information to me at Box 23, Antioch, Ill."

Everybody come to annual meeting of Charlevoix Co-Op. Association on Wednesday evening, October 23rd. Annual reports.—Adv. 4111.

METHODIST CHURCH

The pastor will conduct morning worship at 10:30 and recognize the missionary interests of the church by preaching on "Making American American."

In the evening at 7:30 a very vital topic is to be presented: "Ideals of Love and Marriage," an attempt to lift the standards of the home and make it more permanent, satisfying and wholesome. Companionate marriage notions, knowledge of birth control, lax morality, upset a good many of our accustomed ideas of marriage and the home. The church has something to say about all these things.

Sunday school observes rally day at 12:00 noon with a pageant program, "Forward and Upward." Let us make it a big time.

Epworth League will be led at 6:30 by Mrs. Ted Gravelin.

We shall have a special welcome for every family of the church at the Church Family Night Thursday at 6:30. Bring every member of the home. Supper is "pot-luck," but don't bring meat. We will provide meat and coffee. An evening of fellowship, fun and faith.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church will serve a chicken supper at the church Thursday, October 17th, from 5:30 until 11 are served.—Adv. 4112.

SURROUNDING REGION HAS BEEN AN OASIS

Plenty of Rainfall Here While Other Districts Have Drought.

Charlevoix and surrounding region has been wonderfully fortunate in the amount of rainfall during the past few months.

The August bulletin issued by D. A. Seely, Meteorologist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, weather bureau at Lansing states in part:

"The outstanding feature of the month was the serious drought which prevailed over most of the state. A majority of stations recorded less than one inch of rainfall. The drought was most severe in the southern half of the lower peninsula, a number of localities receiving less than a half inch of rain during the entire month. The area of least rainfall during August was also mostly dry in July so that the total for the two months is less than any other July and August for many years. Damage to crops seems to be the worst in 35 years. Corn is 'fired,' pastures and meadows dry and brown, beans prematurely ripened and the crop much shortened, and other crops likewise greatly damaged and curtailed. As the month closed forest fires were menacing several sections and the fire hazard was serious."

"The average precipitation for the state was 1.28 inches, which is 1.54 inches below the normal."

E. A. Clark, in charge of the East Jordan weather bureau station, reports a rainfall of 3.26 inches for August. In July he recorded a rainfall of 4.77 inches, and for September 4.09 inches.

EAST JORDAN BAND MEMBERS PAY VISIT

Made Unexpected Call on Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Bulow Monday.

County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow and Mrs. Bulow, who recently took up their residence in the McCann home on East Huribut avenue following their honeymoon, were treated to a royal surprise Monday evening.

Members of the East Jordan high school band, together with their leader, John TerWee, and other friends, dropped in unexpectedly for an evening with the newly-weds. The gathering totalled over 50 persons. Before leaving the visitors presented Mr. and Mrs. Bulow with a beautiful oil painting as a token of their regard. Mr. Bulow is recognized as the founder of the East Jordan high school band, having organized and led the group before a permanent director was employed.

The annual chicken supper will be held next Wednesday evening at the Baptist church parlors.—Adv. 4111.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m. Subject: "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Unreality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, October 6th.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord our God be with us, as he was with our fathers: let him not leave us, nor forsake us" (1 Kings 8:57).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Science of Christianity comes with fan in hand to separate the chaff from the wheat. Science will declare God aright, and Christianity will demonstrate this declaration and its divine Principle, making mankind better physically, morally, and spiritually" (p. 366).

AT THE MOVIES

Irving Berlin Song Sung by Lupe Velez in Movie.

Lupe Velez, who plays a leading role in D. W. Griffith's sound production, "Lady of the Pavements," showing at the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday, is by no means an amateur vocalist. Miss Velez made personal appearances during the recent showing of "The Gaucho" at the United Artists Theatre in Los Angeles, and scored a tremendous success with a repertoire of songs and dances.

In "Lady of the Pavements" she sings "Where Is the Song of Songs for Me?" a melodic romance written especially for her by Irving Berlin.

The Baptist ladies will hold a rummage sale, Saturday, October 12, in Nell's Cafe, next door to Van-Alsburg's.—Adv. 4111.

MRS. SALTONSTALL DIST. PRESIDENT

CHOSEN AT ANNUAL W. C. T. U.
MEETING LAST FRIDAY.

1930 Convention Goes to Mancelona —Officers Chosen for Ensuing Year at Annual Gathering.

"Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Prohibition"—the slogan recently adopted by the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, was very popular at the district meeting held here last Friday, and the necessity of continuing the work of the union was very strongly evidenced in the reports and discussions of the day.

The resignation of a prominent woman from the Republican national committee to head the woman's auxiliary of the association against the prohibition amendment and the launching of the Woman's Moderation League with powerful financial backing and the avowed purpose of ending prohibition through "a strong, militant national woman's organization to offset the activities of the W. C. T. U.," are a real challenge to the Christian women of the country to unite with the Temperance Union and promote its work.

The work of the International Relations department, was presented by Mrs. E. E. Cross, who gave a history of the peace movement from the beginning and showed what a strong factor the creation of public sentiment has been in bringing about the present relations between the great nations of the world.

Mrs. Myrie Williams of Mancelona, district director of narcotics, reported work done in conjunction with the County Sunday School association of Antrim county and gave a fine talk showing the harmfulness of tobacco and other narcotics, the commercial efforts to introduce drugs and to make cigarette smokers of women and children; and also some of the counteracting influences being exerted by her department and others.

Mrs. R. B. Armstrong's talk on club work and the recent state federation meeting was well received. She said among other things that while a multitude of women's organizations are today working along social betterment lines, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union must be credited with being the pioneer in these fields. The younger women do not realize the need of working to hold the position that the women of a former generation have gained.

Mrs. Saltonstall led a round table discussion of methods covering membership drives, raising money for local work, co-operation with other organizations and the creation of public sentiment in favor of total abstinence and prohibition.

Mrs. Lois Campbell, the retiring president, gave a fine talk in the morning and presided very graciously at all the sessions. The reports showed that the women of the Union are promoting the cause of temperance and prohibition by working for the election of officers known to be dry and that their influence is being recognized to the extent that it is necessary for them to be very wise or be duped by wily, wet political aspirants.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President, Mrs. Annie B. Saltonstall, Charlevoix.
Vice president, Mrs. Harriet Lockhoff, Mancelona.
Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Freda Novotny, Charlevoix.
Recording secretary, Mrs. Ursula Shepard, Alba.

MAYOR'S INVITATION WILL HAVE STRONG ENDORSEMENT

There seems to have been a story circulated around that the City did not want Capt. John Roen to lay his boats up at the city docks, and for that reason he was going to lay them up at Manistee.

We do not know who started this story, or why it was circulated, but it is ABSOLUTELY FALSE and entirely without the slightest foundation of truth.

I have written Capt. Roen, extending to him a personal invitation to lay his boats up at the Charlevoix city docks, free of charge, and I hope he will accept this invitation.

We also extend an open invitation to all boats to lay up in Charlevoix harbor during the winter months, and the city will do everything they can to secure dockage for these boats.

Arthur Bergeon, Mayor.

Treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Niles, Mancelona.

Directors were appointed to the departments as follows:

Child Welfare, Health, Hygiene, Mrs. Myrie Sias, Antrim City.
Christian Citizenship, Mrs. Lela Simmons, Charlevoix.

Evangelistic, Mrs. Luella Cone, Central Lake.
Extension Members, Mrs. Mary E. Burns, Charlevoix.

Flower Mission, Social Welfare, Mrs. Myrtle Parmelee, Mancelona.
Legislation, Miss Mary Patton, Mancelona.

Press, Mrs. Ursula Shepard, Alba.
The adaptability of the community club room was proven during the noon hour, for while the official board and various committees met in the sewing room across the hall, folding tables were set up and the chairs rearranged for the serving of the fellowship luncheon at one o'clock. This was a delightful function in charge of Mrs. H. B. Jacobs and Mrs. Amos Webster.

After the luncheon the guests were taken to visit the new school building and gymnasium. The convention adjourned at five o'clock to meet next year at Mancelona.

LOCAL FISHERMEN HAVE EXPERIENCE

DRIFT HOURS WITH DEAD MOTOR IN STORM LAST SAT.

Giant Wave Broke in Side of Boat and Filled It With Water—Rescued at Night by Coast Guards.

Willis Cross, Don Cross and Ernest Nowland, members of the crew of the gasboat "Swallow," miraculously escaped with their lives when the engine of their boat stalled following a mishap while they were returning from Fox Islands in last Saturday's heavy blow.

While running ahead of mountainous seas, the boat swung so that a giant roller broke through the side doors and filled the craft with water to a depth of ten inches above the floor. A box of nets, slid into the motor and the twine tangled into the mechanism. A broken timing gear resulted, leaving the boat helpless with a dead motor.

The mishap occurred about 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, and from then on until about 9:00 o'clock at night the men battled to keep the boat afloat. Once they had her partly baled out, only to have another roller come through the stern and fill her up again.

As soon as darkness set in flares were sent up. Charlevoix coast guards picked up the distress signals around 7:00 o'clock and immediately set out in their motorboat to the rescue. On account of heavy seas and driving rain, they experienced considerable difficulty in locating the disabled craft, which by that time had anchored out at the stern to hold them into the seas, but had drifted far to the north.

After towing the "Swallow" to port, the coast guards were unable to enter the station slip off the channel because of heavy rollers. They had to moor their craft in Round lake for the night and it is the first time on record such an instance has occurred.

The "Swallow" crew were completely exhausted upon reaching this port. The sea was one of the worst experienced so far this fall and they were very fortunate to come through alive and save their boat. Nothing but coolness in the face of danger could have brought them through safely.

BUYS ANOTHER 'JUICE' OUTFIT

Michigan Public Service Co. Purchases Plant at East Jordan.

Another electric property is added to the Michigan Public Service Company by the purchase of the East Jordan Electric Light & Power company, at East Jordan, says an announcement from K. B. Matthews of Ludington, attorney for the public service company.

The new property comprises both hydro-electric and steam plants, the former having a 30-foot head. The plants will be connected immediately with the lines of the Michigan Public Service company.

The company, which has its headquarters in Traverse City, now has 14 hydro-electric and three steam plants in the growing territory included in its operations.

POTATO CROP 4 MILLION SHORT

SPUD EATERS WILL PAY WELL FOR THEIR TABLE STOCK.

Charlevoix, Antrim and Emmet Counties On the Top Shelf This Year.

Here is good news for spud growers. Reports state potato crop is 4,000,000 bushels short. Practically every county in Michigan, with exception of Charlevoix, Emmet and Antrim, will have not more than a 50 per cent yield. The average in the above named counties will be near 75 per cent of normal. Fields already dug run from 250 to 290 bushels per acre. Charlevoix county spud growers are indeed fortunate in their potato yield, which in a way will offset the big loss in the crop last year. The government report follows:

"A decline of more than four million bushels in the Michigan potato crop since September 1st was the outstanding feature of the report issued this week by the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service. The drought which prevailed throughout the state during August and part of July continued through September, and this, coupled with severe frosts during the latter half of the month, reduced the indicated production to 19,460,000 bushels—a figure below the final estimate for every year since 1916. The total United States crop is now estimated at 345,177,000 bushels which is 3,935,000 bushels less than the September estimate and 119,306,000 bushels smaller than last year's final production. If the final estimate is no longer this will mean a crop the smallest since 1925.

"The Michigan corn crop also showed a decline in condition; the forecast of production on October 1 being 36,134,000 bushels as compared with 36,984,000 bushels on September 1. The yield of barley as reported by crop correspondents was 23.0 bushels as compared with 30 last year. The forecast of production is 5,888,000 bushels or 1,278,000 bushels more than average production of the last ten years. Buckwheat and sugar beets were other crops showing a decline in condition during the past month. The total production of buckwheat is now estimated at 639,000 bushels as compared with 720,000 bushels last year. The sugar beet crop is forecast at 338,000 tons or 114,000 tons less than last year's production.

"Harvesting conditions for field beans have been unusually favorable during September, and the condition of the crop as reported on October 1 was six points higher than that for one month ago. As a result, the forecast production is for a crop of 5,685,000 bushels or 162,000 bushels more than the September 1 estimate.

"The state average yield of oats was reported at 29.8 bushels per acre, which gives an estimated production of 44,760,000 bushels or more than five million bushels below the average crop of the past ten years. The average yield of tame hay was reported at 1.68 tons per acre as compared with last year's yield of 1.51 tons. The estimated production of 5,147,000 tons is the largest on record for the state."

Game Supper.

FRANK F. BIRD FAIR SECRETARY

ELECTED AT ANNUAL MEETING HELD LAST THURSDAY.

Date of Annual Exhibit Changed From Last Week of August to Last Week in September.

But one important change resulted from the annual election of officers of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society at their annual meeting held in the court house here last Thursday evening.

County Register of Deeds Frank F. Bird takes over the secretarial duties, succeeding Kit Carson of East Jordan, who has held the office two years. It was a case of "swapping horses," so to speak, as Mr. Carson was elected to the office of treasurer in place of Mr. Bird. Frank is well acquainted with the duties he is about to assume, having successfully occupied the office prior to Carson's term. He was one of the most active secretaries the society has ever known and, judging from past records, his selection should be a popular one.

Following is the result of the election:

President, Fenton R. Bulow, Charlevoix.

Vice president, Richard Lewis, East Jordan.

Secretary, Frank F. Bird, Charlevoix.

Treasurer, Kit Carson, East Jordan.

Marshall, Robert Burnett, East Jordan.

Executive Committee.

Richard Lewis, East Jordan; Henry Korthase, Boyne City; Dave Vaughan, Charlevoix.

Finance Committee.

Richard Lewis, East Jordan; F. H. Wangeman, Boyne City; Henry Korthase, Boyne City.

Speed Committee.

Nat Burns, David Vaughan, and Jay Adams.

Division Superintendents.

A. Charles Murphy; B. Frank Behling; C and D, John McCollman; E, Al Warda; F, Henry Korthase; G, Henry Korthase; H, Ralph Price; I, Mrs. Frank Wangeman; J, Mrs. J. E. Seord; K, Mrs. F. H. Wangeman; L, B. C. Mellenkamp; M, Wm. C. Palmer.

One of the outstanding results of the meeting was a change in the annual fair date. For two years the exhibit has been held the last week in August. Next year it will be the final week in September. Lateness of harvest-time, with the resultant inability of farmers to make extensive and complete displays, is one reason for the change. It was also pointed out that the last week of August is a busy one for merchants of the county and they are unable to attend the fair. Resort business is still in full swing at that time. It is also a busy time for the farmer and hard for him to take a day away from his work. The September date should result in a big increase in fair attendance.

Reports indicated a very successful year for the society. A big improvement program was completed and will be extended another year.

Make Trip Around Lake Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory D. Gimble left Monday morning on a motor tour through the upper peninsula and around Lake Michigan. They will stop at Escanaba for the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah Grand Encampment, Mrs. Gimble being delegate from the Charlevoix Rebekah lodge.

FORMER HAYES TWP. OFFICIAL IS DEAD

Miss Lenna Cooper Succumbs Following Paralytic Stroke.

Rev. John E. Lockyer of the Methodist church, conducted funeral service Tuesday morning at 10:00 o'clock for Miss Lenna Cooper, age 59, who died Saturday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Nora Brown of this city, following a paralytic stroke.

Deceased was born September 25, 1871 in Hayes township. She spent her early life at the farm home of her parents there, later becoming a school teacher. She taught several years in the west and again in Hayes township following her return there about 10 years ago. For many years she served the township assessor.

Funeral services were conducted from the Brown home in this city, where Miss Cooper had resided for a year after leaving the farm on account of poor health.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Olive Cooper; two sisters, Mrs. Nora Brown, Charlevoix, and Vera Cooper of Jacksonville, Ill.; also a brother, Richard Cooper of Hayes township.

SUPERVISORS IN OCTOBER SESSION

ANNUAL MEETING CONVENED AT COURT HOUSE MONDAY.

Charles Murphy Elected Chairman to Fill Vacancy Caused by Death of John W. Colden.

With three days of the October session of the Charlevoix county board of supervisors past, a greater portion of the important grist of business to be transacted is still in committees.

At their meeting Monday morning, the county legislators elected Charles Murphy of East Jordan, as chairman to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John W. Colden of Clarion. Mr. Murphy has presided over subsequent sessions.

With but one exception, requests for appropriations have been referred to the ways and means committee for consideration. $150 was voted for continuation of the work of the Soldier and Sailors Relief commission. Requests have been received from the Michigan Tourist and Resort association through its secretary, Hugh J. Gray, also the Home for Crippled Children at Farmington and the Michigan Children's Aid Society at St. Joseph.

Kit Carson of East Jordan submitted the annual report of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society and asked for an appropriation of $2,000. His report showed the Society had $1,200 outstanding in notes and $1,563.85 in unpaid premiums. One-half of the amount of premiums will be refunded by the state, and this, together with the appropriation asked, would bring the Society through with a clean slate for the year.

County Agent Mellenkamp gave his annual report, using maps of the county to show the extent and location of projects under way or completed. His report showed expenditures of $2,078.22, which included salary and expenses. He requested $3,000 for next year, the raise embodying a $200 increase in salary, $600 for stenographic work and a boost in other expense items. His request was referred to committee. On every hand throughout the county are evidences of the fine work Mr. Mellenkamp has accomplished, and any furtherance of the projects would be money well spent.

Other reports heard were those of L. E. Benton for the County Poor Commission, and F. H. Wangeman, chairman of the county park board.

A short discussion on the proposition to establish a county airport was held Wednesday morning. No site has been chosen at the present time, nor will be until state officials come here to make their recommendations and go over the matter with the supervisors. However, it is gratifying to find that as a body, the board seems decidedly in favor of the proposition.

The board adjourned at 10:00 o'clock Wednesday forenoon to convene again Thursday morning. Together with county officers, the legislators left shortly after noon to attend the funeral of John W. Colden, their late colleague, at Clarion.

MANCELONA DE- FEATED HERE SAT.

VICTORY WAS THIRD STRAIGHT FOR LOCAL ELEVEN.

Charlevoix Outplayed Visiting Aggregation by Large Margin But Lost Many Chances to Score.

In a game marked by excellent defensive play, but rather loose on offense, Coach Kipke's Charlevoix football eleven defeated Mancelona on the home field Saturday afternoon by a 7 to 0 score. The victory made a record of three games won and one defeat for the Red and White.

Charlevoix let Mancelona down easy with a 7 to 0 trimming when the wide margin by which the visitors were out-played is taken into consideration. The local gridgers made a total of 13 first downs to the visitor's one, and advanced the ball over 250 yards from scrimmage. They were within scoring distance several times, but seemed to lack the punch to put the ball over or else lost the opportunity through fumbles or penalty. Supernaw reeled off a beautiful end run in the first quarter for a touchdown, but the play was called back because of one of his teammates being off-side.

Charlevoix had the ball on Mancelona's 10-yard line just as the half ended. They were headed for a touchdown, but the whistle spoiled that opportunity. Twice during the last half Charlevoix pushed Mancelona back to within the shadows of their own goal only to lose the ball on downs. Hud the backfield functioned with the same accuracy as did the line, the score would have been somewhat different.

Rex Supernaw, halfback, who gained consistently both on end runs and through the line, scored Charlevoix's lone touchdown early in the second quarter. He made a pretty run of 30 yards through a broken field to cross the line. Arvill went off tackle on a plunge for the extra point.

Oscar Stroud at halfback, and Geo. LaBlanc, who is filling the point position, were both consistent ground gainers throughout the contest, as was also Arvill, who was called on but a few times. Charlevoix tried three passes and completed two. They intercepted one Mancelona pass for a good gain. Mancelona tried two passes. One was incomplete and the other intercepted.

The manner in which Charlevoix's line performed in all but a few instances throughout the game was enough to make any coach feel good. Mancelona never had a chance to punt without being hurried. Many of their attempts were blocked. The Red and White forward wall crashed through time after time to throw Mancelona for losses, and when a man did get loose by the end the way they stopped him was no child's play. The fact that Mancelona failed to make a first down is a fair indication of the line's performance.

Kipke's men appeared to be over-anxious Saturday, which accounts for their fumbles and penalties. Otherwise they played excellent ball.

The same officials who handled the East Jordan game officiated Saturday. John Ferenz of Traverse City, was referee; Louis Reimann, umpire, and Mr. Bingham, head linesman.

WELL KNOWN LOCAL COUPLE WED SUNDAY

Miss Vera Halverson Became Bride of Henry Buddy.

Miss Vera Halverson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Halverson of this city, and Henry Buddy, manager of the Charlevoix A. & P. store, were united in marriage Sunday morning at 10:30 at the home of the bride's parents on West Hurlbut avenue.

Rev. E. Parks of Gaylord, brother-in-law of the groom, performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives and a few friends, using the ring service. Miss Marion Bartlett, the bride's niece, was maid of honor, and Phil Brecheisen attended the groom.

Both young people are well and favorably known locally. Mrs. Buddy is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and county normal. She taught a rural school near East Jordan last year. Mr. Buddy has been manager of the Charlevoix A. & P. store for over a year. The couple will reside in this city.

"Oh Kay!", a three-act play, will be produced by the Pilgrim Players at the gymnasium November 22nd. Adv. 42t1.

5 BOTTLES OF KONJOLA MAKES BIG DIFFERENCE

Suffered Four Years Without Finding Relief Until She Tried New Medicine.

MRS. GERTRUDE SMITH

"My stomach, kidneys and liver were in a very bad condition for the last four years," said Mrs. Gertrude Smith, 2014 Dehoup Street, Grand Rapids, Mich. "I couldn't eat anything but what my stomach would bloat from gas. My liver and kidneys were weak and irregular, and I was always tired and drowsy. I had been in this condition so long without finding relief, that I gave up hope."

"But I had given up hope too soon. I found this out after taking five bottles of Konjola. Now, all my health troubles are gone. And this, after four years of fruitless search. I wish I had found Konjola in the first place. I am now enjoying better health than I have had for a long time, and I am glad to see Konjola the praise it deserves."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at E. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

IRONTON NEWS.

Helen King had her tonsils removed at Potosky on Saturday.

There was a large attendance at church and Sunday school on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gass of Charlevoix, were Ironton callers on Sunday.

The telephone line is complete on the Lakeside road. The telephones will be installed soon.

Mrs. Clyde Solomon and children are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Brown.

Mrs. Clyde Ouden and daughters have taken up their residence in Charlevoix for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey of Cleveland, are the guests of Mrs. Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Price.

Word was received last week that Jerry Saunders, one of our former Ironton neighbors, is ill in an Ann Arbor hospital.

There will be a program at the Ironton church on Friday evening, October 18, at 8:00 o'clock, fast time, for the object of showing our friendship for Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Williams, who are receiving treatment at Mayo Brothers' hospital in Rochester, Minnesota.

Few names in radio have survived seven years. Atwater-Kent has LED that long—and leads today! Wood Brothers.—Adv. 4212.

NORWOOD.

Miss Rosie May Henry of Beulah, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Henry, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Teboe of southern Michigan, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Teboe and family.

Frank D. Brown has purchased 80 acres of land on U. S. 31 of Versil Seymour, it being the eastern part of the former Genett estate.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Wright of Chicago, occupied their cottage in Norwood from Friday until Monday, enjoying the beautiful autumn scenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Pierce received word of the death of John Ackert, Jr., which occurred in Grand Rapids last Saturday night. Mr. Ackert is a cousin of Mr. Pierce.

Jack McCall, who has been enjoying a week's vacation at Norwood and Charlevoix, returned to his home in Traverse City Sunday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson and son, Cecil.

Rev. Conklin and wife of Galien, Mich., who are on a business and pleasure trip combined, called on Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones Sunday. Rev. Conklin was a former minister at Norwood for four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Pierce and family motored to Manton, Friday, for a few days' visit with Mrs.

Pierce's son, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Spear, who reside at the Brndehl home. They will also visit Mrs. Pierce's sister, Mrs. Newton Slick.

Although a trifle mistaken in the date, which, however, did not even mar the old time spirit of the party of friends, who gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bugbee, on Santa street, Charlevoix, Saturday evening to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary, while they were entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Harry High of Portland, Mich., as their house guests. The evening was spent in playing progressive pedro, after which a fine pot-luck lunch was served, including a beautiful wedding cake, presented by Mrs. Penny Genett. Mr. and Mrs. Bugbee were also presented with a silver cake savory, a gift from their friends. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Penny Genett, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Stafford, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holsbeck, Mr. and Mrs. William Alward, Mrs. E. R. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dice, Marion See and Sam Alward, all of Norwood, also Mr. and Mrs. Colin McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. George Light, Mrs. Pearl and Wm. Seymour, all of Charlevoix.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

The Hoover Millenium.

President Hoover has won over to his side the pulpits of Washington, and probably they reflect the attitude of the pulpits of the nation. It has all come out of his program for ameliorating the condition of American humanity and of drawing all nations closer together.

In all churches and Sunday schools prayers for the President and words of praise for his program are heard.

What is this program that we hear so much of? It stands for enforcement of all the laws, with a commission now studying that problem; it seeks to lift heavy burdens from the shoulders of the farmers, with a board actively at work on that problem; it undertakes to better the condition of the child life of the country; it is trying to solve world peace; it is making an effort to thwart waste and make the common man more efficient; and it has the noble desire of narrowing the wide gulf that separates the poor man from the rich man.

These are the major facts of the program. It is common talk that if Mr. Hoover can carry to an end even one-half of his great plan, he will go down in history as one of our foremost Presidents.

Internationalism Invades U. S.

In addition to having the Prime Minister of Great Britain drop in sociably to talk things over, that august body the Institute of International Law deigns this year to cross the Atlantic and hold its regular sessions on American soil.

This is the first time that the Institute, which is composed of the ten most eminent in international law of most of the nations of the world, has ever held a session outside of Europe.

Studying Our Native Tongue (?)

A cheerful thought for those who bewail the "American language" that they believe threatens the good old English mother tongue is the official announcement by the Bureau of Education that more pupils study English in public and private high schools of this country than any other course offered. The bureau states that its reports cover about three-fourths of the enrollment in this country, and show that nearly three million students, or 93 per cent of the total, are studying English.

The Sugar Baby in England.

Not only in the United States is there worry over the gangling infant industry, the sugar beet, that simply will not grow up no matter how bountifully he is fed with the silver spoon of special legislative favors.

It is now five years since the first Labor Government in England decided to nourish the troublesome sugar progeny with a subsidy. Reports from abroad are favorable to the relinquishment of responsibilities by the government as the ward is said to be standing on his own feet.

In announcing the proposal to grant a subsidy five years ago, Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said that it was one of the biggest things that could be done for British agriculture. What progress, then, has there been to justify the granting of a subsidy which in five years amounted to about 12,000,000 pounds?

The answer is forthcoming and will be of great interest to those United States senators who favor the bounty plan as the only feasible method of taking care of our own domestic beet baby.

Advertising in the Ether.

The sign-board evil that is being so bitterly fought in most of our states, is getting "up in the air." Aviation authorities are already discussing the dangers to aviation of roof advertising, which they realize will soon spring up along air routes. Such signs, if allowed, will inevitably be confused with the official air markings placed on roofs for the guidance of aviators. Officials have already suggested that such advertising "be discouraged."

It seems to us that a vote of the aviators flying the regular mail and passenger routes would be overwhelmingly in favor of absolute prohibition of advertising on roofs, or other places designed to attract the attention of travelers by air.

Politics This Week.

An evenging angel appearing suddenly among the high protectionists of the Senate last week could hardly have seemed more fantastic than the creature that Senator Walter F. George of Georgia would create—a counsel to represent consumers when rate changes are considered by the tariff commission.

"Heresy!" one can imagine the Hawley-Smoot coterie exclaiming with hands uplifted in horror. The usual protectionist comeback to the "consumer argument" is that, since we are all producers, there can be no consumer class. However, all journalists, members of the medical profession, office workers, teachers, hired help and her citizens unsheltered by tariff walls may ask to what class do they belong in the economic scheme of things if not to the consumer class. Perhaps Senator George's amendment will show them.

Another significant departure from the ordered scheme of tariff making is the idea of Senator McKellar of Tennessee to have the Senate elect its members of the House-Senate conference on tariff, instead of allowing the vice-president to appoint them. The precious flexible tariff victory will not be thrown aside as the export debenture plan was if its supporters can help it.

Prison-Made Goods in the Open Market.

A new angle of business competition which may well come under the head of "domestic" tariff, has just been raised in the report of the advisory committee appointed in April, 1925, by Herbert Hoover, then Secretary of Commerce, to collaborate with the department in solving the problem of removing prison industry from competition with free labor. The investigating committee finds that goods manufactured in prisons are unfair competition and should be either marked as prison-made, or kept entirely from the open market. This is a matter of state regulation. Some states forbid sale of prison-made goods, confining the products of their prisons to certain articles useful in state institutions. It may be added that some nations absolutely forbid the sale in their territory of any imported prison-made article. This demand for suppression of prison-labor competition may have far-reaching effects, since some states "farm out" convicts to industries. It has been reported, for instance, that one western state has furnished convict labor to sugar-beet growers.

Mechanical Mathematician.

We think of the "robot" as the newest of the new, yet here we have the official record of a brass robot, perfected in 1910, which has just completed "his" 20th year as a scientist. The report of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, on which this remarkable "creature" serves, states that it has been successfully engaged in computing certain scientific data on the rise and fall of the tides in the principal sea-ports of the world. The work, performed by the robot, the report states, would have required the services of 75 mathematicians. The record of service of this dean of robots proves that only his name is comparatively new.

Porto Rico's Mother Tongue.

Porto Rico has seen eight civil governors come and go, but the ninth, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, just inaugurated, was the first who ever used Spanish, the beloved mother tongue of the people, for even a part of his inaugural address. Colonel Teddy won the hearts of his new charges before he even set foot on the soil of Porto Rico, speaking as much as he could in Spanish to the reception committee. One of the sorest of the sore spots in the American administration of Porto Rico has been the insistence, by various commissioners of education, upon imposing the use of English by the young people of the island.

Who Designs Our Planes?

"There have been too many man-designed kitchens, too many man-designed railroad coaches. Aviation is a new field, and beginnings are always rich in possibilities. Why not begin right on this and have the interiors of our airplanes designed by women?"

These are the words of a man and an architect. His question is a natural one. The answer is that airplanes—some of them—have already been started on their first flight bearing the mark of the "feminine touch."

A woman designed the interiors of the plane used on the Pan American Airways lines to Havana and San Juan. The color schemes are planned to tone in with the warm tropical colors of the West Indies. The sen-blue of the southern waters is reflected, not only in the ceilings of the planes, but even in the blue thermos bottles from which cool drinks are dispensed during the journey. The red leather chairs are designed for comfortable sitting. For the summer they are provided with linen crash covers.

A woman also planned the Curtiss "Condor" transports, with their wall coverings of interwoven cotton damask in combinations of fireball and beige, or dull gold and green in a modernistic pattern. The floors are carpeted in a simple conventional motif.

Excellent ventilation, steam heat and sound-proofing are features of modern planes that are being introduced into up-to-date aircraft because women like to travel in comfort themselves, they can understand more easily how essential the little refinements of travel comfort are to all women.

The American people always enjoy celebrating the birthdays of great men, but they are not so ready to emulate their deeds.

Improvements in Telephone Service

EVERY effort of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company is being made toward constantly improving telephone service with the result that:

1. During 1928, operating errors were materially reduced.
2. The average time for handling calls to out-of-town points has been reduced.
3. The great majority of all Long Distance calls are handled while the calling party "holds the line."
4. Clearness of voice transmission, over both local and long distance lines, is improving continually.

This company always will endeavor to provide for Michigan a more efficient telephone service and one more and more free from imperfections and delay.

Our policy—"To continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety."

LICENSE PLUMBERS UNDER NEW LAW

Ruling to Take Effect in State on January 1, 1930.

Approximately 5,000 Michigan plumbers will be affected by the new law which went into operation August 28, requiring the licensing after January 1, 1930, of all plumbers in the state, according to announcement from the Michigan Department of Health which has supervision of the enforcement of the law.

Both master and journeyman plumbers are urged by the department to file their applications for license immediately. Those applying before January 1, and furnishing proof that they were engaged in the business of master or journeyman plumber on March 1, 1929, and possess the qualifications required by the law will be granted a license without examination. After January 1, 1930, licenses will be issued only after the applicant has passed an examination prescribed by a board of three plumbing examiners. Plumbers' apprentices also must be registered.

Plumbing inspection will be started after the first of the year, when the system of licensing has gone into effect, the announcement continues. Inspectors working under the direction of the Bureau of Engineering of the Michigan Department of Health will carry out the provisions of the law.

SAVE MONEY

Ownership of a Pontiac Big Six is an experience in economy. True, most people choose Pontiac, not because it is so inexpensive, but because of the many big car advantages which it provides. But it is a fact that with a Pontiac you actually save money. You save—

When You Buy . . . When You Drive . . . When You Trade It In

You save when you buy a Pontiac because it is the lowest-priced car ever produced which offers so many advantages. You save when you drive because, according to a large corporation which employed 996 cars of 33 different makes during 1928, Pontiac costs one cent less per mile to operate than any other low-priced six. You save when you trade it in because the demand for used Pontiacs has always exceeded the available supply. Come in to see and drive the car which offers all these advantages.

MICHIGAN IN OCTOBER.

Hundreds of motorists, many of them from outside the state, have been driving into the Muskegon river valley during the past week to follow one or more of the autumn tour trails. Visitors tell about their trips in glowing terms -- to miss seeing Michigan in October is to miss the best part of the year.

And that applies equally to almost every portion of the state. In the fall our landscapes are not only beautiful, but brilliant. The lakes seem to shine as you look at them through the thinning leaves. The trees are of a thousand colors and make contrasts that are not only beautiful but spectacular.

Not only is it a beautiful time of year, but it is the sporting time. The fish never bite better than in the fall. That is true, without doubt, of the lake. When you catch bass in the fall your conscience does not bother you that they are caught from the spawning beds. It is the duck season and the best of sports is available to those who wish the most intimate connection with the out of doors.

The temperature is the most delightful of the year. It may be that you will need warm clothing and plenty of blankets in the season grows older. But an ounce of October air has three times as much energy as an ounce in summer. It is the finest time of the year--get out and enjoy every moment of it that you can.

BANK SPECULATION.

Bank speculation finally invaded the U. S. banks? That is the question everybody is asking following a number of big bank mergers in Michigan and New York banks. Several of the larger industrial cities in the state have become part of this latest move in the financial world.

We have heard of big bankers. Someone comes for advice. The big banker looks over his glasses and beams benevolently. His first advice is not to speculate. Save, put the money in his bank, then buy some bonds or some very safe stocks. The banker gives warning and his services are kindly and useful.

Now it looks as if the bankers had been caught up on the tide. The big fellows down in Detroit could not resist the temptation to create some mergers and sell some securities to the public. These securities are violently speculative. The public is already scrambling for them, prices are being forced up to figures where present earnings will produce but little income. The investment may be safe, it may be sound. Whether or not the project has public benefit it perhaps has financial advantage.

But what about the bankers. Are they compromising themselves thru these apparently speculative mergers? That is the interesting side of the question those outside the larger cities would like to have answered.

FARM RELIEF IN A NEW ROLE.

A new angle to the farm relief question, was presented at the recent Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis in Grand Rapids when the prediction was made that a marked improvement may be expected in rural health conditions as a result of the farm measures approved by Congress.

Rural communities admittedly have fallen behind urban districts in matters of health. Time was when life in the country was a much healthier proposition than in the city, but the advances cities have made in recent years have turned the scales in their favor. They have established health departments, banned outhouses, cleaned up their streets and alleys, and conducted a ceaseless campaign against filth and disease. On the other hand, the country, if it has not gone backward, certainly has not made equivalent health improvements.

The objective set forth at the Tuberculosis Conference was to extend to the country the same type of public health service that cities enjoy. Difficulties are in the way, admittedly. The rural population is scattered and education in health is therefore more difficult. Farmers have not been prosperous within recent years, and funds have consequently been difficult to secure for health work.

Yet these difficulties are not insurmountable. The county health unit plan is proving that health education in the country is practical. Increasing rural prosperity should remove the objection of insufficient money. And the statistics on disease, such as those prepared by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association showing the prevalence of tuberculosis in rural areas, certainly present unanswerable arguments for improvement of rural health conditions.

Those Michigan counties that have established county health units point the way to the remainder of the state. The unit plan is not a visionary idea. The system has worked out in large counties and small, and has benefited city and country alike. It is to be hoped that the efforts of the State Department of Health to popularize the plan will find support, for Michigan has lagged far behind other states in awakening to its merits.

THEY TOOK A CHANCE.

It is a sad commentary, but "Taking a chance," appeals to many persons. It appeals to too many automobile drivers.

Getting by without accident in traffic seems to develop pure recklessness in some drivers. There seems to be no limit to the chances they are willing to take. Then luck deserts them for the moment and there comes the inevitable crash with its resulting property losses and often times with injuries or death.

Taking a chance at grade crossings; taking a chance by not keeping an auto under control; taking a chance by twisting into and out of traffic; taking a chance by driving too fast near where children are playing; taking a chance by demanding too much of the right-of-way; taking a chance by turning or stopping suddenly without properly signaling those behind; taking a chance by failing to observe traffic laws, or by failing to learn the written and unwritten rules of the road, and on and on until all the common mistakes of motorists are related, taking a chance forms the cause of nearly all automobile accidents.

On a single day 23 people lost their lives in Michigan because somebody was careless, somebody took a chance. Carelessness brings dividends of sorrow--taking a chance is criminal--don't let it happen to you.

ONE POSSIBLE DISASTER.

The one terrible thing in this world, in the view of Ecclesiastes, is to be without a friend. To have nobody to love, nobody to be loved by, nobody to speak to when you are happy, nobody to speak to when you are sad, nobody to grow old with, nobody to meet life with, nobody to pray for, nobody at whose prayer God might bless us; to have nobody to believe in you in all weathers, nobody to be with you in some hard place and to be with you at the last; nobody to shed a tear for you when at length it is apparent that you are about to leave this world; nobody to follow your dust to the grave in sorrow that you have gone, in faith that such a one as you have been cannot have gone forever--to be thus alone, for this man and for every truly human heart is the one possible disaster.

FORMER LOCAL MAN DIED LAST SUNDAY

Remains of John Ackert Brought Here for Burial Wednesday.

The remains of John Sybrant Ackert, aged 49, who died last Sunday at Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, following an illness of short duration, were brought to Charlevoix for burial Wednesday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ackert of State street, Rev. B. G. Mattson of the Congregational church officiating. Interment will be at Brookside cemetery.

Deceased was born in Charlevoix on January 10, 1880. He spent his early days here and was educated in the local schools. Before leaving Charlevoix about 14 years ago, he was employed at Metcalf's drug store. From that time he has traveled for wholesale drug concerns out of Traverse City, Manistee and Grand Rapids, where he has made his home several years.

Surviving are his wife, who was formerly Lavina Seelye of Petoskey; one daughter, Vera, aged 10; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ackert of Charlevoix; two brothers, Morris Ackert of this city, and Lawrence of Minneapolis, Minn.

The Methodist ladies will serve a chicken supper, Thursday, October 24, from 5:30 until all are served. Adv. 4211.

P. M. INSPECTION TRAIN WAS HERE

Came Tuesday and Left Same Day for Points South.

The annual Pere Marquette inspection train was here Tuesday, leaving the same day for the south to inspect the lines as far as Grand Rapids. In the party were vice president L. C. Provost, Richard Brooks, engineering assistant to President J. J. Bennett; W. G. Black, mechanical assistant to the president.

On Wednesday morning the party will leave Ludington and run to Saginaw and from Saginaw to Erie, Ohio. Thursday will be dedicated to the Canadian division, running to St. Thomas and leaving Canada at Saranac. The final day will include an inspection of the line from Port Huron to Saginaw and Bay City and from Saginaw to Elmhole, the inspection party disembarking at Grand Rapids that evening.

The Methodist ladies will serve a chicken supper, Thursday, October 24, from 5:30 until all are served. Adv. 4211.

HARLEY I. OCHS BUYS CENTRAL DRUG STORE

Deal Closed Early This Week Was Announced Today.

Through a deal closed early this week and made known today, Harley Ochs, well known young local business man, becomes the owner of the Central Drug store. He purchased the business and building outright from B. A. Herman and took possession at once.

The store has been under Mr. Ochs' management for some time because of Mr. Herman being out of town several months out of each year, and Mr. Ochs has been identified with the business for many years. He will continue the same successful business principles which have identified the institution in the past.

We are closing our line of Mackinaw and sheep lined coats at cost. Benj. Brown, Adv. 4211.

AGED BAY SHORE FARMER IS DEAD

William Gray Passes While On Visit to Springfield, Illinois.

William Gray, Sr., pioneer farm resident of the Bay Shore section died on October 6th at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. P. Wertzbar, in Springfield, Illinois. He was 81 years of age.

He was born in Rawdon, Quebec, September 29, 1848, and on December 7, 1879, married Mrs. Hannah Copping. To this union six children were born; Ida, who passed away, Mrs. Effie Crynes, of Portland, Oregon; William Gray, Jr., and Mrs. Lulu Mindel, both of Petoskey; Guy Gray of Akron, Ohio, and Mrs. C. P. Wertzbar of Springfield, Illinois. Mr. Gray had two step-sons; A. E. Copping, who passed away some time ago and T. W. Copping, now of Bay Shore. Six grand-children, three great grand-children and one sister, Mrs. Eliza Gass of Cobden, Ontario, also survive him.

The funeral services were held from the farm residence Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Burial at Charlevoix.

NOVOTNY-MANN WED- DING OCTOBER 6TH

Newly-Weds Will Reside at Bay Shore After October 29.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Novotny in Marion township on Sunday, October 6th, when their daughter, Rose, was united in marriage to Phillip Mann of Bay Shore. Rev. Linnell of the Petoskey Presbyterian church performed the ceremony.

The house was prettily decorated with flowers and autumn leaves. Thirty guests were present at a 6:00 o'clock wedding dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Mann are now on a honeymoon trip to Cleveland, Ohio, and will be home after October 29 in Bay Shore.

EAST JORDAN PARTY MADE SURPRISE VISIT

A group of 20 young people from East Jordan, teachers in the schools of that city and others, dropped in for a surprise on Mr. and Mrs. Fenton R. Bulow Monday evening. Before departing after a pleasant evening, they left a set of dishes and a clock as gifts.

The Charlevoix city band, together with their leader, John TerWee, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Bulow with a short concert Tuesday evening, an affair which was greatly enjoyed.

The Methodist ladies will serve a chicken supper, Thursday, October 24, from 5:30 until all are served. Adv. 4211.

IT IS BOUND TO GROW

If you deposit all your income, regularly, in a Checking Account at this bank, you will know that your funds are beyond the hazard of loss or theft. If you pay bills by check, you avoid disputes over payments. And if you watch your expense items, as revealed by your check stubs, and see that each month's "outgo" is less than income, your balance is bound to grow.

Moreover, isn't that a most simple and efficient method of building up a reserve of ready cash? Why not begin now to follow this easy plan?

P. T. A. HAVE OPENING MEETING OF THE YEAR

Gave Reception to Teachers and Program Last Wednesday.

The Charlevoix P. T. A. held their initial meeting of the year last Wednesday evening. Following the business session, a reception was given for the teachers, thus affording an opportunity for parents to meet the new instructors and welcome the others to Charlevoix.

Mrs. Harley Oels, P. T. A. president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. McKee, music and art instructor, led singing. A very enjoyable program was part of the evening's features.

Marion McKee sang very charmingly. Her number was followed by a beautiful piano solo played by Lola Fessenden, one of our talented school girls. Rev. B. G. Mattson welcomed the teachers to Charlevoix, speaking in behalf of the parents, while Mr. Otterheim responded in behalf of the teachers.

A social hour followed the program. Mrs. F. E. Cartier, Mrs. Allen Campbell and Mrs. Louis Orlovski, the hospitality committee, served refreshments.

You Can Avoid Shorts and Get 10 Years of Service from A STEARNS Battery

Can Be Used With Any Light Plant

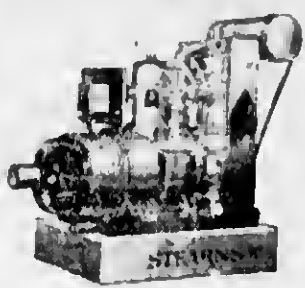

Sold on approval with 15 day Actual Trial. You Money Back if You Want It. Can be returned for full refund. Made by one of the oldest companies in the field.

THE accumulation of sediment in the jars of a battery is the common cause of shorts, expensive repairs and interrupted service. The Stearns removable element invention makes shorts from this cause an unnecessary evil—because it's such a simple job to lift out the elements and clean the jars. Consequently with ordinary attention a Stearns battery will function perfectly until the positive plates are worn out (5 years under normal conditions). When this occurs the owner himself can very easily replace them and the battery should again be good for 5 years—10 years in all—obviously at a big saving in battery expense.

Call, phone or write for complete facts.

STEARNS LIGHT PLANTS

There are many reasons why a STEARNS light plant will give you the greatest amount of satisfactory service per dollar invested. It all means intricate the STEARNS battery getting your own on the dotted lines for any light plant.

Let Your Figures Tell Which Feed to Use

WE OFFER you Purina Chows on just one basis—they must make more money for you than anything else you can feed to your poultry or live stock. Unless Purina does this, you don't want to buy it.

Put Purina to the test of the record sheet and the scale—right out on your own place. Keep track of your feed cost—of your income—of your profits. Purina may cost you a little more in the sack—but the extra eggs, milk, pork or beef will more than offset that. After all, it's the results in the pocketbook that you're interested in.

Ask us for free record sheets and the loan of a milk scale. Let us send you enough Purina to prove its value to you. Phone us—or drop in.

very interesting talks on boys' and girls' clubs.

The girls' sewing club met at the school house on Thursday evening with 16 members present. Under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Withers they have nearly completed their first project, which is a dish towel to be hemmed by hand. They have chosen the name of "Flying Needles" for their club.

The boys have organized a Handicraft club. They met Monday after school and elected the following officers: Kenneth Cellner, president; Ludwig Greiner, vice president; and Bernard Miller, secretary. They have decided to call their club "The Jolly Workers," and will meet every Monday evening under the leadership of Mr. Dutcher.

NORWOOD SCHOOL NOTES.

Leith Kerr was absent from school one day last week.

The third grade are working on speed tests for arithmetic.

The eighth grade is working on statements for arithmetic.

Most of the blanks on fire prevention have been returned.

Newton Pierce was absent from school Thursday, because of illness.

We were all glad to receive our new history and geography books.

Mrs. Lashbrook was entertained at Mr. and Mrs. Ypma's home Tuesday evening.

Roberta Hull came to visit school Tuesday of last week. Come again, Roberta.

We need money for material for our club so we are planning a program and a box social for Friday evening, November 1.

The following pupils were absent from school last week to pull beans: Newton Pierce, Carol Pierce, Bertha Pierce and Charles Greeley.

Miss Wixson, Mr. Ketunen, and Mr. Mellencamp visited our school last Friday afternoon. Miss Wixson and Mr. Ketunen presented the work of the girls' 4-H club and the boys' 4-H club in an interesting manner and they aroused the interest of those eligible to membership in the club. Now we are planning to organize the two clubs.

Hallowe'en.

Hallowe'en will be here soon. The pumpkins all will sing a tune. The witches will dance about, The black cats all will scramble out.

To scare the children and make them hide.

The witches on their broomsticks—ride;

We will decorate the halls so gay. The people will look about with dismay;

We will play some tricks to scare them all.

They will try to run out of the ball;

Don't scare them too much or they may not come back 'till some other day.

Men's heavy wear in mackinaws, sheep lined coats, flannel shirts, underwear, Benj. Brown.—Adv. 42tf.

UNDINE SCHOOL.

Our visitors last week were: Anna Enos, Ella Tepakeyah and Mr. Palmer.

Seventh graders enjoy working in their geography and history work books.

We have 12 new song books. Come and hear us sing during morning exercise period.

The little folks like their seat work books. It is fun to work them out, learning at the same time.

The second grade are going fast in the field readers, which they received from the county normal extension library.

Muriel Stephens has been absent from school the past three weeks because of sickness. We all hope she will soon be better.

The little folks enjoyed the book, "Snubby Nose and Tippy Toes." Also the poems "When We Were Very Young" and "Now We Are Six," which Miss Matchett read to them.

Those on the honor roll (B average) for last month are: Patricia Baxter, Francis Hall, Elinor Howe, Esther Klooster, Mane Klooster, Clayton Smith and Hilda Smith. We hope this list will be longer next month.

Save you money by buying your mackinaws, sheep lined coats, heavy pants, sweaters, underwear at Benj. Brown's.—Adv. 42tf.

NOWLAND SCHOOL NOTES.

The farmers are all busy digging potatoes.

We appreciate our new curtains very much.

Our plants add very much to our school room. We wish to thank Miss Daugherty's mother for them.

A Hallowe'en program is planned for October 30th, 8:30 fast time. All are welcome. Come and have your fortune told.

The eighth grade have a good start in their history, note books. The new ones are a great improvement over our old ones.

Our school room is nicely decorated up for Hallowe'en with pumpkin border, black cats, witches and an October calendar.

Miss Wixson, state club leader, and Mr. Mellencamp, county agent, visited our school on Friday in regards to organizing a second year Clothing club. We are very glad to have them with us. Come again.

McGEACH SCHOOL NOTES.

We had a short Columbus day program Friday afternoon.

Several of the children are absent to help dig potatoes at home.

Edwin Gregory and Jack Schneider are ahead in the spelling contest each having seven stars.

Other visitors last week were: James Block on Wednesday, and Ruby Wiles on Friday.

Sophia Kerehnik brought her camera to school and took several snapshots of her school mates.

Peter Schneider left early Tuesday morning for Detroit.

Last Wednesday was County Normal visiting day. Miss Sutton and Miss Abbey spent the day at our school. We enjoyed having them here.

The fifth and sixth grades are learning "October's Bright Blue Weather." The poem, "Come Little Leaves," has been memorized by the first grade.

The neatness contest closed last Wednesday with Chester Schneider's team one point ahead. Mildred Ager's team furnished refreshments for a school party Friday.

Money saved is money earned by buying men's mackinaws, sheep lined coats, sweaters, at Benj. Brown's.—Adv. 42tf.

POTTER OWNER OF HIGH HERD

CHARLEVOIX DAIRYMAN HEADS LIST OF D. H. I. A. WINNERS.

Breezy Point Farm Herd Second With Owner of East Jordan Herd in Third Place.

Following is the monthly report of the Charlevoix County D. H. I. A. as prepared by Eddie Mortimer, county tester:

The high herd for the month of September was owned by Ed. Potter of Charlevoix. His nine gr. Holsteins averaged 32.5 pounds of butter fat and 942 pounds of milk. The Breezy Point Farm of Ironton, rank next with eight p. b. Holsteins that averaged 31.1 pounds of butter fat and 987 pounds of milk. Orvie Gunsolos of East Jordan, owned the third high herd that produced an average of 30.1 pounds of butter fat and 685 pounds of milk.

The high 2-year old for the month was owned by the Eckland Bros., of Charlevoix. She, a p. b. Holstein, produced 44.4 pounds of butter fat and 1,200 pounds of milk. Dan Swanson of East Jordan, ranks next with a gr. Jersey that produced 43.0 pounds of butter fat and 1,023 pounds of milk. The third high cow in this class was a gr. Guernsey owned by Orvie Gunsolos, and produced a record of 36.4 pounds of butter fat and 868 pounds of milk.

Irving Crawford, owns a 3-year old gr. Guernsey that was high in her class with a record of 42.0 pounds of butter fat and 1,077 pounds of milk. Ed. Potter owns the second high cow in this class, a gr. Holstein with a record of 41.8 pounds of butter fat and 1,071 pounds of milk. A p. b. Holstein owned by the Breezy Point Farm ranks next. She produced 39.5 pounds of butter fat and 759 pounds of milk.

In the 4-year old class a gr. Guernsey owned by R. V. Liskum of East Jordan, ranks first with a record of 48.2 pounds of butter fat and 1,269 pounds of milk. George Meggison of Charlevoix, owns a p. b. Jersey that qualifies for second place by producing 42.8 pounds of butter fat and 891 pounds of milk. The Breezy Point Farm with another p. b. Holstein holds third place with a record of 40.8 pounds of butter fat and 1,275 pounds of milk.

Roscoe Smith of East Jordan, owns a mature gr. Holstein that is high in her class and also high cow in the association for the month. She produced for her owner; 54.7 pounds of butter fat and 1,359 pounds of milk. The Breezy Point Farm owns a p. b. Holstein that ranks next with a record of 49.8 pounds of butter fat and 1,347 pounds of milk. The third high cow in this class was owned by John Seiler of East Jordan. She, also a p. b. Holstein produced 49.4 pounds of butter fat and 1,413 pounds of milk.

During the month of September there were on test 224 cows, 23 of which were dry. The total number of herds was 26. The average production per cow was 22.3 pounds of butter fat and 518 pounds of milk.

Correction: In last month's report the high 3-year old was owned by Irving Crawford instead of R. V. Liskum as was stated. The production was 58.5 pounds of butter fat and 1,125 pounds of milk.

See our close-outs in Mackinaws and sheep lined coats. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 42tf.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.
Subject, "Doctrine of Atonement."
Subject: "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, October 13th.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light" (Romans 13:12).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortal existence is a dream of pain and pleasure in matter, a dream of sin, sickness, and death; and it is like the dream we have in sleep, in which every one recognizes his condition to be wholly a state of mind" (p. 188).

AT THE MOVIES.

Society Girl Joins Crooks.
Excitement is the keynote of "Come Across," a colorful and society and the underworld, a talking picture the Palace Theatre has booked to open Wednesday, according to an announcement made yesterday by the theatre management.

"Come across" is a colorful and vivid tale of the adventures of a society girl, who, desiring to see how the other half lives, finds her-of embroiled with a gang of crooks.

The action of the picture saunters back and forth between a notorious New York night club and a mansion in a fashionable district on Long Island. The night club scenes are described as exceptional, a daring entertainment scene and a rapid sequence being featured.

Ronald Colman Is Fearless Sea Rover in Movie Based on Famous Conrad Tale.

The first individual starring picture of a screen actor who has been considered one of the most prominent in the films comes to the Palace Theatre on Saturday and Sunday when Samuel Goldwyn presents Joseph Conrad's "The Rescue" with Ronald Colman as its star. In this picture the screen's great lover appears as a fearless sea rover. This is the first picture Colman has made since his appearance with Vilma Banky in Goldwyn's United Artists picture, "Two Lovers."

To make the picturization of this romance of the Java seas which was Joseph Conrad's favorite among all his adventure stories and which he considered his masterpiece, Samuel Goldwyn secured the services of Herbert Brenon, director of "Ben Hur," "The Sign of the Cross," and "The Sign of the Cross," and chose it to introduce to the United States his latest find, Lily Damita, the French danseuse and picture actress who has been the sensation of European films for several years.

Enrollment.

In a comparison of this year there are 12 students who did not return who were here last year. Out of these six students the school has had the following enrollment:

	Boys	Girls	Total
Seniors	10	15	25
Juniors	11	14	25
Sophomores	18	17	35
Freshmen	24	12	36
Post Graduates	1	1	2

There were 10 failures for the first month of school. A year ago out of 113 and failures in the first month of 91 had one or more failures.

No students had failures.
Seven juniors had failures.
Fourteen sophomores had failures.
Twenty-eight freshmen had failures.
This shows that the freshmen have not as yet become adjusted to their classes.

Three people failed three subjects each.

Eleven people failed two subjects each.

Twenty-eight people failed one subject each.

Failures are 48 per cent of the subjects. This shows that the failures are low for this month of the year, of the higher classes, of which we are exceedingly proud.

Lycium Course.

The numbers to be offered in this year's lycium course have been selected by the committee and are equally as good if not better than those given in the past. Season tickets will be on sale in a week or so and we hope all will avail themselves of the opportunity to purchase theirs early. The first number appears on November 18 and presents the Lutz Concert company. The other numbers are: "Sun Up," February 5; Jackson Plantation Singers, March 19; Wm. Rainey Bennett, date submitted shortly.

Home Economics Department.

A change has been made in the schedule of the seventh and eighth grade home economics class. The seventh grade girls are devoting their time to sewing alone and will receive their cooking instructions next year. The eighth grade girls have arranged to have their cooking the first semester and advanced sewing the second.

Millions More Each Year Turn To Famous External Method of Treating Colds

Each year more and more mothers turn to Vicks VapoRub, the modern external treatment for colds, because it is just rubbed on and cannot upset children's stomachs, as "dosing" is so apt to do.

Originally designed and first used largely for children's colds, this better external method gradually spread as one enthusiastic mother told another. Years of actual use also proved it equally effective for the colds of grown-ups. Today the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing" and Vicks—a household word in America—is used in more than 60 countries abroad.

The ever-growing demand for Vicks is shown in its familiar slogan, expressing the number of jars used yearly. First announced when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Yearly"—later raised to "21 Million"—the figures are again being changed, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

Grade School Notes.

Report cards have not been issued in all the grades. New cards have been printed and will be delivered in a few days. When all cards are received, teachers will have them distributed immediately.

Ethel Mellin, Principal.

The objective of the art work during September has been to visualize form. To this end freehand exercises in paper cutting, and paper tearing of fruit, flower and vegetable forms have been given together with nature drawing in charcoal gray and color, mediums, water color and crayola. This work will be continued through October, combined with a beginning of color theory.

The kindergartners had a conversation lesson about the trees and what happens to the leaves in the fall. After our little talk we took a trip to the park and gathered autumn leaves. We decorated the kindergarten room with them. The children are looking forward to turning the leaves in the fireplace.

Columbus day was accurately observed by sixth graders on Friday and several days preceding. It took the form of booklets, posters, and a sand table project. The sand table was rather expertly made by budding carpenters and has upon it a representation of the landing of Columbus at San Salvador. Diminutive ships carved from soap or wood are lying in the harbor, and flying from the masts are flags of Spain.

Columbus' life was explored and his biography written and portrayed in pictures. Children in the fifth grade are studying the trees on the school grounds. They plan to watch the changes in these trees between now and next June.

Nearly everybody are digging potatoes.

The best social at the Grand View school house last Friday evening was quite a successful affair. Six dollars was raised, which will be used toward buying kindergarten supplies, and material for the club work.

O. R. Morse of Lansing is up this way on a business trip this week. Eben Dawson has a crop of beans for him, and some sweet corn. Mr. Morse is also selling fruit trees for the Ilgenfritz nurseries. Fruit trees are pretty scarce this year.

Alison Pinney of East Jordan, was a business visitor here last Saturday.

Squash is being shipped in to the local canning factory by train, as well as teams and autos. The Pore Marquette recently brought in three gondolas loaded with squash.

While Mr. and Mrs. Gregory of Eastport were returning from Beulah last Sunday with a load of peaches in their car, Mrs. Gregory was suddenly taken very ill. She was rushed to a Traverse City hospital, but at last accounts, her condition was considered serious. Mr. Gregory runs the Eastport garage.

Fred Hodges and wife and their son-in-law, Clarence Eschleman and wife recently took a trip to the Canadian Northwest, returning last week. They went by the way of northern Michigan, returning via St. Paul, Milwaukee, Muskegon and Grand Rapids. They traveled 3,500 miles at a cost of $75. They drove a new Ford sedan.

Bay View had an attendance of 21 at Sunday school last Sabbath. Eastport had 23. Rev. Rauch preached an excellent sermon last Sunday from the text, found in Romans, "If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them." He exchanged pulpits at Charlevoix last Sunday with Rev. Ross of Petoskey. A negro pastor is expected to be present next Sunday at Eastport.

EXCELLENCE that is long-lived

Any comparison of the Dodge Six with other cars at its price reveals this truth: the Dodge Six is built to perform more capably—to serve more dependably—to last longer. Body construction is stauncher. Its motor has greater piston displacement—finer pistons—more piston rings—more crankshaft bearings. It has a deeper frame with more cross members—longer springs—better brakes—bigger tires. In every detail that assures finer performance, safety, dependability and long-lived excellence, the Dodge Six excels.

CHARLEVOIX CO. LOSES LEADER

CHAIRMAN OF SUPERVISORS
DIES OF PARALYSIS.

John Colden, Pioneer of Clarion, Taken After Brief Illness—
Funeral Wednesday.

John Colden, chairman of the Charlevoix county board of supervisors, died Sunday at his home, following a stroke of paralysis. He was 65 years of age and had resided at Clarion for the last 41 years.

Mr. Colden was well and favorably known all over his county and northern Michigan. He was always active in school and township affairs and had held office almost continuously for the last 40 years. He was on the district school board 18 years, and supervisor from Melrose township.

Mr. Colden was born in Pictou, Ontario, January 8, 1864, and moved with his parents to Lapeer county, where they located. From there he moved to northern Michigan and located at Clarion 41 years ago. For some years he operated a farm and of late years has, with Mrs. Colden, operated a store and conducted the postoffice. Always pleasant to all with whom he came in contact and greeting his friends with a smile, he became one of the best liked men of that region.

Surviving him are the wife and three children, John Paul Colden, an attorney at Pontiac, Mrs. Jean Moreau of Flint, and Mrs. Grace Wheeler of Nutt, New Mexico.

The funeral was held from the home at Clarion at 2:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with burial in the family lot in the Clarion cemetery. Mrs. Maud Brown of Walloon Lake, will conduct the service.

WILL RESUME ENJOYABLE BROADCAST
Standard Oil Co. Again Sponsors Chicago Symphony.

The Standard Oil company (Ind.) has made arrangements with Prof. Stock to resume the Sunday afternoon broadcasts of The Chicago Symphony orchestra. The series will start on October 20, from 2:00 to 3:00 o'clock, Chicago time and will be given each Sunday afternoon following, for a period of six months, over WGN, Chicago; WJL, Detroit; WTMJ, Milwaukee; WOC, Davenport; WIO, Des Moines; WOW, Omaha; WDAF, Kansas City; KSD, St. Louis; KSTP, St. Paul; WEBC, Duluth-Superior.

The Standard Oil company's continued sponsorship of these concerts is a response to the articulate appreciation of the audience who listened to last season's series. The mounting vigor of the listener's hosannas for Prof. Stock's offerings seem to indicate that since the air was first tapped for its sounds, no program has been more cherished than the Sunday afternoon broadcast of the Symphony orchestra.

Doubtless there are many wealthy benefactors or big corporations who might have sponsored these programs purely for the public weal. But, the Standard Oil company happens to be the patron, and it is to their enterprise and civism that thousands of music lovers will again delight in the expert performance of the Symphony orchestra.

Prof. Stock proceeds with the comforting certainty that fine music has a tremendous allure for great numbers of people. Many of them are debarred by distance or other obstacles, from attending the Symphony orchestra's regular concerts. It is to these thousands that the Standard Oil company presents the six-months' series for all that it may mean to them.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church will serve a chicken supper at the church Thursday, October 17th, from 5:30 until all are served.—Adv. 4112.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS
Metric Plug in Dodge Six Insures Flexible Engine.

Racing car, airplane and high-compression automobile engines are to the common run of motors what the thoroughbred race horse is to the ordinary nag. They are decidedly "peppy," but to develop the fine performance of which they are capable, their nerve systems must be kept in good order.

The nerve system of a gasoline motor is its ignition. This supplies that vital spark of energy which gives it life. The type of ignition system that suffices for the ordinary low-compression motor would not suffice for the high-compression motor any more than the nerve system of the ordinary work horse would do for a Man O' War.

One of the most highly developed points on racing cars is the ignition system, graphically illustrated in the 500-mile automobile races at Indianapolis. Spark plugs that suffice for some passenger cars would go to pieces at Indianapolis, and the high-compression engine is a development of lessons learned at that famous track. Out of these speedway classics have emerged the modern high-compression, super-performing motors.

Naturally, with the greatly improved performance and power output developed from the high-compression engine, have come other improvements. The spark plug is one of them.

One of the recent improvements in the Dodge cars has been the adoption of the metric spark plug in place of the 7-8-inch type usually employed. The change was made because the new spark plug permits the motor to meet both idling and high-speed driving conditions better.

The metric plug, so called because of its metric dimensions, is smaller in diameter than the standard 7-8-inch type. It is used practically universally in aviation practice, and is coming in rapidly for the more highly-developed automobile engines, particularly of the high-compression, high-efficiency type.

A feature of this plug is its coolness in operation, the smaller shell enabling the cooling water to be brought closer to the electrodes. The Dodge combustion chamber is scientifically shaped to afford the smallest uncooled area, and this reduction, together with the fine electrical characteristics of the metric plug, has contributed toward improved general performance.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS AT CHICAGO CLUB
Construction on New $25,000 Cottage Was Started This Week.

A program of improvements to entail a cost estimated conservatively at $50,000, is being carried out at the Chicago Club of Charlevoix at the present time. Work will be carried on as long as weather conditions permit this fall and will be completed next spring.

One improvement completed early this week was that of re-shingling the clubhouse and kitchen, also the superintendent's cottage and garage. Work started Tuesday of this week on a new $25,000 cottage for Geo. A. MacDonald of Peterboro, Canada, who spends his summers in Charlevoix. Mr. MacDonald is the son-in-law of Mrs. Robert Stuart, widow of the late Robert Stuart, former president of the Quaker Oats company. The new cottage adjoins the Stuart property on the lower terrace and will be a structure of 20 rooms. Robert J. Madill has the contract.

Considerable work is being done at the golf links. Additional modern trappings are being built on the 12th, 13th, 14th, 17th and 18th holes, which are also being given a new top dressing.

James Gaskin, who has been caretaker at the Chicago Club for many years, is superintending the improvement program.

COUNTY NURSERY HISTORY IS TOLD

STARTED FROM HOBBY OF GEO.
R. HEMINGWAY, OWNER.

Oak Park Realtor Calls It "His Avocation, Not His Vocation"—One of County Beauty Spots.

The following article, from the pen of George R. Hemingway, Iron-ton summer resorter and owner of the Charlevoix County Nursery, is taken from an issue of the Michigan Magazine.

"Back in 1911 the Charlevoix County Nursery was born, by accident to be sure, an outgrowth of a simple love for more flowers, flowering shrubs, and ornamental trees. As our home grounds in a Chicago suburb were limited in area, we could only have a few of the shrubs we enjoyed, but when we began to develop our resort home and had usually July and August in the North Country to do it, we went strong for the things of beauty. We found that the climate and soil both helped to bring the best out of flowers and shrubs and the temptation was too great not to get many varieties and more things than we really had need of, and so it went. In a short time folks that called wanted to buy some of our selections for their enjoyment too. We gave more away than we sold and were glad to share them.

It was not long before our "farm" became a Nursery and we called it "Charlevoix County Nursery." Have told my friends often that it was my "avocation" and not my "vocation," as my own life work has been real estate for 33 years in Oak Park, Illinois. It's been a joy to see the nursery grow and to realize the constructive influence it has had in building beauty in the nearby towns. Indeed, our shipments now extend to cities many miles away. Our resort friends seem to appreciate the material for landscape development in an unusual way. They seem to have more time and are more relaxed and this makes for capacity for appreciation perhaps. It's been most interesting to see the business of the cities become interested for the first time in the shrubs and trees and start to learn the names of the many varieties of evergreen and they are keen to know how the varieties all differ from one another. This interest really becomes a disease, and a good one, too, for tired nerves. The local townspeople find in the nursery, too, a real open book of wholesome nature study and they love it, too.

"We like to have folks come in and stroll through the nursery rows, and get acquainted with the seventy odd varieties we offer. We do a lot of experimenting as the winters of Charlevoix county are long and hard. Not all plant life, even of lower Michigan, will endure. We always try out stock for two winters or longer before offering it to buyers, but the soil, a sandy loam, gives encouragement to root development which is most necessary in transplanting nursery-grown material. The snow cover is a great help, and when the snow goes, life seems to be more abundant and all nature is raring to go.

"The stock in the nursery comes from afar, our Schwedler maples are budded in the state of Washington, same as our weeping birch and Pauls Thom, our Bay Berry shrubs come from Cape Cod, Massachusetts, most of our evergreens are from seed, planted on the prairies soil of Illinois, many varieties of shrubs from Ohio, Iowa and Minnesota. Our roses from New York and New Jersey, and many of our flower seeds come from England. Lilies direct from Japan, and a few maple still on hand which came from France, before the embargo. So it is a plant convention ground, so to speak, all friends, all combined with one purpose of making the world more beautiful and a better place in which to live. According to inventory, over 100,000 specimens.

"You will ask, 'Just where is the most northern nursery in Michigan?' The nursery is just east of the Iron-ton Ferry, six miles southeast of Charlevoix and 11 miles west of Boyne City and 10 miles north of East Jordan, our postoffice address. We are on the shore of Old Pine lake, now known as Lake Charlevoix. We invite all visitors to Michigan to come and enjoy these choice bits of God's handiwork.

"The home planting idea is sweeping the nation. All over the United States people are taking a new interest in the appearance of their yards and gardens. This new interest is a healthy contagion.

"The yard beautification idea is spreading from one home to another until entire communities now have a new ideal, 'The City Beautiful.' This new community idea has been accepted enthusiastically by municipal governments, civic leaders and the press everywhere."

SUPERVISORS END OCTOBER SESSION

PASS 16½ MILL TAX, WHICH IS HIGHEST ON RECORD.

Place Funds on Budget Basis—Toll
On Ironton Ferry Lost—Clerk and Register Given Clerk Hire.

Charlevoix county board of supervisors completed the work of their annual October session Monday afternoon and adjourned until June, 1930.

At the opening of the morning session last Thursday, Mrs. J. W. Colden of Clarion, took her place on the board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her husband, the late John W. Colden. She was elected at a special meeting of the township board of Melrose, and was assigned to the claims, rejected and charged back taxes, and roads and bridges committees.

A. J. Duncanson of East Jordan, was elected county school examiner for a two-year term.

Jerome Cole of Boyne City, succeeds himself as a member of the county poor commission, his term being for three years. He defeated Agnes Lortz, also of Boyne City, by a 17 to 7 vote.

S. M. Rose of Charlevoix, was appointed a member of the county park commission for a five-year term.

Appropriations allowed by the board were: Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, $500, a decrease of $250; county agricultural extension work, $2,800.00, an increase of approximately $800 to cover a boost in salary, clerk hire and expense allowance; Michigan Children's Aid Society at St. Joseph, $200; Whiting county park, $1,000.00; Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, $1,600.00, a decrease of $400 from the amount requested and $600 over the last year's appropriation; Charlevoix hospital, $500, a decrease of $250 from last year.

Dr. C. J. Winder of this city, was appointed a member of the advisory committee of the Fair, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles Murphy, who, by virtue of his office as chairman of the supervisors, became a member of the advisory committee and also a director.

Authorizations of $600 and $400, respectively, were voted for clerk hire for the register of deeds and county clerk. A similar request by the county treasurer was turned down. A year ago, clerk hire was taken from all county officers, but now has been restored to the county clerk and register of deeds.

County taxpayers will be called upon to raise a total of 16½ mills this year, which is the highest on record, as far as we can learn. Eight mills was voted for the general fund, three mills for road fund and five mills sinking fund.

A report of the sinking fund committee showed $120,911.09 in the fund at present. Bonds due by 1933 are $235,000.00 and interest on same $39,375.00, or a total of $274,375.00. The deficit to be raised is $153,463.91. Five mills will bring $51,406.83 according to present valuation, so if the same amount is assessed three years, the necessary amount will be raised. It is a queer situation. The supervisors have failed for several years to make the mill tax high enough to provide funds for general running expenses of the county. To offset the difference, interest accruing from the sinking fund has been used to meet the deficit. Now the taxpayers are faced with a five mill tax for the sinking fund, at a time when taxes are the highest, when in previous years an additional mill or half mill, which would have been no burden and hardly noticeable, could have been assessed. It doesn't look like good management and is hardly the plan any successful business man would follow.

A proposition which created quite a stir during the final days of the session, was a plan presented by the ways and means committee to charge a toll on the Ironton ferry. Supervisors backing the proposition were intent upon raising funds to make changes on the ferry recommended by the United States government, and their move was very commendable considering the present high tax. It was recommended that a toll of 25¢ be charged each car, or a book of 250 tickets could be purchased for $10, making each fare a trifle over four cents. Foot passengers and vehicles other than automobiles would not be charged. We can see no hardship to anyone and believe it should have been given a trial at least. However, the proposition lost by the close vote of 13 to 12. Boyne City business interests did not favor the proposition, as is evidenced by the fact that a delegation from that city, headed by Hon. J. M. Harris as spokesman, appeared before the Board to oppose the measure. Seeking a like selfish motive, Charlevoix and East Jordan business interests might have taken an opposite attitude, but they didn't. We are glad that all three of Charlevoix's supervisors voted in favor of the measure.

The total budget for the general fund is $84,810.00, assigned the various funds. Expenditures are this year placed on a budget basis. In other words, there can be no borrowing from one department to meet a deficit in another. An emergency fund of $8,000 has been created to meet any possible shortages and money may be withdrawn only by authorization of the auditing committee. This move is an excellent one. It removes the possibility of an overdraft at the end of the year and practically provides a "pay as you go" method of handling county business.

Old and New Dances—All Formal Dress Taboo That Night.

Plans for the big "Hard-Times" Halloween party at Camp Charlevoix are rounding into completion. The committee met last Thursday evening at the court house, where assignments of duties were made.

To assure young and old their favorite dances, Brown's orchestra of Boyne City has been engaged to play the old-time and modern dances. Effort is being made to secure two or three fiddlers for special numbers.

The big clubhouse will be decorated with cornstalks and pumpkins. The Brooks Electric company of Charlevoix will install a temporary Stearns lighting plant. Everyone is ordered to come dressed in old clothes. Neckties, fancy shirts or dresses will be taboo. A special police force will hail into court all those who come dressed up and a judge will impose a fine.

The committee decided to furnish lunch for the evening rather than ask each person to bring his own. A collection will be taken to defray the expenses of the music and lunch. Anyone who wishes to contribute apples for the occasion is asked to bring them that evening.

"The Limberlost," the new home of Camp Charlevoix is situated on the east shore of Oyster Bay, Lake Charlevoix. Take the Charlevoix-Boyne City road. The turn-off from this road to the camp is one mile south from Greensky hill. Lanterns hung on signs will mark the place.

Part of the entertainment of the evening will consist of a pumpkin pie eating contest. The contestants will have their hands tied behind their backs and without aid will compete to see who can eat a whole pumpkin pie first. Especially juicy pies will be prepared for this event.

Members of the committee in charge of the party are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. George Burns, Oakley Saunders, Ralph Price and Lewis C. Reimann, the director of Camp Charlevoix, with the assistance of people from Boyne City and East Jordan.

The committee will have another meeting at 7:30 Thursday evening in the register of deeds office in the court house.

LITERARY AND SEWING CLUB HAVE GATHERING

Next Meeting Is Thursday Afternoon
With Mrs. Henry Block.

The Methodist ladies' Literary and Sewing club met last Thursday with Mrs. Edgar Smith. A good crowd of members and visitors were present.

Mrs. George Holmes, aunt of the hostess, was the guest of honor. Mrs. Holmes, who is president of the Ladies' Aid of her home church in Detroit, gave an interesting talk on methods of conducting the Aid. Miss French sang two selections and refreshments were served.

This week the club will meet with Mrs. Henry Block. All members are urged to be present and to come prepared to answer roll call with something about Halloween.

CHARLEVOIX WON FOURTH VICTORY

NOSE OUT ST. IGNACE BY 7 TO 0
SCORE SATURDAY.

Charlevoix Out-Played Visiting Aggregation in Every Department—Lacked Scoring Punch.

In a game marked by some of the best defensive work Charlevoix has shown this season, Coach Ray Kipke's red and white football eleven hung up their fourth consecutive victory on the local field last Saturday afternoon, defeating St. Ignace by a 7 to 0 score.

With the exception of a few moments in the opening quarter before they were really warmed up, Charlevoix played the Struts lads to a stand-still. During that period St. Ignace made two first downs. They advanced the ball for another late in the third quarter, but the balance of the time were beating off a barrage of line smashes and end runs. Kipke's men gathered a total of nine first downs and should have run up a heavy score against the visiting eleven.

Charlevoix scored their lone touchdown early in the second period. Floyd King, who played his initial game of halfback, carried the ball over behind air-tight interference on a beautiful 40-yard run from cross-back formation. An off-tackle smash netted the extra point. The play came soon after the quarter. St. Ignace had lost ten yards following two poor plays and then got only 13 yards on a punt. They were well in their own territory and Charlevoix had a fine opportunity to score and took advantage of it.

The counter wound up scoring the balance of the game, although Charlevoix threatened several times after long advances. Twice during the final period Kipke's men were inside of the St. Ignace 20-yard line. Once, after an advance from mid-field, a poor play lost three yards and then a penalty robbed them of first down and a possible touchdown. On the first play after the huddle, over, Arvilla snared a St. Ignace pass. A toss, Supernaw to Foster, put the ball on the visit's 10-yard line. It was another beautiful chance to score, but on the next play St. Ignace intercepted a Charlevoix pass to their own 3-yard strip and the whistle stopped the contest.

Outstanding during the contest was the ball totting of King, Arvilla, Stroud and Foster. Stroud and Arvilla gained consistently on off-tackle plays and King tore off some end runs that were pretty to watch. He was aided by good interference and knows how to stay behind it. Foster made some nice gains on cross-huck plays, and played well during the short time he was at half. Supernaw played a consistent game, but did not show up so well at quarter as he has previously at halfback.

The line stopped every advance St. Ignace attempted, and time after time threw the visitors for heavy losses. Capt. Kelderhouse and Swan-son carried the brunt of the defensive work, but were by no means without support. Kipke now has probably the strongest defensive team in this region. If he can develop a scoring punch, equally as good, Charlevoix should stop the best of them.

Ferez as referee, Reimann as umpire and Bingham as head linesman, were the officials.

OPEN GAS JET CAUSES DEATH

MRS. MERRILL SUCCUMBS TO FUMES FROM COOK STOVE.

Former Wahneta Herington Meets
With Untimely Fate In Her Detroit Home.

Relatives and friends of Mrs. Wahneta Herington Merrill in this city were deeply grieved and shocked to learn of her sudden and untimely passing at her Detroit home, last Sunday.

Mrs. Merrill, the wife of a former Petoskey, Leon Merrill, was found by her husband in their Detroit apartment, 1481 Baldwin avenue, sitting lifeless in her chair. Mr. Merrill, who operates for hire a fleet of speed boats on the Detroit river between the mainland and Belle Isle, returned from his work at 4:30 p. m. to find the rooms filled with illuminating gas and too late to save his wife from the fate that had so insiduously overtaken her. Though physicians strove to restore consciousness with a pulmotor, their efforts were fruitless. It was estimated that she had been dead at least an hour and a half previous to her husband's return. Preparations for the evening meal had been made and it is conjectured that Mrs. Merrill must have failed in her attempt to light the stove and, not noticing that the flame had flickered out, went in the other room to sit down, leaving the burner turned on.

The remains were brought to Charlevoix Tuesday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Trixie Edwards of Detroit, a sister of the deceased. Plans for the funeral are not matured at this writing.

Wahneta Herington, daughter of Barney S. Herington, of this city, was born in Kalkaska, Kalkaska county, 32 years ago. She was educated in the public schools of Charlevoix, graduating from the high school with the class of 1919. She was also a graduate of Madam Laverne's school of elocution in Detroit and was teaching classes in this subject at the time of her death. Miss Herington was married to Leon Merrill of Petoskey five years ago and the couple went to live in Detroit, spending their winters in Florida. No children were born of this union and the deceased is survived by her father, step-mother, and three half sisters, Pauline and Eleanor of 112 West Upright avenue, Charlevoix; two sisters, Mrs. Trixie Edwards of Detroit and Mrs. Daisy Eckardt of Kalkaska and a brother, Otto Herington of Detroit. An uncle, Milton Herington of Allegan, will be present at the funeral with other members of the family named and the wife and daughter of Otto Herington.

FLAMING RED BUTTON FOR 1929 DEER HUNTER

Seventy Thousand Resident Licenses Ready for Distribution.

Flaming red buttons will grace the caps of deer hunters in Michigan woods next month.

The 1929 resident and non-resident deer licenses are now being shipped from the Department of Conservation offices at Lansing to the county clerks throughout the state.

Each license is accompanied by a button; red for residents and green for non-residents.

The department is distributing 70,000 resident and 2,500 non-resident licenses.

PETOSKEY'S SEWAGE PLANT IN OPERATION

Completed Last Week at Estimated Cost of Fifty Thousand.

Petoskey's new city sewage disposal plant, which has been in course of construction for the last two years by City Manager P. T. Mitchell, was placed in operation last Thursday forenoon and as near as can be judged from early observation of the various units is working very successfully.

The plant is located on the lake front at the foot of Quairance street and adjacent to the city gas plant; the buildings are of concrete and steel of the most modern type and so constructed and arranged that additional units may be added to care for a city of 20,000 population. The present unit will provide for a population of about 10,000. The entire plant cost has been financed by the city from pay day to pay day for the labor and for the materials as the invoices come in, from earnings of the light department. The cost is placed at about $50,000.

WILL CELEBRATE 65TH ANNIVERSARY

M. E. CHURCH AT ATWOOD WAS SETTLERS' FIRST CHURCH.

Established In 1864 By Handful Of Hardy Pioneers, It Is Still Strong Religious Body.

The Atwood Methodist church, first religious organization for white settlers of Charlevoix and Antrim counties, will celebrate the 65th anniversary of its founding Saturday and Sunday, October 26 and 27.

Established in 1864 by a handful of hardy pioneers, this church, an ever-living tribute to the religious zeal of its founders, has continued to exist more than a half century, and now stands as one of the strongest religious organizations of this region. In conjunction with the anniversary celebration of the church, the first Ladies' Aid Society in northern Michigan.

First observance of the occasion will be Saturday evening. At this time a pageant entitled "The Life of Former Days," will be presented. The program is a portrait in pageant form of the founding of the church in 1864. Those taking part will wear costumes of those early days and the presentation will carry out in every possible detail what happened on that memorable occasion.

Sunday will be a day of special activities. At 9:00 o'clock that morning will be conducted an old-fashioned class meeting and Love Feast. At 9:30 Rev. J. O. Rindell, superintendent of the Grand Traverse district, will deliver the anniversary address. Ethun Joliffe, one of the early settlers of this region, will give the history of the church, and there are many other special features.

Conditions have changed greatly since this little church was founded. Today a ribbon of concrete runs past its doors, while back in 1864 there were trails through the woods. The early pioneer brought his family to church with wagon or sleigh, driving a yoke of oxen. Others came on horseback or afoot, and many came from miles away. There will be a striking contrast in fashions at this anniversary celebration. The church-goers will ride in the modern vehicles of today, but their costumes will depict those of many years past.

OVER $400 REWARD FOR SLAYER OF DEER

Large Doe Slayed in Iron County Park Arouses Officials.

Rewards aggregating $400 are being offered in Iron county for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who slaughtered a doe in the Fortune Lake County park, Iron county. The board of supervisors have offered $100 and the county park commission has added $300 to the reward. The big doe, one of the two deer in the park, was clubbed to death. The reward is believed to be the highest ever offered in connection with such an offense.

Entertained With Bridge.

Mrs. Robert F. Sloan, Sr., entertained four tables of bridge at her home on State street last Friday evening. Following cards, a delightful luncheon was served. Honors at bridge went to Mrs. Fred E. Cartier and Mrs. Morris Ackert.

DIVERSIFIED PRO- GRAM AT GAYLORD

POTATO AND APPLE SHOW OPENS OCTOBER 30TH.

Specialists in Agriculture Procured
As Speakers—Many New and Novel Contests This Year.

The officers of the Top O' Michigan Potato Show Association have arranged a very attractive program for all visitors and exhibitors at the show this year. The program officially opens at 12:00 o'clock noon Wednesday, October 30. At this time a certified seed growers luncheon will be held and all certified seed growers are requested to attend.

The afternoon program begins at 2:00 p. m. Talks listed for the afternoon are by R. W. Rees, horticulturist of the New York Central lines, who will discuss "Making the Market With Fruit." Mr. Rees has completed many fruit surveys and understands the marketing of fruit as well as any man in the country. C. E. Millar of the Soils Department, M. S. C., will talk on "Stepping Stones to Potato Profits," emphasizing the use of proper soil management practices. Prof. J. T. Horner, formerly of the Economics Department, M. S. C., and now with the Dairy Products Research Bureau of Detroit, will talk on "Crashing the Gate With Spuds."

The Thursday program begins at 1:30 p. m. with R. E. Lorce, M. S. C., discussing "Small Fruit Opportunities." E. L. Anthony, Prof. of Dairying, M. S. C., will talk on the "Other Eight Months." C. M. McCrary, Potato specialist, M. S. C., will talk on "Meeting Competition" and Burt Wermuth, Michigan Farmer, will talk on "Advertising Your Products."

On Thursday evening at 6:30 the annual banquet will be held with J. E. Richards, editor of the Alpena News, as toastmaster. In contrast to banquets in previous years, the one this year will contain little heavy material and will be devoted largely to entertainment.

The annual Top O' Michigan singing contests will be held at 10:00 o'clock Friday morning. Most everyone who is interested in exhibiting at this show has already made plans to take some potatoes or apples over next week or have sent them to be set up. There are thousands of farmers in the Top O' Michigan territory, however, who have never seen this show, but have heard about it thru the columns of the newspapers. We would urge that every person, whether a grower of potatoes or apples or not, spend at least one day at the show this year to find out what this association is doing to put northern Michigan to the front as the leading potato and apple section of the United States.

Several new contests have been entered this year which should attract many additional exhibitors. The 4-H Club program on Thursday afternoon has been arranged especially for boys and girls both in club work and in Smith-Hughes schools. Plan now to take the entire family down to Gaylord on October 30, 31 and November 1 and get in step with the greatest institution of northern Michigan.

SPIKE HORN BUCK KILLS PRONG HORN

Battle to Death Enacted on Plains Near Vanderbilt.

Ernest Slade, accompanied by Officers Brockman and Carpenter of Vanderbilt, witnessed the end of one of the wilderness tragedies last Saturday, near the reserve east of Vanderbilt.

Riding along one of the trails they espied a doe with two fawns. Going a little farther they saw a spike horn buck eyeing them and pawing the ground. A few feet away lay a prong-horn, dead. The dead animal had just been killed in the fight, the spike horn ripping the whole side out of the dead animal.

As the conservation officers attempted to take the dead deer, the other one was not yet satisfied and the men thought he might attack them for a moment. The dead animal weighed 225 pounds and was taken to the poor farm, where venison will be enjoyed for several days.—From Gaylord Herald Times.

COLDS

Each year since the introduction of Vicks VapoRub, more and more people have given up "dosing" colds and turned to the better way of treating them externally. Today, the trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing." Just rubbed on, Vicks acts through the skin like a plaster; it also gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled.

Ever-growing demand again changes the famous Vicks slogan—there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

KONJOLA BRINGS AMAZING RELIEF TO SUFFERER

Entirely Free of Stomach Trouble After a Year of Intense Suffering.

MR. IVAN RICHARDS

"Indigestion pains and gas bloating were a daily occurrence and after every meal, there was always a heavy feeling in the pit of my stomach," said Mr. Ivan Richards, 6395 Woodmont Ave., Detroit, Mich. "These gas pains would often center in the upper part of my back and I would suffer dreadfully for more than a half hour. Sharp pains would also strike me under the short ribs on both sides."

"The first relief I had in over a year came when I started on the second bottle of Konjola and from then on I improved rapidly every day. My appetite increased and everything I ate digested perfectly. I no longer suffer from the gas pain in my back and sides and that heavy feeling in my stomach disappeared. I am free of headaches and dizzy spells and my nerves are considerably stronger, thanks to Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

They had broken others, with the limbs cut off. Most of them were so badly injured that they will have to be put to death. What object anyone could have in destroying property so wantonly is hard to conjecture. Certainly someone forgot the golden rule.

MARION SCHOOL NOTES.

Bobby Straw brought us a funny pumpkin Jack-O'-Lantern for our room.

There was no school on Monday or Tuesday as Mr. Datcher attended the teachers' institute at Traverse City.

Our school will present the three act play, "The Little Chubby," the date to be announced later. Watch for it.

We are all glad to have Darleen Williams and Floyd Falting back with us again. Both have been on the sick list the past few days.

We all wish to thank Frances and Christine Winters for the plans for our room. They help to make it attractive and homelike.

The sixth grade reading class are making a thorough study of "The Pine Tree Shilling" and are going to dramatize it some morning for opening exercises.

The first grade language class have been busy learning Humpty Dumpty. They brought egg shells to school on Thursday and have painted Humpty Dumpty on them.

Our room begins to take on a Halloween aspect. Our new curtains are made of Dennison's Halloween crepe paper with patterns of witches, pumpkins and cats on them.

The eighth grade agriculture class have made some fine drawings of the different kinds of wheat. The best drawings of the bread wheat types have been put on the bulletin board.

The Flying Needles club, which met Thursday evening have appointed a committee to put on a short program at their next meeting. They had two visitors at their last meeting, Irene and Charles Cellner. Come again. Visitors are always welcome.

The third grade language class are busy working on a paper quilt project. When completed it will tell the story of Halloween. They have found that we are indebted to the Romans for the use of cornstarch on Halloween; to England for witches; to Ireland for fairies; to Scotland for Peter Pan; to Wales for the black pig; to France for flowers; to Germany for black cats and to America for the best loved of all—the Jack-O'-Lantern.

NOWLAND SCHOOL NOTES.

Mr. Winkler has his haying nearly finished.

The seventh grade are studying the "Parts of Speech" in Language. The sixth grade are learning the poem, "October's Bright Blue Weather."

The school board purchased the organ at Wm. Meggison's sale for the school.

We appreciate Miss Daugherty's victrala. It adds variety to our morning exercises.

The school board presented us with a new set of maps, which were greatly needed. Thank you!

We are having a vacation Monday and Tuesday, while our teacher is attending the Institute at Traverse City.

Our nature study class have been busy preserving insects since the beginning of the school year. We now have nine different insects preserved.

All are welcome and we are looking for your support at our Halloween program on Wednesday night, October 30, 8:30 fast time. To bring good luck—bring pot-luck.

Your Dollar Is Worth MOST to YOU

In Charlevoix!

Every dollar you spend in Charlevoix is like "bread cast on water"—it comes back to you in many ways.

First of all, when you make a purchase in your home town, you get value received. Our merchants and professional people (unlike the city business interests with a heavy transient trade) must depend on the good will of the community for their existence and progress. Naturally, then, to be successful in Charlevoix, they recognize the necessity of good merchandise and real service at fair prices.

Second, the dollars you spend here are turned around to provide remuneration for the working people and farmers of this community. Sooner or later, a part of your original dollar finds its way back to your own pocket.

Outside interests contribute nothing to the welfare of your family and ours. Let's play fair with each other. Let's patronize home enterprises and spend our dollars where they do the most good—IN CHARLEVOIX.

We, the undersigned, Believers in Charlevoix, heartily endorse the above:

MRS. CHATFIELD DIES AT AGE EIGHTY-FIVE

Pioneer Woman Passes On After Long and Eventful Life.

In the death of Mrs. Susan Hazen Chatfield, Michigan loses another pioneer woman who had seen the state emerge from a wilderness and attain its present proud position among the commonwealths of the nation during her lifetime.

Mrs. Chatfield, who was 85 years old, passed away Sunday, October 20, 1929, at the home of her son, William Chatfield, 307 West Upright avenue, following an illness of about six months duration.

Susan Hazen was born in New York State on October 14, 1844. She came to Michigan with her parents at an early age and settled at Crystal, near Muskegon. She was subsequently married at Whitehall to Charles Chatfield. At the death of her husband some 20 years ago, she came to Walton Junction and lived there and at Traverse City until about seven years ago, when she came to Charlevoix and made her home with her son, William, who is her sole surviving relative. There were two other children, a daughter, Mary, and a son, Marcellus, who died ten and seven years ago respectively.

The funeral was held Tuesday, October 22, at 10:00 a. m., from the Church of God, Rev. Marks of Petoskey officiating. The interment was made at Brookside.

NORWOOD.

Glenn Holeccheck and son, Donald, motored up from Cadillac to the Jones home Sunday, and Mrs. Jones and her grandson, Bobbie, returned to Cadillac with them for a two weeks' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Publow, accompanied by a friend, Leslie Woodard of Lansing, arrived at their cottage Thursday evening and enjoyed the game hunt and its festivities. They returned to their home in Lansing on Sunday.

Mrs. Jay McPherson of Kewadin, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hull and family the past week, returned to her home Sunday.

Benj. Yettaw, Jr., of Charlevoix, who has been enjoying a few days on the farm with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Phenny Genett returned to his home Monday evening.

Last Friday Norwood citizens were engaged in their third annual game hunt. Bright and early they were on the job hunting ducks, rabbits and pheasants, until the dawn, when the game was counted and it proved that the south side with Sam Alward for captain, had won the day. The north side, with I. L. Dice as captain, was to arrange and prepare the festivity which took place Saturday evening, with 110 guests present. The old town hall was prettily decorated with garden flowers, lighted candles and pumpkins. A very delicious dinner was served at 7:00 o'clock after which the winning side gave a very clever and interesting program. After a short business session, the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, with music by the Helms orchestra of Charlevoix.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Furst and small son, Gerry, also Martin Furst, all of South Manistee Island, were recent guests of Mrs. Phoebe Schaffner at her home near Ingon. Mr. Furst, a member of the South Manistee Island coast guard crew, was formerly located at the Charlevoix station.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Campbell and children have been on a motor trip to southern Michigan. They were to attend the Michigan-Ohio State football game at Ann Arbor on Saturday, and were going on from there to Pontiac for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. Nordrum. They expect to be gone about ten days.

Mr. C. J. Winder has been appointed a special deputy game warden for the Charlevoix district. It is understood the conservation department will furnish a small boat for patrol purposes in local waters and special attention will be paid to illegal netting in Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix. It is planned to drag these two lakes at regular intervals during the fall season.

The first of a fall and winter series of bridge and pedro parties, sponsored by the Altar Society of St. Mary's church, was held at the parochial school Monday evening. The gentlemen's and lady's prize for bridge went to Capt. John Chambers and Mrs. F. E. Cartier, respectively, while winners at pedro were George Glasgow and Mrs. A. F. Young. The initial party had a very good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Shapton, accompanied by Walter Taylor and his daughter, Virginia, who drove to Iron Mountain a week ago last Saturday and returned the following Tuesday, were accompanied on the return trip by Mrs. Frank Taylor at whose home they visited while in Iron Mountain. Mrs. Taylor returned to Iron Mountain last Thursday morning.

Capt. and Mrs. John Chambers and daughter motored to Manistee Sunday morning to attend funeral services held Monday forenoon for Harry Moore, former engineer on the Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail boat James E. Sanford. They returned home Monday forenoon. Others from Charlevoix and Beaver Island to attend Mr. Moore's funeral were Fred G. Bellinger and son of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd G. St. James.

Rev. and Mrs. B. G. Mattson left Thursday morning by auto on a missionary trip to the Lake Superior copper region in the upper peninsula. They met other members of the state Congregational missionary committee at Petoskey, and continued in company with them. The missionary trip to the upper Michigan region is an annual affair. Dr. Mattson and wife expect to return next Tuesday.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES.

The Rev. W. R. Mahoney, O. P., a Dominican father, one of the outstanding missionaries of the Western Province, will conduct a mission in St. Mary's parish from November 3 to November 10.

The object of this mission is to offer extraordinary opportunities for hearing the word of God and for worthily receiving the Sacraments.

The hours for masses on Sunday will be the usual hours: 8:00 and 10:00 o'clock. Week days: 6:00 and 8:00 o'clock.

Instructions will be given after both masses each day. A special sermon will be preached every evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A class of instruction will be held every day for those wishing to inquire into the Catholic religion and for those who wish to take up a study of it.

Non-Catholics, as well as Catholics, are cordially invited to all of the services.

Charlevoix School Notes

Edited by Class Members

Honor Roll.

The following students are on the Honor Roll for the first month of school:

Seniors: Alice Dietrich, Rex Supernaw, Eleanor Tumath, Billy O'Neil, Wesley Manley; Juniors: Geraldine Miller, Eloise Tillotson, Lela Fessenden; Sophomores: Ruby Supernaw, Norman Ance, Lila McMillan, Kathleen McCall, Charles D. Matson; Freshmen: Virginia Nickerson, Elizabeth Phaeder, Virginia Taylor.

ENGLISH.

Scholastic Magazine Enters Charlevoix High School.

For the first time in this part of Michigan the Scholastic Magazine is being used in connection with the English course. The juniors have the good fortune to study from this interesting combination of stories, poetry, national and international affairs of today, and biographies. This gives a chance for young writers to publish their works. Not only writing, but also art is represented here. It is hoped that Charlevoix will be represented in the Scholastic before the close of the school year.

Debate.

For the past few weeks, some of the students of Charlevoix high school have been seen carrying large books and magazines to and from the history room. Fragments of conversation have been heard about speeches, the justice of the jury, and such terms as negative and affirmative are becoming very familiar to the students.

The students overheard were the members of the debating class. The topic for debate this year is: Resolution, "That a Judge or Board of Judges Be Constituted for the Jury in All the Municipal and State Courts of Michigan." The class isn't very large, the total membership being about seven, with Miss Fernon as coach.

The work so far has been progressive but the students have decided that while the work is interesting and beneficial it is no "snap." This accounts for the small membership.

The team is preparing to meet Cheboygan in a few weeks, that city having challenged Charlevoix to a debate. In this first encounter Charlevoix will take the affirmative side.

Program Thursday.

We had a short program Thursday afternoon in honor of the 150th anniversary of the death of a Revolutionary patriot, Count Casimir Pulaski. President Hoover passed a law that October 11 should be set aside and honored by the people of the United States as the anniversary of Pulaski's death.

Mr. Otterbein read a letter from the Governor and Mary Orlovski read a very interesting theme she had written on his life. Count Pulaski was a Polish patriot, an American general and one of the first cavalry leaders in America. Washington appointed him the commanding officer of cavalry because of his previous experience. Pulaski was wounded in the siege of the French and American Cavalry in Savannah, Ga., on October 9, and he died on October 11, a lover of freedom and a martyr to the cause of American Independence.

Mr. North gave an interesting talk on Edison and wonderful inventions. October 21 marks the 50th anniversary of the perfection of the electric lights by Edison.

Edison began experimenting at a very early age. When he was five he saw a duck setting on a nest of eggs and the little ducks hatching from them, so the next day he was found sitting on a nest of eggs.

Edison went to school only three months in his life. When he was a boy he had a job on a train selling candy and magazines and he would spend all his spare time when he was in the city reading in the library. He fitted up a laboratory in the baggage car and experimented while on the train. One day a bottle of phosphorus dropped on the floor in the baggage car causing a fire. Edison was discharged and the conductor was so angry he cuffed Edison's ears which caused his deafness. Edison is said to be glad of his affliction for it enables him to work and not be distracted by what is going on about him.

After his dismissal from the railroad he studied telegraphy and perfected it so that four messages and later six could be sent over one wire. Edison did not invent the electric light but he perfected it. The laboratory in New Jersey where he did this has been moved to Dearborn, Michigan, and set up in the Edison Museum there.

Henry Ford is giving Edison a banquet on October 21, and Edison will perform again the experiment of perfecting the electric light.

Elementary Building.

Regular physical training classes have been organized now that the gymnasium is ready for use. These classes have been held out of doors when the weather permitted.

The girls in the fifth and sixth grades have organized one class under the direction of Miss Bodfish. The boys in these two grades are working with Miss Secord. Other teachers are taking care of their own rooms.

This week the New Stanford Achievement tests have been given in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. These tests are given under state supervision. The teachers report the excellent results, and in some cases the results are far above average.

In music the fifth and sixth grades have been working on visualization and tonal drills preparatory to sight reading. In theory we have covered the following: Finding do, or the keynote in keys with flats is the signature 4-4, 3-4 and 2-4 time, and whole, half and quarter notes with corresponding rests.

Grades two three and four have been working on various visualization drills, ear training, and staffs with the object of acquiring a musical vocabulary.

In all grades special attention is being given to the development of a light, sweet and beautiful head tone as opposed to the heavy throaty tone which is injurious to the voice.

Halloween Party.

The ladies of the Church of God will hold their regular monthly Baked Goods Sale at Staley Bros. store on Saturday, October 26.—Adv. 4311.

We are closing our line of Mackinaws and sheep-lined coats at cost. Benj. Brown. Adv. 4211.

AT THE MOVIES.

Cost of Pictures Shows Great Increase Since 1913.

The progress of motion pictures can best be seen in a comparison of production figures covering a period of 15 years.

When D. W. Griffith made the forerunner of "The Battle of the Sexes" in five reels in 1913, one of the first full-length screen plays, the total cost of production did not exceed four thousand dollars. The picture had an all-star cast then composed of Owen Moore, Fay Tincher, Bobby Harron, Lillian Gish, Donald Crisp and Mary Alden, all the most prominent names of the period.

In comparison, the United Artists picture, "The Battle of the Sexes," which Griffith is to present at the Palace Theatre on Saturday and Sunday, will cost approximately five hundred thousand dollars. The cast is composed of Jean Hersholt, Phyllis Haver, Belle Bennett, Don Alvarado and Sally O'Neil.

Some one expert in figures has estimated that a modern feature production costs in the neighborhood of two thousand dollars an hour. Fifteen years ago this production cost hardly ever exceeded fifty dollars a day.

Much of this variance in production expenditures is attributable directly to the huge overhead which it is necessary now to maintain in order to make pictures. Another item that has increased considerably is players' salaries.

In "The Battle of the Sexes" the salaries of the stars alone exceeded in one day the total amount paid the five leading players of the old picture over a period of three weeks.

Scandal.

"Scandal," the talking picture coming to the Palace Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, has pretty Laura La Plante as its star. She is supported by a strong cast, including Huntly Gordon, John Roles and Jane Winton. Wesley Ruggles directed the production, from "The Haunted Lady," a magazine story by Adella Rogers St. Johns. It deals with the adventures of a popular society wife confronted by a menacing triangle situation. The dialogue sequences are stirring and full of suspense. It was filmed in and around a million-acre country club at Santa Barbara, California.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:15 a. m.

Subject: "Probation After Death." Subject: "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, October 20.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the Kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven" (Matt. 7:21).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The atonement is a hard problem in theology, but its scientific explanation is, that suffering is an error of sinful sense which Truth destroys, and that eventually both sin and suffering will fall at the feet of everlasting Love" (p. 23).

CHURCH OF GOD

Rev. J. T. Mark, Pastor

Sunday school at 10:00 o'clock.

Prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30. The subject for this week is, "Personal Work."

All Sunday school teachers, workers and others interested are requested to meet at the Chapel Friday evening at 7:30 for consultation and study. It is hoped that many will come.

Rev. A. T. Rowe from Atlanta, Ga., gave a very interesting talk last Sunday afternoon in the interests of an educational program of the church, which includes a new college to be built at Anderson, Ind., soon. He also preached a very good sermon in the evening.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

CHEVROLET SIX

—the Car of Universal Appeal!

SINCE January 1st, over a million one hundred and thirty-five thousand six-cylinder Chevrolets have been produced. Naturally, this is an outstanding industrial achievement. But it is more than that. It is a great public endorsement of Chevrolet's policy of progress: to build a quality automobile whose design incorporates every possible feature of progressive engineering... whose beauty is distinctive, smart and satisfying... whose reliability is assured by fine materials and precision manufacture... and whose price is so low as to be within reach of the great majority of the people. We want you to know that this policy has meant in the development of the Chevrolet Six—the modern car of universal appeal. We want you to know that Chevrolet has brought within the reach of everybody, everywhere, all the advantages of smooth, six-cylinder performance. Come in today!

MRS. SARAH DEWEY DIES, AT AGE OF 75

Was Mother of Mrs. David Vaughan Of Charlevoix.

Mrs. Sarah Dewey, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David Vaughan, in Charlevoix on Sunday morning, October 20, 1929, was born in Port Perry, Canada, some 75 years ago. Her maiden name was Sarah Ann McTammoney and she was united in marriage to Geo. Dewey prior to her coming to Michigan. About 50 years ago she and her husband left Canada and settled near Barryton, in Mecosta county, from whence they removed 22 years later to Boyne City. She had been living with her daughter, Mrs. Vaughan for several years and had been an invalid for many months.

To their union were born 12 children, of whom eight are living: W. J. Dewey of Grand Rapids, J. T. Dewey of Flint, George Dewey of Detroit, Alvin G. Dewey of Hudson, Mrs. Alta Price and Mrs. Al. Goodrich of Boyne City, Mrs. Wm. Rae of Elma, Washington, and Mrs. David Vaughan of Charlevoix. A number of grandchildren and great grandchildren also survive. Mr. Dewey preceded her in death many years since.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 p. m., from the sheriff's quarters on Antrim street. Rev. W. H. Rauch of the local Baptist church officiating. The remains were removed to Boyne City Wednesday morning for interment in the cemetery there.

Gymnasium shoes 99c up. Campbell Boot Shop.—Adv. 431t.

On account of leaving early next month on his annual hunting trip, Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be here again on Monday, November 4. Office at Hotel Charlevoix.—Adv. 431t.

BARNARD.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Cole of Boyne City, were calling on Barnard friends on Sunday also attending church services.

The Barnard band played at the Co-op. meeting at Marion Center on Wednesday evening, also at the Atwood church 65th anniversary on Saturday evening.

Our school had a vacation on Monday and Tuesday as Miss Webster was attending the Teachers' Institute in Traverse City.

Mary and Marjory Smith spent Monday and Tuesday at the home of their cousin, Mrs. Harry Webster on U. S. 31.

The young people's social and program on Friday evening was a success. Over $20.00 was realized, which was divided between the band and aid society.

We neglected to report last week that Gordon Cummings and Arlene Gregory had their tonsils out on Saturday, October 19th. They are getting along fine.

The Misses Dougherty and Margaret Matchett attended the Teachers' Institute on Monday and Tuesday.

There will be no church services on Sunday on account of the pastor attending the Atwood anniversary meeting.

HILTON SCHOOL NOTES.

Nearly two months of school gone. Come to our Halloween program and box social next Wednesday evening. We will begin at 8:00 o'clock standard time. Ladies be sure to bring a box.

The pupils of the eighth grade have finished the study of the Civil War. They have made several interesting outlines and maps showing the location of battles fought. They are busy working in their history notebooks.

The seventh grades have made large product maps of South America. They are now beginning the study of Europe.

We have sent for the seventh grade reading books. This year we study "Sam McDonald's Man," a tale of the Mackinaw fur trade.

The eighth grade is studying cubic measure in arithmetic. The beginners have started in their primers. They appear to be very interested in reading.

We are trying to make cooks of our fourth grade boys. They are studying balanced rations and how food should be prepared. By some of the answers we get we are convinced we have quite a task.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy displayed at the time of our recent bereavement and also for the beautiful floral gifts that they so generously proffered. Mr. and Mrs. David Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dewey, Mr. and Mrs. George Dewey, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Price, Mr. and Mrs. Al. Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. William Rae, W. J. Dewey and J. T. Dewey.—Adv. 431t.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us, and for the many beautiful flowers sent us during our recent bereavement. Mrs. Ruth A. Colden and family.—Adv. 431t.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

I am pleased to announce to the people of this community that I have just completed a very thorough course in orthopedics and scientific shoe-fitting at the Scholl Orthopedic Training School of Chicago, which is under the direction of Dr. Wm. Scholl, the world-known authority on Orthopedics.

The course composed a very thorough training in the correction of abnormalities of the foot, such as weak foot, falling arches, rotating heel, calluses, bunions, corns, flat-foot, etc., together with scientific shoe fitting and up-to-date shoe store operation and management.

Anyone who is troubled with foot ailments of any description, I cordially invite into my store for a free pedograph print of the foot and a stocking foot examination.

I can keep you out of your foot troubles if you will take the time to come in and make your troubles known.

CHARLEVOIX CO. LED SPUD SHOW

BRING HOME $323 OF PREMIUM MONEY GIVEN.

D. D. Tibbits Won Apple Sweepstakes—Harry Behling Best
All-round Exhibitor.

Although the Top 'O Michigan Potato and Apple Show is past history now, the accomplishments of a small group of Charlevoix county farmers is making new history.

In many ways this year's show was the greatest ever staged, especially when one considers that the growing season was not favorable for good type and size potatoes, and thereby it was more difficult to select the kind of potatoes that win.

Charlevoix county was represented this year by the best collection of potatoes and apples that we have ever exhibited, as the fact that $323 in premium money was brought back when the fireworks were over will prove.

Many farmers as well as city folks attended the show from this county and were amazed at the fine display.
Never before have apples showed up as well as this year.

One of the features of the show was the choir singing contest, which is possible through the efforts of R.
E. Olds, Lansing automobile manufacturer. For the first time Charlevoix county was represented by a contestant. The Presbyterian choir of East Jordan broke the ice, so to speak, and easily walked away with the first prize of $60.00, with their splendid choir of 14 members.

In the apple division D. D. Tibbits of Boyne City proved to be the outstanding exhibitor of Northern Michigan, when he walked away with $97.00 in premium money. His greatest achievement was the winning of sweepstakes on a plate of Wagners, on a tray of Snows, and in having the best apples of the entire show. In addition his score card showed three firsts on plates of apples, two seconds and two thirds. In trays, he showed five firsts, two seconds, one third and two awards of merit. In bushels he had one fourth, one sixth and one award of merit.

Eveline Orchards of East Jordan was the largest exhibitor of the show and run Tibbits considerable competition, winning $52.00 premium money.

They won in plates one first, three seconds and one third. In trays it was two firsts, two seconds, four thirds, one fourth and two awards of merit. In bushels they showed one award of merit and in the fancy pack class one third and one fourth.

In the potato division Harry Beh-ling of Boyne City kept up his reputation of being Charlevoix county's best all around exhibitor, having the best potato of the entire show, in having the second best potato of Russett Rurals exhibited, in winning third on a bushel of Russetts, and in having the best peck in Charlevoix county. Frank Behling won second place in the beginner's class in Russett Rurals and seventh in the open class on same sample.

In Irish Cobbler, George Sneathen and Lee Sneathen had peck exhibits, winning fifth and sixth respectively.

In the bushel class, Harry Behling won third and W. H. Henley, Charlevoix won ninth. Other exhibitors in this class were George Meggison, Charlevoix; Henry Eckert, Charlevoix; R. V. Liskum, East Jordan;
Frank Behling, Boyne City, and Wm.
Potts, Boyne City.

In the beginner's class, Frank Beh-ling won second, Gordon Boyer, East Jordan, seventh; Fred Ranney, East Jordan, 8th; Harry Eckert, Charlevoix, ninth; Wm. Behling, Boyne City, tenth; and Gwendolyn Mott,
East Jordan, twelfth. Other exhibitors in the open and beginner's class were George Meggison, Wm. H. Henley, Lee Sneathen, R. V. Liskum and Wm. Potts.

The East Jordan Potato Club had a club exhibit which won third place.
Within the club Gordon Boyer won first, Fred Ranney second and Gwendolyn Mott third. The two other exhibitors were Ralph Shepard and Alfred Crowell.

In the class for all 4-H club exhibitors, Gordon won fourth, Fred fifth and Gwendolyn sixth. Other entrants were Joseph West, Boyne City, and Robert Tainter.

The fine exhibits by the club members were particularly striking, as in many cases they won over the parents. A club boy won first in the beginner's class over some 50 exhibits by the adults.

In the County Exhibit class, which consists of 12 samples as a group, Charlevoix county won second place. This class affords the stiffest competition of the show and all are highly elated over the splendid showing made.

In conclusion, will say Charlevoix county can be very highly gratified over the winnings at this show, and that already lending exhibits have been sent to the state potato show, which will be held in East Lansing during February, and at which time it is expected all will give another good account of our fine spuds.—
Written by B. C. Mellencamp, County Agricultural Agent.

POMONA GRANGE MEETS SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 9

Charlevoix Pomona Grange No. 40 will meet with South Arm Grange on Saturday, November 9th, at 2:00 o'clock. Installation of officers will take place at this meeting and Pomona delegates to State Grange will give their reports. A pot luck supper and a good time is in store for all who attend.

CLOSED SEASON ON LAKE TROUT LIFTED

SEASON OPENED SATURDAY AT NOON, NOVEMBER 2ND.

Early Catches Are Above Average of Other Years—Capt. John Mc-Cann Lifted 9,000 Pounds.

The closed season ban on the commercial fishing of lake trout opened at noon last Saturday, November 2, a trifle earlier than in previous years.
Reports from the conservation department patrol boat that the required percentage of spawn had been found, sent the local fishing fleet into action after several weeks of inactivity.

Initial lifts, following the opening of the season, were made Monday and results promised a very bright outlook for the fishermen this fall.
Without exception, according to reports we have been able to gather along the waterfront, the catches have been in excess of early-season lifts of previous years. While the fish have been small up to the present time, they are numerous.

Six boats are operating out of Charlevoix at the present time. Of the local fleet, John Cross, with a lift of 4,000 pounds brought in Monday, heads the list. Charles Hendrickson, Sr., with a catch of 3,600 pounds, is nearest the top. Other fishermen have brought in catches ranging from a ton to a ton and a half. The Beaver Island mail boat James B. Sanford brought over 175 boxes from St.
James Monday morning. Of this consignement, Capt. John McCann, who operates the steam tug Venus, had a lift of 6,000 pounds, the largest for the opening day, and on Monday it is reported he lifted 9,000 pounds.

With such catches coming in, it is evident the fishing is the best in several years for so early in the season.
Local fishermen are operating all along the east shore from Big Rock Point to Fisherman Island, while two of the boats are setting farther north at Dahlia Shoals. Heavy weather kept some of the boats in Tuesday and, with conditions right Wednesday, some mighty big lifts should be made.

The amount of spawn gathered is reported to be short to date, although it is usually light during the opening week.

CITY CLOSES DEAL FOR ALLEY RIGHTS

Purchase Strip From Mason to Alley Intersecting Grant and Bridge.

Purchase of an alleyway from Mason street north to the alley intersecting State and Bridge streets behind the Bridge, Novak and Withers properties was completed by the city council at their meeting Monday evening.

The alley is 18 feet wide from Mason street to the north line of the Novak property and 30 feet from there on. Charles Novak purchased west to the 18-foot line behind his property with the exception of a 10-foot strip on the north side of the Bridge property retained for unloading purposes. The city will likely dispose of a strip from the west line of the Withers property to the 18-foot alley line. It is understood the city paid $1,650 and Novak $350.

McAFEE SENTENCED TO JACKSON PRISON

GIVEN LIFE TERM FOR MURDER OF JIM MOSLEY.

Judge Gilbert Imposed Other Heavy Sentences in Circuit Court
Friday Afternoon.

George McAfee, Hudson township farmer, who had confessed to the murder a week ago last Thursday of his neighbor, Jim Mosely, was sentenced Friday afternoon by Judge Parr C. Gilbert to serve the remainder of his life in Jackson prison.

Sentence was passed on the closing afternoon of the October session of circuit court, after Drs. Guy C. Conkle of Boyne City, and F. F. McMillan and R. B. Armstrong of this city, had testified on the stand before Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis that they believed McAfee to be sane and wholly aware of the difference between right and wrong.

McAfee received his sentence with the same composure he has shown throughout the period following his crime. His request that he be sentenced to a prison in Ohio, so he could be near his mother and brother, could not be granted.

Lynn Evans, who pleaded guilty to a charge of felonious assault, was ordered to pay costs of $200 and appear at the February term of court for sentence. He is out on good behavior, but has something coming if he commits for transgressions.

Connell Gatliff, who was jailed for breaking parole on a non-support charge, was sentenced to serve from eighteen months to three years at Lonia state reformatory. The minimum sentence was recommended.

Clude Fairman and Norman Jensen, liquor law violators, were ordered to pay costs of $200 each and appear at the February term of court for sentence. Their appearance bonds were continued as originally set.

Joseph Edward Burke, Beaver Islander, found guilty by a jury of violating the liquor law, was ordered to pay costs of $500 and was placed on probation. His appearance bond was continued at $1,500 and he and his wife signed a search warrant allowing officers to search his premises at any time within the next two years. John Tully was named probation officer.

Elmer Poole was given a year to

LIGHTSHIP REPORTS EXTENSIVE DAMAGE

Storm Played Havoc With Lighthouses and Fog Stations.

Reports from officers of the U. S. lightship supply ship Ilyacinth, which is working out of this port gathering buoys for winter storage, the storm of last week was the worst in the history of the department.

Five lighthouses and six signal buoys were completely wrecked or rendered useless. In the list was the North Manitou Island fog signal, Tail
Point light, and fog signal in Green Bay, lighthouse and fog signal at Sheboygan, Wis., lighthouse and fog signal at Kenosha, Wis., light-house and fog signal at Two Rivers, Wis., and the Port Washington light-house.

Most of the stations are on the west shore and received full force of the easterly blow of a week ago.

P.T.A. PROCURES NOTED SPEAKER

REV. L. GROVE HERBERT AP-PEARS HERE WEDNESDAY.

Prominent Lecturer and Traveller Will Speak Before P. T. A. at High School Gym.

The people of Charlevoix will have a very unusual privilege in the coming to this city on the personal invitation of Rev. B. G. Mattson, of his friend and colleague, Rev. L. Grove
Herbert, D. D., of Vanderbilt. Dr.
Herbert is to make the address of the evening at the forthcoming meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, to be held in the high school gymnasium, Wednesday, November 13, at eight p. m.

Dr. Herbert is widely known on the chautauqua lecture platforms of this country, and has an intimate knowledge of every state in the union visited in his many years of travel and lecturing. He is a man of rare and charming personality, possessed of an inexhaustible fund of brilliant ideas, enriched with a marvelous power of keen observation and flashing with irresistible humor. He has been for years an omnivorous reader and has the gift of making most instructive and apt use of the fruit of his reading.

After a long career on the platform, Dr. Herbert has chosen to retire from its strenuous demands and to give the later years to a fruitful ministry in a small town where he takes delight in sharing his rich harvest of life with all who will let him.
Children and young people love him.
Men not easily won to the church find his friendly interest and understanding most persuasive. These come to his den which he calls "The Cave of Adullam," and delight in the fearless frankness with which he deals with vital issues and perplexing questions as a modern leader and thinker.

He will bring to Charlevoix a stirring message delivered with all the old fire and eloquence with which many thousands have been stirred in all parts of the land.

Dr. Herbert will be the guest at the Congregational parsonage during his stay, and has promised to speak to the high school students and also to be present at the Congregational church monthly fellowship supper Thursday night, November 14, to talk on religious education.

It is characteristic of his abundant liberality that these services are given without charge, the only stipulation being that his friend, Dr.
Mattson, shall return the favor at some convenient date by a like visit to Vanderbilt.

It is the desire of the P. T. A. organization to have a large audience at every meeting. Do not miss this opportunity to hear Rev. L. Grove Herbert. The program committee feels that they are fortunate to have
Rev. Herbert speak in Charlevoix.

NEW INDUSTRY HAS LOCATED AT GAYLORD

The Million Spring Wheel Co. has taken over the Novelty plant at Gay-

GEORGE HERRINGTON DIED LAST THURSDAY

Death Followed Illness of About Seven Weeks.

Rev. W. H. Rauch, pastor of the Baptist church, conducted funeral services held under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. last Saturday afternoon for George Herrington, who died last Thursday morning at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Hazel Raby, following an illness of several weeks.

Deceased was 53 years of age at the time of death. He was born December 12, 1875, in Antrim county. At an early age he moved with his parents to Norwood. Later he resided in Lorraine, Ohio, for a period of five years, coming to Charlevoix in 1911.

On February 6, 1915, Mr. Herrington was married to Mrs. Frances Lauderville, who survives him. Other surviving relatives are his aged father, three brothers, Nelson and John of Flint, Mich., and Henry of Detroit, also a sister, Mrs. Floyd Cummings of Flint.

EARLE DEMANDS STRAITS BRIDGE

FORMER COM. SAYS STATE OWES IT TO HER AUTOISTS.

His Idea is for Double Decked for Railroads and Cars—May Build it Himself.

A combination double deck bridge for highway and real traffic connecting the upper and lower peninsula was visioned as the outstanding need of present day transportation in the state in an address given last Thursday night before members of the Michigan assoc. of road commissioners and engineers by Horatio S. Earle, Michigan's first highway commissioner.

The banquet, held in conjunction with the first annual road show at Michigan State College, was given in a testimonial of achievements of Frank F. Rogers, former state highway commissioner, now consulting engineer for the state highway department. Over 450 members of the association, including R. T. Davis, W.
E. Myers, Frank Wagonman and Es-mond Peaslee of Charlevoix county, were present.

Earle stated that it was his fight to see that the state constructed this highway. He promised to go so far, in event the state refused to push the project, as to build the highway himself, providing two-thirds of the are collected annually on the ferry at Mackinac Straits be turned over to him for the expense.

His plan would call for a highway providing for railroad rights on the lower deck and motor traffic on the upper deck. Mr. Earle stated that the extensive tourist travel annually across the Straits made such a project an absolute necessity and it is the state's duty to provide for it.

In lauding the work of Frank F.
Rogers, Mr. Earle challenged any state in the union to equal the present highway system maintained in Michigan. He criticized those who insist on knocking the present gasoline tax and compared the present three cents "toll" for 20 miles with old ten cents toll over corduroy roads with no bottom for a stretch of 10 miles.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT SHARROW HOME

Affair Given Last Wednesday for Louie Sharrow, Jr.

A Halloween party was given in honor of Louie Sharrow, Jr., last Wednesday evening, October 30th.
The house was very prettily decorated with corn stalks, pumpkins and black and orange paper. Mrs. Sharrow served a delicious dinner and was assisted by Elizabeth Sharrow, Dorothy Pederson, Zoe Patterson and Rose Bissell, who served the guests. Interesting games were played before and after dinner.

Those present were John Martin,
Bernice Cook, Lyle Ross, Charles
Richardson, Jimmy Miller, Beatrice
Beardsley, Nettie Livingston, June
Kihbe, Alice Pederson, Clair Gleason,
Bruce Withers, Louis Brown,
Edward Hanson, George Bissell, Marvin Pederson, Ormiston Bergeon, Gordon Raby, Louie Sharrow, Jr.,
John Sharrow, Miss Secord and Miss Manson.

NEW AIR ROUTE COMPANY FORMED

ORGANIZATION IN GRAND RAPIDS
LAST WEEK.

Petoskey is Northern Terminal of Line—Rates Said to be Lowest in United States.

The following article taken from last Thursday's issue of the Grand Rapids Herald, gives an inside track on the new Grand Rapids-Petoskey air line to be established early in December:

Completion of details preliminary to the opening of the new all-year-round air line on or before December 15, from Grand Rapids north to Petoskey and Harbor Springs on Little Traverse bay and including stops enroute at Big Rapids, Cadillac, Traverse City and Charlevoix was announced yesterday by Jack Byrne, president of the line, which is to be known as Michigan Air Express, and head of Furniture Capital Air Service and the Grand Rapids Flying club.

Officers of the Michigan Air Express, which will have a capitalization of $100,000, are: Jack Byrne, president; Floyd Becker, vice president; Ingrid Magnusson, secretary-treasurer, and Jack Byrne, director.

Papers of incorporation have been drawn up and presented to the state public utilities commission for approval. There already has been paid into the company's preliminary fund $7,000. If approval of the securities commission is obtained a stock issue of $75,000 will be offered to the public.

Two Round Trips.

Two round trips between Grand Rapids and Harbor Springs will be made daily and Sunday on the line, with Travel Air plane equipment being used. Express and passengers will be carried, and officials assert the express rates will be the lowest in the United States offered to business. As traffic on the line increases at equipment will be implemented with Washington Stronon monoplane. Passes will be behaved in winter and will have a capacity of six passengers each.

Arrangements have been made with various cities along the route to supply waiting rooms. Fares will include transportation to and from the airports to points within city limits of passengers' destination.
Under contracts with the cities
Michigan Air Express will establish express delivery service at each stop, picking up express from the consignor and delivering to the consignee in all cities along the route, including Grand Rapids, free of charge.

Direct rail connections with points east will be made at Grand Rapids airport, the southern terminal of the line, in connection with the Michigan Central railroad, trains of which will stop at the airport both to and from Detroit.

Good Connections Assured.

Connections will be made at the airport with Kohler Aviation corporation's amphibian planes for Milwaukee and Muskegon, and the convenient Michigan Air Express schedule also will allow excellent train connections in Grand Rapids for Chicago and points west.

The line will be operated under management of Furniture Capital Air Service, with traffic in charge of C. Wagoner. Ships will be maintained in the Furniture Capital Air Service shops. Pilots will be Floyd Becker, George Austgen, Jack Byrne and J. R. (Red) Murphy.

Weather reports will be telegraphed into Grand Rapids twice daily from each of the cities along the route by Western Union, which has promised eight-minute service. Landing gear of the planes will consist of wheels in summer and a combination of wheels and skis when heavy snow is on the ground.

Traffic over the new lines is expected to increase rapidly after its inauguration. Several reasons were given by Jack Byrne for opening the line. He said that a survey shows 60 per cent of traffic between the cities in this district is via automobiles, and is tied up largely during winter months; that there will be heavy resort traffic in the summer, and fall and spring traffic will be augmented by hunters and fishermen.

Complete Michigan Air Express time and fare schedules are:

North bound planes will leave
Grand Rapids air port at 6:15 a. m. and noon, arriving southbound at 10:45 a. m. and 4:15 p. m. Planes will leave Big Rapids north at 6:50

The Melancholy Days

DELIGHTED BY QUICK RESULTS FROM KONJOLA

Lady Suffered for Years With Kidney Trouble and Nervousness—Found New and Glorious Health.

MRS. V. F. KELLER

"I had suffered for years with kidney and bladder trouble," said Mrs. V. F. Keller, 322 1-2 Everson St., Detroit, Michigan. "I dreaded to see night come, as it meant suffering and bad dreams. I would have to get up four or five times and there were sharp pains in my back over my kidneys at all times. I became very nervous, so much so that every sudden noise would make me jump. I lost my appetite and my strength and vitality were rapidly leaving me. A few weeks treatment of Konjola, and every trouble had vanished. I never have pains in my back and the night riding is a thing of the past. My nerves are calm and steady. My appetite has been restored and I feel stronger and better in every way."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at E. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

CORRESPONDENCE

ST. JAMES, B. I.

Emil Fischer made a trip to Charlevoix this week.

Roland McCann spent a few days this week in Charlevoix.

Capt. C. C. Allers went to Charlevoix Monday on business.

The Str. Sanford left here Monday, October 28, with 26 passengers.

Michigan Patrol boat No. 1 was in the harbor Thursday and Saturday.

Mrs. Gus Mielke and Mrs. A. Lursen made a business trip to Charlevoix Monday.

Allen Campbell of the Booth Fisheries of Charlevoix, was here a couple of days on business.

Local fishermen are again happy and very busy, bringing in good lifts of fish and plenty of spawn.

A. Larsen, with his gas boat, Astoria, made a trip to Charlevoix Wednesday, for gas and other supplies.

Buck-Skein shirts and blazers, wind and water proof, just what you have been looking for. Priced at $4.00 and $5.00. Benjamin Brown.—Adv. 44tf.

NORWOOD.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Whitley of Flint, are visiting relatives here for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Publow of Lansing, occupied their cottage in Norwood Saturday night and Sunday.

Donald McKenzie of Charlevoix, spent the week end with his cousins, Milton Doyle and Delta Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Nowland and their son, John, accompanied by a friend from Detroit, visited at the Jones home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Baker of Old Mission, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Penny Genett. They reside on a large fruit farm.

Mrs. Thayer, accompanied by her son, Gerald, and her daughter, Wilma, of Traverse City, visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson Sunday.

The great lakes feel the fury of winter gales, resulting in huge waves which have taken many lives and destroyed millions in shore property and shipping.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Searlett of Detroit, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Hensel. Mrs. Searlett before her marriage last June, was Miss Edith Krafka, a niece of Mrs. Hensel.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Teboe announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruby, to Rudolph Batiz, which took place at the home of the groom's mother at Honor, Mich., Sunday, October 27th. Congratulations.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Biery of East Lansing, who are enjoying a two week's vacation in this vicinity, received a hearty welcome when 75 friends met at the town hall last Wednesday evening at a get-together dinner in their honor. After dinner Rev. Biery entertained the children by telling them in story form about the day's hunt. The remainder of the evening was spent in visiting and recounting experiences when he was not only pastor, but handy-man here. He recalled one incident when he was called to assist a widow woman to get her cow out of the barn loft, and still another when he set the broken wrist of an elderly gentleman. His duties, as a preacher, covered a wide field. During their visit here, Rev. Biery and wife have visited every home in the vicinity, and in each have found a hearty welcome.

CENTRAL LAKE.

Nice weather for church attendance Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church had a successful food sale of baked goods Saturday.

The Methodist church people have been rehearsing for a big program of music to be given Thanksgiving Day.

There were 38 people in attendance at Creswell last Sunday. Rev. G. A. Weaver of Petoskey, gave a fine sermon on "Law."

O. R. Morse returned last Friday from Cheboygan where he has been contracting for the Jerome B. Rice Seed company of Detroit.

The county road men are working on the Dean hill, west of town, lowering the grade. This road leads out to Torch Lake resorts and must necessarily be improved.

There was an attendance of 13 at Sunday school Sunday at Bay View.

Rev. G. A. Weaver was present and gave us a talk on Sunday school work Sunday at Bay View.

Willard Briggs returned last week from Petoskey hospital, where he was operated on for appendicitis, and is recovering nicely. William has been a crippled invalid since birth, but always remains cheerful.

Central Lake's oil men broke their pipe and have removed their well machinery. They are optimistic about Antrim county oil production, however. President Warner of Mt. Pleasant Normal, made this statement at Traverse City teachers association, that Mt. Pleasant oil wells are bringing them in $13,000 a day. One well gushes 3000 barrels a day.

Heat your car with the Irving Hot Water Heater. We install them on a guarantee or money refunded. The price is $25.00 installed. Benjamin Brown.—Adv. 44tf.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dennis and son, Leslie, have gone to Detroit for the winter.

Greg Satter and children, also Mrs. B. Woodruff of Gnyford, were visitors at the Stott home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Tyrrell and family have left us for the winter, going to Detroit Thursday. We are sorry to have them go and hope they will be back next year.

Phillip Michel and children, Fern, Rose and Bernie, of Buckley, Michigan, were visitors at the Stott home Sunday. They brought our teacher, Margery Michel, back with them.

The Antrim City people had a Halloween party at the Brooks home Monday night. Pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee were served. The evening was spent in playing games.

Try us on Battery service during the cold winter months. Benjamin Brown.—Adv. 44tf.

BARNARD

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. Robert Gregory.

Miss Faida Ogden of Charlevoix, visited her friend, Dorothy Smith, last week Tuesday.

The service on Sunday was attended by a large crowd who renewed their acquaintance with our former pastor, Rev. J. Biery.

The chicken pie supper drew a large crowd on Monday evening in spite of bad weather. Forty dollars was taken in from supper and sale of products.

Mrs. Woolley spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Burns before departing for Detroit, where she will make her home with her son, Percy Woolley and family.

ROCK ELM

On account of road conditions, the school bus had to make a slight change in route.

Mrs. Earl Danforth, who has been on the sick list for some weeks, is still confined to her bed.

Work on Jos. Whitfield's new house is progressing rapidly and they are hoping to be able to occupy it this winter.

Benn threshers were in the neighborhood last week, threshing at the Nicholls farm, also for Gullie Jensen and Lawrence Jensen, both of whom had a very fine crop of red kidney and white beans.

Footwear, Underwear, Overwear at Benjamin Brown's.—Adv. 44tf.

CHICAGO PUBLISHER WRITES SWEET STORY

An Account of Mr. Sweet's Experience on the Ice Last Winter.

Lewis Sweet of Alanson was in the city last week end, meeting his few acquaintances and selling a few copies of his recently published book, "The Perilous Adventures of Lewis Sweet." It will be remembered that Mr. Sweet suffered a terrible experience last January that has left him badly crippled and unable to perform much of any kind of normal labor, as his toes were frozen off, also the tips of all of his fingers are off. This experience was suffered when a blizzard overtook him while he was fishing for trout in upper Lake Michigan near Crane Island. The ice on which he had his coop broke off and he was cast adrift, being driven out into the lake, then back again, and the ice floe he was on was later cast against a lighthouse where he was able to climb out onto and in a measure took care of himself for a few days when ice formed again and he walked across the long frozen stretch of ice to Cross Village, where he was discovered and hustled to the Petoskey Hospital. Mr. Laylander, a rich Chicago publisher and printer, spending his summer at his Burt Lake cottage knew Mr. Sweet and taking an interest in his case wrote the story of Sweet's awful adventure and then published it in book form, printing Mr. Sweet a large number of these which he gave to Sweet to sell for his own financial good. Before his visit here Mr. Sweet had disposed of a large number of the books at Petoskey at $1.00 each. He will journey to Florida to spend the winter and proposes selling these books along on his trip.

Mr. Laylander has written a very concise and interesting story of the awful experiences that Mr. Sweet survived, and he has also prepared a very attractive booklet for his friend.

AT THE MOVIES.

A sensational double-shooting stars New York. In the gloomy brownstone mansion of the eccentric Greene family, Chester Greene (Lowell Drew) is found dead and his sister, Ada, (Jean Arthur) is found wounded on the floor of her room, shot in the back. Detective Sergeant Eugene Palette investigates for District Attorney E. H. Calvert and says, "Murderers."

Calvert senses another motive and calls his aide, William Powell, the super-detective and criminologist, who worked out "The Canary Murder Case." Powell finds that the features of Drew show a startled look of surprise. "He knew the murderer," says Powell, "therefore the murderer was an acquaintance or relative."

Then—before Powell has solved the mystery, the sinister hand of the mysterious murderer strikes another member of the ill-fated family. And then another. Powell redoubles his efforts. He is getting nearer now—and then, the most appalling tragedy of all confronts him and his aides. A fight on a steep roof. A plunge into the icy river below. The terrifying crimes are over. Powell has found the murderer.

The "Green Murder Case" will be shown at the Palace Theatre, Saturday and Sunday, November 9 and 10.

Highways and The Telephone

From woodland trail to corduroy and dirt road; then gravel, macadam, concrete—thus, our highways have evolved.

Yesterday, we traveled twenty miles a day behind a spirited mare; today, we ride one hundred miles of an evening, in a motor car. Yesterday, travel was momentous; today, it is incidental.

From smoke signal and moccasined runner to pony express; from pony express to fast mail; fast mail to long distance telephone—thus, communication has evolved.

Yesterday, we wrote long letters and waited days, weeks, or even months for a reply; today, we lift a telephone receiver and, in a few seconds, have an answer. Yesterday, communication was laborious; today, it is effortless.

Michigan is building one of the finest highway systems in the United States, linking her cities by means of splendid concrete roads and opening a paradise of lakes and forest to all her people and to thousands of visitors.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company, too, is building highways, modern voice wireways, comparable in every way with the finest concrete roads; these wireways link every section of the state. Michigan's telephone wireways are partners of her other highways of commerce, and an important part of a universal telephone system.

Highways and wireways have helped develop our state, its commerce, prosperity and social life, and wherever your motor takes you over the fine, wide roads of Michigan, you also will find a voice wireway leading to your home and office.

Our policy—"To continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety."

The Value of Notebooks and Booklets

Attractive notebooks cultivate a sense of beauty. We hardly realize the value of advertising until some subject requires an illustrated notebook. Ten years ago we would not have been able to find the extensive and beautiful advertising which is published today. At the present time, great care and thought is taken by large companies in the kind of advertising they use. Beauty and attractiveness are the principal objects in stores now. A tourist entering a town will unconsciously "pull up" to the most attractive gas station. This new way of advertising furnishes profession for hundreds of artistic people.

The English classes under Mrs. McKinley have begun to realize what valuable material they can find in advertisements. The freshmen have recently made attractive booklets illustrating "Treasure Island" by Stevenson, and "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner" by Coleridge. Of course some freshmen did find their illustrations in a rather dangerous manner. One method used was to cut off the top of big sister's candy box to use the picture there. Another way was to cut up mother's best magazines without her consent, which also caused friction. However, the notebooks were all very good and the students must know the story in order to portray it in picture form.

The sophomores prepared several interesting booklets on "Silas Marner" by George Eliot. For the most part the sophomores dramatized this story. This method served to impress important sayings on their minds.

The juniors are making original notebooks, containing anything which they feel is worth while and they would like to save. Most of the notebooks contain select types of modern poetry of the past, and short prose works. Class notebooks are also being made in which discussions and references in class are kept. During the study of the Revolutionary Period in American literature, a group of outside readings were assigned. In this way, the class could read the great orations and poems of the period themselves, rather than merely studying a synopsis of the work. Some of these outside readings were: "Concord Hymn" by Emerson; "Paul Revere's Ride" by Longfellow; "The Crisis" by Thomas Paine; "Declaration of Independence" by Jefferson; "Farewell Address" by Washington; "The Centennial" by Whitman; and "Grandmother's Story" by Holmes. These famous works add interest and color to the course of American literature.

The students all benefit by making these notebooks. They must have their work done punctually, the printing and other features must be done carefully and neatly, and a general love of attractive work is naturally taught to the pupils.

Results of Magazine Campaign
The Curtis Publishing Co. magazine contest ended Wednesday noon. The students sold sixty-one subscriptions. The Green side or the Eagles won the contest. They sold forty-two subscriptions and the Red or the Hawks sold nineteen.

We were disappointed in not getting more subscriptions, but we have earned $30.50 for the Athletic association. But out of this amount we have to pay for the prizes. The highest number of subscriptions sold by one person was three. Edwin McCann, Raymond Dodd, Dorothy Withers, Stanley Withers and Eloise Tiltonson each sold three subscriptions for which they will receive a silver Canary pencil.

Charlevoix Air Club Is Organized

When some pessimistic adults shake their heads and say, "The youth of today are going to the dogs" they do not judge fairly. For the most part, modern youth is characterized by its wide-awake interest in the better things of life.

About the time school began this fall an air club was organized under the leadership of David Coulter, for the purpose of interesting the people of Charlevoix in an airport. They wish this to be a municipal, not a county airport.

There are now twelve members, namely: David Coulter, Floyd King, Levi Ingalls, Charles Cellner, Eugene Ingalls, Wayne Belding, Wallace Saunders, Bill Brown, Lee Shapton, Lawrence Straw, Kenneth Cellner, and Bill Novak, a prospective member. David Coulter has been chosen president and Floyd King is secretary and treasurer.

The club is really a serious matter to the young people. On Monday nights they assemble and have worth while discussions, sometimes listening to aviation talks over the radio. The material they read is not simply novels about airplanes, they discuss the technical side of the question. Outside readings are assigned each week by the president, and the boys come prepared to learn more about aviation.

Anyone interested may become a member of this organization and the members will gladly accept any suggestions which might aid them in this enterprise.

Dorothy Withers Represent Charlevoix at Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show at Gaylord.

Last Tuesday morning the male population of Charlevoix high school voted to find the fairest of the opposite sex. Candidates numbered between fifteen and twenty. Dorothy Withers received the largest number of votes, which entitled her to attend the banquet. Isn't it odd there being ninety boys in high school that there weren't ninety candidates? But then, some of the votes read "There aren't any pretty girls in this school," and another, "I can't decide."

Miss Withers attended the big banquet Thursday night and reports a very enjoyable evening. The girls present were voted upon to see which one would go to Lansing for state meet. Gaylord was the lucky school, their candidate receiving the majority of votes.

This is the first time anything of this sort has been conducted at the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show. We all hope it can be done next year also. Let's see who goes next.

Debate News

Last Friday evening the Cheboygan debating class visited Charlevoix high school. A practice debate was held between three members representing the Cheboygan school and three Charlevoix students representing our high school. The debate given Friday was for the benefit of the members of the classes and was not announced. Superintendent Titus acted as chairman, but no official judges were present. Each person decided for himself the superior team.

After the debate, about a half hour was spent in discussion and in pointing out the weaknesses of both sides.

The first regular debate on our schedule will be with East Jordan on November 15, at the Charlevoix gymnasium.

The White Plague

Mr. Gates, who represented the Michigan Tuberculosis association, gave the high school assembly an interesting speech on tuberculosis. It was interesting to note that tuberculosis is not hereditary; the Irish and Indians are subject to it, and the Jewish race are not.

The first symptoms of this disease may be detected by a lingering cough, indigestion, sudden loss of weight or an afternoon temperature. It is curable if the patient is not negligent in attending to it. Clean, fresh air, wholesome, nourishing foods and exercise will help to overcome these early symptoms.

The Tuberculosis Seal Fund, which all of the surrounding communities help to support, financed $251,000 on the sale of seals in 1928. The expenditures amounted to $75,000. It is interesting to note the support given to this organization in financing the seal fund.

TREAT
DIRECT

EACH year more and more people give up the old, indirect way of treating colds by "dosing" and turn to Vicks VapoRub.

Just rubbed on, Vicks medicated vapors are inhaled direct to the air-passages, and, at the same time, it acts direct through the skin like a plaster.

This better way of treating colds originated with Vicks a generation ago.

Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing," and there are "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

HEALTH, GOOD AND BAD.

The capacity of the human body to endure abuse and ill treatment is astounding. It far surpasses in this respect a metal machine. Automobile engines, run without proper lubrication, are soon reduced to uselessness. The human body, tortured though it may be by the indignities heaped upon it by such as our marathon dancers, flag pole sitters, and solo airplane fliers, returns to apparent normality with the help of a day or two of rest.

Fortunate as this ability of the body to meet and overcome mis-treatment may be, it is a quality that has its disadvantages. A very prevalent tendency among people today, which exists solely because of the wonderful recuperative powers of the body, is to "go the limit"—to push the accelerator of life down to the floor and to keep it there. We see a school youngster playing a strenuous sport for long periods—and marvel at his endurance. We see a young girl working days, dancing nights, sleeping a few hours in between, and marvel again. We see the mother of four who cares for her brood and at the same time indulges in church and club work to the limit of her free hours, and wonder that she can keep going.

What we so often do not see, beneath the surface appearance of good health and high vitality, is a weakened physique that may be first heading toward breakdown. The ability of the body to cover up the traces of too strenuous living is in reality just another style of camouflage, that art which was developed to such a fine point in the world war. A parallel to the trick of the ship builder who, by means of painted lines, gave a ship the appearance of traveling at a different speed or in a different direction from that it actually was pursuing, is found in nature's trick of concealing the direction which health is taking. Appearances may indicate perfect health. Actually, conditions may be just the reverse.

Regular and reasonable habits of sleeping, eating and working are advocated by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association as the first and most important preventive against tuberculosis, the disease that typifies the fate of many who live as if health could never be lost. Possibly an Edison can go counter to the laws of health, sleeping but four hours a night and labouring without rest much of the remaining time, but Edison's equals in this respect are probably as few as his peers in inventive ability. For the most of us, the safest course to pursue is one that protects rather than weakens, builds up rather than tears down the bodily structure. Sane living always pays.

RUG SELLERS.
They still fall for them in some communities; we mean the old time sailor rug seller who represents that he has been able to smuggle in to this country valuable imported rugs that he offers at below cost. The rugs turn out to be cheap imitations, the sailor turns out to be a fake and the customers are victims of another swindle. Despite constant warnings from the progressive newspapers who keep constantly on the alert to discover these fraudulent practices there are always the "wise ones" who fall for the solicitations.

IT'S CHEAPER TO LIVE.
A live man pays 20 cents for a shave; a dead one pays $5.
A wool coat costs $25; a wooden one $100.
Taxi to the theatre is $1; to the cemetery is $5.50.
A hired man plants corn for 25 cents an hour, but for planting you he gets four times as much.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mrs. Elizabeth Emrey returned Tuesday to her home in Lowell, Mass., after spending the past ten days with Charlevoix friends. Her son, Winfield, who spent the summer months here, returned with her, and they were also accompanied by Harlan Olney and Harker Kirby, Jr., who will spend the next two weeks visiting at Lowell.

The Beaver Island mail boat reached Charlevoix Wednesday morning for the first time since Monday, having been held up at the island Tuesday because of heavy weather. The boat brought over 150 boxes of fish and reported the storms of the past two days had kept most of the island boats in shelter. Similar conditions have kept operations of the local fleet down to a minimum.

MUSKRAT SEASON TO BEGIN 15TH OF NOVEMBER

The muskrat season in this part of the state begins November 15. Under a new state law a metal tag with the name and address of the owner must be attached to each trap. The muskrat trapping license fee is $1.00 for 20 traps and 10 cents each for more than 20 traps not in excess of 100 traps. It is unlawful to "destroy, disturb or molest house or hole, or set trap within six feet of house or hole." License to trap muskrats are sold this year at the county clerk's office.

A FORMER RESIDENT DEAD IN CALIFORNIA

Willett C. Arnold Passes Away October 28th at Los Angeles.

Word of the death October 28th at Los Angeles, Calif., of Willett C. Arnold, former Charlevoix resident, has been received by Mrs. Walter Yemmans of this city, a sister of Mr. Arnold.

Deceased was born at Charlotte, Eaton county, November 11, 1871, and when a small boy came to Hayes township with his father. On January 1, 1897, he was united in marriage to Miss Jessie Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burns of this city. After residing in Charlevoix several years, the couple moved to California, where they since have resided.

Besides his wife, Mr. Arnold is survived by one daughter and two sons, five brothers and two sisters.

HARBOR WOMAN COMMITTED SUICIDE

Miss Maude Bussard Found Dead at Home of Her Father.

Miss Maude Bussard, formerly a teacher in the grade schools at Harbor Springs, was found dead at the home of her father in that village. She had taken her own life. The body was found hanging lifeless. Miss Bussard was about 50 years of age and was housekeeper at their pretty home on Fourth street.

The former teacher had complained lately that she was growing deaf. In fact, she had suffered from ear trouble for a long time and lately this was growing worse. Aside from this she was believed to have been in normal health.

-have you driven a Chevrolet Six?

Have you felt the thrill of its six-cylinder performance—so smooth, quiet and vibrationless that you almost forget there's a motor?

Have you known the satisfaction of its six-cylinder reserve power—ready to shoot you ahead at the traffic light, to carry you over the steepest hills, or to speed you along the highway?

And do you know that anyone who can afford any car can own a Chevrolet Six?

If you have never driven a six-cylinder car, it is impossible for you to form any idea of Chevrolet performance from your imagination alone.

Smoothness! No rumble in the body—no tremble in the steering wheel—no vibration to loosen windows and doors!

Flexibility! Power that flows in a silken stream—and never a trace of "lugging!"

Quiet! Hardly a whisper from the motor. You can drive it for hours without the slightest noise fatigue!

But why try to tell you the story when only a ride can give you the facts? Come in. There's a car waiting for you... Now!

Setting the pace for all other low-priced sixes

In every phase of performance, today's Pontiac Big Six is setting the pace for all other low-priced sixes. Come in, see this car and learn about its many big car features. Then you will know why Pontiac is outperforming its field—

In Speed. The highest top speed in any low-priced six—proved by the "fifth wheel," the most accurate speed measuring device known.

In Power. Sixty brake horsepower developed at 3,000 r. p. m.—the highest power to be found in any low-priced six—produced at moderate engine speed.

In Acceleration. The fastest acceleration provided by any low-priced six—also proved by the scientifically-accurate "fifth wheel."

In Safety. Because of its non-squeak, internal-expanding four-wheel brakes—its hard-wood-and-steel body construction—its full tread axles, front and rear.

Jane Parsons was absent from school Wednesday and Thursday on account of illness.

The beginners and first grade dramatized the story "The Three Little Pigs" in language.

The second and third grades have just finished learning the poem "How The Leaves Come Down."

Heard in fifth grade geography class: Miss Chew—"What is arid land?" Pupil—"Land that has air in it."

We have had two months of school. Those who were neither absent nor tardy this month were Edna Boss, Harry Brock, Theodore and Wilma Heeres, Bessie and Geneva Potter and Irene Warner.

Last Thursday afternoon we had a surprise Halloween party. We played games and then had marshmallows and Halloween candy for refreshments. We also had our room attractively decorated with black cats, witches and pumpkins, which added to the jollity of the occasion.

The sixth grade are studying "The Courtship of Miles Standish," by Longfellow, in history and are planning on giving a play taken from the poem for Thanksgiving. We are also working on booklets, which will include a synopsis of the story, selections memorized, a list of the characters and a description of each, and illustrations.

We have a contest in spelling each week. A star is given each pupil who has 100 per cent in his lesson for the day, and all those who have four stars are given a half hour off on Friday. Those who had four perfect spelling lessons this week were Allan Potter, Everett Warner, Harry Brock, Bessie Potter, Harley Warner, Lawrence Boss and Ernest Brock.

MARION SCHOOL NOTES.

The sixth grade geography class are making a thorough review of the different countries of Europe.

The sixth grade language class exchanged letters on Tuesday concerning the value of a tree compared to that of a bird.

B. C. Mellencamp called on us Tuesday afternoon and brought us our work sheets for both of our clubs and other club supplies.

We all enjoyed the dramatization of "Spry Mouse" by James Raymond and Glenn Crain for opening exercises on Wednesday.

The fifth grade geography class are studying maps and compasses. They have drawn nice maps of our school and school grounds.

Freda Greiner brought us an orange tree plant to school on Wednesday. It is four months old and is three and one-half inches high.

The fifth grade have received their new language books and like them very much. They are called "Everyday English," by Baker & Thorndike.

The seventh and eighth grade history class are making a study of the American revolution, dividing it into the northern and middle states and southern campaigns.

The Jolly Workers' Club did not meet on Monday as Bernard Miller had the misfortune to fall on his way to club and cut his leg so badly that it necessitated seven stitches to sew it up.

We have purchased a copy of "Our Old World Background," by Beard Bagley, to be used as a reference book for the seventh and eighth grade history class. Their new textbooks, "The History of the American People," are by the same authors.

Men's and Boy's Winter Wear Clothing at Benjamin Brown's.—Adv. 441.

NORWOOD SCHOOL NOTES.

Our windows are decorated with pumpkins.

We are glad to have our drinking fountain again in use.

Lothi Kerr was absent from school last week because of illness.

Nelson Kirby was absent from school Thursday because of illness.

Milton and Delta Richardson were absent from school three days last week because of illness.

We have our new globe up and are very much pleased with it. We are having lessons on it the first period in the morning.

The seventh and eighth grades are reviewing the Revolutionary War this week for history. We are going to have a test on it.

We cleared $18.20 at our box social last Friday night. Much credit is due Mr. Dice, who auctioned the boxes for us and we thank him for it. We also thank Mr. and Mrs. Hensel and Mrs. Richardson for the cream for the coffee, and all those who brought extra boxes, and those who helped in other ways.

If you think of buying a Parlor Furnace, look at the Ray Boy first. Charlevoix Hardware Co.—Adv. 442.

UNDINE SCHOOL.

Watch for the date of our program and social.

Our new set of maps have come. Thank you, School Board.

Seventh graders are making an outline of the Revolutionary War. Those who were absent last week with colds are all back to school now.

The fourth grade are beginning to think they can work long division problems now.

We are sorry to lose Francis and Donald Hall from our school. They have moved to Boyne City.

Glarence Smith and Patricia Baxter were neither absent nor tardy during the month of October.

The Halloween committee, of which Esther Klooster was chairman, made our room look real spooky.

Some fine, original poems were written about Halloween last week. The best one was written by Milton Brooks.

Last Thursday afternoon we played games and Halloween tricks. Clayton Smith and Milton Brooks were prize winners.

The seventh graders who had all their spelling words correct every day of the past month were Esther Klooster and Cecelia Tepakeyah.

The girls have pieced a quilt. We are selling tickets on it. At our Thanksgiving program it will be raffled off. The money will be used to buy a new victrola.

The Irving Hot Water Heater installed in your car for $25.00. Pure hot air, no odor or gas to injure your health. Try this on our guarantee or money refunded. Benjamin Brown.—Adv. 441.

MURRAY SCHOOL NOTES.

No one received days off as no one received all B on their report card.

Frank Mindel, Jimmie Mawby, Fritz Descherner and Jimmie Baker gathered apples at various places and had cider made for our party Wednesday.

The little folks had a Halloween party Thursday afternoon. Games were played and a large Halloween cake of seven layers made by Miss McAlmon, cider and jello was served for refreshments.

The persons being neither absent nor tardy were Arvilla Yohr, Margaret Yohr, Dorothy Ferguson, Eva Huston, Edna Huston, Fritz Descherner, LeRoy Ferguson, Leonard Ferguson, Charles Yohr, Katherine Speigl, Bethel Brechisen.

The following were honor students last month: chart class, Norman Kunkle; 1st grade, Katherine Speigl; 2nd grade, Amy Lou Johnson; 3rd grade, Edna Huston; 4th grade, Grace Anderson; 5th grade, Viola Huston; 7th grade, Frank Mindel; 8th grade, Arvilla Yohr.

The Halloween party for the older folks was held Friday. The room was beautifully decorated with Halloween colors, the only light being the light from a human skull lit by a candle. Everyone came in costume. The witches read our fortunes and gave us a partner. Games were played. Louis Mawby seemed to have been born under a lucky star, for he received most of the favors.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

still in the children a sense of responsibility, and a respect for other folk's property and rights. We hope to train them for better citizenship in the future, and make them realize that they are always accountable to their fellowmen for their behavior.

Every two weeks new officers will be elected and it is the aim of each child to merit this award. The children with records are eligible for these positions.

So far this system has proven very satisfactory and the children are very enthusiastic about the work. The officers report splendid cooperation, so as time goes on there should be a well organized student government.

Every Friday afternoon all the captains and their helpers meet to discuss ways of improving conditions, and make a report of the work they have done. At this time they also receive instructions.

The first attempt of the sixth grade this year in the line of dramatization was a fifteen minute play "The Wistful Witch," presented by six of our group on Friday afternoon. Adrienne Bellinger, the Wistful Witch, brought mortals to Windy Glen and thus accomplished the desire of her heart to play with real children and be tucked in at night. The third graders were our guests.

KINDERGARTEN.

Ten varieties of plants have been added to our water garden. Since the arrival of the plants the kindergartners have noticed that the tropical and goldfish have taken a more active interest in their water home. Salamanders, tadpoles, clam, turtles and snails are among our sea-fauna, whose purpose is to filter the aquarium.

The children of the fifth grade have been enjoying a trip to South America. After they had studied the whole continent, they divided themselves into groups of four or five, each group choosing a particular country for special study. Then each group, under the direction of a group leader, made tiny boxes grow into sugar cane plantations, rubber or coffee plantations, copper and nitrate mines, and many other interesting scenes.

Gems from Examination Papers.

We found that:

Madame Curie is a movie actress and also a poet.

Ramsay MacDonald is an English evangelist.

Mr. North (contest): "How would you make a mercurial barometer?" One bright student: "I would take a tube of mercury and a semi-meter scale and several syringes and a pointer and a tube. I would place a piston which would go up and down with the mercury. I would have this attached to several wheels till I got the pointer to move just right."

It certainly would have taken Einstein or some great scientist to have constructed this barometer.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Holy communion service at 8:30 a. m. on the first Sunday of each month.

Evening service on the second and fourth Sundays of each month at 7:00 o'clock.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS.

The County Normal class has been invited to attend the county school officers' meeting at East Jordan next Monday.

A meeting was held last Friday for the purpose of electing class officers. The following officers were chosen: President, Miss Ruby Crump; vice-president, Miss Dorothy Smith; secretary-treasurer, Miss Merle LaCount.

A visit to the Normal training room will reveal a rather "booky" appearance and "literary" atmosphere. In observance of "Book Week," Miss Ogden is acquainting the normal class with methods of creating in children a desire to read good books and is also providing both rooms with sample sets of books representing various types of stories.

The state extension library department has generously offered its services to the class as rural teachers next year.

A special program on Friday will give every student an opportunity of proving his literary skill.

Several pupils in the training room are absent on account of having the small pox.

The pupils in the training room enjoyed very much the Halloween party given them by the normal teachers last Friday afternoon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m. Subject, "Adam and Fallen Man." Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, November 3.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him a plentiful redemption" (Ps. 130:7).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Science adjusts the balance as Jesus adjusted it. Science removes the penalty only by first removing the sin which incurs the penalty" (p. 40).

CHURCH OF GOD

Rev. J. T. Mark, Pastor

Sunday school at 10 o'clock.

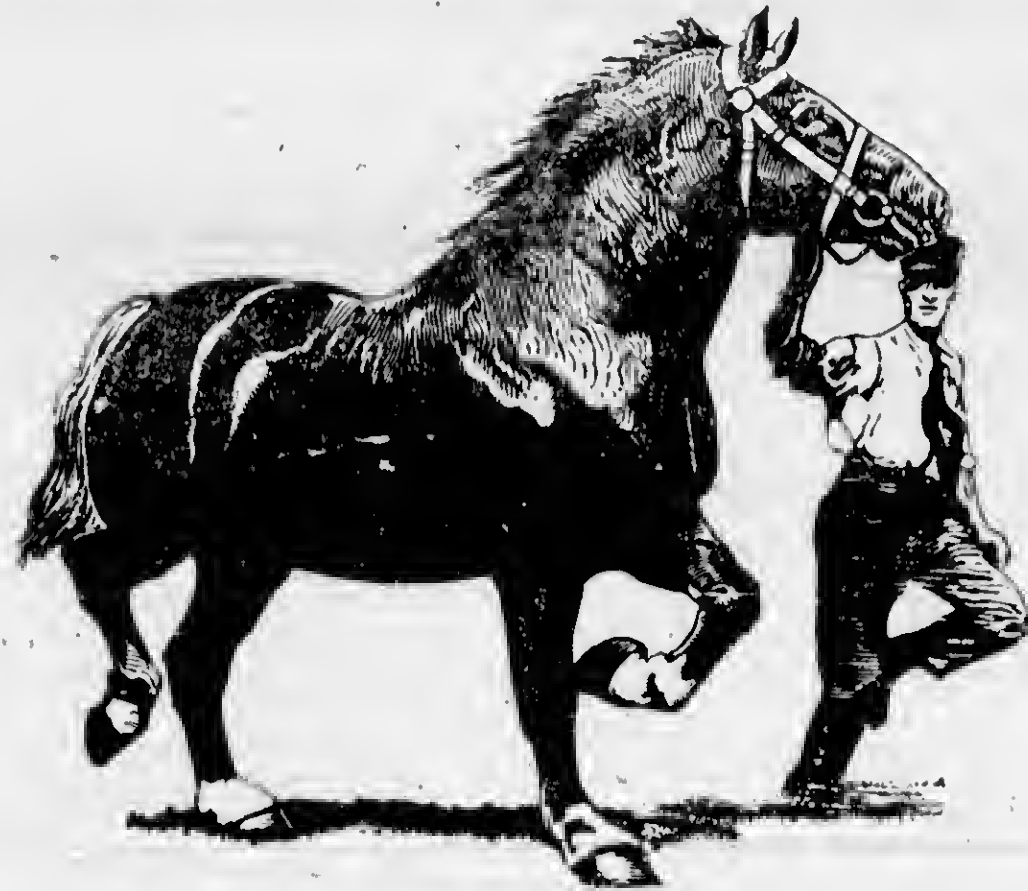

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30. Subject this week is "Unity."

Sunday school teachers' and workers' meeting Friday evening at 7:30. Revival meetings will begin next Sunday with Rev. Joseph Cirone, who is pastor of the church in Osego, as the evangelist. He comes highly recommended and everyone is urged to come and get acquainted with him and hear the preaching of the Word.

We were favored with two very edifying sermons last Sunday and those who were absent missed a real treat.

CAMPBELL'S

TURN DOWN CHARTER FOR ALBA STATE BANK

State Finds Income of One-Crop Town Not Sufficient.

Reports from Alba that the state banking department had turned down the application for a charter for a state bank at Alba was carefully traced down last Thursday by The Herald, and nobody seemed to have any real information.

However, the reports seems to be true as we find in the Cheboygan Daily Tribune a dispatch from Lansing.

* THE WEEK'S WEATHER *

The following high and low temperatures at Charlevoix for the week from October 30th to November 6th, inclusive, are furnished by the U. S. coast guard station:

	High	Low
Wednesday	46	40
Thursday	62	50
Friday	50	42
Saturday	46	42
Sunday	48	42
Monday	42	38
Tuesday	46	38

The weather has been windy throughout this period, but is far better than the average for November. The temperature has not been below freezing, and for the most part, days have been clear. We might add to this report that Arthur VonDolche made the editor the gift of a bouquet of roses picked in his garden last Friday forenoon.

sing under Friday's date line as follows:

"Banking Com. Rudolph E. Reichert announced to day that he had refused application for a charter for a proposed Alba State bank. He said that after a conference with sponsors of the project it was decided that there was not sufficient business in the community."

The above dispatch does not state the case exactly, however, when the truth comes out. Alba, because its wealth comes so largely from the raising of certified seed potatoes, is regarded as depending on the one crop alone. It is stated that when the Alba farmers will add other crops to their business largely enough so as to take them out of the "one-crop community" class, the state banking commissioner will gladly grant a charter for a state bank there.

The names of those applying for the charter were Walter G. Corneli, Leon G. Balch, Roscoe Mackey, John J. Porter and Wm. A. Stroebel of East Jordan, and Wm. H. Parks of Petoskey.—Mancelona Herald.

Benjamin Brown will give you the best service on your car and Radio Batteries during the cold weather.—Adv. 44tf.

FLASHING CROSSING SIGNAL INSTALLED IN KALKASKA

A new flashing electric light signal is now being installed at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing on M-131, opposite the hotel. This installation is the work of both the Pennsylvania railroad company and the State highway department.

The action was recommended to the village council by the chamber of commerce early in the summer, after which the former made plans for the purchase of the signal. Later it was learned that the state highway department would share the expense and the matter was placed in their hands. At this writing the Pennsylvania has placed men on the job and work is well under way toward the completion of the signal.—Kalkaska Leader.

PILGRIM CIRCLE RE-ELECTED OFFICERS

Mrs. H. S. Harsha entertained the Pilgrim Circle of the Congregational Ladies' Aid last Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. N. A. Shores was re-elected president and Mrs. William C. Taylor secretary-treasurer. The next meeting will be held November 13th with Mrs. Louise Elston, 210 Antrim street.

BEAR PROTECTED IN CLOSED AREA

BAN ON DEER COVERS BRUIN IN CLOSED COUNTIES.

Fourteen Lower Peninsula Counties Open This Season—Sixty Special Deputies to Patrol.

Counties of Michigan closed to deer hunting are also closed to bear hunting.

This is the opinion of the attorney general's office, given in response to requests for a ruling from numerous hunters.

The opinion is based on Act 286 of the Public Acts of 1929, Chapter 4, Section 39, which says:

"This license (deer license) shall also authorize the holder to kill with firearms one bear at any time during the open deer hunting season, but the trapping or poisoning of bears shall be unlawful, and it shall be unlawful for any person to be found in the woods hunting deer or bear without a deer hunter's license."

According to the attorney general's office, the fact that a deer license cannot be obtained for use in a particular county, automatically make it illegal to kill bears in that county.

With Antrim county added to the list this year, 54 counties of Michigan are now closed to deer and bear hunting. Antrim county was ordered closed by the Conservation Commission under the discretionary power act, since the last season.

The deer and bear hunting territory of the state is now confined to the 15 counties of the upper peninsula and to the counties of Benzie, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Otsego, Montmorency, Alpena, Leelanau, Kalkaska, Crawford, Oscoda, Alcona, Roscommon, Ogemaw and Iosco in the lower peninsula.

Sixty special conservation officers have been appointed by the department of conservation to patrol the woods of northern Michigan during the approaching deer season.

These 60 men will work full time during November and will devote practically all of their time to the enforcement of the deer laws.

STATE HIGHWAY ENGINEERS MAKING SURVEY

Rumors of U. S. 31 Re-Routing Still Without Foundation.

Engineers of the state highway department are surveying north of Charlevoix this week. Their work is taking them on the present route of U. S. 31, and also on another out through the Waller farm.

While persistent rumors have been current of a contemplated re-routing of U. S. 31 both north and south of the city, those in charge of the surveying for the highway department are giving out no information and reports so far are nothing more than conjectures.

It is understood that the survey is being made to allow the work of connecting the concrete north and south of Charlevoix to be gotten underway in the spring.

EXHIBITION OF ART MASTERPIECES HERE

Reproductions of Masters to Be Shown at School Building.

Reproductions of works of artists of many generations will be on display at the new school on November 13, 14 and 15.

This collection consists of 150 masterpieces representing the French, Italian, Flemish, English, Dutch, Spanish, German and American schools of art. Most of these are the masterpieces studied by the schools. Famous portraits, landscapes, marines and pastoral scenes in the colors of the original canvases are on display.

There will be a small admission charge which will be used for the purchase of pictures for our schools. The pictures on display range from $5.00 to $20.00 each. Orders will be taken for any of these pictures.

The aim is to have every pupil attend this exhibit, as the school will receive one picture free, providing the fund raised is $50.00 or more.

The exhibit will be open to the public from 4:00 until 5:00 p. m. each day and also Wednesday evening after the P. T. A. meeting.

REV. MATTSON WILL RESIGN PASTORATE

TO LEAVE CHARLEVOIX CHURCH AFTER APRIL, 1930.

Encroachment of Other Business Interests Brings About Decision—Here Five Years.

Announcement was made Sunday by Rev. Bernard G. Mattson that it is his earnest desire to retire from active service as a pastor, on the termination of his fifth year as pastor of the Congregational church of Charlevoix, soon after Easter, 1930. This announcement did not come as an entire surprise to many in the congregation, for Dr. Mattson had discussed it informally with his prudential committee the previous Thursday.

Dr. Mattson took the committee and afterward the church into his entire confidence as to the reasons for this step at this time. These included the fact that he would complete 33 years in continuous service of Congregational churches at the time set for retirement. Also the fact that the summer camp enterprise directed by Mrs. Mattson and constituting a financial responsibility in which he also shared, required his active co-operation with Mrs. Mattson with the steady growth of his clientele. This would in the future require more time than he had been thus far able to give by using brief periods between Sundays in the summer as a substitute for the usual pastor's vacation.

The determining factor, however, in his present decision to ask for release is the offer of a substantial business connection with the Guaranty Trust Company of Detroit, on a basis which would also give adequate time for personal help in the camp enterprise. This offer would not interfere with Dr. Mattson retaining his standing as a Congregational minister nor prevent his accepting Sunday preaching appointments as they might offer.

In view of these different aspects of his future plans Dr. Mattson offered this plan to the church for its consideration. That he would continue to supply the pulpit here and the family remain in the parsonage until a convenient date soon after the coming Easter, but that beginning with January 1st, 1930, he would undertake the work of the Trust Company and return to Charlevoix each week end to conduct the church services.

The Prudential committee recommended this plan to the church last Sunday with expressions of appreciation and regret. The final vote on the proposal will be taken by the church at the morning service next Sunday, November 17, when it is expected that approval will be given to the plan, as one conserving the best interests of all concerned.

WISCONSIN FISHERS FINED HERE FRIDAY

Taken by Warden Fike for Operating Without Permits.

Setting nets in Lake Michigan without a conservation department permit cost J. W. Cornell and son, Leslie Cornell, a fine of $50 and costs of $7.15 each in Justice Robert Withers' court here Friday night.

The Cornells, operators of three large fish tugs from Washington Island, set their nets while enroute to Charlevoix for the spawn fishing last Thursday. When they applied for permits the following day they were arrested by Deputy Warden Henry Fike.

With the exception of this one infraction, which is the first reported during the present season, fishermen have been cooperating in every way with the conservation department.

ANNUAL HOSPITAL DRIVE IS NOW ON

Citizens of Community Asked to Give Vegetables, Etc.

Citizens of Charlevoix and surrounding rural communities are asked to give freely to the annual drive to obtain vegetables, fruits and canned goods for the Charlevoix hospital.

In the absence of Mrs. Clarence N. Bridge, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the hospital, Mrs. Archie L. Livingston is in charge of the drive. An effort will be made to get in personal touch with every possible donor, but those who are not solicited or called upon need not believe their gifts are not acceptable. Just get in touch with those in charge or, better yet, leave gifts at the hospital.

A conveyance will be furnished to gather articles next Tuesday and a telephone call will bring them to your door.

Important Meeting!

There will be a meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce on Wednesday, November 20th, hour and place to be announced later.

CHARLEVOIX TEAM DEBATES THURSDAY

EAST JORDAN COMES HERE FOR FIRST CONTEST.

Charles Cellner, Margery Manley and Clara Kelderhouse Members of Local School Team.

The Charlevoix high school debating team swings into action for the first time this year Thursday evening, November 14th, with East Jordan high school as their opponents. Coach Bea Ferneau of the Charlevoix faculty has announced that Charles Cellner, Margery Manley and Clara Kelderhouse will be members of the team representing the local school, taking the affirmative side of the question. The team is composed of all new members this year.

The question for argument will be "The advisability of substituting a judge or board of judges for juries in Michigan trials."

The debate will be held in the high school assembly room, commencing at 8:00 o'clock. The judges will be Supt. Fullerton and the debate coach from Harbor Springs, and the debate coach from Petoskey high school. The public is cordially invited to attend and it is hoped by school officials that a good crowd will be present.

Three other state-wide debates on December 6, January 10, and January 24, will constitute the four preliminary debates in which all schools will participate in order to compete for entrance in the elimination series of debates which begin on February 14th.

Only the 64 schools with the highest percentage of victories will be entered in this elimination series and each of these 64 schools will receive the University of Michigan Wall Plaque Trophy through the co-operation of the Detroit Free Press. This trophy is in the shape of a shield, the design of which was taken from the well known University of Michigan shield. Its base is of American walnut, 17 inches in height and 15 inches across the top, and the medalion, super-imposed on the shield, is 9 inches in diameter, three-eighths of an inch thick, and is cast in solid bronze with all lettering artistically embossed.

While the elimination series, beginning on February 14th, is in progress the 64 schools will debate among themselves with the defeated schools dropping out after each debate until only two undefeated schools remain.

KICK OF HORSE FATAL TO BANKS TWP. FARMER

Died of Injuries Friday at Charlevoix Hospital.

William Eastcott, aged 73, died Friday morning at the Charlevoix hospital from injuries received Thursday when he was kicked by a horse at his farm in Banks township near Ellsworth.

Mr. Eastcott was dealt a blow of terrific force in the abdomen and his death resulted from internal injuries. An operation performed Thursday night was fruitless. Deceased is survived by his wife, four daughters and one son.

FORTY CANDIDATES OUT FOR PRACTICE

FIRST DRILL FOR BASKETBALL HELD MONDAY NIGHT.

Coach Kipke Must Mould Almost Entire New Team—Twelve Game Schedule Arranged.

With the first game of the 1929-30 basketball schedule for Charlevoix high school just a month away, practice got under way Monday evening. Around forty candidates answered Coach Kipke's call for material, and from all indications, there will be a lively scramble for positions before many weeks have been put behind.

Kipke has quite a problem ahead of him this year. He has but two regulars of last year's powerful squad to build his team around and, if anything, the material is the most doubtful in the past three seasons. Teams are not made in a week or even weeks, however, and his writer ventures a guess that if there is any power in that group of forty or more aspirants who reported Monday night, Kipke will have them rounded into shape in time for the first game.

Of last year's first string men are Bill Novak and Rex Supernaw, both valuable players. Novak was given all-northern honors a year ago and Supernaw, who held a regular guard position, was one of the mainstays of the Red and White machine. Among the second string men who saw action in several games last year are Joe Smith, "Cornie" McCall, and Bob and Bill Foster. Other likely candidates are Oscar Stroud, Norman Anee, Victor and Julius McCauba and Roy Kelderhouse. In addition, there is a good bunch of material coming in from the junior high. These lads have had a couple years experience and should give good accounts of themselves. It is very evident from first appearance, that the man who makes the squad will have to earn his berth.

Coach Kipke is holding a series of class games this week. He will have a chance to see his hopefuls in action. By another week the squad will likely be cut down to about 20 or 25 men and the serious business of moulding together a team will commence.

The Athletic Association, headed by Principal O. P. North, has arranged a schedule of twelve games, seven played away from home and five on the local court. The season opens December 11th at Ellsworth. Following is the remainder of the schedule:

December 14—Traverse City there.
December 20—Pellston there.
January 10—Boysie City there.
January 18—Harbor Springs there.
January 22—Gaylord there.
January 25—Traverse City here.
January 31—Mancelona here.
February 7—Boysie City here.
February 14—East Jordan there.
February 21—Harbor Springs here.
February 28—East Jordan here.
It will be noted that the first six games are scheduled away from home and all but one of the remaining six are on the local court. John Fenz of Traverse City, has been secured as official of three games and Coach Brotherton of Boysie City, for the Traverse City tilt.

"WET" HUNTERS GET FINE AND SENTENCE

First Offenders of New Ruling Arrested in Clare County.

Three men, the first to be convicted in Michigan under the "drunken hunter" ruling, are serving terms ranging from 15 to 30 days each in the Clare county jail.

Charles Cruikfield, 53, and George Crane, 44, both of Temple, Mich., were sentenced to 30 days each and Norman Furbush, 26, Boston, Mass., was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 and serve 15 days in jail.

The men were arrested by sheriff's officers and state police near Temple and were charged with "having fire arms in their possession while intoxicated."

Radio Program.

Forty-four listened in Sunday evening on the radio program broadcast from the First Baptist church of Charlevoix, during the B. Y. P. U. service. This was indeed a very pleasing and interesting program. You can't afford to be absent from these profitable services the young people are putting on. You are the loser in the end.

MOVE TO ORGANIZE "LITTLE 6" LEAGUE

SCHOOL OFFICIALS TO MEET AT BOYNE CITY SATURDAY.

Combination to Include Charlevoix, Harbor Springs, East Jordan, Boyne, Gaylord, Mancelona.

This writer takes considerable satisfaction in reporting that the initial steps towards the formation of a "Little Six" league in Northern Michigan athletics will be taken on Saturday afternoon of this week, when officials of the several schools to be organized in the combine will meet at the Wolverine Hotel, Boyne City, to get together on the proposition.

It will be recalled that the Courier devoted considerable space to the proposition about a year ago at the time the "Big Six" combination was organized. There was no outward response, however, until a week ago, when Supt. A. J. Duncanson of East Jordan schools, took the initiative to call a meeting.

The "Little Six" should be a "bomberman" to athletic interest among class C schools of Northern Michigan. Within a very short distance of each other are Harbor Springs, Boyne City, Gaylord, East Jordan, Mancelona and Charlevoix, all class C schools and, barring exceptional years, of equal strength as far as athletic prowess is concerned. What could be more logical? The league would certainly go a long way toward cementing the athletic relations of the schools involved in the contemplated combine.

It would give the six schools a set schedule and a championship to play for. Each school could play one game with every member of the league and still have plenty of time for two other games for an eight-game schedule. Basketball, track, tennis, golf or any other line of athletics would be included and the winner decided on a percentage basis. With the ever-increasing interest in winter sports, hockey games might be brought into consideration also.

While speaking of schedules, we believe Charlevoix school officials have made a big mistake in the past two years by not having Petoskey and Traverse City included in their roster. We note Traverse City is scheduled for basketball, but not Petoskey. Regardless of Petoskey being a class B school, they are near neighbors and a Charlevoix-Petoskey contest, win or lose as far as Charlevoix is concerned, has always topped the list from a point of interest. It is logical for Petoskey and Charlevoix to compete in athletics and it should be. The same applies to Traverse City.

It is understood that following organization Saturday, the "Little Six" will be officially recognized at the opening of the 1930 football season, and that schedules will be arranged in accordance with provisions adopted. It is a very commendable move on the part of the schools involved and should produce very satisfactory results. The meeting Saturday will be called at 4:00 o'clock, and those interested in athletics are invited to attend.

ART EXHIBITION ON AT PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Masterpieces of Modern Art Are Being Shown.

The art exhibit being held in the grade school this week is attracting many visitors and is eliciting the praise of all spectators. This splendid collection of 150 fine prints reproduced directly from the originals is said to be the most artistic exhibit ever displayed here. The original of these are in the most famous art galleries of the world.

The exhibit is open to the public from 4:00 to 5:30 o'clock each afternoon of this week.

FORMER DETROIT PHYSICIAN AT EAST JORDAN

Dr. Ervin J. Brenner of Detroit, has leased the office and equipment of Dr. H. W. Dicken and takes charge of the latter's practice commencing Friday. Dr. Brenner is a graduate of the University of Michigan, 1927. Following this he served a year's internship at the receiving hospital at Detroit and then eight months on the staff of the U. S. Marine hospital, Detroit. He arrived at East Jordan last Monday and will make his home with J. F. Kenny.—Charlevoix County Herald.

TWO ARE INJURED IN BAD AUTO SMASH-UPS

Mike Saganek and Allan Wood, Battle Creek, Taken to Hospital.

Automobile accidents Sunday afternoon on U. S. 31 south of this city resulted in the severe injury of two men, both of whom are in the Charlevoix hospital for treatment.

Mike Saganek, Norwood township farmer, received severe lacerations on his face and head when he was thrown through the windshield of his car after it left the road and struck a telephone pole.

Allan Wood, Battle Creek, an employee of the Sloan Construction Co., suffered a wrenched back and other injuries. He lost control of his truck as it rounded a curve south of the Dennis farm. A girl companion escaped injury.

Both machines were badly wrecked.

Notice of Meeting.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold a regular meeting at the E. of P. hall, on the evening of Wednesday, November 20. Dinner, comprising a most excellent menu, will be served by the Pythian Sisters at 6:30 p. m.

TIME NAMED FOR RED CROSS DRIVE

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY OF THIS WEEK DESIGNATED.

Headquarters at Holley Gift Shop—Committees Will Make Solicitation of Entire City.

The annual Red Cross membership drive for Charlevoix will be put over Friday and Saturday, November 15 and 16, with headquarters at the Holley Gift Shop.

This is not a drive to beg money, but to give everyone an opportunity to renew their membership in an organization whose work is continuous, and is a guarantee to the American people that loss of life shall be prevented in calamity, and that suffering shall be lessened to the utmost degree.

The city is zoned. Solicitors will call on the public. An appeal is made to make the work of these solicitors as easy as possible, as they are giving their valuable time in interest of the cause.

The central committee directing the drive are Mrs. E. E. Cross, Mrs. Mary Cooper, Mrs. Louise Elston, Mrs. Martin Block, Miss Erma Carey and Mrs. Adah Beeman, roll call chairman.

During the past year many disasters throughout the country have drained the funds of the National Red Cross, in bringing relief to the stricken areas, until there is little left to go to the relief of any other place, should it be visited by misfortune.

The work of the Red Cross is known throughout the world as the foremost organization of mercy. When disaster comes, it is the first one present to provide needed medical attention, food, shelter, etc., to those stricken.

This part of the state has been very fortunate, in that there has been no occasion when we needed the service of this organization, which is one of the reasons that we can cheerfully give for the alleviation of distress from other areas.

The annual membership is one dollar. It is worth that to be able to wear the red cross pin, which establishes you as a person who is in sympathy of the work and ready to support it. When the solicitors call on you, pay out your dollar and get the card to hang into your window proclaiming yourself a public spirited person.

THREE INJURED IN WRECK NEAR ELMIRA

A Ford roadster failed to make the turn on the pavement of M-32 at Elmira about 4 o'clock last Monday morning and crashed sideways against a tree between the pavement and sidewalk. Winfield Chandler of Traverse City, sustained a broken pelvic bone. Orville Lyons of Boysie City, sustained severe bruises, but was released from Reycraft hospital Tuesday. Chester Long of Boysie Falls was slightly hurt.

Lyons was rendered unconscious and was supposed to have been killed outright in the crash. A fellow telephone workman who came down to Elmira to look after the car, reported he had "only lost two or three weeks."—Mancelona Herald.

HUNTERS TREK TO THE NORTH WOODS

CHARLEVOIX WELL REPRESENTED IN VAST THRONG.

Season Opening at Daybreak Friday Will See Around 75,000 Hunters in the Woods.

Charlevoix will be well represented among the estimated 50,000 to 75,000 hunters abroad in Michigan's deer country when the season opens Friday morning. In fact, this city is this year sending probably the greatest number in years to the upper peninsula and eastern deer cover.

Conservation officials have made the estimate that there will be more hunters than deer in the woods this fall, and, have broadcast extreme precaution in an effort to keep the toll of accidents down as low as possible.

There is little reason for hunters to plead ignorance as the cause of violations this year, for there have been but very few changes in the regulations. The one-buck law still prevails with the three-inch horn limit and the same holds true of the deer that can be killed for camp purposes under a special license costing $3.00 and signed by at least four camp members. The regular license fee is $2.50, with the button, for residents, $50.00 for non-residents. This entitles the holder also to one hear. Metal tags similar to those used last year are also furnished and must be attached to the carcass as soon as it hits the ground. No shooting in the water or at fawns or does is allowed.

Of particular importance is the list of counties in which deer hunting is allowed this year. They are:

The fifteen counties of the upper peninsula and the following counties of the lower peninsula; Benzie, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Otsego, Montmorency, Crawford, Oscoda, Alcona, Roseman, Ogemaw and Iosco.

Among the Charlevoix hunters who will be in the woods Friday morning are the following:

Frank F. Bird, A. C. Belding, Clarence Coblenz of Charlevoix, J. Hutson, Detroit; William Feather, Boyne City; and H. G. Bird of Traverse City, who left Monday night for their camping grounds on the Little Two Heart river, northwest of Newberry.

Charles Reise, Clarence Heise, Will Heise, Clarence Mueggen and Bernie Ward, whose camp is near Hendrick's Quarry, located southeast of Newberry. This party left Wednesday. Ed. O'Neill, Fred Bergman, Louis O'Neill of Charlevoix and George Myler and a Mr. Emil of Detroit, left Wednesday for the upper peninsula. They intend to locate beyond Rexton in the vicinity of Hendrick's Quarry.

B. Nickerson, Albert Staley and William Bogart of this city, together with Sterling Nickerson and George W. Weaver of Kingsley, left Monday morning for Lake Gogebic in Ontonagon county.

Ross Alexander, Kenneth Usher, Alec Winnick, Lyle Kowalski and Norman King left Thursday morning for the eastern deer cover. They were to locate south and east of Hillman.

R. T. Davis of this city and Kit Carson of East Jordan, are joining L. C. Rouse and party at their camp near Valentine Lake, northeast of Atlanta.

The above list does not start to take in the hunting parties out of this city. Oscar Nelson and party have gone to Ontonagon county and others going to the upper peninsula are R. J. Madill, Harry Gregory, Millard Olney, Fred Coon, Herb Winkfield, A. J. Hamilton, Fitch Tooley, A. L. Fitch and a dozen others.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Block and Mrs. Wm. Shapton left on Tuesday for a short visit in Chicago.

Wm. Burns accompanied Earl Shapton on a trip to Frankfort and vicinity last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ross and son, John, also Mrs. Frank Matchett, motored to Grand Rapids and vicinity to spend the week end with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Reamsma and children of Grand Rapids, who are visiting their parents near Ellsworth, were callers in Barnard on Sunday.

Each Year More Mothers Treat Colds Externally

The Dangers of "Dosing" Colds Now Avoided by Use of Modern Vaporizing Ointment

When Vicks VapoRub was introduced, mothers especially were quick to appreciate it, because it is just rubbed on and cannot upset children's delicate stomachs, as "dosing" is so apt to do. Today, the whole trend of modern medicine is away from needless "dosing."

As more and more mothers adopted this modern external treatment, the fame of Vicks spread until today it is the standby for colds—adults as well as children's—in over 60 countries.

Just rubbed on throat and chest, Vicks acts through the skin like a plaster; and, at the same time its medicated vapors, released by the body heat, are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages, loosening the phlegm and easing the difficult breathing.

Ever-increasing demand for this better method of treating colds is shown in the familiar Vicks slogan. Made famous when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly" later raised to "21 Million"—there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

AGAIN KONJOLA TRIUMPHS OVER STUBBORN CASE

New Medicine Quickly Ended Severe Rheumatism, Also Kidney Troubles.

MR. S. M. ABOOHAMAD

"I was trying constantly to find something to relieve me of severe attacks of inflammatory rheumatism," said Mr. Sam Aboohamad, 14427 East Jefferson avenue, Detroit, Michigan. "My limbs would swell, sometimes, in fact, the swelling would spread to my entire body, and I suffered terrible agony. During the past few months my kidneys, also, caused me trouble. Sleep—that was unknown to me."

"The first three bottles of Konjola greatly reduced the swelling and relieved the pain. I continued with this medicine and today I am a well man. The rheumatism is gone and the kidney troubles have been corrected. It has increased my appetite, I am gaining in weight, and feel 100 per cent better in every way."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Earl Shapton started Monday on a trip through the upper peninsula in the interests of the fertilizer company by which he has been employed the past year.

The funeral of Wm. Eastcott of Ellsworth, was held on Monday at Ellsworth and burial took place in Barnard. The bereaved family have the sympathy of all Barnard friends.

Mrs. Bottema, accompanied by her son and daughter, returned on Monday from a motor trip to Grand Rapids and Holland, where they visited relatives and old friends for ten days.

Two of our school officers, Mrs. Howard Cornett and Wm. Shapton, attended the school officers' meeting at East Jordan on Monday. They were accompanied by Ruth Matchett and Dorothy Smith, county normal students.

A memorial flag pole is being erected on the school grounds in honor of our three soldier boys who died in France. They were Leslie Shapton, Harold Cole and Harry Potter. It will be dedicated this week with appropriate exercises.

There will be a masquerade dance at Maple Grove Grange hall on Friday evening, November 15th. Everybody welcome.—Adv. 441f.

ATWOOD

Hunting coons. Some are getting ready to go hunting.

It's reported Albert Elzinga is quite sick.

Fine time for farmers to do their fall plowing.

Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Harwood last Thursday.

Ethan Joliffe reports another piano sale to Mr. and Mrs. Rny Rayer of Ellsworth.

We learn that the Ben Devries family will occupy the Essenberg house in Atwood.

John G. Biery was the pastor of the old norwood M. E. circuit just 22 years ago. Rev. Biery and wife were in this vicinity on a two week's vacation and left last Saturday for their home in Lansing. While here, he stated that he made 100 calls, raised $200 by subscription, killed one porcupine and four squirrels. He talks of buying a cottage somewhere near "good old Lake Michigan."

Sorry to learn of the accident and death of Wm. Eastcott of Ellsworth. He was killed by a horse, rushed to the Charlevoix hospital and died during an operation. The accident occurred last Thursday at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He leaves a wife and four daughters. Funeral was held from the M. E. church at Ellsworth on Monday. Burial at Barnard cemetery. We take this means of extending our sympathy to all bereaved ones.

We guarantee satisfaction with the Irving Hot Water Heater installed in your car. A pure fresh air, no gas or odor. $25.00 installed. Benjamin Brown.—Adv. 441f.

IRONTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Merion Jackson are visiting in Chicago this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh King are moving to Charlevoix for the winter months.

Sam Alexander is having a new furnace installed in the ferry house this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brower from Eastport, spent Sunday at the Ross Alexander home.

Mrs. Lewis Brown spent one day last week in Central Lake visiting her sister, Mrs. E. Vandenberg.

Harold McMullen came from Detroit and visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McMullen, last week.

We are happy to hear that Alfred Williams is getting along so nicely, and is able to be out doors every day.

Ethel and Archie Ward left last Saturday for Denver, Colorado, where Archie will enter the hospital for treatments.

Mrs. George Hanson and son, Paul, are visiting in Detroit for a few weeks while Mr. Hanson is on his annual hunting trip.

We are all very sorry to hear that Rev. Mattson is leaving us. He has accomplished a great deal in Ironton during the five years he has been with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Baumbach and family of near Antrim City, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brower of Charlevoix, spent Sunday at the Oscar Ward home.

(Too late for last week.) Alfred Williams is receiving treatment in a Petoskey hospital.

Harold McMullen has been spending the week with his parents.

Several of our residents are confined to their homes with bad colds.

Miss Ethel Ward and brother, Archie, left for Denver, Colorado, Saturday, where Archie is to receive treatment.

Word has been received here that our former neighbor, Jerry Saunders, underwent an operation at an Ann Arbor hospital last Friday.

The Ladies' Aid met for an all day meeting and pot luck dinner with Mrs. Hiram Brock last Wednesday. All report a very good time.

Benjamin Brown will give you the best service on your car and Radio Batteries during the cold weather.—Adv. 441f.

CENTRAL LAKE.

Spelling contest next week. Farmers are taking their bees to the canning factory.

We had a slight flurry of snow last week. Three inches at Mancelona.

There was quite a crowd in town Saturday to celebrate "Dollar Day."

E. S. Carroll attended the W. C. T. U. convention at Mancelona last week.

Philip Ohman and family of Creswell, visited the first of the week with Rex Petrie and family.

Chas. Dawson of Detroit, came up Saturday for his annual hunting trip and is stopping at the Sidney Dawson home.

A good crowd greeted the Charlevoix choir at the Eastport Baptist church Sunday, when they gave their "Song-a-log." Mr. and Mrs. Kirby and Rev. Rauch and wife and about eight young people composed the choir.

There were 13 present at the Bay View Sunday school last Sunday and 15 at Creswell. Musters had an attendance of 27. Mr. Philip Ohman sang and his son, Carl, played the cornet at Musser Sunday school Sunday afternoon.

The people here were shocked Friday to hear of the sudden death of William Eastcott of Ellsworth. He was killed by a horse Thursday and was rushed immediately to a hospital and put on the operating table, but was so badly injured there was no chance for him. Deceased was an old and respected resident of the Peables neighborhood, in Banks township. A. G. Morse, a brother of the writer, taught the Peables' school while Mr. Eastcott was director years ago.

ANTRIM CITY.

The geese are flying south. Joe Stott spent Sunday with Stanley, Charley and Glen Lord.

Wilbur Robertson was a visitor at the Stott home Sunday night.

How do you choose?

Every time you make a purchase, you make a choice. Buying a certain product may be so much a matter of habit that you don't realize you are choosing. But the fact remains that in accepting one brand of goods you are always rejecting others; and the satisfaction you get from what you buy depends on the knowledge of quality and values that guides your selection.

How do you know which bed-sheets, or which roofing material, or which radio will give you service you require? You can't personally test everything you buy and compare it with all the other products in its class. But there is a way to find out which brand fits your needs.

The people who are most successful in their buying—who achieve the highest percentage of satisfaction from the things they own and use—are those who consistently read the advertising columns, and buy consistently advertised goods.

Choosing isn't just "guessing" when you follow the guidance of the advertisements.

You can depend on advertised goods.

It pays to read the advertisements.

Charlevoix School Band is Growing

Charlevoix may well boast of its thirty-piece, well balanced school band, for after a summer of intense practice and capable instruction under Mr. Terwee, the junior and senior bands have combined. On Tuesday afternoons and Wednesday evenings of each week, Mr. Terwee is at the school to give special training and to direct band rehearsals. New music is being studied and many public appearances planned, such as basketball games, the coming Presbyterian play, and many other places.

Some of the work is to be done in collaboration with the East Jordan school band. Perhaps Mr. Terwee will take the two sections, composed of about eighty pieces, to Camp Interlocken next summer.

The East Jordan school band is entertaining the Charlevoix school band this coming Friday at East Jordan. Some day in the near future, members of the Charlevoix school band plan to return the invitation.

The assembly has two new pictures on the wall. One is the picture of the American hero, Charles Lindbergh, and the other is a copy of the letter written by Lincoln to the mother who lost five sons on the battle field. This letter shows the faultless English which Lincoln used even in writing his notes.

The students appreciate art and are interested in getting more pictures for the assembly. From the money which we receive from the art exhibit, we hope to get some new pictures, and we wish to re-frame several that we already have.

America's Heritage

Friday morning, Mrs. Marshall, the district superintendent of the W. C. T. U. movement, visited the high school. She impressed upon our minds the wonderful heritage we Americans possess. We, ourselves, do not recognize it nor appreciate the wonderful opportunities we have in America until they are pointed out to us.

Honesty is one of the main factors on which we should build character. Mrs. Marshall narrated a story of the dishonesty of a contractor. A wealthy man gave the contractor a big contract on construction of a business building. The contractor put his best materials and his best work into it. The millionaire was so pleased with the work that he gave him another contract. He told the contractor to make the most beautiful home he could design, regardless of the expense. The contractor used the cheapest of materials, not thinking the millionaire would ever know. He charged the millionaire an enormous price. Upon completion, the millionaire showed his appreciation of the work by presenting the contractor with this house.

We should build our characters in the fashion of the first house with the best of materials.

Prohibition is the main factor the W. C. T. U. movement supports. President Hoover, who is interested in the American Heritage, has published an American Pledge. These pledges were passed out to the assembly to be signed by the students. The pledge was:

"To abstain from intoxicating liquors and abide by the Eighteenth Amendment." These pledges were collected and sent to Washington.

Junior Play

"Miss Efficiency" is the name of the play which the juniors have chosen for this year. It is planned to be given December 6.

By the diligent work of the cast and the assistance of the directors, Mrs. McKinley and Miss Tower, the play is progressing rapidly. The juniors hope it will be as successful as last year's junior play, "All of a Sudden Peggy."

Meeting of Charlevoix Air Club

At the meeting of the Charlevoix Air Club, held November 11 at 8:30 p. m., Pat Moran entered the organization as a new member. Eight of the original members were also present.

An interesting discussion was held pertaining to the outside topics assigned by the president. Eugene Ingalls gave a report on gliders; Wallace Saunders talked on racing seaplanes, and Levi Ingalls reported on Diesel engines. Several poems were read by David Coulter.

The pins for the club have been chosen.

The president is to be called the "C. O.," or the Commanding Officer, and all new members are named "grease-monkeys" until they become eligible by passing an examination. The regular business meeting is to be held next Monday night, followed by a membership banquet.

Debate

The debating squad of Charlevoix high school will meet the East Jordan squad on November 14th at 8 o'clock, instead of November 15th as was stated in last week's paper.

The question for debate this year is: "Resolved, That the jury system be abolished in the State and municipal courts of Michigan."

The debaters have put many hours of hard work on this debate.

The following popular songs have been dedicated to:

"I Must Have That Man"—Mr. Kipke.

"Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life"—Latin classes.

"Dream House"—C. H. S. building.

"I'll Get By"—Sophomores.

"Mean to Me"—Freshmen.

"After You've Gone"—Seniors by the juniors.

Miss Bodfish: "How many tons of coal are exported from the United States in one year?"

Sixth grade bright light: "1492—none."

GRADE SCHOOL

The picture committee of the P. T. A., composed of Miss Secord, Mrs. Harker Kirby and Miss Mellin, have purchased the picture of "The Gleaners" by Millet, for the school. This picture is awarded to the room having the largest percentage of parents out for the meeting. Miss Mellin's room won it last month, and competition will be very keen now because each room is bent on obtaining it.

We need the cooperation of all the parents. Won't you please help us?

On Friday morning the children gathered in the gymnasium to hear a talk on temperance by Mrs. Marshall of Coopersville. Mrs. Marshall is a representative of the state W. C. T. U. The children enjoyed the talk very much, and also enjoyed gathering in this way, as it was their first general assembly this year.

Surprise parties have become very popular recently. Monday afternoon, Miss Secord's boys and girls very pleasantly surprised her with a potluck luncheon. The sandwiches, jellies, cakes, cookies, olives, pickles, salads, candy and peanuts were carefully smuggled into the sixth grade room at noon, and then, in the middle of a penmanship class, two children began carrying the mysterious packages into the fifth grade room. Needless to say, we all had a nice time at the party.

KINDERGARTEN

"I honor the flag and the country for which it stands," this little pledge was given by each kindergartner as his part in observing Armistice Day. In preparation for this, the children made a large flag from paper chains. This is hanging on the wall where it can be seen frequently as they pass to and from the room.

Sixth Grade

Friday afternoon Miss Bodfish was delightfully surprised by her sixth graders. An afternoon luncheon in honor of her birthday was served by efficient waitresses.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS.

The county normal training class has been sponsoring a program every day this week to stimulate interest in American Education Week. The primary purpose of American Education Week is to acquaint the public with the work of the schools, with their ideals, achievements and needs.

On Monday the class attended the county school officers' meeting at East Jordan. While there, the class was favored with an Armistice Day program in the auditorium of the high school.

On Tuesday, Miss LaCount took charge of the program. At this time, Miss Dorothy Smith reported on the Railways and The Telephone

A freight train puffs quietly on the siding—waiting—the outlines of the cars showing dimly through the darkness. A minute passes—two—three. Then over the night air floats a muffled whistle. Far down the track a light appears. The rails begin to hum, the light grows bright, and a passenger train roars past, windows gleaming. Then the freight comes to life and the long, shadowy outline moves away.

Four million persons in Michigan are served by this steam transport system—four million persons rely upon it, and upon its worthy partner, the electric railway lines. Michigan desires the prosperity of these efficient and progressive railways, for only as they prosper can they serve.

Over hill, across valley—paralleling the rails or following the highways—go the telephone wires, freighted with the spoken commands of industry, agriculture, finance and business.

Railways and wireways traverse the land as partners in progress. Upon the one you depend for the transportation of yourself, your family and your goods. To the other you give your voice to be flashed immediately, one mile or thousands, from your home or your office.

The great rail transportation systems and the universal service of the telephone are vital factors in this country's development and prosperity.

Our policy—"To continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety".

topic, "Contribution of the School to Education." Miss Matchett briefly reviewed "The Contribution of the Home to Education." Then Miss LaCount emphasized "What Schools Do to Improve Homes."

On Wednesday morning the program began with the singing of a few health songs. Posters had been placed on walls to initiate the arrival of the health speaker from Lansing, Dr.

Knowlton. The theme for Thursday was Education for Vocational Effectiveness. At this time talks by Miss Baker, Miss Pearl Smith and Miss Sutton were given.

The topic for Friday is "Know Your School Day." Miss LaCount will give a short talk and a short playlet called "Nobody" will be given. Miss Turner was the health speaker from the state department for last week. She talked on "Ways of Teaching Health."

Gordon Shearer and Benjamin Palmer have been absent from the training room for a few days on account of illness.

ALL FOR A PITTANCE.
This might happen in any court in any county in the United States. But it happened in Minnesota, the Grand Rapids Herald-Review telling the story:

It was a busy week in court. For three long days witnesses were examined, learned counsel objected and argued, the judge ruled on points of law and justice. For three long days 12 men and women listened to the evidence, pondered the questions of right and wrong and then retired to make its decision.

The court was attended by officers and bailiffs and all other litigation was stopped as this case proceeded.

Plaintiff and defendant were there. The neighbors called from picking potatoes to testify to this or that. Those neighbors who were not witnesses came anyway to listen to what was said. Some towns people dropped in, attracted by the close examination of the witness or the impassioned appeal to the jury.

When we talk of justice, material factors should not enter into the discussion. You cannot measure money and justice on the same scales. But it is a fact that it cost the county or the government, in actual expense, at least $500 to try this case. The plaintiff and the defendant had their expenses. The payment to the jurors by no means compensated many of them for their loss of time. A dollar a day for a witness when potatoes are a dollar a bushel is not a money making proposition.

The whole amount of money involved in this case was the claim of $57.50.

Those interested in government might well suggest the old Irish custom. If a man contemplated legal action against another man that man went to the defendant's home and sat on the door step all of one night. So give him time to think about his case and the justice of it. And as he thought and thought he came to conclusions which led him to proper action when the sun came up. And in most cases there was no litigation.

METHODIST CHURCH

The speaker for next Sunday will be Mr. L. Reimann, director of the Lumberlost Boys Camp of Charlevoix. He is well known to many in this city and should have a large congregation at 10:30.

There will be no evening service. Church school meets at noon with classes for all ages.

Miss Clara Dougherty will lead League at 6:30.

The "Litt" Club meets this Thursday with Mrs. Fred Trimble.

NEIGHBORING COUNTY HAS "BEAR" TROUBLES

Presque Isle county is having a lot of trouble with the black bears in that section. Conservation officials are kept busy responding to calls from farmers who have had a sheep or other farm animal killed by these marauders, a bear was trapped last week by officers which dragged a heavy log two miles into a swamp, where it was overtaken and killed. It weighed 480 pounds. One day the first of last week some men saw a bear enter Grand Lake for a swim. Getting into a boat they chased him across the lake, enjoying a lot of thrills.—Cheboygan Daily Tribune.

Everybody will agree on general principles; the row starts when some food tries to apply them.

ASSOCIATION HAS A PERMANENT AIDE

F. V. Tyler to Take Up His Duties As Secretary December 1

A permanent paid secretary of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce—long a cherished aim of the association—is now an established fact. Heretofore, however, the problem of raising an adequate sum for this purpose from year to year has proven a "stickler" not to be lightly surmounted. Through the efforts of the association, taking advantage of the latest state regulation governing the place of license plate sales in each county of the state, the project has been put across.

Frederick V. Tyler of this city, has been appointed by the State department a deputy secretary of state and branch manager, charged with the issuance of automobile license plates and certain other clerical duties connected with the department's business in this county. Mr. Tyler, who will enter upon his duties December 1, is to be paid solely by the State, and will also act as permanent secretary of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce. His office for the sale of license plates and for the transaction of the association's business will be the city band stand on Round lake, use of which has been donated by the city. The work of making this office suitable for winter occupancy will shortly be commenced.

The association is congratulating itself on having been enabled to put their plan into effect. Its benefit to the community is hard to estimate completely at present, as there are so many more things to be done each resort season that require more time than any individual business man has to give. Such matters will be the duty of the paid secretary.

ANNOUNCE NEXT MEETING OF DEMONSTRATION CLUB

A meeting of the Marion Center Home Demonstration Club will be held on Thursday, November 21st, with Mrs. LaVern McGhan. A luncheon has been planned and all visitors are welcomed.

At their last meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Ecklund, the subject under discussion was "How to Gain Personal Efficiency." Nine ladies were present and a delicious balanced luncheon was served. The leaders, Mrs. Fabian Ecklund and Mrs. Laverne McGhan, gave many new ideas on the height of kitchen equipment and correct posture.

The Methodist Literary and Sewing Club will hold a bazaar at Staley Brothers' Hardware on Saturday, December 8th.—Adv. 46tf.

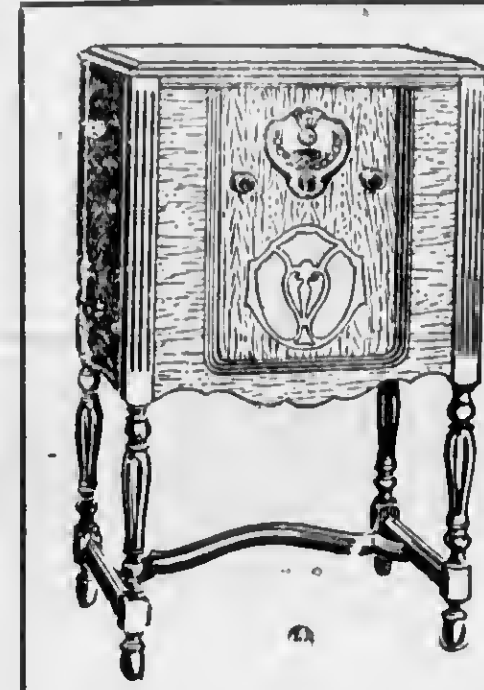

JOHNSON FAMILY HAD BIG REUNION SUNDAY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Johnson on the Charlevoix-East Jordan road, was the scene of a happy family reunion last Sunday. Twenty-seven relatives were present to enjoy the fine chicken dinner served by the hostess. The group had a good, old-time visit, following dinner and the occasion was a very enjoyable one. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Shaw of Ashtabula, Ohio, nephew and niece of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, were among the guests. It was their first visit to Northern Michigan in many years and they were delighted with this region.

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO W. E. McROBERTS

Died Suddenly at His Home Here Early Sunday Evening.

Stricken with heart failure, Eugene McRoberts, aged 47 years, dropped dead at his home early Sunday evening. He had been in apparent good health up to the time of his unexpected death, and his passing was a severe shock to his family and many friends.

Mr. McRoberts was born at Muir, Michigan, October 26, 1882. He resided there with his parents until the age of 14, when the family moved to Charlevoix. He has since resided here, a period of 33 years. He was married October 31, 1900, in Charlevoix to Miss Jennie Estelle, who survives him together with one son, Herbert. Other surviving relatives are his step-father and his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Evans Sanderson of Petoskey; three brothers, Ernest of Lansing; Henry of Traverse City; Orley of Portland, Oregon; also two sisters, Mrs. Louis Wenden and Mrs. Bessie Talbot, both of Petoskey.

For many years Mr. McRoberts worked on road construction jobs near Charlevoix, and at the time of his death was operating a truck line between Charlevoix and Traverse City. He at one time did draying work on a large scale.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the Church of God, Rev. Mark officiating.

M. E. CONFERENCE WAS WELL ATTENDED

The meeting of the sub-district conference for the northern half of the Grand Traverse district of the M. E. church, which was held in the East Jordan Methodist church last Wednesday, was a fine success from every viewpoint. From the opening address which was given by Rev. John Clemens of Manistee, a former pastor of the local church, to the closing address by Rev. Chas. Kruse of Petoskey, all carried a high strain of inspiration. The meeting closed by the singing of the large chorus of 35 voices under the direction of Rev. John Lockyer of Charlevoix. There were 50 ministers and delegates present. The banquet at 6:15 was served by the Ladies' Aid Society, and was up to their usual fine quality.

A BUISNESS OPPORTUNITY

A manufacturer of automobiles leading in the fine car group, and appealing to owners of medium priced cars as well as those of the highest price range, is seeking a dealer in Charlevoix, capable of handling a rapidly expanding market. With the exception of Ford, this company has led all others in the rate of growth during the past six months—progress which is certain to continue. No other automobile so fully meets the demands of today's conditions. No other has so many exclusive selling advantages. The very rapidity of its market development makes necessary additional dealers in this territory. The opportunity merits the attention of big men. Years of satisfactory relations with successful dealers stand behind the company. Factory cooperation is extensive and well planned. One of the most vigorous promotion campaigns in its class, with one of the most outstandingly successful merchandising angles in the industry, exploits the product. Dominating advertising in national magazines and newspapers. Direct by mail and complete sales promotion. Confidential inquiries are solicited. A representative will be at the Charlevoix Hotel on November 21, 22 and 23 to interview persons interested. Ask for Mr. K. B. Crawford.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Who Writes the President's Papers.
Almost every President has had his "ghost writer." Hamilton wrote most of Washington's state papers; Roger B. Taney wrote Andrew Jackson's; the historian Bancroft and the great lawyer, Jeremiah S. Black, wrote Andrew Johnson's. That is to say, these understudies polished into to brilliant language the vigorous thought that the presidents themselves supplied.

Exceptions to this custom were made by Jefferson, Lincoln, Cleveland, Roosevelt and Wilson, who penned their own papers, though they sometimes had the Secretary of State formulate some important document. Lincoln's second inaugural address is regarded as one of the most perfect literary structures that has come from the White House. It would be interesting, however, to know definitely the author of Lincoln's Thanksgiving proclamation.

A president's literary style is rarely thought of apart from political and state declarations. In Calvin Coolidge's magazine articles we have a striking exception, and judging from the interest and comment on the part of readers, a pleasant one.

President Hoover has developed a homely style that makes his addresses noteworthy. It is so foreign to the scientific mind that some are led to believe that there is a writer of unusual ability on the staff of our engineering president. Nothing like these papers has ever come from a president. They have the sort of charm that one finds in the best of Goldsmith's Chinese Letters.

SICKLY BOY, 7, GAINS 15 LBS.—FATHER HAPPY

"My boy, 7, would not eat. I gave him Vinol and the way he eats and plays now makes me happy. He gained 15 pounds."—J. F. Andres.
Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver, yolk, iron, etc. The very first bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Tastes delicious. F. J. Fessenden.

speaking ability; for she has had long experience on the platform. Instead, she selected a method that lies nearer her heart because it is productive of more practical accomplishments. She is doing things for her constituents. First, she studies to find out their needs; then she plans a way to supply those needs; and then she winds up the job by doing everything she can to complete the circle. One of her hobbies is educating her people in the affairs of government and demonstrating to them the value of organization.

Old Washington newspaper men say that Mrs. Owen is going to prove a great stimulating influence in congress. She is so energetic and so intelligent that her influence is sure to broaden the longer she remains in congress. She is being closely observed, and her methods are studied. That in itself is a great compliment to her and to her sex.

Our Government Goes Hollywood

"If you want to know how we work, just watch us in the movie," staff members of the Women's Bureau at Washington can truthfully say. In a film entitled "The Story of the Women's Bureau," now ready for circulation, these women workers are turned into full actresses for the purpose of showing the ins and outs of the Bureau.

Brief as the movie is, a fairly comprehensive picture of the history, origin and activities of the Women's Bureau is shown, and there are some excellent close-ups. A typical bureau survey in the making is realistically filmed, from the time it is planned in conference until the findings are published and distributed.

This is not the first time the Women's Bureau has taken a lesson from Hollywood in making its exhibits. Another recent project was the movie, "The Woman Worker Past and Present," showing women at their various occupations in the field and in the professions. The exhibits, which include also miniature stage models, panels, graphic wall features and books, are used by women's clubs, schools, colleges, and social, civic, industrial and labor organizations in this country and abroad.

Politics This Week

Senator David Reed of Pennsylvania has publicly announced his opinion that the tariff bill is doomed. His statement was duly given front page honors, but it could scarcely have been "big news" to close observers of senate procedure. It is, however, the first admission by a majority member of the senate finance committee that the tariff revision for which a special session was called seems headed for a complete fiasco.

Exception to Senator Reed's honest opinion was immediately taken by Senator Smoot, who says that these individual sentiments do not reflect the intentions of the senate finance committee. More significant, however, is the statement of Senator Borah of Idaho, who remarks: "My opinion is that the tariff bill is going to die. I believe it is going to be made into a good bill and that it will be passed." Perhaps Senator Reed means only that the tariff bill that emerged from the finance committee is doomed. Perhaps Senator Borah is right in assuming that the tariff bill revised into a "good bill" will be passed. Consumers will do well to analyze carefully the implications underlying the two apparently conflicting statements.

Draw Your Own Conclusions.

No one believes all he hears about the power of big corporations. Yet one is sometimes allowed a peep behind the scenes of a large industry that proves beyond a doubt the homely adage that "It is dangerous to back the mighty."

A company that produces about half of the sugar manufactured in the United States naturally looks upon its territory as exclusive. When a rival smaller company tried to break into this monopoly in 1925-26, by offering to pay beet farmers a dollar more per ton for their beets, it was easy enough for the larger fellow to beat that game by offering two dollars more. It was just as easy to cut prices in the contested territory, even to the point of selling sugar at 4.2 cents per pound though the average price in the United States for that year was 5.5 cents.

Easy, indeed, for in spite of these tactics, the powerful corporation made 15 1/2 per cent on its inflated capital stock in one year and 16 1/2 per cent the next.

After teaching the smaller company a lesson in competition, the winning corporation thought it best to discipline the farmers. Accordingly, the price of a ton of beets was dropped the next year by one dollar, and that price held in spite of the desperate protests of the farmers. The company bought 3,282,000 tons of beets at a saving (to them) of $3,282,000 and a like loss to the farmer. Profits on their common stock jumped from 16 1/2 per cent to 45 per cent in one year.

The beet sugar people are asking for an increased tariff in order, they say, to enable them to pay the farmer a dollar more per ton for their beets. That tariff would increase the nation's sugar bill by $65,000,000 annually. Draw your own conclusions.

Politico-Personal Tragedies.

Washington is filled with illustrations of the queer, tragic tricks that political activity can play upon personal life. Here is one that has been most recently talked about.

During the World War the Czechoslovakian had a large propaganda bureau here. Attached to it was a Slovak, who had been a thorn in the side of the Austrian government. Highly educated, a leader among the students, he was a natural born revolutionist and agitator. As an orator he had few equals among his own people. He was sent to this country to stir up the Bohemians and Slovaks over here, and in his capacity as a spell binder he was in great demand in the west, where most of the Czechs live.

His work was done, his people freed, his health broken down from excessive labors in the course of liberty, this remarkable man, a year or two ago, died by his own hand in sight of the very flame of liberty itself. The shock put his childless widow in a sanatorium where she has slowly regained her health.

In the Congressional Cemetery they laid the tired man's body down to rest in an unmarked grave. His widow, as her bodily strength came back to her, turned her thoughts to the little mountain valley in which her man was born and where they were married. She sent there for a particular boulder which had been part of their resting place, and the other day it came overseas, even with the green moss on it, and now it rests on top of his grave, and on it is a small bronze tablet giving his name, his nativity, and the fact that he was her loved one.

FAKER GETS LETTERS IN CARE OF SHERIFF

State Police Arrest Salesman Who Has Defrauded Farmers.

One volunteer "member" of the staff of poultry specialists at Michigan State College is now spending a vacation without pay in the Cheboygan county jail.

This man has called in poultrymen throughout Michigan and after examining a flock of birds would prescribe remedies which were supposed to cure everything from frost-bitten combs to bumblefoot. He stated that he was on the staff at Michigan State College.

State police had been warned by the college and the State Department of Agriculture to bring the man in for questioning if he could be located. The suspicions of a Cheboygan county farmer when the faker killed a fat hen, pronounced it diseased, and offered to sell medicine brought the salesman into the hands of the police.

The examination before a justice of the peace disclosed that there are two of the medicine men in the state. While it is probable that the one at large will go into some other business for a time, farmers are warned that anyone representing themselves as members of the college staff and trying to sell any remedies should be regarded with suspicion.

A telephone call to the county agricultural agent will enable any farmer to check up on the claims of salesmen who say they are from the college.

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES.

McGEACH SCHOOL NOTES

Carlton Ager had the misfortune to sprain his thumb Monday morning. Mrs. George Block has gone to Chicago, where she will visit her sister and other relatives.

Mr. Kuvar left last week for Toledo, where he expects to find employment for the winter.

The attendance has been very poor the past week, as so many were ill after being vaccinated. Everyone is better now, however.

Most of the harvest work is done and some of the men are planning their annual hunting trips. Mr. Shapton leaves some day this week to hunt deer in the north woods.

We are practicing plays and exercises for a Thanksgiving entertainment which we will give Friday, November 22nd. Watch for a complete program in next week's paper. There will also be a box social after the program.

Mr. Mollencamp visited us last week and explained how to form clubs. The girls have decided to organize a sewing club. The first meeting was held Monday, November 11th, and the following officers elected: Sophia Kerchak, president; Clara Crampton, vice-president, and Antonia Kovar, secretary and treasurer. Mrs. McGarry consented to be leader of the club.

NORWOOD SCHOOL NOTES

We are having a new storm shed put up.

Keith Kerr was absent from school last week because of illness.

Forrest and Alton Kerr were absent from school two days of last week.

Dorothy and Biddy Hull are spending the week in Elm, visiting relatives and friends.

On Wednesday of last week, Mrs. Biery came to take a picture of the school.

Those having 100 in spelling thru the week of tests are as follows: Catherine Richardson, Lynn Kerr and Doyle Richardson.

Those neither absent nor tardy so far this term are: Doyle Richardson, Martin Richardson, Marjorie Richardson and Forrest Wagner.

We have a new outside door with a lock that the teacher couldn't even open, also a lock on the basement door.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.
Subject, "Mortals and Immortals."
Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:30 to 5:30 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, November 10.

Among citations which comprised the lesson-lesson was the following from the Bible: "For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive" (1 Cor. 15:22).

The lesson-lesson also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Thru discernment of the spiritual opposite of materiality, even the way through Christ, Truth, man will reopen with the key of divine Science the gates of Paradise which human beliefs have closed, and will find himself unfallen, upright, pure, and free, not needing to consult almanacs for the probabilities either of his life or of the weather, not needing to study brainology to learn how much of a man he is" (p. 171).

CHURCH OF GOD.

Sunday school at 10 o'clock.
Preaching at 11 o'clock, also at 7:30 every Sunday.

On account of the union meeting at the Congregational church last Sunday night, our revival was postponed one day, beginning on Monday night and continuing with a real gospel message every night.

The public is cordially invited to attend these meetings as there will be something of interest for everyone.

OCTOBER REPORT OF DAIRY HERDS

BREEZY POINT FARM NEAR IRONTON WINS HONORS.

Eddie Mortimore Reports Results of Cow-testing Work to County
During Past Month.

Following is the October report of the Dairy Herd Improvement association, submitted by Eddie Mortimore, county cow-tester:

The high herd for the month of October is owned by the Breezy Point Farm of Ironton. Their nine pure bred Holsteins produced on an average of 34.8 pounds of butter fat and 1038 pounds of milk. Ed. Potter of Charlevoix, ranks next with a herd of nine pure bred Holsteins producing an average of 31 pounds of butter fat and 769 pounds of milk. The third high herd is owned by Frank Behling of East Jordan. His six pure bred Holsteins produced an average of 28.0 lbs. of butter fat and 751 pounds of milk.

Orville Gonsalus of East Jordan, is the owner of the high 2-year-old for the month, a grade Guernsey producing 37.4 pounds of butter fat and 849 pounds of milk. A pure bred Jersey holds second place in this class, and is owned by George Meggison of Charlevoix. Thirty-seven-two pounds of butter fat and 976 pounds of milk were produced. The third high cow in this class was owned by Irving Crawford of East Jordan. She is a grade Guernsey and produced 34.6 pounds of butter fat and 850 pounds of milk.

In the 3-year-old class, Walter Heilman, also of East Jordan, holds first place with a grade Guernsey that made a record of 45.3 pounds of butter fat and 755 pounds of milk. A grade Guernsey owned by Irving Crawford ranks next with a record of 39.2 pounds of butter fat and 955 pounds of milk. Joel Bennett and Son of Ionia City, hold third place with a grade Jersey that made a record of 37.1 pounds of butter fat and 845 pounds of milk.

In the 4-year-old class a pure bred Jersey owned by George Meggison is first with a record of 41.3 pounds of butter fat and 769 pounds of milk. Second place is entitled to a pure bred Holstein owned by the Breezy Point Farm, with 41.1 pounds of butter fat and 1283 pounds of milk. The third high cow, a pure bred Holstein, also owned by the Breezy Point Farm, produced 40.8 pounds of butter fat and 1073 pounds of milk.

AVES LABORERS VACATIONS

Edward G. Senbert, president of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) who last March succeeded Col. R. W. Stewart as its chief executive, has just announced a new vacation plan for that company which is attracting wide attention. Whereas in most companies vacations are given only to salaried workers, Mr. Senbert's administration has given them also to hourly paid workers on a basis of one week vacation after five years of employment and two weeks after ten years. The new plan affects 6,000 employees scattered over ten states of the Middle West. With 6,000 salaried workers already receiving vacations, the company will now have 11,000 on its vacation list. The company's hourly paid workers had been asking for vacations for more than ten years but their plea had been repeatedly denied by the previous administration on the grounds of impracticability. "Far from being impracticable," declared Mr. Senbert in announcing the new plan, "we expect to get an appreciable return from it through increased loyalty."

In the mature cow class William Withers of the Marion Center Dairy of Charlevoix, ranks first with a pure bred Holstein that produced 49.1 pounds of butter fat and 1283 pounds of milk. A pure bred Holstein owned by Breezy Point Farm holds second place with a record of 45.5 lbs. of butter fat and 1339 pounds of milk. Roscoe Smith of East Jordan, ranks third with a pure bred Holstein that produced for her owner 45.0 pounds of butter fat and 1364 pounds of milk.

In the 26 herds tested there were 291 cows, 26 of which were dry. Twenty-five of the 26 members were feeding grain and 56 were weighing the milk. Out of the nine separators tested, none were losing money for their owners.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES By B. C. Mellencamp

New Potato Grading Law Explained.
As a result of having many inquiries coming to my office relative to the new potato grading law, the following brief explanations will be submitted, hoping it will clear up the situation for both the growers and the retailers:

Of Importance to the Grower.
Growers are not compelled to grade or tag potatoes when they sell their own production direct to the consumer, and do not require a license to sell their own production. They must grade and mark each container in all other sales. Growers must have a license when they buy for resale, truck, grade, or land for resale all potatoes other than their own production.

Potatoes must be graded and stamped on the premises where prepared for market. Preparation for market means proper grading and proper marking or stamping. When graded on the premises where prepared for market and when legibly and conspicuously labeled, stamped, or tagged with the name and address of person or persons responsible for the grading and the name of the grade, together with the true net contents, and thus delivered to the retailer, the grower's responsibility then begins.

Whoever buys, trucks, grades or loads for resale must have a license, which costs $1.00 and is good for one year from the State Commissioner of Agriculture.

Responsibility of Grocer.

Retail merchants must not offer for sale, or sell potatoes which are not graded. Each container must be marked as required unless he sells direct from the sack or container already graded and properly marked and in plain sight of the customer.

The retailer cannot, however, empty potatoes from the sack or container above described into a bin or other receptacle, or mix them with other potatoes unless he again grades such potatoes in accordance with the requirements of Act No. 220, and when selling same marks the individual packages going to the consumer and of course securing a license to grade potatoes.

The single instance in which the grower is released from marking the individual packages going to the consumer is when he sells direct from the container, already graded and marked and in plain view of the consumer.

The stamp, label or tag used by the retailer shall be securely affixed to the package going to the consumer, and shall be printed in letters not less than 3-16ths of an inch standard type, as for example:

U. S. Grade No.

WALLOON LAKE HAS A BAD FIRE LOSS

Barn at Summer Estate of Don Cawthra is Heavy Loss.

About 10 o'clock last Friday morning fire was discovered in the large barn at the summer estate of Don Cawthra at Walloon Lake. Carl Stevens, manager of the farm, with his other employees was working in the woods back of the barn when they noticed the smoke and flames. The fire had such a start by the time anyone could reach the scene, that there was little chance of saving anything, although a few head of cattle were safely taken out.

Eight cows, about 25 tons of hay, several hundred bushels of grain and a large amount of machinery were burned. No cause for the fire could be determined unless it was from spontaneous combustion.

The farm with its fine residence, barns and other buildings is located on the hill just south and east of the village and was one of the show places of that region.

Mr. Cawthra's home is in Grand Rapids.

UNITY URGED AS ADVERTISING AID

CO-ORDINATION OF RESORT BUS-REAS IS PLANNED.

Official Insignia is Adopted for Use by Endorsed Hotels,
Garages and Cafes.

All state advertising will supplement regional advertising of the four tourist and resort associations which are participating in the allotment of $200,000 for the purpose by the state. Edward Hyer of the department of conservation stated last Thursday.

Hyer said that at a meeting of representatives of the four associations held last week in Bay City, a major step was taken toward unifying the efforts of the groups. An official insignia was adopted which will be used by the associations and resorts, hotels, garages and cafes which they endorse.

"It was agreed at the meeting," Hyer stated, "that of the money spent by the organizations next year, $24,000 shall go into a joint fund for all-state advertising. This will be used to finance the issuance of an 'All-Michigan' booklet, poster advertising, participation in the outdoor show which will be held in Detroit next spring and other methods. The representatives set aside $8,000 for newspaper advertising alone. These sums are, of course, in addition to that which will be spent for sectional purposes."

The insignia to which Hyer referred will consist of an outline map of the entire state with the word "Michigan" superimposed. At one side will be the words "State Tourist and Resort Associations."

A meeting similar to that held in Bay City is scheduled to be held in Lansing December 5.

Slightly more than $150,000 remains of the $200,000 appropriated by the 1929 legislature for state advertising purposes. Through oversight the time limit for expenditures was fixed at next June 30, but before that date the organizations will contract for expenditure of the entire sum, permitting the administrative board to approve the vouchers.

AT THE MOVIES.

Pleasure's Price is Heavy Penalty.
"Two by two ye sin, but ye must pay one by one."

One of the world's greatest poets wrote that line and voiced a truth that all men and women know. And well might the author of "The Pace That Kills," coming to the Palace Theatre, Tuesday, November 19th, have had that line in mind.

A country boy, fresh and eager with the joy of living, comes to a big city, and there he meets a girl. Together they follow the road that leads to pleasure's pinnacles, only to find that they are following the pace that kills. Two by two they traveled the pace—but one by one they paid for it.

Thus in a few words is told a thrillingly dramatic story that is made to live in vivid flashing scenes on the screen in "The Pace That Kills." And for the role of the girl—the producers in this picture, which has aroused ministers, public and educators to a new realization of life's dangers for the young, chose that little beauty, Virginia Royce, whose astonishing work in "The Road to Ruin" raised her to immediate stardom.

Three tuneful new song hits written by Eddie Leonard, minstrel man, composer of the ever-popular "Old Sweet as Apple Cider," and other favorites, and Jack Stern, are sung by Leonard in "Melody Lane," Universal all-dialogue and music picture, in which he appears as star, which opens November 21 at the Palace Theatre.

Wild Adventure in Epic Film Stirrs Audience.

One of the greatest, if not the very greatest of the year's motion pictures comes to the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday, November 16 and 17.

It is the third of a series by those old master craftsmen of adventuring camera work, Merriam C. Cooper and Ernest B. Schoedsack. They are remembered for the startling bigness of their earlier successes, "Chang," and "Grass."

smokers!

It's just too bad if any smoker because of misinformation denies himself or herself the pleasure of CAMELS.

New smokers are not always in a position to have a real preference in cigarettes. But when they acquaint themselves with Camels they develop that sense of discrimination that leads to real smoking pleasure. Camels are made so carefully and of so good a blend of choicest cigarette tobaccos that even those with inexperienced smoking taste quickly recognize their superiority. They are for those who appreciate the taste of choice tobaccos, the fragrance of a perfect blend and the soothing mellowness of a really satisfying cigarette.

FIRST LECTURE COURSE MONDAY

LISZT ENSEMBLE MELODY BELLES OPEN SERIES.

Mme. Maria Mashir, Noted Russian Prima Donna, Will Be Member of Entertaining Group.

Announcement is made that Mme. Maria Mashir, noted Russian prima donna soprano, will be one of the members of the Liszt Ensemble Melody Belles company which will appear here next Monday evening, under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers association.

Madame Mashir, after having scored outstanding successes in Europe, came to this country and was one of the principal members of the Russian Grand Opera Company on an extended tour of America.

She will feature here a number of favorite operatic arias, some of them presented in special costume.

The program of the Liszt Ensemble Melody Belles is a varied one and appeals to the entire audience—music lovers, as well as those who delight in the more popular forms of musical entertainment.

Building on Liszt selections, the company presents compositions of the great masters of many lands. Novelty musical arrangements are introduced to provide pleasing variety and entertainment. An unusual feature is a girls' string quartet.

Beautiful costumes are most effective.

The personnel of the company is as follows: Grace Keesler, pianist; Lillian Tucker and Sally Sheffield, violinists; Marian Partee, cellist; Mme. Mashir, soprano.

The Liszt Ensemble Melody Belles will open a series of five entertainments to be held throughout the winter months under the auspices of the Charlevoix Parent Teacher Association. This organization has made an endeavor to provide the very best in entertainment and will appreciate liberal support of the public.

ANNUAL MEETING OF W. C. T. U. DEC. 13TH

Mrs. Olla K. Marshall Addressed Union and Schools Last Week.

Mrs. Cassie Hart presented a fine paper on International Relations at the W. C. T. U. meeting last Friday afternoon in the Community Club room, giving the developments of the last year looking to peace among the nations.

Mrs. Olla K. Marshall of Coopersville, editor of the Michigan Union, gave a temperance address on the need of continued organization of the women and work with the children in order to hold the ground already won.

Mrs. Marshall was the guest of the Union from Thursday to Saturday and spoke five times. Three of her talks were given before the public school children, one at the high school, another at the Junior high and a third before the grade pupils assembled in the gymnasium. She also spoke at a Union meeting in the Congregational church Thursday evening.

The annual meeting of the Union will be held December 13th, when reports of the year's work will be given and the next year's officers installed.

DIG UP INDIAN SKELETON ON SHORE OF ROUND LAKE

A skeleton, presumably that of an Indian, was unearthed by workmen digging out an oak tree for a Detroit man near his new cottage on the north side of Round lake, Friday.

The site for the garage occupied part of a mound, and on the mound grew an oak tree eight or nine inches in diameter. When digging out the tree, the workmen noted the earth fall away suddenly, leaving the roots exposed. Further examination showed skull and other bones beneath the tree, also a quantity of arrow heads.

SPECIAL POTATO SHOW SUPPLEMENT

CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1929

GUY EPPLE WON THE GROWERS CONTEST

Twenty-two Entrants from Seven Counties Compete for the Grand Prize

One of the new features of the Seventh Annual Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show this fall was the prize of $100.00 awarded to the most outstanding potato grower in Michigan. The money is to be used to defray expenses to a Prince Edward Island Potato Tour in 1930. There were 22 entrants in this contest from seven counties, mostly from within the Top O' Michigan. When the committee of awards annulled up the different sections of this contest, it was found that Guy Epple of Petoskey, Emmet County, was the winner.

The selection of this winner was based upon several factors: Yield counted for 100 points; cost of production, 100 points; quality of crop, 100 points; ability to grade, 100 points; ability to select show sample, 100 points. Each contestant was required to make application to the Farm Crops Department, Michigan State College, who supervised the taking of yields and figuring cost of production. A selected area from the field was bagged up, sealed, and delivered to the warehouse of the Association. On the first day of the Show each contestant opened his bag and graded the entire lot according to the Michigan Grading Standards, under the supervision of a member of the State Department of Agriculture.

This representative of the State Department of Agriculture also judged the quality of his crop. From these lots of two and one-half bushels, the contestants also were required to select 12 potatoes as a show sample. These heins, judged by E. B. Tussing, Potato Specialist at Ohio State University.

When the contest was over, it was found that Mr. Epple was first in yield, first in cost of production per bushel, and first in quality of crop. He ranked second in ability to grade and second in ability to select a show sample. Other contestants who ranked well up toward the top were Randolph Klee, of Presque Isle County; Carl Bonnet, of Chelanigan County; Frank Bellong of Charlevoix County; and Frank Hatter of Chelanigan County who were among the first five in the order named. Other Top O' Michigan finalists represented were Otsego and Kalkaska.

ANNUAL BANQUET IS DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

J. E. Richards Presided as Toastmaster; Several Interesting Speeches

The banquet program at the Seventh Annual Show this year was unusual in that it was mostly of a humorous nature. J. E. Richards, Editor of the Alpena News, was toastmaster and carried the program along in splendid fashion.

Robert Mischand of Alpena was soloist and sang several selections that were greatly appreciated by the 350 persons attending the banquet. Miss Florence Becker, Nutrition Specialist, Michigan State College, gave an interesting talk on foods, advising that a person should eat at least one potato a day and not to forget carrots, spinach, and cabbage.

The Beauty Contest was a feature of the banquet program and consisted of 18 girls from 7 counties in the Top O' Michigan. Miss Florence Becker and R. G. Carr, County Agent Leader, both of Michigan State College, and T. F. Marston, Secretary-Manager of the Northeast-Continued on Last Page

EMMET COUNTY CLUB MEMBERS SHOW WAY

Petoskey Kiwanians Are Helping Boys and Girls by Lending Them Money

A. R. Schuber, County Agricultural Agent of Emmet County, states that the 4-H Club Potato work in his County is helping very materially to increase the quality of potatoes in his territory. He also states that the community spirit fostered by the Kiwanis Club of Petoskey is helping very considerably.

Last winter, in one of the outlying townships of the County, where extension work during the past has not been taken hold of very well, two 4-H Clubs carried on the Clothing and Handicraft projects. These Clubs were made up entirely of Polish boys and girls. Their interest and desire to carry on the work, was shown by the fact that both Clubs finished their project 100 percent.

The boys were not content to let the summer go by without engaging in some form of summer 4-H Club work and after considering the different projects, they chose the potato work. Altho seed was relatively cheap last spring, the boys were not in a position to buy certified seed and their fathers did not feel that they could help them.

UNLIMITED FIELD FOR CERTIFIED IN OHIO

Prof. Tussing Says There Is a Big Demand for No. 2's from Certified Seed

Professor E. B. Tussing, Potato Specialist at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, besides assisting in judging potatoes this year, appeared in the luncheon program given by the certified seed growers of Northern Michigan. Mr. Tussing is well known in Northern Michigan, because of his many visits to this region in search of high grade certified seed and will be remembered as the leader of the party of Ohio potato growers who came to Northern Michigan last August by special alluvians and spent three days visiting fields of certified seed potatoes at Otsego, Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, Chelanigan, Missaukee and

Wexford Counties.

Professor Tussing gives just the kind of a talk that the certified seed growers of the Top O' Michigan need. He tells them frankly what the Ohio potato growers want in the way of certified seed and that if they want to supply it is up to them to produce it. Professor Tussing stated that Ohio grows 120,000 acres of potatoes each year and the average amount of potatoes planted per acre is about 12 bushels, the rate of planting varying from eight bushels to 24 bushels per acre. Of these 120,000 acres, only 6,000 acres are planted with certified seed. The balance are planted from home grown seed or seed which has been grown from certified seed the year previous.

"Ohio is interested in Russet Rural seed potatoes, because of the superior yield," according to Professor Tussing. "In ten trials of white potatoes, the yield averaged 144 bushels per acre and in 33 trials of Russet Rural, the average yield was 171 bushels per acre."

Professor Tussing remarked that "there is a great deal of confusion caused by the fact that considerable amounts of table stock or uncertified seed potatoes are shipped into Ohio and sold for seed purposes. This action," he remarked, "will hurt the seed growers of Northern Michigan and it is up to you to eliminate this practice yourselves."

EAST JORDAN CHORUS WON FIRST PLACE IN THE SINGING CONTEST

The Top O' Michigan town and county choir singing contest attracted more attention than usual during the church choirs of Northern Michigan.

Nine church choirs from all over Northern Michigan made application to enter this contest and when Professor Robert Graham, of the Music Department, Michigan State College, announced the winner, the East Jordan Community Church was declared to be the first winner and also presented with a check amounting to $60.00 for first place winning. The Vanderbilt Methodist Church won second place and $40.00; the Belllake Community Church won third place and $20.00; Atwood Reformed Church won fourth place and $10.00.

This singing contest is an annual affair at this show and is conducted under the auspices of the R. E. Olds Community Fund and Michigan State College of Applied Sciences.

R. W. Tenny, Director of Short Courses, Michigan State College, had direct charge of the contest.

RAY WARNER WINS INTER-NATIONAL HARVESTER TRIP

Ray Warner of Gaylord, was the winner in the contest sponsored by the Ford Hardware and Implement Company of Gaylord and the Saginaw branch of the International Harvester Company. This contest was for a free trip to the National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago.

There was a total of seventeen entries in this contest, Emmet County having one, Otsego County six, Chelanigan County three, Presque Isle County five and Antrim County two. The contest was open to all 4-H potato club members in the territory who could meet the requirements.

The entries at the show were judged by C. A. Tolass the regular judge of the show, the reports and stories were scored by Mr. G. A. Thorpe, Assistant State Club Leader and Mr. Bert Vermuth, Editor of the "Michigan Farmer."

Ray Warner, the winner of the contest, is a fifth year potato club member, a Junior in the Gaylord High School. He has been growing certified seed since he started in club work. This year he raised five acres, renting the land from his father and borrowing from the bank for fertilizer, seed, etc. Two years ago Ray was the State Champion in the Senior group of potato club members.

MICHIGAN IS LEADING STATE IN SMALL FRUIT

Value of Crop and Quality of Northern Grown Fruit Is of Great Importance

Michigan is the leading state in small fruit production, according to H. E. Loeve of the Horticultural Department of Michigan State College, who assisted in judging apples at the Show and spoke on opportunities for small fruit production in Michigan.

He stressed the importance of these cash crops in Northern Michigan due to the more favorable price of the time the product was marketed and the high quality product grown in this climate.

A summary of his talk to the Potato Show visitors was as follows:

"According to reports from the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the strictly commercial strawberry acreage in the state amounts to about 6,000 acres. Of these about 4,000 acres are found in Berrien and Van Buren Counties. This acreage has varied from year to year, but on the whole it has not changed much during the last ten years. The raspberry acreage, however, has increased considerably. A very conservative estimate of the present acreage has been placed at 12,000 acres. However, on the basis of the acreage inspected-Continued on page 3

DAIRYING WILL HELP THE POTATO GROWER

Professor E. L. Anthony Advises Against Placing All Efforts On One Crop

Professor E. L. Anthony, head of the Dairy Department, Michigan State College, addressed the Top O' Michigan audience on Thursday afternoon with one of the very best speeches heard throughout the week. In clear concise statements, he convinced everyone that the dairy business was fundamental to Northern Michigan and that success in the certified seed potato business depended largely upon it.

He said, "Very few professions will permit those engaged in it to labor only four months a year and make a large annual income, and certainly farming is not one of them. The man who specializes in potatoes or some other ordinary farm crop is engaged in productive labor for only about four months in the year. He may be busy the rest of the year, but not in pursuits that bring much of a return. The man who combines a good dairy herd with his potato patch is distributing his hours of productive labor throughout the year, regardless of weather, season, or anything else. Methods of Fertilizing Crop for Best Results in Potato Raising Professor C. E. Millar of the Sullis Department of the Michigan State College gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the proper balance of plant food and organic matter in soils for the potato crop at the Thursday afternoon session of the Potato Show.

Professor Millar has spent over fifteen years studying Michigan soils and his remarks are well founded. It was unfortunate that every potato grower in the Top O' Michigan could not have heard him. A synopsis of his talk is as follows:

"The production of potatoes is a specialized industry in which yield and quality of product are the outstanding factors. The cost of growing potatoes is so great that in item, which will lead to a large yield of high quality product can be neglected if the crop is to be profitable.

In this district potatoes are the main cash crop, they are the favorite child in other words, and as such, are entitled to more consideration than other crops.

"While climatic conditions and disease have a great influence on both yield and marketability of potatoes, soil conditions are perhaps-Continued on page 3

CLUB BOYS PROVE KNOWLEDGE OF GOOD POTATOES AT EXHIBIT

From the standpoint of both numbers and quality the 4-H club exhibit at the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show was the best yet. There were seven clubs or schools with a five sample exhibit and a total of 48 individual entries. Forty-seven of these were Russet Rural and the other a sample of Irish Cobbler.

The 4-H Clubs and Smith Hughes Schools exhibiting were: Lark Lake Potato Club; Alba Certified Seed Club; Hayes Potato Club; and the East Jordan Potato Club. The Smith Hughes schools in the territory covered by the Show are taking real interest in the work and we may look for more exhibits from them each year.

It was unfortunate that some of the best 4-H club samples had to be used in the County Exhibits, as this did not give the clubs credit for having the quality and numbers that they really had. Of course in some cases this may be necessary in order to have a county exhibit, but this year in one county exhibit there were five 4-H club samples and in another three club samples. Naturally these were the best from that county and as long as this continues 4-H club work will not show for what it really is at the show.

Meet Miss Julia Allen, the charming queen of the 1929 Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show. Miss Allen captured the blue ribbon of beauty at the banquet Thursday night when a tribunal of three assessed her poise and symmetry and charm in competition with 17 other maidens. C. M. McCrary placed the official coronet upon her head. Miss Allen will go to Lansing in February where she will compete for the state title at the State Potato Show with winners from six other potato shows.

Naming a Potato Queen was an innovation. It manifestly was a popular added feature to the banquet if the interest of the audience and the enthusiasm may be used as a gauge.

The selection of Miss Allen seemed to be a popular choice. Miss Allen is a tall, sweet beauty who attends the Gaylord High School. She probably could be classified as neither a blonde or brunette. While her features and physical endowments were outstanding, it is probable that her wisdom and grace were heavy contributing factors in aiding the judges to reach their final decision. It was noted too, that embellishments from rouge and lip stick were not necessary for her to gain the approval of the judges.

There were 18 contestants from seven counties and everyone of the 18 was possessed of charms, graces and attractions which made the deliberations of the judges extremely difficult. The judges were Roswell Carr, Lansing; T. F. Marston, Bay City; and Miss Florence Becker, Lansing. This choice of the queen was made with the banqueters looking-Continued on last page

661 ENTRIES IN SPUDS-APPLES

Largest Entry in History—A 28 Per Cent Increase Over Last Year

BUILDINGS WERE IDEAL

Exhibits of Potatoes and Apples, Banquet, Lecture Hall and Implement Show

The Seventh Annual Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show will be recorded as the biggest and best show ever held. This same statement made each year merely proclaims that the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show is growing each year and serving the potato and apple growers of this region in a way that no other institution could.

Housed in the three 4-H Club buildings, which were erected this summer through a special appropriation of the State Legislature, ample quarters were available for all sections of the Show that were beginning to tax the facilities in Gaylord. These three buildings erected on the airgrounds just outside the City limits are ideal for an exhibition of this nature. Each building is 60 x 160 feet.

The first of these buildings was used to house the main exhibits of potatoes and apples, of which there were 661 entries—the largest entry list ever made, and a 28 percent increase over last year.

The second building was used to hold the meetings each day at which representatives of the Michigan State College and other noted speakers, within and without the State, discussed agricultural problems confronting the farmers of Northern Michigan.

The third building was used to house the machinery exhibits and was nearly full of potato sprayers, diggers, planters, trucks and trailers. It was an ideal setup.

The spirit of the exhibitors and officers was not in the least dampened by the continuous downpour of rain the day before the Show and during the first and second days of the Show. On the third day, however, the sun came out brightly to proclaim that the third and final day of the greatest show ever held was coming to an end.

Particular comment should be made on the wonderful exhibit of apples displayed this year. Not only did the exhibits outnumber those in past years, but the quality was the finest ever seen at the Top O' Michigan Show and many remarked that it was the best apple show they had ever seen. It may be appropriate to remark that R. W. Bees, Horticulturist for the New York Central Lines at Rochester, New York, an International Judge of apple exhibits, stated that the sweepstakes tray, won by D. D. Tibbitts, would receive first place in any show in the country and that most of the first place winners of the Show would place in any Show that he had ever judged. H. C. Whiting of Kewadilla, D. D. Tibbitts of Bay City, the Evelyn Orchards of East Jordan and the Orchard Beach Farm of Chelanigan were again the heavy exhibitors and took away most of the prize money.

Even though the apple entries were so greatly enlarged and the fact that more attention was given to the apples this year, it did not in any way reflect on the interest shown by the potato exhibitors. The larger number of potato exhibits were entered and the peak exhibit of Russet Rural showed the greatest entry list of any show in date, with over 50 competing for the honor-Continued on last page

ORGANIC MATTER IS NECESSARY FOR SPUDS

Green Manure Is Needed in Soil to Hold Moisture for Dry Season

Green manure crops play a large part in the successful growing of certified seed potatoes. In Kalkaska County, according to John Dreyfuss, County Agricultural Agent, "The farmers of Kalkaska County that turned under a good growth of alfalfa or sweet clover last summer, then followed with rye and vetch crop that was either plowed or disked in this past spring have come thru the dry summer with a good potato crop," he remarked at the Show.

"In contrast, fields that had very little green growth turned under last fall and were allowed to remain bare throughout the fall and winter months suffered from the lack of moisture. Several of these fields ripened prematurely due to lack of moisture, making this stock unfit for seed purposes. These fields have yielded from one hundred twenty-five to one hundred fifty bushels per acre."

"Northern Michigan farmers are blessed with a sandy loam soil that is naturally adapted to the growing of quality potatoes. However, this same sandy loam soil doubtless presents one of the most difficult problems that the potato farmers of this area have to face. The aver-Continued on page 3

BECOME FAMILIAR WITH GRADING LAW

Commissioner of Agriculture Gives Rules Concerning the Grading
and Selling

The farmers of Northern Michigan can well afford to familiarize themselves with the following rules and regulations governing the sale of table stock potatoes commonly known as the Irish potatoes, issued by Herbert B. Powell, Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture and Peter D. Dukeshoror, Director Bureau of Foods and Standards.

By virtue of the power conferred on the Commissioner of Agriculture under the provisions of Act No. 220, Public Acts of 1923, the following rules and regulations are made and established governing the sale of table stock potatoes commonly known as Irish potatoes:

1. All table stock commonly known as Irish potatoes must be graded unless sold by the producer direct to the consumer.

2. There are three grades of table stock potatoes: U. S. Fancy Grade, U. S. No. 1 Grade, and U. S. No. 2 Grade.

3. Potatoes must be graded and stamped on the premises where prepared for market. Preparation for market means proper grading and proper marking or stamping. When graded on the premises where prepared for market and when legibly and conspicuously labeled, stamped or tagged with the name and address of the person or persons responsible for the grading and packing, and the name of the grade, together with true net contents, and are thus delivered to the grocer or retailer, the grocer or retailer's responsibility then begins.

4. If the grocer or retailer sells potatoes properly graded from a sack or container properly marked and the sack or container remains in plain view of the purchaser so that such purchaser may ascertain and know that the potatoes are in fact graded and that he may know which grade of potatoes he is receiving and the name and address of the person responsible for the grading, the grocer is not required in such case to label or mark each individual package going to the consumer.

5. The grocer or retailer cannot, however, empty potatoes from a sack above described into a bin or other receptacle, or mix them with other potatoes unless he again grades such potatoes in accordance with the requirements of Act No. 220, Public Acts of 1923, and when selling same marks the individual packages going to the consumer as by law required.

6. The single instance in which the individual packages going to the consumer is when he sells direct from the sack or container, already graded and properly marked and in view of the customer.

7. The stamp, label or tag used by the grocer or retailer shall be securely affixed to the package going to the consumer, and shall be printed in letters not less than 3-16 of an inch standard type.

"Potatoes will not make you fat," according to Dr. Mikkel Hindhede of Denmark.

"The person who said that a fat man eating a potato was one of the poorest of tragedies sacrificed truth to make a clever phrase," according to Dr. Hindhede. "Potatoes are among the best health foods," he declared.

"If Americans would eat five times more potatoes," the doctor said, "there would be less illness in the nation." There is no more reason for abstaining from eating potatoes than for eating meat off the menu.

Potatoes have as many calories as meat, butter and eggs, but less of Vitamin A.

Dr. Hindhede was Food Administrator of Denmark during the war and is known as the Herbert Hoover of Denmark. He is a scientist who has earned world fame for his researches in food values.

She's Weakening

IN THE EYES OF THE POTATO

When Bulley wrote, "There are whole velus of diamonds in thine eyes," he probably was not gazing into the eyes of a lovely girl. But nevertheless, when we look into the eyes of a smooth-skinned, well-developed, matured Michigan potato, we find five treasures concealed there, more valued than diamonds.

The treasure in greatest abundance is a fine quality of starch, an energy food that forms an essential part of our three squares per day. A potato which is baked or mashed separates into a savory, steaming, creamy mass of glistening white particles is high in starch value.

And there is a second treasure which we find secreted beneath the eyes of the potato. It is protein, another food element required to grow a normal healthy body. Protein in potatoes is found in small quantities, but it is of good quality and in a form easily digested.

The third treasure hidden beneath the Irish eyes of the potato is a group of minerals, of which iron is of greatest importance. Potatoes compare favorably with other vegetables as a source of iron, and provide an inexpensive supply.

Another treasure ever present in this vegetable is those mysterious elements so necessary to abundant health, growth, and even life itself, known as vitamins. Nutrition specialists have discovered in potatoes two of these valuable constituents—vitamin B and vitamin C.

And finally, every mature tuber is possessed with a fifth treasure that is responsible for giving potatoes a place in our regular diet. This treasure is flavor. Potatoes, properly cooked, have a delicious flavor that is irreplaceable to a normal healthy appetite.

Just why the home cook peels potatoes every penny expended by home folks for home-made and home-sold products is money spent with ourselves, for ourselves—not with and for some uninterested person or concern elsewhere. One may talk right, vote right, live right, but unless one buys right he has not entirely reached the standard expected of every resident.

A friend commends the move to make prison surroundings attractive. "In time," says he, "they will look so much like home that people will really succeed in keeping out of them."

potatoes nine times out of ten when preparing them for cooking, has never been accounted for. By this method she is losing two valuable treasures of the potato, flavor and food value. Tests show that the best part of the potato lies next to the skin, and in peeling, a large part of this "good part" is wasted. Potatoes that are either baked, boiled or steamed "in their jackets," have better flavor and more food value than those that are peeled before cooking.

It is gratifying to note the progress that is being made in improving the quality of potatoes raised in Michigan. By practicing approved methods of cultivation, planting certified seed, and conforming with the compulsory grading laws, the standard of Michigan spuds has been raised. Michigan farmers can take just pride in the quality and grade of their potato crop. Michigan housewives, too, should take equal pride in serving Michigan potatoes in the most appetizing ways possible.

NORWEGIAN POTATOES

2 cups raw diced potatoes
1 cup raw diced carrots
1 small onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons butter or fat
Saute the onions in half of the fat, then add carrots, potatoes, and seasonings. Bake in a greased baking dish with enough water to come to the top of vegetables; cover and cook until tender, then drain off water, if any, add rest of butter, and let brown, uncovered.

POTATO DUMPLINGS

2 1/2 cups mashed potatoes
4 eggs, beaten separately

1 cup cracker crumbs
1/2 cup flour
1 tablespoon shortening
1 teaspoon salt
Cream shortening and add beaten eggs. Mix dry ingredients and sift about one-third into the mixture. Add remainder of dry ingredients slowly. Fold in the whites last.

POTATO TEA CAKE

1 cup cold mashed potatoes
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup milk
4 cups flour
Salt
Mix potato and flour, and rub in shortening. Add seasoning and then add milk, and roll to one-half inch thickness. Cut out as for large biscuits and bake in a hot oven until a golden brown. Split, butter, and serve very hot. These are excellent with cold meat.

Variations: Add half cup currants.

POTATO ALLEMANDE

3 cups boiled diced potatoes
1/2 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon chopped onion
3 canned pimientos
Salt
Pepper
Parsley
Cook the chopped onion in the butter, add the pimiento, cut in small pieces, add the hot diced potatoes. Stir until well mixed and turn into a serving dish. Cover with allemande sauce and sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Allemande Sauce
1 cup white sauce
1 egg yolk
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Make the white sauce, using meat stock or milk. Pour the white sauce gradually over the heated egg yolk. Add the lemon juice and beat the sauce until smooth and glossy.

Heard and Seen

By the Club Reporter

The usual congestion at the Show was lacking. The 4-H Club buildings offer sufficient room for everything. There is also room for unlimited expansion.

Phil Glaspele, Manager of the Orchard Beach farm at Cheboygan, was down early. Mr. Glaspele put up a wonderful display of apples besides entering a fine exhibit. He also brought down a fine barrel of "fresh" cider that had just 2400 cups of the apple juice.

On the way down Mr. Glaspele turned his truck partly over and bruised many apples that injured his exhibit, but fortunately no cider was spoiled. Thanks, Phil, come again next year.

The Evelyn Orchards of East Jordan, of which L. R. Taft is owner, again entered many exhibits of apples. He also took home plenty of prize money.

The Waring family of Kowadin (his wife is a very earnest worker) again took sweepstakes in plates of apples. You can always count on Homer to win.

Tom Buell of Elmira was entertaining two guests from New Carlisle, Ohio, who purchased seed in Northern Michigan. Why not start a move to have each farmer here bring two out of state visitors next year.

Mr. Alphonse Versture of Manistique led Michigan's 300 bushel potato club in 1929 with an average production of 490 bushels per acre on a five acre plot.

Mr. Versture's remarkable crop is a testimonial to both his own ability and to Farm Bureau Brand Fertilizers, his choice for heavy production.

NORTHERN GROWN SEED SUPERIOR IN QUALITY AND YIELD IN OHIO

The superiority of Northern Michigan grown certified seed is clearly shown by the records of the 1928 400 Bushel Club of Ohio. There were 29 members listed and eight out of the first 12 used Michigan grown certified seed. Two were listed as using their own seed, one Ohio certified seed, and one Presque Isle seed. The highest yield was 520 bushels, grown by the Toledo State Hospital, who used Northern Michigan grown certified seed. All of these 12 planted from 20 to 25 bushels per acre. The records for the 1929 400 bushel club members are not yet available, according to E. B. Tinsley, potato specialist from Ohio, who assisted in judging the Show this year and who spoke at the Certified Seed Growers of this region at the luncheon on Wednesday.

COLLEGE EXHIBIT WAS INTERESTING AND IN- STRUCTIVE TO FARMERS

Besides the numerous exhibits of potatoes and apples scattered about the show room this year's show featured a very interesting and educational exhibit arranged by the Michigan State College and the State Department of Agriculture.

The College exhibit emphasized the importance of using Certified Seed Potatoes. Arranged in panels the message was put over by two big questions, first "what is certified seed?" and "why use certified seed?"

Illustrated with pictures and charts the first question was answered as follows:

Certified Seed is planted from good seed. It is grown on good fields under state supervision. It is sprayed at least five times during the growing season and is free from disease.

The second question, "Why Use Certified Seed?" was answered through charts showing how certified seed improves the quality, yield and net profit per acre.

Results of potato trials in Wayne County showed that where certified seed was used only ten percent were made up of number 2's and culls, while uncertified seed produced 26 percent 2's and culls.

In Jackson County results showed that a field of potatoes produced from certified seed a net profit of $165.20, while a similar field planted to uncertified seed produced only $42.20 profit.

The third portion of the exhibit emphasized the importance of protection from frost, and good storage. Model sections were on display to show storage house construction.

The State Department of Agriculture exhibit made an appeal to the farmers to learn the standard grades of both apples and potatoes and to market only quality products. Actual standard grades were on exhibit.

Concrete Farm Improvement

Farm Storage Cellar Will Pay for Itself

Have you ever had the experience of trying to sell apples, potatoes and other crops when everyone else was trying to do the same thing?

Markets glutted at harvest time often knock the profits out of a season's efforts.

Why not arrange to store some of your crops so they can be marketed in accordance with demand?

Here's where the concrete storage cellar comes in. Many a farmer who has one can tell you that its total cost was returned to him the first year by being able to take advantage of marketing conditions when they were most favorable.

You can easily build a storage cellar or other concrete improvements on your farm by following a few simple directions. Let us send you a free copy of our booklet "Plans for Concrete Farm Buildings." Write for it today.

agging question of soil organic matter, the most essential substance in producing profitable crops in a dry year, is a question on light soils which cannot profitably be dealt with lightly.

"Organic matter in the soil gives the soil a better mechanical condition. It increases the water holding capacity. It makes a home for soil bacteria which are always busy making plant food available for growing plants. It helps to maintain an even soil temperature. All of these effects of organic matter on the soil go to produce a better potato crop; unquestionably the two outstanding effects are maintaining moisture throughout the growing season and the holding of nitrogen.

"The old and usual method of increasing the organic matter in the soil is by the use of our farmyard manure and other farm refuse.

"Most farmers have learned the value of clean fields and the value of commercial fertilizers, but few are making full use of the green manure crops.

"Farmyard manure is organic matter, but the regrettable fact is that few farmers have enough of this valuable material to adequately meet their soil needs. Therefore, green manure crops can play a highly important part in the farming program by supplementing the stable refuse."

Mr. Breyfogle advises that the sandy humus soil should be kept free from weeds, they should be well fed, and they should be covered with a green manure through the fall and winter months.

"A green manure used in this manner will take up the unused plant food of the summer previous, hold it until spring and when turned or disked back into the soil again liberates it for the use of the coming crop. Avoiding what would otherwise be a loss of a considerable amount of residual fertilizer.

"More green manure crops in Kalamazoo County will insure greater potato profits."

the most important factor in profitable potato production. First of all the crop must have an ample supply of available plant food. These plant food elements should be so supplied as to create a desirable balance in the soil. The amount of each nutrient which should be used will, of course, vary with the nature of the soil and the treatment which the soil has received. Sufficient nitrogen should be used to give ample top growth, but beyond this additional nitrogen may be detrimental. Enough phosphoric acid is needed to give a strong, healthy growth and a normal maturity. Additional quantities may be detrimental and may tend to shorten the growing period of the potatoes and thus decrease yields materially. The potato is a large potato consuming plant, because of the quantities of starch it manufactures. Potash also is important in that it tends to make the plant more disease resistant; in other words, it is something of a general "toning up" element. Ample potash is essential for a bumper crop and it is better to have more than is needed than too little.

"It can readily be seen that the native fertility of the soil has much to do with the amount of these plant food elements which should be used. Our experiments have led us to believe that under normal conditions around four percent of nitrogen is the right quantity. At least 12 percent of phosphoric acid is desirable and 16 percent is not objectionable. The potash supply may vary considerably; four percent gives good results in many cases, but the general indication is that eight percent of potash is more desirable. In some cases 12 percent or even more potash may be needed, but on the average on the better potato soil, I believe that eight percent potash comes pretty close to being the most satisfactory quantity.

"The method of applying the fertilizer is also worthy of attention. Undoubtedly placing the plant food near the seed piece is the more economical and efficient method of distribution. The fertilizer should not be permitted to come in contact with the seed piece or the young sprouts as the potato is very sensitive to fertilizer injury. The food is placed on the side of the seed and somewhat below it. In selecting a planter, investigate this point carefully and make sure that there is no possibility of the fertilizer coming in contact with the seed piece.

"There is considerable variation in the amount of fertilizer which may be used with profit. In some cases 1,000 pounds have been used successfully, but in general a 500 to 600 pound application is more certain to give a profitable increase in yield. A few years ago a 300 pound application was considered quite heavy fertilization, but now I believe 500 to 600 pounds may be considered a conservative application.

"The supply of available plant food is not the only item in the production of profitable crops of potatoes. The supply of organic matter in the soil has much to do with the quality as well as yield of the product. The soil should be well supplied with decaying organic matter. Fresh or relatively undecayed organic matter is not desirable. On the other hand, organic matter which has undergone a large amount of decay has little value in supplying plant food to the crop, although it may greatly increase the water holding capacity of the soil. The most desirable condition is to have organic matter which is now in the active state of decay. I do not believe it is possible to have too much organic matter of this description in a potato crop.

"Many growers are finding alfalfa an ideal crop for supplying decaying organic matter to the soil. Sweet clover sods are also highly desirable. Sods of Red and Mammoth clover, while very satisfactory, do not seem to be quite so good as are those of alfalfa and sweet clover.

"Manure is used both as a source of plant food and to supply decaying organic material. It is probably better to apply the manure the preceding fall or even the preceding spring rather than to make the application shortly before the potatoes are to be planted. This gives the manure time to decompose to a certain extent and overcome the more or less 'raw' condition. There is little danger of applying too much manure, 40 tons per acre have been used by some of the better growers, although 10 to 20 tons give good results, particularly when supplemented by the sowing of alfalfa, sweet clover and clover.

"An attempt to produce potatoes on an infertile soil reminds me of a group of boys I recently saw riding bicycles. One small lad was far in the rear and yet he was pedalling harder than any of his companions. As I approached the group I noticed that he was riding a low geared wheel and no matter how hard he pedalled, he could not keep pace with his friends who were riding on higher geared machines. So it is with a man trying to produce potatoes on an infertile soil in competition with his neighbors who are farming well managed and naturally fertile land. No matter how hard he works, he is playing a losing game. To remedy this condition, he must turn his attention first to improving his soil."

tested during the winter and the real desire they had to go with the Potato Club project. It did not seem right to have them hold up their hands because of a few dollars a piece. An appeal was made to the Petoskey Kiwanians a bargain was struck up with the seven of them. These seven Kiwanians cooperated with the seven boys of the Club and loaned them $3.00 a piece. $2.00 of this was to be used to buy four bushels of certified seed and the remainder to purchase spray material and material to treat their seed. The boys, in turn, signed a contract to the effect that they would each return to the Kiwanians cooperating with them an equal number of bushels of potatoes at harvest time. The Kiwanians' hearty response in this matter resulted in getting the boys started off in good shape.

One lone boy, near Harbor Springs, left from the last year's Potato Club there, was anxious to continue his Potato Club work this year so joined the Club with the other seven boys. Although he was more experienced and an older boy, he took much interest in the younger boys and added much to the stability of the Club.

Each of the seven boys planted one-quarter of an acre and in most cases their plot adjoined that of their fathers, because the soil in that section is of a light nature and not in the best of fertility, the boys, after treating their seed with corrosive sublimate, planted their potatoes in rows 30 inches apart both ways.

The boys met occasionally during the summer months with their leader, Mr. Dale Nichols, who took much interest in them and gave them some real help in their project. Through him the boys learned to identify the better known diseases and as a result rogued such plants out of their fields even though they were not growing their potatoes for certification.

As would be expected, the fields of the boys varied considerably, due largely to the different types of soil and in some cases its poor preparation made it impossible for the boys to make a real good showing. Not one of the boys, however, shirked his duty, but did the very best he could throughout the summer.

Some of the fathers of these boys took much interest in the work and as a result worth-while contacts were made with the grownups by himself, which, I believe, could not have been made without some such means of approach.

The fathers as well as the boys learned some of the reasons why seed made such an outstanding difference between their two fields. Although some of the fathers thought perhaps the fertilizer the boys used was responsible, this was not the case. The fertilizer applied was in very small amounts and due to the dry season had very little apparent effect on the growth of the plants. The profitable use of high grade seed has been clearly demonstrated to them, both from the standpoint of vigor and freedom from disease of the plants as compared with their own.

Some of the yields of the boys' quarter acre fields are going as high as 50 bushels of number one's. The boys, after giving their cooperators each four bushels and keeping ten bushels out for seed for their half acre plot next year, should have a good amount of stock left to sell. They have been asked to trade their surplus stock with their fathers for an equal number of potatoes, thus keeping their seed on the farm and selling the farmers' seed for table stock. Mr. Nichols and I believe this will help to improve the seed stock of seven farms in Center Township.

The Club boys are going to show their product at the Top O' Michigan Potato Show. None of them have seen this Show before or more than that, heard of it, and it will be a big experience to them.

for plant production, this year, it is thought that the total acreage of raspberries in the state in 1930 will be at least 15,000 acres.

"There are three factors which have been chiefly responsible for this large increase in raspberry acreage and Michigan's rank in small fruit production. First, the State as a whole is preeminently adapted to climate and soils for the production of these fruits. Second, a large and increasing demand for the fresh fruit and as a canned product. Third, an efficient nursery inspection service which has tended to create a large demand for Michigan grown small fruit plants.

"The early development of the small fruit industry was begun in Berrien County when a few growers planted a small acreage of the Wilson strawberry for heat shipment to the Chicago market. The returns were so satisfactory that within a few years the county was not only supplying a large percentage of the berries consumed in Chicago, but large quantities were shipped by rail and otherwise to other markets.

"Today, the small fruit industry is largely concentrated in Berrien County and Van Buren County, chiefly because of the proximity of this section to the large consuming centers and the demand of the canners which enables the growers to dispose of the crop at a fair margin of profit.

"There are, however, many other sections of the State which, though not as ideally situated with reference to markets, offer excellent opportunities for small fruit production. In many localities the most important problem lies in the harvesting and the disposal of the crop at the prices which bring a fair return to the grower. The solution of this problem, I believe, lies in developing a well organized and well managed cooperating marketing service, and in localities where canneries are located a closer cooperation between the grower and the canner. There are hundreds of acres of land in Northern Michigan which may be made to produce profitable crops of strawberries, raspberries and blackberries, provided the farmer will employ up-to-date cultural methods and give the plants the necessary care. More strawberries should be grown in Northern Michigan for late shipping to the Detroit and Chicago markets. Strawberry prices in these markets are usually much higher late in the season after the Southern States are through shipping and the main crop from the Berrien section has been marketed. Where shipping facilities are adequate and enough berries are produced for economical marketing, a greater demand might be developed and the production of late season strawberries made profitable.

"Northern Michigan also has an opportunity for the development of a larger acreage of the Cutbert raspberry. It is the only red variety that is acceptable to the canning trade and is superior in quality to any other variety. Red raspberries are now being shipped from the Oakeside section and the Cheboygan section with profitable returns for the grower. Why not develop our markets and make Northern Michigan the greatest Cutbert producing region of the country?

"There is also an opportunity in Northern Michigan for the production of disease-free nursery stock. At the present time, the demand for disease-free raspberry plants is greater than the supply. Michigan is the only State where large quantities of plants of the leading varieties of raspberries, such as Calbert, Cumberland, and Columbian, which are relatively free from disease, can be obtained. There are many localities in Northern Michigan where, because of the possibility of isolating raspberry fields, the production of nursery stock could be made a very profitable side-line for the grower.

"There is, perhaps, no crop which when well handled will bring greater return to the grower than strawberries or the bush fruits and I believe it is safe to encourage their production in Northern Michigan wherever the harvesting and marketing problems can be handled satisfactorily."

COOPERATION

Said a wise old bee at the close of day,

"The colony business doesn't pay, I put my money in that old hive. That others may live and eat and thrive;

And I do more work in a day, by gosh, Than some of the others do in three."

I toil and worry and save and hoard, And all I get is my room and board. It's me for the hive I can run myself,

And me for the sweets of my hard-earned pelf."

So the old bee flew to a meadow lone,

And started a business all his own. He gave no thought to the buzzing clan,

But all intent on his selfish plan, He lived the life of a hermit free—"Ah, this is great," said the wise old bee.

But the summer waned and the days grew drear,

And the lone bee wailed as he dropped a tear:

"For the varmints gobbled his little store,

His wax played out and his heart was sore,

And he took his meals at the Helping Hand."

Alone, our work is of little worth; Together, we are the lords of the earth.

So split all for each and each for all— United we stand or divided we fall.

—Clemson New Notes.

The difference between success and failure is often a matter of selecting the right helper.

Buy Value not Bulk

LEAN fertilizers of low analysis are priced lower but actually cost more than rich fertilizers—for they carry a useless difference in charges for freight and hauling. Successful farmers order high-analysis fertilizers and save this difference.

Each year the knowledge spreads that price is a matter not of tons but of plant-food content. Farming becomes a business . . . and V-C keeps pace. V-C Super Analysis Fertilizers, especially rich in the plant foods that are your real investment, are V-C's answer to the widening demand for better crops that cost less.

Boggs Potato and Onion Grader

Convincing evidence of the superiority of the Boggs is shown by the Government census of manufacturers, which shows that over 94 percent of the potato graders sold are Boggs machines.

Here are the reasons why the Boggs is the standard grader: It is the fastest grader—turns 75 to 100 bushels per hour, depending on the size of machine. It is impossible to overload the power grader. Potatoes can be dumped into hopper by the bag or barrel and the machine operated all day without a stop, simply by operating the deflector. Can be stopped and started without shutting off the motor.

It is the most accurate grader—makes No. 1 and No. 2 grades with less than 3 percent variation from Government sizes, and eliminates culls and dirt at same time.

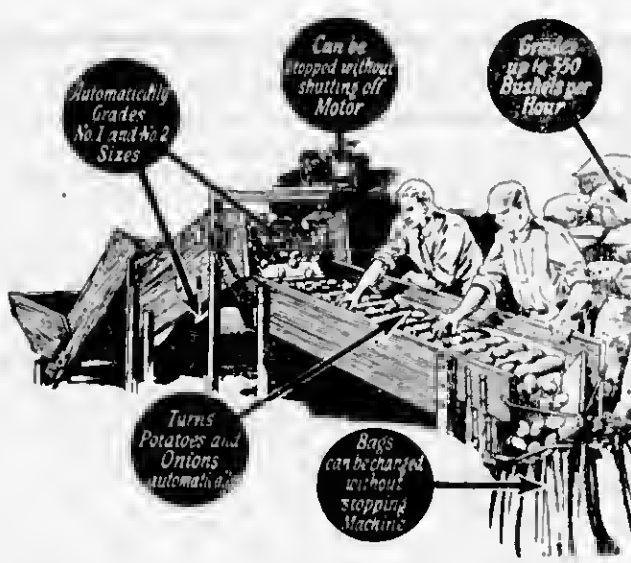

Will not bruise or injure even green stock. Machines can be furnished with standard belt-type picking table, or with Roller Picking Table which automatically turns potatoes over so all sides can be seen and imperfect spuds picked out. There is plenty of space for two or more men to work.

It does the manual labor of from three to five men. Potatoes can be shoveled directly into hopper from wagon or package and sent on chauldroning.

Can be easily moved about and used in the field, warehouse or car.

Quick-change attachment makes it possible to change belts less than a minute when necessary to accommodate mesh of belt to the variety of potatoes graded.

The Boggs grader meets every requirement of the Michigan grading law.

Potato Seed Treating Machine

Now 150 bushels or more of whole or cut seed can be treated per hour with the Boggs Seed Treating Machine. It saves time, labor and money. Eliminates dangers of the obsolete wire basket method.

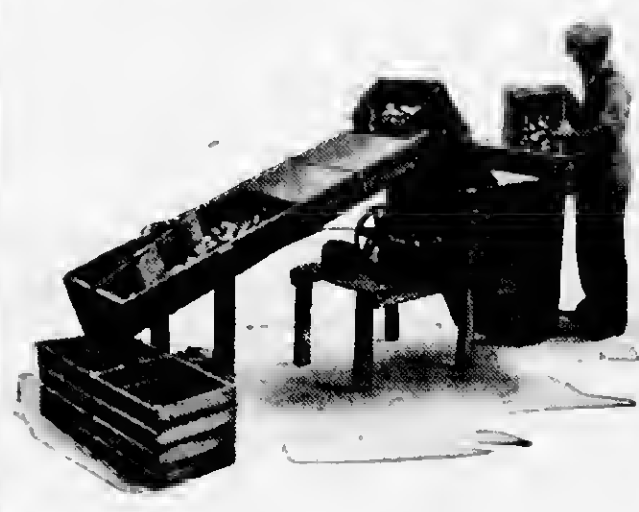

When seed potatoes are to be washed before treating, as out any handling. When treating machine cut seed the cut can also be used for that purpose by filling the tank with water. Agitation created by the elevator in the tank gives a cleaner seed-piece without soaking.

Simply dump seed potatoes into the hopper and turn the crank by hand or power. They first go into the solution, where the surface is thoroughly cleaned by the agitation at bottom of tank. Then they are automatically carried up on the drain table by an automatic wire mesh elevator and directed to crates or other containers at the other end without any handling. When treating machine cut seed the Boggs takes out practically all of the skins.

This machine is economical, too, as the solution can be used over and over. Most of the liquid is drained back into the tank and the balance is taken from the drain table into a container from which it can be dumped back into the tank.

The machine is simple and ruggedly built. Nothing to get out of order. Will last indefinitely. Can be easily cleaned by one man. Requires but little floor space.

or of being declared the leading exhibitor at the show.

As has occurred to all previous years, a new potato king was proclaimed. J. D. Robinson of Pellston was the outstanding winner in the potato exhibit with first in Russet Rural, first in Irish Cobbler, first in bushel lots of certified Russet Rural, and first in bushel lots of Irish Cobbler, besides winning the sweepstakes on his peak of Russet Rural. No exhibitor away such high show has carried these honors, however. In winning these honors, Mr. Robinson has now joined the class along with the six previous sweepstakes winners held at six previous shows. In winning these high honors, Mr. Robinson won $102.00 in cash premiums, besides one-half ton of high analysis commercial fertilizer and receives possession of two silver loving cups for the next year and one for life if he repeats in the peak exhibit again next year. Everyone joined in congratulating Mr. Robinson because of the consistency with which he has gone about his potato exhibiting. Mr. Robinson has been a yearly exhibitor at the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple show since Emmet County joined the Association in 1925.

The other outstanding achievement was the winning of the Deluxe Champion Potato prize by Guy Eppler to Petoskey.

In the Boys' and Girls' Club department, the outstanding winner was Ray Warner of Gaylord, who was a trip to the National Cioh Congress at Chicago the first week in December.

The judges of this year's potatoes were Professor A. G. Tolosa, Potato Specialist, University of Minnesota, St. Paul; Professor E. B. Toensing, Potato Specialist, Ohio State University, Columbus; and C. M. McCrory, Potato Specialist, Michigan State College.

R. E. Lorie, Professor of Horticulture, Michigan State College, assisted R. W. Rees in judging the apples.

DAIRYING WILL HELP POTATO GROWERS

"Some express a fear of over-production. Last year there were shipped into Michigan, 60 million pounds of butterfat from other states—Minnesota, Wisconsin, et cetera. As long as other states are finding it possible to ship into our own markets, we should find it profitable to compete with them. Even after the local markets are fully supplied by Michigan farmers, the cow and heifer market remains. The East is calling incessantly for good cows and will pay attractive prices for the same.

"The dairy business makes it possible for the farmer to set his own price on the feed he raises. Even the average cow will convert the hay and grain into butterfat and pay the farmer more than he can get by selling to the local elevator. As he breeds up his cows and gets better and better producers, he naturally raises the price which he is getting for his farm produce. Good cows have been known to have paid $60.00 a ton for alfalfa hay, whereas the market price was only $18.00.

"But the most amazing thing of all is that when the farmer sells his crops to his cows, he gets almost all of them back in the form of manure. Soil fertility is the most important factor in successful agriculture and only the dairy farmer is taking care of it as he should. Not one man out of 100 who sells his crops off the farm replaces the soil fertility with commercial fertilizer, while the dairy farmer who sells to his cows is not selling self-fertility away from the farm, and consequently takes care of this problem."

Throughout his talk, Professor Anthony stressed the importance of putting a quality article on the market, of using only good produced sires to raise the average production, of feeding and weeding for higher and more efficient production.

MISS JULIA ALLEN POTATO QUEEN OF NORTH MICH.

ing on. The program was interrupted frequently for a parade of the competitors across the stage.

The 17 other contestants came from the following counties: Alpena, Cheboygan, Montmorency, Otsego, Charlevoix, Antrim and Kalkaska. Otsego and Cheboygan counties had the largest number of contestants with four each.

The other contestants were: Minnie Olson and Esther Schroder, Alpena; Anita Maitly, Wilma Brudy, Dorothy Scott, Avis Girard, Cheboygan; Evelyn Hogarth, Montmorency; Helen Szymanski, Julia Allen, Sophie Frances, Lanna Larsen, Otsego; Sadie Turcott, Dorothy Withers, Selma Thorsen, Charlevoix; Toia Park, Rachel Greenman, Antrim; Vera Hart and Harriet Way, Kalkaska.

The decision to stage a beauty contest for the selection of a Potato Queen was made somewhat late in the preparations for the show which accounts for the fact that only seven of the 12 counties in the district were represented.

Everyone missed the genial smile and handshaking of Irwin Cole, who was reported "visiting in Pennsylvania."

SPECIAL WINNERS

Numerous contests conducted during the three days of the Show formed a large part of the educational and entertaining features of the Show.

The various contests with winning contestants not listed elsewhere are given as follows:

Five Lakes 4-H Potato Club, Otsego County, won the Michigan Central Silver Loving Cup for best club exhibit. This is the fifth consecutive year they have won this. One cup has already become their permanent possession.

The Frances M. Garvey prize of $5.00 in gold was won by Jimmy Hopkirk, of Alpena.

The Hay City Daily Times Special for best bushel of apples was won by Homer Waring of Kewadin.

The Alpena News Cup for the best potato exhibit from Alpena, Presque Isle, Alcona and Montmorency counties was won by Rudolph Klee of Hawks.

The Otsego County Herald Times prize of $5.00 to the best potato club exhibit from Otsego County was won by the Five Lakes potato club.

The 1,000 pounds of Agric fertilizer for potatoes, donated by the American Agricultural Chemical Company for the best bushel of certified seed potatoes was won by J. D. Robinson of Pellston.

The Farm Bureau award of 1,750 pounds of 3-12-4 fertilizer to the beginners class was won by Frank Behling, Boyne City, 1,000 pounds; Stephen Wing, Alba, 500 pounds; Andrew Novinger, Wolverine, 250 pounds.

The Silver Loving Cup offered by the Michigan Business Farmer (now consolidated with Michigan Farmer) for first place in peak exhibit Russet Rural was won by J. D. Robinson of Pellston.

The Tri-County Telephone Company of Alpena offered a Silver Loving Cup for the first time this year to the winner in the certified seed exhibit and was won by J. D. Robinson of Pellston.

The Michigan Farmer offered a new or renewed subscription to all winners at this year's show.

The Silver Loving Cup offered by the Top O' Michigan Potato Association to the winning County Exhibit, was won by Otsego County, for the seventh consecutive year. A county exhibit consists of twelve individual exhibits from the county.

Potato Peeling contest won by Mrs. W. H. Greco of Gaylord.

The Adult Potato Judging contest won by J. Fred Brudy of Wolverine.

The 4-H Club Potato Judging contest was won by Bernard Hubbard, of Alba.

The Smith Hughes Judging contest was won by Verdon Wheaton of Harbor Springs.

Talk about pies! Anyone having a tooth for Apple Pies should have been present on Thursday afternoon to assist Miss Florence Becker, Nutrition Specialist, Michigan State College in judging the perfection of culinary art in pastries.

Thirty-five housewives from all over the Top O' Michigan brought or sent pies. And did they look appetizing! When they were served at the annual banquet in the evening the club reporter only received about one tenth of a pie. We move the pie makers send about seventy next year.

The premiums offered in the contest were very attractive with $8.00 for first place. This was won by Mrs. Frank Wyrick of Alanson; second, Mrs. Arthur Ludlow, Petoskey; third, Mrs. Albert Sydow, Goodhart; and fourth, Mrs. Den Bailey, Gaylord.

4-H CLUBS AND SMITH HUGHES SCHOOLS STUDENTS HERE EN MASSE

One of the interesting meetings held in connection with the Show was the 4-H Club-Smith Hughes meeting held in the Court House on Thursday afternoon. There were about 125 4-H Club members and Smith Hughes students present.

G. A. Thorpe opened the meeting by leading a group of songs.

Following the singing Mr. R. J. Gehrke, President of the Show welcomed the boys and girls. Mr. Gehrke emphasized the importance of having the boys and girls interested in better farming and better homemaking.

He also told them how they are helping to build up the Top O' Michigan Show, making it one of the outstanding agricultural exhibits in the country.

Following Mr. Gehrke's talk, G. A. Thorpe, Assistant State Club Leader, outlined some of the things which 4-H Club work is doing for the boys and girls of Michigan.

Mr. E. E. Gallup, State Supervisor of Rural Education then told the boys and girls about the lines of rural education work. He told how the first appropriations were made by Congress for this type of work and how the results have been so outstanding that more funds are being used each year for this sort of work.

Following this Mr. Gallup emphasized the part the Smith Hughes boys and girls and the 4-H Club members are playing in the Top O' Michigan Potato show.

After Mr. Gallup's talk, Mr. Walter Ricks, Advertising Manager for the International Harvester Company gave a short talk on the interest his Company has in boys and girls work and how they are willing to help in every way while moving forward in every way while moving forward.

He then introduced George Ford of Gaylord who introduced the winner of the Ford Hardware Contest.

Mr. Kenneth Bordin, Supt. of Schools of Alanson then made the awards in the judging and identification contests which were held Thursday forenoon.

ern Michigan Development Bureau at Bay City, were judges of this contest.

When the contest was over, it was found that Jolla Allen of Gaylord was the winner and will represent the Top O' Michigan Potato Association at the State Potato Show at East Lansing during Farmers Week in February.

After the closing of the show had been declared, a late entrant appeared who said she was late because Charles Bilvins car broke down. Even though the contest had been decided, the judges allowed her to appear and after questioning her "Crowned her," but not with a gold crown. After she had made her disappearance, it was announced that the young lady was none other than our jovial county agent, Paul Barrett, of Cheboygan.

Dr. Eben Mumford, Rural Sociologist of Michigan State College, then made the main talk of the evening. In a short 20 minute speech, Dr. Mumford drove home the idea of building up a community spirit and complimented the officers of the Potato Show on the splendid results in staging the Seventh Annual Show.

Dr. Berkenman's orchestra of Alpena, consisting of ten pieces furnished the music for the evening. Dr. Berkenman should be congratulated on the excellent orchestra which he has developed and also commended for his fine spirit in bringing this orchestra to the Show free of charge.

The banquet was served in the new dining hall of the 4-H Club building where seating accommodations will easily take care of 500 should the occasion demand.

JOSEPHINE MORGAN WON POSTER CONTEST

Another new feature of the Seventh Annual Top O' Michigan Potato Show was the Poster Contest. This contest replaced the old Essay Contest which has been an annual affair of the Show up to this year.

The Poster Contest was made possible through the interest of the Bloom Company, Commission Merchants of Detroit who buy quality potatoes from the Top O' Michigan. Five prizes, totaling $40.00, were offered. These prizes consisted of $12.00, $10.00, $8.00, $6.00 and $4.00 for the first five places respectively.

The Contest was open to any boy or girl in any grade or high school of the Top O' Michigan counties. tized the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show or called attention to the production, marketing, or utilization problems in connection with the growing of apples and potatoes.

Josephine E. Morgao of the Alanson school was winner of first place in this contest. Florence Kilmer, Gaylord, won second place; Edwin Ordway of Alanson, third place; Clara Berger, Gaylord, fourth place; and June Day, Towor, fifth place.

There were 21 posters submitted and were judged by Miss Florence Becker, Nutrition Specialist, Michigan State College, and R. C. Heydrick, Artist at Michigan State College.

THANK YOU

The officers and directors of the Top O' Michigan Potato Association wish to express their appreciation to all persons and agencies, particularly the newspapers of the Top O' Michigan, for the splendid support given in connection with the Seventh Annual Potato and Apple Show last held.

This Show creates a spirit of friendly competition among the potato and apple growers of northern Michigan and is serving to create a medium for exchange of ideas on the production, marketing and utilization of the potato and apple crop.

GUY EPLER WON THE GROWERS CONTEST

Twenty-two Entrants from Seven Counties Compete for the Grand Prize

One of the new features of the Seventh Annual Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show this fall was the prize of $100.00 awarded to the most outstanding potato grower in Michigan. The money is to be used to defray expenses to a Prince Edward Island Potato Tour in 1930. There were 22 entrants in this contest from seven counties, mostly from within the Top O' Michigan. When the committee of awards summed up the different sections of this contest, it was found that Guy Epler of Petoskey, Emmet County, was the winner.

The selection of this winner was based upon several factors: Yield counted for 100 points; cost of production, 100 points; quality of crop, 100 points; ability to grade, 100 points; ability to select show sample, 100 points. Each contestant was required to make application to the Farm Crops Department, Michigan State College, who supervised the taking of yields and figuring cost of production. A selected area from the field was bagged up, sealed, and delivered to the warehouse of the Association. On the first day of the show each contestant opened his bag and graded the entire lot according to the Michigan Grading Standards, under the supervision of a member of the State Department of Agriculture.

This representative of the State Department of Agriculture also judged the quality of his crop. From these lots of two and one-half bushels, the contestants also were required to select 12 potatoes as a show sample. These being judged by E. B. Tussing, Potato Specialist at Ohio State University.

When the contest was over, it was found that Mr. Epler was first in yield, first in cost of production per bushel, and first in quality of crop. He ranked second in ability to grade and second in ability to select a show sample. Other contestants who ranked well up toward the top were Randolph Klee, of Presque Isle County; Carl Bonnet, of Cheboygan County; Frank Bellins, of Charlevoix County; and Frank Rotter of Cheboygan County who were among the first five in the order named.

ANNUAL BANQUET IS DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

J. E. Richards Presided as Toast-Master; Several Interesting Speeches

The banquet program at the Seventh Annual Show this year was unusual in that it was mostly of a humorous nature. J. E. Richards, Editor of the Alpena News, was toastmaster and carried the program along in splendid fashion.

Robert Mischand of Alpena was soloist and sang several selections that were greatly appreciated by the 350 persons attending the banquet. Miss Florence Becker, Nutrition Specialist, Michigan State College, gave an interesting talk on foods, advising that a person should eat at least one potato a day and not to forget carrots, spinach, and cabbage.

The Beauty Contest was a feature of the banquet program and consisted of 18 girls from 7 counties in the Top O' Michigan. Miss Florence Becker and R. G. Carr, County Agent Lander, both of Michigan State College, and T. F. Marston, Secretary-Manager of the Northeast, Continued on Last Page

Petoskey Kiwanites Are Helping Boys and Girls by Lending Them Money

A. R. Schabert, County Agricultural Agent of Emmet County, states that the 4-H Club Potato work in his County is helping very materially to increase the quality of potatoes in his territory. He also states that the community spirit fostered by the Kiwanis Club of Petoskey is helping very considerably. Last winter, in one of the outlying townships of the County, where extension work during the past has not been taken hold of very well, two 4-H Clubs carried on the Clothing and Handicraft projects. These Clubs were made up entirely of Polish boys and girls. Their interest and desire to carry on the work, was shown by the fact that both Clubs finished their project 100 percent.

The boys were not content to let the summer go by without engaging in some form of summer 4-H Club work and after considering the different projects, they chose the potato work. Although seed was relatively cheap last spring, the boys were not in a position to buy certified seed and their fathers did not feel that they could help them.

Prof. Tussing Says There is a Big Demand for No. 2's from Certified Seed

Professor E. B. Tussing, Potato Specialist at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, besides assisting in judging potatoes this year, appeared in the luncheon program given by the certified seed growers of Northern Michigan. Mr. Tussing is well known in Northern Michigan, because of his many visits to this region in search of high grade certified seed and will be remembered as the leader of the party of Ohio potato growers who came to Northern Michigan last August by special ultimatum and spent three days visiting fields of certified seed potatoes in Otsego, Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, Cheboygan, Missaukee and

Wexford Counties.

Professor Tussing gives just the kind of a talk that the certified seed growers of the Top O' Michigan need. He tells them frankly what the Ohio potato growers want. In the way of certified seed and that if they want to supply it is up to them to produce it. Professor Tussing stated that Ohio grows 120,000 acres of potatoes each year and the average amount of potatoes planted per acre is about 12 bushels, the rate of planting varying from eight bushels to 24 bushels per acre. Of these 120,000 acres, only 6,000 acres are planted with certified seed. The balance are planted from home grown seed or seed which has been grown from certified seed the year previous.

"Ohio is interested in Russet Rural seed potatoes, because of the superior yield," according to Professor Tussing. "In ten trials of white potatoes, the yield averaged 144 bushels per acre and in 33 trials of Russet Rural, the average yield was 171 bushels per acre."

Professor Tussing remarked that "there is a great deal of confusion caused by the fact that considerable amounts of table stock or uncertified seed potatoes are shipped into Ohio and sold for seed purposes. This action," he remarked, "will hurt the seed growers of Northern Michigan and it is up to you to eliminate this practice yourselves."

EAST JORDAN CHORUS WON FIRST PLACE IN THE SINGING CONTEST

The Top O' Michigan town and county choir singing contest attracted more attention than usual among the church choirs of Northern Michigan.

Nine church choirs from all over Northern Michigan made application to enter this contest and when Professor Robert Graham of the Music Department, Michigan State College, announced the winner, the East Jordan Community Church was declared to be the first winner and also presented with a check amounting to $60.00 for first place winning. The Vanderbilt Methodist Church won second place and $40.00; the Bellare Community Church won third place and $20.00; Atwood Reformed Church won fourth place and $10.00.

This singing contest is an annual affair at this show and is conducted under the auspices of the R. E. Olds Community Fund and Michigan State College of Applied Science.

R. W. Tenny, Director of Short Courses, Michigan State College, had direct charge of the contest.

RAY WARNER WINS INTER-NATIONAL HARVESTER TRIP

Ray Warner of Gaylord, was the winner in the contest sponsored by the Ford Hardware and Implement Company of Gaylord and the Saginaw Branch of the International Harvester Company. This contest was for a free trip to the National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago.

There was a total of seventeen entries in this contest, Emmet County having one, Otsego County six, Cheboygan County three, Presque Isle County five and Antrim County two. The contest was open to all 4-H potato club members in the territory who could meet the requirements.

The entries at the show were judged by C. A. Tolosa the regular judge of the show, the reports and stories were scored by Mr. O. A. Thorpe, Assistant State Club Leader and Mr. Bert Wermuth, Editor of the "Michigan Farmer."

Ray Warner, the winner of the contest, is a fifth year potato club member, a Junior in the Gaylord High School. He has been growing certified seed since he started in club work. This year he raised five acres, renting the land from his father and borrowing from the bank for fertilizer, seed, etc. Two years ago Ray was the State Champion in the Senior group of potato club members.

MICHIGAN IS LEADING STATE IN SMALL FRUIT

Value of Crop and Quality of Northern Grown Fruit is of Great Importance

Michigan is the leading state in small fruit production, according to R. E. Loren of the Horticultural Department of Michigan State College, who assisted in judging apples at the Show and spoke on opportunities for small fruit production in Michigan.

He stressed the importance of these cash crops in Northern Michigan due to the more favorable price of the time the product was marketed and the high quality product grown in this climate.

A summary of his talk to the Potato Show visitors was as follows:

"According to reports from the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the strictly commercial strawberry acreage in the state amounts to about 6,000 acres. Of these about 4,000 acres are found in Berrien and Van Buren Counties. This acreage has varied from year to year, but on the whole it has not changed much during the last ten years. The raspberry acreage, however, has increased considerably. A very conservative estimate of the present acreage has been placed at 12,000 acres. However, on the basis of the acreage inspected (Continued on page 3)

DAIRYING WILL HELP THE POTATO GROWER

Professor E. L. Anthony Advises Against Placing All Efforts On One Crop

Professor E. L. Anthony, head of the Dairy Department, Michigan State College, addressed the Top O' Michigan audience on Thursday afternoon with one of the very best speeches heard throughout the week. In clear concise statements, he convinced everyone that the dairy business was fundamental to Northern Michigan and that success in the certified seed potato business depended largely upon it.

He said, "Very few professions will permit those engaged in it to labor only four months a year and make a large annual income, and certainly farming is not one of them. The man who specializes in potatoes or some other ordinary farm crop is engaged in productive labor for only about four months in the year. He may be busy the rest of the year, but not in pursuits that bring much of a return. The man who combines a good dairy herd with his potato patch is distributing his hours of productive labor throughout the year, regardless of weather, season, or anything else. (Continued on last page)

PROF. MILLAR GIVES VALUABLE POINTERS

Methods of Fertilizing Crop for Best Results in Potato Raising

Professor C. E. Millar of the Soils Department of the Michigan State College gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the proper balance of plant food and organic matter in soils for the potato crop at the Thursday afternoon session of the Potato Show.

Professor Millar has spent over fifteen years studying Michigan soils and his remarks are well founded. It was unfortunate that every potato grower in the Top O' Michigan could not have heard him. A synopsis of his talk is as follows:

"The production of potatoes is a specialized industry in which yield and quality of product are the outstanding factors. The cost of growing potatoes is so great that no item which will lead to a large yield of high quality product can be neglected if the crop is to be profitable."

In this district potatoes are the main cash crop, they are the favorite child in other words, and as such, are entitled to more consideration than other crops.

"While climatic conditions and disease have a great influence on both yield and marketability of potatoes, soil conditions are perhaps (Continued on page 3)

CLUB BOYS PROVE KNOWLEDGE OF GOOD POTATOES AT EXHIBIT

From the standpoint of both numbers and quality the 4-H club exhibit at the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show was the best yet. There were seven clubs or schools with a five sample exhibit and a total of 48 individual entries. Forty-seven of these were Russet Rural and the other a sample of Irish Cobbler.

The 4-H Clubs and Smith Hughes Schools exhibiting were: Lark Lake Potato Club; Alba Certified Seed Club; Hayes Potato Club; and the East Jordan Potato Club. The Smith Hughes schools in the territory covered by the Show are taking a real interest in the work and we may look for more exhibits from them each year.

It was unfortunate that some of the best 4-H club samples had to be used in the County Exhibits, as this did not give the clubs credit for having the quality and numbers that they really had. Of course in some cases this may be necessary in order to have a county exhibit, but this year in one county exhibit there were five 4-H club samples and in another three club samples. Naturally these were the best from that county and as long as this continues 4-H club work will not show for what it really is at the show.

Meet Miss Julia Allen, the charming queen of the 1929 Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show. Miss Allen captured the blue ribbon of beauty at the banquet Thursday night when a tribunal of three assessed her pitch, symmetry and charm in competition with 17 other maidens. C. M. McCrary placed the official coronet upon her head. Miss Allen will go to Lansing in February where she will compete for the state title at the State Potato Show with winners from six other potato shows.

Naming a Potato Queen was an innovation. It manifestly was a popular added feature to the banquet if the interest of the audience and the enthusiasm may be used as a gauge.

The selection of Miss Allen seemed to be a popular choice. Miss Allen is a tall, avoite beauty who attends the Gaylord High School. She probably could be classified as neither a blonde or brunette. While her features and physical endowments were outstanding, it is probable that her winsomeness and grace were heavy contributing factors in aiding the judges to reach their final decision. It was noted too, that embellishments from rouge and lip stick were not necessary for her to gain the approbation of the judges.

There were 18 contestants from seven counties and everyone of the 18 was possessed of charms, graces and attractions which made the deliberations of the judges extremely difficult. The judges were Roswell Carr, Lansing; T. F. Marston, Bay City, and Miss Florence Becker, Lansing. The choice of the queen was made with the banqueters looking (Continued on last page)

661 ENTRIES IN SPUDS-APPLES

Largest Entry in History—A 28 Per Cent Increase Over Last Year

BUILDINGS WERE IDEAL

Exhibits of Potatoes and Apples, Banquet, Lecture Hall and Implement Show

The Seventh Annual Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show will be recorded as the biggest and best show ever held. This same statement made each year merely proclaims that the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show is growing each year and serving the potato and apple growers of this region in a way that no other institution could.

Housed in the three 4-H Club buildings, which were erected this summer through a special appropriation of the State Legislature, quarters were available for all sections of the Show that were beginning to tax the facilities in Gaylord. These three buildings erected on the grounds just outside the City limits are ideal for an exhibition of this nature. Each building is 60 x 100 feet.

The first of these buildings was used to house the main exhibits of potatoes and apples, of which there were 661 entries, the largest entry list ever made, and a 28 percent increase over last year.

The second building was used in hold the meetings each day at which representatives of the Michigan State College and other noted speakers, within and without the State, discussed agricultural problems confronting the farmers of Northern Michigan.

The third building was used to house the machinery exhibits and was nearly full of potato sprayers, diggers, planters, trucks and tractors. It was an ideal set up.

The spirit of the exhibitors and officers was not in the least dampened by the continuous downpour of rain the day before the Show and during the first and second days of the Show. On the third day, however, the sun came out brightly and proclaimed that the third and final day of the greatest show ever held was coming to an end.

Particular comment should be made on the wonderful exhibit of apples displayed this year. Not only did the exhibits outnumber those in past years, but the quality was the finest ever seen at the Top O' Michigan Show and many remarked that it was the best apple show they had ever seen. It may be appropriate to remark that R. W. Irees, Horticulturist for the New York Central Lines at Rochester, New York, an international judge of apple exhibits, stated that the applesakes tray, won by D. D. Tibbitts, would receive first place in any show in the country and that most of the first place winners of the Show would place in any Show that he had ever judged. H. C. Waring of Kewanna, D. D. Tibbitts, of Hayne City, the Evelyn Orchards of East Jordan and the Orchard Beach Farm of Cheboygan were again the heavy exhibitors and took away most of the prize money.

Even though the apple entries were so greatly enlarged and the fact that more attention was given to the apples this year, it did not in any way reflect on the interest shown by the potato exhibitors. The larger number of potato exhibits were entered and the peak exhibit of Russet Rural showed the greatest entry list of any show to date, with over 90 competing for the honor. ORGANIC MATTER IS NECESSARY FOR SPUDS

Green Manure Is Needed in Soil to Hold Moisture for Dry Season

Green manure crops play a large part in the successful growing of certified seed potatoes, in Kalkaska County, according to John Hreyfogle, County Agricultural Agent.

The farmers of Kalkaska County that turned under a good growth of alfalfa or sweet clover last summer, then followed with rye and vernal crop that was either plowed or disked in this past spring have come thru the dry summer with a good potato crop," he remarked at the Show.

In contrast, fields that had very little green growth turned under last fall and were allowed to remain bare throughout the fall and winter months suffered from the lack of moisture. Several of these fields ripened prematurely due to lack of moisture, making this stock unfit for seed purposes. These fields have yielded from one hundred twenty-five to one hundred fifty bushels per acre.

"Northern Michigan farmers are blessed with a sandy loam soil that is naturally adapted to the growing of quality potatoes. However, this same sandy loam soil doubtless presents one of the most difficult problems that the potato farmers of this area have to face. The even (Continued on page 3)

BECOME FAMILIAR WITH GRADING LAW

Commissioner of Agriculture Gives
Rules Concerning the Grading
and Selling

The farmers of Northern Michigan can well afford to familiarize themselves with the following rules and regulations governing the sale of table stock potatoes commonly known as the Irish potatoes, issued by Herbert E. Powell, Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture and Peter D. Dukeshner, Director Bureau of Foods and Standards.

By virtue of the power conferred on the Commissioner of Agriculture under the provisions of Act No. 220, Public Acts of 1929, the following rules and regulations are made and established governing the sale of table stock potatoes commonly known as Irish potatoes:

1. All table stock commonly known as Irish potatoes must be graded unless sold by the producer direct to the consumer.

2. There are three grades of table stock potatoes: U. S. Fancy Grade, U. S. No. 1 Grade, and U. S. No. 2 Grade.

3. Potatoes must be graded and stamped on the premises where prepared for market. Preparation for market means proper grading and proper marking or stamping. When graded on the premises where prepared for market and when legibly and conspicuously labeled, stamped or tagged with the name and address of the person or persons responsible for the grading and packing, and the name of the grade, together with true net contents, and are thus delivered to the grocer or retailer, the grocer or retailer's responsibility then begins.

4. If the grocer or retailer sells potatoes properly graded from a sack or container properly marked and the sack or container remains in plain view of the purchaser so that such purchaser may ascertain and know that the potatoes are in fact graded and that he may know which grade of potatoes he is receiving and the name and address of the person responsible for the grading, the grocer is not required in such case to label or mark each individual package going to the consumer.

5. The grocer or retailer cannot, however, empty potatoes from the sack above described into a bin or other receptacle, or mix them with other potatoes unless he again grades such potatoes in accordance with the requirements of Act No. 220, Public Acts of 1929, and when selling same marks the individual packages going to the consumer as by law required.

6. The single instance in which the grocer is released from marking the individual packages going to the consumer is when he sells direct from the sack or container, already graded and properly marked and in view of the consumer.

7. The stamp, label or tag used by the grocer or retailer shall be securely affixed to the package going to the consumer, and shall be printed in letters not less than 3-16 of an inch standard type.

"Potatoes will not make you fat," according to Dr. Mikkel Hindved of Denmark.

"The person who said that a fat man eating a potato was one of the most poignant tragedies sacrificed truth to make a clever phrase," according to Dr. Hindved. "Potatoes are among the best health foods," he declared.

"If Americans would eat five times more potatoes," the doctor said, "there would be less illness in the nation." There is no more reason for abstaining from eating potatoes than for cutting meat off the menu.

Potatoes have as many calories as meat, butter and eggs, but less of Vitamin A.

Dr. Hindved was Food Administrator of Denmark during the war and is known as the Herbert Hoover of Denmark. He is a scientist who has earned world fame for his researches in food values.

IN THE EYES OF THE POTATO

When Bailey wrote, "There are whole values of diamonds in these eyes," he probably was not gazing into the eyes of a lumpy spud. But nevertheless, when we look into the eyes of a smooth-skinned, well-developed, matured Michigan potato, we find five treasures concealed there, more valued than diamonds.

The treasure in greatest abundance is a fine quality of starch, an energy food that forms an essential part of our three squares per day. A potato which on baking or mashing separates into a savory, steaming, moist mass of glistening white particles is high in starch value.

And there is a second treasure which we find secreted beneath the eyes of the potato. It is protein—another food element required to grow a normal healthy body. Protein in potatoes is found in small quantities, but it is of good quality and in a form easily digested.

The third treasure hidden beneath the Irish eyes of the potato is a group of minerals, of which iron is of greatest importance. Potatoes compare favorably with other vegetables as a source of iron, and provide an inexpensive supply.

Another treasure ever present in this vegetable is those mysterious elements so necessary to abundant health, growth, and even life itself, known as vitamins. Nutrition specialists have discovered in potatoes two of these valuable constituents—vitamin B and vitamin C.

And finally, every mature tuber is possessed with a fifth treasure that is responsible for giving potatoes a place in our regular diet. This treasure is flavor. Potatoes, properly cooked, have a delicious flavor that is irresistible to a normal healthy appetite.

Just why the home cook peels potatoes is a mystery.

Every penny expended by home folks for home-made and home-sold products is money spent with ourselves, for ourselves—not with and for some uninterested person or concern elsewhere. One may talk right, vote right, live right, but unless one buys right he has not entirely reached the standard expected of every resident.

A friend comments the move to make prison surroundings attractive. "In time," says he, "they will look so much like home that people will really succeed in keeping out of them."

potatoes nine times out of ten when preparing them for cooking, has never been accounted for. By this method she is losing two valuable treasures of the potato, flavor and food value. Tests show that the best part of the potato lies next to the skin, and in peeling, a large part of this "good part" is wasted. Potatoes that are either baked, boiled or steamed "in their jackets," have better flavor and more food value than those that are peeled before cooking.

It is gratifying to note the progress that is being made in improving the quality of potatoes raised in Michigan. By practicing approved methods of cultivation, planting certified seed, and conforming with the compulsory grading laws, the standard of Michigan spuds has been raised. Michigan farmers can take just pride in the quality and grade of their potato crop. Michigan housewives, too, should take equal pride in serving Michigan potatoes in the most appetizing ways possible.

NORWEGIAN POTATOES

2 cups raw diced potatoes
1 cup raw diced carrots
1 small onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons butter or fat
Saute the onions in half of the fat, then add carrots, potatoes, and seasoning. Stir well, then put into a greased baking dish with enough water to come to the top of vegetables; cover and cook until tender, then drain off water, if any, add rest of butter, and let brown, uncovered.

Heard and Seen

By the Cub Reporter

The usual congestion at the Show was lacking. The 4-H Club buildings offer sufficient room for everything. There is also room for unlimited expansion.

Phil Glaspe, Manager of the Orchard Beach farm at Cheboygan, was down early. Mr. Glaspe put up a wonderful display of apples besides entering a fine exhibit. He also brought down a fine barrel of "fresh" cider that had just 2400 cups of the apple juice.

On the way down Mr. Glaspe turned his truck partly over and bruised many apples that injured his exhibit, but fortunately no cider was spilled. Thanks, Phil, come again next year.

The Evelyn Orchards of East Jordan, of which L. R. Taft is owner, again entered many exhibits of apples. He also took home plenty of prize money.

The Waring family of Kewadin (his wife is a very earnest worker) again took sweepstakes in plates of apples. You can always count on Homer to win.

Tom Buell of Elmira was entertaining two guests from Now Carls, Ohio, who purchased seed in Northern Michigan. Why not start a move to have each farmer here bring two out of state visitors next year.

NORTHERN GROWN SEED SUPERIOR IN QUALITY AND YIELD IN OHIO

The superiority of Northern Michigan grown certified seed is clearly shown by the records of the 1928 400 Bushel Club of Ohio. There were 29 members listed and eight out of the first 12 used Michigan grown certified seed. Two were listed as using their own seed, one Ohio certified seed, and one Presque Isle seed. The highest yield was 520 bushels, grown by the Toledo State Hospital, who used Northern Michigan grown certified seed. All of these 12 planted from 20 to 25 bushels per acre. The records for the 1929 400 bushel club members are not yet available, according to E. B. Tussing, Potato specialist from Ohio, who assisted in judging the Show this year and who spoke at the Certified Seed Growers of this region at the luncheon on Wednesday.

DEPENDABLE SPRAYERS

COLLEGE EXHIBIT WAS INTERESTING AND IN- STRUCTIVE TO FARMERS

Besides the numerous exhibits of potatoes and apples scattered about the show room this year's show featured a very interesting and educational exhibit arranged by the Michigan State College and the State Department of Agriculture.

The College exhibit emphasized the importance of using Certified Seed Potatoes. Arranged in panels the message was put over by two big questions, first "what is certified seed?" and "why use certified seed?"

Illustrated with pictures and charts the first question was answered as follows:

Certified Seed is planted from good seed. It is grown on good fields under state supervision. It is sprayed at least five times during the growing season and is free from disease.

The second question, "Why Use Certified Seed?" was answered through charts showing how certified seed improves the quality, yield and net profit per acre.

Results of potato trials in Wayne County showed that where certified seed was used only ten percent were made up of number 2's and culls, while uncertified seed produced 26 percent 2's and culls.

In Jackson County results showed that a field of potatoes produced from certified seed a net profit of $165.20, while a similar field planted to uncertified seed produced only $42.20 profit.

The third portion of the exhibit emphasized the importance of protection from frost, and good storage. Model sections were on display to show storage house construction.

The State Department of Agriculture exhibit made an appeal to the farmers to learn the standard grades of both apples and potatoes and to market only quality products. Actual standard grades were on exhibit.

You pay once only for any Concrete Farm Improvement

Farm Storage Cellar Will Pay for Itself

Have you ever had the experience of trying to sell apples, potatoes and other crops when everyone else was trying to do the same thing?

Markets glutted at harvest time often knock the profits out of a season's efforts.

Why not arrange to store some of your crops so they can be marketed in accordance with demand?

Here's where the concrete storage cellar comes in. Many a farmer who has one can tell you that its total cost was returned to him the first year by being able to take advantage of marketing conditions when they were most favorable.

You can easily build a storage cellar or other concrete improvements on your farm by following a few simple directions. Let us send you a free copy of our booklet "Plans for Concrete Farm Buildings." Write for it today.

ORGANIC MATTER IS NECESSARY FOR SPUDS

superior question of soil organic matter, the most essential substance in producing profitable crops in a dry year, is a question on light soils which cannot profitably be dealt with lightly.

"Organic matter in the soil gives the soil a better mechanical condition. It increases the water holding capacity. It makes a home for soil bacteria which are always busy making plant food available for growing plants. It helps to maintain an even soil temperature. All of these effects of organic matter on the soil go to produce a better potato crop; unquestionably the two outstanding effects are maintaining moisture throughout the growing season and the holding of nitrogen.

"The old and usual method of increasing the organic matter in the soil is by the use of our barnyard manure and other farm refuse.

"Most farmers have learned the value of clean fields and the value of commercial fertilizers, but few are making full use of the green manure crops.

"Barnyard manure is organic matter, but the regrettable fact is that few farmers have enough of this valuable material to adequately meet their soil needs. Therefore, green manure crops can play a highly important part in the farming program by supplementing the stable refuse."

Mr. Breyfogle advises that the sandy loam soil should be kept free from weeds, they should be well fed, and they should be covered with a green manure through the fall and winter months.

"A green manure used in this manner will take up the unused plant food of the summer previous, hold it until spring and when turned or disked back into the soil again liberates it for the use of the coming crop. Avoiding what would otherwise be a loss of a considerable amount of residual fertilizer.

"More green manure crops in Kalamazoo County will insure greater potato profits."

the most important factor in profitable potato production. First of all, the crop must have an ample supply of available plant food. These plant food elements should be supplied as to create a desirable balance in the soil. The amount of each nutrient which should be used will, of course, vary with the nature of the soil and the treatment which the soil has received. Sufficient nitrogen should be used to give ample top growth, but beyond this additional nitrogen may be detrimental. Enough phosphoric acid is needed to give a strong healthy growth and a normal maturity. Additional quantities may be detrimental and may tend to shorten the growing period of the potatoes and thus decrease yields materially. The potato is a large plant consuming plant, because of the quantities of starch it manufactures. Potash also is important in that it tends to make the plant more disease resistant; in other words, it is something of a general 'toning up' element. Ample potash is essential for a bumper crop and it is better to have more than is needed than too little.

"It can readily be seen that the native fertility of the soil has much to do with the amount of these plant food elements which should be used. Our experiments have led us to believe that under normal conditions around four percent of nitrogen is the right quantity. At least 12 percent of phosphoric acid is desirable and 16 percent is not objectionable. The potash supply may vary considerably; four percent gives good results in many cases, but the general indication is that eight percent of potash is more desirable. In some cases 12 percent or even more potash may be needed, but on the average on the better potato soil, I believe that eight percent potash comes pretty close to being the most satisfactory quantity.

"The method of applying the fertilizer is also worthy of attention. Undoubtedly placing the plant food near the seed piece is the more economical and efficient method of distribution. The fertilizer should not be permitted to come in contact with the seed piece or the young sprouts as the potato is very sensitive to fertilizer injury. The ideal location for the fertilizer is on either side of the seed and somewhat below it. In selecting a planter, investigate this point carefully and make sure that there is no possibility of the fertilizer coming in contact with the seed piece.

"There is considerable variation in the amount of fertilizer which may be used with profit. In some cases 1,000 pounds have been used successfully, but in general a 500 to 600 pound application is more certain to give a profitable increase in yield. A few years ago a 300 pound application was considered quite heavy fertilization, but now I believe 500 to 600 pounds may be considered a conservative application.

"The supply of available plant food is not the only item in the production of profitable crops of potatoes. The supply of organic matter in the soil has much to do with the quality as well as yield of the product. The soil should be well supplied with decaying organic matter. Fresh or relatively undecayed organic matter is not desirable. On the other hand, organic matter which has undergone a large amount of decay has little value in supplying plant food to the crop, although it may greatly increase the water holding capacity of the soil. The most desirable condition is to have organic matter which is now in the active state of decay. I do not believe it is possible to have too much organic matter of this description in a potato crop.

"Many growers are finding alfalfa an ideal crop for supplying decaying organic matter to the soil. Sweet clover sods are also highly desirable. Sods of Red and Mammoth clover, while very satisfactory, do not seem to be quite so good as are those of alfalfa and sweet clover.

"Manure is used both as a source of plant food and to supply decaying organic material. It is probably better to apply the manure the preceding fall or even the preceding spring rather than to make the application shortly before the potatoes are to be planted. This gives the manure time to decompose to a certain extent and overcome the more or less 'raw' condition. There is little danger of applying too much manure, 40 tons per acre have been used by some of the better growers, although 10 to 20 tons give good results, particularly when supplemented by the sods of alfalfa, sweet clover and clover.

"An attempt to produce potatoes on an infertile soil reminds me of a group of boys I recently saw riding bicycles. One small lad was far in the rear and yet he was pedaling harder than any of his companions. As I approached the group I noticed that he was riding a low-geared wheel and no matter how hard he pedaled, he could not keep pace with his friends who were riding on higher geared machines. So it is with a man trying to produce potatoes on an infertile soil in competition with his neighbors who are farming well managed and naturally fertile land. No matter how hard he works, he is playing a losing game. To remedy this condition, he must turn his attention first to improving his soil."

In any undertaking, the man who can pick a good partner is half way to his goal.

SHOW ASSOCIATION THANKS NEWSPAPERS

The Potato Show Association wish to express their appreciation for the splendid cooperation given by the newspapers, in distributing this supplement.

A list of the newspapers using the supplements is as follows:

Oscoda County News
Cheboygan Observer
Oshtemo County Herald Times
Alpena News
Emmet County Graphic
Crawford Avalanche
The Hoya Citizen
The Onaway Outlook
Antrim County Record
Montmorency Co. Tribune
Cheboygan Tribune
Charlevoix Courier
Alcona County Review
Central Lake Torch
Petoskey News
Ellsworth Tradesman

In addition to this list of newspapers, John Breyfogle, County Agricultural Agent of Kalamazoo County, is distributing a copy of the supplement to each farmer in his County.

Over 1,000 copies are being distributed to out-of-state readers interested in this territory as a source of seed and table stock. A total of 21,000 supplements were printed.

feated during the winter and the real desire they had to go with the Potato Club project, it did not seem right to have them hold up their summer's work because of a few dollars a piece. An appeal was made to the Petoskey Kiwanians a bargain was struck up with the seven of them. These seven Kiwanians cooperated with the seven boys of the Club and loaned them $3.00 a piece. $2.00 of this was to be used to buy four bushels of certified seed and the remainder to purchase spray material and material to treat their seed. The boys, in turn, signed a contract to the effect that they would each return to the Kiwanians cooperating with them an equal number of bushels of potatoes at harvest time. The Kiwanian's hearty response in this matter resulted in getting the boys started off in good shape.

One lone boy, near Harbor Springs, left from the last year's Potato Club there, was anxious to continue his Potato Club work this year so joined the Club with the other seven boys. Although he was more experienced and an older boy, he took much interest in the younger boys and added much to the stability of the Club.

Each of the seven boys planted one-quarter of an acre and in most cases their plot adjoined that of their fathers. Because the soil in that section is of a light nature and not in the best of fertility, the boys, after treating their seed with corrosive sublimate, planted their potatoes in rows 30 inches apart both ways.

The boys met occasionally during the summer months with their leader, Mr. Dale Nichols, who took much interest in them and gave them some real help in their project. Through him the boys learned to identify the better known diseases and as a result rogued such plants out of their fields even though they were not growing their potatoes for certification.

As would be expected, the fields of the boys varied considerably, due largely to the different types of soil and in some cases its poor preparation made it impossible for the boys to make a real good showing. Not one of the boys, however, shirked his duty, but did the very best he could throughout the summer.

Some of the fathers of these boys took much interest in the work and as a result worth-while contacts were made with the grownups by himself, which, I believe, could not have been made without some such means of approach.

The fathers as well as the boys learned some of the reasons why seed made such an outstanding difference between their two fields. Although some of the fathers thought perhaps the fertilizer the boys used was responsible, this was not the case. The fertilizer applied was in very small amounts and due to the dry season had very little apparent effect on the growth of the plants. The profitable use of high grade seed has been clearly demonstrated to them, both from the standpoint of vigor and freedom from disease of the plants as compared with their own.

Some of the yields of the boys' quarter acre fields are going as high as 50 bushels of number one's. The boys, after giving their cooperators each four bushels and keeping ten bushels out for seed for their half acre plot next year, should have a good amount of stock left to sell. They have been asked to trade their surplus stock with their fathers for an equal number of potatoes, thus keeping their seed on the farm and selling the farmers' seed for table stock. Mr. Nichols and I believe this will help to improve the seed stock of seven farms in Center Township.

The Club boys are going to show their product at the Top O' Michigan Potato Show. None of them have seen this Show before or more than that, heard of it, and it will be a big experience to them.

"There are three factors which have been chiefly responsible for this large increase in raspberry acreage and Michigan's rank in small fruit production. First, the State as a whole is promptly adopting in climate and soils for the production of these fruits. Second, a large and increasing demand for the fresh fruit and as a canned product. Third, an efficient nursery inspection service which has tended to create a large demand for Michigan grown small fruit plants.

"The early development of the small fruit industry was begun in Berrien County when a few growers planted a small acreage of the Wisconsin strawberry for local shipment to the Chicago market. The returns were so satisfactory that within a few years the county was not only supplying a large percentage of the berries consumed in Chicago, but large quantities were shipped by rail and otherwise to other markets.

"Today, the small fruit industry is largely concentrated in Berrien County and Van Buren County, chiefly because of the proximity of this section to the large consuming centers and the demand of the canners which enables the growers to dispose of the crop at a fair margin of profit.

"There are, however, many other sections of the State which, though not as ideally situated with reference to markets, offer excellent opportunities for small fruit production. In many localities the most important problem lies in the harvesting and the disposal of the crop at prices which bring a fair return to the grower. The solution of this problem, I believe, lies in developing a well organized and well managed cooperative marketing service, and in localities where canneries are located a closer cooperation between the grower and the canner. There are hundreds of acres of land in Northern Michigan which may be made to produce profitable crops of strawberries, raspberries and blackberries, provided the farmer will employ up-to-date cultural methods and give the plants the necessary care. More strawberries should be grown in Northern Michigan for late shipping to the Detroit and Chicago markets. Strawberry prices in these markets are usually much higher late in the season after the Southern States are through shipping and the main crop from the Berrien section has been marketed. Where shipping facilities are adequate and enough berries are produced for economical marketing, a greater demand might be developed and the production of late season strawberries made profitable.

"Northern Michigan also has an opportunity for the development of a larger acreage of the Cuthbert raspberry. It is the only red variety that is acceptable to the canning trade and is superior in quality to any other variety. Red raspberries are now being shipped from the Ouekema section and the Cheboygan section with profitable returns for the grower. Why not develop our markets and make Northern Michigan the Greatest Cuthbert producing region of the country?

"There is also an opportunity in Northern Michigan for the production of disease-free nursery stock. At the present time, the demand for disease-free raspberry plants is greater than the supply. Michigan is the only State where large quantities of plants of the leading varieties of raspberries, such as Cuthbert, Cumberland, and Columbian, which are relatively free from disease, can be obtained. There are many localities in Northern Michigan where, because of the possibility of isolating raspberry fields, the production of nursery stock could be made a very profitable side-line for the grower.

"There is, perhaps, no crop which when well handled will bring greater return to the grower than strawberries or the bush fruits and I believe it is safe to encourage their production in Northern Michigan wherever the harvesting and marketing problems can be handled satisfactorily."

COOPERATION

Said a wise old bee at the close of day,

"The colony business doesn't pay. I put my money in that old hive. That others may live and eat and thrive;

And I do more work in a day, by gee.

Than some of the others do in three.

I toil and worry and save and hoard, And all I get is my room and board. It's me for the bive I can run my self,

And no for the sweets of my hard-earned pelf."

So the old bee flew to a meadow lone,

And started a business all his own. He gave no thought to the buzzing clan,

But all intent on his selfish plan, He lived the life of a hermit bee—

"Ah, this is great," said the wise old bee.

But the summer waned and the days grew dear,

And the tone bee wailed as he dropped a tear; For the varnits gobbled his little store,

His wax played out and his heart was sore,

And he took his meals at the Helping Hand.

Alone, our work is of little worth;

Together, we are the lords of the earth;

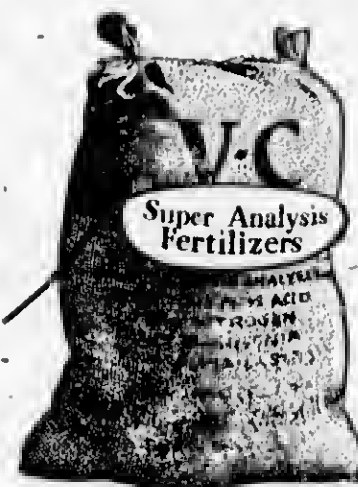

So it's all for each and each for all—

United we stand or divided we fall.

—Clemson New Notes.

The difference between success and failure is often a matter of selecting the right helper.

Buy Value not Bulk

LEAN fertilizers of low analysis are priced lower but actually cost more than rich fertilizers—for they carry a useless difference in charges for freight and hauling. Successful farmers order high-analysis fertilizers and save this difference.

Each year the knowledge spreads that price is a matter not of tons but of plant-food content. Farming becomes a business . . . and V-C keeps pace. V-C Super Analysis Fertilizers, especially rich in the plant foods that are your real investment, are V-C's answer to the widening demand for better crops that cost less.

Boggs Potato and Onion Grader

Convincing evidence of the superiority of the Boggs is shown by the Government census of manufacturers, which shows that over 94 percent of the potato graders sold are Boggs machines.

Here are the reasons why the Boggs is the standard grader: It is the fastest grader—turns out 25 to 300 bushels per hour, depending on the size of machine. It is impossible to overload the grader. Potatoes can be dumped into hopper by the bag or barrel and the machine operated all day without a stop, simply by operating the deflector. Can be stopped and started without shutting off the motor.

It is the most accurate grader—makes No. 1 and No. 2 grades with less than 3 percent variation from Government sizes, and eliminates culls and dirt at same time.

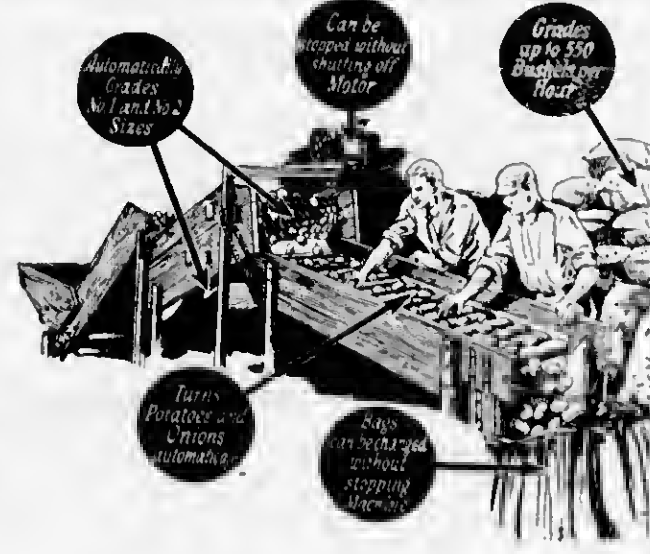

Will not bruise or injure even green stock. Machines can be furnished with standard belt-type picking table, or with Roller Picking Table which automatically turns potatoes over so all sides can be seen and imperfect spuds picked out. There is plenty of space for two or more men in work.

It does the manual labor of from three to five men. Potatoes can be shoveled directly into hopper from wagon or truck and saved rehandling.

Can be easily moved about and used in the field, warehouse or on.

Quick-change attachment makes it possible to change belts in less than a minute when necessary to accommodate mesh of belt to the variety of potatoes graded.

The Boggs grader meets every requirement of the Michigan grading law.

Potato Seed Treating Machine

Now 150 bushels or more of whole or cut seed can be treated per hour with the Boggs Seed Treating Machine. It saves time, labor and money. Eliminates dangers of the obsolete wire basket method.

When seed potatoes are to be washed before treating, as out any handling. When treating machine cut seed the can also be used for that purpose by filling the tank with water. Aeration created by the elevator in the tank gives a cleaner seed-piece without soaking.

Simply dump seed potatoes into the hopper and turn the crank by hand or power. They first go into the solution, where the surface is thoroughly cleaned by the agitation at bottom of tank. Then they are automatically carried up on the drain table by an automatic wire mesh elevator and delivered in crates or other containers at the other end without any handling. When treating machine cut seed the Boggs takes out practically all of the slices.

This machine is economical, too, as the solution can be used over and over. Most of the liquid is drained back into the tank and the balance is taken from the drain table into a container from which it can be dumped back into the tank. The machine is simple and ruggedly built. Nothing to get out of order. Will last indefinitely. Can be easily cleaned by one man. Requires but little floor space.

or of being declared the leading exhibitor at the show.

As has occurred in all previous years, a new potato king was proclaimed, J. D. Robinson of Pellston was the outstanding winner in the potato exhibit with first in Russet Rural, first in Irish Cobbler, first in bushel lots of certified Russet Rural, and first in bushel lots of Irish Cobbler. Besides winning the sweepstakes on his peck of Russet Rural, no exhibitor at any previous show has carried away such high honors. In winning these honors, Mr. Robinson has now joined the class along with the six previous sweepstakes winners held at six previous shows. In winning these high honors, Mr. Robinson won $102.00 in cash premiums, besides a half-ton of high analysis commercial fertilizer and received possession of two silver loving cups for the next year and one for life if he repeats in the peck exhibit again next year. Everyone joined in congratulating Mr. Robinson because of the consistency with which he has gone about his potato exhibiting. Mr. Robinson has been a yearly exhibitor at the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple show since Emmet County joined the Association in 1925.

The other outstanding achievement was the winning of the Deluxe Champion Potato prize by Guy Eppler to Petoskey.

In the Boys' and Girls' Club Department, the outstanding winner was Ray Warner of Gaylord, who wins a trip to the National Club Congress at Chicago the first week in December.

The judges of this year's potatoes were Professor A. G. Tolnas, Potato Specialist, University of Minnesota, St. Paul; Professor E. B. Tasslog, Potato Specialist, Ohio State University, Columbus; and C. M. McCordy, Potato Specialist, Michigan State College.

R. E. Loree, Professor of Horticulture, Michigan State College, assisted R. W. Rees in judging the apples.

1. Dairying Will Help Potato Growers

1. (Continued from page 1)

1. Some express a fear of over-production. Last year there were shipped into Michigan, 60 million pounds of potatoes from other states—Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Kansas. As no other states are finding it possible to ship into our own markets, we should find it profitable to compete with them. Even after the local markets are fully supplied by Michigan farmers, the cow and heifer market remains. The East is calling incessantly for good cows and will pay attractive prices for the same.

1. "The dairy business makes it possible for the farmer to set his own price on the food he raises. Even the average cow will convert the hay and grain into butterfat and pay the farmer more than he can get by selling to the local elevator. As he breeds up his cows and gets better and better producers, he naturally raises the price which he is getting for his farm produce. Good cows have been known to have paid $60.00 a ton for alfalfa hay, whereas the market price was only $18.00.

1. "But the most amazing thing of all is that when the farmer sells his crops to his cows, he gets almost all of them back in the form of manure. Soil fertility is the most important factor in successful agriculture and only the dairy farmer is taking care of it as he should. Not one man out of 100 who sells his crops off the farm replaces the soil fertility with commercial fertilizer, while the dairy farmer who sells to his cows is not adding soil fertility away from the farm, and consequently takes care of this problem."

1. Throughout his talk, Professor Anthony stressed the importance of putting a quality article on the market, of using only good purebred stock to raise the average production, of feeding and weeding for higher and more efficient production.

1. MISS JULIA ALLEN POTATO QUEEN OF NORTH MICH.

1. (Continued from page 1)

1. The program was interrupted frequently for a parade of the competitors across the stage.

1. The 17 other contestants came from the following counties: Alpena, Cheboygan, Montmorency, Osego, Charlevoix, Antrim, and Kalkaska. Osego and Cheboygan counties had the largest number of contestants with four each.

1. The other contestants were: Minnie Olsen and Esther Schroder, Alpena; Anita Muthy, Wilma Brady, Dorothy Scott, Aris Girard, Cheboygan; Evelyn Hogarth, Montmorency; Helen Szymanski, Julia Allen, Sophie Frances, Laura Larson, Osego; Sadie Turcott, Dorothy Withers, Selma Thoren, Charlevoix; Toia Park, Rachel Greenman, Antrim; Vera Hart and Harriet Way, Kalkaska.

1. The decision to stage a beauty contest for the selection of a Potato Queen was made somewhat late in the preparations for the show which accounts for the fact that only seven of the 12 counties in the district were represented.

1. Everyone missed the genial smile and handshaking of Irwin Cole, who was reported visiting in Pennsylvania.

SPECIAL WINNERS

Numerous contests conducted during the three days of the show formed a large part of the educational and entertaining features of the show.

The various contests with winning contestants not listed elsewhere are given as follows:

Five Lakes 4-H Club, Osego County, won the Michigan Central Silver Loving Cup for best club exhibit. This is the fifth consecutive year they have won this. One cup has already become their permanent possession.

The Frances M. Garvey prize of $5.00 in gold was won by Jimmy Hopkirk, of Alpena.

The Bay City Daily Times Special for best bushel of apples was won by Homer Waring of Kewadin.

The Alpena News Cup for the best potato exhibit from Alpena, Presque Isle, Alcona and Montmorency counties was won by Rudolph Klee of Hawka.

The Osego County Herald Times prize of $5.00 to the best potato club exhibit from Osego County was won by the Five Lakes potato club.

The 1,000 pounds of Agric for the best potatoes, donated by the American Agricultural Chemical Company for the best bushel of certified seed potatoes was won by J. D. Robinson of Pellston.

The Farm Bureau award of 1,750 pounds of 3-12-4 fertilizer in the beginners class was won by—Frank Behling, Boyne City, 1,000 pounds; Stephen Wing, Alba, 500 pounds; Andrew Novliger, Wolverine, 250 pounds.

The Silver Loving Cup offered by the Michigan Business Farmer (now consolidated with Michigan Farmer) for first place in peck exhibit Russet Rural was won by J. D. Robinson of Pellston.

The Tri-County Telephone Company of Alpena offered a Silver Loving Cup for the first time this year to the winner in the certified seed exhibit and was won by J. B. Robinson of Pellston.

The Michigan Farmer offered a new or renewal subscription to all winners at this year's show.

The Silver Loving Cup offered by the Top O' Michigan Potato Association to the winning County Exhibit, was won by Osego County, for the seventh consecutive year. A county exhibit consists of twelve individual exhibits from the county.

Potato Peeling contest won by Mrs. W. H. Green of Gaylord.

The Adult Potato Judging contest won by J. Fred Brudy of Wolverine.

The 4-H Club Potato Judging contest was won by Barnard Hubbard, of Alba.

The Smith Hughes Judging contest was won by Vardon Wheaton of Harbor Springs.

Talk about pies! Anyone having a tooth for Apple Pies should have been present on Thursday afternoon to assist Miss Florence Becker, Nutrition Specialist, Michigan State College in judging the perfection of culinary art in pastries.

Thirty-five housewives from all over the Top O' Michigan brought or sent pies. And did they look appetizing! When they were served at the annual banquet in the evening the club reporter only received about one tenth of a pie. We move the pie makers send about seventy next year.

The premiums offered in the contest were very attractive with $5.00 for first place. This was won by Mrs. Frank Wyrick of Alanson; second, Mrs. Arthur Ludlow, Petoskey; third, Mrs. Albert Sydow, Goodhart; and fourth, Mrs. Don Balloy, Gaylord.

4-H CLUBS AND SMITH HUGHES SCHOOLS STUDENTS HERE EN MASSE

One of the interesting meetings held in connection with the show was the 4-H Club-Smith Hughes meeting held in the Court House on Thursday afternoon. There were about 125 4-H Club members and Smith Hughes students present.

G. A. Thorpe opened the meeting by leading a group of songs.

Following the singing Mr. R. J. Gehrke, President of the Show welcomed the boys and girls. Mr. Gehrke emphasized the importance of having the boys and girls interested in better farming and better homemaking. He also told them how they are helping to build up the Top O' Michigan Show, making it one of the outstanding agricultural exhibits in the country.

Following Mr. Gehrke's talk, G. A. Thorpe, Assistant State Club Leader, outlined some of the things which 4-H Club work is doing for the boys and girls of Michigan.

Mr. E. E. Gallup, State Supervisor of Rural Education then told the boys and girls about the growth of rural education along the lines of Smith Hughes work. He told how the first appropriations were made by Congress for this type of work and how the results have been so outstanding that more funds are being used each year for this sort of work.

Following this Mr. Gallup emphasized the part the Smith Hughes boys and girls and the 4-H Club members are playing in the Top O' Michigan Potato show.

After Mr. Gallup's talk, Mr. Walter Ricks, Advertising Manager for the International Harvester Company gave a short talk on the interest his company has in boys and girls work and how they are willing to help in every way while moving forward. He then introduced George Ford of Gaylord who introduced the winner of the Ford Hardware Contest.

Mr. Kenneth Bordino, Supt. of Schools of Alcona then made the awards in the judging and identification contests which were held Thursday forenoon.

ern Michigan Development Bureau at Bay City, were judges of this contest.

When the contest was over, it was found that Julia Allen of Gaylord was the winner and will represent the Top O' Michigan Potato Association at the State Potato Show at East Lansing during Farmers Week in February.

After the queen of the show had been declared, a late entrant appeared who and she was late because Charley Bilvins car broke down.

Even though the contest had been decided, the judges allowed her to appear and after questioning her "Crowned her," but not with a gold crown. After she had made her disappearance, it was announced that the young lady was none other than our jovial county agent, Paul Barrett, of Cheboygan.

Dr. Eben Mumford, Rural Sociologist of Michigan State College, then made the main talk of the evening. In a short 20 minute speech, Dr. Mumford drove home the idea of building up a community spirit and complimented the officers of the Potato Show on the splendid results in staging the Seventh Annual Show.

Dr. Borgstrom's orchestra of Alpena, consisting of ten pieces furnished the music for the evening. Dr. Borgstrom should be congratulated on the excellent orchestra which he has developed and also commended for his fine spirit in bringing this orchestra to the show free of charge.

The banquet was served in the new dining hall of the 4-H Club building where seating accommodations will easily take care of 500 should the occasion demand.

JOSEPHINE MORGAN WON POSTER CONTEST

Another new feature of the Seventh Annual Top O' Michigan Potato Show was the Poster Contest. This contest replaced the old Essay Contest which has been an annual affair of the show up to this year.

The Poster Contest was made possible through the interest of the Bloom Company, Commission Merchants of Detroit who buy quality potatoes from the Top O' Michigan.

Five prizes, totaling $40.00, were offered. These prizes consisted of $12.00, $10.00, $8.00, $6.00 and $4.00 for the first five places respectively.

The Contest was open to any boy or girl in any grade or high school of the Top O' Michigan counties. The Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show or called attention to the production, marketing, or utilization problems in connection with the growing of apples and potatoes.

Josephine E. Morgan of the Alanson school was winner of first place in this contest. Florence Kilarney, Gaylord, won second place; Edwin Ordway of Alanson, third place; Clara Berger, Gaylord, fourth place; and June Day, Toward, fifth place.

There were 21 posters submitted and were judged by Miss Florence Becker, Nutrition Specialist, Michigan State College, and R. C. Heydrick, Artist at Michigan State College.

THANK YOU

The officers and directors of the Top O' Michigan Potato Association wish to express their appreciation to all persons and agencies, particularly the newspapers of the Top O' Michigan, for the splendid support given in connection with the Seventh Annual Potato and Apple Show just held.

This Show creates a spirit of friendly competition among the potato and apple growers of northern Michigan and is serving to create a medium for exchange of ideas on the production, marketing and utilization of the potato and apple crop.

ROAD MEN PREPARE FOR WINTER

THIRTY-FIVE MILES OF SNOW FENCE HAS BEEN PLACED.

City and County Both Make Preparations—Program Will Be Extended One This Winter.

Facing a snow removal program of larger scope than ever attempted in previous years in Charlevoix county, workmen under the supervision of R. T. Davis, county maintenance superintendent, are busy putting up snow fence and making preparations to thwart the best efforts of "Old King Winter."

As in former years, all trunk lines allotted to this division will be kept open. In addition, a greater portion of the main county roads are coming in for attention. It is understood the county roads listed for snow removal include the Boyne City-Charlevoix, East Jordan-Charlevoix lower road, Ironston to Boyne City through Advance, the Peninsula road, East Jordan-Elsworth, East Jordan-Boyne City and M-66 through to Chestonia.

Work of putting up snow fence is progressing rapidly and will be completed within a week, according to last reports. Five car loads of new fence have been distributed throughout the county this year. Two were sent in by the state, the county purchased two and a half car loads and school districts a half car load. This new material is in addition to that already on hand. It is estimated that a total of 35 miles of fence is being used.

To the machinery department, a new 4-12 ton Acme truck, the largest now owned by the county, has been purchased and delivered. It has the latest plow attachment and was greatly needed. It is also estimated that other snow removal equipment will be added to that already available.

Culverts and other obstructions along the highways have been marked and everything will be in readiness before heavy snowfall.

The city street department is also making preparations in the same direction. Crews have been busy for several days marking curb and street boundaries. The streets are in good condition this winter. All leaves and refuse have been removed from gutters to insure rapid drainage, and the same policy of keeping streets open for automobile traffic will be followed.

NORTHERN DEALERS MEET AT PETOSKEY

Oil Men Heard H. H. Ragle, Jackson, State President.

Oil dealers from six Northern Michigan counties gathered at Petoskey last Thursday evening for a dinner at the Hotel Perry. Edmund Dean, chairman of the district, was in charge and presented H. H. Ragle, of Jackson, as the main speaker. Wilson McDonald, Petoskey, entertained with a group of his special songs, William Adams being at the piano.

Mr. Ragle is president of the Michigan Oil Men's association. He spoke on the new code of business ethics for oil dealers, which the federal trade commission recently approved. His talk was highly interesting and instructive.

Members of the northern group were present from Emmet, Cheboygan, Charlevoix, Otsego, Crawford and Antrim counties.

THE WEEK'S WEATHER

The following temperature readings at Charlevoix for the week from November 12th to November 19th inclusive, are furnished by the U. S. Coast Guard station:

	High	Low
Wednesday	42	36
Thursday	40	36
Friday	40	36
Saturday	46	32
Sunday	45	32
Monday	38	31
Tuesday	30	25

It will be noted the temperature took a decided drop Tuesday. This decline was accompanied by the first snow flurry of the year, and as we go to press there are about three inches of "the beautiful" under foot.

STATE-COUNTY NORMAL HEALTH PROGRAM

Dr. Davis Gave Excellent Talk on "Mouth Hygiene."

Dr. Wm. R. Davis, who appeared Wednesday, presented the last of a series of health lectures which the State Department of Health has offered to the Charlevoix County Normal this year.

Dr. Davis' unusually interesting talk on "Mouth Hygiene" was followed and supplemented by an inspection of the children of the training room.

As a result of his visit last year a number of children received a 100 per cent grade on "Good Teeth." We hope for the same good results this year.

Charlevoix is fortunate to have a County Normal which is included in Dr. Davis' schedule, to make it possible for the community to meet him and hear him.

The Normal Class and faculty wish to express their appreciation to the state department for arranging the interesting and helpful program.

CLASS C SCHOOLS WILL FORM LEAGUE

INITIAL MEETING AT BOYNE CITY LAST SATURDAY.

Oscar P. North of Charlevoix Faculty Temporary President—Meet Again in December.

Sixteen officials representing six Northern Michigan class C schools, met at Boyne City last Saturday afternoon and at that time took initial steps toward the formation of an athletic league to direct sports between those cities represented.

Charlevoix was honored at this gathering by having one of its representatives, Oscar P. North, chosen temporary chairman of the league. Mr. North heads the Charlevoix high school athletic association and was one of the original initiators and promoters behind the movement to bring the schools together. Coach Iva Tilton of Gaylord, was chosen temporary secretary. Those schools having officials present were Charlevoix, Harbor Springs, Boyne City, East Jordan, Mancelona and Gaylord.

While no final action was taken, all officials present were favorable towards formation of the league. The proposition was discussed from a standpoint of feasibility and other details gone over. Contrary to early expectations, the organization will not be called the "Little Six," but will have a name more significant to the region embraced.

It was decided to charge an annual membership fee of $5.00, and the money raised will be used to purchase trophies. Cups will be given annually to the school winning championship honors in all major sports such as football, basketball and track. The league will also promote minor sports such as tennis, golf, hockey, etc., and give trophies to the winners.

No steps were taken to arrange schedules for the coming year. In this direction there are many obstacles to overcome. Several of the schools are already under contract for certain games on set dates and will have to re-arrange their plans to take on games with each member of the proposed league.

Each school in the league will have one representative on the executive committee and there will be one set annual meeting. Final action towards organization will be taken at another meeting to be held the first week in December, place and date to be announced later. In the meantime, Mr. North will work out by-laws and regulations to be presented at the coming session. The league will be christened at that time, and members of the executive committee and permanent officers chosen.

POINTS TWO PLACES WHERE A ROYAL WELCOME AWAITS.

Urges Local People to Call on Former Charlevoixites in California and Grand Rapids.

Letters from former Charlevoix residents who have taken up their homes elsewhere are always welcomed by the Courier and we believe they will also be read with interest by our subscribers. The following communication is from W. A. Carey, Detroit, who assures us that a royal welcome awaits any time we wish to call on certain former Charlevoixites, one of whom now resides in California, and the other in Grand Rapids. His letter follows:

"The Courier, Charlevoix, Mich. Dear Friend Usher:

The announcement in the October 23rd issue of the Courier of the Semi-annual Charlevoix Picnic on November 3rd at Los Angeles, in the Sycamore Grove where upwards of one hundred people will attend, many of whom are from Charlevoix, attracted my attention and it is to these Michiganers who are swinging on the Golden Gate and also to those who prefer to live in Charlevoix that this additional bit of news is given, concerning a former Charlevoix boy, who was associated for several years with Mr. R. P. Foley, manager of the Belvedere Hotel and also at Winter Park, Florida.

"For those whose memories do not span the period of 22 years or more, let me explain that this former Charlevoix boy is the brother of a former pastor of the Baptist church of Charlevoix. The following item appeared in one of the Modesto, California, papers of recent date:

"Hugh Hughes, for ten years assistant manager of the Hotel Hughes, has purchased an interest in the Lankershim Hotel at San Francisco, and assumed his duties as an assistant manager of the San Francisco hotel on October 1st. J. Beatty, former proprietor of the Hughes, retains his interest in the Lankershim. The Lankershim Hotel is located on Fifth street, near Market, with the stage depot opposite."

"Now then, all you Wolverines who are wintering in California, if you would really like to meet the most congenial hotel man in the Golden Gate state, just visit the Lankershim, ask for Hughes and mention Charlevoix. You will be well received. I can assure you.

"To the many home folks who live in Grand Rapids and to those who visit that city, it will also be interesting to know that Mr. Ernie Near, manager of Hotel Rowe, was also associated with Mr. Foley and is a pal of Mr. Hughes through several years of hotel experience together. Just drop in and say 'hello' to Ernie, and mention the old home town. I guarantee you will get a most hearty welcome, for both of these boys have a big warm spot for Charlevoix, due to their early hotel experience, which has stepped them up to their present positions and success in the commercial life of our good old U. S. A.

"Let us all boost for them and they will boost for the prettiest little town on three lakes—Charlevoix."

Signing off at Detroit, W. A. C."

CONDITION OF MICHIGAN CROPS

SUMMER DROUGHTS GREATLY AFFECT STATE ACREAGE.

Corn Crop Alone 18,000,000 Bushels Short—Beans Two Million Bushels Short.

The disastrous effects of the summer drought are plainly evident in the November estimates of Michigan's late-season crops. Corn, beans, potatoes, sugar beets and buckwheat are returning yields far below normal, according to Herbert E. Powell, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Verae H. Church, U. S. Agricultural Statistician for Michigan.

The total corn crop amounts to 35,425,000 bushels as compared with 51,135,000 last year and 56,841,000, the ten-year average. Usually about one-third of the acreage goes into silos, but with the light yield of fodder in many fields this year, it is probable that 40 per cent or more has been utilized for silage purposes. This leaves only about twenty million bushels harvested as grain and far less than is required to feed the state's livestock through the winter. The yield was only 25 bushels per acre as compared with a ten-year average of 34.5 bushels and is the smallest yield recorded in 30 years with the single exception of 1917. Only 60 per cent of the crop is reported to be of merchantable quality.

Michigan usually ranks about fifth among the states in buckwheat production. The crop was greatly shortened by drought this year, and many acres were not harvested because of failure to fill. The average yield is 10.5 bushels per acre or a total crop of 609,000 bushels. The average yield is 10.5 bushels per acre or a total crop of 609,000 bushels. The acreage was about twenty per cent larger than usual and the production fifteen per cent less. The quality of the grain is also considerably below average.

The November estimate of the Michigan potato crop is 14,901,000 bushels. This is slightly more than one-half the quantity raised in 1928. The best yields are reported from the northwestern counties of the lower peninsula. The tubers in many fields were very small while in other fields, particularly some northern sections, they were of normal size. The crop is generally free from rot and blight and the quality is exceptionally good except for size.

The crop in the entire country is placed at 333,977,000 bushels, a gain of about eight million bushels over the October estimate. The crop is large enough to make spectacular future prices doubtful, but small enough to favor a reasonable strong market throughout the winter and up to the time that early southern potatoes begin to move into the state next spring.

The western bean crop made some gains in volume during October, making the United States' crop 18,638,000 bushels, according to the November estimate, as compared with 16,430,000 bushels last year. The estimate for Michigan remains at 5,685,000 bushels, the same as on October 1. The quality is exceptionally good, the average pick being only 2.5 per cent, the smallest on record. Extremely dry weather caused some splitting, and some very late beans were not fully matured at harvest time, otherwise the pick would have been much less, as a large percentage of the crop picked under one per cent.

age of the crop picked under one per cent.

Sugar beets suffered in common with other Michigan cultivated crops this year, and the yield of six tons per acre is the lowest on record except that of 1918. The early season was too wet and the latter half of the summer too dry for satisfactory growth. Because of the short crop, which amounts to an estimated tonnage of only 348,000, not all of the beet sugar factories are being operated this year.

Apples yielded better than expected and reporters now estimate a production of 7,020,000 bushels for Michigan against a crop of 5,400,000 last year.

SPAWN GATHERING VERY SUCCESSFUL

LOCAL HATCHERY WILL BE FILLED TO CAPACITY.

Phenomenal Run of Whitefish Is Now on and Fishermen Have Had Best Season in Years.

Hatchery and State Conservation department officials are jubilant over the results of the spawna fishing season this year. Indications are that the annual gathering of lake trout and whitefish spawn, which has been under way for the past several weeks under the supervision of the conservation department, will be the most successful in years.

Along with the state officials, commercial fishermen also have cause for considerable satisfaction, for in spite of the most adverse weather conditions experienced in some time, the catches are reported to be far above the average. Starting from the very outset of the season, when enormous lifts were taken, the run of fish has been good. According to local fishermen, however, weather conditions have been far from their liking. Gales swept the lake a greater portion of the fishing season, making it an arduous and grueling task to reach the fishing grounds to lift and set nets.

It is reported that a phenomenal run of whitefish on the north shore has already filled all the hatcheries to capacity with this species of spawn. The Charlevoix hatchery—the largest on-fresh water—has 34,500,000 trout eggs and 95,000,000 whitefish eggs on hand and should be filled by the end of the season. The State department has closed the Soo hatchery and discontinued the hatching of trout at Alpena. This chance is bringing virtually all the trout to Charlevoix. The Thompson hatchery, however, is carrying both trout and whitefish.

Spawn is being brought to Charlevoix from all directions. Trucks are bringing in eggs from Northport and Frankfort. The conservation patrol boat is bringing large quantities from the north shore and the Str. James B. Sanford is being used as the carrier from Beaver Island to Charlevoix. All indications are that the local unit will be filled to capacity for the first time in recent years.

Packing houses at Charlevoix report a bumper year, having frozen an enormous quantity of fish.

NAME HONORARY CLASS C TEAMS

CHOSEN SATURDAY BY OFFICIALS AT BOYNE CITY.

Charlevoix Placed Two on First Team Team and Four on Second—Division Strong This Year.

At a meeting in Boyne City last Saturday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a league of class C schools, representatives present collectively named members of two honorary All-Northern Michigan Class C football teams and designated those deemed worthy of special mention.

Harbor Springs led the group by placing four men on the first team. Boyne City had three, Charlevoix two and Gaylord and East Jordan one each. Following is the line-up:

Those given honorable mention were: Centers—Shields, Gaylord; Hipp, East Jordan; Smith, Gaylord; Guards—Shaler, Boyne City; Foster, Charlevoix; Neiland, Mancelona; Backs, Harbor Springs. Half backs—Rosemier, Harbor Springs; Criske, Gaylord; Fullback—Avella, Charlevoix; Tackle—Lee, East Jordan; Drake, Mancelona.

Northern Michigan this year produced several teams of class B caliber—teams that were probably the best this region has seen in years. Boyne City and Harbor Springs, who were tied for first place class C honors, played and defeated some of the best class B timber in this region. Boyne lost but one game, and that to the strong Cadillac eleven, champions of the "Big Six." They defeated Traverse City, Alpena, Petoskey and Charlevoix of larger schools. Harbor had a good record also, marking up victories over Petoskey and Cheboygan in addition to those of the class C division. Charlevoix was well up in leadership of the class C group, winning second place with but one loss to Boyne City. Gaylord also had a strong combination.

JUDGE SHEPHERD RESIGNS HIS POST

Forwards News to Gov. Fred Green Who Will Name Successor.

Circuit Judge Frank Shepherd of Cheboygan, of the thirty-third judicial district, has forwarded his resignation to Governor Green, to be effective November 25, says the Petoskey Evening News.

The retirement of Judge Shepherd from active work ends a period of 30 consecutive years on the bench, during which time he became one of the best known jurists of Northern Michigan. Of recent years his health has been impaired, which is one of the reasons for his retirement before his terms expires with the current year. While his successor to fill the time between November 25 and the end of the year, has not been named, it is freely predicted that the governor will name Circuit Judge-elect Victor D. Sprague, Cheboygan attorney, who was nominated and elected without opposition for the six year period beginning with the calendar year 1930.

The Ladies' Altar Society will give a bridge and pedro party at St. Mary's school hall, Monday evening, November 25. Refreshments will be served. Admission 25c.—Adv. 4711

More and More COLDs treated EXTERNALLY

A GENERATION AGO, Vicks originated the better method of treating colds externally. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing," and the demand for Vicks has increased to "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

Mothers appreciate Vicks, because there's no "dosing" to upset children's stomachs. It is equally good for adults. Just rubbed on, Vicks acts thru the skin like a plaster; it also gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled.

PONTIAC LADY FINDS HEALTH THRU KONJOLA

Lady Surprised and Delighted at Quick Results Obtained From Master Medicine.

MRS. FANNIE E. GLENNY.

"It is a serious matter to be sick—not to be able to meet each day's duties happily. All should profit by the experience of others as did Mrs. Fannie E. Glenn, 198 South Rose-lawn Drive, Pontiac, Mich., who praises Konjola in this fashion:

"At my age of 72 I felt that my nervousness would never come to an end. My sister, who knew of the merits of Konjola, insisted that I give this new medicine a trial. I was somewhat doubtful at first, but I noticed an improvement with the first bottle. My appetite increased and I was able to sleep better at night. This was a surprise to me. Six bottles of Konjola have given me the relief I have tried so long to find. Now I am able to do my own house-work again. Konjola certainly is a wonderful medicine."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix by F. J. Fossenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Boys and Girls Winter Club Program Shows 17 Clubs.

Considerable interest and enthusiasm has been manifested in the organization of Clothing, Handicraft and Hot Lunch Clubs during the past month. Many new localities have organized clubs for the first time and several are now carrying on club work for the second and third consecutive years. This type of work is gaining in popularity each winter and from all indications a much larger enrollment will be received than at any other year. At the present time, 17 clubs are fully organized with a membership of 134 boys and girls, who are actively engaged in making numerous articles which are of practical value and can be used in or about the home.

The girls learn to darn and patch, hem dish towels, and then make two articles of apparel. The boys make the bench hook and five other articles such as a boot jack, book rack, coat hanger, tie rack, feed scoop, milk stool, nail box, sleeve board, shelf, window support, and many others too numerous to mention.

Following are the clubs, leaders, and members:

Clothing Clubs.

Norwood school, Mrs. Ruby Alward, leader, 6 members.

Loeh school, Miss Beatrice Straw, leader, 4 members.

Curfew school, Miss Olga Schultz, leader, 6 members.

Boyne Falls school, Miss Anna Wellington, leader, 12 members.

Deer Lake school, Miss Norma Moore, leader, 5 members.

Clarion school, Miss Jessie Cork, leader, 13 members.

Bay Shore school, Miss Nita Shear, leader, 6 members.

Nowland school, Miss Clara Dougherty, leader, 7 members.

Marion Center school, Mrs. Chas. Withers, leader, 14 members.

Total membership 75.

Handicraft Clubs.

Marion Center school, John Dutcher, leader, 10 members.

Clarion school, Miss Josephine Ellis, leader, 10 members.

Ranney school, Mrs. Alma Brown, leader, 5 members.

Walker school, Mrs. Ruby Stenck, leader, 7 members.

Boyne Falls school, Arthur Middleton, leader, 5 members.

Norwood school, Richard Kirby, leader, 9 members.

Curfew school, Miss Olga Schultz, leader, 6 members.

Ironton school, Mrs. Bernice Knop, leader, 7 members.

Total membership 59.

Two or three schools have not definitely decided upon the organization of club work, but it is expected when all is settled that there will be about 20 clubs carrying on work this winter with close to 200 members.

THE SAME FOR ALL.

There is no one who desires to see the stock market break with such violence that it will cause great distress. That it will break, that it is breaking, is beyond dispute.

The most serious aspect of the past few years has been the fact that so much of the brains of the nation has been put into speculation rather than production. Speculations always has its gains and losses. We assume that the present situation has continued long enough so that many of the speculators have put the losses that are to come upon the innocent or the foolish investing public.

A nation does not make itself sound and prosperous by living upon its wits. Soundness and prosperity come from profitable production. Industry has gone badly into debt the last few years. The market for securities has encouraged bond and stock issues. Easy capital has encouraged expansion that may be beyond the demand of the immediate future. Mergers, many of them unsound, have been consummated because mergers are popular even though the history of finance has shown that most of them have been unsuccessful.

The farmer has easy money and he went into debts which he could not pay. Industry has had easy money and has incurred obligations which the future cannot meet, except with loss of interest or principal.

Prosperity in a nation is based on the old fashioned fundamentals. The rule of corporation is the rule for the individual. Work, saving, looking ahead, all these things essential to individual success are essential for the great corporations which deal in millions and hundreds of millions.

It will do the nation no harm, in fact it is necessary, to have industry basis of production and paying rather than incurring debts. — Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review.

Charlevoix School Notes

Edited by Class Members

"No legacy is so rich as honesty."
—Shakespeare.

Doctor Herbert of Vanderbilt, addressed the high school students Friday morning. At his age, he tells us, he looks back and rejoices with youth. Mr. Herbert says we have one of the most wonderful set of young people here in America; since they are the most sincere and less hypocritical.

We must not think that money is primary in success, although it may aid us in attaining success. John Conlidge, the ex-president's son, is a fine example of our youth of today. He, with his bride, reside in a small apartment on moderate means. They live with an ease and serenity that not many of our youth would be contented to do.

Mr. Herbert says we owe a duty to society. However, we can not show this duty by "snobbishness." We should adapt ourselves to our position and work upward.

In closing, Doctor Herbert gave us this worthwhile gem: "If you have vision, sense and purpose, grasp it."

Commercial Department.

Tuesday morning two typing students received awards from the Underwood Typewriting Company. Jane Simminow was awarded a silver pin for typing 52 words a minute, and Clara Kelderhouse received a bronze pin for typing 41 words a minute.

Award tests are given each month and the students work diligently throughout the month to raise their speed so that they will earn an award. These awards are given to students who make five or less errors in the tests.

Debate.

The debate Thursday between East Jordan debating team and C. H. S. resulted in a victory for East Jordan, the decision being unanimous.

The debate took place at 8 o'clock in the high school assembly. A total of eighty-one people were present, twenty-four of them were from East Jordan. The judges were the history teacher from Petoskey and the superintendent and debate coach from Harbor Springs.

Charlevoix's next debate will take place December 6, with Cheboygan, at Cheboygan. Our debating team has already had a practice debate with Cheboygan's second team, but this will be with the first squad.

Girl's Basketball.

One of the features of coming sport season is girl's basketball. Tuesday night is their beginning night. Sixty girls already have enrolled to play. Looks very promising! Let's hope that there will be just as many at the end of the season.

Two nights a week will be given to the Juniors and Seniors for practice, and two nights to the Freshmen and Sophomores. This seems to please the girls because it makes competition keener.

Girls basketball this year is under the direction of Miss Anderson, commercial teacher.

The future looks bright and we all think and hope that the girls season will be successful.

Life—Today.

Beneath the sobbing, throbbing jazz,
Beneath the living pulsing mass
Held by honesty's binding ties,
Are hearts of gold that scorn the lies,
Inside the glitter and the glare
Are living those who do and dare,
Behind the mockery and despair
God, love and truth are hidden there.

Elementary School.

Last Friday each room had election of officers for playground duty. The duties of these officers are becoming lighter because they have such splendid co-operation with the children.

The children responded very favorably to the Red Cross plea for membership. Each room has a membership and we are very proud of it.

Our poster showing one hundred per cent membership is the source of much pride. It is displayed in the most conspicuous place in the hall, and we are pleased to know that no child in the Charlevoix schools was a shirker. We promise to uphold this standard next year.

Kindergarten.

Our fireplace is more attractive now due to the fact that we have been presented with new andirons and folding screen. As yet we have not made a fire because we are happy just to sit and look at the fixtures.

It's time to CHANGE to winter grades

WINTER is near.

Is your car ready? Three steps are necessary to put your car in shape to meet the heavy demands of cold weather driving.

- 1—Change the lubricant in the differential and transmission, using Polarine Transmission Oil (Winter) or Iso-Vis Lubricant (B).
- 2—Have the chassis thoroughly greased.
- 3—Flush the crankcase with Polarine Flushing Oil and refill with winter grade of either Iso-Vis or Polarine recommended for your car.

These three steps are vital to the good conduct and smooth operation of your car this winter.

Iso-Vis and Polarine meet every winter need. They maintain their viscosity and lubricate thoroughly at any operating temperature. They're highly refined and scientifically correct for all motors.

If you use Polarine—drain the crankcase every 500 miles for maximum efficiency and economy. If you use Iso-Vis, the constant viscosity oil—you can drive a thousand miles or more without changing, for Iso-Vis wears and wears and wears.

But those who believe that the surplus value will see what actually takes place. They will appreciate that the "material" in the structure are destroyed for all time and that the dollars have been added in the value of the building etc. They will realize that this represents an economic loss to the nation and when they are told that in the total material destroyed by fire an amount is valued at almost a half-billion dollars, they will appreciate that this cannot go on indefinitely.

Senator Burleigh of Iowa and his colleague, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, are reported dissatisfied with the chairman of the farm board, Mr. Legge. Mr. LaFollette's opposition is easily understood. Mr. Legge, before taking the $12,000 post in the government service, was earning $100,000 a year as a business man. Mr. LaFollette, with one exception, represents the presence of $100,000 more in his vicinity. The tireless pilot was Marshall W. Forrest, prominent young golfer of Lowell, Mass., who recently drove the 1,200 miles between Lawrence, Kansas, and Lancaster, Pa., at an "sitting" while east bound on the last stage of a coast-to-coast round trip of 11,675 miles. The car was a 1922 Pontiac Six roadster which previously had been driven 19,000 miles. Forrest left the Kansas town at 8:25 a. m. one morning and reached Lancaster at midnight of the next day after 10 hours on the road. The entire trip from Los Angeles to New York required only six days.

Forrest drove moderately but achieved his remarkable results through long hours at the wheel. He was accompanied by Harry S. Ruzell, also of Lowell. In addition to the driver and passenger, the Pontiac Six carried some 400 pounds of camping equipment and other baggage. Enroute they passed through 22 states and four Canadian provinces. According to Forrest, the most interesting and difficult part of the tour involved 250 miles of driving through wooded trails and over the road bed of the Grand Trunk railway bed for a distance of 250 miles between Jasper Park and Edmonton in the Province of Alberta.

Despite the fact that much of the route led through rough country seldom frequented by tourists, gasoline consumption averaged 17.5 miles per gallon. Forrester asserted that the Pontiac required no special attention either during or after the long round trip.

The surest way to rid alfalfa fields, orchards, and other places of pocket gophers is to put poison bait in mounds of vegetables or grain in the main runways of the animals. Bait need be placed only at two points in each separate system of 10 to 30 mounds, which is usually the home of a single pocket gopher. October to December is one of the best seasons to poison these rodents.

An Anniversary of Gratitude

Three hundred and eight years ago a handful of Pilgrims on the New England coast set aside a day of praise and thanksgiving for their first successful harvest in the new world. Down through the years the custom has spread, and now one of the world's greatest and most prosperous countries will offer thanks on November 28th for its national and individual well-being.

This bank not only joins with the country and the nation in observing this anniversary of gratitude, but also wishes to take this opportunity to extend thanks to its customers and friends—and this entire community—for the patronage and good will it has enjoyed.

A party consisting of James Wilson, Louis Peterson, Ed. McClannahan, Bob Wilson and Godfrey McDonald returned Sunday night to Charlevoix from a point 12 miles east of Roscommon, where they had been hunting deer. They reported seeing several deer, but didn't get any. Jim Wilson shot a buck that scrambled to his feet and got away. Mr. Wilson's second cartridge failed to explode.

The government relief lightship, which has been stationed on Gray's Reef all summer, is now in port having boilers cleaned and will soon go into winter quarters at Milwaukee. The Port's Reef lightship takes the north ship's place on Gray's Reef until the close of navigation, when she and the Mariton lightship will go into winter quarters at Charlevoix. A new lightship, recently completed at Port's Reef, ten miles off the mouth of St. Mary's River in Lake Huron, makes the services of a lightship unnecessary at that point.

giving Day," sixth, "The Landing of the Pilgrims."

Preparations are being completed this week for our Thanksgiving program and box social, to be given Tuesday evening, November 26th, at 8:00 o'clock fast time. Everyone is invited to come. The proceeds will be used to buy some necessary articles for the school.

Every Friday from 9:30 to 10:30 we devote to work in our arithmetic work books, which were secured at the beginning of the year from the Webster Publishing Co. It is found that we benefit from this since we get drill on different phases of arithmetic work and are given individual help by our teacher.

Benjamin Brown will give you the best service on your car and Radio Batteries during the cold weather.—Adv. 44tf.

MARION CENTER SCHOOL.

Mary Perron is confined to her home with a very bad cold this week. The first grade are constructing the home of the three bears and furnishing it to represent the story in their readers.

Among the new improvements for our school are new locks and hardware on all the doors and a new kerosene Alladin hanging lamp, which we like very much.

The fifth grade language class each wrote a letter to Glenn Crain, who has been absent the past week because of a bad cold. They constructed their own envelopes and several were sent via air mail.

The eighth grade are beginning "The Expansion of the United States" in their study of history. They have made some maps showing the density of population in 1800 and the various territories.

The members of the sixth grade language class have written some interesting essays on "Hobbies." The boys are interested in aeronautics, while the girls are more interested in embroidery.

NOWLAND SCHOOL NOTES.

Luella Cunningham has been absent from school on account of sore throat.

The agricultural class are experimenting with different kinds of germination tests.

Our new clock has arrived and it is more than appreciated. Thank you, school board.

Lee Pierce has returned home from the Charlevoix hospital, where has was taken with a broken ankle.

Our school room decoration which consists of turkeys, pilgrims and pumpkins, tell us that Thanksgiving is coming.

In arithmetic class the sixth grade are studying fractions; the seventh grade are studying percentage, and the eighth grade are studying formulas.

The following poems are being memorized for language: Fourth grade, "The Frost"; sixth grade "The Landing of the Pilgrims"; seventh grade, "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin"; and the eighth grade, "Our Presidents." A poem contest is planned for the future.

For a wind and water proof shirt or blazer, try our Buck-Skein brand at $4.00 up to $5.00, Benjamin Brown.—Adv. 44tf.

McGEAGH SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Mellencamp called yesterday to leave the books and other material for the Sewing club.

The Sewing club have selected the name, "Willing Workers," and mean to prove it in a few days when they have their first regular meeting.

Mr. Palmer visited our school last Wednesday. Finding the organ in need of repair, Mr. Palmer returned Thursday and quite thoroughly cleaned and repaired it for us. We wish to thank Mr. Palmer for his work.

We are busy practicing plays and other exercises for a program which we will give Friday night, November 22nd. Some of the best features are: "Teacher, Kin I Go Home," a little two-act play which will keep you laughing every minute, and "Come Back Mr. Trukey," "The Thursday After," shorter plays and each rollicking with fun. Don't miss it! Remember 8 o'clock Friday evening.

Ladies please bring a lunch for the box social after the program.

W. E. Parmelee makes storm windows and doors.—Adv. 13tf.

MURRAY SCHOOL NOTES.

We have received several new library books.

The school room is decorated in black and white.

LeRoy Ferguson was promoted to the fourth grade.

Norman Kunkle is absent this week on account of illness.

Mrs. Hair called at the school on Tuesday, November 19th.

Norman Kunkle and Lela Johnson were promoted to the first grade.

The fourth and fifth grade are making posters for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Johnson has been helping the children with the singing for our program.

We held a baked goods sale at Bay Shore, Saturday. Eight dollars was cleared.

The seventh and eighth grade boys are making a log cabin three feet by one and one-half feet. The girls are making furniture for the cabin.

Bethel Brecheisen had two of her friends, Frances Speigl and Grace Anderson for dinner Monday night. The occasion was her 10th birthday anniversary.

Everyone is busy getting ready for the Thanksgiving program, which is to be held November 27th. Two hundred seventy-six tickets have been sold for the quilt.

A new club was organized at the church Friday night. The club is composed of girls only. Miss McCalmion is to be the leader. There are now twelve members.

Try us on Battery service during the cold winter months. Benjamin Brown.—Adv. 44tf.

UNDINE SCHOOL.

You are invited to our Thanksgiving program Wednesday evening, November 27, at 7:30 standard time. Following is the program:

Thanksgiving hymn, School.
"We Thank Thee," Hilja Smith.
"Ted's Story of Thanksgiving," Clarence Smith.

"Preparing for a Visit," dialogue.
"A Girl's View," Patricia Baxter.
"Little Jam Pots," song.

"After Thanksgiving," two boys.
"A Surprise Party," dialogue.
"Spelling," Elinor Howe.
"A Cat's Thanksgiving," Marie Klooster.

"The Last Turkey," song.
"Thanksgiving Reminders," Cecilia Tepakeyah.
"Entertaining Sister's Beau," dialogue.

"The Landing of the Pilgrims," Clayton Smith.
"Mrs. Newlywed's Thanksgiving Dinner," play.

"Cheer, All Cheer, for Our Pilgrim Fathers," school.

"Farewell," Mary Tepakeyah.

Come. Your presence will be appreciated.

The Methodist Literary and Sewing Club will hold a bazaar at Staley Brothers' Hardware on Saturday, December 8th.—Adv. 46tf.

NORWOOD SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Palmer visited school a few minutes Thursday.

Newton Pierce spent last week end visiting in Charlevoix.

We have our new storm shed all finished except the door.

Mrs. Lashbrook and Marjorie Richardson spent last week end in Traverse City.

Dorothy and Buddy Hull came back from Flint on Thursday and now are in school again.

We had our first club meeting Friday night, November 15. We played awhile out doors before our supper, which was at 6:30. After the supper we had first the girls' club meeting and then the boys' club meeting. After the meeting, we played games until 8:30. We had a very enjoyable time.

WASHINGTON NEWS
LETTER

"The High Cost of Relief"

How much does relief cost the relieved? It isn't such an absurd question as it sounds. First, bear in mind that the official purpose to which the extra session of congress was originally dedicated was termed "relief"—or more specifically, farm relief. However, since any session of congress costs the government something, and since the cost must ultimately come out of the taxes being paid by the people, the answer resolves itself into a simple matter of computing the expense of this session.

There is the matter of the congressional Record. It doesn't look like an extravagant item—no illustrations, no binding, and no high-grade paper. Yet, we have it on official authority that the Record is printed at an expense of $52 dollars a page. There have been, since March, at least 5,700 pages of senatorial oratory published—at a cost of at least $296,400. The printing bill for the tariff hearings is now up to $325,000. If Congress takes a short recess before the regular session to afford its members a brief trip home, the mileage in the case of the senate alone will amount to some $45,000, while representatives will collect, in the aggregate, several times that amount. Now add to all the trifling little items the $600,000, 000 or more that the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill, if passed, will cost consumers, and you have something approaching the grand total of the bill our John Smith's and Susie Jones will have to foot for their relief. Could any high-powered racketeer do better?

Stickum Will Stick 'Em.

Our favorite complaint, the non-adhesiveness of postage stamps, may be forever removed from the correspondents' column of the Sunday papers. A grave and revered committee composed of representatives of the post office department, the bureau of Engraving and Printing, and the Bureau of Standards, is now engaged in the study of why so-called stickum on the back of stamps does not stick 'em. They have now gotten as far as discovering that "patrons have applied too much moisture to the stamps." They are up the verge of deciding, also, that if the stamps, after printing, are allowed to dry before applying mucilage, the finished product is more disposed to collaborate with the envelope in furnishing transportation for the letter.

The efficiency of the correspondents' column as a means of correction for public evils has long been doubted; if we cease to find our postage stamps fluttering about in carefree curls when we supposed them anchored safely to our letters, we shall never doubt again.

Politics This Week.

It was Armistice Day for the tariff snipers as well as for the man on the street. After a few dull skirmishes that lasted only until one o'clock on November 11, Senate soldiers desisted from their verbal bombs until the following day. Senator Reed Smoot, Captain-General of the finance committee, had anticipated it on the preceding Saturday, when he offered an Armistice for all concerned until November 20 during which time the coalition would be allowed to re-write the bill to its own liking. The Democrat-Progressive general publicly declined.

Despite interruptions of this sort, action on the bill is proceeding with remarkable speed as contrasted with preceding months of delay. The coalition has dropped its scattering rifle attacks for Big Bertha tactics, and as many as twenty paragraphs of a schedule have been known to go down under fire in one session. Pleased with the efficiency of this relentless army, a few of the most regular regulars from the old guard camps have actually placed some of their voting ammunition at the rebels' disposal for a schedule or two. At this rate, the hotly contested document may be in the hands of conferees to be smoothed into a presentable treaty before December—and the public will be the judge as to whether the world has been made safe for consumers or not.

New Mexico Educates and Transports.

New Mexico, according to her public budget records for last year, stands among the first in attainment of funds for educational purposes, having devoted to that purpose 43 per cent of the total government expenditures, or about $8,000,000. Road reconstruction came next in the budget, with about 25 per cent of total expenditures devoted to roads and maintenance.

These statements were recently given out by the governor of New Mexico who expressed his pride in the fact that his state is among the first in the proportionate amount of appropriations made for education and means of transportation.

Indiana Memorializes.

Indiana's quiet but constant work on the 100 acres of the Lincoln Memorial tract in Spencer county, where the state will erect a memorial to Lincoln's mother, bids fair to produce one of the finest memorials in the country. Instead of elaborate formal landscaping and huge pieces of sculpture, the state is proceeding with the clearing of the site of the Lincoln cabin, and the little burying ground where his mother's body lies, and the placing of a handsome fence around the whole tract. The tract will then be carefully planted, in accordance with landscape plans drawn by Frederick Law Olmstead, using quantities of native trees and shrubs of the kinds that flourished in the original forests of that region, so that, when the trees have grown to maturity, the tract will have the aspect of a stretch of primeval forest.

Newspapers and Sugar.

"The press" and "the people" are not identical terms in discussions of national issues, but sometimes one reflects the other so faithfully that there is little distinguishing between the two. The timeliest example of this sort of co-ordination right now is the case of the sugar tariff which is due for senatorial debate very shortly.

For every seven newspapers opposed to an increase in sugar duties, only one paper favors it, according to an estimate based on the examination of 1,823 daily newspapers with an approximate aggregate circulation of 36,000,000. The estimate was made by the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages.

The total circulation of the newspapers definitely known to have protested higher sugar tariff amounts to 21,860,710. In terms of circulation, then, the opposition exceeds support of an increased sugar tariff by a ratio of eleven to one. The 1,823 newspapers examined represent one-third of all the English-speaking dailies in the country. In this connection Junior Owens, secretary of the organization, says:

"Every reasonable care has been taken that the list may be accurate. For example, the New York Herald Tribune, one of the outstanding Republican newspapers in the country, has not been included although on August 21, 1929, it said of the work of the senate finance committee:

"They lowered the house rates on sugar, keeping them, nevertheless, well above the present rates and higher than circumstances seems to warrant."

"As far as newspaper editorials reflect public opinion, it may be said that the country is overwhelmingly opposed to an increased sugar tariff."

Mr. Owens also points out that: "A few newspapers, although opposed to increasing the import duties on sugar, believe with the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages that a direct bounty to sugar beet growers and to Louisiana cane growers would give added relief to these growers and should be granted if congress believes added relief is necessary. The Minneapolis Tribune is such a newspaper."

The Shearer Serial.

Pursuant to the policy begun this year by the United States senate of changing their billing of attractions week by week, which has been found more popular than the former long runs of standard favorites on their boards, the Naval Affairs committee just announced that they are putting on shortly the second part of their continued thriller "The Pirates of Geneva," in which the well-known contralto, public speaker and quick-changing artist, William B. Shearer, has the leading part. This is one of the best of the new-type mystery stories yet produced on the Capitol Hill boards. Critics who have been allowed to see the scenario of the skit say that it is not until the last scene of the last act that the spell-bound spectators can be sure as to which is hero and which is villain.

Washington drama-fans are anxiously awaiting the opening of the next part of this offering.

The Story of North America. American archeology is very much of the fashion and has been put on the front page with eclat by the modest but much-heralded flights of Colonel and Mrs. Lindberg over the Maya regions of Mexico. The Smithsonian Institute, the Bureau of American Ethnology, and the Carnegie Institution of Washington—to name but three activities initiated in our capital—have all been busily exploring, excavating and restoring prehistoric ruins in the south-west.

Other quiet students are working on the remains of the languages spoken by these peoples, also rummaging among old bits of prehistoric writings, digging out the meanings of hieroglyphics, and restoring something like grammatical order the various scraps of words and phrases. One day the meanings of buildings, carvings, sign-writings and surviving addments of spoken language will be fitted together like the pieces of a

and
The Telephone

Thirty years ago the automobile was a novel plaything which only the well-to-do could afford.

Today the automobile is a necessity. Motor trucks and buses play a large part in the transportation of freight and passengers. Commercial motor vehicles are indispensable.

Motor cars take us out-of-doors, enable thousands to enjoy the advantages of travel and make accessible many beauty spots in every state. Commercially and socially, the automobile has broken down the barrier of distance and made neighbors of all communities.

Michigan leads the world in the development of the automobile. Great corporations, producing a majority of the nation's motor-driven vehicles, have made Michigan the center of automobile manufacture.

Closely associated with and contributing to the growth of Michigan's major manufacturing industry are the telephone wireways. More than 3,000,000 miles of telephone circuits in Michigan serve in the purchase of raw materials, the directing of manufacture and transportation, the contacting of dealers and the buying and selling of the finished product. Telephone wireways carry the voice of motordom throughout the country, and even overseas.

Thus, are wireways serving Michigan's great industry and aiding in the prosperity and growth of our state.

Our policy—"To continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety".

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian churches on Sunday, November 17.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life" (I John 2:25). The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God, the divine Principle of man, and man in God's likeness, are inseparable, harmonious, and eternal. The Science of being furnishes the rule of perfection, and brings immortality to light" (p. 336).

A New Type Battery from Which You Can Get 10 years of Service

STEARNS

Can Be Used With Any Light Plant

It's easy to see why a new Stearns battery will add a great deal to the reliability of any light plant and how 10 years of service can readily be obtained from it under reasonable conditions. The elements are instantly removable (a Stearns invention) which allows the owner to quickly remove the natural accumulation of sediment from the jars—the substance that usually causes shorts and expensive repairs. Hence with ordinary attention the battery should function perfectly until the positive plates are worn out (usually 5 years, sometimes more). Then by replacing the positive plates, a simple job that the owner can easily do himself, the battery again should be good for 5 years or more—insure against expense and trouble—replace with a Stearns.

There are many reasons why a STEARNS light plant will give you the greatest amount of satisfactory service per dollar invested. By all means investigate the STEARNS before putting your name on the solid line for any light plant.

Sold on approval with 15 day Actual Trial. Your Money Back if You Want It. Convenient Terms if Desired. Made by one of the oldest manufacturers in the field.

Current Writings Vilma's Textbooks.
When Vilma Banky, star of "The Awakening," the Samuel Goldwyn picture which comes to the Palace Theatre on Saturday and Sunday, first came to the United States three years ago, her English was of the same dubious variety as that of other imported foreign stars. She attributes her improvement in the language of the land of her adoption to steady reading. And no five foot shelf of books or public library reading list has served her purpose. She finds that current periodicals and modern novels which are written in the exact idiom she hears spoken around her are the best for teaching her what such mysterious phrases as: "So's your old man," "And How!" really means.

BASKETBALL SEASON TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

Polar Bears Play Petoskey 'Cements' Thanksgiving Night.

The 1929-30 basketball season at Charlevoix opens next Thursday night, November 28th, when the Charlevoix Polar Bears take on the Petoskey Portland Cements in the local gymnasium.

The Polar Bears have been holding regular practice sessions for the past two weeks and will be ready for the opening tilt. The team should be one of the strongest independent outfits in the Northern Michigan region this year and another successful season is anticipated. They have a lot of good material, including several former stars and some good new material.

In addition to the independent outfits in this region, the Polar Bears will meet several down-state teams during the coming season.

The Ladies' Altar Society will give a bridge and negro party at St. Mary's school hall, Monday evening, November 25. Refreshments will be served. Admission 25c.—Adv. 4711.

ELMER INGALLS HURT WHILE DEER HUNTING

Severely Cut When Small Hand Axe Struck His Leg.

Elmer Ingalls, well known Marion Center dairyman, appears to be the victim of Charlevoix's one and only deer season accident.

Elmer downed his buck early last Friday, the opening morning of the season, at his cabin in the vicinity of Seenev. While cutting a pole to string up his deer, the small hand axe he was using slipped and struck him in the leg. The cut was a severe one, and Mr. Ingalls' last considerable blood before he could be taken out and given a physician's care.

He is back home now, however, not much worse off for his experience.

The Lady Maccabees will hold a "Hard Times" party Thursday evening, November 21st, at the Odd Fellow hall. Admission 25c. Ladies only.—Adv. 4711.

LOCAL GIRLS MARRIED NOVEMBER 9TH

Double Wedding at Angola, Indiana. Has Been Announced.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of two well known, local girls at a double wedding held in Angola, Indiana, on November 9th. Miss Clara Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hamilton, was united in marriage to Dalton Reed, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Reed, Sr., of Coldwater, Michigan, and Miss Ruby Wiles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wiles, this city, to Lynn Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Bailey, Sr., also of Coldwater.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas Davies at the Methodist parsonage in that city. After a wedding trip to the south, the couples will reside at Battle Creek.

The Literary and Sewing Club of the Methodist church will hold a bazaar sale on Saturday, November 23rd, at the Charlevoix Hardware Co.—Adv. 4711.

LARGE CROWD AT A. OF C. MEETING

SIXTY-FIVE ATTEND SESSION WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Fine Banquet Served by Pythian Sisters—Members Heard Reports of Committees.

Sixty-five members of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce met around the banquet table at the K. of P. Hall last Wednesday evening, and enjoyed a real feast prepared by the Pythian Sisters.

Following the banquet, a meeting of the Association was called to order by President C. J. Winder and the chairman of the various committees were called upon for a report of progress. A rising vote of thanks was accorded the Pythian Sisters for the fine dinner they had prepared, and also to Charles Hamlin and Mrs. Bernice Weststaff for the musical entertainment they provided.

Action was taken on the proposal of Rollie L. Lewis that a women's auxiliary to the Association be created to take care of various matters more naturally coming into the scope of feminine than masculine abilities, such as planning of social events to raise funds and the assistance of needy families not likely to seek aid from the regular relief agencies of the county. The president was empowered to appoint a committee consisting of three men and four women to effect these and other similar projects.

The annual meeting of the Association was set for January 7, 1930. Further particulars as to program, place of meeting, etc., will be published at a later date.

Many interesting comments were made on various phases of the association's work by the committee chairman and individual members, though space can be found herein for one or two, only. Members were interested to learn from H. A. Craig of the Publicity Committee that Charlevoix may secure valuable public notice through the travelogue feature of radio broadcasting and that the material used therein may be written up locally by those best familiar with this community and its attractive features. He also praised very highly the work of local correspondents of out-of-town newspapers for the splendid work they had done during the past year in giving voluminous publicity to the various athletic and sporting events and the conventions and other activities of a social nature sponsored by the hotels.

They were also pleased to hear from R. F. Sloan that the plans for the construction of a cement plant on the Newaygo property, west of town, were still progressing smoothly, construction work at the present time awaiting only a decision on the part of the engineer in charge as to the exact location and elevation of the plant. With reference to the new swing bridge promised by the state, Mr. Sloan said that, according to his advices from Lansing, the highway department are merely waiting for the government to take some action in the matter of deepening the channel. This deepening, however, cannot be effected until the present substructure and wall of the channel are strengthened and put down to a greater depth. When this is accomplished, the full width of the highway pavement.

THE WEEK'S WEATHER

The following temperature readings at Charlevoix for the week of November 20th to November 26th, inclusive, are furnished by the U. S. Coast Guard station:

	High	Low
Wednesday	32	26
Thursday	24	18
Friday	20	17
Saturday	33	23
Sunday	28	21
Monday	44	22
Tuesday	40	34

Northern Michigan got a real touch of winter last week. Starting Tuesday afternoon, snow fell almost continuously until late Sunday evening. Charlevoix had snow to a depth of nearly 12 inches and escaped easy. Other localities reported more. Snow plows were put into use Sunday throughout the entire district. There was a decided rise in temperature Monday, resulting in a thaw. The district lost only a part of its snow covering, however, and with the thermometer low Wednesday, more and weather is predicted.

DELEGATES TO "Y" GATHERING CHOSEN

M. Otterbein Leads Group of Four From This City.

As a result of Charlevoix's participation in the organization of "Y" work in northern Michigan, this city will be represented by four delegates and a leader at the State Older Boys' conference to be held in Grand Rapids from Friday of this week until Sunday.

Those chosen from this city are David Coulter, Joe Stutzman, Dixon Warner and Wesley Manley. Supt. M. Otterbein of Charlevoix schools, will go with the group as leader.

Mr. Otterbein is chairman of the local Y. M. C. A. group. The conference opens Friday and closes Sunday. Sessions will be held at the Fountain street Baptist church. Among the list of prominent nationally known speakers who will address the estimated gathering of 1,500 Michigan boys, is Alonzo A. Stutz, veteran football coach of the University of Chicago. Many other speakers of note will be heard. Other Northern Michigan communities will also be represented at the conference.

COURT SEASON TO OPEN THIS WEEK

POLAR BEARS TAKE ON PETOSKEY CEMENT FIVE.

Preliminary Game Precedes Main Feature at 7:45—High School Prepares for Opening Tilt.

The Charlevoix Polar Bears will entertain the Petoskey Portland Cement team here Thursday evening in the opening game of the basketball season at the local gymnasium.

Both teams will put a veteran line-up on the floor and the contest should be an interesting one. Representing the Bears will likely be Baer, Murray, Ernst, Zipp and Campbell, the same team they have had for several years and one of the strongest in this section of the state.

The Charlevoix line-up has not been given out yet. However, of last year's veterans are Cooper, Kipke, Davenport, Ikons, Gamble and Brown. Max Novak and Dick Marshall are out for the team and should add greatly to the strength of the local outfit.

Proceeding the main contest at 7:45 will be a preliminary game between two teams of Charlevoix business men representing the east and west sides of Bridge street. The preliminary opens at 7:15 sharp.

With two weeks of strenuous practice tucked under their belts, Coach Ray Kipke's aspirants for positions on the Red and White high school five are beginning to look like a real basketball combination.

Through a series of class games and practice tilts, during which Kipke was able to give his hopefuls thorough scrutiny, the former unwieldy group of forty or more candidates has been cut down to twenty. Present indications are that the squad taking the floor for the opening tilt will be a light one and lacking of the six-footers that put Charlevoix among up on the best of this region a year ago.

In the group who survived the weeding-out process following the first two weeks of practice are Keldorhouse, Stroud, Joe Smith, Supernaw, the two Fosters, McCall, Dagwell, Clarke, Ance, Julius and Victor McSahna, Arvilla, Geneit and several freshmen.

Charlevoix meets Ellsworth on Ellsworth's court for their opening game on December 11. Ellsworth has opened the local season for several years and, on their home floor are a hard combination to beat. They have sent the locals home on the short end of the score on more than one occasion and Kipke's men are going to attempt to reverse this record.

LOCAL WOMAN WAS VIC. OF TRAIN ROBBERY

An Associated Press dispatch from Grand Rapids, states that Mrs. Cornelia E. Bailey of this city, was one of the passengers robbed by a lone bandit who held up a Union Pacific passenger train near Cheyenne, Wyo. Monday night. Mrs. Bailey left here a week ago enroute to Portland, Ore., for a visit to her brother, George Irwin.

WOLVERINE BANK ROBBED SATURDAY

LONE BANDIT ESCAPED WITH $1,500 IN CASH.

Girl Cashier Alone—Bandit Ran Out Through Rear Door to Waiting Car—No Clues.

A lone bank robber paid his most northern visit in this region Saturday, robbing the Wolverine State Savings Bank of an undetermined amount of money at just 1:10 o'clock eastern standard time. W. L. Jones, cashier, told the Petoskey Evening News by telephone shortly after the robbery that a careful check would be made before it was made known how much money was taken. The bank was in charge of an assistant while Mr. Jones was out to lunch.

The bandit appeared to be working alone. He drove up in a dark colored Dodge sedan, entered the bank, aimed a big revolver at the lone assistant and ordered her into the vault. He scooped up all the cash in sight, both silver and paper and hurried out, leaped into his car and headed south on U. S. 27.

News coming from Cheboygan stated that Miss Beatrice Farmer was in charge at the time and that the bandit entered and ordered a draft on a Grand Rapids bank. Seeing no one else in the bank he ordered the girl to hand over the cash, approximately $1,500. He then inquired if the rear door was open and learning it was unlocked, hurried out and was gone.

He is said to have been about five feet, eight inches high, wore a dark overcoat and cap.

There were no customers at the bank and Cashier Jones was off duty for his usual lunch hour. He was just coming back to the bank when the robber hurried out of the back door into his car and disappeared.

Chief of Police Harter, Sheriff Carpenter and other officers were notified and hurried out to aid the state police in the search.

From Gaylord at 2:00 o'clock came word a car corresponding to the description of the bandit machine, was seen passing rapidly through that city a few minutes after the robbery and headed south. The man at the wheel, however, wore a hat instead of a cap.

The Wolverine bank has for its president, John Yuill of Vanderbilt, and is considered one of the active small village institutions of upper Michigan.

Cashier Jones said the bank had on hand only the normal amount of cash. The bank carried burglary insurance and it is said the loss will be fully covered and the depositors will suffer no loss.

The largest bank robbery in Michigan history occurred last summer at Cadillac, where robbers secured loot estimated at more than $300,000. Kalkaska also was visited some time ago by bank bandits.—From Petoskey Evening News, Nov. 23.

Gave Farewell Party.

NORTH MICHIGAN "Y" WORK BEGUN

SEVEN COUNTIES BEING ORGANIZED INTO UNIT.

Charlevoix Committee Has Chosen Permanent Officers and Raised City's Share of Finance.

Charlevoix and Northern Michigan are this fall organizing a seven-county unit of the Y. M. C. A. state-wide community service. From reports received from out over the seven northern counties in the lower peninsula the work of organization is going along with good success. Petoskey, Harbor Springs, Boyne City, Charlevoix and one or two other towns have already completed their local committees and the regional committee has been formed.

The aim of the service is to assist and promote work for the boys, men, girls and women along Y. M. C. A. rural service plans. Money to pay the cost is provided, half by the state Y. M. C. A. from a foundation established by a Michigan business man, and half by the unit territory. The cost for the northern unit was placed at $7,000 for the first year. Of this the unit is to pay $3,500 and Charlevoix's share has been placed at less than one-third of this sum.

Walter Gospel has been sent into the territory by state headquarters to organize the local unit groups and has succeeded surprisingly well. He has made a very favorable impression everywhere he has gone. As soon as the organization part of the task is finished a trained secretary will be furnished to handle the work throughout the territory. He will devote his time in the various cities and counties making up the unit, assisting the local committees and groups promote and carry on the various undertakings.

The Charlevoix group sponsoring the move, which is composed of Myer Levinson, Dr. F. H. Wilkinson, Martin Block, Benjamin Brown, A. L. Livingston, M. Otterbein, Dr. R. B. Armstrong, Rollie L. Lewis and Geo. Reoman, met at the high school last Friday evening and chose permanent officers. Mr. Otterbein is president, Robert Bridge, treasurer, and George Beaman, secretary. Those attending were treated to an excellent dinner prepared by the domestic science class, and matters pertaining to the "Y" work were discussed generally. Charlevoix's share of the quota to be raised for the district has been pledged.

If the undertaking works out as well as is anticipated it will be continued over a long term of years.

GIVE TWO DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE PARTIES

Mesdames Beaudoin and Ackert Hostesses Friday and Monday.

Mrs. Bert Beaudoin and Mrs. Morris Ackert were hostesses at two bridge parties during the past few days, both at the Beaudoin residence on South Bridge street.

Six tables were in play at the first party given Friday afternoon and prizes went to Mrs. Richard Paddock and Mrs. Mary Cooper. At a similar affair Monday afternoon, twenty ladies were present and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Allan Campbell and Mrs. Joseph Foster.

Delightful refreshments served by the hostesses were features of the two parties.

YOUTHFUL VIOLATORS GIVEN GOOD SPANKING

Rod Was Not Spared on Boys Who Shot Fox Squirrels.

Because they shot a fox squirrel out of season with a rifle they took from their father without permission, two Grand Rapids boys were first spanked by their parent and then ordered by Judge Clark E. Higbee to write a 1,000 word essay on the habits of the fox squirrel. One of the boys was 14 years old and his brother was 13.

It might be called to attention that there have been several instances in the past few months when the above mentioned method of punishment could have been applied locally to good effect.

MANISTEE VOTES FOR AIRPORT MONEY

A municipal airport for Manistee seemed assured following the city council's vote last week to appropriate $5,000 for purchase of land. The Chamber of Commerce has volunteered to supply any amount over this sum which is necessary to buy a 178 acre tract four miles north of the city.

PLAN TO MERGE CANNING PLANTS

THOSE HANDLING CHERRIES AGREE TO TERMS.

Farm Body May Loan Money for Marketing of Crop From This Part of the State.

A merger that will combine twenty co-operative packing and cold storage plants and ten of the largest canning industries in western Michigan will be effected if the plans for the project are approved by the federal farm board, it was announced last week by officials of the Michigan Fruit Growers, Inc.

The project, which has been developed under the suggestions of the new farm board, when completed, will constitute the first major co-operative program in this state as the result of federal farm relief legislation. The plans have been drawn to conform with other regional and national projects under consideration by the board.

The new corporation will be known as the Great Lakes Fruit Industries, Incorporated, and will be capitalized at $3,000,000. It will control approximately 50 per cent of the fruit canned in the state and under a working arrangement with co-operative fruit canning interest in Wisconsin, will control 75 per cent of the sour cherries, black raspberries and Kiefer pears canned in America.

Practically all of the packing plants and canning plants from St. Joseph to Traverse City, which includes the greater part of the Michigan fruit belt, will be controlled by the new organization. Plants in this section are doing $10,000,000 worth of business annually.

Representatives of the federal farm board have been in this section appraising the facilities to be consolidated for the past two months. The complete plans will be submitted to the farm board at a hearing in Washington on December 2. It is expected that the plans will be approved together with the loans required to put it in operation.

The plan also involves the co-operative marketing of all fresh fruits in this part of the state under trade marked and advertised brands.

SUMMER RESORTERS COMING THURSDAY

Chicago Group Will Spend Holidays at Reinhold Cottage.

A party of Charlevoix summer resorters, expected to number sixteen or more, will arrive here Thursday morning to spend the Thanksgiving holidays.

Included in the group are Mr. and Mrs. E. Reinhold, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weil, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Cliae, Dr. and Mrs. Rubens and others. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold at their Park avenue cottages and will remain from Thursday until Sunday.

All members of the group spend their summers in Charlevoix and are making the journey to see this region in winter garb.

PAY ALL YOUR BILLS PROMPTLY

THIS ACTION BY CITIZENS IS URGED BY COMMITTEE.

Golden Rule is Cited to Show Why Bill Should Be Paid Within Time Agreed.

The local business interests again appear in this issue with a very important message to the citizens of this town. This announcement deals with a subject that is often apt to be forgotten or carelessly neglected—that of paying one's bills promptly. Business can be transacted generally on a credit basis only when people pay their bills as agreed.

It seems very easy to go to your store, make a purchase and merely say "Charge it." Sometimes one wonders if it isn't too easy. Everything about the transaction seems so simple that no forethought need be given to it. But—

Every charge purchase should be considered just as carefully as if one had the cash with which to pay for the merchandise bought. It must be paid, for some day. So, judicious buying is the first thing to be remembered when running a charge account.

Some people in this world seem to think that a merchant or professional man should carry their accounts indefinitely. And they become highly incensed if even a polite little reminder is sent to them. If these very folks, who are so super-sensitive about being reminded of unpaid bills, could change places with the business man, they would quickly change their viewpoints.

The merchant or professional man has bills to meet. And, unlike his dealing with local folks, very little sentiment enters into his purchases from the wholesalers or jobbers. If no credit has been established, he must pay cash or pay with notes that draw interest. Yet, the merchant charges his customers an interest when he sells them goods.

If he has a credit standing, he must pay within the time agreed, or his credit tone of his most valuable asset is seriously injured.

Let's all play fair and square with the business folk who place confidence in us. Let's pay our bills when we agree to pay them. For, if there may be times when circumstances are so adverse as to prevent us from doing so, let's at least be frank with our creditors. They are human, too, and will always find them willing to give consideration at all times. And so we let them know we are not ignoring their bills. Indifference to bills is dangerous to one's reputation.

Do the best you can, is all the business interests ask. If you owe your merchant or doctor or other professional men, pay your bills promptly. At least, pay them in part as fast as you can.

The next community-boosting advertisement will be addressed particularly to the farmers of this community. Everybody is urged to watch for it and see how important to the community the farmer is considered. Watch for the issue in which the next adv. will appear.

A. OF C. SPONSORING XMAS CHARITY DRIVE

Entertainment at Gym Evenings of December 11, 12, 13.

Fraternal organizations, societies, clubs, etc., are asked to note that the dates of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, December 11, 12 and 13, have been designated for a series of charity events at the school gymnasium sponsored by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce.

It is the first time that a concerted effort has been made locally to raise funds to give Charlevoix's needy families a real happy Christmas, and everyone in the city and surrounding district is invited to participate.

Rollie L. Lewis is chairman of the Association of Commerce committee appointed by President C. J. Winder. Other members are Charles Hamlin and Joseph Foster. They are preparing a program for the three evenings announced above and will have the same ready for publication next week.

The affair is one that should interest everyone in the city and community and hearty co-operation is anticipated.

The Methodist Literary and Sewing Club will hold a bazaar at Stanley Brothers' Hardware on Saturday, December 8th.—Adv. 464f.

Now, Who Awakened Him?

CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD.

Mrs. Jos. Bronnen of Petoskey, was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Joe Holecbeck, last week.

Carl Holecbeck and his hunting partner drove down from their camp one day last week and visited Mr. Holecbeck's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones motored up from Port Huron to the home of Mr. Jones' parents, Saturday morning, where they will visit relatives and friends here this week.

LaVern Boyer drove up from Flint last Friday evening, and was accompanied home by Mrs. Boyer and small daughter, who have been visiting relatives here for the past two weeks.

Frank Holecbeck and his hunting partner from the north woods, each with a deer, enjoyed Sunday morning breakfast with Mr. Holecbeck's parents, and were then on their way home to Pontiac.

Mrs. Penny Genett very pleasantly entertained the Norwood L. A. S. at her home last Wednesday afternoon, with fifteen ladies present. After the regular meeting the hostess served delightful refreshments and a very fine time was enjoyed.

The Norwood deer hunting party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Ypma, Mr. and Mrs. George Light, of Charlevoix; Sam Alward and Cecil Richardson, returned Sunday morning from the north woods. They all report a fine time, but no deer. On their trip north they visited Mr. and Mrs. Lew Owens and family, near Wingar, Wisconsin, where they were received with a hearty welcome and shown fine hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Thayer on last Tuesday and Wednesday, who were on their homeward trip north from Traverse City. Mrs. Thayer before her marriage last Tuesday, was under the name Miss Lora Baker. Mr. Thayer is a nephew of Mr. Richardson. Both young people were from Traverse City. They will be at home December 1st to their many friends in Traverse City. Congratulations.

CENTRAL LAKE.

Several of the mighty hunters have returned.

Harry Smith is back from the north woods.

Clifford Morse killed a 170 pound buck the first day of the season near Atlanta.

Frank Albert, the blacksmith, and Edmund Wilson each returned with a nice deer.

Chas. Dawson, employed at the Detroit postoffice garage, will spend Thanksgiving here with relatives.

Chris Roberts and family, former residents here but now of Detroit, are visiting at the Wm. Roberts home.

Doyle Morse is putting up a 30x40 foot poultry house on his father's farm opposite the Bay View school house.

The Central Lake Canning company expect to have another month run. The farmers are on a strike for higher prices for canning products next year.

Mrs. Chas. Dawson and three children of Detroit, are visiting at the Sidney Dawson home. She says there isn't a whole lot going on at the big Ford factory.

The boys at J. W. Morse's Grand View school have organized a 4-H Club. Kenneth Ostrout, the agricultural agent, made the school a visit last Thursday.

Now Millions More Stop "Dosing" Colds

Better External Treatment Wins New Users All Over the World

Every year since the introduction of Vicks VapoRub, more and more people have given up the old-fashioned way of "dosing" colds and turned to this modern external method. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Mothers of young children especially appreciate Vicks because there's nothing to swallow, and, of course, nothing to upset delicate stomachs. Just rubbed on, its medicated vapors are released by the heat of the body and inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages. At the same time Vicks nets through the skin like a poultice or plaster, "drawing out" tightness and soreness.

Year by year, the fame of Vicks has spread from neighbor to neighbor and from state to state, until now it is used for the colds of adults as well as children in over 60 countries.

The ever-growing demand for this modern method of treating colds is shown in the familiar Vicks slogan, "Made famous when Vicks reached 17 Million Jars Used Yearly," later raised to "21 Million," these figures are again being changed, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly"—in the United States alone.

KONJOLA FREED THIS MAN OF STOMACH PAINS

Could Not Eat A Meal Without Distress—New Medicine Wins Another Fine Triumph.

MR. HENRY GEDDES

"For some time I suffered intense distress from a very disordered stomach," said Mr. Henry Geddes, 1231 Cass Avenue, Grand Rapids, Mich. "Every meal caused suffering and I could not eat a bite of food without having indigestion pains and gas bloating. The food formed a heavy mass in the pit of my stomach and always brought on smothering spells. I found it impossible to get sound, refreshing sleep."

"Konjola marked the turning point in my health. Day by day the different ailments became less severe and then, like magic, they disappeared. Today I eat what I please, enjoy the food and digest it as nature intends. Sound, refreshing sleep is mine. I owe this all to Konjola and I praise it with all my heart and soul."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Peck's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire region.

O. R. Morse, contractor for J. B. Rice Food Company, will spend Thanksgiving with his family in Lansing. His son, Lyle, who is attending high school here, will accompany him.

What might have been a fatal accident was narrowly avoided Saturday forenoon. Harry Smith tried to throw out his gas tank at the garage with a blow torch, when it caught fire. The fire department was called out and with hard work and several sacks of flour, the flames were finally extinguished.

Mrs. Saltonstall of Charlevoix, was to organize a Women's Christian Temperance Union here last Wednesday, but there was not large enough crowd to organize. Rev. E. S. Carroll, who was to assist, was called to the funeral of a cousin at Kalkaska. A Mr. Bartholomew, who was struck while riding a motor cycle, by a Ford sedan and his head and one leg cut off.

We guarantee satisfaction with the Irving Hot Water Heater installed in your car. A pure fresh air, no gas or odor. $25.00 installed. Benjamin Brown—Adv. 44tf.

BARNARD.

Wm. Burns is spending a few days in Grand Rapids with relatives.

No church or Sunday school was held Sunday on account of the storm.

Miss Minnie Gornell is sufficiently recovered from her recent illness to be back in high school this week.

On Wednesday afternoon, November 21, Miss Margaret Gornell and Clifford Genett were united in marriage at the Congregational parsonage, Charlevoix. The young couple have the best wishes of their many friends.

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES.

MARION SCHOOL NOTES.

We have another new student enrolled in the beginner's class, Edward Gillespie. This brings our total enrollment to 45.

The fifth grade memorized the poem, "Thanksgiving Joys," and the sixth grade are making a study of "The Landing of the Pilgrims."

The following third graders received A for the month in spelling: Robert Straw, Hilda VanZant, Clare McGhan, Elmer Crain, Billy Hardy and Levi Balch.

Mr. Ecklund visited the Boys' Club on Tuesday night. We enjoyed having him meet with us. He gave us some very good instruction about snowing and planing.

The fifth grade geography class have drawn some very good physical maps of the United States and are now ready to study the northeastern states as a special unit.

The Flying Needles Club met on Thursday night. During the evening they sang several of the new club songs and then devoted the rest of the evening to a sewing period. They are now working on their patching for exhibit work.

The third grade language class have made some hygiene posters. They drew an outline of their hands and printed on one, "Wash Before Eating," and on the other they made crosses on the finger tips to represent disease germs and printed "Microbes Make Us Sick."

The following pupils have a B or better average for the month in all their studies: Evelyn Balch, Levi Balch, Celia and Glenn Crain, Alice, Eleanor and Lawrence Ecklund, Floyd Faltling, Caroline Greiner, Billy Hardy, Clare McGhan, Lillian McGhan, Robert Straw, Hilda VanZant, Jason VanZant, Christina Withers, Darleen Williams.

The following pupils have been neither late nor tardy for the past month: Evelyn, Levi and Robert Balch; Kenneth Celmer, Celia Elmer and Ruby Crain; Adolph, Alice and Eleanor Ecklund; Floyd and Marjorie Faltling; Caroline Greiner and Ludwig Greiner; Billy Hardy, Clare McGhan, Lillian McGhan, James Raymond, Bessie Straw, Hilda, Jason, Merle and Rosalie VanZant; Christina and Frances Withers; Darleen and Geraldine Williams.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.

Subject: "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

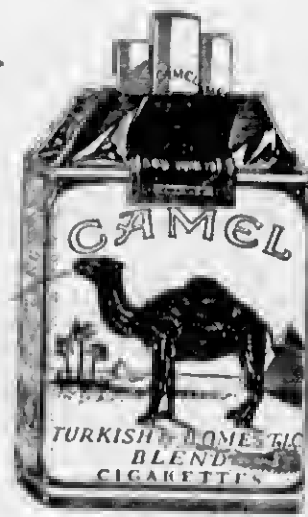

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, November 24.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "I will surely rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness" (Isa. 61:10).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sooner or later we shall learn that the fetters of man's finite capacity are forever broken by the illusion that he lives in the body instead of in Soul, in matter

why smokers graduate to

CAMELS—

The phrase "I've Graduated to Camels" originated with a Camel smoker. It expresses the experience of millions who through Camels have learned to know real smoking pleasure.

As taste in smoking develops, it naturally leads toward better quality. New smokers may not be critical but when they once experience the true mildness and surpassing fragrance of the Camel blend, they realize that here is a real superiority. It is for smokers of such discernment that Camels are made . . . for them the choicest tobaccos are selected . . . and this quality is maintained for the millions who know genuine smoking pleasure.

Kneel reverently, and thankful be for God's unfailing charity.—John Oxenham.

Thanksgiving—1929

Thanksgiving, as we know, is a legal holiday, set aside and celebrated since the time of the Pilgrims, for the giving of thanks. In 1621, after the first bountiful harvest of the New England colonists, Governor Bradford provisioned that a day be set aside for prayer and praise. This is what has been so often repeated during the following years.

We, the Americans of today, have reason to give thanks, more than did the early settlers. Now the United States is more able to give its people comfort, wealth and freedom.

We can all give thanks for the peace and prosperity of our country, for our homes, relatives and friends. We should be grateful for the opportunities and educational advantages shown our youth of today.

Though we may not show our appreciation in the same way as did the New England colonists, still in our hearts we thank God, our Creator, who has bestowed all these wonderful favors upon us, and beg of Him, His choicest blessings for the years to come.—Margaret Smith.

Junior Rings

The Juniors have settled one of their big questions of this year: that of choosing their class ring. Last Friday was the day set for the choice and a ring of modernistic design was chosen by all except three. Some will have the same design on a pin instead of a ring. They will probably receive them soon after Christmas.

C. H. S. Hears State Health Speaker

Wednesday morning the student body was honored in having Dr. Davis of Lansing, speak to them. He told the importance of health to the students attending school.

Dr. Davis gave brief sketches of noted medical men who have fought to prevent diseases. Among them were Edward Jenner, Louis Pasteur, Walter Reed and Thoreau.

Dr. Davis also gave us two points essential to sound teeth. These points were: the right food and a dentist's attention every six months. Without healthy, sound teeth, we cannot have a sound body.

Home Economics Department.

The home economics class served a banquet at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Friday night. At this meeting the men of the town interested in this organization met with Mr. Gosple, the state secretary. Plans were discussed as to what the Y. M. C. A. can do in this district.

Boys Conference.

David Coulter, Joe Stutzman, Dixon Warner and Wesley Manley will attend the older boys conference at Grand Rapids this week end. Mr. Otterbein will accompany them as leader. Monday night they attended the meeting of the delegates at Petoskey.

Junior Play.

A small hint at that coming event.

SICKLY BOY, 7, GAINS 15 LBS.—FATHER HAPPY

"My boy, 7, would not eat. I gave him Vinol and the way he eats and plays now makes me happy. He gained 15 pounds."—J. F. Andres.

Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver oil, iron, etc. The very first bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a big appetite. Tastes delicious. F. J. Fessenden.—Adv.

the Junior play, is this: "Jimmy" (Bill Novak is an "efficiency man"—supposedly. He buys an attractive little bungalow for Jennie, his sister and they are ready to enjoy themselves when a detective enters), saying, "I have a warrant for your arrest."

The cast is as follows: Angie Scott, Roland Dagwell, Mary Simmons, David Coulter, Gwendolyn Miller, Robert McNall, Lola Fessenden, Dixon Warner, Bob Foster, Pat Moran, Bill Clark, Bill Novak and Dorothy powers (third grade).

The date is December 6. There will be a matinee in the afternoon for children under high school age.

We Thank You.

Dear Lord, we thank you for this place
We all have learned to love,
And for the birds and trees around,
Also for the stars above.

We thank you for the moon,
And thank you for the sun.
And thank you for Everything you've done.
—June Davey, Sixth Grade.

Gems From Test Papers.

Answer—Football.
What are the political organizations which control elections in many states and cities?

Answer—W. C. T. U.
Mrs. McKinley to a freshman English class:

"There is a sleeping beauty in the last row."
Elliot: "I didn't hear you call on me."

Program Wednesday.

Wednesday morning a program will be given for the benefit of the high school students.

A band concert will be held in the gymnasium under the direction of Mr. Terwee. After the concert the students will assemble in the study hall, where chief of the fire department, Henry Marshall, will talk to them on fire prevention and fire hazards.

In connection with this, questionnaires will be given the students to fill out. The questions deal with the prevention of fire and are issued by the state fire prevention department. Some of the questions are:

1. Are floors under the stoves in your home protected with?
2. What is the material of the roof of your house? Is it in good condition?
3. Do you keep or use gasoline in or about the house? If so, for what purpose?
4. How is your house heated? How lighted?

All of these questions and more are to be answered by the students. The plan is for them to take the questionnaires home and with their guidance make a complete inspection of the house. After the questionnaires are filled out, they are returned thru the school to Mr. Marshall.

We are sure this program will be very interesting as well as beneficial to both the students and the community.

Physics

The physics students have completed class work for this month and have now turned their time to laboratory work.

The main topics covered this month are atmospheric pressure; expansion, transmission of heat and weather conditions.

Many interesting experiments are being performed by the Edisons of the class. With our new pressure pump we can boil water 51 degrees Fahrenheit. Also by this pump we can prove that there is a pressure of 15 pounds per square inch acting on our body. By putting a sheet of rubber over a flask and inserting under the bell jar, then exhaust the air and it will be found that a large balloon will be formed in the flask from the air inside the flask.

Some people get the impression that physics is a medical course. Here they are wrong, for physics is a science dealing with every-day phenomena.

The students of the physics class were very much encouraged when they found that Einstein, as a college student, failed in mathematics.

The following themes were selected as the best from a group of freshman papers. Each took as her topic, "The Pictures I Liked Best While Observing the Art Exhibit."

Castle in Spain.

(Artist: Blanke)

This picture, "A Castle in Spain," has great appeal for anyone who loves bright color and old world scenes.

Blanke has painted a brilliant deep blue sky, flecked with a wind-blown cloud or two, as the background for a rugged bare hill on whose top an ancient medieval castle stands. The rambling structure is built of brownish gray stones, while its rounded towers and battlements give a sense of stability and massiveness.

Below the castle is a modern Spanish town, with bright, red roofs and white-washed houses, which seems to snuggle up to the great hill for protection.

In the foreground is an old arched stone bridge, a relic, like the castle, but still strong. Under it flows a torrent of mountain water, clear and blue, which dashes itself against the sturdy stone pilings as if to tear them from the bed of the river itself.

The late afternoon light brings all high and colorful spots into prominence. The red roofs of the hamlet glow in sharp contrast to the gray brown of the castle and the deep blue of the river reflects the blue of the sky.—Marian Tyler.

After the Storm.

(By Kasparides)

In this picture by the famous American artist Kasparides, we can see represented two sides of nature, namely the bright side and the dark side. In the foreground we see her as she looks just after a storm, clear, clear, and fresh, while in the background we see what was a storm.

What a difference there is in the two sides! First we notice in the foreground the sun shining and its rays playing hide-and-seek on the stream which is running along singing merrily. This is the side of nature that makes us feel happy. Our hearts are bursting with song and everything is rosy with the happiness we are experiencing from such a scene. Our hearts throb with the beauty and serenity of nature as we think of the beautiful world we live in, and we wonder how anyone can be sad with such beauty surrounding them.

Then our eyes wander to the background of the picture. There we see black clouds that are rolling away and from that we can tell that the wind is blowing. Immediately a different feeling comes over us. Our hearts become heavy and we think what a great difference a storm can make in our feelings. We, like the storm, are usually dull, and unsettled.

What a contrast this is to our own lives! During a storm we make everything as miserable for ourselves and other people as possible. But when our storm or angry feeling has subsided, everything becomes cheery and bright for us. Immediately we are sorry and try to make everything up to those whom we have made unhappy.—Rosetta A. Boulton.

NEARLY KILLED BY GAS

—DRUGGIST SAVES HER

"Gas on my stomach was so bad it nearly killed me. My druggist told me about Adlerika. The gas is gone now and I feel fine."—Mrs. A. Adamek.

Simple glycerin, buckthorn, saline, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, helps GAS on stomach in 10 minutes! Most remedies act on lower bowel only, but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing poisonous waste you never knew was there. Relieves constipation in 2 hours. It will surprise you. F. J. Fessenden.—Adv.

Mining and The Telephone

A bell clangs, gates crash shut, and the "skip" sinks rapidly into the earth! Tightly packed with stalwart miners, the car drops down the shaft, the hat lamps fade and the bantering voices recede into the darkness. Down, down, down, a mile or more they go, to blast and pick for copper-bearing rock.

Linking these subterranean workers and their companions on the surface is a telephone system, keeping the miners in constant communication with "the top". On each underground "level", a telephone enables the "shift bosses" to receive directions from the superintendent above, or to report particular developments.

As a safety device, the telephone is indispensable.

The far-reaching telephone wireways are partners of mining, not only underground but in the surface plant, in the offices, and between all points in the nation. The copper, iron, salt, oil, and other mining industries of our state utilize the telephone to sell their products, to buy materials and to direct shipping.

Michigan is proud of her mining industry, proud of her position in the production of these minerals. The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is proud to be a partner of this industry and to do its part in aiding its development.

Our policy—"To continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety".

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS.

Miss Ruth Matchett conducted morning exercises concerning Children's Book Week last week. Many ways of stimulating the child's interest in books were mentioned.

The class went over to the library on Thursday afternoon at Miss Payton's invitation, and looked over the new children's books which have been secured.

Several members of the class have written Thanksgiving stories and plays. They will be read and given this week.

The training room prepared a Thanksgiving program and gave it on Wednesday afternoon for the normal teachers. The program consisted of a dramatization, "The First Thanksgiving Day," by the fourth grade, a recitation, "The Landing of the Pilgrims" by Bernice Edwards, and several Thanksgiving songs.

An Anniversary of Gratitude

Three hundred and eight years ago a handful of Pilgrims on the New England coast set aside a day of praise and thanksgiving for their first successful harvest in the new world. Down through the years the custom has spread, and now one of the world's greatest and most prosperous countries will offer thanks on November 28th for its national and individual wellbeing.

This bank not only joins with the country and the nation in observing this anniversary of gratitude, but also wishes to take this opportunity to extend thanks to its customers and friends—and this entire community—for the patronage and good will it has enjoyed.

Just like MONEY in the bank

Two major qualities of the Pontiac Big Six—its reliability and long life—offer motorists a definite cash advantage which is just like money in the bank. For they increase still further the demand for used Pontiacs—which means that the Pontiac Big Six you buy today will have a high resale value when you are ready to turn it in. . . . Investigate the features which contribute to this reliability and long life—such as the Harmonic Balancer, the adjustable pressure feed lubricating system, and the crankcase ventilation system. Come in today and let us show you all of the wonderful advantages offered by the Pontiac Big Six.

Pontiac Big Six, $745 to $997, f. o. b. Pontiac, Mich., plus delivery charges. Bumpers, spring covers and luxury shock absorbers regular equipment at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered prices as well as the list (f. o. b.) prices when comparing automobile values. . . . Both Pontiac and General Motors dealers include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

National Illiteracy

One of the big oaks that sometimes suddenly develop from small and innocent acorns is the new Advisory Committee on National Illiteracy, just appointed by the secretary of the interior, "with the approval of President Hoover."

One hot Sunday last summer a young Blue Ridge mountaineer "took his foot in hand" and strolled down to the President's camp. A man to man chat elicited the fact that education was scarce in that region. Somebody remembered that drafted soldiers during the war showed a shocking percentage of illiteracy in practically every state. A modest young newspaper man thought it over, and also "took his foot in hand," and went into the depths of the Blue Ridge to investigate. The result was a series of articles dealing with the facts as he found them which sounded as if they might have been written on conditions in the well-known "backward nations" which the United States often poses as leading into the light.

Immediate result—personal action by the President in establishing a school near his camp, and next the appointment, as stated, of the imposing "Advisory Committee on National Illiteracy," headed by the United States Commissioner of Education, of some twenty-two members which include some of the most distinguished of educators and public-spirited citizens of almost as many states of the Union.

More power to them!

A hangar echoing the din of a flying field seems no place to organize even an association of licensed women pilots. However, twenty-six feminine aviators are well satisfied with the results of their recent discussions within the steel walls of the hangar at Curtis Field, L. I. After friendly mechanics had thrown out chisels, bracing-bits and dust and had substituted chairs, tea-cups and a bench on wheels for a tea-table, the atmosphere proved favorable enough for real business, and the organization, which is the first of its kind, was born.

Membership is to be limited to licensed women fliers. It will be governed by a committee composed of pilots from different sections of the country instead of a formal array of officers, and the purpose of the association is social as well as professional, from the standpoint of encouraging other women to take up flying both for business and for pleasure, and of assisting each other in securing positions as pilots. A committee of two, consisting of Amelia Earhart and Neva Paris, who preceded, were appointed to invite pilots not present at the meeting to become charter members, and the number responding added to the number then present will form the name of the club.

Because of the poor weather, only four women arrived by airplane. Among those attending the meeting were five mothers, seven commercial pilots, five national woman's air derby fliers, two school teachers, three editors and two magazine writers.

The Deliberative Body

"On to conference!" seems to be the slogan of the majority of the Senate at present regarding the tariff bill still facetiously termed "Smoot-Hawley." We use the word "majority" advisedly. It consists of something different for each separate schedule, being composed usually of Democrats and Progressive Republicans, with an occasional sprinkling of Young Guard and Old Guard Republicans and is characterized by some infrequent defections from its ranks. It was Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, who objected to the promiscuous use of the word "coalition" as uttered in the hither tones of Old Guard David A. Reed of Pennsylvania. The "coalition," Senator Reed claimed, had obstructed the passage of the bill, changed its nature, and finally killed it. Senator Walsh pointed out that there had been an agreement between Democrats and many members on the other side of the Senate aisle, and that the vote, instead of representing a solid bloc, had fluctuated with each amendment.

ment. It was clear, then, that objections to the bill as reported by the Senate finance committee were coming from a majority of the Senate, not from any fixed group.

Inspired by the taste of success, the majority, whatever it be, is hurrying amendments and whole schedules with an exuberance that must be most irritating to finance committee stand-patters who labored with a dogged determination worthy of a better cause for weeks in the hope that their bill would come through in the not too distant future as they had written it. Picture the feelings of Reed Smoot of Utah who somewhat diffidently suggested night sessions not long after the debate had started in order to expedite his own bill, as he saw the motion proposed and carried by the "majority" for the sake of hurrying through the bill as they are re-writing it. That the plan was put forward by Pat Harrison of Mississippi, Senator Smoot's arch-rival in his most beloved field, Utah sugar, no doubt added greatly to the bitterness of the pill.

European Names and American Towns

If our American pioneers had deliberately named their towns and cities with the purpose of making future travelers from Europe feel at home, they could scarcely have succeeded any better than they have by distributing Old World names to satisfy their own sentimentality. There are, for instance, no less than seven Venices in the United States, according to a bulletin of the National Geographic Society, just issued. They are in the states of California, Florida, Illinois, Louisiana, Missouri, Ohio and Utah. The real Italian name, Venezia, has been given to an Arizona community. Thirteen American cities are titled Naples, after Italy's Napoli, and six states claim a Belgrade, corresponding to the Yugoslavian capital, Belgrad.

A queer complication regarding these cities has arisen since geographic boards in most European countries have made official decisions on the correctness of names. Strasburg, since France's ownership of Alsace, has become Strasbourg; must the Strasburgs in America insert an extra letter in their names? Coincidentally, our nine Smyrnas would have to submit to the new Turkish spelling and change to so many Izmirs. The capital of Norway dropped the name, Christiania, for the ancient version, Oslo, but here we have the edge on the Old World, for Minnesota had her Oslo long before the change took place. Texas, the bulletin points out, has a tendency to adopt the correct, original spelling of its European namesake towns, and harbors within its borders a Rome and a Milano. Wisconsin and Missouri have never settled a long mooted question as to whether the former's Belgium or the latter's Belgium is correct. If inhabitants of towns such as these actually become stirred up in a meticulous zeal for propriety, there will be endless confusion and adjustments. Imagine, for instance, throwing off the map the comparatively simple Flushing, New York, for its proper Dutch original, Vlissingen!

International Musical Relations.
To link the twenty-one Americas through the happy medium of song and dance music is the nearly realized ambition of Dr. Franklin Adams, counselor of the Pan-American Union. The folk melodies and tangos of Latin American countries will soon be brought direct to radio audiences in this country, while our more modernistic jazz and classical tunes will flow through the loud speaker of our American neighbors.

Two short-wave channels "for the purpose of broadcasting Latin American music" were authorized by Calvin Coolidge not long before he left the White House. Experts were summoned to Washington to decide which of the higher frequencies was best suited to the purpose, and their decision was made known to all nations involved through the Secretary of State.

The interest that South American countries are taking in this enterprise is illustrated by Honduras, who has reentered from the United States one of her foremost composers to organize a band to broadcast. Programs from the Pan-American Building in Washington, will be made up largely of selections by the United Service Orchestra, numbering 100 pieces and composed of members of the army and navy musical groups. It is said that they will include compositions never heard before in the United States. Broadcasting from the twenty-one countries is to take place nightly between the hours of six and midnight, a plan that allots each nation two hours a week. The Republics represented in the Pan-American Union are: the United States, Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Salvador, Uruguay and Venezuela.

The Mule Sticks Stubbornly By.
Many people uttered sentimentalities over the passing of the faithful horse, when the age of Henry Ford began to dawn over the land. Few, if any, evoked poetic farewells to the mule, though his gradual extinction, also, was prophesied. Now, from a government report we learn that farewells would have been wasted, for not only is the mule holding his own with the robot, but his tribe on the farms has increased by approximately 1,000,000 since his passing was predicted twenty-five years ago. There are more than 5,500,000 of these homely animals in the United States now, according to estimates.

The explanation of this surprising development is simple enough. Although tractors are most useful in certain types of farm work, the growers of our immense cotton, tobacco, rice and sugar can crops have found the mule more expedient, especially in working muddy fields where heavy machinery is likely to sink or bog. Farmers have discovered through experience that the mule does more work for less money.

Where the President Buys His Meat

Another landmark of Washington will be swept away next July 1, when Center Market, patronized by the White House and thousands of humble households for 129 years, is abolished by Congress to make way for the huge government building program. Here the meat for President Hoover's table is bought. Here Mrs. Gann, the vice-president's sister, does her marketing two or three times a week. Hundreds of officials, including senators and federal executives, eat daily the luscious wares offered at this historic spot—strawberries from Maryland in November, watermelons from the Argentine in January, Casaba melons from Cuba, and vegetables the year around. Shiny limousines are parked every morning near the old market place, while their richly dressed owners select the tempting rarities inside.

"As Thou Wouldst Be Done By"

Some of us are very precise about our religious, family and civic duties, but there's another Golden Rule that is often neglected—that of paying your bills promptly.

If every person in Charlevoix were a merchant or professional man, he or she would better understand the importance of paying their bills on time.

When a merchant buys goods, he must pay with cash or notes. If his credit is good, he is granted a certain, definite time for payment. To go over that date would mean injury to his credit reputation.

By paying your bills on time, you help the merchant to take care of his obligations promptly. You enable him to take advantage of discounts and special offers that in turn mean lower prices and better service to you.

Pay your bills when you agree to pay them. At least, be frank with your creditors and make arrangements for extension of time.

Treat your merchants and professional people, as you would want to be treated if your places were changed.

We, the undersigned, Believers in Charlevoix, heartily endorse the above:

GEORGE D. ASH BURIED HERE WEDNESDAY

Was Father of Mrs. Archie L. Livingston of This City.

Funeral services for George D. Ash, aged 65 years, who died suddenly of apoplexy in a hotel at Lebanon, Ohio, last Friday, were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Archie L. Livingston of this city. Rev. B. G. Mattson was in charge of the service. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

Deceased is survived by his widow, who was at Miami, Florida, at the time of his death and arrived here Tuesday afternoon; a daughter, Mrs. A. L. Livingston, this city, two sons, Major M., and Gerald L. The family was well known in Charlevoix. Gerald, known locally as "Jerry," has been engaged in summer recreational work here several years. At present he is at Nassau, Bahama Islands, and was unable to attend the funeral. Major M. Ash is a singer of note and was heard on several occasions by Charlevoix audiences last summer.

The family had their summer home at Bellire and winter residence in Florida.

A large number of out-of-town relatives, together with officials of the John Lawson Mfg. Co., New Holstein, Wis., by whom Mr. Ash was employed as salesman, attended the funeral.

There will be a dance at Maple Grove Grange hall, Friday evening, November 29th. Last dance of the season. Roads will be open. Everybody welcome.—Adv. 4811.

DEATH OF MRS. EDWIN COOK LAST WEDNESDAY

Was 55 Years of Age and Life-long Resident of This County.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Methodist church for Mrs. Edwin Cook, life-long resident of Charlevoix county, who passed away at her home on Garfield avenue last Wednesday evening after an illness of considerable duration. Rev. John E. Lockyer officiated at the services and burial was at Brookside cemetery.

Mrs. Cook was born March 20, 1875, at Norwood, the daughter of George and Clara O'Brien. She was married December 25th, 1894, to Edwin Cook. To this union were born five children, all of whom, besides the husband, survive her. They are Mrs. Effie Welly of Sparta; Frank Cook of Detroit; Ellen Cook of Centerville; Hilda Cook, who is attending school at Grand Rapids, and Bernice of Charlevoix.

Mrs. Cook was a member of the Methodist church and W. C. T. U. Her passing will be greatly regretted by not only her family, but a large circle of friends.

The ladies of the Church of God will hold a baked goods sale at Staley Brothers Hardware store on Saturday, November 30th.—Adv. 4811.

LOCAL HUNTING PARTY HAS GOOD LUCK

Staley-Nickerson Group Bagged Six Bucks and a Black Bear.

The Staley-Nickerson deer hunting party returned Monday night from their camp in Ontonagon county in the upper peninsula. The bunch bagged six nice bucks (including camp deer) and a 200-pound black bear.

Most of the bucks were near the 200-pound mark and one, a 20-pointer, tipped the beam at 250 pounds. They certainly were a nice bunch of bucks. Members of the party were Albert Staley, Wm. Bogart and Bonnie Nickerson of Charlevoix, and Sterling Nickerson and George W. Weaver of Kingsley.

Sterling Nickerson was the lucky member of the party. He bagged the bear and also the 20-point buck. His experience with the bear would make a nice story, but we won't tell tales out of school.

CONGRESS HAS A LARGE SWITCHBOARD TO CARE FOR ITS TELEPHONE NEEDS

A daily average of 27,000 calls handled at big P.B.X. Board, at nation's Capitol.

By JOHN B. O'BRIEN

A TELEPHONE switchboard, large enough to serve a fair sized city, is required to take care of the most important body of men in this country, the United States Congress.

While Congress is in session, a daily average of 27,000 telephone calls is handled. There are times, however, when the number of calls greatly exceeds this figure, as on days when an important bill is up for discussion, or a veto is to be taken on a measure which is commanding nationwide attention. At such a time the girls who take care of the Congressional switchboard have little leisure time, but they do their bit cheerfully, realizing the great importance of the many calls, both local and Long Distance, of which latter class there are a great many.

The first switchboard was installed in the Capitol in 1898. It was a small affair as compared with the board of today, but it was ample for its purpose at that time. About the year 1900 the Senate and House switchboards were combined, and the system has been enlarged and replaced from time to time until, in 1926, a new 19 position board, requiring the services of twenty-seven operators, was installed.

How the Board is Arranged

Position 1 on this board handles the Long Distance calls which are originated by members of the Senate and the House. At times, however, this business becomes too heavy for one operator to handle. Then the girl who occupies position 2 comes to her rescue, this being a combination position equipped for either local or Long Distance service. Positions 3, 4 and 5 on the board are for incoming calls, many of which originate in other government departments, although a large number come from the central office in Washington. Five positions on the board are used for serving the members of the Senate, and six for the members of the House, while three positions are in reserve for future growth.

The Congressional switchboard has 1,700 stations in use plus 800 extension stations, to serve a Congress which is composed of 96 Senators and 435 Representatives. Each Congressman has from one to three clerks, stenographers or secretaries, and in addition, there are certain general employees who have to be served from this exchange.

From this switchboard 39 tie lines run directly to the White House and to other departments of the government, while 23 trunk lines connect with the central offices of the city.

The operators who serve the Congressional switchboard are veritable information bureaus. They are called upon to answer all sorts of questions, to tell who is serving on this or that committee, who is the Representative from such a district in such a state, what new committees have been appointed, etc. In fact, they are almost as well informed on certain matters as are the congressional newspaper correspondents. There are 95 standing committees in both the House and the Senate, and, in addition, as new subjects are introduced, other temporary committees are appointed. The telephone operators have posted a complete list of all such committees, together with their membership, which is arranged in alphabetical order, and, therefore, it is an easy task to refer to them.

Chief Operator

The chief operator of the Congressional switchboard is Mrs. Harriet G. Daley. She has served on the Congressional switchboard since 1898. When the first switchboard was installed, it was a 1 position board of only 51 stations and served only the members of the House of Representatives. She had no stated hours, but she stayed as long as she felt she was needed and on many occasions she remained all night when the House was having a night session. This was in the exciting days of the Spanish-American War, and although there were only 185 Representatives at the time, the telephone proved invaluable to them, although this was a time when telephone service was only just beginning to come into general use.

In fact, many of the members of the House and Senate who came to Washington in those days had had little or no experience with a telephone, and some of them had never used one until they came to Congress. It is said that even "Uncle Joe" Cannon had such a dislike for the instrument in those days that he could hardly be induced to talk over one, and that when he did, he became so excited that the results were far from satisfactory. However, such a state of affairs lasted only a comparatively short time, and today the members of the House and Senate find the telephone of great assistance in carrying on their work.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

market's passing will be deep but there is another reason for mourning in Washington circles. Center Market is rated a $17,000,000 a year enterprise, which nets the government an annual income of $115,000. Eight hundred people will be minus employment when this shopping center closes. With such a calamity portending, efforts are being made by some Washingtonians to have the old market supplanted with a larger, more modern and conveniently located mart. It won't boast the handsome traditions of the old place, however—at least not for another 129 years.

"KONJOLA ONLY
MEDICINE THAT DID ANY GOOD"

Detroit Lady Suffered Nine Years From Stomach Trouble—The New Medicine Scored.

MRS. E. J. MOORE.

"Konjola is the first and only medicine that ever did me any good," said Mrs. E. J. Moore, 1749 Vermont avenue, Detroit. Nine years ago I began having trouble with my stomach and it steadily got worse as medicine after medicine failed to bring any relief. No matter what I ate, nor how little, I had a heavy feeling in my stomach. Gas formed causing heart palpitations and fainting spells.

"I was weak, run-down and in poor health generally when I found Konjola. But this wonderful medicine has changed everything. The very first bottle proved to me that I had, at last, found a real medicine. It took just three bottles to put an end to my trouble. I can eat what I please and it digests, too. I have gained much in strength and energy, and certainly am enjoying my good health."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at E. J. Essenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

day and Dr. Duffie of Central Lake was called.

The Congregational people had a very successful food sale at the town hall last Saturday.

George Austin, former cashier of the Exchange Bank here, was stricken with paralysis last week. He is still confined to his bed.

There were nine present at Bayview Sunday school Sunday and 21 at Eastport. Roy, Ranch and wife of Charlevoix made the trip alright Sunday.

O. R. Morse and son, Lyle, also Mr. Morse's sister, Della Dawson and her daughter Frances, returned Sunday from Lansing. They say there is no snow at Lansing.

Mrs. George Cross has been ill in bed since October 5th. She suffered a fractured hip while in Flint. Her daughter, Miss Kate Wilson, has given up her school in Flint to care for her mother here.

Eastport Baptist church will give a Christmas program this year again. Mrs. Margaret has charge of the exercises. Miss Jennie Welch, the teacher, will not be able to take part, as she goes to Grand Rapids for her vacation.

Oscar Whitney, a veteran of the Civil War, passed away at his home near Eastport last week. There is but one member of the G. A. R. post left, George Hartwell of Atwood. Mr. Whitney was 79 years of age and an old resident here.

E. S. Carroll, our mail man, completes his service for "Uncle Sam" here this month. He has been on the R. F. D. route for a period of twenty-five years. He will draw a pension from the government. Mr. Carroll will be succeeded by Wilfred Davis, formerly on the route here, but changed last year to Ellsworth. Mr. Patterson of Ellsworth, will take over Mr. Davis' route. There will still be three routes at Ellsworth for seven months of the year. During summer months, Mr. Patterson will take two routes covering fifty miles. His salary will be increased accordingly.

ATWOOD.

Taxes very soon.

Ethan Joliffe is writing contracts for the Leonard Seed Co.

Jim Heeres and wife left Monday morning for Grand Rapids.

Ernest Brown is working for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

At Flint, Michigan, 50 picked youths between the ages of 16 and 19 years will soon begin an educational course in which books will be conspicuous because of their total absence. They will attend class in overalls and drafting boards, micrometers, wrenches and screw drivers will take the place of fountain pens, blackboards and note books. Salaries will supplant credits in this world's most novel educational plant.

It will be an institution endowed by Chevrolet Motor Company, and its faculty will be composed of hard-headed production men with years of factory experience. At the head of the school will be C. F. Barth, vice president in charge of manufacturing, one of whose life dreams will be realized when the first class is held.

Here it might be well to explain that this unique training place is not a school. The word "school" is one which Mr. Barth wants permanently dissociated from this newest Chevrolet undertaking. It is definitely a shop, operated under shop discipline, and maintaining shop hours. It is to be known officially as the Chevrolet Apprentice Shop.

There will be many features to this novel training place, but it is doubtful if any more interesting or more significant than the reason for its conception. And no one can make this more clear than Mr. Barth himself.

"The Apprentice Shop is actually a necessity," he told his visitor last week. "Chevrolet Motor Company, like all other large manufacturers has for several years past noted a decrease in good all-around mechanics. When the automobile industry started there was no such shortage. The founders of the industry were themselves super mechanics, and in every instance they surrounded themselves with competent all-around men."

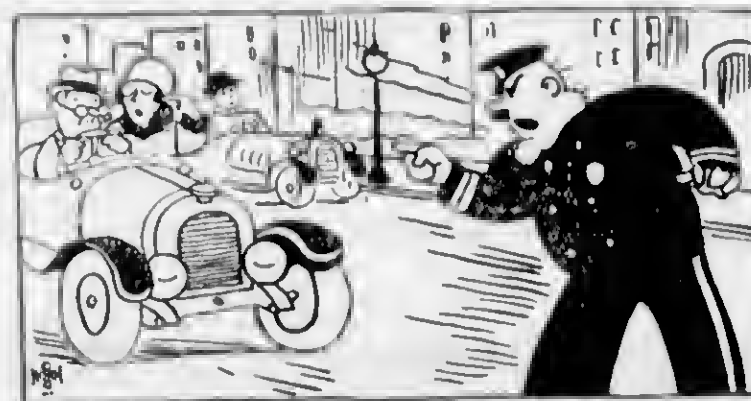

"The opportunities for training men in the early days were relatively easy. Shop forces were much smaller and every ambitious worker had the opportunity of working at as many jobs as he chose."

"Then volume production came along and specialists were developed. In order to get sufficient cars to the public each man had to be master of one operation. Changes about were dangerous because precision workmanship such as Chevrolet employs can take no chances with the novice. "Because of the scores of good mechanics who got their training in the pioneer days of the industry no shortage was actually felt until recently. Now it has grown quite apparent throughout the industry at large."

"Chevrolet by taking this step, has taken the bull by the horns. Because of the growth of aviation and the inspiration of Lindbergh the country has thousands of youths who have become intensely interested in mechanics."

"Our shop is seeking just this type of youth, and will cooperate with him in every way to make him a finished workman. Naturally Chevrolet expects to benefit by the move, yet there are no strings attached to the course. If the youngster graduating from our shop feels that he wants

URGE COMES TO SHOP EARLY

And the urge comes to shop early. Stocks of Christmas gifts are now making their debut upon store counters, though Christmas is still five weeks away. Opportunity to shop, however, comes none too early for possessors of that particular and elusive grain of wisdom which makes of them early shoppers.

So much emphasis has been laid upon the un-wisdom of postponing Christmas shopping until the rush hours of the last week that those who do not heed the injunction would seem to be impervious to either argument or appeal. But for years past there has been concerted effort to avoid the confusion and the congestion which makes what ought to be a season of happiness and enjoyment one to which a large proportion of every community looks forward to with more or less dread.

People may easily recall the strain upon sales-people, upon those charged with delivery of goods, the long hours they are compelled to work and the crushing labors they must perform because of a disposition of so many persons to shop during the Christmas week have been pointed out again and again.

It is humane and unselfish to shop early, especially at this time when an unusually prosperous year will wind up with an unprecedented busy Christmas shopping season, but it is also wise and the thing to do.

The last days' shoppers are deprived of the largest volume of stocks and are otherwise at a disadvantage. The thing to do is to shop early. Make your plan now to shop early.—Harvard (Herald).

FREEDOM OF THE SEAS

Freedom of the seas for food ships has been proposed by President Hoover for discussion before the parliament of the world. The president has seen at first hand the suffering that non-combatants, the women and children, undergo when war is upon the earth. He wants such sufferings banished for all time.

In this contention the president is entirely correct—but is the world ready to adopt such a radical departure in international affairs? America, fortified by peace and prosperity, has a horror of subjecting any nation to starvation, yet if during 1917-18 this had been proposed we wonder how many supporters it would have found in the United States?

If an international conflict was to break out again would we be in favor of witnessing food being sent to our enemies by non-belligerent nations? We don't believe so. There is only one way to prevent this happening—outlaw war. And you can outlaw war only by public sentiment and education.

Europe today is a seething bed of unrest, where only a spark is needed to send high the mounting flames of destruction. It will be a long, tedious undertaking to change the present jealousies of the old world nations. They look on each other with hatred and are ready at a moment to spring at each other's throats. Gradually the spirit of peace will settle down upon the universe, but until that time arrives peace preparedness by the two great English speaking nations is the best guarantee against the starving of women and children.

TRAINED SEALS

Once again, at this holiday season, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated societies present to the public of Michigan their well known trained seals. They are not the same seals that were here a year ago, but an entirely new lot. Very bright and gay they look in their many colored dresses of blue and yellow, red, green and white, and their admirers and friends may be sure they are quite as well trained as any of their predecessors.

Given the slight encouragement of purchase at a penny a piece, they may be trusted to cling to the envelopes of our letters and the wrappings of our Christmas packages, carrying throughout the state and land a message of practical good will. For by a process of accumulation the pennies they bring in become the dollars that support the work of tuberculosis prevention.

Christmas good will could not be more practically exemplified than by such support of the organized fight against a cruel and insidious disease. Tuberculosis can be reduced to impotence if attacked by the community with sufficient energy and persistence. Help by buying your share of tuberculosis Christmas seals.

THE WRONG VIEWPOINT

The United States needs some good United States senators.

Most of the United States senators should really be called state senators. They do not seem to care very much about the interests of the nation as a whole. They are concerned chiefly in what their states or sections wish.

The senators from the industrial east are all wrapped up in industry. They feel that they must serve the interests of the manufacturing sections without reference to the needs of the nation.

The senators from the west are no better. They view the nation from an agricultural aspect, a viewpoint with which most of us generally agree. The senators from the west, however, may be just as disqualified from legislating for the nation as a whole. Such a view may be somewhat beyond the comprehension of the legislator and his constituents. A lawmaker likes to come back and tell what he did for his district. He is usually elected on the basis of appointments for his constituents or the expenditure of public money in the area which elected him.

HOW SWEET PRAISE

Harry Sinclair is showing himself to be anything but a good sport. Honestly convicted of defrauding the government, after many long and tedious delays, he was given a sentence of 90 days in a city jail. Many pet offenders get that much for stealing a loaf of bread.

When Sinclair went to jail he let out an awful squawk, and kept on squawking just as long as he lingered behind the bars. Simultaneously with his release a statement was issued protesting his innocence and calling into high heaven to witness the degradation to which he had been unjustly subjected.

Even the country newspapers were bombarded with offers of a two-column story in plate form proclaiming his virtues. To their credit none of the publishers used it, although Mr. Sinclair's press agent offered to supply the plates free. Newspaper plate manufacturers should be ashamed to try and foist that kind of business on their customers.

Mr. Sinclair should retire from public gaze. For years he sat in high places and was much praised. No other hands but his own dragged him down. If he desires to stage a comeback, an honest confession, backed by a determination to make amends, is his only course. Manufactured sentiment by the use of free plates in the country newspapers cannot do it for him.

TOWARDS THE HEIGHTS

President Herbert Hoover, backed by the leading business men of the nation, will succeed in restoring full time prosperity to this country.

As in every great crisis there appears a heaven-sent man for the hour. He is with us already, and President Hoover will go down in history as the greatest peace executive of all time.

Around his administration historians will weave thrilling stories of victory, not those of war, but glorious battles waged and won for humanity.

This country is rich—the richest the world has ever known. More equally distributed there is plenty for everybody and billions more to be added to this enormous wealth.

American capital will not fail the president in this peace time movement. Funds for gigantic international movements will be released, wages will not be lowered, and gradually the long ascent to the heights of prosperity will be begun.

TIME TO ACT

Headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars issues a bulletin warning all ex-service men who have not yet applied for their adjusted compensation certificates that the time limit for such applications is Jan. 1. Twice in the past Congress has extended the limit, but the V. F. W. doubts that this will be done again.

There are still more than a million World War veterans who have not applied for their certificates. The average certificate is worth about $1,000, giving the veteran a paid-up 20-year endowment insurance policy. Ex-service men who wish to take advantage of this opportunity and have not yet done so have only about six weeks left in which to act.

If troubled with any symptoms of eye strain, consult Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, when he comes Monday, December 2.—Adv. 4812.

HOGGISH BUSESSES

Two or three of the eastern states lately have started taking road hogs seriously, especially when the hogs happen to be buses. Not that there is anything against the buses, but because of their size, their hoggishness is more obstructing and annoying than that of other motor vehicles. A few fines are said to result in much improvement. The same treatment might well be applied, oftener than it is, to big trucks ignoring the rights of other vehicles. Not omitting, of course, even the little fellow with a tendency to sidle over into the middle of the road and hold it against all comers.

INSIDE INFORMATION.

Do not be surprised to see some reindeer meat on the market one of these days. It can be cooked in most of the ways beef is cooked, depending on the tenderness of the cut. Alaska is sending a good supply of reindeer meat to the U. S.

Linoleum, to give the best service, should be laid over a smooth floor in such a way that it does not buckle, and it should be cleaned with a damp cloth wrung out of suds made with mild soap. Alkali washing powders, strong soap, or too much water, will ruin even the best linoleum.

Hot scalloped apples are easily made for dessert and will be ready to eat at the end of the meal if started a little over an hour before dinner. Choose tart apples. Pure, core and slice them. Place a layer in a baking dish, sprinkle them with sugar, and pour on a little melted butter. Add more layers until the dish is heaping full. Press the apples down, cover the dish, and cook slowly, for an hour to an hour and a half. As the apples cook down during the first half hour, a few more may be added. Fifteen minutes before the apples are to be served, remove the cover and spread buttered crumbs over the top. Return the apples to the oven, and let the crumbs become a golden brown and crisp. The apples themselves will be in whole pieces and transparent.

FAMILY REUNION A PLEASANT OCCASION

Children of Mrs. Ada M. Shockley Home for Holidays.

A happy family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Ada M. Shockley on State street Thanksgiving Day, when all of her children, numbering five, together with their families, gathered at the parental home.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shockley and two sons of Menominee; Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Breitmayer and son, William of Jackson; Mrs. A. W. Ladd of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Ochs and two sons and Mrs. Hiram Brock and family of Charlevoix.

In spite of one of the most severe four-day storms this region has ever witnessed so early in the season, all of the guests drove from and returned to their homes without mishap.

BEEES PROVE PROFITABLE IN ALBA NEIGHBORHOOD

The localities around Elmira and Alba are now firmly convinced that bee culture is a profitable venture, with little expense or work. Last spring some Mississippi bee specialists sent 100 hives of bees to that region, and this fall a little more than 54,000 pounds of honey was taken from the hives. In other words, the honey would nearly have filled three large freight cars.

The average wholesale price of honey ranges from 10 to 15 cents per pound. Not only did the bee owners make good money, but the bees also helped the farmers in that region by pollinating the sweet clover, red clover and alfalfa.

According to men who have been interested in bees, the investment in a few hives is small, and when that is done, practically all the work is completed, and the bees work for you all summer. Gaylord Herald-Times.

ANNUAL JUNIOR PLAY IS FRIDAY EVENING

Strong cast to Present Four-Act Class Production.

"Miss Efficiency," the annual play presented by the junior class of the Charlevoix high school, will be given in the gymnasium the evening of Friday, December 6th.

Miss Angie Scott takes the female lead in the production and Roland Dargwell the male lead. Other members of the cast are Mary Simmons, David Coulter, Bill Novak, Bob Foster, Dixon Warner, Bill Clark, Boh McCall, Gwendolyn Miller, Lola Fessenden, Pat Moran and Dorothy Powers.

The plot centers around the efforts of a young efficiency expert to place a business that has failed back on its feet. She wins against great odds and in so doing creates many interesting situations.

LOCAL DEBATE TEAM TO MEET CHEBOYGAN

Go There for Second Encounter of Season on Thursday.

The Charlevoix high school debating team journeys to Cheboygan Thursday to meet the team from that school in the evening. This will be the second debate of the season for the local squad. In their opening debate they lost to the East Jordan negative again.

Charlevoix will again uphold the affirmative side of the question, "Should a judge or board of judges be substituted for the jury in all state and municipal courts of Michigan." In Cheboygan, the local debaters meet one of the strongest teams in Michigan.

BAPTIST GUILD GIRLS ENTERTAIN MOTHERS

Excellent Program Given Monday Evening—Plan Sleigh-ride.

The Guild girls of the Baptist church entertained their mothers at a party in the church parlors Monday evening.

Thirty mothers and daughters listened to a splendid program given by the girls. Miss Erma Carey and Miss Ida Ingalls presented the play, "The Modern Daughter."

The January meeting of the Guild will be held at the home of Miss Ingalls the first Monday evening of the month. This will be a sleigh-ride party.

BITS OF INFORMATION FOR FARMERS.

Don't feed the dairy cow corn. Grind it either with or without the cob.

As the pullets in the poultry flock begin to lay eggs they need fairly large amounts of calcium for the formation of eggshells. This is probably best supplied in the form of oyster shells or limestone.

The horse that cuts his oats too ravenously and is in danger of choking should be given a little chopped clover hay or some whole corn cobs mixed with the oats. The use of wheat bran with oats also lessens the tendency toward choking.

In the range areas the practice of holding steers over until they are two or three years old is gradually giving way to the sale of the animals as feeder calves. Demand for lighter and smaller cuts of meat is responsible for the change.

When cured pork on the farm is to be canned, it is better to split the carcass through the center of the backbone, rather than on each side as is usually done. This "center split" eliminates the appetizing backbone cut, but it leaves the two loin muscles so they can be boned out readily for canning.

The dairy heifer's ration during late fall, winter and early spring should include hay, silage and grain. Well-cured legume hays such as alfalfa, clover, vetch, cowpeas, field peas and soybeans are best as they are rich in carbohydrates and are succulent and laxative, making it a valuable feed when pastures are not available.

Successful dairying requires industry, intelligence and good cows. It demands much hand work but more head work. It is not a lazy man's job and never will be. It necessitates the abolishing of the scrub cow. The man who persistently milks low-producing cows has a hard time of it; he may toil early and late but his industry gets him nowhere.

Milking machines should be taken apart and thoroughly washed at least once a week, even though they are thoroughly rinsed immediately after each milking. If the machines are not rinsed immediately after milking they should be taken apart and thoroughly washed. This is essential to prevent curd from forming at the connections and in the valves.

Where red clover does not succeed, hairy vetch is probably the best legume to plant, especially in sandy soils. Better germination is often secured by using hairy-vetch seed that is a year or more old, rather than new seed, as there are always many so-called hard seeds from a chop of hairy vetch that do not germinate until a year or two old. Seed should always be tested for germination before seeding.

Farmers on the more than 500,000 square miles of agricultural land in the South that has been reclaimed from the cattle tick now have an opportunity to raise cattle profitably. The best plan is to use native stock as a foundation and improve it by the use of purchased bulls, says the Bureau of Animal Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Further improvement includes culling out inferior animals and saving the best heifer calves. Each successive cross brings progeny more nearly like the purebred. Where there is considerable interest in cattle raising in a community it is desirable to form a local cattle breeders' association. It is best to raise the same breed of cattle in a locality. The best time to buy purchased bulls is in the fall, as breeders usually sell them cheaper then to avoid the expense of wintering them. It bought at this season, purebred bulls should be kept in small fields until spring. They should be from 14 months to two years old when put on the range.

Important points for the beekeeper to keep in mind in preparation for winter are plenty of young bees, a good queen bee, plenty of good-quality stores, sound hives, and protection from cold and dampness.

Farmers' dairy cooperatives received $640,000,000 in 1928 from the sale of dairy products. Of this amount, nearly 42 per cent was from the sale of fluid milk, about 41 per cent from butter, seven per cent from cream, and five per cent from cheese.

The cowpea succeeds under so many different conditions that it is valuable in almost any system of rotation as a catch crop or for hay or seed production. Although in the cotton belt cowpeas are often stored until winter before threshing or hulling them, it is probably better to thresh or hull them when thoroughly dry, and reclean and store them in sacks.

In times of drought on the range, many cattle raisers utilize the native plants such as prickly pear, soap weed, sotol, and bear grass. These plants, ground up, will keep cattle alive if fed at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds a day for each animal. If one to two pounds of cottonseed cake is given in addition, a fairly good ration is provided.

Ewes should be gaining in weight when they are bred. Stubble and stalk fields, fence strips in plowed fields, late pastures, green rye pasture in late fall, and, in the South, velvet beans, are all useful in carrying bred ewes through the fall and into the winter. Silage and root crops are good feeds, but should not be given when the pasturage is soft and watery.

Good storage facilities throughout the fall and winter are necessary to insure sound, firm seed potatoes at planting time. The main thing is to keep the storage temperature low enough to retard germination. Seed tubers that are firm, with the first sprouts just showing, will start quickly when planted and make a vigorous growth under favorable conditions following planting.

If yearling birds in the poultry flock are to be used as breeders next spring, it is a good plan to omit the mash or the meat scraps and fish meal from their ration for from three to four weeks in the fall, beginning about November 1. This gives the birds a rest, and if they are then fed a breeding ration they should produce hatching eggs of the highest quality.

After the truck crops are all out of the garden, it is a good plan to remove all vines, dead plants, and other trash and sow the ground to rye or some other green crop. This will prevent the earth from washing and improve the condition of the soil. If the ground is not sown to a crop, and there is no danger of washing, it is well to plow or spade it and let it lie rough through the winter. Freezing will kill many insects as well as lighten the soil by alternate freezing and thawing.

Mice are very small compared with trees, but these rodents annually destroy thousands of valuable fruit trees, many of which might be saved. Orchards should be examined regularly in fall and spring for signs of mouse injury. Preventive measures include removing cover from around the bases of trees, treating trees with repellent washes, including trees with mechanical protectors, and killing the mice by poison or traps. Clean cultivation as practiced in western orchards is usually effective in eliminating mice. Most mouse injury to orchards is done either by meadow mice or by pine mice. The pine mouse generally works underground, where its ravages are unsuspected, whereas the meadow mouse feeds mostly at the surface. Trees damaged slightly by field mice will usually recover if the injured parts are completely covered by mounding up soil around the base of the tree, or if paint or other material is applied to keep the wounds from drying out.

Keep the Calf Growing.

Spring beef calves which are to be fattened this winter should be fed grain in a creep for four to six weeks previous to weaning time. They should go into dry lot at the end of the pasture season so as to be ready for market next spring or early summer.

Selecting Pullets for Breeders.

Four things should be kept in mind when selecting pullets as potential breeders. First is earliness of maturity. When the pullets are put in the laying house, note those that begin to lay early. Intensity of production is the second factor. In breeds whose beaks and shanks are normally yellow, as the Plymouth Rock, Leghorn, and Rhode Island Red, the heaviest laying pullets usually bleach out the normal color of the beaks and shanks more quickly than those that lay only intermittently. The third factor is broodiness, which is inherited and often responsible for reducing egg production (this does not apply to Leghorns). Persistence of production in late summer and fall, combined with time and rate of molting, is the last thing to notice. Laying pullets that molt early in their pullet year are usually poorer layers than those that molt in the fall. It is easy to mark the pullets with different-colored celluloid leg bands for these four things.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism. Denounced," was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 1.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "He will keep the feet of his saints, and the wicked shall be silent in darkness; for by strength shall no man prevail" (1 Sam. 2:9).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason, and conscience. Man is properly self-governed only when he is guided rightly and governed by his Maker, divine Truth and Love" (p. 106).

How do you choose?

Every time you make a purchase you make a choice. Buying a certain product may be so much a matter of habit that you don't realize you are choosing. But the fact remains that in accepting one brand of goods you are always rejecting others; and the satisfaction you get from what you buy depends on the knowledge of quality and values that guides your selection.

How do you know which bed-sheets, or which roofing material, or which radio will give you service you require? You can't personally test everything you buy and compare it with all the other products in its class. But there is a way to find out which brand fits your needs.

The people who are most successful in their buying—who achieve the highest percentage of satisfaction from the things they own and use—are those who consistently read the advertising columns, and buy consistently advertised goods.

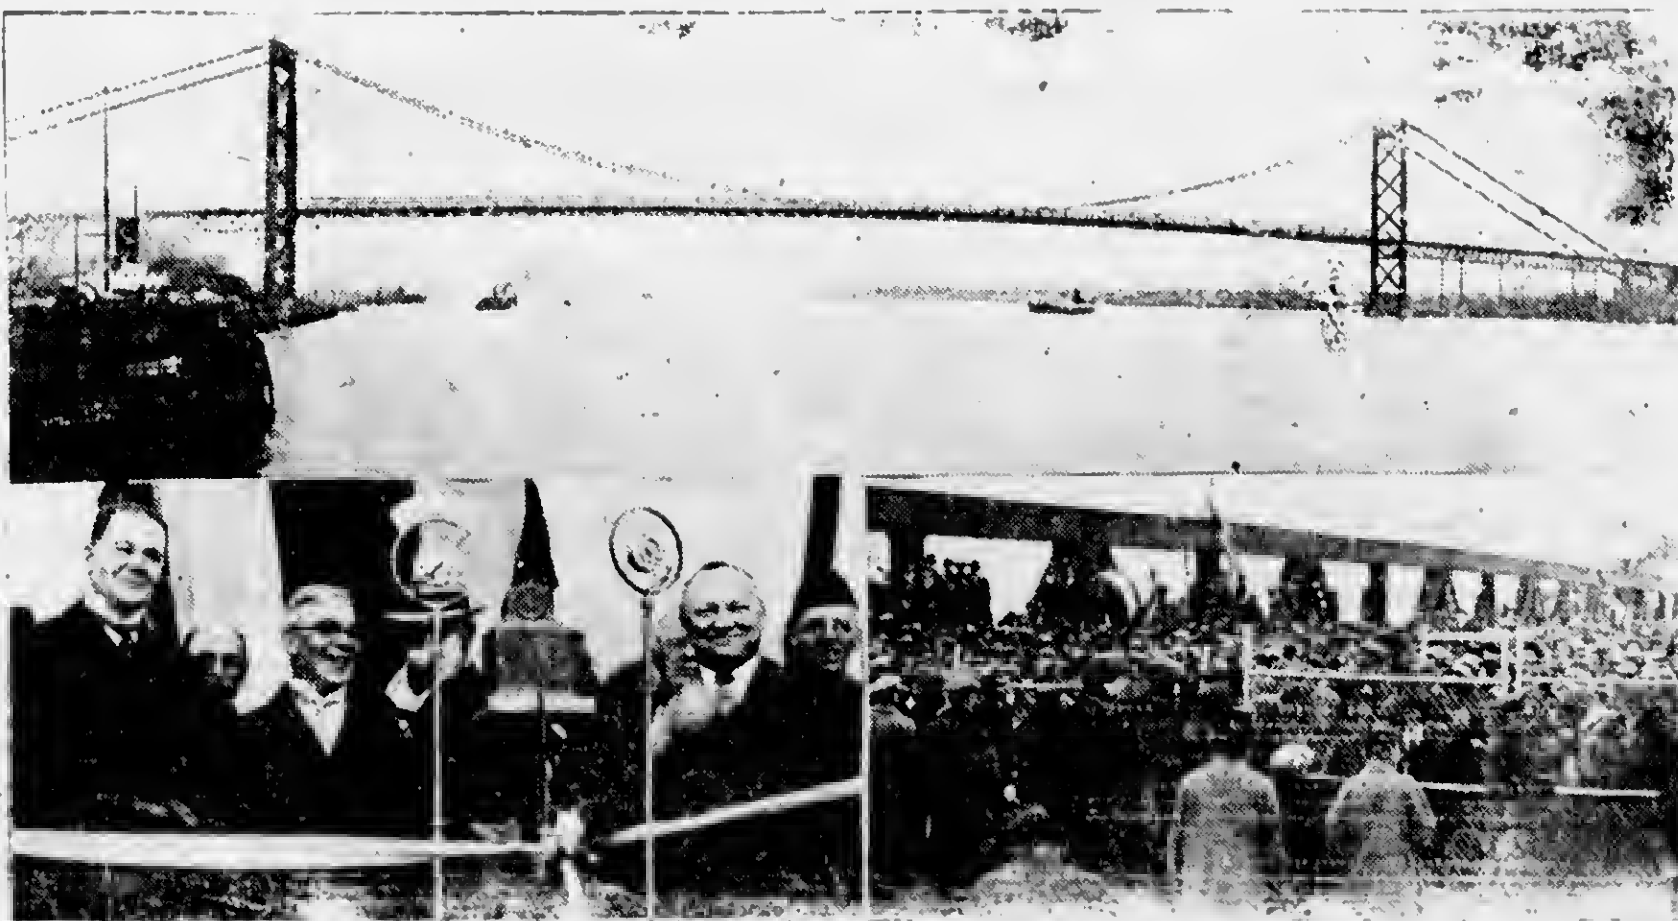

Choosing isn't just "guessing" when you follow the guidance of the advertisements.

You can depend on advertised goods.

It pays to read the advertisements.

SECOND LECTURE COURSE DEC. 10

WILLIAM RAINEY BENNETT, NO.
TED SPEAKER COMING.

Will Give Address on Second of En-tainments Sponsored by Parent-Teacher Organization.

"Beware of the mental plateau that lies in wait for the unwary," warns William Rainey Bennett, noted lecturer who will come here December 10.

"The mental plateau is that long level space where there are no mountains of achievement or slopes of inquiring," he explains. "Remember

William Rainey Bennett

you have never made so good that you cannot make better, and if you have never made good, you may still do so. You must keep growing or you will start dying."

No one can harbor a desire to slump mentally—to start dying—after hearing William Rainey Bennett. Bennett is so dynamic, so earnest, sincere, his grasp of the psychology of living is so powerful, that he arouses his audience to a keener realization of the abilities lying within themselves and the infinite opportunities surrounding them.

Bennett is not primarily a tonic for the middle-aged. He is famous for his "pep" talks to youth. Many high schools have sent a hurry call to Bennett on the eve of some decisive football battle when the glory of the school was at stake. And Bennett's inspirational counsel has given the added impetus that sent the team to victory the next day.

Mr. Bennett will give here his outstanding lecture, "The Man Who Can."

Bennett's address is the second number of the winter lecture course series sponsored by the Charlevoix Parent-Teacher association. His talk will be given at the gymnasium, commencing at the usual time, eight o'clock.

The Ladies' Altar Society will give a bridge and potluck party at St.
Mary's school hall, Monday evening, December 9. Refreshments will be served. Admission 25c.—Adv. 4911

PLAN TO ENLARGE PETOSKEY HOTEL

Addition to the Perry Will Be Started in a Short Time.

Dr. John Ryeckart of Petoskey, has announced that he has arranged with his builders to go ahead with the plans for enlarging the Hotel Perry, and that actual work would be started shortly. The plans for further enlarging of this hotel, announced some months ago, include thirty-six additional modern guest rooms, smoking room, parlor, a small banquet hall, electric passenger elevator, and the enlarging of the offices and lobby.

The new addition will be six stories high and will face Bay street.
There will be an entrance to the lobby from this street as well as from Lewis street. The present parlor will be changed into a lobby. All of the guest rooms will be large and modern in every respect.

The addition to the hotel on the Lewis street side has been completed and all of the guest rooms were placed in use last spring. This addition also contains a small private dining room and is three stories high.

SUNDAY INTERNATIONAL GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY

Sunday, December 8th, is the seventh anniversary of International Golden Rule Sunday. The needs of the orphans of the Near East having been provided for, gifts hereafter will be used for the underprivileged children throughout the world.

In China, famine is taking a terrific toll of child life. Thousands of children in Porto Rico, under our own flag are living on one meal a day, many slowly dying. Among the transplanted populations in eastern Europe many thousand children are doomed to roam the city streets as vagrant beggars. What can we do about it?

Three ways are suggested for sharing in their relief. First, plan a very simple dinner as a reminder of the children who are in want the world over. Second, offer a little prayer for them and in thankfulness for our own blessings. Third, make a thank-offering in their behalf.

Offerings should be sent to the Golden Rule Foundation, 1 Madison avenue, New York. Churches, Sunday schools, young people's societies, lodges and other organizations are urged to present the claims of these children.

EMERALD HOWE DIED HERE LAST WEDNESDAY

Death Resulted From Affliction of Long Duration.

Emerald H. Howe, aged 29 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howe, died last Wednesday evening at 8:30 p. m. at the home of his parents on Antrim street. He had been a sufferer from Bright's disease and the day preceding his death was brought back from Ann Arbor where he had been taken for medical treatment.

Deceased was born in Hayes township in 1900. He lived there with his parents until they moved to Charlevoix and he attended both the rural and Charlevoix public schools. On May 12, 1927, he was united in marriage to Miss Hazel Hewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hewitt of this city.

Surviving besides his wife is a son,
12 months; his parents, Mr. and
Mrs. Henry Howe; four sisters, Mrs. J. K.
Ellis of Miners Park, Calif., Mrs.
Bernard Burns of Plainwell, Mich.
and Geraldine of Charlevoix; also two brothers, Robert and Wilson, both of this city.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the Baptist church, Rev. W. H. Rauch, officiating. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

Emerald was one of the well known younger men of this community and his untimely passing touched the sympathetic feelings of all who knew him.

PRETTY WEDDING SOL- EMNIZED SATURDAY

Miss Edna Taylor United in Marriage to Burt Weaver, Battle Creek.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Taylor last Saturday evening when their daughter, Miss Edna, was united in marriage to Burt Weaver of Battle Creek.

Rev. W. H. Rauch of the Baptist church performed the ceremony in the presence of a small gathering of near relatives. The bride's brother, Harold Taylor, and Miss Helen Miller attended the bridal couple.

Following a short honeymoon in the southern part of the state, the couple will return to Charlevoix to take up their permanent residence.

ROBBERS ACTIVE IN NEIGHBORING TOWN

Local Business Places Broken Into on Several Occasions.

Central Lake, in the past couple of weeks, has been visited by burglars breaking into local stores. This is believed to be of local character.

On Monday night of last week, someone, supposed to be boys, tried to break into the A. L. Darling grocery store by climbing through a window. R. J. Ballard, who has charge of seeing that the store is properly closed at night, states that the window was shut and barred with a slat. On Wednesday night another attempt was made but they failed to get in by all appearances. On Sunday night of this week the store was broken into and some goods were taken, but just how much, the proprietor is unable to ascertain. Several clues have been found, leading to the knowledge as to who the parties are.

An attempt was also made to enter the J. R. Fouts Billiard Parlor and they got through the back door into the shed. However, they failed to get through into the main part as the door was bolted. The shed door was open when discovered and the clasp and staple were both broken.

A couple of weeks ago, the Torch office was entered and a box of rubber bands and some small change in the cash register were stolen.—

METHODIST CHURCH

At 10:30 on Sunday morning the pastor conducts divine worship. Special music and a chat with children are always features of this service. The best reason for sharing in this service is not that a preacher may or may not say certain things, but that you may worship God in company with your fellow men.

The church school assemblies at noon. The lessons are both graded and uniform international.

Epworth League meets at 6:30 p.
m. A good hour for young people to discuss live issues of their own.

At 7:00 p. m. the pastor continues his talks to youth. The address will be "The Husbands and Wives of Youth." What ought to guide young people in their choice of life partners? The question will be discussed at this service.

This Thursday the Literary Club is to meet with Mrs. Ray Ashdon on

COUNTY PURCHASES TRACTOR AND PLOW

The Charlevoix County Road Commission closed a deal Tuesday for the purchase of a new Monarch 75 tractor and Sargent plow. The equipment is to replace the old Holt tractor and push-plow equipment owned by the county. The new Monarch is a more powerful tractor and embodies many new features not included in earlier models. The plow has a hydraulic lift and is of a type very popular throughout sections where snow-removal equipment is now being used.

CHARITY CARNIVAL WEDNESDAY

VOTING FOR WINTER QUEEN DRAWING GREAT INTEREST.

Thursday and Friday Evening Programs Varied and Interesting—Generous Response Shown.

While the topic of winter sports has failed to come in for very much discussion up to the present time, the selection of a Winter Queen and her Lady-in-Waiting is one of the most talked-of subjects before Charlevoix citizens today. This question will be decided Friday night at the Grand Charity Masquerade Ball, which is the closing event of a three-day program sponsored by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce to raise a fund to spread Christmas cheer among Charlevoix's needy families and to help sick and unfortunate during the winter.

Candidates were chosen last week from the four classes of Charlevoix high school. Two selections were made—the most beautiful and the most popular. In the most beautiful group are Lucille Bogart, Dorothy Griffin, Dorothy Struthers and Audrey Staley. The most popular young ladies are Betty Cartier, Margaret Smith, Angie Scott and Dorothy Withers. Voting closes Friday night. Single admission ticket holders are entitled to two votes and season ticket holders 10 votes. The one receiving the highest number of votes will be Winter Queen. The one receiving the highest number of votes from the group which the Winter Queen is not chosen, will be her Lady-in-Waiting.

Charlevoix citizens will have their first opportunity to see the group of most beautiful and popular young ladies in our schools at a double basketball bill at the gymnasium to-night (Wednesday). Charlevoix high school opens their season against Ellsworth high school and the Polar Bears meet the Petoskey Cagers.

Thursday evening, a varied program of entertainment has been arranged. It opens with a band concert by the school band, which, by the way, will appear each evening during the carnival. A program by school children, several boxing matches and ritualistic work by a Pythian degree team are other important features of the evening's entertainment.

The crowning feature of the three-day event is the Grand Charity Masquerade Ball Friday evening. Prizes will be awarded to the best and most ludicrous costumes and the Winter Queen and her Lady-in-Waiting will be crowned amid great splendor. Dancers will not be allowed on the floor until after ten o'clock unless masked, so better prepare your costume now and not miss any of the fun.

Charlevoix has responded nobly to this very worthy cause to create a fund for unfortunates of this city and vicinity, and this, together with splendid co-operation from every

BOARDING PLACE WANTED FOR DE-SERVING STUDENT

Among the students attending Charlevoix high school is a young man who hitch-hikes 10 miles each way to and from his home daily in order to be in school.

He is one of a large family and his parents are finding it extremely difficult to provide means for his continued education. Ordinarily, this ambitious young man has been able to earn enough money during summer vacation period to take care of his needs during the winter. Last summer was an exception, however, and the lad is faced with the necessity of quitting school.

We have taken pains to inquire from school authorities the standings of this particular student. We find he is a member of the junior class and, considering time lost by absences and difficulties encountered, he is doing remarkably well.

We are calling this matter to the attention of our readers in the hope that someone will have a place for the lad in their home during the winter months. Supt. M. Otterbein states the young man is desirous of finding a place where he may work for his board and room, and adds that his personality and character is of a worthwhile type.

There is an opportunity to lend a helping hand. Any person interested in the welfare of this deserving young man may get in touch with Supt. Otterbein at the school.

quarter, spells unqualified success for the event. The committees are leaving nothing undone to insure a real list of entertainments, and there will be no dull moments. Remember the slogan, "I'll See You There."

CHRISTMAS MAIL SHOULD GO NOW

Early Action is Urged by Postmaster Weaver for Charlevoix Folks.

George W. Weaver, Charlevoix postmaster, urges Charlevoix folk to "do their Christmas shopping early." The head of the local institution said that early mail tends to insure delivery of packages before Christmas. Early mailing, careful wrapping, plain addresses, proper addresses are sure things which are being stressed at this time.

Notice from Walter F. Brown, postmaster general in Washington, says: "Shop Early, Mail Early. There will be no delivery on Christmas Day." Parcels may be marked: "Do Not Open Until Christmas." Charlevoix patrons also are informed that foreign countries do not allow stickers on the front of packages or letters.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR HARBOR SET

$165,000 TO BE SPENT HERE NEXT YEAR.

Charlevoix Among List of Western Michigan Harbors for Which Appropriations are Made.

Figures given out by L. Z. Goddard, government engineer, show approximately $149,000 will be spent on West Michigan harbors this year. A large portion of this amount will go for maintenance and dredging.

St. Joseph harbor is to have $7,000 for dredging and minor repairs. South Haven will draw $105,000 for dredging and rebuilding of 806 feet of north pier superstructure and 518 feet of revetment. Saugatuck harbor and Kalamazoo river will get $16,000 worth of dredging. Holland harbor gets $9,000 for dredging while $55,000 goes for dredging of Grand Haven harbor and rebuilding 407 feet of the north revetment. $10,000 is allotted for dredging the lower 17 miles of Grand River. Muskegon harbor gets $20,000 for dredging and minor repairs. About $287,000 previously appropriated is on hand to complete projects already under way. White Lake harbor draws $9,500 for maintenance and dredging. Ludington harbor will have $10,000 for maintenance and dredging.

Manistee harbor will get $21,000 for dredging and stone for the south breakwater and riprap. Charlevoix harbor will have $156,000 for dredging and rebuilding a portion of the superstructure on the north revetment on the lower channel and all the south revetment on the upper channel. Portage harbor will get $6,000 for maintenance and Frankfort harbor accounts for $25,000 for dredging.

Work on the lower channel between Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix was started a year ago. The north revetment was removed and advance preparations made for building a new one. The old pier was in bad shape and in some places was falling over into the channel. Work listed under the appropriation includes rebuilding a portion of the superstructure on the north side of the lower channel and all of the south revetment in the upper channel between Round Lake and Lake Michigan.

CENTRAL DRUG STORE HOLDS DOLL CONTEST

Fifteen Highest Vote-Getters to Receive Beautiful Prizes.

A feature of the holiday shopping season at the Central Drug Store is a doll contest in which great interest is being shown by the public.

Starting November 23rd, patrons were asked to name their candidates for the contest. From that time up until the day before Christmas, one vote is being given with every purchase of one cent and the purchaser may cast their votes for their favored candidate.

On Christmas morning, beautiful talking dolls will be given to the fifteen receiving the highest number of votes. In all there are 60 entrants in the contest, which is drawing great interest.

December 21st is time limit set for Christmas picture sittings at Priest's Studio.—Adv. 5111.

Charlevoix Merchants Now Ready For Early Christmas Shoppers

Stimulated by Mother Nature's provision of typical Christmas weather and an abundant snow fall many Charlevoix merchants have their stores and merchandise in readiness for the early shopper.

The soft snow with the cool, brisk breezes of winter seem to bring on that Holiday spirit, which with less encouragement sometimes is confined to the last few days before Christmas.

Accompanying this early holiday spirit, which is already in the air, comes the first vanguard of Christmas Shoppers.

However, Charlevoix merchants will not be found behind the season. In practically every store their Christmas array of merchandise is unpacked and on display and they are telling you about it in this issue. Do not shop blindly. It will be worth the time spent if you read carefully the advertising in each issue of the Courier from now on until Christmas.

This is our first Christmas advertising edition. There will be another next week with perhaps a greater abundance of holiday offerings. But do not wait until the last minute. Christmas is less than two weeks away—only eleven more shopping days. Remember that the early shopper always gets the best selections.

AGED IRONTON PIONEER BURIED MONDAY

Mrs. Helen King Died Saturday at Home of Daughter in Caro.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Ironton Congregational church for Mrs. Helen King, aged 87 years, who died Saturday, December 7th, at the home of her daughter in Caro, Michigan. Rev. B. G. Mattson officiated and interment was in Lakeside cemetery.

Mrs. King, whose maiden name was Helen Kendall, was born March 3, 1841, in New York state. On August 16, 1860, she was united in marriage to Joel King in Walworth county, Wisconsin. The couple came to this county in 1881, settling on a farm near Ironton. They resided there until Mr. King's death in 1917, after which Mrs. King went to reside with her children.

Deceased is survived by five daughters and one son, viz: Mrs. Mary Dye, Caro, Mich.; Mrs. Mattie Manney, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Flora Howard, Mackinaw City; Mrs. Carrie Dell, Ozark, Mich.; Mrs. Blanch Wilhelm and Wesley King, both of Lansing. There is also a large number of other relatives.

Mrs. King was a very active church worker and a beloved resident of the community in which she made her home.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS HERE ON INSPECTION

Andrew I. Creamer, Manager of The Inn, Member of Party.

A. L. Grandy and E. E. Kane of Detroit, assistants to the vice-president of the Pere Marquette Railway Company, together with Andrew I. Creamer of Charlevoix and Southern Pines, N. C., manager of The Inn, summer hotel owned and operated by that railway system here, were in Charlevoix on business Monday afternoon and Tuesday.

The group made a trip of inspection through The Inn and adjacent properties preparatory to making recommendations for a program of improvements for the coming summer season. While known to be comprehensive, the nature of the improvements was not made public, although it is hoped locally that a definite statement will be made soon.

While Mr. Creamer has been a regular summer resident here for somewhere near 24 years, this was his first visit to our city during the winter in thirty years. He made the significant statement that "the region was delightful."

MEN'S COMMUNITY CLUB ORGANIZED

OFFICERS CHOSEN AT MEETING MONDAY NIGHT.

Next Gathering to be Held January 6th—Prosecuting Attorney Rolie L. Lewis Speaker.

The Men's Community Club organized for the coming winter at their opening meeting held in the basement of the First Methodist church Monday evening.

Following an excellent supper of pancakes, sausage and the "trimmings," election of officers was held and committees appointed.

The officers for 1929-30 are: President, O. P. North; Vice-president, Martin Block; Secretary, Fay A. Bradley; Treasurer, Clarence Mezzion; Committees appointed were: Program—Frank E. Bird, Archie C. Belding, Ed. Bogart and Rev. J. E. Lookyer; music—Wm. Bollinger, chairman; supper committee—A. C. Belding, chairman.

A date was set for the annual Father and Son banquet Monday evening. This very popular affair will be held this year on February 12, the date of Lincoln's birthday anniversary, and the Literary and Sewing Club will serve the banquet.

The next meeting of the Club will be held Monday evening, January 6, with Prosecuting Attorney Rolie L. Lewis as the speaker, using as his topic: "Criminal Conditions in Charlevoix County."

The Men's Community Club has been organized for several winters and is recognized as one of the most active group of men in the city. Regular Monday evening programs have been sponsored. Numbering among those appearing before the Club have been speakers of prominence and a variety of programs held have proven of more than ordinary interest. One of the main features of the winter is the annual Father and Son banquet.

Anyone interested in the activities of the club is invited to attend the next meeting, date of which has been announced above.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX HAS TROUT PONDS

Fifty Large Brook Trout Planted Before Spawning This Fall.

Among its many unique attractions, Camp Charlevoix, located on Oyster Bay, has added a trout pond. A dam was built on the small stream crossing the property early this fall, and fifty large brook trout were planted. The planting was completed prior to the spawning season, and it is likely many fingerlings will be found in the pond next spring.

Louis C. Reimann, director of the camp, has gone to Ann Arbor for the winter. He has a crew of men making rustic furniture at the camp, and will make occasional visits here during the winter.

Notice to Taxpayers. I will be at the Norwood town hall on Wednesday, December 18, and at the Charlevoix County Bank the following Saturdays, December 21 and 28, to collect taxes for the township of Norwood. Orville Hilton, Adv. 5012. Township Treas.

POLAR BEARS WIN SECOND CONTEST

BEAT EAST JORDAN FIVE HERE BY 39 TO 23 COUNT.

Meet Petoskey Quintet on Double Bill at Gymnasium Wednesday Evening of This Week.

The Charlevoix Polar Bears hung up their second victory of the season at the high school gymnasium last Thursday evening, defeating the independent team from East Jordan by a 39 to 23 score.

Brown, center, started scoring for the home five, dropping a short one after dribbling in under the hoop Taylor, East Jordan forward, evened the count with a long shot from outside the foul line. From then on the first period was a nip-and-tuck affair with the Polar Bears just a point or two ahead of their opponents. The quarter ended with the count 13 to 10 in favor of the home five. Up to the whistle, the contest was close and an interesting one.

Charlevoix's team play, began working in the second period. With Cooper and Ikens bearing the brunt of the scoring, the Polar Bears piled up 14 points to East Jordan's long basket, and the half found them leading 27 to 12. Play was fairly even during the third period, which ended with the locals leading 34 to 16.

Leading by a comfortable margin, the Polar Bears were never again headed, although during the final stanza they were out-scored by a small margin. Taylor and Shepard, East Jordan forwards, who threatened throughout the entire game with their long loops from center floor, scored 7 points to Charlevoix's 5. East Jordan made every basket with the exception of one by long shots. They found plenty of difficulty breaking through Charlevoix's defense, but a deadly eye for long ones made up the difference.

Manager Todd used seven men during the game. In fact, no one man played throughout the entire contest. Starting with the regular line-up of Brown, center, Cooper and Kipke at guard, and Davenport and Ikens at forwards, Todd soon had Noyak and Martin in positions. One combination proved equally as strong as the other.

The Polar Bears play their third game tonight (Wednesday), meeting a team from the Petoskey industrial league on a double bill sponsored by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce as the top line attraction of their three-day charity carnival.

THE WEEK'S WEATHER

Following are the temperatures at Charlevoix for the past week, furnished by the U. S. Coast Guard station:

	High	Low
Wednesday	26	22
Thursday	32	24
Friday	26	20
Saturday	22	18
Sunday	28	22
Monday	30	24
Tuesday	28	21

Temperatures for the past week have been fairly high for this time of year. Today, however, the mercury dropped to 10 above. Inter-mittent snow storms have been the order, with the result that any doubts over the possibility of a "White Christmas" have been practically erased.

"WONDERFUL ARE MERITS OF THIS FAMOUS KONJOLA"

Grand Rapids Man Tells How New Medicine Ended Years of Stomach Trouble.

MR. ARTHUR HART

"Wonderful are the merits of this famous Konjola," said Mr. Arthur Hart, 8 Pleasant street, S. E., Grand Rapids. "Years ago I became afflicted with stomach trouble of the worst sort. I immediately began taking medicines and treatments but daily I grew worse. Food failed to digest, no matter what I ate. Fermentation caused gas bloating, smothering spells and wild heart palpitations."

"Wisely I finally decided that what Konjola had done for others it would do for me. I started with the treatment and soon realized that I was on the right track; that health was just around the corner. The stomach trouble became less severe, and then, like magic, all traces of this ailment vanished. I am feeling fine, and praise Konjola with all my heart and soul."

COMMUNICATION

Editor Courier: In the December issue of the Courier there is an account of a specialist of Mississippi, who shipped 100 hives of bees to the Alba region last spring, and they produced 54,000 pounds of honey, worth from 10 to 15 cents a pound wholesale. As I wouldn't like to see the editors, merchants and bankers all rushing into the bee-keeping business, I want to show that no one but a specialist can get such a crop, or such prices at wholesale. The article, taken from the Gaylord-Herald Times, fails to state whether the crop was comb or extracted honey. If comb honey, the yield of 540 pounds to the hive would be equal to about 1,000 pounds of extracted honey, as the bees produce nearly double the amount of extracted honey that they do of comb honey, because the combs are already built. The largest crop I can find recorded in this year's Gleanings in Bee-Culture (for Michigan) is eight supers of extracted honey, on one hive, where the bees were so plentiful that it took three supers to hold them. As a super holds, when full, about 40 to 50 pounds of honey, that would mean 300 to 400 pounds on the strongest hive, considerably less than 540 average. Now as to price: There are advertisements in Gleanings of honey offered at 9 to 12 cents a pound, in 60 pound cans, but these prices are from producer to consumer. I have the quotations of a commission dealer, and the price in new 60 pound cans are 7 1/2 to 9 1/2 cents a pound for extracted honey delivered. It costs about one cent a pound for containers, another cent for the freight, and the dealer's commission, so it doesn't leave much profit for the bee-keepers unless he goes into it big. The government statistics from the Idaho mountain regions show that the equipment cost for extracted honey is about $18.60 per colony, and for comb honey $20.00. Big business has taken hold of the honey business and have put on an extensive advertising campaign, teaching the healthfulness and many uses for honey, but on the other hand, the can-syrup interests are trying to get a bill through congress to amend the pure food law so that glucose or any of their products may be added to honey or any other food without labeling. This means that they can buy up honey and mix with their products and sell for pure honey, making it nearly impossible to buy pure honey or syrup on the market. This bill has been before congress off and on for some years. An effort is now on to represent it as a farmers bill, some of the farmers organizations having been induced to favor it.—H. C. Newman.

Now H. C. don't think for a minute we contemplate going into the bees business. We've been stung so often in the newspaper business that we have no desire to further engage in a business where the main asset is a "stinger." We've been stung too frequent in our present occupation and are not plagues for punishment.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS.

Mrs. Charlotte Andrews of Harbor Springs, is a new member of the class.

Miss Becker, state supervisor of county normals, paid our normal a visit last Wednesday. The training room also enjoyed a visit from Miss Becker.

The class have secured several Christmas pictures from the Extension library at Lansing.

Miss Richardson and Miss Matchett and Miss Dorothy Smith have charge of the Christmas program to be given in the training room.

Hilda and Albert Terry and Shelby Goss are back in the training room after absences due to sickness.

The normal students have received their rings and pins, which were ordered some time ago.

STRAWBERRY MUST HAVE FERTILIZER

Apply Barnyard Manure During Winter or Spring.

Strawberries are great lovers of fertile ground and thorough tillage. These two things are all important and both should be started long before the strawberries are planted. During the winter or early in the spring, the ground should have an application of barnyard manure. The amount to apply depends very largely on how much is available. It is hard to get on too much. Early in the spring this manure should be disked into the ground so as to get it thoroughly mixed with the soil before planting. After planting, apply from two hundred to four hundred pounds of acid phosphate per acre and keep the ground well harrowed until planting time. Plant only strong young plants with good white roots. A cloudy day soon after a shower is a good time to plant. Do not allow the roots to become dry while planting. While planting, remove all leaves except two or three healthy young leaves to each plant, and cut the straggly ends of the longest roots back. Press the ground firmly around the plant so there will be no air spaces around the roots. Do not set the plants too deep nor too shallow. The crown should not be buried, neither should the roots be exposed.

After planting, keep the cultivator and the hoe busy until late in the fall. Do not let the rows become too wide. Neither should the plants be too thick in the rows. Late in the summer it would pay very well to apply a light sprinkling of sulphate of ammonia around the plants and along the sides of the rows. Do this when the leaves are dry and if any of the fertilizer stays on the leaves, brush it off with a broom as it will burn. This fertilizer application is used to make good strong fruit buds for the next spring's crop. Late in the fall, after the first freeze, mulch the plants with straw. The following spring the mulch can be raked between the rows to help hold moisture and to keep the berries clean.

RISKY TO PLANT TREES IN FALL

Reasonably Safe if Plants Are Properly Cared For.

Fruit trees are sometimes set in spring or in fall, but it is more risky to plant them in the fall, say fruit men at the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y. They also say, however, that whether planting is done in spring or fall, trees should be ordered in the fall, for by ordering them for spring delivery, fruit growers are more likely to get from nurserymen the exact varieties and ages of trees desired.

Fall planting may be practiced and is reasonably safe if the plants are well cared for and are mulched during the winter. Once in a while, however, weather conditions are unfavorable and many trees or berries that are planted in the fall die. For this reason spring planting under New York conditions is to be preferred year in and year out for all fruits.

One point that favors fall planting is that the air gets cool in autumn while the soil stays comparatively warm. This favors callus formation in the roots and helps the tree or plant get firmly settled in the soil.

Two drawbacks sometimes have to be reckoned; one is too much rain and the other is too little. If the soil is too wet, the trees may heave in the soil and break their roots. Heaving is worse on heavy, clay soils.

If there is too little water, the trees may die. These, of course, are chances every grower must take if he practices fall planting.

Start Deciduous Trees With Green Manure Crop

In general practice, it is a good plan to start the deciduous orchard by growing a good green manure crop on the land the year previous to planting. This should then be followed by at least one such crop between the rows of trees every year thereafter, particularly while the orchard is young and the trees occupy less space. If this practice is followed, the fertility of the soil often can be maintained without resorting to the use of other fertilizers. The kind of crop used for this purpose and the season when it is grown depend a great deal upon the location and soil. Preference should be given leguminous crops, since they furnish both nitrogen and organic matter.

2 GLASSES WATER, NOT TOO COLD, HELP CONSTIPATION

One glass water is not enough—take 2 glasses a half hour before breakfast. You get quicker and better results by adding a little simple glycerine, saline, etc., (known as Adlerika) to one glass.

Unlike other remedies, Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes old poisons you never thought were in your system. Adlerika stops GAS and sour stomach in 10 minutes! Relieves constipation in 2 hours. F. J. Fessenden, druggist.

ter, unless, by the rank growth of the trees, it is seen that the continuous use of legumes is supplying too much nitrogen. This is sometimes possible in growing peaches in certain soils, and a change to rye or oats for a season is necessary. Cowpeas and tepary beans have been found most satisfactory as summer legumes, planted after the weather becomes warm. However, white sweet clover is gaining favor as a cover crop in our valley districts where a shade crop is desired through a part or all of the summer. Planted early in the spring, it makes a very rank growth by the middle of summer, when it should be cut or disked. In addition to furnishing a large quantity of vegetable matter, it is deep-rooted and, consequently, is a good crop for soils in general. It makes heavy soils more open and friable, and gives lighter soils greater water-holding capacity.

Orchardists Find That It Pays to Fertilize

Sulphate of ammonia will increase fruit yields, Wisconsin farmers are finding. According to C. L. Kuehner, fruit crop specialist of the Wisconsin Agricultural college, 29 Milwaukee county orchardists used last spring from 5 to 700 pounds of sulphate of ammonia on their fruit trees, having learned from past experience that in terms of increased yields the application is worth the time and expense of applying it.

The number of trees fertilized in each of these Milwaukee county fruit groves varies from 5 to 400. It is interesting to note, Kuehner says, that those who used the fertilizer in 1927, have increased the amount this season.

Spray ring outfits are also increasing rapidly among Wisconsin fruit growers. A spray ring is a group of orchardists who are co-operatively associated in the ownership of a fruit tree spraying machine, which is taken from one farm to another throughout a neighborhood, to fortify the trees against insect and other parasite pests which destroy fruit and reduce its quality. There were 17 new spray ring organizations formed in Wisconsin last spring, bringing the total number now in operation up to 141.

Prevent Winter Injury by Improved Drainage

Winter injury to the vineyard is usually associated with too much rainfall during late summer and early fall, which prevents the newly formed grape buds from reaching maturity before freezing weather sets in, say horticulturists at the experiment station at Geneva, N. Y. This is said to be especially true if the vineyard is located on poorly drained soils, and it is believed that much winter injury may be prevented by proper drainage which removes the surplus water and allows the grape vines to harden up before cold weather.

When cultivation of the vineyard is discontinued in July or August, the weeds should be allowed to grow without cutting, so as to let the weeds utilize as much of the soil moisture as they will, say the station specialists. Green manure crops sown after the last cultivation aid in drying out the soil, provided they do not shade the ground too much. Rye, wheat, oats, barley, and buckwheat make especially good cover crops, as they shade the ground very little, while rape and cowhorn turnips are less desirable.

Some winter injury to grapes will nearly always follow low temperatures, but the extent of the injury may be materially lessened by following the practices here recommended.

Millions of Spark Plugs Are Now Used Every Year

The 22,000,000 cars in operation in the United States travel approximately 220,000,000,000 miles annually based on an estimate of 40,000 miles per car per year. These cars use 35,000,000 spark plugs a year. This means that one plug is used for every 3,384 miles a car travels.

Horticultural Hints

Remove all water sprouts. Cut out the poorer of crossed and crowded branches.

Lime sulphur may be used on all trees that are susceptible to the scale insects, but must be used before the leaf appears.

Go over the entire surface of the tree, thinning it out evenly by removing small branches and twigs that can be cut with hand shears.

Most growers who have made a study of mulching materials claim that wheat straw is about the best material to use. Of course, the chaff should be removed from this. Oats straw is also looked upon with favor, though it has a tendency to mat down.

The dormant spray for fruit is applied before the buds begin to swell on the trees. Get ready now by ordering your lime sulphur liquid. It should be diluted with eight to ten parts of water before application.

Growers find that they can get from 10 to 25 cents a bushel more for apples that are well packed instead of being just poured into the basket. Honestly facing a bushel of apples does not improve the flavor or value of the fruit, but it makes a more attractive package.

THE SLAUGHTER CONTINUES.

This time we are not talking about the annual slaughter of red-coated hunters in the north woods, but the deplorable condition revealed in a report just issued by the state department of health which shows that during the first ten months of this year motor fatalities increased at the almost unbelievable rate of nearly 26 per cent over the same period of a year ago.

The report says that traffic accidents up until November 1, had taken the lives of 1,245 persons. The department estimates that if this rate of increase is continued during November and December this year's traffic toll will claim at least 260 more victims.

Such a statement is appalling to the average person. While there is no way in securing exact information it is safe to say that three-fourths of the accidents taking human lives were the direct result of carelessness or the part of somebody.

Traffic laws do not seem to have any deterrent for this class of drivers, warnings are ignored; plans for common-sense driving at all times fall on deaf ears; throwing caution to the winds they continue their reckless ways on highways and city streets dealing death and destruction right and left.

Here is one class of crime—criminal negligence—that should engage the serious attention of Michigan's crime commission, now engaged in an attempt to find a solution of our social problems. If they can succeed in pointing out a way in which this needless sacrifice of human life can be materially reduced they will have rendered an everlasting service to the Commonwealth of Michigan.

GAYLORD COUPLE SEE LARGE HERD OF ELK

Mr. and Mrs. Elen VanHuren of Gaylord were treated to a sight seldom experienced in this part of the country the first of the week, when on their way to Vanderbilt, from the Club House on the Black river.

As they topped a "mad" hill, they came upon a drove of 39 elk traveling across the road. There were two mammoth bulls in the bunch, and none of them seemed particularly frightened when the car appeared.

S. S. CLASS ENTERTAINED BY TEACHER

Party is Reward for Regular Attendance at Church.

The members of the "Giant Killers" class of the Congregational Sunday school, who were present six successive Sundays, were entertained with a dinner party at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Ernest Staley, on Tuesday of last week. The table decorations were green and white and the favors were clever bird whistles.

Drew Young won the prize in the contest. Those present were Lewis Greenman, Marshall O'Neil, Clair Tillotson, George Kelderhouse and Drew Young.

It is hoped that all the boys will be eligible to attend the next party which will probably be an out-door affair.

Alice Joyce Plays Mother Role in "The Squall."

Alice Joyce has one of the strongest and most sympathetic roles of her career in "The Squall," the First National Special which comes to the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Joyce portrays the very difficult role of Maria Lujes, the mother and wife, whose desperate efforts to protect her husband and her son from the wiles of Nihil, the gypsy slave, are almost in vain.

Alexander Korda directed "The Squall" from the Bradley King screen version of Jean Bart's daring stage play. The cast includes Myrna Loy as Nihil, Loretta Young, Zasu Pitts, Harry Gidding, Nicholas Soussignan, Marcia Harris, Carroll Nye, Richard Tucker and others.

Both the play and the screen version enjoyed successful engagements on Broadway. The management announces that there will be no advance in prices during this engagement.

MILLIONS OF PERCH TAKEN FROM TRAVERSE

Transferred From Boardman River Throughout State.

The Conservation department's rescue station on Boardman river near the Union street bridge in Traverse City, where perch have been taken by the thousands since their run began two months ago, was closed last week. More than a million and a half perch have been distributed to lakes and hatcheries about the state since the station was opened October 7, District Conservation Officer Mark Crow announces.

Perch have been taken from the Boardman to points as far south as Benton Harbor, a shipment of 47,000 having gone to the hatchery in that city. Two carloads, 320 cans, have gone to the Upper Peninsula, carrying 200 perch to the can.

2,000 MORE BUCKS SHOT THAN IN PREVIOUS YEAR

Conservation Officer "Dutch" Weber was in the office Tuesday and gave us the following dope on shipments of game animals across the straits up until 10 o'clock that morning were 6,593 deer as compared with 5,250 for last year's season; 90 bear this year as to 56 last year; this year 16 coyotes, 4 timber wolves, 2 cats, and 11 fox. Out of that number of game crossing the Straits only four arrests were made at St. Ignace. "Dutch" is under the impression that at least 2,000 deer were killed and kept in the upper peninsula by hunters living there. Cheboygan Observer.

STARS TIRE OF BEING IN ONE PLACE

(By D. J. Walcott)

MARTHA BURNS clamped down the last jar cover and placed the jar with the others on the kitchen table. Fourteen quarts of canned blackberries constituted her whole afternoon's work. It was a hot afternoon, too, and the small kitchen smelled of sweat, fruit and reeked with steam. She dozed down upon the edge of a chair to rest a moment before mopping the floor.

She was tired from the top of her gray head to the soles of her small shabby feet. But it was less bodily fatigue she felt than that soul heaviness which crushes with its deadly oppression. The sight of the fruit, visible through the glass containers, sickened her. She felt that she would never live to eat those blackberries after all her efforts to pick and preserve them. Not that it mattered. She was tired enough to rest—even on the slope of the hill where they had laid Henry three years before.

Everything had changed with Henry's going. Almost before she had time to grieve, her balance, George, her son, had married Mildred Pease, a nice girl, although she had never thought much of the Peases as a family. Then nothing would do but George must toy the place. She had been astonished at his offer. "But it will be yours, sometime," she had said gently. "But I want it now," George had replied. "Well, take it now," she had returned. The papers had been drawn and signed. With a stroke of the pen she had given away her home before she was through with it.

What was it old Mrs. Hoyt had said—"Your son's your son till he gets him a wife?" She had laughed at it. George was George. If she had failed it was not altogether her fault. George wasn't like Henry in any particular. He was like—like her own brother Jim, who had given them all so much trouble. Strange that he should have been like Jim instead of Henry. She had never been able to account for it.

As soon as she stated that paper she ceased to be mistress in her old home. But she had expected that. Mildred was younger, with newer, brighter ways. She had not, however, expected what had actually happened—that gradually her position should be shifted until she was doing most of the work without either praise or pay.

Her room, that little north chamber where George had been born, the porch with the crimson rambler which Henry had planted, they were worth any price, even so for a price as she was paying. She couldn't go away and leave what she had cherished so long. Her home! But it was also Mildred's home. Mildred had had the rooms repapered, had had a partition taken out, a window cleared here, a door there. Every alteration had pained her until the doctor, whom she had at last been obliged to consult, had told her bluntly that her heart wasn't going to stand much more wear and tear, even if her body held out, with the work she was doing.

It was growing dark in the kitchen. She arose and got mop and pail and mop from the closet and began to clean the floor. Mildred was very particular about her linoleum, although she seldom cleaned it herself. Tired as she was, Martha slighted no crevice or corner. The varnish shone when she had finished. Save for the group of jars on the table there was no sign of her having toiled there the whole afternoon.

She had only her own supper to get, for George and Mildred had taken advantage of a holiday to go for a trip in their new car. Yet somehow she did not care for food. Even tea did not tempt her. What she really needed was to go out and sit on the porch and rest.

She had to go upstairs for her shawl. Mildred did not like to have things lying around and Martha's few belongings had been gathered together in the little north chamber. But after she got the shawl she was too tired to go downstairs again. Her breath came heavily and she dozed off, so she sat down on the floor beside the wide-open window and leaning her head against the casing looked out upon the night world.

Suddenly light flashed across her vision—a brilliant, moving light. She arose to her knees and leaned far out to see. Ah! There was another! A shooting star—strange, wonderful phenomenon! What sent them forth wondering? She had always wondered about them. "Maybe they got tired of getting stuck in one place and took things in their own hands as it were and started out to find something new," Henry had said that the night he proposed to her. They had been riding home in the buggy behind the big oak, between red cedars and given way to six-cylinder cars now—when just as they struck into the valley, with the whole expanse of sky before them, a shooting star had passed before them. "Maybe they got tired of being stuck in one place," Henry had said. And when she laughed he put his arm around her and kissed her on her merry mouth, in the same breath asking her to have him. Three weeks later they were married.

Another shooting star! Why, the sky was alive with them. Had they all got tired of being stuck in one place for themselves? And would the new places be any better than the old? One thing was sure—nobody ever heard of a shooting star going back.

How would it seem to go journeying through space with the speed of the wind—or, indeed, journeying anywhere? She had never been away from home, that is, to go any distance, but she had often thought she would. She and Henry had talked about going sometime where it was warmer. Mary had wanted them to come. Mary and Henry's sister—his twin sister. She lived in the South. When Henry died she had come all the way North to the funeral. Mary had wanted Martha to go home and help her. After her children were grown up, married and she was left alone she had opened a little shop in the front rooms of her home. Well, she was sensible; but, of course, being like Henry, Mary wouldn't be a bit like Martha.

Shooting stars! Shooting stars! And Henry's voice seeming to be close to her, ever repeating: "Started out to find something new."

There was another light below, a bold streak of illumination which showed the blades of grass as a car swept into the drive. Above the motor she heard Mildred's high voice: "What's the idea? There isn't a light in the house!" Mildred and George back! She sprang up and hurried downstairs.

Mildred was at the door, slender, bobbed hair above her flushed sharp face.

"We had supper at New Inn. How did the berries turn out? Are you sure you got them sweet enough? Say! Why didn't you pick up the mail?" She was stopping to gather a handful of letters from the door before the postman had thrust them. She ran through them hastily. "One for you, mother." She handed a letter to Martha.

From Mary! She was always so grateful for those infrequent, pleasant letters. Mary wrote when she could, for she was busy. The first words she saw were: "When are you coming to see me?" She got no further. With bright eyes she looked from her son to her daughter-in-law.

"Mary, Henry's sister, Mrs. Combs, wants me to come. I guess I will go. I guess I'll take the train she took when she went back. It leaves here in about an hour. The chair car will be all right. I am small, I can curl up on the seat. Will—would you mind taking me to the station, George?"

Then before they could answer, in their astonishment and half dismay, she ran upstairs. She did not need to take much, just a valise. She had money enough to buy her own ticket. Mary wanted her. Mary who was so like Henry. It wasn't as if George and Mildred needed her. They would be happier without her.

A light darted across the dark area of sky outside her window. Another shooting star!

She must go now. For if she waited until morning when there were no stars she might not have the courage to start out to find something new.

Newspaper Has Largely Taken Place of Books

An American author has discovered the answer to the much-debated query, "Why don't people buy books?" He says it is because they have nowhere to put them. When it was usual to live in spacious houses, there were libraries. Now so many have to live in tiny flats, where they really have no room for more than a small bookcase or a few shelves.

That is quite true of the big cities in America, and it is more or less true in England. But it does not apply to suburbs in either country. I fancy the objection of wives and servants to keep large quantities of books dusted has more to do with it. But there is another and a stronger reason than either of these for the decline, not only of book buying alone, but of book reading. The newspaper provides nowadays so much that used to be found only in books. Essays, travel, sketches, sermons, fiction, verse, biography, all form part of journalism in addition to news. An enormous number are content with this. They do not need books.—London Chronicle.

Conduct Clean Up

Boy Scouts of Montezuma, Wash., recently volunteered their services to clean up rubbish along one of the principal highways of the town. At the highway runs the fence of the local baseball park. Bill posters for the circus which recently showed nearby had plastered this fence with their posters. The scouts did another good turn in removing the stickers.

A good year in good roads building is in prospect if the people of this broad land give serious thought to the highway problem.

Virginia will spend nearly $10,000,000 for good roads this year. The State Highway commission has provided for an expenditure of $3,000,000 to improve the main highways, and $1,250,000 to improve feeder roads.

INVENT NEW SCHEME TO SWINDLE FARMER

Salesmen Try to Sell Subscriptions to Government Bulletins.

Easy money artists have apparently selected Michigan farmers as good prospects for various types of fake services which are sold with the representation that they are to be supervised by some department at Michigan State College.

Publicity given through newspapers and agricultural journals resulted in the jailing of a seller of worthless poultry remedies, but a Lapeer county man, G. A. Hood, now reports that two men called on him and tried to sell him a year's subscription to the bulletins issued by the College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The bulletins are undoubtedly worth the price asked but as most of them can be obtained from the college, the department, or from county agricultural agents, no farmer needs to pay for them.

Single copies of all college bulletins except one published for general use by farmers by the State College may be obtained free by writing to the director of the experiment station at East Lansing. A charge of ten cents is made for one horticultural bulletin diagnosing orchard ills.

The men who called on the Lapeer farmer said that they represented some service bureau which was working overtime in the farmers' interests. One of the selling points in their talk was a campaign against an increase in taxes.

To the Tax Payers of the City of Charlevoix.

Notice is hereby given that the December Tax Roll of the City of Charlevoix has been delivered to me, and that the taxes therein levied are payable at my office at any time on or before the 9th day of January, 1930, without charge for collection.

On all taxes remaining unpaid after the 9th day of January, a collection fee of four cents on the dollar will be charged and collected.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Turkey and Its By-Products.

There is, of course, turkey hash of carious, divers and sundry kinds, but still, remembering grandmother's luscious concoction that made after-Thanksgiving luncheons truly thankful, we do not believe that any of the modern versions of left-over turkey can be really bad enough to warrant devoting the attention of a high-powered expert of the Bureau of Economics to their elimination. We are informed by this expert that he has been devoting time and attention to the problem of putting turkey on twice as many tables, and stabilizing the market for turkeys, as well as "decreasing hash." He reports that he believes the solution would be the sale of half-turkeys, a plan which he announces the Department of Agriculture will advocate for next Thanksgiving. Attention is called to the fact that a turkey is constructed admirably for bisecting equitably, and the expert betrays some sense of humor, in the midst of this serious discussion, by remarking that the only portion impossible to bisect would be the neck, "but doubted if there would be much complaint on this account." Every cloud has its silver lining; perhaps the loss of generous portions of turkey hash will be recompensed by the absence in next Thanksgiving's turkey, of that emblem of abhorrence the neck.

This Investigating Era.

Among the various investigations of which Washington seems to have a superabundance this Winter, are two of which have aroused little interest, but are of the greatest promise. One is the commission which will probably be named shortly for the purpose of making a complete study of the general conditions, political, social and economic, of the Republic of Haiti, long years since under the control of the United States Marines.

The other is the commission already appointed and on the ground which will make the same sort of study of the general conditions of all the Virgin Islands, which were purchased from Denmark in 1918, and which have been administered by naval officers ever since. Their economic condition is reported to be extremely bad, and it would seem to be high time, after more than ten years, that some definite form of democratic government were afforded the islanders.

Politics This Week.

A fresher, more rested, but no less belligerent senate came trooping back to Capital Hill this week to reopen operations on the tariff bill and other things. It is by no means the same senate that reconvened for the second lap of the extra session. In the first place, its personnel has undergone a shakeup. Two members have died, and one has been replaced by a new son from Ohio. Wyoming has not so far designated a representative to take the place of the late Senator Warren, and there is an exciting possibility that former Governor Nellie Taylor Ross will obtain that place. New Jersey's David Baird, Jr., will succeed the former Senator Walter Edge, now Ambassador to France, who succeeded Mr. Baird's father, but he in turn will relinquish his position to Ambassador Morrow some time after the London conference.

No less interesting is the shakeup in committee assignments. Ambassador Edge's departure leaves a vacancy on the powerful Senate Finance committee, and there is a strong movement to give the place to Senator "Bob" LaFollette of Wisconsin. That is cheering news to all who have watched the young senator's intelligent, independent course in politics. Senator Reed Smoot of Utah was entitled to the chairmanship of the appropriations committee left empty by Senator Warren's death, but he preferred to retain his hallowed place as chairman of the finance committee, where his guardianship of the Utah sugar beet has been most pleasing to his constituents.

Femininity and Airports.

The feminine touch in airports furnishes is just one more proof of the interest that women are taking in aviation. It is no great surprise to be informed that flying school managers, in deference to their women student, are going in heavily for interior-decorated clubrooms, and that the men students, although they would have scorned initiating such improvements, are enjoying them.

One good example of a clubroom that has been "prettyed" is that of the Curtiss-Wright Flying School at the Municipal Airport of Los Angeles, California. Its wide windows bordered with tan drapes striped in bright Navajo Indian colors, its open fireplace, comfortable settees and its chair in natural wood with leather cushions, and its bright Navajo rugs, all help to create an impression of warmth, comfort and good taste that was missing from the old rough and ready atmosphere before the feminine influence was allowed. Crd tables and chairs to fit under them, ash tray stands and easy chairs are scattered about in this clubroom for the student who appreciates agreeable surroundings.

The Americas Have a Family Conference.

The Pan American Commission on Customs Procedure and Port Formalities has just closed its sessions in Washington, after just one week of deliberations. Many excellent recommendations were formulated, which will be presented to the twenty-one American nations for consideration and inclusion, if approved, in their national customs and port laws and regulations.

It is difficult for anyone who has followed international conferences for a number of years to see exactly where the benefits come from such parleys, aside from the always advantageous better acquaintance between national delegations. In this case, as in most others, the United States delegation signed the final resolution with a reservation. It may some day occur to some United States delegation that international laws and regulations are a game of give and take, and if another nation approves some regulation contrary to their customs, but which are considered to be advantageous, some day even the United States might consider changing some of its rules for the sake of continental conformity.

Goldfish Breeding a Real Industry.

The glint of the goldfish is more symbolic of the metal from which it takes its name than is generally supposed. Propagation of these drawing room ornaments in the United States has reached a value of nearly $1,000,000 for the current year, says the Bureau of Fisheries of the United States.

Breeding goldfish in this country can scarcely be called an infant industry, since it was begun in 1878 when Rear Admiral Daniel Ammen, U. S. N., presented the United States Fish Commission with a number of the little creatures that had been brought from Japan. Fish breeders in this country were attracted by the possibilities of the goldfish trade, and their efforts along that line proved increasingly successful until in 1928 they produced 21,500,000 goldfish, valued at $942,000. From Japan there came 380,000 more.

Persons who have had difficulty keeping their goldfish alive and healthy would do well to hearken to the bureau's advice not to overcrowd or over-feed their tiny pets. Your fish should have at least one gallon of water for each inch of his body, exclusive of the tail, and should not be fed more than he will readily take at one time. With proper care, the bureau states, the goldfish will thrive and attain a great age—for his kind.

We Will Pay for 19th Century Wars.

Not many people will refuse unearned money, little as they may secretly think they deserve it. Miss Alice Robertson, once congresswoman from Oklahoma, is an exception.

This extraordinary woman actually put her foot on a movement to give her a pension because she contended that she was able to make her own living. How few individuals are made of the same stern calibre is demonstrated by the report of the commissioner of pensions which shows an aggregate of $229,889,986.48 paid to 477,815 pensioners during the last fiscal year.

The Civil War is still exacting tribute from the country in the form of government pensions to the tune of $57,095,811.76 to veterans and more than $86,000,000 to the widows of veterans. The trail of pensioners that the Spanish war left in its wake is even greater now than those bequeathed us by the Civil War. It was not mere so, however. Before old age and ultimate death overtook the pensioners of the first great strife, they outnumbered the beneficiaries of government subsidies by a considerable amount. One would hardly expect the government to be burdened with any remaining survivors or widows of survivors of the War of 1812, but the fact is that nine of these widows received fifty dollars a month during 1928. The ways of war are indeed devastating to the nation's pockets.

Address Your Mail Correctly.

A wise suggestion made to the postmaster general, regarding the huge amount of improperly addressed or misdirected mail sent annually through the post-office, is that a fee of one cent be charged for every piece of mail requiring directory service, that is, correction of or supplying street addresses. This service, as has been repeatedly pointed out, costs the post office department nearly one million dollars per year. This small fee, payable by the sender, is believed to be a good plan to decrease the carelessly addressed mail, and also to correct the custom—supposed to indicate the conspicuous character of firms—of placing no street addresses on letter heads, etc. This latter habit, it may be added, also costs their correspondent considerable loss in the time of clerks who have to look up the addresses when writing such firms.

The example of the city of Buenos Aires, which has an admirable postal system, might well be followed. No mail whatsoever is delivered unless it bears the post office box number or proper street address. Mail otherwise addressed is simply listed under the name of addressee in typewritten alphabetical lists, which are posted in case around the lobby of the city post office, and addressees have to provide identity to obtain such letters and packages.

INSIDE INFORMATION.

A safe reducing diet is one in which all the essential food materials are supplied, but in which the fat-building foods, starches, sugars, and fats, are eaten sparingly. Fads about reducing diets are likely to cause serious troubles.

Tomatoes, fresh, raw or canned, are a good source of vitamins A, B, and C. This is the reason tomato juice is often recommended for young children and even babies. Try them raw, stewed, baked, fried, broiled or scalloped, or in sauces, soups or stews.

To determine which is the right and left sleeve after cutting out the material, fold the sleeve through the center lengthwise with the sleeve seam edges together. If one side of the sleeve is only slightly higher than the other and the top curve of the front and back lie in the same direction, the high side is the back. At the lower end, too, the back will extend beyond the front.

Complicated fastenings around his waist are an aggravation to a small boy who is learning to put on and take off his own clothes. In selecting patterns or in choosing ready-made garments, look for those that are easy to button up, if possible, without having the front of the trousers overlap the back or vice-versa, (a good way is for them just to meet at the side), with short, loose straight legs, and on the blouse, flat stimulated collars rather than flapping ones that get in the way. Many other new points about boys' suits are described in a new leaflet, Number 52, which may be obtained free from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES.

CLARKE SCHOOL NOTES.

Harry Brock received 100 per cent in spelling every day last month and received a half day vacation as a reward.

The sixth grade have begun the study of grammar. Up to this time we have been having composition and poem study.

The fifth grade have drawn some fine maps of Alaska and are now reviewing the study of the United States and its dependencies.

The fourth grade cut poinsettias and flower pots from colored construction paper, which makes very pretty window decorations.

We have some fine artists among our little people as shown by some fine pictures of Christmas trees loaded with presents which we have posted on our bulletin board.

Those who were neither absent nor tardy for the third month of school were: Edna Boss, Lawrence Boss, Harry Brock, Lizzie Brock, Geneva Potter, Everett Warner and Irene Warner.

Those who received perfect or almost perfect marks in spelling this week were: Lizzie Brock, Cora Matchett, Lucy Brock, Lawrence Boss, Bessie Potter, Harry Brock and Jane Parsons.

We are busy making preparations for our Christmas program which is to be given Thursday evening, December 19, at 8 o'clock fast time. Everyone is invited to come. An announcement of our complete program will be given later in the Courier. Watch for it.

In Art class last Friday, we each made posters of the "Three Wise Men" and the "Star," with a view of the city of Bethlehem in the distance, which add very much to the Christmasy aspect of our school room. We are planning to make Santa Claus posters in Art class this week.

See our Men's Winter Wear in Heavy Blazers, Mackinaws, Sheep-lined Coats, Pants and Underwear. Benjamin Brown.—Adv. 491f.

MARION SCHOOL NOTES.

Mr. Palmer visited school on Monday of last week. Come again.

Mr. Dutcher returned Sunday from Escanaba and other northern Michigan points.

The eighth grade are testing samples of milk with a Babcock tester loaned to us by Mr. Straw.

We are sorry to have Frank and Stanley Kulpa leave our school. They have moved to Detroit for the winter.

The sixth grade language class gave several interesting reports on Monday afternoon. The reports were of such a nature as to require a trip to the Charlevoix library during the week end.

The Flying Needles Club met last Thursday after school and after a short program, under the direction of Edie O'Dell and Marjorie Faltling, spent an hour and a half mending hosiery.

Several of our pupils visited other schools during their recent vacation. Marion Cellner, Celia and Ruby Crain report an enjoyable visit to the Loeb school; Bobby Straw and Levi Balch visited the Phelps school. We received six dollars worth of Christmas seals to sell. We are all working hard to help in this good cause. Clare McGhan has sold 34 stamps and Bobby Straw and Marjorie Faltling each have sold 25 toward winning the prize.

UNDINE SCHOOL NOTES.

Happy time—Santa Claus is coming.

Our room is beginning to look as if Christmas is near, by its decorations.

Miss Matchett is reading the book, "Heidi," to us during morning exercise period.

The seventh grade are working discount and commission problems now in arithmetic.

Muriel Stephens is back to school after being absent nine weeks because of illness.

The school board purchased six new steel chairs for us. We appreciate them very much.

Patricia Baxter, Elinor Howe and Esther Klooster were neither absent nor tardy during the past month.

Thursday was the day we drew names. We will receive the gifts next Friday afternoon at our Christmas party.

We made $21.60 at our Thanksgiving entertainment, including quilt. The school board is completing the amount and getting us a victrola.

The language classes are having a contest. If every word is spelled correctly in their written work each day, they receive a star. Those having a star every day for two weeks receive prizes.

We have started corresponding with schools in other states. The second and fourth grades wrote to the same grades of a school in Emmett, Kansas; the seventh grade to a seventh grade at Petersburg, Tennessee, and the eighth grade to eighth grades of a rural school near Cameron, West Virginia.

LOCAL MAN FIRST TO BUY XMAS SEAL

Annual Drive of Tuberculosis Association Now in Progress.

Benjamin Brown, Charlevoix, and Walter Cornell, East Jordan, win the honor of being the first 1929 purchasers of Christmas seals in Charlevoix county, a report on early buyers of the seals in Michigan prepared by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association shows. Remittances for their allotments of the health stamps were received by the association shortly after the opening of the sale.

Pointing out that present industrial and financial conditions necessitate increased emphasis upon public health endeavors, Dr. Guy L. Kiefer, state health commissioner, urges public support of the Christmas seal sale in order that the campaign against tuberculosis may be continued without a letup.

"Periods of economic strain are usually accompanied by a lowering in the general level of health," he states. "Tuberculosis particularly is a disease that thrives in times of stress."

"While an early return to normal in business and industry is anticipated, we must guard against any possible ill effects that may result from present unfavorable conditions. In the Christmas seal sale, opportunity is given to all to join in the organized campaign against tuberculosis, as represented by the work of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated societies. It is to be hoped that the campaign to sell the seals will receive the popular support it merits."

FREAK DOE WITH HORNS IS KILLED

Conservation Officers Allow Hunter to Keep His Prize.

A deer hunter killed a doe, subjected it to the inspection of a conservation officer, took the meat home and ate it—and did it all legally, despite the fact that others have paid fines for doing the same thing.

It had been drilled into this particular deer hunter: "Don't shoot until you see its horns." He was thinking of that while he was roaming the woods of Marquette county.

There was a stir in the bushes. A patch of brown was visible. It moved.

"It has horns—it has horns," the hunter muttered to himself as he aimed his gun and fired. The deer leaped into the air, ran a few feet, and dropped.

But it wasn't a buck, it was a doe with horns. One horn was ten inches long. The other was a stub. The hunter was in a quandry. He killed a doe, which was against the law—but it wasn't a doe it was a buck. He decided to let an officer solve the puzzle for him.

Ernest W. Libby, district conservation officer, ruled that a doe with legal length horns has lost all her maidenly and matronly privileges and if she is mistaken for a buck it was her own fault. The hunter was allowed to keep the deer.

CLUB MEMBERS BRING PRIZES TO MICHIGAN

State Boys and Girls Who Many Honors at Chicago.

Michigan boys and girls won many prizes in the national contests held in Chicago last week at the National Boys and Girls Club Congress.

Ernest Girback, Dean Gordon and Rex Gleason, all from Saline, won seventh place in judging livestock and Dean Gordon was first place winner in judging cattle.

Ingrid Mattson, Iron River, won the national poultry club championship which gave her a $250 scholarship among other prizes. Edith Johnson, Iron River; William Carnes, Muskegon; and Emil Aue, Muskegon, won first place on poultry; and Bruce Sukaniva, Iron River, won a second, and Bruce Anderson, Iron River, a fifth place.

Michigan club members placed fifth on clothing exhibits. The state was second on clothing judging and fourth on canning judging. Individual placings by the team members were: Garnet Sturtevant, Grant, third; Marie Postema, New Era, tenth; Mary Haas, Muskegon, sixth; Louise Reichter, Pittsford, fourth; Louvain Churchill, New Era, third.

Places won by crops judging teams were sixth on small grains, fourth on corn, and second on potatoes. For individual work, Jack Gilbert, Chelsea, won fourth place and Louis Drake, Manelona, sixth.

Edward McVanel, Gaylord, won first place and sweepstakes prize for the best exhibit of potatoes shown. Other place winnings in the potato exhibits were: Russell Skelton, Gaylord, second; Ray Warner, Gaylord, third; Russel Rasmussen, Sheridan, fifth, and Lewis Terry, Greenville, fourth.

TRUST.

Nobody can make progress with deceit in his heart. The way to win people to trust is to trust them. If there's a thing to be said, say it. If there's a job to be done, do it. But whatever you do, bear the other fellow's side and trust him. Show him that you trust him and in no time at all, he'll trust you. Then will follow achievement. It has, Gates Dawes.

YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

We go into the holiday season of the year with the usual injunction, "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early." In spite of this repetition many of us will wait until the closing hours to rush out and fill the family list at depleted counters.

But whether early or late there is one thing we can do—buy our gifts from the home merchant. If there ever was a time when we needed to remain loyal to home institutions that time is right now.

During the years of high "boom" prosperity we have tried to delude ourselves with the mistaken idea that we couldn't get just what we wanted outside the big city stores. We knew that wasn't the truth, but it gave us an excuse to journey to the big town and shop along its mercantile lanes.

And in almost every instance we wished we had remained at home. In the confusion of these big shopping centers we were persuaded to buy a lot of things that looked foolish as soon as they were spread out on the living room table at the old homestead. We knew we had cheated ourselves, as well as the home town merchant who had tried to anticipate our wants by filling his shelves with sensible and practical gifts.

Let's not disappoint his this season. Whatever prosperity there is for us in this community, let us resolve to share it with each other. We cannot hope to progress on any plan that does not include every citizen and business enterprise within its scope. We may not buy as much this year as in previous years, but if we buy it at home the volume of sales will be as large as in some seasons when a large portion of our Christmas trading went to outside concerns.

CHRISTMAS SEALS AND TUBERCULOSIS.

"Enduring advances have been gained in the protection of the public health," declared President Hoover in his Thanksgiving Day proclamation.

It was not by accident that the status of the nation's health was mentioned specifically by the president in his first proclamation on Thanksgiving Day. It is fully cognizant of the importance of advances in medical science and of having these advances made general property. It is an attitude that is helping give President Hoover's administration the reputation of making more material contributions to the nation's welfare than that of any other previous peace time president.

Prevention of tuberculosis is accepted as an integral part of any public health program. Christmas seals, now being sold at a penny each finance the organized campaign against tuberculosis. Buyers of seals are helping a crusade that means not only the outlawing of one of man's greatest disease enemies, but that means as well the saving of thousands of lives and countless sums of money annually.

HE WILL PROFIT.

A few days ago the National Co-operative Milk Producers Federation met and issued a warning. This great group of dairymen believe that there is danger of milk overproduction. In fact the federation recognized the great agitation for expansion of dairying and issued the following warning:

"We respectfully urge all of the agencies that are now advising such unwisely expansion to cease these efforts, and the fact that their motive is of the best will not relieve the dairy farmers of the United States from the harmful consequences of such procedure."

Wherever you go there is painted a rosy picture of the future of dairying. Because there has been no recent overproduction of butterfat it is urged that there never will be. Those who reason in this way may be correct. There are possibilities of a larger use of milk than at present and this larger use will ward off overproduction. It is also urged that most farmers do not wish to milk and if prices decline the cows will be sold to the butcher and production kept at a reasonable figure. It is always comforting to look at any problem in an optimistic way, especially when it concerns the great, stable and prosperity bringing business of making milk and butter.

On the other hand there are many well informed men who believe that a day of overproduction is close at hand. These men appear gravely concerned over the situation. From facts and figures they say that the margin between just enough and too much is very, very small, just about a day's supply. The men who hold these conclusions are very able men, the leading men in agriculture in the United States.

Under such conditions it might be very well to stop and think about the situation.

It is generally considered that dairy prices are high enough. If the prices of butter and milk were any higher, the public would cut down its consumption and the sales would be less. It is thought that lower prices would increase demand and the market take up the surplus as prices decline.

The consensus of opinion among those best informed is that overproduction is a real possibility and that lower prices for butterfat will prevail. What does this mean?

Such conditions does not mean disaster to the efficient dairyman. It has been well demonstrated that one good cow will yield more net profit than ten poor ones. Good animals will produce butterfat at a profit at a price of 35 cents a pound while poor animals will yield no profit at 50 or 60 cents.

There is but one course before the dairy industry. That is to raise the ability of herds to produce. The poor cows should be shipped to the packing house. The good ones should be kept. In only this way can the dairyman make money if the price of butterfat goes down. And if the price does not decline the better herds will bring better profits.

No one can really make a safe prediction. The uncertain elements are much too large. But no matter what comes, the wise dairyman with efficient cows is the man who will stay in business and make money.—Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review.

OUR SHARE OF THE LAND.

Michigan hastens to accept her portion of President Hoover's challenge to a threatened industrial depression, by assuring the chief executive we will take our place with that of other commonwealths in promoting private and public projects most likely to ring in the cash registers of the nation.

Governor Green in a message to the president informs him that the state institutional building and highway programs, set for next year, will be carried forward with every possible expediency.

The governor in turn reassured by the heads of every important city in Michigan that all local enterprises will be given immediate consideration. Private institutions are also ready to join with this public movement in pushing poverty into the discard and sending the wolves of hunger into the wilderness of unpleasant memories.

Cooperation and concentration will work this miracle of modern business rejuvenation. We have learned the bitter lesson of speculation, the value and dignity of labor, the need to so stabilize our industrial situation so that steady employment at good wages will be procurable by our workers throughout the entire year. The future looks much brighter.

STILL HOPEFUL.

Congress began the annual session and once more the country leans back in patient resignation. The special session, called by President Hoover to consider a farm relief measure, adjourned without much in the way of accomplishment.

It was never thought that much would be done. There are too many conflicting interests. The east is strong in the tariff councils. The rest of the country is not united. And when we view the action of some of our lawmakers from this section of the nation we can't expect very much.

It is probably just as well that we do not spend too much of our time worrying about agriculture. In spite of discouraging conditions it is making progress. Intelligent aid at Washington would have helped the outlook. Slowly, but surely farm lands are returning to demand at a reasonable price. And we do not wish anything that is too good, because it does not last.

MURRAY SCHOOL BUILDING BURNS

ATTRACTIVE STRUCTURE NEAR BAY SHORE DESTROYED.

Was One of Modern Buildings of Region—May Use Farm Home for Remainder of Term.

The attractive rural school house in the Murray district, Charlevoix county, a mile and a half west and a half mile south of Bay Shore, was completely destroyed by fire early Saturday morning. Neighbors discovered the blaze at about 4 a. m., but at that time the fire had such headway that nothing could be done. All of the books, supplies, maps, etc., were burned. It is supposed that the building was insured, although this point has not yet been verified from members of the school board.

The district had improved the school each season for several years. A furnace, new chimney, modern indoor comfort rooms for the pupils, and good equipment were the pride of the district. There were about 35 pupils under the efficient instruction of Miss LaVerne McCalmion of Bay Shore.

Pupils and teacher had left the building at the usual hour Friday afternoon, leaving things there in what they consider normal condition. For the week-end. Some belief has been expressed that the building may have been broken into by hoboes, who built up a heavy fire and deserted the place when it caught on fire.

It is thought likely no effort will be made to resume school operations until after the Christmas holidays. There are a couple of vacant farm dwellings nearby which might easily and quickly be opened for use of the school. Another plan suggested in the neighborhood is to bring the pupils to Bay Shore and use the vacant room of the Bay Shore's two-room school building.

It will require some time to get in a new supply of books, maps and other things needed for the school operation.

WILL FIGHT AUTO BAN AT MACKINAC ISLAND

Intentional Violation Likely to Bring Court Action.

Whether or not automobiles will continue to be barred from the heretofore inviolate streets of Mackinac Island, will be taken up in court before long, as the result of reported intentional operation of a motor vehicle in that village last week.

Under the rules of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission, automobiles are not permitted to be operated on state property, most of the area of the island belonging to the State of Michigan.

The village has always held to this regulation, with the result that Mackinac Island has been nationally known by the fact that horse drawn carriages and self propelled vehicles were the only methods of land transportation.

There is no more pleasing gift for a woman—no matter if several other people choose the same gift—she can always use additional pairs of hosiery. In our displays you will find every fashion-favored shade. Choose from any of these and your gift is sure to please.

Campbell Boot Shop
Charlevoix, Mich.

Objecting to the validity of the regulation, a car owner is reported to have unloaded his auto from the Mackinac Island ferry and operated the car in open defiance of the rules which held the territory inviolate.

Superintendent Frank S. Kenyon has taken the infraction up with the legal authorities, and a test case will be tried out probably at first in the Mackinac county circuit court at St. Ignace.

President Hendricks and the members of the board are firm in their position that the admission of automobiles to the island would greatly mar the quiet beauty of that historic spot, and propose to exhaust every legal means to maintain the rules that are in force. Owing to the many narrow and winding roads that cover the state property, the commission believes that many accidents would occur if cars were permitted and that their operation would invade the quiet atmosphere which has previously existed.

FORMER RESIDENT TAKEN BY DEATH

Henry Barber Died November 30th in Saginaw—Burial Thursday.

Charles Henry Barber, aged 78 years, passed away at the home of his niece, Mrs. J. W. Ryder, at Saginaw, Saturday, November 30th, following an illness from cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Barber was born in Canada. In 1863 he came to Grand Rapids, Michigan, and five years later in 1868 he came to East Jordan, where he resided for a number of years. He also was a resident of Charlevoix for a number of years. For the past year or so he has made his home in Saginaw. Mr. Barber was united in marriage twice.

Deceased is survived by two brothers, and one sister—George Barber of Birmingham, Mich., Thomas Barber of East Jordan, and Mrs. Fred Pearsall of Wixom. Also two nieces, Mrs. Harlan McGhan of Charlevoix, and Mrs. J. W. Ryder of Saginaw.

The remains were brought to East Jordan on Wednesday of last week and funeral services were held on Thanksgiving morning, conducted by Rev. James Leitch. Interment at Sunset Hill.

M. ROY BRADY GOES TO CENTURY BOAT CO.

Has Taken Position as Foreman in Plant of Manistee Concern.

M. Roy Brady of this city, announced Tuesday that he had accepted a position as general shop foreman of the Century Boat Company at Manistee, and would leave Thursday to assume his new duties.

The Century Boat Company has just recently been re-organized and is now a $100,000 closed corporation with John A. Haecker of Haeckeraft fame, as its head. The company will bring out seven models, ranging from the small outboard racers to a 19-foot outboard-inboard job that will be a miniature Haeckeraft in lines and finish.

Mr. Brady leaves for his new position at once, as work will soon be started on boats for the New York Motor Boat show to be held in January. Mr. Brady expects to have a force of 65 men working by the first of the year and others will be added as space permits.

Mrs. Brady plans to remain in Charlevoix to continue the boat business here through the coming summer at least, handling boats and motors as formerly.

INDIAN YOUTH DIED IN CAR HERE MONDAY

Was Being Taken to Frankfort by Emmet County Officers.

Amos Shanoskey, Harbor Springs Indian youth, died here Tuesday forenoon in a car in which he was being taken from Harbor Springs to the home of a sister in Frankfort by Sheriff Carpenter of Emmet county.

Shanoskey, 16 years of age, had been ill for a considerable length of time. He became much worse Tuesday morning and, noticing his condition, Sheriff Carpenter stopped at the county jail to summon medical aid. The boy died before a doctor could be called. Albert Becken of Harbor Springs, Emmet county poor commissioner, who had charge of the case, was accompanying Sheriff Carpenter.

Coroner F. E. McMillan was called, but no inquest was necessary. The remains were taken to Harbor Springs for burial.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.
Subject: "God the Preserver of Man."

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.
Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"God the only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 8.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith?" (Matt. 8:26).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is natural good, and is represented only by the ideal of goodness; while evil should be regarded as unnatural, because it is opposed to the nature of Spirit, God" (p. 119).

ROBBERS BREAK INTO VANDERBILT DEPOT

The Vanderbilt depot was broken into last Wednesday night, and a typewriter and about $12.00 taken. The robbery was not known until the station agent opened the building in the morning. Through Acting Sheriff Andrews, a reward of $25.00 is offered for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who robbed the place.

PROGRAM FOR KIDDIES AT GYM
NEXT TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

Association to Distribute Food Baskets, Clothing, Etc. for Needy Ones of Community.

A committee to arrange a Christmas program for the kiddies of the Charlevoix community and to attend to the distribution of baskets, clothing, etc., to those in need of assistance was appointed Tuesday by Dr. C. J. Winder, president of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce.

Heading the committee as chairman is Frank F. Bird, county registrar of deed. Other members are Oscar Nelson, Charles Heise and Joseph Howard.

Co-operating jointly, the city council and Association of Commerce have arranged for the usual community Christmas tree at the corner of Bridge and Clinton streets. The association will procure the tree and city employees will set it up and attend to decorations.

Contrary to the practice of previous years, a program for the kiddies and distribution of candy bags will be held at the school gymnasium instead of on Bridge street as formerly. Chairman Bird announces that his committee is arranging a short, appropriate program to be given at the gymnasium at 2:30 next Tuesday afternoon. He says there will be plenty of fun for the children, but was unable, at the present time, to give details of the entertainment. Over a thousand Christmas candy bags are being prepared for distribution.

The committee at this time solicits information regarding those in need of baskets of food. Anyone knowing of such families are asked to call Mr. Bird, telephone 35-M or 151 before Saturday noon. Preparation of baskets will be made Monday and they will be distributed the following day.

Another request is that anyone having clothing, shoes, stockings, rubbers, etc., notify the committee, or, better yet, bring them to the court house. In this respect, Mr. Bird states that his committee will gladly co-operate with any society, civic organization or club to further the work of giving aid to those in need. Suggestions are what they want at the present time.

The committee also announces that Chas. Marshall is going to conduct a toy hospital. Anyone having broken toys are asked to bring them to the court house. They will be repaired and given to some child who has none. Or, for that matter, any gift along this line will be placed where they are needed.

All that is needed to make Christmas a merry one for everyone in Charlevoix is co-operation. The Association of Commerce committee, who have been directed to spend the fund raised during the carnival last week, will appreciate help from any source.

W. C. T. U. ENTERTAIN TEMPERANCE LEGION

The W. C. T. U. gave members of the Loyal Temperance Legion a Christmas party after their meeting Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. William C. Palmer, Mrs. B. L. Harrington and Mrs. James Meggison were the refreshment committee, and Miss Meggison directed the games. A fine time was reported.

Don't finish your Xmas shopping until you have seen the Literary and Sewing Club's sale of Christmas gifts at Benj. Brown's on Saturday.—Adv. 511t.

THE WEEK'S WEATHER

The following temperatures for the week from Wednesday, December 11 to Tuesday, December 17, inclusive, are furnished through the courtesy of the U. S. Coast Guard station:

	High	Low
Wednesday	32	11
Thursday	30	22
Friday	38	30
Saturday	38	32
Sunday	32	11
Monday	30	14
Tuesday	28	18

That green Christmas somebody spoke about is going to be a mighty pale green. Several days of thaw last week failed to remove but a small portion of snow, and now winter is with us again. The mercury hit the akids Tuesday night and Wednesday morning many thermometers registered anywhere from 2 to 5 below zero.

CITY'S AIRPORT NEED IS GIVEN AN "AIRING"

Proposition Discussed at "Slag" Affair Monday Evening.

Dr. C. J. Winder, president of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, entertained a group of committee chairmen and others at a "slag" affair in the diningroom of the Hotel Charlevoix Monday evening.

The gathering was one of a series of meetings Dr. Winder has planned to get business and professional men of the city together to discuss and carry out a program of projects aimed for community and city betterment. Another group meeting will be held tonight (Wednesday).

Monday night's gathering resulted in an enthusiastic discussion of Charlevoix's need for an airport. Local delegates to a recent meeting called at Manistee to further plans for a proposed airline from Chicago, to Petoskey, were told that a city without an airport was absolutely "not in it." Charlevoix is quite aware of this fact. With the view of obtaining a city airport as soon as possible, a committee was appointed Monday night to take necessary steps.

Those who attended the meeting Monday night are still talking about the four-course dinner they were treated to. Other equally important matters as the airport proposition will get action at forthcoming gatherings.

ORGANIZE DISTRICT Y GROUP

REPRESENTATIVES MET IN PETOSKEY LAST TUESDAY.

Walter Gospihl, District Organizer, Was Chosen Active Secretary—Plan Summer Camp.

The Northern District Y. M. C. A. committee met last Tuesday evening at the Hotel Perry in Petoskey to perfect their new organization. The following officers were elected: W. L. Feuhrer, Boyne City, chairman; C. B. Hurd, Gaylord, vice chairman; Carl Wright, Harbor Springs, secretary; B. H. Cook, Petoskey, chairman finance committee.

Walter Gospihl, who has been in the district for the past two months completing the organization, was selected as district secretary, to direct the program of boys work. Mr. Gospihl is a former member of the state Y. M. C. A. staff and has had a long experience in boys activities.

The financial budget for 1930 was discussed and adopted. Most of the necessary funds are already guaranteed by men in the towns participating in the new organizations.

Watson Snyder of Petoskey was appointed chairman of a camp commission to recommend a camping program for next summer. William Childs of Cheboygan, was appointed to serve on the same commission because of his experience in boys work.

Those in attendance were: Ross Bell, William Childs, James Lees, Carl Titus; Petoskey, George H. Rice, Watson Snyder, C. H. Spittler; Charlevoix, Dr. F. H. Wilkinson, M. Otterbein; Central Lake, M. G. Smith, Guy White; Bellaire, L. G. VanLiew; Boyne City, W. L. Feuhrer, S. B. Neymark; Walter Gospihl, new district secretary; Ray Johns, Detroit, State Y. M. C. A.; C. B. Hurd and F. E. Cook of Gaylord, and E. G. Gilling and J. A. Greenwood of Grayling, who were unable to attend because of road conditions, wired their desire to be considered a part of the organization. Other members of the committee are Dr. G. W. Bechtold and Howard Porter of East Jordan, Carl Wright and G. W. Atkinson of Harbor Springs and L. N. Mathewson of Manistee.

CHARITY CARNIVAL A GREAT SUCCESS

FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS RAISED DURING EVENT.

Miss Angie Scott Chosen as Winter Queen and Miss Dorothy Griffin as Lady-in-Waiting.

Last Friday evening saw the successful conclusion of a three-day charity carnival sponsored by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce.

Opening Wednesday evening with a double basketball bill featuring the Charlevoix Polar Bears and high school quintet, the program was carried through to Friday evening's charity masquerade ball without a hitch. Details of the two basketball games will be found elsewhere in these columns. Thursday evening's entertainment opened with a concert by the school band under the direction of John TerWee, leader. Pupils of the first and second grades, under the direction of their teachers, the Misses Phillips, Little and Fitch, followed with two pleasing plays. The boys' and girls' high school glee club, directed by Mrs. McKee, pleased the audience with several numbers which drew hearty applause, as did also the men's high school glee club which followed with two selections. Miss Byrnee Lamphear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lamphear, favored with a dancing number and encore. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. J. Stelter. Following introduction of the candidates for Winter Queen, the balance of the evening's entertainment consisted of boxing matches, a wrestling match and other novel features along that line.

Charlevoix citizens turned out en masse Friday evening for the masquerade ball and ceremonies attendant to crowning the Winter Queen. While there were not so many in costume, the gym floor was crowded with dancers later in the evening. At scheduled time, the committee announced the selection of Miss Angie Scott as Winter Queen and Miss Dorothy Griffin as Lady-in-Waiting. The former, age 17, is a member of the junior class and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Scott; Miss Griffin, age 15 and a sophomore, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Griffin. Dr. C. J. Winder had the honor of crowning the Queen. The audience applauded generously as Miss Scott and her attendant were escorted around the gym floor. Both were dressed in beautiful costumes prepared by a committee composed of Mrs. Robert Bridge, Mrs. Archie Livingston, Mrs. Ralph Price and Mrs. Richard Paddock.

The general spirit of co-operation shown by Charlevoix citizens in the carnival is noteworthy, and the committee in charge wish to thank, through these columns, all those who assisted in any way. George Beeman and Gerald Richardson were the financial committee, and their report reveals a net sum of in the neighborhood of $400 was raised. This money will be put into a charity fund to be expended upon those needing assistance at Christmas time and throughout the winter.

POLAR BEARS WIN THIRD STRAIGHT

DOWN PETOSKEY CENTRAL CIGARS BY 42 TO 8 COUNT.

Play Kalamazoo All-Stars Here Saturday Night—Game Promises to Be Best of Season.

Stacking up their third successive victory of the season, the Charlevoix Polar Bears ran rough-shod over the newly-organized Central Cigars from Petoskey in the opening game of a double bill at the local gymnasium last Wednesday evening.

The Central Cigars looked good in the opening moments of the contest, but that was all. They started with a peppy brand of ball and a four-man defense that stopped the Polar Bears. The first quarter was still young, however, when Charlevoix pulled into the lead and the game ended in a complete rout.

Kipke opened the scoring for the Polar Bears when he dropped through a short one after several minutes of scoreless play. Beaudoin, who carried the burden of the Petoskey offense, evened the count with a long shot from center court. That was the closest Petoskey came to gaining a lead and the contest from then on was two one-sided to be hardly interesting.

The Polar Bears appeared to be in top form Wednesday night. Their offense clicked with clock-like precision at all times, regardless of numerous changes in the line-up. They held the advantage of a 19 to 5 count as the half ended and were leading 31 to 8 at the close of the third quarter. In the final stanza, Petoskey failed to make a marker while the locals hoisted their margin 11 points. The final score was 42 to 8. Petoskey used two full teams during the contest, changing once in each half. One combination seemed as effective as the other.

Scoring honors for the Polar Bears were practically evenly divided. Brown, Cooper, Ikens and Max Novak were probably the most outstanding. Novak counted several from a guard position and showed even to better advantage after being put in at forward. The team as a unit was the best they have appeared so far this season.

The Polar Bears run into some tough opposition and get a real test of their ability when they meet the Kalamazoo All-Stars here Saturday night. The Kalamazoo combination comes on a tour of Northern Michigan cities. They are rated one of the best semi-pro quintets in the southern part of the state and have hung up a good record. This contest should be one of the big games of the season.

Fans will note the change in time for the games. A preliminary contest is scheduled for 8:15 and the main game at 9:00 o'clock. This will give everyone an opportunity to finish their shopping before the games start.

PYTHIAN SISTERS HAD XMAS TREE AND PROGRAM

The Pythian Sisters had a Christmas tree and program at the K. of P. hall Monday evening. There were presents for all and a delightful luncheon was served. Mrs. Ross Alexander and Mrs. Ernest Staley, who were initiated into the lodge that evening, were the honored guests.

FISHERMEN MAKE BIG LIFTS OF WHITEFISH

Several Boats of Local Fleet Now on Grounds at Foxes.

Fishermen operating out of Charlevoix and Beaver Island are making good lifts on the whitefish grounds off Fox Islands.

Capt. John McCann is reported to have brought in 4,300 pounds early this week and Mike Cull a lift of over 3,000 pounds. Several boats from the local fishing fleet are at the Foxes now. Some of the boats left last Friday and are now awaiting favorable weather to return.

CITY PREPARING COM- MUNITY SKATING RINK

Hockey Pen Constructed and Icing of Pond Underway.

The municipal ice skating rink on the school grounds is being prepared again this winter by the city council and school board.

Snow has been removed and work of building up the ice pond started. The hockey pen has been constructed on the north end of the grounds. As in former years, the rink will be well lighted and maintained by the city.

It is likely hockey games between both schools and city teams will be scheduled soon.

ST. JAMES HARBOR NEARLY ICE-BOUND

REGULAR BOAT SERVICE WILL END THIS WEEK.

Heavy Ice Encountered by Boats
Some Distance From Island—
Venus Will Make Trips.

Regular passenger and mail service between Charlevoix and Beaver Island by the Steamer J. B. Sanford will be concluded this week, according to Capt. John Chambers, who announced that he would probably make his last trip today (Wednesday).

St. James harbor has been blocked by an ice field for over a week. Driven in by persistent easterly gales, the ice has become wind-rowed to a great depth and is said to be solid enough in places to hold a team of horses.

Capt. John McCann with the steam tug Venus, broke out through the ice last Friday morning and came on to Charlevoix. The Sanford and gasboat Rambler made a trip over the same morning. Mail, passengers and freight were transferred from the Sanford to the Rambler and the latter craft entered St. James harbor (through the passage broken by the tug Venus). The Sanford did not land.

The Sanford made another trip to the island Monday morning. A landing was made off the ice floe near the lighthouse point and passengers, freight, mail, etc., transferred onto the ice to be hauled ashore. The Sanford ran through better than a mile of blue ice over an inch in thickness to reach the heavier ice field.

Unless a heavy south or southwest wind blows the ice from St. James harbor before it is frozen in solid, navigation out of the port is over for the winter. The Sanford's mail contract ran out on Sunday, December 15th, and after this final trip the boat will lay up for the winter. Capt. John McCann will make trips to and from the island with the tug Venus as long as conditions permit. From then on crossing must be made over the ice to the mainland.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY WITH PARTY MONDAY

Master Bobby Bridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bridge, had as his guests twenty-one members of the kindergarten class at a party given Monday forenoon at the school in honor of his fifth birthday.

The children had a wonderful time playing games, which were followed by refreshments of ice cream and cake. Favors of little glass dolls dressed with blue crepe dresses and capes were given the girls and little red and yellow trucks to the boys. The party was a very delightful one.

Will accept a limited number of appointments for home portraits. Phone 370, Charlevoix. Arnold of Detroit.—Adv. 511t.

HIGH SCHOOL WIN SEASON'S OPENER

DEFEATED ELLSWORTH HIGH HERE WEDNESDAY.

Lost Second Contest by 21 to 5
Count at Traverse City Last Saturday Night.

Opening their 1929-30 basketball season in the local gymnasium last Wednesday night, Coach Ray Kipke's eagles turned in a victory over Ellsworth high school. The game was a one-sided affair, ending with the count 21 to 5. The game was played before a packed house on the opening night's program of a three-day charity carnival sponsored by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce. It was the second Charlevoix victory of the evening, the Polar Bears having previously won their game from the Central Cigars of Petoskey.

Charlevoix's victory could have been more impressive. Ellsworth, with but two veterans in their lineup, put one of the weakest teams in years on the floor. Their basket-shooting was wild, and their offense, centered around Reed, a star of last year's team, was not strong enough to break through Charlevoix's defense.

Coach Kipke has practically the same proposition before him. His starting lineup Wednesday night contained two veterans, Bill Novak and Rex Supernaw. However, in those players he has the making of a strong combination and around them he has built a light, fast and snappy outfit. Their performance exceeded early season expectations and followers of the Red and White look for them to improve as the season advances and they gain more experience.

Charlevoix out-scored Ellsworth in every period. They were out ahead 6 to 1 at the end of the first quarter, 10 to 3 at the half and 11 to 5 at the third intermission. The final stanza was a complete rout. Kipke's men added 10 points while holding Ellsworth scoreless and the final count stood 21 to 5.

Bill Novak was by far the outstanding performer of the game. He accounted for 15 of Charlevoix's 21 points and was the center of the local offense. "Carmel" McCall scored a pair of deuces and Joe Smith and Keldershouse each one. Keldershouse, a new-comer on the squad, played well at guard, as did Ance, who substituted for him. Supernaw was a bulwark of strength on defense.

John Ferenz of Traverse City, refereed the contest.

We take the following article on the Charlevoix-Traverse City game from Monday's issue of the Traverse City Record-Eagle:

"Pretty good team play, with an expected uncertainty at the hoop characterized the 1929-30 debut of Traverse City high school's regional champion basketball team, when Coach Gordon Macdonald's speedsters overwhelmed Charlevoix, 29 to 5, at the central gymnasium Saturday night. The victory was a sweet one, for it evened a last season's setback at the hands of Coach Ray Kipke's quintet; but aside from that, the Black and Gold revealed possibilities of another very successful campaign.

"Wahl found the meshes early for a deuce, and from then on it was a parade of Traverse success. Not until the waning minutes of the third quarter were the Charlevoixians able to break the ice. The tally was Traverse 21, Charlevoix 0, when Little Forward McCall dropped in a free throw for the visitors. In the final period, Captain Novak connected with a pair of doubles, one short and one long, to complete Charlevoix's accomplishments. Novak is a good boy, but about the only experienced player the Kipke squad lists.—By Lew."

FORMER CHARLEVOIX MAN DEAD IN OHIO

William Mills Will Be Remembered by Older Residents.

Word has been received here of the death of William Mills, a former Charlevoix resident, at his home in Aurora, Ohio.

SAGINAW LADY
PAYS TRIBUTE TO KONJOLA

Mother Tells How Master Medicine Freed Both Herself and Daughter From Ailments.

MRS. OTTO SCHRADER.

"I really feel that Konjola saved the lives of myself and my daughter," said Mrs. Otto Schrader, 24th and Wadsworth streets, Saginaw. "I suffered for a number of years with indigestion, liver and kidney trouble, and later neuritis set in. The suffering I endured is beyond words to describe. The pains in my shoulders and neck were terrible. The many medicines I tried only gave temporary relief and I became very discouraged."

"But five bottles of Konjola have made me a well woman. My stomach, kidneys and liver are in excellent condition and there is not a trace of the dreadful neuritis. While I was taking Konjola, my daughter became very sick. Konjola was doing so much for me that I gave it to her and within a very short time she was feeling fine again. This new Konjola will always receive my highest praise."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at P. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Eastport Gleaners had installation of new officers at Eastport Friday. Earl Farrell was elected Chief Gleaner in place of his brother, Will. Mrs. Ida Farrell was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The back interest of $300 has just been received on back payment of Gleaner grounds sold.

Two old residents of Bellaire were taken by death at that place last week. They were Mrs. Mary Frame (Childs) Nichols, aged 98, and James Dewey, about 78, we hear. The Grand Rapids Herald and Central Lake Torch had just recently given a write-up of Mrs. Nichols in their columns.

School Commissioner Palmer of Charlevoix, certainly did a very commendable deed last week by tracing the location of Adam Boyer. Mr. Palmer visited the Boyne City school and the home of Adam there, but failing to find him, came to the Wal-bright farm where Adam's sister lived, then tramped across fields a mile and a half and found him at the Grand View school taught by J. W. Morse. Adam will attend school here the remainder of the year. The commissioner was instrumental last summer in having the Boyer boy operated on for adenoids, and the boy's condition is very much improved. Commissioner Palmer is a live wire and is particular about settling things in the right way even though he has to do much more than is generally required of such an official. We believe that he will some day be found on the State department.

SOON TOO LATE

But ten more shopping days remain before Christmas.

Perhaps you have not finished your Christmas shopping yet, but there still remains time to conclude the final details without being part of a last minute rush that does so much to mar the season for so many people.

Invariably you will make a mental note while you are reading this to attend to it the first thing tomorrow. When tomorrow comes don't forget your resolve—it will pay big dividends all around.

And by all means trade with the home merchant this year—he is entitled to that much loyalty on your part—and the dollar spent at home will do much for this community.

KEEP THINGS DOWN.

We are a very funny people. Even the business men who run big things are not much different than the rest of us.

The stock market broke despite the fact that most of those who were interested in business affairs said that it would remain at a high level. Despite the fact that purchases at inflated values was dangerous, business men continued to buy.

Then came the crash and business men have gone into a huddle to see what can be done about things. The president has called in Henry Ford, Julius Barnes, some railroad men and some banking and industrial leaders.

Since they are talking about things we shall butt in with some advice. The problem is not how industry may be kept going now as much as it is to prevent another period of undue inflation in a few years from now.

If we can keep values at a reasonable level, farms at fair prices, goods at sound levels, stocks at real values, we shall have no real acute problems in the future.

The trouble with the United States is the inflated "prosperity" that we were talking about just a few weeks ago.

EDUCATION THE FOUNDATION STONE.

Altho education is primarily a responsibility of the states and local communities, and rightly so, yet the nation as a whole is vitally concerned in its development everywhere to the highest standards and to complete universality. Self-government can succeed only thru an instructed electorate. Our objective is not simply to overcome illiteracy. The more complex the problems of the nation become, the greater is the need for more and more advanced instruction. Moreover as our numbers increase and as our life expands with science and invention, we must discover more and more leaders for every walk of life. We cannot hope to succeed in directing this increasingly complex civilization unless we can draw all the talent of leadership from the whole people. One civilization after another has been wrecked upon the attempt to secure sufficient leadership from a single group or class. If we would prevent the growth of class distinctions and would constantly refresh our leadership with the ideals of our people, we must draw constantly from the general mass. The full opportunity for every boy and girl to rise thru selective processes of education can alone secure to us this leadership.—Herbert Hoover's Inaugural Address.

MOTORISTS' BEWARE!

With the first touch of cold weather newspaper headlines flare forth with the same old warning story—"MOTORIST FINDS DEATH IN DEADLY MONOXIDE FUMES"—yet despite these terse warnings death in this manner is of almost daily occurrence.

If your car is cold when you go out to start it in the morning—if the radiator is frozen—use any other method to thaw out your machine except by letting the motor-run in an enclosed building.

Monoxide gas attacks the respiratory organs. It usually strikes with a suddenness that prevents the victim from shutting off the motor or escaping into the fresh air. Even the smallest engines can poison the atmosphere in a few minutes so that it is dangerous—ofttimes fatal.

It don't pay to take chances. See that there is plenty of ventilation before starting up your engine. You'll live to enjoy much of the winter scenery if you do.

NO LACK OF LAWS.

Forty-six new laws per day, every day in the year.

That has been the rate at which legislatures of 1929 have been adding to the contents of the statute books.

In addition to the national laws enacted by Congress; 16,921 new state laws have been put thru this year.

Whether America is or is not a lawless nation depends upon the sense in which the word is used; lacking laws, or lacking in respect for law.

Texas legislators submitted 3,500 bills this year, holding four special sessions in addition to the regular session. One bill in ten was passed; 3,150 went to the wastebasket; 350 were enacted.

In New Jersey 379 out of 808 bills were passed; in New York, 713 out of 3,417; in Pennsylvania, 961 out of 2,348.

The lawmakers of California and North Carolina passed the thousand mark, in laws enacted, in each state.

The National Industrial Council, analyzing these laws, rejected or enacted, finds that freak bills were defented more generally than in previous years.

Proposals of new taxes were numerous. Welfare laws were offered in great number.

The more laws the less law. That is to say, when the legislators give themselves up to a revel of particular legislation, sound principles are obscured. When simplicity is sacrificed, effectiveness is lost.

The excess of laws bewilders the public. It opens the way to endless litigation by which lawyers profit, and no one else. It hampers business; manufacturer and traders are harassed and huddled.

Above all, the multiplicity of laws tends powerfully to discourage respect for law as an instrument of government. The Industrial Council definitely urges President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission to use its influence to check the flood.

But the commission can only recommend, it cannot net. Neither the President nor Congress can compel the state lawmakers to limit their output.

Lawmaking reflects the character of the people represented by the lawmakers. When we weary of propaganda and "group action," our statute laws will be simplified and clarified.—Philadelphia Record.

CRIME SOARS—SEEK CURE

Cheap cars, easily acquired liquor by school children, child labor laws, parental indifference, lack of school supervision, insanity, biological defects, general lack of co-operation between enforcement agencies, improper prison supervision and feeble parole and probation control are charged as being contributing factors to Michigan's rapidly soaring crime wave, which has increased 288 per cent within the past year, setting a new high mark in crime increase for the entire country.

These facts were brought out and discussed at an open meeting at Grand Rapids held by the Michigan crime commission, which was attended by judges, prosecutors and parole officers from Western Michigan. Reports of the meeting indicate that no two speakers were in accord as to the best methods of handling this situation, although it is believed that from the mass of information being collected by the commission a satisfactory report, with suggested legislation, will be laid before the next Michigan legislature.

The meeting brought to light a curious anomaly; that of a state having on its statute-books the most severe penalties for crime of any state in the Union, yet with a crime increase that has shocked the nation. That Michigan, as an industrial state, with a large labor turnover which has been without steady employment during the past few months, is being blamed for part of this condition, but there is also the general impression and belief that what is needed is a more intelligent handling of the situation, together with an educational campaign, before we can hope to secure relief from the present situation.

The work of the crime commission will be followed with much interest by every citizen who has the best interest of society at heart. Certainly the present situation is appalling and any way out of the wilderness will be hailed as a great victory.

THE BATTLE IS RENEWED

For the second time President Hoover has spoken his piece to Congress. If he had it to do over again the President would probably never have agreed to call a special session in the advent of his election.

But happily that is all water over the dam—the future beckons. For some reason we have a feeling of confidence that this session will produce something of value to the entire country, and Michigan so equally divided in industry and agriculture will be one of the states to profit most.

A CHRISTMAS SMILE

A Christmas card sent without a Christmas seal is like a word of greeting spoken without a smile. Make certain that all your holiday mail bears the tuberculosis Christmas seal, identified by the double-barred cross. A year around campaign against tuberculosis is carried on under this symbol by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association and branch societies.

Maybe if the Congressmen can't relieve the farmers the farmers will be able to relieve the Congressmen.

The average sweet young thing in Charlevoix knows just exactly how foolish mere man can be.

MRS. A. M. BELLINGER
The Shop Near the Bridge

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Uncle Sam, Baby Authority

In 1914, Uncle Sam, bachelor, first published his ideas on how to take care of a baby. Pleased mothers secured the book in such quantities that it became known as a government "best seller," which was revised from time to time to keep up with advancing medical science. The latest edition of "Infant Care" has been rushed to completion and issued by the Children's Bureau in Washington, so that mothers may have it for Christmas. Months of effort on the part of a distinguished group of baby specialists cooperating with the Bureau, has gone into this 1929 edition.

How to keep the baby well, how to bathe, clothe and feed him, how to train him in good habits, directions for sleep, exercises and sun baths are a few of the pointers discussed in simple, scientific terms that every mother can grasp.

The wide appeal the booklet has is shown by the fact that Congressmen ask for monthly allotments of it to send their constituents. Their demand has created such a drain upon the supply that it has been found necessary to hold the allotments to a minimum, so that individual mothers can have an opportunity to secure copies. Dr. Martha M. Eliot, director of the child hygiene division of the Children's Bureau, with the aid of physicians and an advisory staff, is the editor of the 1928 publication.

Maine's Christmas Tree Industry.

As cheery as Santa's bell bells is the ring of axes in the forests of Maine between the middle of November and the middle of December. Christmas trees—approximately one and a half million of them—are being cut and shipped to the principal cities of distribution. The eve of December 25 will find them properly attired to await Saint Nick's visit.

The fir still holds first place in the Yuletide heart, although spruce and pine are welcome decorations. These trees sell in large cities from fifty cents to several dollars apiece, the price covering items from chopping to sale on the streets.

Canada is likewise a source of Christmas trees, and she sells many balsam firs that have been felled in the Laurentian Mountains. The balsams are grown by Canadian farmers as a crop similar to hay or grain, except that it takes from seven to ten years for the trees to grow large enough to be used.

Country's Press Opposes Tariff Bill.

Sounding out sentiment at home in regard to tariff was doubtless a major diversion of Congressmen during the recess. One of them, Representative Louis Ludlow of Indiana, has been ambitious enough, however, to include the whole country in his investigation of public reaction to the pending Smoot-Hawley bill. The results of a questionnaire sent to all daily papers show that the press of the United States is overwhelmingly opposed to the pending revision of duties. Mr. Ludlow has announced. Some of the more salient details are:

With every state represented, 358 editors opposed the measure, while only seventy-four indicated their support.

Of the forty-eight states, replies received indicated a majority in forty-four hostile to the pending bill.

Failure to hold the bill to the formula outlined by President Hoover in calling the extra session was the general basis for opposition.

Sentiment for and against a "flexible" provision was evenly divided.

The only states in which a majority of the editors favor the pending bill were Colorado, Utah, Montana and Louisiana—all known as "sugar states"—and interested in getting the maximum share of tariff favors that Congress can be persuaded to give them.

Swimming Caterpillars!

Great is science; we read in the papers that the latest scientific achievement is caterpillars that swim. This is not as alarming as it sounds, however, to those of us who have quite enough distaste of finding caterpillars walking. The many-footed swimmers, in this case, are a new style boat; a scientifically-bred hybrid of caterpillar tractor and flatboat. They do not sound at all graceful or artistic, as elements of the riverscape, but their inventors assure us that they are destined to be marvelous freight-carriers across shallow lakes and rivers.

Hoover Engineers the State Department.

The change in status of the State Department from that of a useful organization through which to pay off political debts to that of the most important branch of government service is one of the astonishingly sudden developments of recent years. Time was—not so long ago—when its larger positions, including diplomatic posts, went as spoils to the victors in every political campaign, and holders

Service—Ask Norway!

The new developments in service and insurance have been, so we are led to believe, one of the strongest points of United States commercial practice, but here we find Norway getting so far ahead of us we can hardly discern her smoke! The following is an advertisement from an Oslo paper, according to the American Trade Commissioner in that city.

"Our rubber footwear goods are the best in existence and the safest because they do not get slippery with usage. As a guaranty of good quality we promise during 1929 to pay to anyone suffering an accident while wearing our footwear the following amounts of insurance:

"Break of right or left leg or right arm, 250 crowns (approximately $67.50); break of left arm, 150 crowns ($40.50); accident with loss of life, 1,000 crowns ($270).

"This guaranty accompanies every pair of our rubbers, snowshoes, gym shoes, tennis shoes, sailing shoes, and walking shoes."

American Opinion Abroad.

The Havana Post, American daily in Cuba, in an out-spoken editorial, gets off its chest some of its feeling as to its home congress. "Tariff making has made congress a trough in which contesting greed squeals and jostle in their efforts to monopolize the swill. It has made congressmen porch-climbers, their chief business to seize other congressmen's constituents' wealth, and transfer it to their own."

"The proceeding is destructive of politics and business morals. It makes government a grab bag. It has mired congress in a moral swamp, developed a class of men and industries which claim a divine right to ride on other men's and other industries' backs. It has spread upon the country a moral economic blight which can no longer be tolerated."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.
Subject: "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"
Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.
Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"God the Preserver of Man," was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 15.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "I create the fruit of the lips; Peace, peace to him that is far off, and to him that is near, saith the Lord; and I will heal him" (Isa. 57:19).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine Mind, which forms the bud and blossom, will care for the human body, even as it clothes the lily; but let no mortal interfere with God's government by thrusting in the laws of erring, human concepts" (p. 62).

RESORT PROFIT SETS A RECORD

TO OPEN TOURIST OFFICES IN LARGER CITIES.

Many Small Towns Could Not Exist
Without Resort Business It Was Shown by Statistics.

Additional plans for an all-Michigan program to advertise the advantages of Michigan as a recreational center throughout adjacent states in conjunction with the State Conservation Department were made in Lansing Thursday by the secretaries of four tourist and resort organizations at an adjourned meeting following the preliminary meeting at Bay City Nov. 1. Reports from all sections of the state, where a thorough survey of the 1929 resort business is being made, indicate that the volume of trade accruing to hotels, summer resorts, garages, retail mercantile establishments and farmers is far above any previous year and probably is greater than was estimated at the close of the season.

A definite part of the program for 1930 provides for an all-Michigan booklet, depicting the beauties of the state by word and picture, while the tentative part of the plans contemplate billboard advertising displays at two or more of the outdoor snows and the establishment of tourist offices in several of the larger cities in adjoining states.

Profits Are Cited.

A survey now in progress in one of the counties of the northwest part of the lower peninsula, under the direction of Hugh J. Gray, secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist Association, discloses that with the timber and lumber industry come many concerns which would be unable to continue in business were it not for trade received from resorters.

A general store in a town of 500 population, obtained 35 per cent of its trade from resort sources, with an average monthly business of $1,000 during the winter months and $3,500 during the summer months. One gasoline station did only $627 business during the first four months of the year, but did $6,245 from May to September. One lumber firm in the same county derives 65 percent of its business from people who are building summer cottages. Many farmers are subsisting almost entirely on returns received from garden products—poultry, milk and butter—during the summer months. The Sault Ste. Marie Chamber of Commerce has just completed a survey which shows that the city derived $702,000 from the tourist business during the year, as compared with $450,000 in 1928. The superintendent of the Western Union office at Marquette reported that 30 per cent of the telegraph business during June, July and August was attributable to resorters.

Detroit Is Pleased.

While no specialized survey has been made in the eastern part of the state, it was declared by Thomas F. Marston, secretary-manager of the Eastern Michigan Tourist Association, that all classes of business enjoyed the best season since any effort has been made to obtain resort business.

J. Lee Barrett and Ward Marsh, representing Detroit and Southeastern Michigan, respectively, both reported that their associations were well pleased with the season's results and were ready to enter into a more extended program for the coming year. Similar conditions also were reported by George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES.

CLARKE SCHOOL NOTES.
The primary people enjoyed making Santa Claus dolls last Thursday, while the rest of us colored and cut our pictures of Santa for room decorations.

Those who had perfect spelling lessons this week and who had a half hour off were: Lizzie Brock, Everett Warner, Lawrence Boss, Lucy Brock, David Matchett and Jasper Warner.

We have received some new library books. Some of the best are: Pioneer Days, Uncle Wiggley Stories, 12 volumes of Little People, Michigan's Thirty Seven Million Acres of Diamonds, and The Road to Citizenship by Dearborn. Miss Chew is reading the book on citizenship to us for morning exercises and we find the discussions very helpful and interesting. Last Thursday morning we talked about things we should remember to do without our mothers having to tell us.

Our Christmas program will be this Thursday evening, December 19, at 8:00 o'clock fast time. The following is the program to be given:

Song, "Tis Christmas," School.

A Welcome Exercise, Hazel Matchett and Edna Boss.

Recitation, "Awful Luck—A Christmas Wail," Harley Warner.

Recitation, "A Wish," Theodore Heeres.

Song, "Three Little Kittens," Hazel Matchett, Edna Boss and Geneva Potter.

Recitation, "Kitty's Christmas," Geneva Potter.

Recitation, "Baby Jesus," Irene Warner.

Solo, "The First Noel," Bessie Potter.

Play, "Farmer Brown's Christmas," David, Bernard, Sandy, Cora and Lorin Matchett, Wilma Heeres, Lawrence Boss, Bessie Potter, Jasper Warner, Allan Potter and Lizzie Brock.

Recitation, "Bobby's Surprise," Harry Brock.

Song, "Deck the Halls," Lizzie Brock and Cora and Lorin Matchett.

Recitation, "Christmas Trials," Lucy Brock.

Duet, "Holy Night, Silent Night," Wilma Heeres and Jane Parsons.

Recitation, "Overheard at Christmas," Everett Warner.

Play, "A Christmas Episode," Lawrence Boss, Wilma Heeres, Jane Parsons, Everett Warner, Bessie Potter.

Monologue, "Learning a Piece," David Matchett.

Song, "Santa's Coming," 2nd, 3rd and 4th grades.

Exercise, "Christ Came to Bethlehem," Beginners, 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades.

Song, "The Christmas Story," 5th, 6th and 7th grades.

Everybody welcome. Come, Santa will be there.

Fine Cast With Colleen Moore in "Why Be Good."

Fairly convinced that the strength of a supporting cast shares equally with the ability of the star and the quality of the story in making a screen production, Producer John McCormick secured a group of exceptionally talented players to appear with Colleen Moore in "Why Be Good," which opens Saturday at the Palace Theatre.

Xmas Music Heard in "Young Nowheres."

One of the loveliest things to be heard in "Young Nowheres," the First National and Vitaphone production, starring Richard Barthelmess which comes to the Palace Theatre Christmas night, is a Christmas carol sung by an unseen church choir.

SOUTH ARM TOWNSHIP RESIDENT DIED HERE

Succumbed at Charlevoix Hospital on Friday, December 6th.

Albert Joseph Etcher of South Arm township, passed away at the Charlevoix Hospital, Friday, December 6, 1929. He was taken to the hospital about three weeks ago for treatment for bladder trouble.

Mr. Etcher was born at Port Hope, Ontario, October 1, 1856, his parents being Mr. and Mrs. Barney Etcher. He came with his parents to East Jordan some 35 or 40 years ago. His first wife died some 30 years ago and 26 years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Nora Jackson at East Jordan.

Mr. Etcher was for many years a drayman in this city, later on taking up farming. He is survived by the wife and the following sons and daughters: Albert Etcher of East Jordan; Mrs. Katherine Brooks of Charlevoix; Mrs. Idah Gibbs of Waterbury, Conn.; Mrs. Ha Hackett of Victoria, B. C. Also by one brother, George Etcher of East Jordan; and two sisters, Mrs. W. S. Carr of East Jordan and Mrs. Lou Kelloway of Rochester, N. Y.

The remains were brought to East Jordan and funeral services were held from the M. E. church Tuesday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. James Leitch. Interment at Sunset Hill—Charlevoix County Herald.

PIONEER RESIDENT DIED HERE FRIDAY

Mrs. Annie Partridge Succumbs Following Paralytic Stroke.

Charlevoix lost another of its pioneer residents in the death of Mrs. Annie Partridge, who died at the home of her son, Henry Partridge, of Petoskey avenue last Friday.

While visiting a niece in Grand Rapids, Mrs. Partridge was stricken with a stroke of paralysis. She was taken to a hospital there and later brought to Charlevoix. Prior to the illness resulting in her death, she had been in good health, and her passing was a shock to relatives and her many friends.

Annie Winter was born March 29, 1856, at Mosbach, Germany, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Winter. She came with her parents to Montague, Mich., at the age of four years. She was married at Montague to Capt. J. P. Partridge and the couple came to Charlevoix some forty years ago. Mr. Partridge, a well known lake captain and tug owner, died in 1918.

Surviving besides her son, Henry, of this city, are two sisters, Mrs. Emma Malloy and Mrs. Annie Reinford of Chicago; also a niece, Mrs. Leonard VanderMade of Grand Rapids.

Funeral services were held Sunday at the old home in Montague, and burial was also at that place.

TIME TO BUY YOUR AUTO LICENSE NOW

Delay Saves Nothing and May Prove Costly After January 1.

Sales of 1930 automobile license plates were started this year on December 1st in order to give the public ample time to make their purchases without crowding in all together on the first of the year—a practice which makes for confusion, mistakes and delay.

It is also doubtful if peace officers throughout the state will be very lenient with those who have failed to procure their plates by January 1st, in view of the unusually long period they will have had to secure them.

Do your Christmas shopping early and get your plates early as well, if you expect to drive your car for the balance of the winter. A local branch of the State Department has been established for the convenience of the public, with offices in the city band stand and information bureau on Bridge street, office hours 8 to 12 and 1 to 5 except Sundays and holidays.

Notice to Taxpayers.
I will be at the Charlevoix State Savings Bank on Saturday, December 21, Saturday, December 28 and the first two Saturdays in January to collect taxes for Marion township.

CHRISTMAS WAS HAPPY ONE HERE

REAL SPIRIT OF DAY FOUND IN EVERY QUARTER.

Each Organization Made Appropriate
Observances—Charity Extended
to Community's Needy.

In Charlevoix homes, churches, fraternal organizations and throughout the entire city, in fact, the birth of the Christ Child was observed appropriately and reverently. To those homes where fortune had not smiled so lavishly, the real Christmas spirit prompted the sending of gifts and aid from those who had fared better.

Many homes were gladdened by the home-coming of children, relative or friend. Carolers sang Christmas eve to the sick and shut-ins. From the pulpits of the city's various churches, the meaning of this most sacred of holidays was again expounded and thanks offered.

Christmas was a merry one for the kiddies. At the schools, lodges and churches, entertainment was provided for them—appropriate programs—that they might know the fullest meaning and enjoy to the utmost the holiday spirit.

At the Methodist church, the annual Christmas tree was had Tuesday night with a program by the primary department. Sunday evening a colorful pageant was enjoyed. Congregationalists gave a beautiful pageant at the church Christmas eve. The Baptist Christmas program was given Monday evening and that of the Church of God Tuesday evening. The Eastern Star lodge sponsored a Christmas program for children Saturday afternoon.

Children packed the school gymnasium Tuesday afternoon for the short program given by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce. Rev. B. C. Mattson acted as toastmaster and others joined to make the hour a happy one for the kiddies. Several hundred candy bags were given out and a large quantity left was turned over to other organizations for distribution. Baskets of food were given to many families in this city and adjacent communities, together with toys, clothing, etc. F. F. Bird, Charles Heise, Oscar Nelson and Joseph Howard, were the committee in charge, and they wish to express their thanks for the co-operation given them.

BEAUTIFUL PAGEANT GIVEN XMAS EVENING

Featured Yuletide Observances at the Congregational Church.

Christmas was observed at the Congregational church on Sunday morning with an inspiring service of worship and praise.

The two choirs sang several appropriate musical numbers under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Stelter, after which Dr. Mattson preached from the text, "Where is He That is Born King of the Jews? For We Have Seen His Star in the East—and are Come to Worship Him."

The following are the characters in the pageant of "The Night of the Star," given by the Sunday school on Christmas eve:

Mary, Mrs. Clair Webster.
Joseph, George Bergman.
Shepherds, Herbert Campbell, Edwin McCann, Junior Supernaw.
Wise men, David Livingston, Dudley Mattson, Frank Ross.
Angels, Dorothy Struthers, Thelma Swanson, Marie Novak, Jean Graves, Rosemary Swanson, Esther Fochman, Marjorie Webster.

Cathedral, Candelbearers, Faide Ogden, Helen Mary Campbell, Arlyne Supernaw, Clara Kelderhouse, Lohr Fessenden, Gwendolen Miller, Hilda Ogden, Jenn Stelter. Mary Helen Fochman, Jessie Allison, Virginia Nickerson, Jane Stelter, Doris Solomon.

PRESIDENT WINDER EXPRESSES THANKS OF COMMERCE BODY

"To the committees, the public, in fact everyone who lent their aid in making the charity carnival sponsored by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce such an outstanding success, I wish to express my thanks.

"Never has there been an undertaking to which the public has lent such whole-hearted cooperation. With the funds so raised, Christmas has been made a cheery one for many who might have otherwise been in want. It was a noble cause and fittingly observed."

POLAR BEARS ADD ANOTHER VICTORY

DOWN KALAMAZOO ALL-STARS
BY CONVINCING MARGIN.

Team Play of Local Cagers Too Good
For Celery City Outfit—Ikeos and Davenport Starred.

Playing before a gymnasium packed with enthusiastic fans, the Charlevoix Polar Bears hung up their fourth consecutive victory Saturday night in one of the most exciting games witnessed here for "many a moon." With possible defeat facing them at the close of the second period, the Polar Bears stepped out to win from the highly-touted Kalamazoo All-Stars by the decisive score of 32 to 20.

The opening quarter was a nip-and-tuck affair, featured by strong defensive play of both teams. Neither five found the ring for several minutes, but when one side did, the other stepped right out to even the count. The period ended with the score knotted at 6-6. Charlevoix's team play was far better than that of the Celery City lads, but their many tries at the hoop just wouldn't go through. Kalamazoo, however, barely misses an opportunity to score, making all their shots from outside the foul line.

The second frame was by far the most exciting of the contest. The Polar Bears assumed the lead after the play started and held on until the close of the period, when Kalamazoo forged ahead. The visitors were leading 14 to 11 as the half ended. Brown, Charlevoix's lanky center, was hobbling about the court with a sore foot. He was unable to play his usual strong game beneath the basket, and this fact was slowing Charlevoix's offense considerably.

The last two periods was a different story. Manager Todd put Max Novak into the line-up and his presence and strong play soon had the Polar Bears going at top speed. Max opened the period by running in two ringers. Ikens and Davenport, who had been missing frequently in the first two periods, found their bearings and from then on it was the Polar Bear's game. Charlevoix was out in front 28 to 17 at the close of the third period and were never again headed.

With 13 points to his credit, Ikens led the Polar Bears in scoring. Davenport was close behind with 10 and Max Novak accounted for the other nine. Hugh Mayne refereed the contest.

CITY SKATING RINK IS A POPULAR PLACE

Large Crowds Enjoying Sport There
Afternoon and Evening.

Charlevoix's municipal skating rink, located on the school grounds, is enjoying its usual popularity among both the older and younger elements of our city.

Ice on the pond has been worked up into good condition and each afternoon and evening sees large crowds enjoying the sport. Electric lights were strung across the rink Monday for night skating.

LICENSE NEEDED TO SELL PERCH

NEW RULING BRINGS THEM UN-DER COMMERCIAL LAWS.

Fee is $1 Up to January 1; $10 After
That Date—Perch for Sale Must Be Nine Inches Long.

With Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix frozen over and the ice fishing season at hand, it is quite timely to enlighten local anglers regarding some of the regulations governing this department of sport.

Probably the most outstanding change, and one concerning which we have had many inquiries within the past week, is a ruling making it necessary to procure a commercial fishing license to sell perch, yellow pickerel, grass pike, mackinaw trout and whitefish, or, in fact, any fish coming under the commercial classification. The law is very specific and reads as follows:

"That perch, yellow pickerel, grass pike and other commercial fish, taken with a hook and line or spears, shall not be sold except by persons holding a commercial fishing license as provided in section twenty-four of this act."

The cost of such license, from now until January 1, is $1. After January 1, the license fee comes under a new law which goes into effect at that time, and costs $10. It entitles a person to sell fish commercially until April 1, 1930, the end of the commercial fishing year, and then another license must be procured. Applications will be furnished by Deputy Game-Warden Henry Fike. They must be filled out and sent to the Conservation Department at Lansing. There is still time to get under the wire and buy a license for $1, but after January 1, it will cost $10.

If taken for sale, perch must be nine inches in length and lake trout must weigh 1 1/4th pounds dressed. If not for sale, the size limit of perch is seven inches and no limit to size of catfish except in Lake Charlevoix, where the same regulations governing inland waters are in effect.

This new ruling is not exactly to the liking of local anglers. Many provide fish for their own tables during the winter, and, in addition, make considerable money on the side.

It hardly seems fair to class the hook and line fisherman with the big commercial operators. They take more in one haul than the little fellow would all winter, but still each pays the same figure for their license. The only consolation is that there are many poor laws and all we can do is "take them and like it."

Those who enjoy spearing may go to work as soon as the ice is solid enough to get their shanty onto it. The season lasts until the ice breaks up. Five lines may be used if they are under immediate control, but it is unlawful to use a set-line.

Good catches of trout are being made off Hemingway Point near Iron-ton and at other points further up the Arm. Some early bird put a shanty on Round Lake Monday morning, so it appears the ice fishing season is on.

The lucky number on the Alladin lamp drawing is 3297. If the party holding this number does not call by next Saturday at 7 p. m., the lamp will go to the next number drawn, which is 3024. Wood Bros.—Adv. 5211.

FISHING SEASON IS CLOSED HERE

WHITEFISH FLEET RETURNED
FROM FOXES FRIDAY.

Coast Guards Bring in One Boat
With Broken Motor—Beaver Islanders Get Xmas Mail.

The commercial fishing season out of this port practically came to a close last week. With but one or two exceptions, all local fishermen have taken their nets from the lake and are laying their boats up for the winter.

Five boats of the Charlevoix fleet returned late Friday evening from the whitefish grounds off Fox Islands. The late season trip failed to meet expectations and lifts of fish made were extremely light. Prevailing easterly winds kept the boats in the lee of the island throughout their stay there, giving them little opportunity to either lift or set. Most of the boats had run short of fuel before their return to Charlevoix.

Joe Bissell and Ernest Smith were not so fortunate on their return trip. They pulled out Friday morning for the Foxes to lift a gang of nets already in the lake. Smith became ill, forcing them to return before they had finished lifting. While still a short distance out from South Point they stripped a gear in their engine and had to be towed to port by coast guards. The rescue trip was made after midnight Friday in the face of a strong northwest gale. The boat had been driven into drift ice near the point, but was not badly damaged.

Contrary to early expectations, Beaver Islanders have received their Christmas mail. Captain John McCann made a successful trip to the island and return on Saturday. He piloted his boat through ice to within one and one-half miles of Sucker Point. Passengers, mail and freight were transferred onto the ice and taken the remaining distance to shore. Still another trip was made on Tuesday of this week. Latest reports from the Beavers state that there is ice off St. James harbor as far as the eye can reach.

With St. James harbor ice-locked, several Beaver Island boats are preparing to lay up here for the winter. The tug Evelyn, owned by Jim Martin, Mike Cull's gasboat and several others are still awaiting an opportunity to return. A strong south or southwest blow is needed to clear St. James harbor. However, the ice is quite heavy and it is unlikely it will break away now before spring.

NEED NO PERMITS FOR SHIPPING FUR

Law Applies to Dealers and Not In-

Trappers are not required to have a special permit to ship furs out of the state, according to the law enforcement division of the Department of Conservation.

The only 1929 law requiring permits to ship furs out of the state applies only to dealers and is not applicable to individual trappers, it was stated. Trappers, dealers and shipping agencies have been confused according to the numerous letters received by the division.

BOYNE CITY AMUSE- MENT PLACE OPENED

Wolverine Steamship Co. Operate
Unique Skating Rink, Dance Hall

Charlevoix county's newest amusement place is now open to the public and is enjoying a liberal patronage.

Over at Boyne City the Wolverine Amusement Company have converted their large "Keuka" into a roller rink and dance hall. The place is unique, inasmuch as it is the only amusement place of its kind on the Great Lakes. The boat is docked at the foot of Water street.

At present, roller skating is on every evening except Sunday. The boat is equipped with tables and seating capacity for one hundred and fifty people. It is steam heated and electrically lighted. Floor space is one hundred by thirty feet, with one of the finest floors ever put in a place of this kind. The boat is equipped with a private room for ladies and a smoking room for men.

A New Years Eve party will be given on the boat next week and the management expect to outfit anything of this kind ever held in Charlevoix county. Their advertising will appear in each issue of this paper.

KIPKE'S CAGERS TRIM PELLSTON

BURIED UP-STATERS FRIDAY
NIGHT 32 TO 17.

"Bill" Novak and "Cornie" McCall
Star for Local Quintet—Next
Games Away from Home.

Coach Ray Kipke's Red and White basketball team added another scalp to their belt Friday evening in their second away-from-home game by defeating Pellston's cagers 32 to 17. In spite of the fact that Pellston's defeat was their fourth of the season, having lost to Alba, Cheboygan and Petoskey by close margins, Charlevoix's victory was well-earned.

It was anybody's game until the close of the third period. The two teams fought on almost even terms during the first and second quarters. Led by the brilliant playing of "Bill" Novak, local center, Charlevoix managed to keep a jump ahead of their opponent in the first half. They were leading 13 to 10 at the whistle. Aided by excellent support from his team-mates, Novak scored 11 points during the first two periods.

Kipke's cagers pulled away in the third stanza and were soon too far in front to be headed. Novak, main cog in the local offense, went out on four personal fouls, but even his absence from the line-up failed to halt Charlevoix's progress towards victory. "Cornie" McCall took up the scoring duties where Novak left off and during the third and fourth periods accounted for 10 points. Ace, who went in at guard, scored two ringers, and Supernaw accounted for another.

Novak led with scoring honors for Charlevoix with 14 points. McCall scored 12, Ace 4 and Supernaw 2. Anderson, Pellston left forward, led his team-mates with nine. Flood, center, made 4, Robinson and Stevenson each 2.

Coach Kipke takes his team away from home for their next three games. They go to Boyne City for the next encounter January 10th, January 18th they tackle Harbor Springs and January 22nd go to Gaylord. The first home game is with Traverse City on January 25th.

FARMERS ARE IMPORTANT ASSET

COMMUNITY BOOSTING COMMIT-TEE REALIZE THEIR VALUE

Local Business Interests Voice Appreciation and Pledge Their Unqualified Support.

Recognition of the farmer's value to this community is given by the local business interests in their fourth town-boosting advertisement which appears on another page of this issue.

Too often, the farmer is not given credit for the good work he is doing. But thinking people realize that the farmer's existence and work are of vital importance to the progress of this community.

If it came to necessity, we could all do without the manufactured comforts and luxuries of life, but we'd find it hard to get along without the food which is practically all produced originally by the farmer.

It is up to the business people and the citizens of Charlevoix, then, to encourage and support our farmers in every possible manner.

The farmers of the community, in turn, will find it to their advantage to concentrate their social and commercial activities here in Charlevoix.

The business and professional men of the town are united in their efforts to make Charlevoix the most progressive town of its size in the country. And the citizen patriots are lending their co-operation toward the accomplishment of our civic ambitions.

Charlevoix is a convenient market for the farmer. Right here, he can get the best prices for his products. There is a decided advantage in his dealing with people—neighbors, in fact—who know him and whose confidence he enjoys.

Our stores carry wide and varied stocks of merchandise to supply his farm needs and the personal needs of his family.

And, by spending the money right here in Charlevoix, the farmer and those near to him get the direct advantages that he helps to make possible by patronizing local firms and professional men.

The modern farmer is every conscious of the need of education and he makes certain that his children receive good schooling. Fortunately, here in Charlevoix, we have exceptionally good schools and offer the farmer's children the very best in educational facilities.

The more that the town people and farmers can work together, the more both will benefit. Let's all work in unison toward a bigger and better town that everybody in and around Charlevoix may enjoy happiness and more prosperous lives.

Watch for the next community-boosting advertisement to appear in the Courier during the month of January.

MUST REPORT PELTS AT CLOSE OF SEASON

Trappers Have 5 Days to File Same
With Conservation Department.

Pelt reports from trappers through the state are now being received by the Department of Conservation and will continue to be received until all open seasons for fur-bearing animals are closed.

All trappers are compelled, under a statute adopted by the 1929 legislature, to submit a report of pelts on hand, within five days of the close of the respective seasons.

Blank forms for submitting these reports may be obtained from any conservation officer. The forms provide space for listing pelts of bear, deer, muskrat and raccoon. In reports trappers must give their license number.

THREE AILMENTS BANISHED BY NEW KONJOLA

"Through Deeds, Not Words, Has Konjola Won Me for a Life-long Friend,"
He Says.

MR. DELBERT RITTENHOUSE

"Through deeds, not words, has Konjola won me for a life-long friend," said Mr. Delbert Rittenhouse, 2029 De Hoop avenue, Grand Rapids. "For a long time I was in intense distress from indigestion, liver and kidney trouble. These three ailments combined to make life miserable. I could not eat a meal without suffering afterward. My sleep was disturbed at all hours of the night by irregular bladder action. I was subject to dizzy spells and headaches."

"Two bottles of Konjola did me more good than all other medicines and treatments I tried put together. Day by day my condition improved. Today, after a brief treatment, all traces of those three ailments are gone. I eat, sleep and feel better than in many years. There is no doubt in my mind but what Konjola is the Master Medicine."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

CREDIT CHARACTER.

Your real character is worth more than gold, keep it good. Credit is the faith man has in his fellow man. It represents integrity, honor, honesty, and is the foundation stone of character. This is the season of the year when men who have been given credit should go to the limit in an endeavor to clean the slate and be prepared to start the coming year with all old bills paid up. If a man cannot pay all his bills, he can pay a part of them. Pay the interest on notes and pay part of the principle if possible. Acts of this kind are far reaching in importance and have much to do with one's standing in the community.

CROSS STRAITS NOW ON THE CAR FERRY

Schedule for Winter is Arranged by Railroad and State Highway.

The Michigan state highway department has announced the schedule for winter crossing of the Straits of Mackinac by automobile. The crossing is made by use of the railroad ferry boat and in normal times there are four trips a day.

The first trip out of Mackinaw City is at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and is sort of fixed time as on that run the northbound passenger train of the D. S. S. & A. railroad is carried. The afternoon and night trips north with freight cargoes are scheduled at 3:00 p. m. and at 2:00 a. m.

The southbound trips are listed for 12 o'clock noon, with freight; 7:30 p. m., with southbound passenger train; 12 o'clock midnight and 5:00 o'clock in the morning with freight.

Freight trips may be cancelled when traffic is light and time is approximate only. There may be more or less trips depending on freight traffic. The distance across the Straits is eight miles and the running time is 50 minutes.

Summer rates will apply for all classes of traffic except trucks and passengers. Trucks will pay freight rates on loads plus dockage rate of $1.00 on trucks and $3.00 per 100 pounds on load. Passenger rate will be 80¢ on all passengers, including drivers.

Purchase tickets at railroad station or freight office.

AT THE MOVIES.

Song Writer Caught in Act of Composing New Melodies.
Add firsts!

For the first time in the history of motion pictures, a song writer has been photographed in the actual throes of creating a melody.

Sam Coslow, formerly a famous figure in New York's tin pan alley, and now a song writer for Paramount's talking pictures, was inveigled to play the piano for the whoopee party sequence of "Fast Company" by Director A. Edward Sutherland.

When Coslow arrived at the set for work, he asked Sutherland what he should play.

"Something jazzy and new—something of your own if you want to," said Sutherland.

The company worked all day on the whoopee scenes, and afterward Sutherland asked, "Say, what was the name of those song? I liked them."

Coslow confessed that he had created both of the numbers during the day's work, and was going to call one, "You Want Lovin' and I Want Love" and the other one, "I Want a Good Time Bad." He added that he had created one of his earlier song successes, "Was It a Dream?" in thirty minutes.

"Fast Company" comes to the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. Jack Oakie, Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, Gwen Lee and Evelyn Brent are the featured players in the production. It is based upon a baseball-romance classic by Ring Lardner, and is an all-talking picture.

CHRISTMAS WAS HAPPY ONE HERE

REAL SPIRIT OF DAY FOUND IN EVERY QUARTER.

Each Organization Made Appropriate
Observances—Charity Extended
to Community's Needy.

In Charlevoix homes, churches, fraternal organizations and throughout the entire city, in fact, the birth of the Christ Child was observed appropriately and reverently. To those homes where fortune had not smiled so lavishly, the real Christmas spirit prompted the sending of gifts and aid from those who had fared better.

Many homes were gladdened by the home-coming of children, relative or friend. Carolers sang Christmas eve to the sick and shut-ins. From the pulpits of the city's various churches, the meaning of this most sacred of holidays was again expounded and thanks offered.

Christmas was a merry one for the kiddies. At the schools, lodges and churches, entertainment was provided for them—appropriate programs—that they might know the fullest meaning and enjoy to the utmost the holiday spirit.

At the Methodist church, the annual Christmas tree was had Tuesday night with a program by the primary department. Sunday evening a colorful pageant was enjoyed. Congregationalists gave a beautiful pageant at the church Christmas eve. The Baptist Christmas program was given Monday evening and that of the Church of God Tuesday evening. The Eastern Star lodge sponsored a Christmas program for children Saturday afternoon.

Children packed the school gymnasium Tuesday afternoon for the short program given by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce. Rev. B. G. Mattson acted as toastmaster and others joined to make the hour a happy one for the kiddies. Several hundred candy bars were given out and a large quantity left was turned over to other organizations for distribution. Baskets of food were given to many families in this city and adjacent communities, together with toys, clothing, etc. F. F. Bird, Charles Heise, Oscar Nelson and Joseph Howard, were the committee in charge, and they wish to express their thanks for the co-operation given them.

Christmas was observed at the Congregational church on Sunday morning with an inspiring service of worship and praise.

The two choirs sang several appropriate musical numbers under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Stelter, after which Dr. Mattson preached from the text, "Where is He That is Born King of the Jews? For We Have Seen His Star in the East—and are Come to Worship Him."

The following are the characters in the pageant of "The Night of the Star," given by the Sunday school on Christmas eve:

Mary, Mrs. Clair Webster.
Joseph, George Bergman.
Shepherds, Herbert Campbell, Edwin McCann, Junior Supernaw.
Wise men, David Livingston, Dudley Mattson, Frank Ross.

PRESIDENT WINDER EXPRESSES THANKS OF COMMERCE BODY

"To the committees, the public, in fact, everyone who lent their aid in making the charity carnival sponsored by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce such an outstanding success, I wish to express my thanks.

"Never has there been an undertaking to which the public has lent such whole-hearted cooperation. With the funds so raised, Christmas has been made a cheery one for many who might have otherwise been in want. It was a noble cause and fittingly observed."

POLAR BEARS ADD ANOTHER VICTORY

DOWN KALAMAZOO ALL-STARS
BY CONVINCING MARGIN.

Team Play of Local Cagers Too Good
For Celery City Outfit—Ikens
and Davenport Starred.

Playing before a gymnasium packed with enthusiastic fans, the Charlevoix Polar Bears hung up their fourth consecutive victory Saturday night in one of the most exciting games witnessed here for "many a moon." With possible defeat facing them at the close of the second period, the Polar Bears stepped out to win from the highly-touted Kalamazoo All-Stars by the decisive score of 32 to 20.

The opening quarter was a nip-and-tuck affair, featured by strong defensive play of both teams. Neither five found the ring for several minutes, but when one side did, the other stepped right out to even the count. The period ended with the score knotted at 8-all. Charlevoix's team play was far better than that of the Celery City lads, but their many tries at the hoop just wouldn't go through. Kalamazoo, however, barely misses an opportunity to score, making all their shots from outside the foul line.

The second frame was by far the most exciting of the contest. The Polar Bears assumed the lead after the play started and held on until the close of the period, when Kalamazoo forged ahead. The visitors were leading 14 to 11 as the half ended. Brown, Charlevoix's lanky center, was hobbling about the court with a sore foot. He was unable to play his usual strong game beneath the basket, and this fact was slowing Charlevoix's offense considerably.

The last two periods was a different story. Manager Todd put Max Novak into the line-up and his presence and strong play soon had the Polar Bears going at top speed. Max opened the period by running in two ringers. Ikens and Davenport, who had been missing frequently in the first two periods, found their bearings and from then on it was the Polar Bear's game. Charlevoix was out in front 28 to 17 at the close of the third period and were never again headed.

With 13 points to his credit, Ikens led the Polar Bears in scoring. Davenport was close behind with 10 and Max Novak accounted for the other nine. Hugh Mayne refereed the contest.

LICENSE NEEDED TO SELL PERCH

NEW RULING BRINGS THEM UNDER COMMERCIAL LAWS.

Fee is $1 Up to January 1; $10 After
That Date—Perch for Sale Must Be Nine Inches Long.

With Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix frozen over and the ice fishing season at hand, it is quite timely to enlighten local anglers regarding some of the regulations governing this department of sport.

Probably the most outstanding change, and one concerning which we have had many inquiries within the past week, is a ruling making it necessary to procure a commercial fishing license to sell perch, yellow pickerel, grass pike, mackinaw trout and whitefish, or, in fact, any fish coming under the commercial classification. The law is very specific and reads as follows:

"That perch, yellow pickerel, grass pike and other commercial fish, taken with a hook and line or spears, shall not be sold except by persons holding a commercial fishing license as provided in section twenty-four of this act."

The cost of such license, from now until January 1, is $1. After January 1, the license fee comes under a new law which goes into effect at that time, and costs $10. It entitles a person to sell fish commercially until April 1, 1930, the end of the commercial fishing year, and then another license must be procured. Applications will be furnished by Deputy Game Warden Henry Fike. They must be filled out and sent to the Conservation Department at Lansing. There is still time to get under the wire and buy a license for $1, but after January 1, it will cost $10.

If taken for sale, perch must be nine inches in length and lake trout must weigh 1 1/4 pounds dressed. If not for sale, the size limit of perch is seven inches and no limit to size of entch except in Lake Charlevoix, where the same regulations governing inland waters are in effect.

This new ruling is not exactly to the liking of local anglers. Many provide fish for their own tables during the winter, and, in addition, make considerable money on the side.

It hardly seems fair to class the hook and line fisherman with the big commercial operators. They take more in one haul than the little fellow would all winter, but still each pays the same figure for their license. The only consolation is that there are many poor laws and all we can do is "take them and like it."

Those who enjoy spearing may go to work as soon as the ice is solid enough to get their shanty onto it. The season lasts until the ice breaks up. Five lines may be used if they are under immediate control, but it is unlawful to use a set-line.

Good catches of trout are being made off Hemingway Point near Iron-ton and at other points further up the Arm. Some early bird put a shanty on Round Lake Monday morning, so it appears the ice fishing season is on.

Notice.

The lucky number on the Alladin lamp drawing is 3297. If the party holding this number does not call by next Saturday at 7 p. m., the lamp will go to the next number drawn, which is 3024. Wood Bros.—Adv. 5211.

FISHING SEASON IS CLOSED HERE

WHITEFISH FLEET RETURNED
FROM FOXES FRIDAY.

Coast Guards Bring in One Boat
With Broken Motor—Beaver Islanders Get Xmas Mail.

The commercial fishing season out of this port practically came to a close last week. With but one or two exceptions, all local fishermen have taken their nets from the lake and are laying their boats up for the winter.

Five boats of the Charlevoix fleet returned late Friday evening from the whitefish grounds off Fox Islands. The late season trip failed to meet expectations and lifts of fish made were extremely light. Prevailing easterly winds kept the boats in the lee of the island throughout their stay there, giving them little opportunity to either lift or set. Most of the boats had run short of fuel before their return to Charlevoix.

Joe Bissell and Ernest Smith were not so fortunate on their return trip. They pulled out Friday morning for the Foxes to lift a gang of nets already in the lake. Smith became ill, forcing them to return before they had finished lifting. While still a short distance out from South Point, they stripped a gear in their engine and had to be towed to port by coast guards. The rescue trip was made after midnight Friday in the face of a strong northwest gale. The boat had been driven into drift ice near the point, but was not badly damaged.

Contrary to early expectations, Beaver Islanders have received their Christmas mail. Captain John McCann made a successful trip to the island and return on Saturday. He piloted his boat through ice to within one and one-half miles of Sucker Point. Passengers, mail and freight were transferred onto the ice and taken the remaining distance to shore. Still another trip was made on Tuesday of this week. Latest reports from the Benvers state that there is ice off St. James harbor as far as the eye can reach.

With St. James harbor ice-locked, several Beaver Island boats are preparing to lay up here for the winter. The tug Evelyn, owned by Jim Martin, Mike Cull's gasboat and several others are still awaiting an opportunity to return. A strong south or southwest blow is needed to clear St. James harbor. However, the ice is quite heavy and it is unlikely it will break away now before spring.

NEED NO PERMITS FOR SHIPPING FUR

Law Applies to Dealers and Not Individual Trappers.

Trappers are not required to have a special permit to ship furs out of the state, according to the law enforcement division of the Department of Conservation.

The only 1929 law requiring permits to ship furs out of the state applies only to dealers and is not applicable to individual trappers, it was stated. Trappers, dealers and shipping agencies have been confused according to the numerous letters received by the division.

BOYNE CITY AMUSE- MENT PLACE OPENED

Wolverine Steamship Co. Operate
Unique Skating Rink, Dance Hall

Charlevoix county's newest amusement place is now open to the public and is enjoying a liberal patronage.

Over at Boyne City the Wolverine Amusement Company have converted their large "Keuka" into a roller rink and dance hall. The place is unique, inasmuch as it is the only amusement place of its kind on the Great Lakes. The boat is docked at the foot of Water street.

At present, roller skating is on every evening except Sunday. The boat is equipped with tables and seating capacity for one hundred and fifty people. It is steam heated and electrically lighted. Floor space is one hundred by thirty feet, with one of the finest floors ever put in a place of this kind. The boat is equipped with a private room for ladies and a smoking room for men.

A New Years Eve party will be given on the boat next week and the management expect to outdo anything of this kind ever held in Charlevoix county. Their advertising will appear in each issue of this paper.

KIPKE'S CAGERS TRIM PELLSTON

BURIED UP-STATERS FRIDAY
NIGHT 32 TO 17.

"Bill" Novak and "Cornie" McCall
Star for Local Quintet—Next
Games Away from Home.

Coach Ray Kipke's Red and White basketball team added another scalp to their belt Friday evening in their second away-from-home game by defeating Pellston's cagers 32 to 17. In spite of the fact that Pellston's defeat was their fourth of the season, having lost to Alba, Cheboygan and Petoskey by close margins, Charlevoix's victory was well-earned.

It was anybody's game until the close of the third period. The two teams fought on almost even terms during the first and second quarters. Led by the brilliant playing of "Bill" Novak, local center, Charlevoix managed to keep a jump ahead of their opponent in the first half. They were leading 13 to 10 at the whistle. Aided by excellent support from his team-mates, Novak scored 11 points during the first two periods.

Kipke's cagers pulled away in the third stanza and were soon too far in front to be headed. Novak, main cog in the local offense, went out on four personal fouls, but even his absence from the line-up failed to halt Charlevoix's progress towards victory. "Cornie" McCall took up the scoring duties where Novak left off and during the third and fourth periods accounted for 10 points. Ance, who went in at guard, scored two ringers, and Supernaw accounted for another.

Novak led with scoring honors for Charlevoix with 14 points. McCall scored 12, Ance 4 and Supernaw 2. Anderson, Pellston left forward, led his team mates with nine. Flood, center, made 4, Robinson and Stevenson each 2.

Coach Kipke takes his team away from home for their next three games. They go to Boyne City for the next encounter January 10th. January 18th they tackle Harbor Springs and January 22nd go to Gaylord. The first home game is with Traverse City on January 25th.

FARMERS ARE IMPORTANT ASSET

COMMUNITY BOOSTING COMMITTEE
SEE REALIZE THEIR VALUE

Local Business Interests Voice Appreciation and Pledge Their Unqualified Support.

Recognition of the farmer's value to this community is given by the local business interests in their fourth town-boosting advertisement which appears on another page of this issue.

Too often, the farmer is not given credit for the good work he is doing. But thinking people realize that the farmer's existence and work are of vital importance to the progress of this community.

If it came to necessity, we could all do without the manufactured comforts and luxuries of life, but we'd find it hard to get along without the food which is practically all produced originally by the farmer.

It is up to the business people and the citizens of Charlevoix, then, to encourage and support our farmers in every possible manner.

The farmers of the community, in turn, will find it to their advantage to concentrate their social and commercial activities here in Charlevoix. The business and professional men of the town are united in their efforts to make Charlevoix the most progressive town of its size in the country. And the citizen patriots are lending their co-operation toward the accomplishment of our civic ambitions.

Charlevoix is a convenient market for the farmer. Right here, he can get the best prices for his products. There is a decided advantage in his dealing with people—neighbors, in fact—who know him and whose confidence he enjoys.

Our stores carry wide and varied stocks of merchandise to supply his farm needs and the personal needs of his family.

And, by spending the money right here in Charlevoix, the farmer and those near to him get the direct advantages that he helps to make possible by patronizing local firms and professional men.

The modern farmer is very conscious of the need of education and he makes certain that his children receive good schooling. Fortunately, here in Charlevoix, we have exceptionally good schools and offer the farmer's children the very best in educational facilities.

The more that the town people and farmers can work together, the more both will benefit. Let's all work in unison toward a bigger and better town that everybody in and around Charlevoix may enjoy happiness and more prosperous lives.

Watch for the next community-boosting advertisement to appear in the Courier during the month of January.

MUST REPORT PELTS AT CLOSE OF SEASON

Trappers Have 5 Days to File Same
With Conservation Department.

Pelt reports from trappers through the state are now being received by the Department of Conservation and will continue to be received until all open seasons for fur-bearing animals are closed.

All trappers are compelled, under a statute adopted by the 1929 legislature, to submit a report of pelts on hand, within five days of the close of the respective seasons.

Blank forms for submitting these reports may be obtained from any conservation officer. The forms provide space for listing pelts of bear, deer, muskrat and raccoon. In reports trappers must give their license number.

The Setting Sun

To the Farmers of this Community

The business and professional interests of Charlevoix wish to express their appreciation of your service to this community.

We are conscious of the importance of your work and efforts to help us make Charlevoix a bigger and better town. Without you, our enterprising community could not hope to prosper.

In return, we assure you our hearty co-operation and sincere desire to provide every possible advantage for you and yours.

We pledge to maintain high educational standards and facilities in our schools, that your children may receive the kind of education you want them to have.

Our churches welcome your participation in their services and offer the spiritual comfort and guidance so necessary in the pursuit of happiness.

Our merchants carry a full variety of good merchandise at fair prices. The advantage of seeing what you buy and dealing with people of established local reputation should mean much to you. Besides, a part of every dollar you spend here goes to provide direct benefits for you and your family.

Your continued patronage and loyalty to Charlevoix helps the town toward greater civic and commercial accomplishment. And that means increased benefits for you and those near and dear to you.

We, the undersigned, Believers in Charlevoix, heartily endorse the above:

ATWOOD.

Earl Farrell has a new Dodge car. Some guys leave their car on the corner—then walk.

Mrs. Haan expects to spend the rest of the winter in the southern part of the state.

Maurice Henry is driving a new well for Albert Elzinga. Here's hoping good luck, Albert.

Wesley Joliffe, who is teaching school near Boyne Falls, is home for his two week's vacation.

The Atwood school held their Xmas exercises on Christmas eve. Large crowd and a fine program.

Gasoline 21 cents per gallon. But, terfai 35 cents per pound. What's wrong? Still, grain is going higher in price.

Henry VanderArk, township treasurer of Banks township, was at Klooster & Co.'s store last Monday to receive taxes.

Christmas again has just passed. Most very person says "Merry Christmas." Let's have the Merry Christmas spirit all the time.

The L. A. S. held their Christmas exercises at the home of Mrs. George Parsons last Thursday, as announced in the Courier, on account of the severity of the weather. Not many attended. Some started and turned homeward. Nice program and a real Christmas dinner.

NORWOOD.

Lynn Mayne of Grand Rapids, arrived here Tuesday evening for a short visit with his parents.

Mrs. Lashbrook is enjoying the Christmas vacation with her sister and family at Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Boyer and daughter of Flint, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hull.

Fnlks who are coming home for the holidays will add much pleasure to the Yuletide season, especially those whose parents are planning for them.

Miss Joyce Mayne, who teaches school at Rockford, Mich., returned to her home Saturday, where she will spend her Christmas vacation with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wagner and two sons, Fred and Forest, enjoyed Christmas eve and day with Mrs. Wagner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wagner of Charlevoix.

Our summer guests who are now away in warmer climes have not forgotten the folks back at home in Norwood, judging from the number of parcels and Christmas greetings arriving here each day.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones entertained relatives at their home Christmas day, the guests being Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heise and daughter, Beth, and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jones and family of Charlevoix.

An atmosphere of Christmas spirit is being enjoyed at the Wm. Richardson home this week, as their two daughters and husbands are home—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Publow of Lansing, and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Walter of Grand Rapids.

The Norwood L. A. S. annual Christmas party was given last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ypma. The large living room was prettily decorated and in one corner stood a Christmas tree on which were placed a treat of candy and nuts and a gift for each one. The members and guests sang a Christmas carol, and several Christmas readings were enjoyed. Mrs. Light then took charge of the tree, after which the hostess served delightful refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Alward were hosts to a group of relatives at their home Christmas day. The home was prettily decorated with Christmas trimmings and at the foot of the open stairway stood a well decorated Christmas tree loaded with gifts for all. After the gifts were distributed a bountiful turkey dinner was served. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Publow and Mr. Woodard of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Walter of Grand Rapids, Miss Joyce Mayne of Rockford, and Lynn Mayne of Grand Rapids.

IRONTON.

The ferry is laid up these days owing to the channel being frozen over.

Mrs. Geo. Hanson is busy these days collecting taxes for Eveline township.

Ralph Brock is able to be out of doors again after being confined to the house for a week.

Mrs. Merion Jackson is feeling much improved after a seizure of illness for the past week.

The fishermen have arranged a small village on the ice with their fish shanties. Favorable luck is reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Alexander and family spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Barnum of Lake City.

Vaughn Oeden is calling on friends in Ironton while spending the holidays with his parents in Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Boyer have as their guests for the holidays their sons, Vernon and family and Greil all of Flint.

The Ladies-Aid is planning a pot luck dinner to be served at the church on Friday, December 27th at 12:00 o'clock last time. Afterwards they will have the community church tree and presents. A large crowd is hoped for—men, women and children.

Friday evening was the time set for the school entertainment. There was a large attendance and a fine program, after which the presents were distributed from a very big lovely tree by Santa Claus. Candy bars were given to each child and everyone seems to have had a very fine time.

ALL INLAND WATERS OPEN TO SPEARING

New Conservation Department Rule Now in Effect

Choosing to abide by the sentiment of the State Legislature which adopted the 1929 Inland Fishing bill, and which declared all inland lakes of Michigan open to spearing of certain species of fish, during the period in which these waters were frozen over, the Conservation Commission at its last regular meeting refused to grant numerous petitions seeking the closing of local waters to spearing.

The section of the new Inland Fishing Law referring to spearing on inland waters says that it shall be unlawful to "spear with or without the use of hook or artificial light, which may be used from April one to May thirty-one for taking nongame fish in the rivers and streams of this state: Provided, however, that it shall be unlawful to use a spear in any trout stream in this state: Provided further, that nothing in this act shall prevent the spearing of pickerel, suckers, mullet and redhorse during the time when the lakes are frozen."

Under the new law pickerel, suckers, mullet and redhorse may be speared by Michigan residents in any inland lake during the entire period the lake is frozen over.

Notice to Taxpayers.

I will be at the Charlevoix State Savings Bank on Saturday, December 21, Saturday, December 28 and the first two Saturdays in January to collect taxes for Marion township.

THE ROSE IS RED,
THE VIOLET BLUE;
THIS LITTLE BILL
IS OVERDUE.
SO, PAY IT NOW—
DON'T WAIT 'TILL WHEN
THE ROSE AND VIOLET
BLOOM AGAIN.

FOR IF YOU DO
DELAY IT THUS,
NO VIOLET
WILL BLOOM FOR US.

UNLESS YOU PAY
THE ROSE WILL REST
UPON OUR FAIR

THE BIRDS WILL SING,
BUT WHAT OF THAT?
WESHALL NOT HEAR THEM
WHERE WE'RE AT.
SO COME ACROSS—
WE NEED THE DONGH

PIONEER OF REGION IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Mrs. Lucina Bingham-Williams Died Here Tuesday Morning.

Tuesday marked the passing of another pioneer of this region in the death of Mrs. Lucina Bingham-Williams, who passed away at her home on Antrim street following an illness of long duration.

Deceased was born at Albany, New York, September 15, 1850, and was 79 years of age at time of death. At the age of six years, she accompanied her parents to Northport and 10 years later to Antrim City. The family was among the early settlers of that district. When 18, she was united in marriage to Wallace Bingham at Atwood. Mr. Bingham died 29 years ago.

Following the death of her husband, Mrs. Bingham moved to Charlevoix and was later married to Nelson Williams. The couple moved to Aberdeen, Wash., where Mr. Williams died about nine years ago. Returning to East Jordan, Mrs. Williams resided for a couple years with her son, Ren Bingham, later coming to Charlevoix.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Cora Noble of this city and Mrs. May Lant of Aberdeen, Wash.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Geo. Glados of Charlevoix; one grand-daughter and a niece residing in Petoskey.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the church of God chapel, Rev. I. T. Mark officiating. Interment was at Brookside.

Subject: "Christian Science."
"Lesson for Thanksgiving Day."
Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.
Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.
The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Is the Universe, including Man, evolved by Atomic Force" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 22.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness and tempest" (Hob. 12:18).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true theory of the universe, including man, is not in material history but in spiritual development. Inspired thought relinquishes a material, sensual, and mortal theory of the universe, and adopts the spiritual and immortal" (p. 547).

COMEDY "AUNT LUCIA" WILL BE STAGED HERE

M. E. Literary and Sewing Club Present Play Jan. 15-16.

The Methodist Literary and Sewing Club announces the presentation of the great collegiate comedy, "Aunt Lucia," at the gymnasium, on January 15 and 16, 1930. The production is something entirely different in the matter of community entertainment. "Aunt Lucia" has a record of the largest and most appreciative audiences and the best press reports of any productions being offered in the amateur field today. It requires 150 local people to stage the production.

"Aunt Lucia" is a story of college life. It is a scream from start to finish. It has a number of specialties as well as the play with lead characters. The baby pageant including a number of youngsters from the ages of 5 to 7, and two feature groups, of business men, one the college alumni Glee Club, the other the girls flapper chorus, are big hits of the production. If you want to laugh be sure and see "Aunt Lucia."

Further particulars in regard to the production will be published in this paper at a later time. An experienced director will be sent by the Universal Producing company to help choose and train the cast. Watch for further announcements.

WORKS HARD, DANCES, GAINS 3 LBS. A WEEK

"I work hard, dance and have gained 3 pounds a week since taking Vinol. My nervousness is almost gone," Mrs. F. Lang. Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver peptone, iron, etc. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. The very first bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Tastes delicious. F. J. Fessenden, druggist.

Our Lament--

THE ROSE IS RED,
THE VIOLET BLUE;
THIS LITTLE BILL
IS OVERDUE—
SO, PAY IT NOW—
DON'T WAIT 'TILL WHEN
THE ROSE AND VIOLET
BLOOM AGAIN.

FOR IF YOU DO DELAY IT THUS,
NO VIOLET
WILL BLOOM FOR US.

UNLESS YOU PAY
THE ROSE WILL REST
UPON OUR FAIR
AND MANLY CHEST.

THE BIRDS WILL SING,
BUT WHAT OF THAT?
WESHALL NOT HEAR THEM
WHERE WE'RE AT.
SO COME ACROSS—
WE NEED THE DONGH
NOT IN THE SPRING,
BUT NOW, YOU KNOW.

THE ROSE IS RED
THE VIOLET BLUE;
DO WE NEED CASH?
I'LL SAY WE DO!

Happy New Year!

PIONEER OF REGION IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Mrs. Lucina Bingham-Williams Died Here Tuesday Morning.

Tuesday marked the passing of another pioneer of this region in the death of Mrs. Lucina Bingham-Williams, who passed away at her home on Antrim street following an illness of long duration.

Deceased was born at Albany, New York, September 15, 1850, and was 79 years of age at time of death. At the age of six years, she accompanied her parents to Northport and 10 years later to Antrim City. The family was among the early settlers of that district. When 18, she was united in marriage to Wallace Bingham at Atwood. Mr. Bingham died 29 years ago.

Following the death of her husband, Mrs. Bingham moved to Charlevoix and was later married to Nelson Williams. The couple moved to Aberdeen, Wash., where Mr. Williams died about nine years ago. Returning to East Jordan, Mrs. Williams resided for a couple years with her son, Ren Bingham, later coming to Charlevoix.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Cora Noble of this city and Mrs. May Lant of Aberdeen, Wash.; a step-daughter, Mrs. Geo. Gladys of Charlevoix; one grand-daughter and a niece residing in Petoskey.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the church of God-chapel, Rev. I. T. Mark officiating. Interment was at Brookside.

"Is the Universe, including Man, evolved by Atomic Force" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 22.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness and tempest" (Hob. 12-18).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true theory of the universe, including man, is not in material history but in spiritual development. Inspired thought relinquishes a material, sensual, and mortal theory of the universe, and adopts the spiritual and immortal" (p. 547).

COMEDY "AUNT LUCIA" WILL BE STAGED HERE

M. E. Literary and Sewing Club Present Play Jan. 15-16.

The Methodist Literary and Sewing Club announces the presentation of the great collegiate comedy, "Aunt Lucia," at the gymnasium, on January 15 and 16, 1930. The production is something entirely different in the matter of community entertainment. "Aunt Lucia" has a record of the largest and most appreciative audiences and the best press reports of any productions being offered in the amateur field today. It requires 150 local people to stage the production.

"Aunt Lucia" is a story of college life. It is a scream from start to finish. It has a number of specialties as well as the play with lead characters. The baby pageant including a number of youngsters from the ages of 5 to 7, and two feature groups of business men, one the college alumni Glee Club, the other the girls flapper chorus, are big hits of the production. If you want to laugh be sure and see "Aunt Lucia."

Further particulars in regard to the production will be published in this paper at a later time. An experienced director will be sent by the Universal Producing company to help choose and train the cast. Watch for further announcements.

POLAR BEARS WIN TWO FAST GAMES

TRIM ELK RAPIDS AND MIDLAND CAGERS ON HOME COURT.

Victories Friday and Tuesday Nights Were Fifth and Sixth Consecutive Wins.

Playing before a packed house Tuesday evening, the Charlevoix Polar Bears extended their string of victories to six straight by trouncing the highly-touted Midland independent cagers by a decisive score. It was their second win in five days over strong opposition and marks them as one of the strongest independent outfits in the state.

Charlevoix played true to form Tuesday night. Trailing on the short end of a 9 to 5 score at the end of the first period, they stepped out during the remainder of the contest and made Midland look like a bunch of amateurs.

Todd's starting line-up failed to function properly in the first quarter. They had enough scoring chances to win the game in the first fifteen minutes of play, but failed to cash in on them. Ikens was missing badly and so were the rest. The turning point in the struggle came when Brown went in for Cooper at center. He gave his team the tip-off in almost every play and started their teamwork functioning. Ikens sunk two goals before the first period ended and when the whistle sounded for the half, the Polar Bears were leading 12 to 11.

The third stanza was a run-away for the Polar Bears. They marked up 11 points to Midland's lone field goal and at the end of the period were far enough ahead to run in a flock of substitutes during the final quarter and still maintain their lead. Ikens again led as high scorer with 18 points to his credit. In addition to playing a beautiful defensive game, Max Novak snared four field goals for eight points. Kipke accounted for the remaining three on free throws. While failing to count a point, Davenport and Brown played whirlwind defensive and offensive games. As a unit, the team showed the best performance of the season.

The Polar Bears run their string of victories up to five straight last Friday night when they took the fast-traveling Elk Rapids Cardinals into camp by a 32 to 24 count. It was a great game and gave the local cagers the toughest opposition they had encountered up to that time.

With the exception of the opening quarter when the Polar Bears piled up a lead of 12 points while holding the Elk Rapids crew scoreless, the contest was as even and fast a battle as anyone would care to see.

The Antrim county fads opened with a strong attack in the second period. While only six baskets were counted, the pace was fast and furious. Charlevoix managed to out-score them 8 points to 4 and the board showed the count 20 to 4 in favor of the Polar Bears when the half ended.

The third stanza found Charlevoix trailing. The Cardinals dropped them in from all angles, counting six goals to Charlevoix's four. Play was very fast and a little rough in spots. It's a good thing the Polar Bears hung up a nice lead in the opening quarter, or otherwise the scoreboard might have shown a different story. Both teams found the hoop for four field goals in the final period, and the battle ended with the Polar Bears out in front 36 to 24.

The Polar Bears were handicapped without the services of Brown, lanky center, who was still nursing a (Continued on page 6.)

HORRORS! EDITORS CHALLENGE EACH OTHER TO A DUEL

Of all the pending happenings here and abroad, none is attracting more attention than a huckleberry pie eating contest to be staged between the editors of the Harbor Springs Graphic and the Petoskey Monkey Wrench.

"Until we die" are the words used in the challenge. The contest will be held in front of the county jail and proceeds of the show are to go to the Emmet county Democratic fund. Inasmuch as Editor McCabe is the only Democrat left in the county, it looks like a proposition of "Tails, I win; heads, you lose."

Knowing the capacity of these two gentlemen, we predict a shortage of huckleberries in our neighboring county.

BOARD OF COMMERCE MEETING

ELECTION OF OFFICERS NEXT THURSDAY EVENING.

Annual Report and Business Session Are in Order—Meet at Odd Fellow Hall.

An event that always holds the attention of every business man as well as others interested, is the annual meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, which will be held the evening of Thursday, January 3rd.

The gathering this year will be at the I. O. O. F. hall, with the Rebecas serving the banquet dinner at 6:30. Reports of various committee heads will show the progress of work accomplished by the association during the fiscal year just closed. Another important report is that of the secretary-treasurer, showing receipts and disbursements during the past year.

Election of officers for 1930 is also in order and will be followed by the appointment of committees to carry on the work for the coming year.

Several important matters are scheduled for discussion. Listed among them is the proposition to establish trout and bass rearing ponds, winter sports and the important local airport situation. While no outward action concerning winter sports has been taken up to the present time, it is understood the matter will be brought up and decided upon.

Dr. C. J. Winder, president of the association, was injured early last week in an automobile accident while enroute to spend the holidays at Eaton Rapids. Details of the mishap are not available at present, but it is understood neither Dr. Winder nor his wife were seriously hurt, and that he will return prior to the annual meeting of the association.

Anyone interested in the future welfare of Charlevoix, whether a member of the association or not, is invited to attend this annual meeting.

"Y" WORKERS ARE ORGANIZING HI-Y CLUBS

Boys Are Being Grouped in North Michigan Cities.

The State Y. M. C. Association is assisted in uniting seven northern counties into a district association. At a meeting held in Petoskey, W. L. Fuhrer of Boyne City was elected chairman of the association.

The state has appointed Walter L. Gospel secretary. The secretary will devote full time to the several communities within the district in organizing the young folks into small clubs.

In the very near future girls will have a branch or sister club that will work along similar lines with the boys under the direction of a district matron.

Mr. Gospel has been on the ground for more than 60 days and he with the help of an assistant secretary of the state Y. M. C. A. is organizing HI-Y clubs in the various cities.

AGED MAN BURNED TO DEATH ON SATURDAY

Trapped in Upstairs Room of Rural Farm Dwelling.

Tragedy visited the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Knuckles, about eight miles southeast of Petoskey, Saturday forenoon, when Mr. Knuckles aged father was burned to death in an accidental fire which consumed the home and its contents.

The blaze which was caused by the exploding of a gasoline flat-iron, occurred at about 11 o'clock and within an hour the dwelling house was practically destroyed. Not a thing was saved from the building, the father, mother and their five children escaping with the clothing they wore.

The aged victim was resting in an upstairs room, the stairway to which was cut off by the flames. A ladder was placed to the upper window and Mr. Knuckles awakened. He became confused, however, and walked away to another part of the house which was quickly cut off from rescue workers by the flames.

PICKLE COMPANY GAVE OUT PRIZES

HIGHEST PICKLE YIELDS WON CASH AWARDS.

Field Was Open to Farmers in Charlevoix, Atwood, Horton Bay and Petoskey Districts.

The yearly custom of the Charlevoix Pickle & Produce Co. has been to offer cash prizes to pickle growers having the highest yields in cash per acre. The $50 in cash prizes were offered again this year at contracting time, and very appropriately paid at this Christmas season. This applied to all pickle growers at Charlevoix, Atwood, Horton Bay and Petoskey.

Ten checks totalling $50 were mailed out on December 24th to the following prize winners:

1st prize, $15: Stanley Jancha, $305.70 per acre.
2nd prize, $10: Dan Triplett, $177.96 per acre.
3rd prize, $5: A. J. Bolhuis, $167 per acre.
4th prize, $5: Wm. Knight, $160.16 per acre.
5th prize, $3: Martin Groenick, $156.56 per acre.
6th prize, $3: Bert DeYoung, $148.08 per acre.
7th prize, $3: M. N. Edgerton, $143.47 per acre.
8th prize, $2: Egbert VandeStreek, $139.88 per acre.
9th prize, $2: John Goeman, $134.63 per acre.
10th prize, $2: F. A. Hinckley, $129.32 per acre.

Numerous other growers had very excellent cash yields, many of them running close to the prize winners. The pickle crop is bringing in good ready cash and is recognized as worthy of a regular place year after year in the farm plan of good farmers.

MRS. T. R. GOLEY DIED HERE TUESDAY MORNING

Complications Resulted in Death at Charlevoix Hospital.

Charlevoix was saddened Tuesday morning by the death of Mrs. T. R. Goley, oldest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Powell of this city, who passed away at the Charlevoix Hospital.

Mrs. Goley had been a sufferer from leakage of the heart for many years. With childbirth approaching, she was beset with a complication of ailments, and December 18th came from Columbia, N. C., to the home of her mother here. From that time everything possible had been done in an effort to relieve her suffering, but without avail.

Esther Powell was born at Columbia, N. C., December 6, 1901, and came here at the age of 11 years with her parents. She attended the local schools for a number of years, but was forced to quit because of poor health. On July 19, 1928, she was united in marriage to T. R. Goley at Chicago. After residing there about a month, the couple moved to Columbia, N. C.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Goley is survived by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Powell of this city; two brothers, Theodore and Charles of Columbia, N. C.; two sisters, Miss Fannie Powell of Detroit and Mrs. Ruby Jacobs of Boyne City; also her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Olney of this city.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 10:30 from the family home on West Huriburt avenue, Rev. J. E. Lockyer, officiating.

BAKING DEMONSTRATION TO BE GIVEN

JACKSON YOUTH HELD FOR RAPE

BOUND OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT UNDER HEAVY BOND.

Arrested Last Week After Theft of Beans, Pig and Poultry From Earl Shapton Farm.

Charles Weber, aged 21, whose home is near Jackson, was bound over to circuit court under five thousand dollar bond in Justice Robert Withers' court Monday morning on a charge of statutory rape.

Charges were preferred by Sheriff Dave Vaughan. The crime is alleged to have been committed against a 15-year-old girl living near Charlevoix. Weber is said by officers to have signed a written confession. Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis had been investigating the case prior to preferring charges ever since Weber attempted to procure a marriage license some time ago.

Weber was placed under arrest last Thursday night by Sheriff Dave Vaughan following his theft of a bag of beans from the Earl Shapton farm south of this city. Weber had been working at the Shapton farm as a hired man. He quit Wednesday and when departing took the beans along on the children's hand sled. They saw him go, however, and notified their parents, who, in turn, called the sheriff. When Weber was about to transfer the beans to his car after hauling them through the heavy snow clear to Stephens' corner, on US-31, he found Sheriff Vaughan waiting for him.

Further investigation disclosed that Weber had also stolen a pig that had disappeared mysteriously from the Shapton farm. He admitted killing the animal with a hammer. He was refused the use of Shapton's horse to take the pig away, so he took the animal anyway and delivered the pork to the home of the girl he is mixed up with on the statutory count. Shaptons were unaware what Weber wanted the horse for, and did not even know that he took it. Weber also admitted taking several chickens and a duck. It's a good thing the barn was fastened down, or he might possibly have gotten that, too.

Weber was unable to furnish bond and will be held in jail here until the February term of circuit court. He faces possible life imprisonment if found guilty on the statutory charge and in addition must answer for his thefts.

THIS COUNTY HAS NEW WILDLIFE SANCTUARY

We note in a recent official news bulletin issued by the Michigan Department of Conservation that 160 acres in Wilson township, Charlevoix county, has been designated as a wildlife sanctuary for a period of five years by its owner, J. H. Parker. This tract is now but one of several in Charlevoix county. The move toward establishing wildlife sanctuaries is a very commendable one.

PLENTY OF BUCKS SHOWN BY REPORT

CONSERVATION DEPT. CENSUS MADE ON MICHIGAN DEER.

Ratio of Bucks to Does and Fawns In State Deer Cover Found to Be Very Satisfactory.

The luckless hunter who failed to see "horns" during the deer season just closed and who is now negotiating a return to the old "one deer" law as a result, will find little consolation in a report issued by the State Conservation Department's division of education and public relations. The report not only reveals that Michigan's deer herds are holding their own, but that the ratio of bucks to the number of does and fawns is very satisfactory. Following is the report:

A report covering the first four months of the Department of Conservation's deer tally shows that the ratio of sexes among the deer in Michigan's woods is one buck to 2.2 does.

The deer tally was undertaken by the game division last summer in an attempt to answer some of the questions which individuals, organizations and the department have been asking about deer. "Are the woods full of does?" "Is there a scarcity of fawns?" "Is the one buck law seriously depleting the supply of bucks?" These were some of the questions asked, and for which an answer was sought in the deer tally.

The tally was made along roads, rivers, and salt licks. Counts were also made at night with spot lights. During the four months of July, August, September and October, conservation officers, fire wardens, game refuge men and members of the staff of the game division counted 8,348 deer in the two peninsulas. Of these 3,502 deer were classified as "uncertain" because their sex or age could not be accurately determined when they were observed.

Of the number identified 2,061 were does and 1,905 were fawns. The fact that the number of does and fawns is about equal, is thought by the game division to indicate that the deer are at least holding their own. Bucks numbered 924.

Reduced to percentages, these figures show that of the deer identified, 41 per cent were does, 40 per cent were fawns and 19 per cent were bucks.

While the flat ratio for the whole state was one buck to 2.2 does, in various districts it ranged from buck to 0.87 does, to one buck to 3.3 does.

According to detailed figures the highest ratios between bucks and does occur in the heavily hunted districts in the northern section of the lower part of the state and in the east end of the upper peninsula. In Chippewa and Mackinac counties the ratio figures one buck to 3.2 does. In Luce and Schoolcraft counties, one buck to 3.1 does. In Presque Isle, Cheboygan and Emmet counties, it is one buck to 3.3 does.

At the west end of the upper peninsula the ratio is lower. Ontonagon and Gogebic counties show one buck to 2.9 does; Houghton, Baraga and Keweenaw counties, one buck to 2.8 does; Dickinson county, one buck to 2.1 does; and Menominee and Delta counties, one buck to 1.9 does. Marquette and Alger counties show one buck to 1.7 does.

Osego, Montmorency, Alpena, Oscoda and Alcona counties show one buck to 2.1 does and Kalkaska, Crawford, Missaukee and Roscommon counties show one buck to 2.7 does.

Counties closed to deer hunting have close ratios. Grand Traverse, Leelanau, Benzie, Manistee and Wexford counties show one buck to 0.87 (Continued on page 6.)

THE BEST FIRE RECORD.

For a brief time last summer Michigan was assailed with forest fire reports from dozens of points in both peninsulas. The hazard for a period of several weeks was regarded as the worst in many years. But that hazard passed—with the result that the state fire warden is able to report the lowest forest fire loss in the state's history.

To say it "passed," however, scarcely does justice to the situation. This peril did not pass due to rain nor to winds, fortunately blowing the state's 2,400 fires in the right direction. It passed because fighting men and improved equipment put a stop to it. The same hazard ten years ago would have sent a pall of smoke from burning townships over all Michigan. That the spread of crackling flame was halted everywhere was due to advance preparations, fire fires, more fire towers, consequent prompter information, a larger and better organized staff, fast trucks and modern tools for fighting fire on the front before it could get well under way.

A Michigan awakened at last to the value of its good timber and second-growth—owes more than a perfunctory recognition to its "good fortune" in escaping serious forest damage during the summer of 1929. That "good fortune" was the product of hard work in smoke and searing heat. It is evidence that preparation pays.

An interesting sidelight on the 1929 situation is the fact more than half the fires whose origin was traced was reported as due to careless smokers. Perhaps the greatest single element of increased forest fire hazard in recent years has been the growth of the tobacco habit and the trend toward cigarette smoking with a multiplied number of stubs for disposal. It is up to the hunter and fisherman to recognize this charge in a correspondingly greater caution.—Grand Rapids Press.

FREE SPEECH.

President Hoover ordered the immediate release of a number of boy and girl Communists, who had been thrown into jail by the Washington police while holding a "red" demonstration at the very portals of the White house. The prompt action of the president will meet the approval of the American public.

As the president pointed out, to imprison them would be giving them an air of martyrdom and the publicity they were seeking. Besides they were only boys and girls—misguided perhaps—but some day with great potentialities as citizens when youth and passion has been replaced with age and reason.

In this day when we are facing so much fanaticism, when there is such a tendency to make the law vengeful instead of helpful, when we are urged to rule by statute instead of education, the widest latitude should be given those with real or fancied wrongs who desire to be heard in the public places. Unless the destruction of this government is in danger we should not attempt abridge the utterance of any man. As Charles Brad-laugh so aptly said:

"Without free speech no search for truth is possible; without free speech no discovery of truth is useful, without free speech progress is checked and the nations no longer march forward toward the nobler life which the future holds for man. Better a thousandfold abuse of free speech than a denial of free speech. The abuse dies in a day, but the denial slays the life of the people, and entombs the hope of the race."

TRAFFIC TOLL MOUNTS.

Michigan's traffic in human lives during the past week has been a sad one, almost beyond belief.

In spite of unfavorable driving conditions there seems to have been no slackening up of reckless driving. The results have been costly—too costly.

Children killed while playing in the streets were a part of this reckless sacrifice. Several such accidents were reported. The youngsters should at least be spared. They should be forbidden to coast on any street or highway that has not been set aside for that purpose.

Motorists driving in congested districts should drive slow and keep a watchful eye—you can never tell what a child is going to do—and nobody wants to kill a child.

Every community has its quota of reckless drivers, but until they figure in an accident nothing is done to curb their criminal tendencies. If a man with a gun was going about the streets looking for a possible victim short shift would be made of him, yet we appear helpless before those whose defiance of traffic regulations and driving courtesy makes them potential killers of innocent people.

The situation will not change until public sentiment brings it about. Don't have any sympathy for the reckless driver when he is caught in the net of his own folly. He is deserving of whatever punishment is meted out to him.

THE NEED OF TOWNS.

We have heard much discussion of what a good town needs.

Most towns have plenty of resources and opportunities for industrial and commercial success.

The need of towns is for men—men of vision to see those possibilities, men of ability to develop them. A good town needs successful men, those who employ labor, build homes and buildings, pay their bills.

A good town needs men who help the other fellows, who wish for success to everyone who undertakes a business venture. Jealousy has no place in community affairs.

A good town demands men who think human thoughts, who are interested in the welfare of the village or city because it will make for happiness and prosperity of their friends and neighbors.

A good town needs men who do not think merely in the present but cast their eyes to the future. They see the children of today and vision them the citizens of tomorrow. Thus they wish a heritage of a good community for those generations yet to come.

A good town has citizens who see beyond the dollar, who vision life with its elements of usefulness, accomplishments and happiness.

SAVE A LIFE.

130,000 lives are saved each year because the tuberculosis death rate is less than half of what it was 25 years ago. Tuberculosis Christmas seals, the twenty-second annual sale of which is now on being concluded, have done much to effect this tremendous saving of lives.

The work of the Christmas seal is illustrated in Michigan by just one activity of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. During 1929—the Association's clinics provided free chest examinations for more than 2,100 persons. Most of these patients, otherwise would not have received such an examination, and some undoubtedly would have come to an untimely death had it not been for the findings of the clinic.

Say it with seals this Christmas, and someone might not have to "say it with flowers" so soon. Save a life this year with Christmas seals.

AT THE MOVIES.

Laura La Plante's gorgeous personality literally scintillates throughout the dramatic unfolding of "The Love-Trap," her latest Universal starring vehicles which opens Saturday night at the Palace Theatre, and that in itself would be enough for any photoplay.

"The Love-Trap" is the outstanding epoch in the life of a chorus girl who rises from the "pony" ranks into the marble halls of the aristocracy. This she does through her marriage to the scion of a rich family, and her impromptu romance with Niel Hamilton, who plays the leading man, is not only beautiful in itself, but distinctly refreshing in the newness of its treatment.

PRETTY WEDDING SOL-EMNIZED ON SATURDAY

Miss Dora Chew and Ralph Cooper Wed at Bay Shore.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Chew at Bay Shore, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Saturday evening, when their daughter, Miss Dora, was united in marriage to Mr. Ralph Cooper of Lansing.

The impressive ring ceremony was read by Rev. W. H. Rauch in the presence of the immediate family. Miss Alice Chew and Mr. Galo Chew were the attendants.

Following the ceremony, a delightful dinner was served. The young couple left immediately for Lansing, where they will make their home. Charlevoix friends express their heartiest congratulations.

CENTRAL LAKE.

One pleasant day, Monday.

Mrs. Mable Turner of Canon City, Colorado, returned Friday to her home.

Lyle Morse returns this week from Lansing to resume his studies at the high school.

J. W. Morse paid a visit to the Rev. G. A. Weaver home in Petoskey last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Porter of East Jordan, were over Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Morrow.

Karl Hadecek drove up from Detroit in his new Chrysler last week and is visiting his mother, Mrs. Jennie Hadecek, who is employed at the telephone office.

Orrie Sisson had charge of the Chris Somerville funeral east of town last week. Mr. Somerville died suddenly from heart disease. He was 48 years of age.

James Dawson and son, John, are hauling home 60 cords of buzz wood cut on the S. B. Anway farm last week. Wood of this kind now sells for $2.50 a cord.

The Christmas exercises at the Eastport Baptist church were fine and a large crowd was in attendance. The Sunday school had election of officers last Sunday.

William Watson of Detroit, is visiting with his brother, Robert, north of town, and at the Albert Byers home. He now has a position at the Highland Park Ford plant.

Harry Layman of Mancelona, formerly teacher of Greenwood school, west of town, visited the week end with the Chas. Snyder family. He is now attending State Central Teacher's College at Mt. Pleasant.

Winfield Sissons is home from the West Point Military Academy, where he graduates this year. He had charge of the funeral of Mrs. Morrow Saturday. He returns this week as he has only a nine day furlough.

Bay View Sunday school closed a week ago Sunday with its Christmas exercises and distribution of Rev. Weaver's fine Christmas gifts. The superintendent, J. W. Morse, was presented with a fine mirror and shaving set by the Sunday school.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Morrow, a resident here for nearly 50 years, was held from the M. E. church last Saturday forenoon. Rev. Weaver of the local church, preaching the sermon from Matt. 11-14. The choir sang hymns selected by the family. The body was interred in the Central Lake cemetery. Mrs. Morrow was an ardent Christian worker and a member of the M. E. church. Her death from pneumonia occurred on Christmas day, her 81st birthday and the anniversary of her wedding to Gilbert Morrow of Hartford, Michigan. Mrs. Morrow was proud of her

ATWOOD.

Happy New Year to all. The days are getting longer. George Lord went to Petoskey last week to spend the winter. The L. A. S. meets with Mrs. Earl Farrell on Thursday of this week. Men are welcome. Pot luck dinner. LaVern Harwood of Chicago, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harwood, for a couple of weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Joliffe visited their daughter, Mrs. Chas. Edson, on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

ANTRIM CITY

Stub Lord spent Saturday night at the Stott home. Earl Myers of Rogers City, is a visitor at the F. Brooks home. Bernice and Viola Stott were callers at the F. Brooks home Sunday. The Antrim City school will start Monday after a week's vacation. Mr. and Mrs. F. Brooks and son Lester, also George Post, took Sunday dinner at the Alfred Brooks home. Some young folks from here attended the Christmas program at Atwood.

NORWOOD SCHOOL NOTES

We will all be glad when the days are longer. We all enjoyed our Christmas vacation very much. We were all glad to find our school house cleaned when we returned to school Monday. Mrs. Lashbrook spent Christmas vacation visiting relatives and friends in Traverse City. Mrs. Lashbrook was pleased with the gift her pupils gave her, which was a pair of bedroom slippers. We are sorry to know that the Kerr children are moving out of Norwood district to Hilton district. We have an addition of twenty books in the school library, presented by Mrs. Voegel, who is a summer resident of Norwood.

BARNARD.

Burt and Homer Warner of Grand Rapids, spent Christmas day at home. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gregory visited at the Howard Gornell home on Thursday evening. Miss Margaret Potter, went on Tuesday to Grand Rapids where she will be employed. Minnie Gornell, Jennie Klooster and Dorothy Smith walked over to the Hilton school on Tuesday. Michael Garber returned Tuesday from Constantine, where he spent the Christmas holidays with his relatives. The Happy Owls met at Michael Garber's home on Saturday night, and adjourned their meeting at an early hour. A surprise party was held at the Warner home on Saturday evening. The young people say they won't tell who the surprised people were, but everyone had a good time. Miss Ida Cerk has spent a week visiting friends and relatives in Barnard. She returned Sunday to Charlevoix, where she will work at the hospital.

FAIR VIEW—BANKS.

1930. Have you made your New Year's resolutions? Jacob Timmer was in Mancelona Monday forenoon. The pupils of Mitchell school are enjoying a two week's vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Spyer of Ellsworth, were in this locality Thursday visiting friends. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence VanderArk of Grand Rapids, are visiting their parents here for a few days. Harvey and Lewis Essenberg were in Central Lake, Friday evening, attending the basketball game. Benj. H. Timmer left Monday for Big Rapids, where he will take a three month's course in bookkeeping at the Ferris Institute. Harvey Essenberg, who spent his vacation here with relatives, returned Sunday afternoon to his school duties at Merritt, Michigan. Our mail route has changed carriers, Mr. Davis returning to his Central Lake route, and Howard Bears taking this route for the winter at least.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURITIS ENDED BY NEW KONJOLA

Famed Medicine Praised by Lady Who Now is Free of Painful Ailments.

MRS. J. WARD.

"A few bottles of Konjola have done for me what all other medicines I tried failed to do," said Mrs. J. Ward, 8760 Falcon street, Detroit, Mich. "I suffered with neuritis and rheumatism all over my body, and especially in my lower limbs. I also had terrible pains in my hips. These awful pains caused me to lose a great deal of sleep and I became extremely nervous. My ankles were stiff and swollen, and I was bothered with constipation. Having heard so much about Konjola, I began using it. How glad I am I did! This splendid medicine not only freed me from all aches and pains of those two dreaded ailments, but it regulated my bowels; increased my appetite and has given me new strength and energy. I certainly recommend Konjola to any one suffering as I did, and I would advise you to try it first."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Venus to spend Christmas with his family at Petoskey.

Emil Fischner and Joe Floyd went to Garden Island over the ice Monday, December 23, and report seven inches of ice in the passage.

The fish tug Venus brought the mail Tuesday, but had to land at the edge of the ice about two miles outside the light house.

Mike Cull, who has been fishing at the Fox Islands, returned to his home here Tuesday on the Venus, having left his boat, the Betty C, at Charlevoix.

Mrs. Larry McDonough died last Thursday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mike Cull. Funeral services will be held Monday at Holy Cross church.

A few friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fischner Christmas night, to celebrate their wedding anniversary. A very nice time was enjoyed by all, despite the fact that Mr. Fischner was absent. He is still on his job on Patrol Boat No. 1 at Cheboygan.

NORWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Plenny Genett were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reed Genett of Bellaire.

E. R. Jones has accepted a position as local agent for the Chase Nursery Co. of Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. George Light and son of Charlevoix, visited relatives at Norwood a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gregory of Charlevoix, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hull and family.

Miss Margaret Eryleben of Grand Rapids, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mayne and family last Thursday and Friday.

Several of our local citizens are enjoying fishing through the ice. Plenny Genett had the luck to catch a five pound mackinaw trout last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson entertained local relatives on Christmas day and were presented with a radio set as a gift. They are enjoying it very much.

Antone Holeccheck of Charlevoix, enjoyed Christmas eve with the Fred Hull family, after which he was an over-night guest at the home of his brother, Jos. Holeccheck.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Stafford attended a family gathering at the home of Mrs. Stafford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Joliffe of Atwood, on Christmas day. A very fine time was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greeley and Chas. Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ypma, Mr. and Mrs. Dice and Sam Alward enjoyed a six o'clock dinner Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parsons, who have recently located in the village of Ellsworth.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

1930 Chevrolet Production.
The Chevrolet Motor Company announces a new car for 1930 known as "The Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History."

Announcement of the new car today comes at the close of Chevrolet's greatest year, for the sensational success of the six-cylinder Chevrolet, introduced just a year ago resulted in an output of 1,350,000 cars this year, breaking by a wide margin all former Chevrolet annual production records.

In making public Chevrolet's plans for 1930, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, declared that with the improvements incorporated in the new car, Chevrolet was anticipating a volume of business that will equal, if not surpass, the phenomenal record of 1929. And, in order to accumulate an early demand, production is being speeded with all the haste consistent with the precision methods for which Chevrolet manufacturing operations are famous.

New car shipments have been going out to dealers for the past ten days, with deliveries to owners scheduled to start Saturday. The cars go on display Saturday morning in thousands of Chevrolet showrooms from coast to coast, while at the same time the announcement of the new car was being broadcast through the advertising columns of more than 6,500 newspapers.

Scores of distinct improvements have been made in the 1930 Chevrolet line, the factory announces. Greater beauty, added safety factors, improved riding comfort and better all-round performance with added power, and faster acceleration are announced as features of the new line.

Larger tires, small wheels, Delco-Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers at all four wheels, Fisher slanting non-glare VV windshield and vastly improved four-wheel braking system are some of the highlights.

Pet Bear Traded in as Part Payment on Automobile.

Milfred Engelbert of Williamsburg, Iowa, wanted to go places.

He owned no automobile, but did have a pet bear—a 350 pound black fellow from Canada. "Teddy" was a fine bear and a great pet as pets go, but no earthly use to a fellow with a wanderlust. So Milfred took the bear in to Cedar Rapids and announced to the startled sales force of the Mahikhen Motor Company, Dodge dealers, that he wanted to new car and proposed to trade the bear in as part payment.

The sales force had some difficulty at first figuring how a deal could be made on this basis, but both Milfred and "Teddy" had personality and persuasive powers. While Milfred held steadfastly to a proposition of "No bear, no automobile," Bruin was helping matters along by demonstrating to the automobile men that he had a splendid disposition and no little talent in the way of doing amazing tricks.

Mr. Mahabben was summoned and the odd deal consummated. Engelbert drove away in a brand new Dodge sedan, and Mahabben led "Teddy" out to the city zoo at Bever Park, where he is a headline attraction not only because he can do any number of funny tricks—but also because he is probably the first bear ever to be taken in trade for an automobile.

"For a fellow who likes to stay at home, there isn't anything like a good natured, comical old black bear for a pet," mused Engelbert, "but for a fellow who likes to go places there isn't anything like a good automobile." Benjamin Brown is the local Dodge dealer in Charlevoix. Talk him into a deal, bear or whatnot.

New Bodies But No Mechanical Change in Ford.

A showing of new bodies for the Model A Ford, each one of which will soon be available in a variety of new colors, has been announced by Joseph Foster, local Ford dealer.

Emphasis was placed on the fact that the car is unchanged mechanically; that nearly 3,000,000 Model A type Fords are now on the highways proving that they are thoroughly dependable.

The policy of the Ford Motor Company in this respect has been to make minor alterations whenever a new device has shown itself worthy to be included in the mechanical plan of the car, but not to bring out a new car as a whole.

Beautiful New Bodies.

"The new body types will have a distinctly refreshing appearance," said Mr. Foster. "They have all the beauty and charm of contour, line and proportion usually associated with the large cars."

"As one looks at them, the first thing that catches the eye is the new radiator. Still retaining the Ford individuality, it is high and narrow, and in excellent style. This, with the higher and longer hood and the shorter cowl, give the front of the car a distinctly new and pleasing appearance, to which an added touch of

Anyway We Are Not Lazy.

The world's richest and most powerful nation is also the world's hardest-working nation. How far Uncle Sam exceeds other countries in his output of labor is shown by Dr. Thornton Read, professor of mining at Columbian University, who estimates after careful study that the United States with one-sixteenth the population of the world, completes about half its work. This country accomplishes one and a half times as much per person as Canada, her nearest competitor, and thirty times as much as China.

By calculating the relative amounts of actual horsepower generated by men from the food they eat and the machines from the fuel and waterpower they use, Dr. Read has arrived at his conclusions regarding fifteen leading countries. He also reveals that China and India are first in the amount of work done without the aid of machinery, but are far behind the United States, Great Britain and Germany in the work done by men aided by powered machines. For instance, the labor done by men and machines together in this country equals the manual work that could be done by ten times the number of men in China—or almost forty times the number of men in the United States.

Women Who Know Which Way to Zoom.

Newspaper readers of at least seven cities in this country who pick their morning sheets to see what is going on in the field of aviation, are turning to women for information, since the aviation news for several large dailies is being handled by women.

The difficulty of coralling and writing all the aviation news each day, as well as filling and supervising an aviation page for Sunday editions, can be appreciated only by those who have attempted it. It demands understanding of aeronautical terms on the part of the writer who wants to avoid ridicule from persons who know their flying language. Woe, for instance, to the aviation editor who chronicles that a plane "zoomed down." You can't zoom any way but up, say the authorities—but how is a newspaper writer to sense that a nice, expressive word like "zoom" has a limited usage unless she knows a great deal about aviation?

Leading dailies who employ women aviation editors are the Hartford Chronicle, the Daily Oklahoman and Oklahoma City Times, the Memphis Press-Scimitar, the Jacksonville Journal, the Buffalo Courier Express, the Des Moines Register and Tribune-Capitol (a morning and evening combination), and the Yonkers Telegram.

Politics This Week.

The Senate took time off from tariff tinkering last week to den a red suit and white whiskers. Thoroughly disguised as an official Santa Claus, they crammed the public stocking with a $160,000,000 tax reduction, and then tossed the strange habits aside this week to renew consideration of a measure designed to levy indirect taxes upon hundreds of everyday commodities. The proposed tax on sugar alone, for instance amounts to approximately $65,000,000 annually.

Despite such inconsistencies, there is much to be said of our upper house which is getting its full share of adverse editorial comment these days. The old talk about the "efficiency" of the House of Representatives as compared with the windy Senate is rife again, but more liberal papers have pointed out that House efficiency as regards the tariff was nothing but a matter of speed and lack of consideration which made the Senate job of revision 100 per cent "talky."

Predictions of an unbreakable deadlock between the two houses, when the bill goes into conference are being freely uttered. By some, however, this is held to be a prophecy based entirely on the surface appearance of things. They state that the House had small expectations that the bill as they passed it would be anything like final, and that House leaders realizing fully the desire of the country for a limited revision, are prepared to back down on most of the tariff schedules. The export debenture clause and the new provision for flexible tariff revision, nevertheless, form two bones of contention which, practically nothing can be predicted. In fact, the one really safe judgment we can pass on the tariff bill is this—consumers, can breathe a sigh of relief in the sure knowledge that their grocery rations, clothing, sugar bowl, etc., will be safe from the ravages of Smoot-Hawley until next year, at least.

What is an Education?

Those who decry the increasing emphasis placed on business, commerce and industry in this country will not be pleased with the survey recently made by the Cleveland Board of Education, which, acting in co-operation with the Cleveland chapter of the National Association of Credit men, drew up a report recommending means of "adjusting the curriculum of the schools to the actual demand of business."

Educators—taking the word in its best sense—point out that this very tendency to place the purely utilitarian side of school instruction above that devoted to general development of intelligence and knowledge of such very necessary branches as world geography, is what is bringing the demand for college men to the point where complaint is heard that opportunities for merit promotion are few. The boy who goes into an industrial establishment, says, on the lower rung of the ladder, who has been taught, according to the Cleveland plan, only a smattering of the probable duties of that line of work, is extremely likely to find himself handicapped by his lack of instruction in such simple matters as United States history, geography, etc., when it comes to promotion.

Motor Tourists' Heaven.

Tropical forests and vast stretches of exotic plants and emerald green valleys, lush foliage and crystal mountains—these are some of the sights that Cuba's highway program, now more than seventy per cent completed, is opening to tourists. Vistas heretofore known only to hunters and naturalists are being revealed to the ordinary traveler with a magic unfolding of scenery that has been brought about by the deliberate effort to direct the road through the island's most beautiful sections.

There has been no attempt to sacrifice natural appeal to the convenience of shorter distances in the building of this highway. Where the direction takes one through lovely regions at the expense of an added seven miles or so, the longer route is selected. The highway has other practical conveniences however. From end to end, there is not a single right-angle curve, but only long, swinging turns. The road is made of concrete and asphalt and is twenty to thirty feet wide. It is being constructed at a cost of approximately $100,000,000.

The Cuban government has done much toward removing restrictions on the entry of visiting cars. Only a certificate of registration or ownership is necessary for the motorist to enter his machine. A three or four hour boat ride from Florida, brings one to Havana, and the traveler may drive his car aboard the boat and have it blocked on the deck for the short over-water jump.

Another Cue for a Commission. Wall street crashes may come and go, politicians loom large on the horizon and then be sunk without a trace—all this happens in the day's work in Washington, but the swarming army of the rowdy, roughneck, starling comes but does not go from the streets of this capital.

Precisely at four on chilly afternoons there comes an occasional starling across the skies over the capital; then two or three; then two or three hundred; then many times that many thousands, in swirling flight, up and down and across. Now a few settle on cornices, quarrelling violently among themselves for sheltered nooks, then all swooping off to apparently attack some other band. And all the while carrying on violent campaigns of unprintable mutual extermination. All this goes on until darkness drives them to whatever sheltering corners they can find, and lacking those, the rows of trees along the avenue, where, once the starlings have settled down, the campaign of vituperation is taken up by the passerby against the feathered nuisances.

And policemen, scientists, "pieces in the paper," firemen—none avails against the starling.

But we, humble scribbles that we are, have up our sleeves a sure-fire remedy. Let only some ornithological expert induce a few of the best minds of the whirling thousands of black feathers to lead their flocks to roost in the stately elms of the White House, and in the corners of its fresh-painted facade—and see how quickly a "President's Commission on Starlings" would abolish them from the Potomac valley!

Wait for a Sunny Day.

Here we have a new alibi for the crime wave; a grave and reverend psychologist opines that "many persons who commit crimes are prompted by the effect on their minds of gloomy weather and other depressing factors of environment." If there is anything in this, how easy to solve the crime wave problem! Double the watchfulness on stormy nights, keep an eye on the families with half a dozen small boys caged in little apartments on rainy days, and then, extending the principle, let law-enforcers choose nice sunny days for introducing and discussing their net bills. But, perhaps, it is proved to be a good rule by working both ways: oppose legislators, wise to the value of "weather temperance" learn equally easily bring up discussions of the World Court, Italian commissions, Marines as diplomats, etc. And why not have a research commission on weather and its effects on political movements?

Freezing in Cans.

An upgrowth of the familiar method of freezing shell fish in cans, the process now being worked out by the Department of Agriculture for freezing raw fruits, berries and perishable vegetables in cans.

To test the best methods in this canning process, 10,000 cans of various fruits and vegetables were frozen last summer in the State of Washington, and placed in cold storage. These will be opened and tested during this winter, to determine the best methods for various products. Some were packed in vacuum sealed tins, others in waxed paper containers, in natural state or with sugar or salt.

The products packed for experiment included strawberries, raspberries, loganberries, blackberries, currants, pears, cherries, avocados, peaches, peas, cantaloupes, apricots, beans, beets, melons, sweet corn and tomatoes.

HEART LAKE BEING SEINED FOR CARP

Club Cleaning Out Lake to Stock With Bass and Other Fish.

A large number of men from New York are at the Heart Lake Club preparing to seín out the carp from Heart Lake, Otsego county, where it is reputed there are several tons of this fish, which have cleaned out the spawn of every other fish in the lake, making it a carp lake instead of a lake of game fish that provides real sport and a delicate meal for the angler.

Large water tanks have been brought in on the Michigan Central to care for the fish, which are taken into the eastern market alive and sold as a delicacy at a premium over other fish. The crew does its work after the ice completely covers the lake, by pushing the net along under the ice with poles. It is said this is the most effective manner of seining carp.

Heart Lake is a good sized lake, with some excellent bathing beaches, but no fish other than carp. It is the intention of the club management to stock the lake with game fish of all kinds suitable to this section, just as soon as the carp are cleaned out, thereby providing some real sport to the more than 2,000 members of the club.

STATE DECIDED TO MARK COUNTY ROADS

Will Place Numbers and Other Markings Similar to Trunk Lines.

Victor R. Burton, deputy commissioner of highways, is one of a committee to give the county roads of the state a number, also a mark to designate them and show them on the state road maps.

This work, which marks a pioneering attempt on the part of Michigan, is to be started in the spring. Roads marked in time, will be placed on the 1930 road maps according to Burton. County roads heretofore both in Michigan and in most of the other states, have borne no comprehensive system of continuous related markings, and have been useless as guides on trunk line maps.

County highways running north and south, (as was decided at a recent meeting, are to be marked with odd numbers. Highways running east and west will be designated by even numbers.

AUTO NEWS.

On a full automatic advance system with which the owner has no opportunity to alter the time of ignition, it is necessary to be over conservative on the degree of advance so that the motor will not "ping" under exceptional load such as a high gear pull up a steep hill or through heavy mud. This retarded spark condition causes loss of power, sluggishness, and the motor will run hotter than it would if the spark were more fully advanced.

With the semi-automatic advance the spark will occur just below the "ping" point where the greatest power efficiency and fuel economy will be secured. All of the higher priced cars are designed with the semi-automatic or manual spark advance systems and this system has been adopted on the Plymouth car as a step in providing the best possible performance under any operating conditions.

Hudson is Now an Eight.

And its makers, with a confidence born of 22 years successful experience, are emphatic in their claim that the Hudson Great Eight is an entirely new type in motordom. Prices will be in the well known Hudson range.

Power with economy and without the penalty of over-weighted mechanism is provided by the new Great Eight motor, designed to give the maximum in smooth, quiet performance.

Years of experimentation have preceded the introduction of what Hudson engineers believe to be the maximum performance standards possible in an eight cylinder car, and eight cylinder Hudsons have been tested under every possible condition—using the highways as their testing grounds—for the past two years.

The car is ultra-modern, not only in its Great Eight performance standards but in its roominess, body lines and down to the last detail of upholstery, fittings and appointments. The modernistic motif, though carefully restrained, is apparent from the first glance at the new models.

There are ten body types. The Coach, Sedan, Coupé, Phaeton, Roadster, and Sun Sedan are on the 119 inch chassis; the larger, 126 inch chassis, carries the touring Sedan, 7-passenger Sedan, Brougham, and 7-passenger Phaeton body types.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m. Subject: "God."

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only. Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services. "Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 28.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee" (Isa. 60:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reappearing in all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God" (p. 271).

TARIFF THE ISSUE

The tariff will continue the big issue of the present session of Congress.

But you hear but little about it in the public places. Go anywhere you will, at meetings, or any place where a group is gathered together and no one talks about the tariff on this or that.

Most likely the main topic of conversation will be the recent debacle in Wall Street, or conjectures on President Hoover's ability to marshal the financial agencies of the nation for a full return to prosperity.

Yet most of us in a general way know that the tariff will help any industry that it is designed to help. Some industries are in a position where they can figure to a dollar how much a tariff raise will give them.

The whole proposition relative to the tariff and agriculture is an abstract one. Some farmers are, however, not so abstract. Other farmers are finding, to some of them, a government annuity would be of no value. In the meantime the Federal Farm Board, appointed by President Hoover under the farm bill passed by the special session, are working steadily ahead to provide better marketing machinery for the farmer and hence a better return for the things he has to sell.

This new board is expected to do more for him than a new tariff—even a tariff confined to farm products.

But the farmer who adopts himself to the principle of protection for farm products, should concede that such a principal is right and raise no objection to the laying of tariffs for the benefit of any other section of industry.

Having listened a little to Fire Prevention talk last week the average citizen of Charlevoix is ready to forget about it until next year.

PAINFUL CORNS

Louise—Lift Out
A little known fact is that the corn is an infection of the skin. It is not a wart, as many people think. It is a growth of the skin, and it is caused by the friction of the shoe. It is a painful condition, and it is best to get it removed as soon as possible. The "Lift Out" is a simple and effective method of removing corns. It is a small, white, rubbery disc that is placed over the corn. It lifts the corn up, and it is then easy to remove. It is a simple and effective method of removing corns. EXTERNALLY

When Vicks VapoRub was introduced, mothers especially were quick to appreciate it, because it is just rubbed on and cannot upset children's delicate stomachs, as "dosing" is apt to do. Of course it is equally good for adults.

Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing," and the demand for Vicks has grown until it is necessary to again raise the figures in the famous slogan. There are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

BREEZY POINT HAS HIGH HERD

COWS SHOW HIGHEST PRODUCTION FOR NOVEMBER.

Other Records Shown in Monthly Report of Charlevoix County Cow-Testing Assn.

The high herd for the month of November is owned by the Breezy Point farm of Ironton. Their herd of nine pure-bred Holsteins produced an average of 30.4 pounds of butterfat and 932 pounds of milk. A very close second was the herd of 6 grade Guernseys owned by Clyde Clute of Boyne City, whose average was 30.1 pounds of butterfat and 688 pounds of milk. Walter Heilman of East Jordan, with his herd of 6 grade Guernseys was third with an average of 24.5 pounds of butterfat and 532 pounds of milk.

In the two-year-old class, Earl Danforth of East Jordan, ranks first with a grade Guernsey that produced 41.3 pounds of butterfat and 891 pounds of milk. Dan Swanson, also of East Jordan, ranks second with a grade Jersey that produced 39.7 pounds of butterfat and 903 pounds of milk. Earl Danforth also owns the third high cow in this class. She is a grade Holstein that produced 39.2 pounds of butterfat and 981 pounds of milk.

In the three-year-old class, another grade Holstein owned by Earl Danforth ranks first with a production of 43.0 pounds of butterfat and 1,074 pounds of milk. 39.2 pounds of butterfat and 1,059 pounds of milk is the record produced by the second high cow in this class, a grade Guernsey owned by Clyde Clute. Irving Crawford is the owner of a three-year-old grade Guernsey that produced 37.0 pounds of butterfat and 810 pounds of milk, a record entitling her to third place.

Ecklund Bros. of Charlevoix, own a grade Holstein that produced a record of 44.6 pounds of butterfat and 1,239 pounds of milk, which entitles her to first place in the four-year-old class. The second four-year-old, a grade Guernsey owned by Irving Crawford, produced 42.1 pounds of butterfat and 762 pounds of milk. Another grade Guernsey owned by Clyde Clute holds third place with a record of 36.6 pounds of butterfat and 729 pounds of milk.

Earl Danforth owns a mature cow, a grade Holstein, that produced the high record in her class for the month. Her production was 54.0 pounds of butterfat and 1,173 pounds of milk. William Withers of the Marion Center Dairy, Charlevoix, has the second high cow in this class, a pure-bred Holstein that produced 46.6 pounds of butterfat and 1,227 pounds of milk. The third high cow is owned by the Breezy Point farm, producing 46.6 pounds of butterfat and 1,227 pounds of milk.

MORE ARRESTED
UNDER GAME LAWS

November Violations is Largest of Any on Record Thus Far.

Violations of the game laws of the state during the month of November established an all-time high mark for any month since the records were tabulated. Edward Hyer, head of the educational division of the department of conservation, announces. There were 691 convictions reported to the department during the month. Of the total, three were juvenile offenders. Sentences imposed as a result of the convictions were 1,120 days and fines amounting to $19,199 were collected.

The greatest classification of offenses was that of illegal trapping or possession of muskrat skins for which 90 persons were convicted. There were 65 hunters who ran afoul of the law because they carried loaded guns illegally into deer areas and 60 other were penalized for carrying loaded guns in autos. Untagged or improperly tagged deer brought 40 offenders to grief.

Other of major offenses and the number of them were illegal possession of dogs, 20; illegal possession of fawns, 13; beaver trapping, 15; molesting muskrat houses or holes, 9; shipping fur without a permit, 4; and shooting in game refuges, 1.

PLENTY OF BUCKS
SHOWN BY REPORT

does; Mason, Lake, Osceola, Nowyaga and Mecosta counties, one buck to 1.5 does; and Clare, Isabella and Midland counties, one buck to 1.5 does.

While nobody knows what the safe ratio is, deer are known to be highly polygamous and authorities seem to agree that one buck to five does should be safe.

The results of the tally indicate that we still have a generous supply of bucks and that the fawn crop is holding up in good shape; but to make sure of the essential facts, further checking up of our deer affairs is planned by the game division.

PRETTY WEDDING SOL-EMNIZED HERE FRIDAY

Miss Marguerite Gimble Becomes the Bride of Charlotte Young Man.

Amid pretty decorations of cut flowers and potted plants Miss Marguerite Gimble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory D. Gimble, was united in marriage to L. Emerson Shindler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shindler of Charlotte, Michigan, at the home of the bride's parents on State street, Friday afternoon at five o'clock.

Rev. John E. Lockyer of the Methodist church performed the ceremony before a small gathering of relatives and out-of-town guests. Attending the bridal couple were Mrs. Eliza Penn of Charlotte, sister of the groom, and Vernon Gimble of this city, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a six o'clock wedding dinner was served to the bridal party. Table decorations of golden candles and placecards of the same color were very pretty. A feature of the dinner was a large pink and white Danish wedding cake, made and presented by Mrs. S. O. Sorenson. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Vern Gimble of Big Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. George Penn of Charlotte.

Following a week's honeymoon in the southern part of the state, the happy couple will return to Charlevoix. Their many friends here join in extending congratulations.

IRON MOUNTAIN HAS PRIZE HUNTING YARN

Guy Who Shot Up His Own Car "Wins the Furlined Derby."

Iron Mountain claims the best deer story that came out of the woods during the recent hunting season. And the yarn is all true to be a true one at that.

An employee of the local Ford plant drove to the woods for a day's hunting, parked his car along a brush bordered road and because the day was cold, with a brisk wind blowing, he covered the radiator with a heavy brown blanket.

When the blanket was properly tucked in he picked up his rifle and walked away into the timber. A short distance from the road he halted to look around, and off at one side he caught a glimpse through the thickets of a moving patch of brown.

At his first shot the patch continued to move so he let go again, and then bent on firing as long as the brown object continued to move. Finally he walked over to inspect his kill and found that most of his shots had gone true through the radiator, hood and windshield of his car.—Grand Rapids Press.

LARGE BARN IS BURNED TUESDAY

Five Horses and Twelve Head of Cattle Were Lost.

One of the largest barns in Emmet county went up in smoke early Christmas morning, when the frame building on the Wolfe Galinsky farm two miles south of the city on US-131 burned to the ground.

Five horses and twelve head of cattle perished in the flames, while one pony and three cattle escaped death by running out a door which was opened by nearby neighbors.

Charles Macey, local buyer, who rented the place from the Galinsky estate administrator, in addition to losing five horses and twelve cattle, had 150 tons of hay and a considerable amount of oats, rye and wheat stored in the building, all of which were consumed.

The building was last visited the evening before when the ordinary chores were attended to, the cause of the fire being a mystery, although thought to be due to someone breaking in during the night.

The barn and contents were both partially insured.—Petoskey Evening News.

GAYLORD IS LENDING
AID TO ITS NEIGHBOR

Industrial Slump at Vanderbilt Brings Residents in Want.

A fine spirit of neighborly cooperation is expressed in the following article taken from the Otsego County Herald-Times, Gaylord:

"Editors Note—Since the closing of the factory at Vanderbilt several weeks ago, many people of Vanderbilt are in need, and will continue to be so until the factory opens again. Entire families are without clothing, food or fuel, and many men are out cutting wood for a few cents a day to keep soul and body together.

"In fact, there is greater need now than ever before, especially among children, and though no call for help has gone out, what better thing could Gaylord do than come to the assistance of these people? For many months each year for many years Vanderbilt people have contributed very largely to the success of local business concerns, spending a large share of their wages here. Gaylord now has the opportunity to reciprocate, and something should be done. Who will start it?"

sprained ankle. Elk Rapids had the tip from center throughout the contest and, without that advantage, the local teamplay was not so effective.

Cooper and Davenport led the Polar Bears for scoring honors with 10 points each. Ikens marked up four field goals in the first period, but failed to score after that. Novak, Marshall and Kipke each had one basket to their credit. Hugh Mayne, who refereed the contest, showed himself to be a capable official.

"AUNT LUCIA" TO BE STAGED HERE SOON

OVER ONE HUNDRED LOCAL PEOPLE IN CAST.

Presentation of Famous Comedy at Gymnasium Next Thursday and Friday Evenings.

On next Thursday and Friday nights, January 10 and 11, the famous collegiate comedy will be staged at the high school gymnasium under the auspices of the Literary and Sewing Club. It promises to be one of the biggest home talent shows ever staged in this community and includes a cast of over 100 local people.

It is a burlesque comedy of American college life and has a number of hilarious comedy spots. This show has been staged through the middle west with tremendous success whenever played. Those who have seen the show claim that no one can afford to miss it. The show is a story of the homecoming of Bula Bula College and is collegiate in every way. Besides the play proper, it has a number of special features.

The play proper deals with the story of the homecoming at Bula Bula College. The setting of the show is a fraternity drawing room. The whole story revolves around the school anxiously awaiting the arrival of an old maid aunt, Lucia Wakefield, who is worth fifty million dollars and who plans to give the college a large sum of money. She is to be the honored guest at the homecoming, and is an aunt to one of the girls, Betsy. Jerry Watson, played by Fay Bradley, one of the college boys, with the help of his two roommates, George and Dick, played by George Beeman and Walter Bergeon, dresses himself as an old lady for the entertainment of his fellow fraternity brothers. While dressed in this outfit, he was mistaken by Prof. Guldus, played by O. P. North, and Dean Howard, played by Phil Armstrong, as the real Lucia Wakefield from Florida, and they introduce him to the others as such. Once in this dilemma, it was impossible for him to explain without getting in bad, so he is carried on throughout the story masquerading as Lucia Wakefield, when in reality he is only Jerry Watson.

Around this character playing the part of the fake Aunt Lucia, all the fun and comical situations of the play develop. Prof. Gaddis and Mr. Collins, played by H. R. Fowler, and the Butter and Egg Man of Omaha, played by A. C. Belding, all fall in love with this fake Lucia Wakefield and try to marry her. Their proposals are flowery, insistent and very funny. Instantly Jerry finds himself playing the part of an old lady, makes love to the other boys, girls, and generally adds to the comedy of the play. Dean Howard, the old maid school teacher, and Prof. Gaddis, the old bachelor, who have been lovers for thirty years, finally come together and are married, only after the professor finds that Lucia Wakefield was only a man. In the end, the real Lucia Wakefield in Florida, wires the necessary amount of money for the building of the college stadium, and Jerry, who has been the fake aunt, wins back his girl, who had stepped out with the college sheik. Besides these characters, there are

CONSERVATION GROUP REFUSES TO DOLE OUT RICH HUNTING LANDS

The state conservation commission last Friday went on record as vigorously opposed to the loss of further public lands in rich hunting areas. H. K. Gustin of Alpena claimed that under an old agreement he was entitled to about 1,200 acres of state land in Alpena county in the neighborhood of the Turtle Lake club. Asserting that a former commission "welched" on the agreement, he asked that the state authorize the acceptance of an equal number of acres he owns in other locations in exchange for the property near the club.

W. H. Loutch, executive chairman of the commission, George Hogarth, director, and Commissioner Harold Titus replied hotly that they could find no record of a contract with Gustin. All declared they are opposed to disposing of any state tracts in territory like that adjacent to the Turtle Lake club, and are in favor of enlarging public shooting grounds in such fertile territory. The commission refused to consider Gustin's claim.

two college girls, friends of George and Dick, Betsy and Molly, played by Helen French and Jaunita Secord. Jerry's girl, Ethelyn, is Mrs. Ray Kipke. Also, there is the college president, Dr. Seamore, played by Pete Bulow, and Mrs. Seamore, played by Mrs. Frank Bird, who all add to the dignity of the cast.

The two freshman comedy parts played by Ty Kirby and Aubrey Block are also very good. Other characters of the cast are Glee Club President played by Harker Kirby, and Fraternity President played by Earl Shapton. All in all it is a collegiate plot, with the great many comical situations which are hilarious from start to finish.

Besides the play proper, there are a number of special features in the show. The college glee club, portrayed by twenty-five business men, open the show and give a lot of entertainment. The famous flapper chorus of the Sig-sig-a-rette Sorority is one of the high spots of the show. The flapper chorus consists of thirty-six business men who portray famous college girls, types such as Sorority President, Teacher's Pet, Baby Face, etc. The opening of the show is featured by a curtain raiser, the big Baby Pageant with children ages 5 to 8. The special dramatic reader, Mrs. (Continued on page 6.)

CHEVROLET HAS EIGHT NEW CARS

1930 SHOWING INCLUDES THREE NEW MODELS.

First Showing is Made Saturday at Chevrolet Auto Sales—Engine, Brakes, Tires Changed.

A new Chevrolet in which new refinements and additions have been made, was announced today by Manager Wm. L. Zerhes, of the Chevrolet Auto Sales, local Chevrolet dealers. First showings of the new models were made on the floors of the agency Saturday.

Chief among the features of the new car are increase in the tire size, small wheels, Delco-Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers at all four wheels, Fisher slanting non-glare VV windshield and vastly improved 4-wheel braking system.

Brakes of the internal expanding "articulated shoe type" both front and rear, those on the front wheels having two shoes while those on the rear have four. These brakes also are fully enclosed giving perfect protection against water and dirt. The brakes may be readjusted without the removal of any plates from the brake drum and operate with equal efficiency on all four wheels.

Eight models, three of which are new to the Chevrolet, comprise the line. Of the eight, five are closed cars and three are open. The closed cars are the sedan, coupe, coupe, sport coupe, and club sedan. The open models are the roadster, sport roadster and phaeton. The models new to the line this year are the sport coupe, sport roadster and club sedan.

The result of the efforts of this engineering talent is a smoother, quieter, more powerful motor. The new engine, fully enclosed, with a high compression non-detonating head, develops 50 horse power.

RED AND WHITE TRIM CHEBOYGAN

TAKES FRIDAY'S CONTEST FROM CLASS B SCHOOL.

Bill Novak Individual Star of Game, Scoring 16 of Charlevoix's Total Points.

Coach Kipke's basketball eagles gave their followers somewhat of a surprise party last Friday night when they upset the class B Cheboygan five by an 18 to 15 count. The contest was played on Cheboygan's court, and was billed as a practice game for the northerners prior to their tilt with the Harbor Springs champions. The game was also an extra one on Charlevoix's schedule, inasmuch as it was taken on to fill in a gap during the holiday season.

Charlevoix's victory was the result of a last quarter spurt. They had trailed Cheboygan up until near the end of the third period, which ended with Kipke's men one point in the lead. Cheboygan had a comfortable margin up until that time.

Both teams got away to a slow start and the contest, during the early periods, was sluggish and slow. Charlevoix was greatly handicapped by Cheboygan's low ceiling court, and their man-to-man defense kept the home boys pretty well covered. Charlevoix trailed 7 to 4 at the quarter and 13 to 6 at the half. With the exception of Novak, who slipped away to make three close shots, none of Kipke's men were able to score.

During the third period, Novak ran in four field goals while Cheboygan was being held scoreless. His tallies put the Red and White in the lead 14 to 13. The struggle during this period was exceptionally fast, as was also the final quarter in which Charlevoix managed to outscore Cheboygan 4 points to 3, thereby maintaining their advantage to win the contest.

Novak was by far the outstanding player of the contest. He accounted for 16 of Charlevoix's 18 points. McColl made the other field goal in the fourth period.

Charlevoix's victory Friday night gave them three wins in four starts. They have defeated Ellsworth, Pellston and Cheboygan, the losing game being dropped to Traverse City.

DERENZY-BLAKE WED. DING LAST SATURDAY

Ceremony Performed Near East Jordan; Couple Go to Tampa, Fla.

A pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday morning at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Starks, near East Jordan, when Miss Velma A. Derenzy of Bellaire, was united in marriage to S. F. Blake, who, until last week, was butcher at the A. & P. store here.

The couple were attended by Miss Nina Harper and Phillip Brecheisen, both of this city. Rev. Starks performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Blake left immediately after the wedding for Flint and Detroit, where they will make short visits to friends and relatives before going on to Tampa, Florida, their future home.

TRAGEDY VISITED CITY SUNDAY

7-YEAR-OLD BOY DROWNED IN WATERS OF ROUND LAKE.

Coasted Off Booth's Dock While Riding Hand-Sled—Accident Is a Sinister Warning.

Tragedy visited Charlevoix last Sunday afternoon, leaving in its wake, the bereaved parents of a 7-year-old boy drowned while at play in the waters of Round Lake and striking fear into the hearts of other parents in our city.

The accident marked the first local drowning of the 1930 season and took the life of DeLeon Smith, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Smith. As near as can be figured, the drowning took place around 3:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Together with other young companions, the lad was coasting down the hill along side of Booth Fisheries Co. packing house on the south side of Round Lake. On the fatal ride, Dee evidently lost control of his sled and plunged off the dock into several feet of water in the slip east of Booth's dock.

The lad's companion ran for help, first going to the Leo Powers residence on the south hill, then to the home of Frank Smith, the boy's grandfather. Men from Cross' net house were also called, and when the grandfather arrived on the scene, these men were already there. The body was probably in the water 15 or 20 minutes before removed and the boy was pronounced dead by the physician summoned.

Coast guards worked steadily for a couple of hours in an attempt to revive the boy, but their efforts were without avail.

Besides his parents, the lad is survived by a brother 14 years old.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the Frank Smith residence on May street. Rev. W. H. Rauch of the Baptist church will officiate. Interment at Brookside cemetery.

Sunday's tragedy is a sinister warning to Charlevoix parents. Coasting on hills towards Round lake is dangerous enough even when the lake is covered with ice to say nothing of when there is open water.

MEN'S CLUB MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

Rollie L. Lewis Gave Interesting Talk on Crime Conditions.

The Community Men's Club opened their series of winter meetings at the Methodist church Monday evening with a fair attendance.

Rollie L. Lewis, county prosecuting attorney, was the speaker of the evening. He gave an interesting talk on crime conditions in Charlevoix county and remedies therefor.

A. J. Stelter will give the talk next Monday evening, using as his topic, "The World's Largest Packers." Miss Sylvia Black is planning the menu, which will feature baked ham and candied sweet potatoes, so we hear.

BRIDGE PARTY DELIGHTFUL EVENT LAST FRIDAY

Mrs. N. A. Shores, Mrs. William Taylor and Mrs. George W. Weaver were joint hostesses at a bridge party given at the Shores home on Dixn avenue last Friday afternoon. Eleven tables were in play, prizes going to Mrs. Robert Bridge and Miss Helen Armstrong. Delightful refreshments were a feature of the affair.

CHARLEVOIX DEBATES MACKINAW CITY HERE

Negative Team to Present Argument Friday Evening.

The Charlevoix debating squad will entertain the Mackinaw squad at the high school assembly hall, Friday evening, January 10.

This is the third and last home debate of the season. The two preceding debates were with East Jordan here November 15, and Cheboygan there December 5. The last debate of the preliminary series will be out of town.

The question for debate this year is: Resolved, "That a judges or board of judges shall be substituted for the jury in all state and municipal courts of Michigan." This is a question of wide interest to the public and they are everywhere showing that interest by the increased attendance at the debates.

Charlevoix will uphold the negative side of the question Friday evening with Charles Cellner, Mr. Jorie Manley and Wesley Manley, first, second and third speakers respectively. The judges will be two from Boyne City and one from East Jordan, and indications point toward the best debate of the season.

"BELIEVE THIS OR NOT": IT IS TRUE

POLAR BEARS BEAT NASHVILLE BY 75 TO 0 SCORE.

Barry County Team Failed to Tally a Point in Game Held Here Tuesday Evening.

In the best comedy witnessed here in the past decade, the Charlevoix Polar Bears won their seventh straight victory Tuesday evening from the Nashville All-Stars basketball combination. In view of the 75 to 0 score, the contest would be good material for the "Believe It or Not" column, for it is difficult to imagine a team winning by such an overwhelming score in any basketball game.

Nashville didn't get over a dozen shots at the basket during the entire contest, and those were from outside the foul line. They put on the poorest performance ever witnessed on the local court. They had no team work, handled the ball like it weighed a ton, and handled themselves like a bunch of kids. Frankly speaking, it was a disgrace to the sport for the Nashville bunch to even call themselves a basketball team and parade around the state as such.

The overwhelming score Charlevoix piled up is little credit to them, for they had no opposition. The score at the quarter was 17 to 0, at the half 37 to 0, at the third period 53 to 0, and the final count 75 to 0. Up until the end of the third period when he was taken out, Max Novak counted 33 points. Brown and Gimble each made 10, Cooper 8, Marshall 6, Daveaport and Kipke each 4. Nashville did not have punch enough to make a foul, so there was only one called during the game.

Tuesday night's contest had an outstanding significance. A packed house paid good money to see a basketball game. They went away disappointed. Some left at the half, others later. The standing of teams should be investigated thoroughly before given a contract, for another break like the one Tuesday night won't do independent basketball any good.

The Polar Bears meet two worthy foes next Tuesday evening. The second team opens a double bill against the Ellsworth Independents, and the first team take on Gaylord in the main contest.

YOUNG FOLKS ENTERTAINED AT MORANS

Dolightful Pedro Party Given Last Thursday Evening.

Mrs. Percy J. Moran gave a delightful party to a group of young people at her home on Clinton street Thursday evening for her son, Pat, and David Coulter.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing Pedro, followed by refreshments. Prizes at cards were won by Miss Esther Chase and Mary Margaret Orlovski for the girls, and by George Bergman and Phillip Brecheisen for the boys. Six tables were in play.

BOYS SHOWING DADS HOW TO GROW SPUDS

MEMBERS OF POTATO CLUB MAKE FINE RECORDS.

Use Certified and Treated Seed, Plenty of Fertilizer and Get Bumper Crops.

How much does it cost to raise a hushel of potatoes? What is the relationship between the yield per acre and net profit? What profit do you make per acre? Will it pay to use fertilizer? Honestly, how many farmers can answer these questions accurately? Well anyway the members of the potato club can tell you and tell you accurately, for 17 reports have been received and all are complete. Is it not rather significant that it remains for these young farmers to show the data?

Each member planted 11 hushels of high quality certified seed, used fertilizer at the rate of 500 pounds to the acre, and treated the seed before planting. Does it pay? The reports prove that it does pay to use the best seed obtainable; that it pays to fertilize and to treat the seed.

For the most part each field was thoroughly sprayed during the growing season.

With one exception each member planted approximately one-half acre. An average was taken of all the reports with the startling information given herewith: The average size plot was .488 of an acre; the average yield was 205.5 hushels on an acre basis; the value was $117.66; the expense and costs were $52.20, which gave each of these young farmers a net profit of $65.46 on a half acre. How many hushels of potatoes did you raise per acre? How many? If these 17 boys can, why can't you? The average yield of potatoes for the entire county is in round figures 11.0 hushels.

Another interesting comparison was made which amply brings out the fact that the higher the yield per acre the greater the profits and the cheaper the cost of production. The five highest yields were compared with the five lowest with the following results:

The five highest—
Average size.....	.605
Yield per acre.....	288.5
Gross value.....	$206.41
Cost.....	$66.78
Profit.....	$139.63
Cost per bushel (percent).....	37.2
The five lowest—
Average size.....	.439
Yield per acre.....	120.3
Gross value.....	$55.19
Cost.....	$51.16
Profit.....	4.01
Cost per bushel (percent).....	95.4
The difference—
Yield per acre.....	168.2
Gross value.....	$151.22
Cost.....	15.62
Profit.....	135.62
Cost per bushel (percent).....	58.2

It will be noted that the five highest made an average of $139.63 profit while the five lowest made only $4.01 clear, after a summer of hard work.

What made the great difference between net profits? Nothing except that 168 hushels larger production per acre. It only cost $15.62 more to make the extra hushels, but just see how many they represented. When all is said and done the surest way of making a good income is to cut the cost of production by increasing the yields per acre and this form of farm relief is 100 per cent permanent.

Several outstanding accomplishments— (Continued from page 3.)

THE WEEK'S WEATHER

The following temperatures for the week from Wednesday, January 1, to Tuesday, January 7, inclusive, are furnished through the courtesy of the U. S. Coast Guard station:

Thursday.....	34	32
Friday.....	28	20
Saturday.....	26	20
Sunday.....	40	24
Monday.....	44	40
Tuesday.....	32	22

The past week has been one of unusually high winter temperatures. Sunday was like a beautiful autumn day. Snow had disappeared rapidly and only one day last week did the temperature go below freezing. Forecasts of 15 degrees below weather Monday have failed to materialize and this region is still enjoying mild mid-winter weather.

ALL HANDS ON DECK.

If you heard that command on shipboard you wouldn't lose any time taking your place on deck.

And you would obey the captain's orders, even if your own life was needed as a sacrifice to save the vessel.

President Hoover is commander of our great ship of state. As a citizen you are a member of the crew.

He has called all hands on deck and all that he asks you to do is to go to work. Certainly not much of a hardship in following out such an order.

When nearly two million people quit work to engage in speculation of all kinds the economic loss to the country was tremendous. No wonder there had to come a day of reckoning.

But your ship and my ship is going to ride safely through the storm—have no fear about that. The present situation serves as a warning to watch closely for dangerous shoals in the future.

All that we need to do during 1930 is to give the best there is in us. Work, always a salvation, is America's best friend. Let's have plenty of it during the next twelve months.

FOR THE NEW YEAR.

At this season of the year when the making of resolutions is a subject close to the heart of most everyone, a few pledges suggested by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association are especially appropriate. What comes closer happiness than health? And what is more true than the fact that health in nine cases out of ten, is lost or preserved as the individual himself regards it?

All of us might then fore consider with profit the proposed resolutions—and resemble as they may the words of a child's copy book, we might remember in considering them that a child's rosy health comes through good food, long hours of sleep, plenty of out of doors play, and frequent medical and dental attention.

If you would enjoy a child's good health, then promise yourself to:
Secure an annual medical examination.

Get plenty of outdoor exercise, in winter as well as summer.

Sleep eight hours each night in a well ventilated room.

Eat slowly, wholesome and digestible food.

Visit the dentist at least once a year.

Always eat, work and play in moderation.

SOME IMPROVEMENT.

A more prosperous condition for agriculture is indicated by the fact that foreclosure of farms are constantly decreasing. During the last year in which records have been made, approximately 20 farms out of every thousand were foreclosed, sold for delinquent taxes or otherwise went into default. This number was considerably less than in the previous year when 24 farms out of every thousand were lost. Land values also declined in the last year reported upon by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture through the decrease in the northwest states was very small.

A good value for farm lands, however, is out of the question as long as a large acreage of foreclosed land remains on the market. It is, however, encouraging to note the movement toward additional sales of land and the prospect that there is soon to be a market for most land at some value. Those who are best informed state that this condition is approaching.

HERBERT F. BAKER DIED ON SATURDAY

Prominent in Michigan Republican Affairs, Former House Speaker.

Herbert F. Baker, prominent Michigan Republican and former secretary of the state department of labor and industry, died Saturday at his farm home near Cheboygan. The end was caused by cerebral hemorrhage following several years of throat ailments. He had been seriously ill for a number of weeks, but lately was believed to be improving.

Mr. Baker, one time Republican candidate for nomination for governor, served as speaker of the house of representatives in the 46th Michigan state legislature in 1911. He served in various public offices in his home county and for the state and his word bore considerable weight in party councils.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.

Subject, "Sacrament."

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, January 5.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest" (Ex. 33:14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Divine Being must be reflected by man,—else man is not the image and likeness of the patient, tender and true, the One 'altogether lovely'; but to understand God is the work of eternity and demands absolute consecration of thought, energy, and desire" (p. 3).

We wish to express our appreciation to friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness and assistance rendered during our recent bereavement. Mrs. Elizabeth Powell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Olney. Adv. 21f.

Adding New Beauty to Outstanding Performance

New Ford bodies, in beautiful new colors, now on display

The Model A Ford was a good car when it was first introduced. It has constantly been made a better car. As soon as improvements are found and tested they are passed on to the public. That work goes steadily on.

Now comes the time when another forward step can be taken and this policy of constant improvement given still further expression. Today, a new line of Ford bodies are on display by Ford dealers.

The introduction of these new Ford bodies is of interest to every motorist. In flowing grace of line and contour—in the carefully planned harmony of every detail of design—they set a new high standard for a low-priced car.

A new, fresh beauty has thus been placed within the means of every one.

All of the new Ford bodies are finished in a variety of beautiful colors, with bright Rustless Steel head lamps, radiator shell, hub caps, tail lamp and cowl finish strip. All have roomy interiors. All bring you the safety, comfort, power, speed, acceleration, ease of control, economy and long-lived reliability that have given the Model A Ford such a high place in the regard of millions of motorists.

Set apart a little while today to see these new Ford bodies. You will be particularly interested in the manner in which new beauty has been added to outstanding performance. In appearance, as in mechanical construction, craftsmanship has been put into mass production.

ELLSWORTH GIRL DIED IN LOCAL HOSPITAL

Death brought grief to the home of J. G. Drenth for the second time in two years, when Etta, the little nine-year-old daughter, was called home on Tuesday, December 31.

The little girl was removed to the hospital early Tuesday morning where she submitted to an operation for appendicitis, which revealed a ruptured appendix.

CORRESPONDENCE

BARNARD

School began again on Monday, after the holiday vacation.

The Ladies' Aid Society met this Wednesday with Mrs. Burns.

The snow plow was up and plowed the state road out on Monday.

Henry Potter and family spent New Years day at the Tom Klooster home near Ellsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clark of Charlevoix, were visitors at the Howard Gornell home on Monday.

Mrs. John Dhaseler was called to Beaver Island last week on account of the serious illness of her father.

Minnie Gornell and Dorothy Smith visited Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Genett of the Hilton neighborhood on Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and children spent New Years day at the home of Rev. Stanford in Ellsworth. Mary Smith remained until Sunday to visit, Effie Stanford.

John Smith received the news recently that his brother, Albert Smith, had passed away in Sonora, California. He will be remembered as an old resident of Norwood, having moved west about 2 1-2 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. George Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burns, Ed. Boss and son, John, were all recent visitors at the George Ball home near Levering. More recent news tells us that Mr. Ball is very seriously ill with pneumonia and little hope is entertained for his recovery.

News was received from Detroit that Frank Smith had sustained a serious accident when he fell from the third story of a building he was working. Several bones were broken and he was badly bruised, but is getting along as well as can be expected, although it will be some time before he will be able to work again.

NORWOOD

H. A. Craig of Charlevoix, was a business caller in our locality one day last week.

The county plowed out the road through Norwood last Thursday. Many thanks.

Mrs. Clarence Heise and daughter, Beth, called on Mrs. Heise's parents last Thursday.

Mr. Coeling of Ellsworth, was a business caller in this vicinity Monday, buying cattle.

Many of our local citizens remained at home by their own hearth-fire for New Years day.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Beard of Petoskey, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Dice.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Pearl and family of Charlevoix, also Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wagner and family of Norwood, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Stafford on New Years day.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kirby entertained a group of young folks Saturday evening in honor of their son Nelson's 15th birthday. The party enjoyed coasting, after which refreshments were served and games played.

Mr. and Mrs. John Light and their son Oscar, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Miles and son of East Jordan, also Mr. and Mrs. George Light and son, George, of Charlevoix, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson.

Word has reached Norwood folks of the death of Albert Smith, which occurred Dec. 9 in California. Mr. Smith for many years owned and conducted a farm one-half mile south of Norwood. Four years ago he sold it to E. W. Publow. After visiting relatives and friends at various points in Michigan, he moved west.

CHEVROLET

Today

- Chevrolet announces

THE GREATEST CHEVROLET IN CHEVROLET HISTORY

Today, Chevrolet presents the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History—a smoother, faster, better Six—with beautiful new bodies by Fisher.

Basically, it is the same sturdy, substantial Six which won such tremendous popularity in 1929. But it is a greater car in every way—for there are scores of vital improvements which contribute to comfort, performance, endurance and safety!

An Improved six-cylinder valve-in-head motor, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower; four Delco-Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers; fully-enclosed internal-expanding weather-proof brakes; a new dash gasoline gauge; heavier and stronger rear axle; new Fisher non-glare windshield; larger tires—

—these are typical of the many improvements which make this car the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History.

But most impressive of all—this smoother, faster, better Six has been made available—at greatly reduced prices!

During 1929, more than a million three hundred thousand persons bought six-cylinder Chevrolets. This enormous volume has made possible many savings in the Chevrolet factories—and, in keeping with its long-established policy, Chevrolet is sharing these savings with the public. No written description can do justice to the extra value and quality provided in this new car. Visit your Chevrolet dealer—see this car—ride in it—and judge for yourself its sensational value.

WASHINGTON NEWS
LETTER.

Good Will to Men.

From the Old World to the New World—and from the New to the Old—Christmas Greetings! Not by the unusual, unexciting cards and letters were these messages sent, but by an entirely new method, that of radio-casting. Christmas melodies and greetings from Germany, England and Holland sounded in the homes of America on December 25th, while our program of celebration reached the ears of numerous Dutchmen, Britons and Germans.

This is the first time that natives of Europe residing in this country have had the exquisite pleasure of actually hearing the cherished Christmas melodies of their homeland sung by their own people at a season when memories of what lies beyond the waters are strongest. Our people abroad had a like treat in this wondrous American jazz over the Atlantic to them. The programs came to America over the network of the National Broadcasting Company. They lasted for about three hours, and the clear weather made reception almost perfect. Holland, England and Germany also reported hearing our programs very distinctly.

Although months of effort had been expended to make the broadcasting feat the success it was, it is felt that the future significance of the results is more important than the actual accomplishment, as they demonstrated the possibilities of broadcasting international programs. King George's speech at the opening of the London Naval Conference is the next important feature to be relayed around the world via radio.

Our Naughty Senate.

The announced purpose of Senator Reed Smoot of Utah to read in executive session various passages from imported books banned by customs officials has given news writers cues for such headlines as "Reed Smoot to Read Smut" and "Smoot to Spend Christmas with Smut." The inference is that our Puritanical Senators are not unwilling to expose themselves to liberal and realistic literature as long as they can prohibit it to the common herd. Like all reformers, perhaps they thank God that they are not as other men.

This incident recalls which occurred during the debate on the Cutting Amendment to the tariff bill which would do away with the arbitrary power of collectors of customs to ban so-called "obscene books." A far-western senator, while delivering a plea for liberal-mindedness, remarked that he had in his possession a book which had been formally banned by customs officials. The forbidden volume was out-spoken but excellent, he stated, and he would be glad to lend it to any of his colleagues. Soon after the vote on the amendment was taken, a mid-western senator, who had spoken against the entry of such books was seen to stroll over to the first senator's desk. After a short colloquy, the liberal senator reached into his desk and handed the conservative a volume which he held hold of and took back to his place.

Adults, Too, Prefer
"No Dosing" for Colds

Millions Adopt External Remedy
Made Famous As Treatment
For Children's Colds

A generation ago, when Vicks VapoRub was originated, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Mothers of young children especially have been quick to appreciate this better, external method of treating colds, because there's nothing to swallow and, of course, nothing to upset the little ones' delicate stomachs. Year by year more and more adults, too, have found Vicks equally good for their own colds.

Just rubbed on, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster; and, at the same time, it releases medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages.

Ever-increasing demand for this better method of treating colds is shown in the familiar Vicks slogan: "Made famous when Vicks reached 17 Million Jars Used Yearly"—later raised to "21 Million"—there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

with him. Some gallery observers smiled and shrugged shoulders. "Just another of these little congressional inconsistencies, you know."

Politics This Week.

Is there something significant in the fact that two members of the Senate Finance Committee have this year been designated as ambassadors to foreign countries? Former Senator Walter Edge of New Jersey departed recently to take up his post in France, and Senator Frederic Sackett of Kentucky will go to Germany shortly as our ambassador. But perhaps it is only natural and proper that anyone who has sat on the majority membership of the powerful finance committee where the belief is firmly grounded that "we are all the people in the world" should be given the opportunity to develop a more international psychology.

The last appointment, that of Senator Sackett as ambassador to Germany, has a double significance. It solves a political problem in Kentucky that promised grave trouble for the Republican party in that state, and it smooths the way for the senate committee on committees. That body was confronted with the choice of two candidates for former Senator Edge's place on the finance committee, one candidate being Senator Robert LaFollette of Wisconsin, progressive Republican, and the other, some regular Republican, possibly Senator Guy D. Golf of West Virginia. The American consumer will hope that the creation of two vacancies will make certain the assignment of this young Wisconsin senator to the committee, where his point of view is most needed.

Telling Time by the Stars.

When you set your watches and clocks by some reliable timepiece, you are in reality setting them by the stars. Time all over the country is checked by the radio time signals sent from the Naval Observatory in Washington, and the observatory time in turn is checked by star or "sidereal" time.

Three master clocks are kept in an underground vault at the observatory. They are under uniform temperature and air pressure, and nobody ever disturbs them except for repairs. These clocks keep sidereal time which is transmitted by electricity to the room from which the radio signals are sent. Radio dashes go out on each second for five minutes at 2:55 a. m., 11:55 a. m. and 9:55 p. m. eastern standard time. Most people think that the signals come directly from the radio stations, but the fact is they emanate right from the observatory and are transmitted to the stations via telegraph.

Most of the clocks have seen long service, some of them dating back to the nineteenth century. The three most important master clocks were placed in the vaults in 1904. Officials in the naval observatory are seeking modest appropriations to replace the obsolete types of clocks with new models, but congress seems to find millions for defense, but few cents for correct time.

Senate Versus President?

Mercurio, Havana Daily, editorializes on the sugar tariff situation and expresses the opinion that the object of the lobby investigation is to diminish the influence of the president over the senate. It also thinks that however exaggerated the zeal of the senate in defense of its own prestige, it will not reach the extreme of feverishness with ignominy the president of the nation.

Wyoming in a Political Pickle. The death of Senator Warren of Wyoming placed the Republican administration of that state in a difficult situation. We have the story from Joseph C. O'Mahoney, outstanding Democrat of Cheyenne, Wyoming, who is regarded as a possible candidate for senatorial honors in the coming election.

In 1925 a Republican legislature fearing the imminence of the termination of the career of a Wyoming Republican member of the U. S. senate, enacted a bill to deprive the Democratic governor of the power of appointment to vacancies. The governor of Wyoming, at that time was Nellie Taylor Ross. She vetoed the bill for the specific reason that a special election was an unwarranted

MEDICINE THAT DID ANY GOOD"

Nervousness and Stomach Trouble Vanish When New Medicine Goes to Work.

MR. HENRY MULDER.

"Konjola is the only medicine that did any good," said Mr. Henry Mulder, 415 Graham street, S.W., Grand Rapids, Mich., "and I endorse it because what it did for me I am sure it will do for others. I was in a highly nervous condition for some time. This was no doubt, due to the misery I suffered from stomach trouble. After every meal I had gas pains and due to pressure on heart palpitated. I became weaker and weaker as first one medicine and then another failed to bring relief.

"More to please my friends than anything else I decided to try Konjola after they kept insisting that it was just what I needed. And that's what Konjola proved to be—just the medicine I needed. Quickly my digestion was restored and my nerves quieted. Surely my case is a mighty good proof of Konjola's merits."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

ed expense to the people of the state. The Republicans made this vetoed bill an issue in the next election, and Governor Ross was defeated by the present governor, Frank Emerson. Then, with a Republican governor and a Republican legislature, the bill providing special elections to fill vacancies in congress was passed with the proviso "that in the event of a vacancy occurring when congress is in session, the governor may appoint."

Senator Warren died in the interim between the special session of congress and the regular session, and Patrick J. Sullivan was appointed by the governor of Wyoming to fill the vacancy. Under the law the validity of this appointment was questionable and the governor was faced with having to comply with his own law. He therefore called a special election to be held late in January to fill the vacancy and in addition called an immediate special session of the state legislature to correct the "ambiguity" in the law as passed with his signature. The people of Wyoming were thus threatened with the double expense of a special session and a special election. The Democratic state committee met and passed a resolution demanding a repeal of the special election law on the ground of unnecessary expense. This resolution struck a popular chord and the governor in his message to the special session of the state legislature recommended that the special session amend the senate vacancy bill in terms that would make it possible to avoid a special election.

About two-third of the states of the Union exercise their rights under the Seventeenth amendment to the federal constitution and allow the executive authorities to make temporary appointments pending general elections. The rest of the states have provisions for special elections.

Again—The Shorter Working Day. Anyone who has studied the problems of human labor and machinery for 42 years must surely speak with authority on his subject. So when Ethelbert Stewart, recently reappointed Commissioner of Labor Statistics, declares himself in favor of a shorter working day and shorter working week, we listen with respectful interest.

Mr. Stewart reasons in this manner. To waste men at labor which machinery can perform more efficiently, is a grave evil. On the other hand, use of the machine results in unemployment for many men. The only solution, then, is to employ both men and machines for shorter lengths of time, thereby giving both robot and human being a square deal all around.

Mr. Stewart further believes that any industry in this country can produce all it sells by working only thirty hours a week, and, if new inventions continue, a maximum of four working days a week of six hours each, will be sufficient. The amount of leisure thus created would in itself constitute a problem, but Mr. Stewart has a suggested solution for that also. Let the whole machinery of education turn toward teaching the coming generation the purpose of leisure, he says, and we will have real efficiency for every hour of every day of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Spidle came home Friday from a ten day visit at the home of their daughter in Grand Rapids.

Will Walker and family and Chas. Cooper and family and John Cooper spent New Year's with Mr. and Mrs. Kowalske.

Isabelle Eaton of Ellsworth, came over last Friday and visited at the homes of Mrs. Best and Mrs. Cooper until Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson of Charlevoix and their daughter and husband visited Robert Sherman and family last Saturday.

Mrs. Harvey Bowen and grandson, Harvey, returned home from Detroit last week, where they had been visiting relatives the past four months.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper and John Jr., returned to their home in Flint last Saturday, after spending the holidays with their parents here.

MARION SCHOOL NOTES. The beginners class and the first grade have received their new readers. They are "Everyday Classics" by Parker, Thorndike and Fannie Dunn.

The seventh grade have begun their reading. This year's selection is "Sandy MacDonald's Man," a tale of the Mackinac fur trade by E. Clyde Ford.

Our school presented the three-act play, "The Little Chloehopper," at the Grange hall last Friday evening. Two duets, "Supper on Sally and Overall Jim," by Frances Withers and Clare McGhan, and "Hans and Hilda," by Adolph Ecklund and Geraldine Williams were much enjoyed between acts. Charging ten cents admission, we cleared $5.33 towards materials for club work. The teacher and pupils wish to thank those who in any way assisted us, especially Mrs. Florence McGhan for music and Mrs. Chas. Withers for costumes, also Miss Hazel Greiner for makeup. Rolly Williams, Douglas Livingston, Vern McGhan and Chas. Withers for building the stage for us.

CHURCH OF GOD.
Rev. I. T. Rauch, Pastor.

Sunday school at 10:00 o'clock. Morning worship at 11:00 o'clock. Young People's meeting at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, will be led by Miss Hazel Greiner. After this service, Wm. C. Palmer will speak for a short time on the subject of "Prohibition." The prayer meeting will be held this week at the home of Fred Hardy, 204 Huribut avenue, Wednesday evening at 7:30.

The Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. Cutler on West Garfield avenue, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

Tooth Anniversary Celebration. Thursday, January 16, is the 10th anniversary of National Prohibition and the temperance organizations of the nation propose that the event be observed with the ringing of the bells of churches, schools and colleges for ten minutes at noon.

The local W. C. T. U. will celebrate the event with a supper and program at the M. E. church on Friday, January 24th, for members and their families. The late date is set because there is no free evening the previous week.

The wet newspapers have made the public believe that all civilians killed, through the efforts of the prohibition officials to arrest law violators, were innocent citizens. Investigations of these "killings" show that in almost every case the individual involved was far from innocent, but rather was a hardened, unscrupulous bootlegger who defied representatives of the United States government to interfere with his lawless business. In most of the cases in which civilians were killed, the officers were arrested, but in only two so far as we know, were they found on the evidence presented to be guilty of unjustifiable use of arms.

The bootleggers with whom the Federal officers have to deal with are well known to be men of vicious, desperate character, who have no regard for human life. Deeply as one regrets the taking of a human life, no matter how degraded and unworthy, our sympathy goes out to the officers who are sometimes forced in self-defense to resort to arms when facing these desperadoes.—Union Signal.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS. The class began the new year with opening exercises composed of the reading of the class will of 1929, also the making of resolutions by members of the class.

Each student teacher will have completed at the end of this week a four week period of teaching. Next week they will begin a new period of teaching with a change in classes. Projects are being worked out in each class this week.

Miss Baker is teaching the physiology class this week in the Normal room. Tiny calendars graced the desk of each Normal student last Monday morning. They are very much appreciated. A word of appreciation is also extended to the janitors for their care of the plants in the rooms, also other services.

The children in the training room are all back after vacation.

AT THE MOVIES.

Music Glorifies Backstage Story of Broadway Hit. Glorious with color and music, the heart-throbbing romance of Skel and Boony that thrilled New York last season in the stage play, "Burlesque" by George Mankor Waters and Arthur Hopkins, comes to the Palace theatre screen, starting Saturday for two days, as the all-talking, all-dancing, all-singing motion picture masterpiece, "The Dance of Life."

Paramount has taken this absorbing romance of the intriguing and highly interesting burlesque "wheel" and given to it all the possibilities and advantages modern science and art have contrived for the most perfect moving picture entertainment.

MAN SO NERVOUS GETS SORE WHEN SPOKEN TO

"It actually irritated me to have anyone talk to me. I was so nervous. Vinol ended this and I feel wonderful now."—Wm. Fahy. Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, and liver pentone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. P. J. Fessenden, Druggist.

A Life and Death Emergency

Could you meet it—an emergency that calls for a few hundred dollars instant cash and involves your happiness? The man who is unprepared will borrow—and pay 7 per cent interest for the accommodation. But the man who has the money ready in his Savings Account will not only avoid the expense of borrowing, but will have received 4 per cent compound interest in the bargain. Is it worth while to be open to risks, when a few dollars deposited regularly in an interest bearing account will take care of emergencies? Why not prepare for this year and future years—by opening your Savings Account now?

Glenroy Ikens, star forward on the Charlevoix Polar Bear basketball quintet, had the misfortune to sprain his ankle late last week. He was not available when the Polar Bears tackled Nashville here Tuesday night and probably not for several games hereafter. Ikens has been high point man on the Polar Bear quintet this season, and his loss will be keenly felt.

The weather man has played havoc with efforts to keep the skating rink in condition at the school grounds. Continual thaws have made the rink unusable for the most part of the past week. Many local enthusiasts are taking advantage of the excellent skating on Lake Charlevoix, however. Thaws have taken all snow off the ice there, putting it in the best condition in years.

At their regular meeting Monday at the court house, the Charlevoix county road commission voted indignation over the unwarranted attack on their management of the fronton ferry in last week's issue of the Charlevoix Sentinel. They would remind those finding fault that it would be better to investigate their charges before putting them before the public, inasmuch as the ferry was operated even longer this year than in condition warranted. All members of the board were present with the exception of Samuel Rogers of East Jordan, who was ill and unable to attend.

COTTAGE BREAKER ARRESTED AT MANISTEE.

Had Been Operating in Western Michigan for Three Years.

A man using the names of George P. Murphy, Harry Donsmore and Barney J. Gilroy was arrested by state police at Manistee last week for breaking into cottages.

He has confessed entering summer homes along the west coast of Michigan for the past three years. His operations covering Emmet, Cheboygan, Leelanau, Manistee and Charlevoix counties.

He sold his plunder by advertising in daily papers, but police have recovered some of the stolen goods. It is likely some of the cottages here may have been committed by this man.

CAR GOES INTO LAKE; MEN CLIMB OUT WINDOW

An open window in their small sedan saved the lives of David Syzmanski and Albin Rutowski Tuesday, when their automobile went through the ice on Pere Marquette Lake at Ludington. Syzmanski and Rutowski were towing a fish shanty on which Eddie Rushkiewz was riding, when the automobile broke through the thin ice over a channel formed by the steamer Nevada, there, two weeks ago. Rutowski, the driver, pulled himself through the window, with Syzmanski pushing. Rutowski then grabbed the edge of the solid ice and pulled Syzmanski through the window as the sedan sank. Rushkiewz jumped before the fish shanty went down through the hole in the ice.

SHOW PLANS READY FOR FARMERS WEEK

Best Crops and Livestock Will Be Exhibited February 3-7.

Farmers week visitors at Michigan State College February 3 to 7 will see the prize samples of field crops produced in the state this year and also live stock which turned back all competitors at the Chicago International Stock show.

Six shows are already listed for that week. The livestock will be shown at the Little International where students will have charge of fitting and showing the animals. This show will replace the livestock parade which has been a feature of other years.

Michigan grains and seeds will compete and the winning samples sent from this state to the Chicago Hay and Grain show will be exhibited. Winners of the five-acre corn growing contest will be announced and an exhibit will show their methods of producing the crop.

The best samples of potatoes from the seven sectional shows previously held in the state are to compete for championships. Michigan's 300 bushel potato club members are to be announced during the week.

A new show to be held for the first time this year is the colt show which will bring together prize-winning colts from the contests held at various county fairs last fall. These colts are entered in the Michigan colt production contest.

A rural electrification show will have exhibits of all the latest developments in farm machinery and equipment adapted to that form of power.

PHONE CO. PLANS EXPANSION HERE

Will Spend $90,000 on Equipment for Speeding Up Calls.

Additional telephone facilities to be constructed in Petoskey during the coming year will exceed $90,000 in cost, according to C. L. Johnston, local manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone company. This amount will be additional to what the company will expend here for the operation of the service and maintenance of the plant, he says.

More than half of the amount will be devoted to increasing the central office equipment for the handling of long distance messages, Mr. Johnston says. Annually, Petoskey is becoming a larger user of long distance, particularly during the vacation months when the exchange becomes one of the largest long distance service using center in the state. Extensive additions were made last year to the long distance equipment.

The local telephone expansion program for 1930 also includes a large expenditure for the extension of the underground and aerial cables in all parts of the exchange, and considerable central office equipment for handling local calls will be added.

During the past year, more than 130 telephones were added in Petoskey, bringing the number now in service to above 1500.—Petoskey Evening News.

METHODIST CHURCH

Divine worship is at 10:30 each Sunday morning. It is a service of devotion and Biblical interpretation with no "feature stunts" as public attractions. To worship together is a privilege; let us use it to the full.

An evening of praise hour is conducted at 7:00 p. m.

Epworth League is at 6:00 p. m., and Miss Helen Dick is leader on a phase of missions in South Africa.

The church school convenes at 12 noon. Two-thirds of our young folks are getting no religious instruction. —Is yours one of them?

This Thursday the Literary Club holds their annual election of officers at 2:30 and at 6:30 the ladies entertain their husbands at supper and program to follow.

Any man in town is invited to share the Community Club supper and discussion hour at 6:15 to 8:00 each Monday. Freewill offering. An interesting speaker on a current topic of interest is always on hand.

THOMAS BACOT BADLY INJURED BY A FALL

Slipped Off Roof and Fell Fifteen Feet to Concrete Driveway.

Thomas Bacot, caretaker of the Colonial Club, was quite severely injured Tuesday afternoon when he fell fifteen feet from the roof of one of the cottages to a concrete driveway below.

According to reports, Mr. Bacot, unable to walk, dragged himself out to Dixon avenue, where he was picked up by Robert Bonthron and brought to Dr. Armstrong's office. It is understood he suffered injuries to his back, but the extent has not yet been determined.

Correct this sentence: "It's my money; my wife just happens to have it in her pocketbook."

MANCELONA TWINS BITTEN BY A CAT

Ann Arbor Analysis Showed Animal Affected by Rabies.

The two twin children of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Holderman of Ann Arbor were taken to the hospital at Ann Arbor Tuesday afternoon to be given the Pasteur treatment for rabies. They were taken by auto, not even waiting to go on the midnight train. Mr. and Mrs. Holderman accompanied them.

About seven weeks ago the Holderman dog acted cross and bit its friend, the family cat. The dog was killed and nothing further thought of it.

The fore part of last week the cat acted the same way the dog had, and before being killed it had bitten both children.

A day or two later Mr. Holderman consulted Dr. G. C. Mayhew, who counselled digging up the remains of the cat and sending the brain to Ann Arbor forthwith for analysis. This was done last week Tuesday.

Tuesday of this week the report came back that the reaction was positive, and advising the immediate bringing of the children to Ann Arbor for treatment.—Mancelona Herald.

PROMISES TO BECOME POPULAR WINTER RESORT

Hopkins "Ann Joyce" Cabin on U. S. 31 has taken on a gay stride and promises to become quite a popular winter resort.

As it has 23 acres of play grounds, fine hill for coasting and ski jumping, skating and fishing through the ice, Mr. Hopkins has quite a bit to offer his Detroit friends and has several booked and says city people are becoming eager to get away in winter as well as summer and no reason this country should not go after the tourists in winter as well as in summer.—Central Lake Torch.

OBITUARY.

Christopher Somerville was born on a farm in Echo township on April 14, 1881, and died suddenly Sunday, December 22, at one o'clock p. m.

Mr. Somerville had been in ill health for some time, but had been gaining and his death was an unexpected blow to his family and friends.

He was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Derenzy of Bellaire, on April 29, 1900.

Mr. Somerville worked for the East Jordan Lumber Company until 1915, when he moved on his farm in Kearney township, where he had since resided.

He leaves to mourn, their loss a wife, 4 brothers and 2 sisters, W. J. and Albert Somerville of Central Lake, Neal Somerville and Mrs. Ira Bradshaw of East Jordan, Mrs. S. D. Turner of Charlevoix, Matt Somerville of Kalkaska, and a host of relatives and friends.

ments should be cited. Gwendon Hott, East Jordan, has the honor of producing the most potatoes per acre securing a yield of 333.6 bushels, which is not only the highest in the club, but the highest in the county with one possible exception. He also made the largest returns, showing a profit of $226.62 on 1.1 acres of land. Gordon Boyer, East Jordan, was a close second with 302.7 bushels on a acre basis. He had the prize winning exhibit of the club in addition. Fred Ranney, East Jordan, won second with his exhibit peck, was third in yield with 281.5, and had exceptional quality potatoes.

Read the statistics carefully and copy the lesson in your own farm program, as no matter what phase of farming you operate, the truths are the same.

"AUNT LUCIA" TO BE STAGED HERE SOON

Walter Bergon, gives the readings and the children furnish a very effective background. The Baby Pageant is something new in entertainment and exceptionally good. Another feature of the show is twenty-five high school girls in costume choruses and special song numbers. All in all, "Aunt Lucia" is a well rounded out production. Mrs. Archie Livingston will assist as soloist, with Mrs. Wexstaff as pianist.

A full list of all the characters will be found in an adv. in this issue on page 6. Look them over. This promises to be one of the biggest shows ever staged and is going to be well worth the price of admission; 50c. Seats may be reserved at the Central Drug Store on Wednesday, January 15th. No extra charge for reserving seats.

Interstate LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE RATES Again Reduced

EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 1930

On calls from points in Michigan to out-of-state points, 60 to 300 miles distant, Station-to-Station day rates are reduced 10% in most cases. For example, the day rate for a station-to-station call from Detroit to Cleveland is reduced from 70c to 60c; from Grand Rapids to Chicago 85c to 75c; from Jackson to Fort Wayne, Indiana 65c to 55c; from Lansing to Cincinnati, Ohio $1.30 to $1.20; from Marquette to Milwaukee, Wisconsin $1.25 to $1.15; from Saginaw to Toledo, Ohio 85c to 75c; from Kalamazoo to Indianapolis, Indiana $1.05 to 95c.

This is the fourth reduction in long distance rates within little more than three years. The present reduction will result in a saving of more than $5,000,000 a year to telephone users of the United States.

It is part of the fundamental policy of the Bell System to provide the best possible telephone service at the least cost to the public.

ELECTED AT ANNUAL MEETING HELD LAST WEDNESDAY.

Other 1929 Officers Re-elected; Annual Committee and Financial Reports Were Given.

At their annual meeting, held last Wednesday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall, the Charlevoix Association of Commerce retained by vote the officers who had successfully carried the organization through the year 1929.

A nominating committee composed of Robert Bridge, Gerald Richardson and H. R. Fowler placed two tickets before the meeting. Ticket No. 1, composed of 1929 officers, carried the election by a substantial majority. Following are the officers for 1930:

President, Dr. C. J. Winder. Vice Presidents, Martin Block, A. L. Livingston, F. E. Cartier. Sec.-Treas., George Beeman. The Association voted to lend its co-operation to the Child Welfare League to conduct a clinic for crippled children of Charlevoix county. The clinic will be held at a date to be announced later and President Winder will appoint a committee of five to assist.

A report of the committee in charge of Christmas charity work was given, revealing that net proceeds of the carnival were $392.29. Christmas baskets, candy bags, etc., cost $135.28, leaving a balance in the fund of $257.01. This money will be kept in a fund other than the Association's treasury and the organization voted that the president appoint a committee of three, two men and a woman, to continue charity work to those in need. An idea expressed that recipients consider aid as a loan to be repaid in the future if possible, was a very good one, and would insure a perpetual fund for charity purposes, if followed out.

Winter sports came in for considerable discussion. It was generally conceded that, in view of the fact there were no returns other than what enjoyment the community itself derived from the sport, this city could not afford to spend funds which otherwise would be used for summer advertising campaigns and entertainment features. It was agreed that winter sports should not be dropped entirely, however, and the association voted to leave the matter up to the winter sports committee, who will act upon recommendations made at the meeting. In view of this fact, a program will likely be announced in the near future.

The annual financial report of the Association, given by George Beeman, secretary-treasurer, was an interesting one. It revealed that the Association had been given more widespread support financially than in previous years, which would indicate a growing interest in the work.

WHAT HAS CHAR- LEVOIX OF STATE- WIDE INTEREST?

H. J. Gray, secretary-manager of the Michigan Tourist and Resort Association of Grand Rapids, is sending out the following letter which is self-explanatory:

"What historic landmarks, markers or memorials are in your community? What famous people spent their early days in your city or are now living among you?"

"We want to present Michigan in our Vacation Directory from a new angle this year, and to that end we are emphasizing the historic aspect of the State. Our research work in general has been very fruitful but we are now at a point where you can tie up this early history with the present, through location of landmarks, tablets, houses etc. Sometimes the things that we take as a matter of fact because we live in the midst of them are really of deep interest to other people. For instance, how many aside from the residents of Galesburg realize that the birthplace of General William R. Shafter of Spanish-American War fame is within sight of the Federal Interstate Highway US 12?"

"We are assembling data now and must have it in the hands of the printers by February 1st. Will you write us promptly details which this letter may suggest to you, so that your community may have just the sort of representation in our directory which will satisfy you, not only from a cultural standpoint, but from the revenue of interested tourists and vacationers who will be attracted to your part of the state."

LOCAL CAGERS LOSE TO BOYNE

DROPPED HOT CONTEST LAST FRIDAY BY 12-18 COUNT.

Play Harbor Springs Saturday at the Harbor; Gaylord There Tuesday;
Traverse Here Saturday.

Charlevoix high school cagers dropped their opening contest in class C competition last Friday evening, losing a hard-fought game to the Brotherton-coached Boyne City combination on Boyne's floor.

Considering Boyne's veteran lineup, the best followers of the Red and White could anticipate was a close game, and that was what resulted. Both teams had plenty of respect for the other's scoring power and the result was a great defensive battle. With the exception of the final quarter, when Boyne pulled away to win the contest, Charlevoix's man-for-man defense matched Boyne's zone defense in every move.

Goals by Novak and Smith, and a free throw by Ance put Charlevoix out in front 5 to 1 in the first quarter. Boyne missed many chances to score and in the second period turned things about to lead 7 to 5 at the half. The third period was a nip-and-tuck affair, the local combination out-scoring Brotherton's cagers by 2 points. The count was tied 9-all at the intermission. The last quarter was disastrous for Kipke's men. Boyne stepped out to count 9 points while Charlevoix garnered only three, and the final whistle found the east-enders leading 18 to 12.

The lineup: Charlevoix..... Boyne City

Charlevoix meets their toughest opposition of the year on Saturday of this week when they tackle Harbor Springs, 1929 class C champs, on Harbor's court. The following Tuesday, January 21, they go to Gaylord, and Saturday, January 25, play Traverse City at Charlevoix.

TWO HOCKEY PLAYERS WERE BADLY INJURED

Cut by Flying Puck During Practice;
May Regulate Skating Hours.

Hockey practice at the municipal skating rink on the school grounds has been marked by two quite serious accidents over the week end. Roy Kelderhouse received a bad cut over his right eye Sunday when he was struck by a puck, and Monday night Francis Marshall was cut on the forehead in a similar accident. Both received medical attention and several stitches were required to close the wounds.

Because of congestion at the rink of late, the council and school board are considering a plan to group skaters according to age and designate certain hours they may use the rink.

DODGE BROTHERS SHOW NEW LINES

ENTER FIELD WITH TWO DIS-TINCTLY NEW MODELS.

New Six and New Eight-in-Line Presented as Companions to Present Six and Senior.

Climaxing 15 years of successful production of dependable motor cars, Dodge Brothers for 1930 present as companions to the present Dodge Six and Dodge Senior, a new Six and a new Eight-in-Line of commanding value.

Retaining all the basic ruggedness and dependability that have characterized Dodge Brothers products for 15 years, the new cars embody progressive principles of engineering and design that promise to command a high place in public interest.

Mono-piece bodies, incorporating the latest advances made in stamping and welding practices, are used on both new lines. Described by engineers as "the automobile body of the future," this type of construction assures complete continuity of structure. With floor-boards mounted directly on the frame, Mono-piece design not only conforms with the present tendency for lower lines, but also actually promotes safety by affording a lower center of gravity. The elimination of body joints by welding the major sections does away with annoying squeaks and rattles and adds further to the safety factor. In addition to gains in strength and rigidity due to improved design of the new bodies, headroom, width and general interior comfort and roominess have been increased.

Vision-ventilation windshields, set at an angle which avoids reflections, are features of the new cars.

Body types of the Eight-in-Line include a Four-door Sedan, Coupe with rumble seat, Convertible Coupe with rumble seat, Roadster and Phaeton.

The new eight is a splendid example of modern automotive design. The motif is based on the perpendicular lines and recesses that give strength and beauty in modern skyscraper construction. Body mouldings and decorations throughout the car follow this laminated pattern, from the instrument panel in which are grouped the speedometer, engine temperature indicator, fuel gauge, ammeter and oil gauge, down to such details as the switch plate escutcheons, etc. Upholstery of the closed models is in mohair, broadcloth or fine box-grain leathers. Leather is used entirely on the open models.

The entirely new, ingeniously-designed power plant with eight cylinders in line has been pronounced by eminent engineering talent as a marvel in the quiet development and smooth application of tremendous energy. It is of the bloc cast L-head type, with 2 7/8 inch bore, 4 1/4 inch stroke and a piston displacement of 220.7 cubic inches. The power plant develops a maximum of 75-horsepower.

The crankshaft, which is statically and dynamically balanced, is drilled to permit the forcing of oil at 25 to 30 pounds pressure to all bearings.

The Down-draft carburetor, introducing a new fuelization principle of extraordinary importance, is an outstanding feature. Fuel is "dropped" into the engine, assisted rather than resisted by the forces of gravity.

Exceptional riding comfort at any speed is made possible by the unusually long semi-elliptic springs, mounted in rubber. Spring action is controlled by four hydraulic, double-acting shock absorbers. Balloon tires (5.50x18) with non-skid tread on all wheels, properly complete the roadability of the new Eight-in-Line.

The New Dodge Six.

A Four-door Sedan, Coupe with rumble seat, Business Coupe, Convertible Coupe with rumble seat, Roadster and Phaeton constitute the body types available in the new and lower price six-cylinder line.

Dodge Brothers engineers state that in experimental and road tests extending over a period of many months, the new six-cylinder power plant has sustained a consistent record for pulling power, durability, speed and general efficiency. It develops a maximum of 61 brake h. p. has a bore of 3 1/8 inches, stroke of 1 1/8 inches, and a displacement of 189.8 cubic inches. The cylinder block is integral with the heavily-webbed crankcase. Rubber engine mountings, like that of the Eight, are used.

POLAR BEARS WIN IN CLOSE CONTEST

NOSED OUT, GAYLORD TUESDAY
NIGHT 21 TO 18.

Pythians Trimmed Odd Fellows and Polar Bear Cubs Were Trounced
21 to 13 by Ellsworth Packers.

Charlevoix and visiting basketball fans got their money's worth Tuesday evening and the Polar Bears nearly got their clocks cleaned. Gaylord Independents furnished the opposition in the main game, and it was nothing else but opposition from the opening to the final whistle.

Gaylord, presenting one of the strongest defensive teams seen on the local court this season, caught the Polar Bears on an off night. With the exception of the first period, when Charlevoix ran in four goals to gain a lead of 8 points, Gaylord played the local cagers practically even and in some instances out-scored them.

The visitors made but one ringer in the first quarter, but in the second sank five goals to even the count at the half 10 to 10. The second half was close throughout. Gaylord rang up 6 points and the Polar Bears 7, and the third period ended with Charlevoix leading 17 to 16. Gaylord completely checked the Polar Bear's customary strong game beneath the basket, but Kipke came through with two beautiful shots from center court to keep his team in the running. Another long shot by Kipke and a goal by Novak netted the Polar Bears 4 points in the final stanza. Gaylord counted on two free throws, but were three points behind when the final whistle sounded. The game was closely played and an interesting contest to watch.

In the curtain-opener of the three-game program, the K. of P. team defeated the Odd Fellows 6 to 2 in a scrappy contest.

The semi-final went to the Ellsworth Packers by a 21-to-13 score. Elzinga and Peebles, former Ellsworth high school stars, were too fast for the Polar Cubs after they got going.

The Polar Bears take on the Hub Citythiers from Grand Rapids in the local gym next Tuesday night. The Grand Rapids combination is said to be a strong one and a good game is in prospect. The Polar Cubs play the K. of P. five in the preliminary game.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OCCASION FOR PARTY

Friends Surprised Lemieux Last Friday Evening.

A party of friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lemieux last Friday evening with a potluck supper in honor of their eighth wedding anniversary. A very pleasant evening was spent playing progressive pedro. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allard, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour, Miss Edilia Lemieux, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hebert and Miss Mary Lemieux.

Notice to Masons.

To all Masons and their families, take notice: The 18th annual meeting of the Charlevoix Masonic Building Association will be held in the Masonic Temple, Tuesday, January 21. Supper at 6:30 p. m. Fifty cents per plate. Business meeting at 8:00. By order of Committee.

TWO PIONEERS OF REGION ARE DEAD

SAMUEL M. RIFE DIED SUNDAY
AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS.

Frank F. Wood, Veteran Business Man of Charlevoix, Died at Home Monday Morning.

Frank F. Wood, northern Michigan pioneer and resident of Charlevoix for 50 years, died at his home on Petoskey avenue at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Wood had been in poor health since he was stricken with paralysis about ten years ago and for two years had been practically an invalid.

Deceased was born near Albany, N. Y., August 17, 1853, and was 77 years of age at the time of his death. At the age of three years he accompanied his parents to Cheboygan Falls, Wis., and in 1855 came with them to Advance, locating near Boyne City on Lake Charlevoix. He resided there until the age of 18, when he started out on his own, going to Traverse City, Milwaukee, Grand Rapids and other points.

At Traverse City, Mr. Wood learned the trade of harness making and in 1880 returned to Charlevoix, and went into business for himself, but shortly afterwards changed his occupation to barbering, which business he followed in Charlevoix for 33 years.

On December 6, 1882, Mr. Wood married Mary Louise Moore at Grand Rapids, and brought her from her home there to Charlevoix. To this union were born two sons, DeForest and Clarence, both, whom survive with their mother. Other relatives are two sisters, Mrs. Eva Black of Fulton, N. Y., and Mrs. Emma King of Oswego, N. Y.; one brother, H. D. Wood of Buffalo, N. Y., and two grandchildren.

Mr. Wood was always active in civic affairs of Charlevoix. He served two terms as city treasurer and was a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellow fraternal orders. In the latter lodge he was very active.

Funeral services will be held at 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the residence on Petoskey avenue under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. with Rev. W. H. Rauch, officiating.

Samuel M. Rife, aged 65 years, died at 9:00 o'clock Sunday morning at the family home on Antrim street. He had been ill but a short time and his passing was a great shock to his many local friends and members of his family.

Deceased was born July 20, 1864, at Kensell, Ont. His mother died when he was 13, and the father brought his family and settled on a farm at Hetherton, 20 miles east of Gaylord. Mr. Rife resided with a brother at Evert until he was 18, later returning to a farm at Hetherton.

At the age of 24 years, he married Mary A. Reid, at Hetherton. The couple resided at Hetherton until 1902, when they sold their farm and moved to Birtle, Manitoba, where Mr. Rife was engaged as a traveling salesman and for two years as manager of a drug store at Foxwarren, Manitoba. In March, 1925, they returned to Michigan, and since that time had resided at Charlevoix.

Surviving besides the widow are two sons, Robert of this city, and Willard of Oakner, Manitoba. Twin daughters, Vina and Nina, died at the age of 13 months.

Mr. Rife was a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge at Birtle. He was an active member of the local Congregational church and served as deacon for some time. He was always in his place at the church and at Sunday school services and will be missed by old and young alike.

Funeral arrangements have not been made at this time, being contingent upon the arrival of Willard Rife from Oakner.

DAISY DUTCHER HONORED ON HER BIRTHDAY

Sixteen Guests Present at a Party Given Saturday Evening.

Mrs. Dell Dutcher entertained sixteen young ladies at her home, on Antrim street Saturday evening at a party in honor of her daughter, Daisy, whose fifteenth birthday anniversary fell on that day.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing buncos, high honors going to Miss Dorothy Staley and congratulations to the Misses Lucille Bogart and Helen Halverson. Delightful refreshments were served, a feature of which was the large birthday cake. Table decorations were carried out in pink and white.

The guests left Miss Daisy many pretty gifts as remembrances of the occasion.

ICE FLOES PART; LIFE-SAVERS REMOVE FISHERS

William H. and Lawrence Taylor ventured out too far on the ice of Round Lake Sunday morning. Softened by the thaw Saturday night, the ice parted where a line had gone through earlier, leaving the men stranded.

Efforts to bridge the two floes with planks and a long ladder failed, so coast guards were called to remove the men with their boat.

AT THE MOVIES.

Romance of a Clown is Told in "Painted Faces."

The story of a circus clown who fell in love with his ward is told in "Painted Faces." The Tiffany all-talking picture starring Joe E. Brown at the Palace Theatre Saturday. An excellent supporting cast includes Helen Foster, Barton Hepburn, Dorothy Gulliver, Lester Cole, Sojin, Mabel Julianne Scott, Alma Bennett, Purnell Pratt, Walter Perry and many others.

Frances Hyland wrote the story around Beppo, a clown acrobat whose chief joy in life is his little ward, Nancy. When she joins the circus during school vacation of her eighteenth summer, he discovers that she is a young lady and that his fondness for her is much more serious and disturbing than it had ever been before.

METHODIST CHURCH

The services for divine worship is at 10:30 on Sunday morning. A nursery for children up to eight years is being established for them during the morning service, while their parents attend that meeting. Church school is at 12 noon.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our relatives, friends and neighbors for their kindness shown during our recent bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Smith.—Adv. 311pd.

THE NEW PALACE THEATRE

ATTRACTIONS FOR THE COMING WEEK

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY, JANUARY 18-19

Tiffany Stahl presents "PAINTED FACES," featuring Joe E. Brown, Helen Foster, Barton Hepburn, and Dorothy Gulliver. All-talking, tickling, tuneful! Tanbark and canvas—clowns and acrobats—snake charmers and hoochie cochie dancers—barkers and caliope. In the kaleidoscope of color and medley of cacophony that thrills all when the circus comes to town. A peek behind the painted mask at the heart of a clown. Thrilling! Comic! Dramatic! Don't fail to hear this story, now gay, now sad, of a clown, his love and his vengeance.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Sacrament" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, Jan. 12. Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me (John 14:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Consecration to good does not lessen man's dependence on God, but heightens it. Neither does consecration diminish man's obligations to God, but show the paramount necessity of meeting them" (p. 262).

High Record of Attendance.

The high school is hard at work after the enjoyable vacation. The remarkably high attendance rate refutes the idea that vacations instill in the pupils a lessened desire to go to school. On the Monday following vacation, there was a perfect attendance in the high school all day.

Fire Wednesday Morning.

Fire Wednesday morning, thought to have started from a defective chimney, did considerable damage to the Elmer Poole residence on East Garfield avenue. Firemen extinguished the blaze with chemicals, thereby minimizing the damage.

ON DISPLAY TODAY

THE NEW OAKLAND 8

$1045 AND UP

General Motors' Lowest-Priced Eight . . . the Car with Superior Performance

Today a new eight-cylinder motor car makes its appearance. It is the newest General Motors eight and by several hundreds of dollars the lowest in price. It is the New Oakland Eight with smart new bodies by Fisher.

Superior Performance

The New Oakland Eight develops 85 horsepower and is the first stock car of its size and weight to employ an engine of such high power. Since performance depends largely on the ratio between horsepower and weight, the New Oakland Eight is exceptionally fast and powerful because it produces one horsepower to 37 pounds of car weight.

Eight-Cylinder Smoothness

The New Oakland Eight has all the smoothness which results from the overlapping power impulses inherent in eight-cylinder engine design. In addition, it enjoys exclusive mechanical advantages which make it even smoother and more delightful to drive.

Sound Basic Design

Several of the engineers who participated in creating General Motors' first eight back in 1914 were responsible for the development of the New Oakland Eight. To this latest task they brought a wide knowledge of eight-cylinder design. It is reasonable to expect that the Oakland is a finer eight because of this fact.

Moderate Price

We believe the New Oakland Eight will appeal to you all the more forcibly when you consider its very moderate price. And a demonstration will reveal how well it merits the description "the car with superior performance."

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

NEW SERIES PONTIAC BIG 6

$745 AND UP

A Famous Name—A Finer Car . . . Introducing Important Improvements

The announcement of the first Pontiac in 1925 brought to the low-price field a new order of beauty, performance and reliability. And each Pontiac announcement since that time has introduced a car which represented an improvement even over its own highly regarded predecessors.

Important Improvements

Now comes the New Series Pontiac Big Six—on even finer car with a famous name. It retains all the qualities responsible for Pontiac's success in the past. And in addition it introduces many improvements.

New bodies by Fisher make this latest Pontiac Big Six more beautiful than ever.

Greater Smoothness and Safety

The smoothness of Pontiac's 60-horsepower engine is further increased by the use of improved type rubber engine mountings. Pontiac's large non-squeak four-wheel brakes have been made even more efficient. A new sloping non-glare windshield also adds to its safety. Handling ease is increased through the use of a new type of steering mechanism. Improved Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers give increased riding comfort.

Time-Tried Performance

In speed, power and pick-up the New Series Pontiac Big Six continues to uphold the Pontiac reputation for spirited performance. Come now to our showroom and inspect this finer car with a famous name—the New Series Pontiac Big Six.

The New Series Pontiac Big Six, $745 and up, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Shock absorbers standard equipment. Bumpers and spring covers at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list f. o. b. price when comparing automobile values. . . . Oakland Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

Modern Medicine turns away from "DOSING"

Back in the old "horse and buggy" days, it was the custom to give large doses of internal medicines for almost every human ailment. Then a North Carolina pharmacist originated Vicks VapoRub, the better method of treating colds externally.

Mothers appreciate Vicks, because it checks children's colds without the risk of upsetting delicate little stomachs.

Adults, too, have found Vicks just as good for their own colds. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Now 26 million jars used yearly has had little respite since the last blizzard.

VICKS VAPORUB

The big meeting for growers for the canning factory took place at the town hall Saturday. After the meeting the crowd of 30 or 40 went down to present a petition of 70 growers to Manager E. B. Gill, asking for higher prices for their crops for this year. Mr. Gill said he was paying all he could afford and the farmers said they could not raise at former prices, so there the matter rests again.

One of our most prominent citizens, John Cameron, passed away here last Friday afternoon. He fell from a load of hay out on his farm east of town. George Snyder, who was driving the team, heard him speak, and on looking around, saw Mr. Cameron had fallen to the ground. Dr. Duffie was summoned and thinks perhaps death was caused by heart trouble, as no bruises were found on the body. The funeral was held from his late home Sunday afternoon, preaching by Rev. Stanley Hyde of the Congregational church. Mr. Cameron was the last member of what was formerly known as the Cameron Lumber Co. of Torch Lake and this place. Their company gave employment to many men at the mill as well as to many farmers of the surrounding country in marketing their logs and hiring them to load boats. Mr. Cameron had lately been looking after his cherry orchard and farm east of town and one west of town. He will be missed by many relatives and friends here.

Greatly Reduced Prices.

Our $22.50 suits are now selling at Cartier's Tailor Shop. The best at $17.50, and $15.00 suits for $12.50 buy of the season now available.—Adv. 47tf.

ROCK ELM.

Mrs. Smatts and Mrs. Metz made Mrs. Nelson a very pleasant call last week Wednesday afternoon.

John Whaling, formerly a resident of this district, died on Tuesday night of last week at the county house. No particulars available.

After spending several weeks alone at his farm home, Mr. Tait decided it would be better for him to finish the winter at the county house.

This district can furnish another name for the Nongenerian Club. Mrs. Voleria L. Nelson, who makes her home with her niece, Mrs. Lawton, was 92 the 13th of last August. She enjoys good health and hopes to complete the century.

CLARION.

D. B. Hinkley has gone to Brimley for the winter.

Mrs. D. McDonald and Mrs. Al. Jubenville were on the sick list last week.

Mrs. Lily Hankins, who was very ill for several days, is slowly improving.

Mrs. A. L. Norton and children returned last week from a week's visit with relatives at Muskegon.

John P. Colden, who was the guest of his mother, Mrs. J. W. Colden for the holidays, has returned to Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Herrington of Cheboygan, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Herrington one day last week.

Several young people from here attended the watch-night party at Harbor Spring on Wednesday evening.

Miss Gwendolyn Griswold and brother, James, have returned from a week's visit with friends and relatives at Flint.

The funeral services for Mr. Nuckles, father of Oscar Nuckles, was held at the M. E. church Thursday afternoon, Rev. Miss Nash in charge. A son and daughter from Benton Harbor and a son from Rockford, Ill., who were called here by the death of their father, Mr. Nuckles, returned to their homes on Thursday.

Mrs. Nuckles is rapidly recovering from the severe burns received at the time the house burned. She, with her son, Buddy, have been guests at the Clyde Kent home for the past week.

Work has progressed rapidly on the house for Oscar Nuckles. The cellar has been excavated and a 7-foot wall laid. The old building to be used as frame for the house will be put in place the first of the week, and will soon be ready for occupancy.

ATWOOD

Some are getting ready to make sugar.

Guy Empey has bought the old D. H. Stebbins farm.

Jim Vandenberg sold his farm last week to James Heeres.

Ethan Joliffe has contracted 51,600 pounds of peas and 163 acres of radishes for the Leonard Seed Co.

ANTRIM CITY.

Joe Stott attended a dance at Charlevoix Saturday night.

Mrs. H. Slate and children were visitors at the Stott home Saturday evening.

Mrs. F. Brooks and Mrs. A. Brooks

A Friendly Union

The personality and character of our customers and friends is never lost sight of in any of their dealings with this bank. In fact, it has been and always will be our aim to make every transaction a meeting—a friendly union—between the minds and personalities of our customers and our officers.

Though business and banking may grow more complicated each year, the fundamentals rarely, if ever, change. Personality is still important; character—and all the qualities that go to compose it—is still the basis of every commercial transaction.

The L. O. O. F. and Elks lodge held a joint installation of officers in their hall the evening of Wednesday, January 15th. Business session was followed by a short program and refreshments were served.

Albert Smith and Richard Farmer leave this week for New York, where they will take a six-week course in the Delaval assembling school. Upon their return they expect to open a repair shop in or near Charlevoix.

Rev. B. G. Mattson returned Saturday from a week's business trip to Detroit. He conducted services Sunday at both the Charlevoix and Iron-ton Congregational churches and left for Detroit again Sunday afternoon.

Jane Durance left Thursday for St. Joseph, Michigan, where he will make a short visit with his daughter, Mrs. Pearl Leachman. He expects to continue on to Flint for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ned Durance before returning to his home here.

Oluf Nordrum spent several days last week in the upper peninsula, taking in fishing ports at Manistique, Garden and Fayette for the Booth Fisheries Company of Chicago. He reports fishing rather light at the present time.

Capt. Leon Taylor, who has been confined to a hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, for several weeks, arrived in Charlevoix early this week to spend the balance of the winter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor of Dixon avenue.

Lloyd Curtis, who recently returned from a western tour, has gone to Muskegon, where he has accepted a position for the balance of the winter. Mrs. Curtis is making an indefinite stay here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Struthers.

The men of the Congregational church announce the annual budget supper to be given in the dining room of the church on Thursday, January 30. All the families of the parish are invited to attend the supper and enjoy the good time which the men are preparing.

Harold Taylor returned Friday from a ten-day visit to friends in Southern Pines, North Carolina. He reported the resort season well under way there now and that the hotel operated and owned by A. I. Creamer, manager of The Inn, was enjoying a fine season so far.

The debate which was scheduled for last Friday night between Mackinaw City and Charlevoix did not materialize, because Mackinaw City forfeited to Charlevoix, giving them four points. The next debate will be at Traverse City, January 24. Charlevoix will uphold the negative side.

Mr. and Mrs. George Priest, Charlevoix residents injured in an automobile accident near Sterling, have been removed from the hospital at Standish and are now at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dare Burke in Detroit. They intend returning to Charlevoix as soon as they recover from their injuries.

At their annual meeting, held Monday evening at the Perry Hotel, Petoskey, the Tri-County Real Estate Board, comprising Charlevoix, Emmet and Antrim counties, elected the following officers: Pres., Charles B. Carver, Elk Rapids; vice-pres., C. T. McCutcheon, Boyne City; sec., Earl A. Young, Charlevoix; treas., L. E. Hinekey, Petoskey.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Todd acted as hostesses at the meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held at the community room last Friday.

New features of the monthly meetings this year will be a ten minute study of our government, conducted by Mrs. Simmons, and a social half hour after adjournment in charge of the hostesses.

The members were asked to keep in mind the following dates: January 15th, the tenth anniversary of national prohibition; January 24th, when the event will be celebrated locally with a family supper in the M. E. church; February 12th, to be observed as a day of self denial in the interest of the reserve fund; and February 14th, the next regular meeting of the union.

"The Bible in the Public Schools" was the topic for discussion. Mrs. L. E. Benton acted as leader and some interesting information was brought to light in the various readings.

If one of our youngsters is so unfortunate as to be committed to the reformatory or the penitentiary, or if he grows up and is sent to the legislature, he has the benefit of clergy and the use of the Bible at the state's expense.

In the Boys' Vocational School Bibles are furnished by the state. All boys are required to attend religious services on Sunday. Lessons in the Sunday school must be thoroughly prepared in advance. It is the duty of the chaplain to give moral and religious instruction to all boys.

In Iowa prison every convict must go to church on Sunday. In other prisons where the chapel is not large enough to accommodate all, attendance is voluntary.

If it is necessary by law to place the Bible, as containing the greatest system of morals and religion in the prisons, how much more should we stress this matter in public education?

Roger Babson says: "To impart information without character is like giving a pistol to a child." Theodore Roosevelt said: "A man trained in mind but not in morals is a menace to society."

The American people are fast awakening to the mistake of banishing the Bible from the schools. Within sixteen years ten states have enacted laws requiring daily Bible reading in all their schools. Many large cities in other states, including Boston, New York, Baltimore and Washington, have recently instituted daily Bible reading in the public schools.

The Bible is the greatest character building book in the world. It made England. It has made America. The people who founded this nation were a Bible bred people. What we have of greatness or goodness we owe to the fact that for generations the great truths and ideals of the Book of Books have been wrought into the very fibre of our souls.

DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE AFFAIRS LAST WEEK

Mesdames Supernaw and Olmstead Were the Hostesses.

Mrs. Miles Olmstead and Mrs. W. H. Supernaw were joint hostesses at bridge parties held last Friday and Saturday afternoons at the Olmstead home.

Five tables were in play at each of the delightful affairs. Prizes Friday went to Mrs. Milton Block and Mrs. Morris Ackert, and on Saturday to Mrs. Albert Cook and Mrs. Richard Cooper.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses both afternoons.

EVELINE ORCHARDS
MAKE CHERRIES PAY

Returns for Year 1929 Show Average of $600 Per Acre.

Many farmers little realize the possibilities in producing cherries on the farm lands surrounding Charlevoix.

The first season (1929) did not show as great returns as some years but Eveline Orchards sold forty-five tons of sour cherries to the East Jordan canning factory, about five tons shipped or delivered to other cities, besides $4,000 worth (largely sweet cherries) sold at their booth at the fair.

In figures, about $11,000 gross from 18 acres of cherries (including some young trees), or more than $600 per acre.

While apples produced very well this year, the trees yet being comparatively young, the acreage returns cannot compare with the cherries.

Up to Christmas week Eveline has shipped 27 carloads of their 1929 crop and yet have about seven carloads in their storehouse.

With the development of the later settings, within the next very few years the farm will be producing more than double the yield of cherries, and each year should show an increase in apples.

Charlevoix county is certainly fortunate in having such an enterprise as Eveline Orchards, and doubly so on account of its being under the efficient direction of experts like Prof. L. R. Taft, (a nationally known horticulturist), and A. L. Darbee, the resident manager.

With this living example of successful orcharding, it is no wonder that many thousands of young cherry trees have been set out the past few years, which is going to contribute largely in the stability of farming.

Several other very profitable cherry orchards are in the community and statistics from some of them will appear in a future issue.

BEAVER ISLAND SUMMER RESORTER DEAD

Was Instrumental in Procuring Telephone Cable to Island.

Prof. Henry J. Cox of the U. S. Meteorological Department, nationally known weather forecaster, who died in Chicago last week and was buried there last Saturday, will be missed by citizens of Charlevoix and St. James, Beaver Island.

Prof. Cox made Beaver Island his summer home for many years and took great interest in affairs of the island. It was largely through his efforts that the government laid a thirty-eight mile telephone cable from Charlevoix to St. James, which during the winter months, is the only means of communication between the islanders and mainland.

For many years a daily weather report has been sent from St. James to Chicago as an aid in shipping forecasts.

GRADUATE NURSE HAS HIGH PRAISE FOR NEW KONJOLA

Long Standing Stomach Trouble and Other Ills Yield Quickly to Modern Medicine.

MRS. BERTHA OLSON

"I am only too glad to have the privilege of saying a few words of praise for this wonderful Konjola," said Mrs. Bertha Olson, 1219 Fitzhugh street, Saginaw. "I am a graduate nurse, but my training and experience with illness did not seem to help me conquer my own severe case of stomach trouble. Some of the medicine I tried helped me, but the relief did not last. I could not eat any acid fruits; not even an orange at breakfast time. My general health was undermined, and dizzy spells were frequent occurrences. "Almost immediately after I started taking Konjola I noticed a change for the better. In all I took eight bottles of this medicine and am a well woman. My stomach is in excellent condition. I am stronger and more energetic. Konjola proved its merit to me in my own case." Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

CONGREGATIONAL ANNUAL MEETING

Officers Elected; Reports Show Splendid Progress in Church.

The annual meeting of the Congregational church was held in the church parlors Tuesday evening, January 14th, with a good number of members in attendance. W. H. Miller, president of the trustees, presided.

After a devotional and song service, reports for the year were given by the officers of all the church organizations, showing a year of prosperity and achievement in all branches of church work, the young people in particular having given outstanding service in religious activities.

The following officers were elected: Clerk, Mrs. H. S. Harsha; treasurer, Mrs. R. F. Sloan; supt. of the Sunday school, Mrs. B. Saltonstall; deacon for two years, H. R. Fowler; deacon for three years, W. H. Miller, A. F. Bridge; trustees for three years, D. H. Wood, E. L. Dawson. Financial reports showed an excellent situation, and by unanimous vote of the church the budget for next year to equal that of last year was adopted.

Resolutions of sympathy in the recent loss by death of Deacon S. M. Rife and of F. F. Wood were adopted.

At the close of the meeting refreshments of coffee and fried cakes were served by the ladies.

COMEDY "AUNT LUCIA" OPENS THURSDAY NIGHT

Promises to be the Best Attraction Ever Shown in Charlevoix.

Leading the calendar of entertainment features for the current week is the famous, collegiate comedy, "Aunt Lucia," which will be presented Thursday and Friday evenings at the gymnasium under the auspices of the Methodist Literary and Sewing Club.

For over a week now, the cast has been holding rehearsals under the direction of Miss Ann Drake, representative of the Universal Producing company. Those on the "inside" vouch that the production will be something entirely different in the line of community entertainment and that an evening of fun awaits those who attend.

Charlevoix citizens got their first laugh when the cast of characters was announced last week, but whatever "kick" they got out of that is nothing compared to the fun they will get out of the production itself.

BAPTIST CHURCH

W. H. Rauch, Pastor

The trouble with this fast age is that it is more concerned about speed than direction. The church stands for the best things. Line up! Keep your Sundays for the best things of the soul.

Morning service 10:30. Sermon by the pastor, Solo, "One Night When Sorrow Burdened," Miss Emma Carey.

Sunday school at 11:30. Mrs. Kirby, Supt.

B. Y. P. U. at 6:00 p. m., Topic, "Shall We Abolish or Expand Missions." Stewardship Group in charge.

Evening worship at 7:00 p. m. Song and praise service led by Mr. Kirby. Anthem by choir. Sermon by pastor.

Monday the C. W. C. will meet at the church at 5:30 p. m. for a Co-operative lunch.

Two missionary rallies are being held in our association this year. Remember Thursday the meeting will be in Traverse City Baptist church. Friday in the Petoskey Baptist church. State and national speakers. Afternoon services at 2:00 o'clock. Evening service at 7:30.

Next week Wednesday our Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. Eva McGahan.

Baptist Young People's Union is interesting.

We are eager to prove that statement to you and if you want to see some splendid young people who are full of religious vigor, visit the B. Y. P. U. in the Baptist church auditorium Sunday evening at 6:00 o'clock.

The Stewardship-Missions Commission has charge and a "different" type of service is promised. The topic is, "Should We Expand Missions?" One interesting feature will be a report given by Ty Kirby, who will divide 100 pennies into stacks, and tell what each represents. Other things equally as interesting have been planned for your benefit. Everyone is welcome. Will we see you there?

VOLUME 35. NUMBER 4. SIX PAGES. COURIER, CHARLEVOIX, MICH., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1930. PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

WINTER PROGRAM OPENS THURSDAY

HORSE RACES FEATURE OF FIRST POLAR BEAR DAY.

Skating, Coasting and Dancing in the Evening. Carnival Date is February 6 with Many Features.

Charlevoix will inaugurate its 5th annual winter sports program on Thursday afternoon of this week. Charles Gale, who heads the winter sports committee appointed by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, called a meeting early this week and has outlined activities for the winter.

Thursday afternoon will be a holiday in the city as in former years and will be known as Polar Bear day, honoring the insignia adopted by the Lake Charlevoix Winter Club. According to present plans, but one organized program has been mapped out prior to the annual carnival to be held February 6th.

Thursday afternoon's activities will be featured by horse races on Bridge street. This sport was once extremely popular at Charlevoix, and now, with the number of race horse owners in the city, the attractions should be an interesting one. The program starts at 2:30 p. m.

For the evening, skating at the municipal rinks is being arranged, also coasting on Bridge street hill, which will be prepared, lighted and patrolled. The program winds up with an old-fashioned dancing party at the gymnasium.

While no definite program for the carnival has been lined up as yet, features will be the winter sports parade with the Queen and her Lady-in-Waiting, ski-joring races, horse and dog races on Bridge street, skating races, hockey games, skiing contests, etc.

Bridge street hill will be iced and ready for coasting each Thursday afternoon and evening, and the skating rink is open at all times, weather permitting.

Charlevoix is not going into winter sports on a big scale this year. It is the express desire of the committee to impress upon each and every Charlevoix citizen that they owe it to their health and to the community to get out for these Thursday afternoons and make them neighborly and enjoyable. Stores will be closed and each individual can get into the outdoors for whatever recreation that may suit their individual taste. A good afternoon outing will give everyone an opportunity to clean out their lungs with Northern Michigan's health-giving ozone.

Considering winter sports from the individual health angle, we have the following communication from Dr. R. B. Armstrong, who is a strong advocate of out-door winter programs, urging all to participate. The communication is timely and follows: To the Citizens of Charlevoix:

Now that Winter days are with us, it does not mean that we should confine ourselves to our warmly heated homes. On the contrary, we should spend a goodly part of the time enjoying the invigorating air of Winter. We should do as do the people of Norway, Sweden and Switzerland—get out of door, build up the body resistance with vigorous exercise, deep breathing of our pure, fresh air.

One is much more apt to take cold by sitting in over heated rooms which causes a relaxed condition of the blood vessels of the skin, than the one who enjoys the cold air that acts as a tonic to peripheral circulation and puts it in proper condition to meet the sudden changes from warmth to cold.

Breathe through your nose instead of your mouth.

Put on your top-coat and warm mittens, get out and exercise so that you will really enjoy the warmth of home when you return.

Cold air in Winter is more invigorating than the languid air of Summer.

Meet your friends out of doors, get the Winter spirit and the increased health that goes with out doors life.

R. B. Armstrong, M. D.

BARNARD PIONEER DIED LAST FRIDAY

Had Been a Resident There for Over Sixty Years.

The Barnard district was saddened last Friday by the death of Henry Harkness, age 89 years, who was one of Barnard's early pioneers. Deceased was born February 19, 1841, near Grimley, Ontario. He came to Barnard in 1869 and, with the exception of four years spent with his daughter, Mrs. Albert J. Beattie, has been a resident of that district. In 1864 he was united in marriage to Mary Ann Huntington, who preceded him in death 17 years ago.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Albert Beattie; two grandsons, Clarence Beattie of Ann Arbor, and John Beattie of Ann Arbor; a granddaughter, Mrs. Hazel Culp of Ann Arbor; also several great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Barnard M. E. church, Rev. J. E. Lockyer, officiating. Interment was at Barnard cemetery.

POLAR BEARS WIN FROM FERRIS FIVE

RUN STRING OF VICTORIES TO TEN STRAIGHT.

Contest Tuesday Evening Was Interesting One—Game Closely Contested All the Way.

The Charlevoix Polar Bears ran their string of consecutive victories to ten Tuesday evening by winning a fast, cleanly-played contest from the Ferris All-Stars. The final count stood 26 to 20, indicating the closeness of the game.

Charlevoix got away to an early lead and, although tied several times during the remainder of the contest, were never headed. The count at the quarter stood 4-0, and at the half 12 to 10, Charlevoix. The Polar Bears ran their total to 20, during the third period while holding Ferris to 3 points, and were leading 20 to 13 when the period ended.

The down-staters made a determined drive to win in the final quarter. They displayed some beautiful team play and held the locals a little better than even on scoring, but were unable to overcome the Polar Bears' 7 point lead. Had Ferris been able to cash in on their short shots, the result would have been far different. They missed easy ones frequently after running the ball in with their fast floor attack.

Novak was Charlevoix's high point man with 14. His close-in shots seldom missed their mark. Ikens tallied 6 points, Brown 4 and Cooper 2.

The Polar Cubs won the preliminary contest from the local Pythian eagles by a score of 10 to 2. The game was slow and not very interesting.

The Polar Bears have two more home games before leaving on their southern Michigan trip. Cheboygan comes here next Tuesday evening, January 28th, and on the following Tuesday, February 4th, Harbor Springs. The team leaves February 5th. They take on Manistee Iron Works that night and on the 7th meet Midland. One of the feature games of the season is a contest scheduled for February 12th with the White Printing Company of Grand Rapids. A return game with the Manistee outfit is set for March 4th.

CRANK CAR IN GEAR; BURIED IN SNOW BANK

Lansing Man Caught Behind Bumper Given Unexpected Ride.

Ed. Mortmin of Lansing, was the victim of a peculiar accident here Friday.

The starter on his car failed and he stepped inside the front bumper to crank the machine by hand, unaware that he had left the car in high gear. When the motor started, the machine jumped ahead with Mortmin clinging to the radiator to keep from being run over. The machine smashed over an iron air standpipe which barely missed Mortmin as it fell, and then drove him about five feet into a high snow bank, burying its luckless victim completely out of sight.

Fortunately oil station attendants were close at hand to dig Mortmin out of the snow before he smothered.

RED AND WHITE LOSE TO HARBOR

DROPPED CLOSE CONTEST TO STATE CHAMPIONS.

Play Traverse City on Home Court Saturday Night—Junior High in Preliminary Game.

Charlevoix high school eagles lost their second start in Northern Michigan class C competition last Saturday evening, dropping a closely-contested, red-hot game to Harbor Springs on the latter's court.

The Emmet county five, 1929 class C state champions, showed very little superiority over Coach Kipke's basketball team. The game was close right up to the final minutes of the fourth quarter, when Harbor forged ahead with enough points to win. Charlevoix fans take a great deal of satisfaction from the outcome of Saturday night's contest, for Charlevoix gave the champions the closest battle they have had so far this season. Harbor has beaten all comers up to date by top-sided scores.

Harbor led by the narrow margin of one point at the close of the first quarter and during that period the advantage changed twice. The count at the whistle was 5 to 4, Harbor. The Emmet county eagles increased their advantage by 3 points at the half, when they led 14 to 11, but at the close of the third period, the count again showed but one point difference, 15 to 14, Harbor.

Through an excellent display of team work, Harbor forged ahead in the fourth frame, counting 9 points to Charlevoix's 2. The final count was 24 to 16, Harbor.

The game was fast in every period, and was nicely handled by Referee Ferenz of Traverse City. Charlevoix made two out of five chances on free throws, while Harbor sank four out of twelve. The line-up:

Charlevoix Harbor
Ance.....rf.....McBride
McCall.....lf.....Hill
Novak.....c.....Faunce
Vic Smith.....fg.....Bradley
Superman.....lg.....Johnson
Goals—Novak, Faunce, 1; Vic Smith, McBride, 3; Bradley, 2; Hill, 1. Free throws—McCall, Faunce, 2; McBride, Bradley, 1.

Kipke's basketball team make their second home appearance here Saturday night against the strong class B Traverse City quintet. Charlevoix lost to Traverse away from home earlier this season by a narrow margin and will try to even things up Saturday night. A preliminary between Charlevoix and Boyne City junior high teams has been arranged.

PLANS FOR FATHER WEEK BEING FORMED

Community Men's Club is Sponsoring the Project.

Plans are being worked out to have a Father and Son Week in Charlevoix at a near future date, probably the first week in February.

The plan is to have a week of activity in which father and son participate together, such as an evening at home, an evening at the gymnasium, attending the annual Father and Son banquet and a church service on Sunday together.

A meeting has been called Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in the community club room to further the project. The plan is being sponsored by the Community Men's Club.

PLANES ARE MAKING DAILY TRIPS

MICHIGAN AIR EXPRESS LINE BEGAN OPERATIONS.

O'Neill Taxi Service Connecting Link at Charlevoix—Information Obtainable There.

Regular service by the Michigan Air Express, operating between Grand Rapids and the Emmet county airport between Harbor Springs and Petoskey, was inaugurated a week ago Sunday, and with the exception of last Tuesday, regular daily trips have been made.

Landings at Charlevoix have been made at Coulter's field, but starting this week were changed to Lake Charlevoix off Parmelee's ware house. This change was made to allow cars to meet the planes.

Runs will be made daily on the following schedule, weather permitting:

Grand Rapids, leave 10:30 a. m.
Big Rapids, arrive 11:10 a. m., leave 11:20 a. m.
Cadillac, arrive 11:47 a. m., leave 11:57 a. m.
Traverse City, arrive 12:21 a. m., leave 12:31 a. m.
Charlevoix, arrive 12:58 a. m., leave 1:08 p. m.
Petoskey-Harbor Springs, arrive 1:22 p. m.
From Petoskey-Harbor Springs To Petoskey-Harbor Springs, leave 1:45 p. m.
Charlevoix, arrive 1:59 p. m., leave 2:09 p. m.
Traverse City, arrive 2:36 p. m., leave 2:46 p. m.
Cadillac, arrive 3:10 p. m., leave 3:50 p. m.
Big Rapids, arrive 3:47 p. m., leave 3:57 p. m.
Grand Rapids, arrive 4:37 p. m.

The first two trips were made Sunday and Monday. Tuesday's trip was cancelled because of a dense fog.

For the next few weeks only express and light freight will be carried, as it is the wish of the management to establish a definite and comprehensive system of weather reports and communications, as well as to acquire detailed data on operations covering the territory involved before offering passenger service to the public.

It will be the policy of Michigan Air Express to build and develop its organization and operations around the principles of highest type of service and a low cost. As a result, free collection and delivery service is made available to all users of air express. The Mahoney Taxi Company in Big Rapids, Ward's Taxi Service in Traverse City, O'Neill's Taxi Service in Charlevoix, Smith's Taxi Service in Petoskey, Byron's Taxi Service in Harbor Springs, and Jones Messenger and Delivery Service in Grand Rapids have been appointed local agents in each city. A telephone call to a local agent will insure complete information and quick service.

Wright Whirlwind powered Stinson Monoplanes and Travel-Air Bi-planes are used for express runs, and will be replaced with Pratt & Whitney Wasp powered Stinson eight-place Monoplanes when passenger service is inaugurated.

Herpolsheimer's Department Store is shipping the first consignment of air express to each city on the line and is planning on making this service available from now on their out of town customers in Northern Michigan.

Arrangements have been completed with the Kohler Aviation Corporation operating between Grand Rapids and Milwaukee which will allow through express service to Milwaukee and points in Wisconsin.

Plans are being made to extend Michigan Air Express through to Mackinaw City and St. Ignace at an early date, with connections through to the Soo and the upper peninsula a little later.

Officers of Michigan Air Express are Jack Byrne, president; Floyd Becker, vice president; and Ingrete Magnusson, secretary-treasurer.

R. A. MILLER TRANSFERRED TO NEW DUTIES

R. A. Miller, who has been covering the territory surrounding Charlevoix as salesman for the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, has been transferred to other duties at Grand Rapids, and the trade in the city of Charlevoix will now be solicited by Wm. Martz of Petoskey.

DISTRICT TOURNEY GOES TO HARBOR

REGIONAL MEET TO BE HELD AT PETOSKEY AGAIN.

District Dates are March 6, 7 and 8—Petoskey Meet to Be Held March 13, 14 and 15.

Petoskey will hold the annual spring regional basketball tournament this year on March 13, 14 and 15, it was decided by the basketball tournament board of the Michigan Athletic Association in conference late Saturday at Detroit. Michigan's complete list of district, regional and state tournaments were arranged at the meeting. Harbor Springs was awarded the Northern Michigan district tournament, other places in the race being Boyne City, Charlevoix and East Jordan. It appears the policy of the committee to press this tournament around among the places nearby and having the best gymnasium facilities. The Harbor Springs meet will be on March 6, 7 and 8.

In arranging the list of district tournaments, the committee failed to decide definitely on the meets usually held at Manistee, Grayling and East Tawas. These places were tentatively fixed with final decision reserved. These district tournament places were picked as final:

Niles, South Haven, Paw Paw, Three Rivers, Albion, Tecumseh, Olivet, Jackson, Hillsdale, Ypsilanti, Fordson, Wyandotte, St. Clair, Detroit (Holy Redeemer), Romeo, Pontiac, Lapeer, Cass City, Caro, Saginaw, Alma, Mt. Pleasant, Big Rapids, Flushing (tentative), Owosso, Hastings, Lansing, Ionia, East Grand Rapids, Muskegon or Fremont, Traverse City, Harbor City, Rogers City, Ironwood, Kingsford, Bergland, Neegaunee, Munising, Houghton, Vulcan or Norway and Rapid River.

The regional tournaments will be held in the following cities: Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Ypsilanti, Pontiac, Flint, (Class C and D), Saginaw (Class A), Mt. Pleasant, Petoskey and Marquette.

Probably close to 700 teams will be entered in the state-wide competition. Listed in the district tourney will be 40 Class A teams, 75 Class B teams, 225 Class C teams and about 350 Class D outfits. Registration will close February 24th.

Drawings for positions for the state finals will be March 17.

An innovation will be tried out at the state finals by playing the first round on March 20 on six gymnasiums situated near or in Detroit, relieving the cluttered conditions which have hitherto existed on the first day. The first round of games will be played in six of the following nine high schools: Pontiac, Royal Oak, Grosse Pointe, Ypsilanti, Fordson, Wyandotte, Mt. Clemens, Detroit Central and Detroit Northwestern.

PLANE RESCUES INJURED INDIAN

BEAVER ISLAND WORKMAN TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

George Austgen, Michigan Air Express Pilot, Crossed to Island Sunday in Open Plane.

George Austgen, nervy pilot of the Michigan Air Express, newly organized airline between Grand Rapids and Emmet county airport, is deservedly credited with saving the life of Joe Wells, Petoskey Indian, seriously injured Saturday morning at the Petoskey Maple Block company camp at Beaver Island.

First news of the accident was received here when Dr. Russell Palmer called for a boat to transfer Wells to a mainland hospital. Dr. Palmer stated that Wells had been crushed at the hips between two logs and that it was necessary he be given hospital attention at once.

Owing to ice conditions off Charlevoix harbor it was impossible for Capt. John McCann to make a trip with the tug Venus. Immediately after receiving this word from Charlevoix, Beaver Islanders got in touch with Mr. Russell of Petoskey, foreman of the Maple Block company camp, asking that an airplane be sent if possible. Fortunately, two planes of the Michigan Air Express, weathering out a storm at the Emmet county airport, offered to make the trip.

Because of storm conditions, the flight was put off until Sunday morning. It was originally intended to use a Stinson-Detroler cabin plane, but this machine, equipped with wheels, was snowed in and could not get off the ground.

Austgen was elected to make the trip. He took off at 10:30 in a two-seat open plane, making the crossing in about 50 minutes. It was his first trip to the island and he flew straight across from the airport, covering about 30 miles of open water. Landing was made at St. James harbor, where a place had been marked. Islanders had Wells ready for the return. Wounded in his leg, he was put into the front cockpit of the plane. When about five minutes away from the island, the covers blew off the injured man, requiring the pilot to return to the island again. Wells was re-bandaged more carefully and at 2:20, Austgen returned with his injured passenger.

A waiting ambulance transferred Wells to the Petoskey hospital. Word from there Monday morning stated that both pelvic bones were broken and numerous other injuries had been sustained. It will be many months before the man can walk again, but it is thought he will recover. Left at the island, where equipment to handle such cases is lacking, Wells would probably have died.

The writer takes off his hat to officials of the Michigan Air Express. Flying over Lake Michigan at this time of year is hazardous at the best. They had everything to lose in case of a mishap. Whether arrangements have been made to compensate them is not known, but in case there hasn't, there should be.

In addition, Sunday's incident is just another argument for air service in this region during the winter. There is no doubt that with a little organized backing from Beaver Island, planes of the Michigan Air Express would include St. James on their schedule, and such emergencies could be taken care of without scouring the country for free-will aid.

NORWOOD RESIDENT DIED AT MUSKEGON

Funeral and Burial Last Saturday at Petoskey.

Funeral services were held last Saturday in Petoskey for Walter S. Monty, for many years a resident of Norwood vicinity, who died early last Wednesday at Muskegon. Death resulted from blood poisoning caused from an injury to his hand.

Deceased was born February 18, 1867, at West Chazy, New York. He came to Norwood when a young lad, and aside from short residences near Petoskey and at Muskegon, spent all his life in that vicinity. Thirty-five years ago he married Jennie Stafford, who survives him together with a brother, Will Richardson of Norwood, several nieces and nephews and a large number of friends.

GET BACK TO WORK.

President Herbert Hoover, having in mind the happiness and prosperity of the American people, invited five hundred of the leading business executives of the nation to Washington to set in motion a survey looking to the stabilization of business and the maintenance of the national economic momentum. Speaking before this great body of business men the president said:

"The very fact that you gentlemen come together for this broad purpose represents an advance in the whole conception of the relationship of business to public welfare. You represent the business of the United States, undertaking through your own voluntary action to contribute something very definite to the advancement of stability and progress in our economic life. This is a far cry from the arbitrary and dogmatic attitude of the business world of some thirty or forty years ago. At this is not a declaration of interference by the government with business, but a request from the government that you cooperate in finding means to solve a national problem. A great responsibility and a great opportunity rest upon the business and economic organization of the country. The task is one fitted to its fine initiative and courage."

"Beyond this, a great responsibility for stability and prosperity rests with the whole people. I have no desire to preach. I may, however, mention one good old word—work."

THE SCHOOL OF EXPERIENCE

Stock market quotations have ceased, at least for the present, to have any meaning or value in measuring the worth of a corporate stock, according to Richard H. Scott, president of the Koo Motor Car Company. He says that until the market value of securities is predicated upon a more and more intelligent study of the actual worth of securities, it will continue to be a hazardous guide and counselor for persons of moderate means.

The public has been advised time and again by industrial and financial leaders to use caution in their investments, to get advice from legiti-mate banking and brokerage houses, to refrain from trading on narrow margins and to steer clear of "tips" and "can't lose" market advice. There is nothing fundamentally wrong with American industry and it is certainly essential that its securities be purchased by the public. But it is not necessary to buy securities without rhyme or reason as one would play a roulette wheel.—From the Manufacturer.

NOW FOR GREATER SAFETY ON MICHIGAN ROADS

Motorists of Michigan put up more than $41,000,000 during the past year to help build good roads. Of course, a slice of this went for interest on bonds and some was turned back to the counties to be used presumably for road purposes. But at any rate more than 300 miles of new hard-surfaced roads were added to the state's permanent possession of the kind and about $5,000,000 was spent for maintenance of roads already completed.

That would be a good road story if it were not for the tragedy connected with it. But along these magnificent roads about 1,500 deaths occurred in traffic accidents. That was a fatality increase of nearly 25 per cent over the terrible record of the previous year. The state department of highways announced its intention to devote more and more attention to safety precautions. The emergency demands this. So far as the expenditure of money can avail to lessen this slaughter, it should not be withheld. Correcting dangerous curves and doing away with deadly grade crossings are a great purpose for the investment of millions. Detroit News.

JUST BE CAREFUL

Michigan writers the last few days have been marked by an unusual amount of ice on the highways, caused by snow removal which leaves the roads in such shape that every light thaw and freeze forms a thin coating of snow and ice on the hard surface.

And there seems to be no remedy for the condition, so rapidly as the falling snow rolled down and flattened out by the rubber tired vehicles, making it impossible to keep the pavements thoroughly bare through the greater part of the season.

There is only one answer to this new hazard—careful driving. Railroad crossings, street and highway intersections should be approached with great caution, and at no time should a car be driven at an excessive speed with such a slippery routine underneath the wheels. Traffic laws will not help—it is up to the individual motorist to be his own "safety first" movement.

PROHIBITION

Prohibition, like all social questions affecting the entire country, is bound to have its friends and enemies, its defenders and its supporters.

Under our form of government discussion of this social problem is bound to continue, nor can it be successfully stifled by law. It must be fought out in the open forum of public opinion and there acted upon intelligently as the facts will warrant. Pre-justice or bigotry cannot enter into a successful solution.

Right now the temperature at Washington has risen to fever heat as friends and foes of this great social problem engage in a virtual hand-to-hand conflict in hurrying charges and counter charges at each other.

The Hoover administration is charged with lack of enforcement; the proposal is made to place the enforcement machinery of the nation, and the Supreme Court of the United States is being urged to declare the buyer equally guilty with the seller.

Federal courts have the aid of the Jones law in dealing with violators of the prohibition law, in Michigan we have the Cuthbertson act to assist state courts in combating this illicit industry, but in spite of the heavy penalties being inflicted by both state and nation there seems to be no decrease in the great army of rum runners engaged in supplying the demand for liquor.

While this endless battle of words and courts continues what about the man, woman, or child who might be induced to settle this question individually? If a nation expects individually to become temperate there will be no need for prohibitive liquor legislation.

The great temperance movement of pre-prohibition days should be revived, new crusaders should be sent into the field pointing out the health, happiness and prosperity that follows in the wake of sobriety. The "I will" of any human being is much more efficient as a driving power for good than the "Thou shalt" of any reformer who ever lived.

The prohibition question will never be settled in America until the little white ribbon of temperance becomes once more a national emblem.

IS IT "JUST A COLD"?

Don't be too quick to say "just a cold." To the care of a child, the running nose and sore may mean the beginning of measles, the teething cough may be whooping cough, the sore throat may be scarlet fever or diphtheria. Even your own "cold" may be influenza, bronchitis, perhaps the early stages of pneumonia.

More than half the Phisces of winter are first classified as colds. The Michigan Tuberculosis Association says that a large percentage could be cut down if every person, with a "cold" would stop work, and take at least one day's rest in bed—just one single day. Staying away from people for that day would keep you from distributing your cold to others at its most contagious stage. It would help you to fight the early fever and save your heart action a chance to steady down. In most cases it would put an end to your cold.

Many a case of fatal pneumonia would be prevented were this simple rule followed. Hanging around the house partly dressed, going from room to room and occasionally outdoors does not answer. The prescription reads "Stay in Bed."

THE THEORY OF SACREDNESS

We hear about the sacredness of the home. But this subject is talked about the most after a liquor raid. Who better than the officer of the law who steps across the threshold without proper authority.

And that is perfectly right. It is necessary and just. Without it there would be no guarantee of freedom and of peace.

But we often wonder if those who argue about the sacredness of the home ever think about another question. What about doing the things which destroy that sacredness. The moonshiner says to the officer of the law that he shall not enter. His home is sacred. Yet he uses that home for the purpose of violating the constitution of his land and the laws of his country. That is not proper respect for a home. It is not a sacred influence to put before the family of growing children.

A home is fundamentally sacred only when it is kept that way by those who make up the household.—Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review.

TWO GOOD SIGNS

There is one hopeful sign in industry—the lessened employment of children.

According to records that have come from federal authorities the employment of boys and girls in industry is declining quite rapidly.

These reports, while not complete, cover a sufficient number of states and cities, so that they indicate the substantial and underlying facts.

A boy or a girl, 14 and 15 years of age, has no place in industry. Only states which have no pride in young people and humanity permit such employment. Only industries which have no respect for anything except dollars will employ boys and girls. There is a growing sentiment which bars children from factories and lets them play and learn until it is time to assume the burdens of life.

HAVE YOU SEEN THESE TWO GREAT NEW CARS?

THE NEW OAKLAND 8 GENERAL MOTORS' Lowest-priced Eight—

$1045 AND UP

Three years of actual designing and testing preceded the announcement of the New Oakland Eight. In addition it incorporates General Motors' sixteen years' experience in building fine eight-cylinder automobiles.

The New Oakland has an 85-horsepower engine. This is the highest power ever employed in a car of Oakland's size and weight, racing cars excepted. Oakland develops one horsepower to 37 pounds of car weight. That is the reason for its superior performance.

With its high speed and fast acceleration, the new Oakland combines the smoothness inherent in eight-cylinder design. This smoothness is intensified by its complete down-draft fuel distribution and other exclusive features.

Only a close inspection and a demonstration will enable you to understand fully the many advantages provided by the New Oakland Eight. Come in and see it.

The New Oakland Eight, $1045 and up, f.o.b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers, rear fender guards and spring covers extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Once again Pontiac has improved upon a car already noted for its excellent qualities. To the hundreds of thousands who own Pontiacs, and to everyone who is interested in low-priced automobiles, this announcement is important. For it introduces the New Series Pontiac Big Six—a new and finer car with a famous name.

Smart new bodies by Fisher make the New Series Big Six a more beautiful Pontiac. Pontiac's smoothness is increased by a new type of rubber suspension for its 60-horsepower engine, improved four-wheel brakes and a new sloping non-glare windshield add to the car's safety.

With these and other improvements Pontiac offers all of its basic big car excellence.

Come in. Let us show you the many advantages provided by this finer car with a famous name.

The New Series Pontiac Big Six, $745 and up, f.o.b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Shock absorbers—standard equipment. Bumpers and spring covers at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivery price as well as the list price when comparing automobiles. The values of the Oakland and Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

WASHINGTON NEWS
LETTER.

Say It in Wood.

Don't throw away that old wooden box! Any one of 1,200 fascinating contraptions can be fashioned from it. The national committee on wood utilization, which was formed under the direction of Herbert Hoover in 1925 has recently issued a booklet "You Can Make It." The publication contains one hundred suggestions for hewing and nailing once discarded containers into things of beauty and usefulness. This booklet, the first of a series to be issued by the committee, has already attained a sales record of 100,000 copies, and the entertaining occupation it describes promises to take the place of crossword puzzles.

The inexhaustible field for this second-hand carpentry is revealed by the committee's estimate that in America approximately four billion feet of lumber are consumed annually in the making of boxes and crates—or sufficient material to construct homes for four times the population of our national capital.

Virginia's Legislators Can Now Fight Duels.

"I swear . . . that I will not fight a duel with a deadly weapon or send or accept a challenge to fight a duel with a deadly weapon, within or beyond the boundaries of this state . . ."

Yes, it does sound archaic. Never the less every member of the Virginia State Assembly was, until this month, required to take such an oath. This constitutional prohibition against dueling is thought to date back to 1820 and is known to have been rewritten into Virginia's constitution in 1902, when the last state constitutional convention was held.

An act eliminating the oath was passed in 1926, but it was 1928 before a change was made in the constitution by which the mention of the pistol-and-sword method of settling Virginia honor was formally held antiquated. Until now no one troubled to have the oath changed, obsolete as the need for such a provision had become.

The Heathen Calendar.

While George Eastman, of Kodak and calendar fame, disposes with satisfaction the increased number of converts to his thirteen-month-a-year plan in this country, Father Time is having hard sledding in China. There, the national government has forced our standard Gregorian calendar upon an unwilling Chinese population who prefer the ancient lunar calendar which reckons passage of months by the moon.

Chinese, clinging to their outmoded calendar for the best reason that exists in China it is an ancient custom. A horde of superstitions and traditions surround the lunar calendar. Fortune telling and astrology have their foundation in the moon system of telling time; it abounds with lucky and unlucky days; national holidays are celebrated.

The form of complete cessation from all work for several days, the burning of incense and an exchange of gifts and visits.

An order declaring illegal all documents framed according to the lunar calendar was issued by the government on the first day of this year. It is the most definite step yet taken by authorities in its long efforts to reform the Chinese calendar, but how effective it is remains to be seen. At any rate, Chinese people in the areas where the government influence is strong, celebrate the "foreign New Year" on January 1, in the same way that we heathens of Occidental countries do.

Politics This Week.

How must it seem to senators reconvening after Christmas holidays that the merry-go-round of tariff revision is ready to whirl again? The music and motion were pleasing enough at first, but there is no doubt that the riders are decidedly weary of the whole business by now, and not a few of them are more than giddy. Moreover, think of the lovely side-shows that they are missing—prohibition, state campaigns for re-nomination and re-election, international politics, Muscle Shoals, and a million other enchanting pastimes.

The indisputable fact remains, however, that tariff revision will have to be carried to the bitter end. One exciting schedule looms near at hand: "Schedule V—Sugar, Molasses and Schedules Thereof." It might have been labeled dynamite for senators.

WASHES, CARRIES COAL, WOMAN GAINS 18 POUNDS

"I wash, iron and carry coal and don't get tired since taking Vinol. Also I have gained 18 pounds," Mrs. S. Cortese.

Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver, peptone, iron, etc. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. The very FIRST bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Tastes delicious. F. J. Fessenden, Druggist.

KONJOLA PUTS RAILROAD MAN
BACK ON JOB

Had About Abandoned Hope of Ever Having Health—
New Medicine Wins
Fine Victory.

MR. M. F. TAYLOR.

"Konjola proved much more than a medicine in my case," said Mr. M. F. Taylor, 1008 Clay avenue, Detroit, an employee of the Grand Trunk railroad, "for it put me back on the job after having had to lay off for quite some time. For three years I suffered from stomach trouble, and ailments of the liver and kidneys. I could not digest sufficient food to keep me going. I suffered from pains and bloating, and my system filled with poisons."

"A friend who called at my home recommended Konjola. I told him that I had lost faith in all medicines, but he insisted that Konjola was different. It surely was different, for just seven bottles restored my digestion, corrected my liver and kidneys and put me back to work. I am feeling better in every way than for years, and my wife and three boys are now taking Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Members have preferred to defer casting it on the senate floor. Postponement doesn't seem to have lessened its explosive nature, however, and the battle may be even hotter because of the added importance the schedule has acquired through delay.

It is worth noting that Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, insurgent chief, has renewed his plans to introduce an amendment calling for a bounty to domestic sugar producers instead of a protective tariff. The bounty scheme has two notable advantages over the tariff: it will not harm China at a higher sugar duty will, and it will not raise the price of sugar to the American consumer. The latter advantage gains in significance as the price of sugar shows signs of rising naturally, because of decreased world production for 1930 and increased world consumption. A tariff increase added to this higher price would skyrocket the cost of sugar out of all reason.

Woman's Bureau Collects Eloquent Statistics.

The day is past when women wage earners can regard their salaries as "pin money," judging from a report recently published by Agnes L. Peterson, assistant director of the Woman's Bureau in Washington. Exactly why double standard wages are unfair in view of the heavy economic burden that most women bear is demonstrated in these most salient facts brought out by Miss Peterson.

Women's earnings form the last line of defense against the wolf at the door of a large proportion of city families today.

A contribution from women is often a necessity because of the increasing needs of the modern family and the high cost of living.

Information from 60,000 women reveals that more than half this number turn over all their earnings to their families.

Of 458 working mothers, only 108 report their husband's salaries to be as much as $30.00 a week; and they are constantly haunted by the dread of sickness or unemployment.

A study of over 17,000 unmarried women shows that one in every five is caring for a family without any male help.

Cooking, dishwashing, scrubbing, laundering and care of dependents are not relinquished by most women who must struggle side by side with men.

As a result of these investigations, Miss Peterson plans to ask that state and national governments to make a thorough study of the problem of women breadwinners to prevent the wage exploitation which constitutes a menace to the health of women and to the welfare of the race.

A Made-to-Order City.

A phenomenal metropolis is Cuba's

Machado City, built by and named for the republic president, General Gerardo Machado. Less than two years ago, the site on which it stands was a hilly pasture. Now it is rapidly being covered with factories and pleasant homes and is a real tribute to the island's continuous educational and industrial progress.

The made-to-order city is modern in the best sense of the word. Everything is of the latest design. A paint factory and a shoe factory are already turning out their products, and ground will soon be broken for three of four additional factories. An airplane assembling factory to accompany the new Curtiss flying field is included among the plans. Magnificent $160,000 are even now partially constructed.

A school system, comprising every division of education from kindergarten to technical schools is a notable feature of Machado City. A unique feature of the technical schools is that pupils are required to bring nothing with them, receiving all their materials from the school itself.

More Reason for Sticking.
"No Wonder She Quits," The Baltimore Evening Sun entitles the following:

"Mrs. Pearl Peden Oldfield, member of the house of representatives from Arkansas, will not run for reelection next year, because she believes 'the ship of state now and a hundred years from now should be guided by the menfolk.'

"In view of the fact that Mrs. Oldfield is actually holding a job at this moment, her statement is surprising. In view of the fact that she is one of only eight women in the house, it may be disconcerting to some feminists. Without doubt she will be cheered with being the feminist cause and acting as an enemy of women."

"But this is not so certain. After all, women have been in politics—officially—for a little less than ten years. Hence they must share equally with men responsibility for what has happened in the last ten years."

"That is to say, women must share the responsibility for Harding and the Ohio gang, for the unspeakable Forbes of the Veteran Bureau, for Denby and Fall, for such incidents as the Pepper-Vare campaign, for Laughey, and Michaelson, and Denison, for the prohibition killings, for the bribes accepted by the coast guard, for the corruption that has spread its infection throughout a large part of the government service, for creatures of the Anti-Saloon league occupying the Federal bench, for life-for-a-punt laws, and millionaire bootleggers."

Is it any wonder that an intelligent woman should stand appalled when she considers what has happened since the passage of the Nineteenth Amendment? Indeed, it would seem that a woman defends rather than attacks her sex when she wishes to leave all the responsibility for this to men, instead of having half of it loaded on women.

TOP 'O MICHIGAN AS-SOCIATION ELECTED

B. C. Mellencamp First Secretary
Outside Otsego County.

The annual meeting of those interested in the Top 'O Michigan Potato and Apple Show was held last Friday at Gaylord. A satisfactory report was made on the 1929 show and directors and officers for the coming year were selected.

For the first time in the history of the show a secretary has been chosen from a county other than Otsego. B. C. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent of Charlevoix county, is to take over the secretaryship from A. C. Lytle, county agent of Otsego county, who has successfully filled the office for the past seven years.

Due to the fact that the show is getting larger each year a new office of manager has been created. C. Bliven, county agricultural agent of Alpena county, has been chosen for this job. The president and vice-president are the same as those of last year, namely, R. J. Gerhke, Alpena, and Dale Nichols of Pellston. Stanley Dillworth, manager of the Boyne City Co-operative Association, was elected the new treasurer. Two directors from each county were also named.

The dates for the 1930 show were fixed for October 29 to 31st, inclusive. With the new set of buildings that worked out so satisfactorily last year and an increasing interest in the showing of high grade potatoes and apples from twelve north-most counties in Michigan, a successful show for 1930 is predicted.

Dairy Feeding Schools.
The correct feeding and management of dairy cows is a problem that is ever changing to meet new conditions. At the present time a very distinct problem has arisen, in that the price of butterfat has suffered a severe depression and now what changes in feeding can be made to adjust your income to the lower receipts.

This is one of the big questions that will be discussed at the feeding schools scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, January 28 and 29. R. H. Addy, Lansing, former dairy specialist from M. S. C., will be the main speaker. He has had considerable experience with the feeding of cows and will be happy to have you list the home grown grains and roughage you have on hand and will suggest rations that will balance the production needs of the cows.

The following is the schedule of meetings:

Tuesday, January 28, at 9:30 p. m., standard time, Barnard Grange hall. Tuesday afternoon, January 28, at 1:30 p. m., standard time, Marion Center town hall. Wednesday forenoon, January 29, at 9:30 p. m., standard time, Boyne City library (basement).

Wednesday, afternoon, January 29, (East Jordan library (basement)).

Statements are heard very commonly that "I am going to quit—no money at 31 cents for fat." All right. If you sell the cows, then what? What have we on the farm that has been as profitable and fluctuated less in prices over a 10 year period? The best attitude is, "I am going on just the same. This price is only temporary and I cannot afford to sell my cows under any consideration, neither can I afford not to feed properly." Well, anyway, attend your nearest meeting and find out what is the best way of meeting this condition, but don't sell your cows. Put the date down on your new calendar and hear Mr. Addy.

Fertilizer Dealers to Meet.

All fertilizer dealers of the county will meet this week to discuss the many matters pertaining to the handling of commercial plant food. At this meeting R. V. Tanner, soils specialist from M. S. C., will explain in detail, what significance is attached to the analysis on the bag, what particular analysis is best suited to the needs of the farmer, and what kinds of fertilizers should be handled in the county.

It was not long ago that there were something like 100 different kinds of fertilizers being sold in Michigan. Many of these were not suited to Michigan farmers, but nevertheless many dealers unthinkingly sold poor fertilizers. Now, no dealer wants to sell inferior plant food, because he is vitally interested in his customer and wants them to get their money's worth every time, and besides, he doesn't make any more money from selling poor fertilizer than he does in the case of quality fertilizer.

As a result of meetings of this kind your dealer will be much better informed and can render better service to you and can tell what kind of fertilizer is best suited to your needs.

Tell your dealer your soil conditions and he will be glad to suggest the proper amount and kind of fertilizer to use to give you the best returns.

County Club Championships Awarded for Year 1929.

During the year 1929 there has been considerable activity in Boys and Girls Club work, not only from the number of different projects, but also from the number of rural boys and girls who have participated in the program and events associated with its operation.

The total shows that 184 were enrolled in the various projects, with 149 finishing all requirements in the following clubs:

Eight Canning clubs, 55 enrolled, 44 finished.
Six Clothing clubs, 32 enrolled, 21 finished.
Five Handicraft clubs, 29 enrolled, 22 finished.
Two Hot Lunch clubs, 21 enrolled, 24 finished.
Two Dairy clubs, 19 enrolled, 19 finished.
Two Potato clubs, 25 enrolled, 19 finished.

(Includes one corn member.)
The above represents the largest club program yet carried on, both from number of clubs and number enrolled.

At the close of the year recognition is given to the outstanding club members of the county by awarding county championships to those who have been selected as having met the requirements the most fully and who have shown the most interest and participation in club activities. An appropriate Certificate of Achievement is given to all county champions by the state club staff in recognition of their fine service.

The following members are to be congratulated upon winning the succeeding awards:

Canning Club Championships.
1st year champion, Agnes Stanek, Kust Jordan.
2nd year champion, Martha Reidel, Boyne City.
3rd year champion, Bessie Straw, Charlevoix.
4th year champion, Doris Russell, East Jordan.
5th year champion, Katherine Wankeman, East Jordan.

Clothing Clubs.
1st year champion, Elsie McClanaghan, Charlevoix.
2nd year champion, Elsie Rumisek, Charlevoix.
3rd year champion, Edna Cunningham, Charlevoix.

Handicraft Clubs.
1st year junior champion, Alfred Nelson, East Jordan.
2nd year champion, Garlelle Nice, East Jordan.
1st year senior champion, John Mathers, Boyne City.

Dairy Clubs.
1st year champion, James Black, Charlevoix.
2nd year champion, Carleton Smith, Charlevoix.
3rd year champion, George Johnston, East Jordan.
4th year champion, W. F. Wern, East Jordan.

Potato Clubs.
1st year champion, Fred Ranney, East Jordan.

Already some 18 clubs have been organized to carry on clothing and handicraft club work this winter, so fond hopes are entertained that the year of 1930 will see a still larger program conducted in Charlevoix county.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.
Subject: "Truth."
Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.
Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, January 19.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "But ye that did cleave unto the Lord your God are alive every one of you this day (Deut. 1:41).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man in the likeness of God as revealed in Science cannot help being immortal. . . . In Science man's mortality depends upon that of God, and follows as a necessary consequence of the immortality of God" (p. 81).

STATE GETS $300.00 A DAY FROM OIL WELLS

The State of Michigan is now receiving a revenue of over $300.00 a day from all royalties from mineral rights leased from the state, according to the Geological Survey Division of the Department of Conservation.

There are now six paying wells in the Mt. Pleasant district in which the oil rights have been leased from the state and from which the state is receiving royalties.

Oil royalties go into the general funds but part of it is to be used to defray expenses of state supervision of the oil operations.

NORWOOD

The Argo Milling Co. has two trucks drawing wood to Charlevoix this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Ypma went to Grand Rapids on Saturday. They expect to spend the rest of the winter there.

Charles Hamlin of Charlevoix, accompanied by a party of men, was in this locality Monday, looking over some valuable lake frontage.

Don't think Norwood is off the map just because our telephone is out of order. Mr. Stinson is repairing it, and we will soon be on the line again. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mayne have received word from Rockford that their daughter, Joyce, is ill with scarlet fever. The report stated she was getting along nicely.

George Whitley of Detroit, was an over-night guest last Friday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Holcebeck. He also called on friends and relatives in Charlevoix Saturday, returning to Detroit Sunday by rail.

Rollie Baumbach of Antrim City, makes regular week end trips to Charlevoix after his daughters, Bessie and Mary, who are students at the Charlevoix high school. He has been making the trips by auto, which is unusual at this time of year.

Wm. Richardson attended funeral services at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Petoskey for his brother, Walter Monty, whose death occurred early last Wednesday morning in Muskegon. Death resulted from blood poisoning following an accident in which Mr. Monty injured his hand. Besides his wife, deceased is survived by his brother, William, of Norwood; a niece, Mrs. Studebaker, and a nephew, Ivan Newman, both of California.

BARNARD.

No church or Sunday school on Sunday on account of the storm.

Clarence Beattie is still quite sick. Mrs. Albert Beattie of Charlevoix is helping to care for him.

Quite a few of our Barnard people enjoyed "Aunt Lucia" on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week.

Earl Shanton was unable to go on his regular trip Monday on account of illness. Several other cases are reported in the community.

Word was received of the death of George Ball of Levering, which occurred on Saturday night. His nephew, Glenn Cummins, attended the funeral Tuesday.

Henry Harkness was buried in the Barnard cemetery on Monday. Funeral services were held at the church, conducted by Rev. Lockyer. Mr. Harkness will be remembered as one of the first residents of Barnard, having moved here in 1899, and lived here until four years ago, when he went to live with his daughter, Mrs. Albert Beattie of Charlevoix. He was one of the charter members of the Barnard church and one of its first trustees. His death at the age of 89 closes a long period of Christian activity. Mrs. Harkness preceded him 17 years ago.

CENTRAL LAKE

H. S. 31 is pretty icy.

M. E. Sunday school had an attendance of thirty last Sunday.

Eastport Sunday school was pretty small owing to the bad weather.

Abe Arnold is able to be about some, although he is still paralyzed on one side.

Earl Kennedy and wife and Mrs. Cora Dunlap made a business trip to Bellaire Saturday.

Mrs. Vinn Fulmer of Alba, is visiting for a short time with her mother, Mrs. Frank Smith.

Spencer Arnold has a new boy at his home, Jackie Junior. This makes five boys and one girl.

O. R. Morse did not get back from

Still More Millions
Treat Colds DirectRound-About Method of "Dosing" Gives Way To Modern
Vaporizing Salve

More and more people each year are giving up the slow, indirect way of treating colds by "dosing" with internal medicines, and are adopting the modern direct treatment—Vicks Vaporub.

Vicks goes direct to the affected parts and checks the cold in two ways—its medicated vapors, released by the heat of the body, are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages; at the same time it acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster, "drawing out" tightness and soreness.

Vicks is especially appreciated by mothers because it is just rubbed on, and therefore, cannot upset children's delicate stomachs as "dosing" is so apt to do. Today the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

To keep pace with the ever-growing demand, the famous slogan, "17 Million Jars Used Yearly," was raised to "21 Million" a short time ago. This figure too, has been outgrown, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly"—a Jar for every family in the United States.

Falmouth, where he is contracting, on account of bad roads.

Rev. W. H. Rauch of Charlevoix, was unable to get to Eastport Sunday on account of the icy roads.

William Randolph, who has been ill for some time since having a stroke of paralysis, is about town again feeling much better.

George Austin, former cashier at the Exchange bank, is about the town with a cane. He recently suffered two strokes of paralysis.

Mrs. Cora Dunlop of LaGrange, Indiana, returned this week to her home. She was called here on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Kennedy.

Mrs. Irwin Kennedy, who had a light stroke of paralysis about Christmas time, was out to church last Sunday for the first time since her severe illness.

Miss Wilson and Mr. Ketunen drove up from Lansing to Bellaire for the 4-H club work, but only four teachers were present on account of stormy weather.

The committee on the canning factory growers project say they will not grow any more crops for the factory until they are given a living wage price for their produce.

ATWOOD

Real winter!

No services at the M. E. church Sunday.

Albert Elzinga's new well is not complete yet. Too stormy.

Some of our farmers are complaining about hard times. Butter only 31 cents a pound, etc. Just go now into the cities and see what you find. Some are going hungry.

Five men are seeking election for township treasurer for next year. They are Harry Bos, Henry Elzinga, John Brown, Martin Greenink and Mr. Speckman. All are good men, but just one will get nominated, possibly two if there should be two tickets in the field.

The M. E. Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. John Farrell last Thursday. They had pot luck dinner, etc. Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Pres., Mrs. Albert Harwood; sec., Mrs. Irving Lord; treas., Mrs. John Farrell. Finances are in good shape and the ladies look forward to a prosperous year.

ANTRIM CITY.

Jack Smith helped C. Stott kill a cow Tuesday.

Verne Baumbach, who was working at Kinsley, is home for a while now.

Joe Stott and Stub Lord attended the wood cutting bee at the Harry Mason place Thursday and Friday.

Ellie and Martha Mason, who were working in the Central Lake Canning factory, are home for the rest of the winter.

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES.

MARION CENTER SCHOOL.

The eighth grade class completed their study of agriculture and are now ready to begin civics.

We are planning to have a box social the 31st of January. Watch for further announcements.

We all wish to express our thanks that our road has been opened. It enabled us to attend the basketball game and the play "Aunt Lucia."

The third grade language class have finished the story of the Dutch Twins and are well started in the book, Belgium Twins, the second of a series to be studied this year.

The fifth grade geography class have completed their study of the Western States and will now have a review of the United States as a whole before studying the outlying possessions.

The Flying Needles Club and the Jolly Workers' Club held a joint meeting Thursday after school. After a short business meeting the members of both the clubs were pleasantly surprised when Mrs. Chas. Withers brought in a huge birthday cake, prettily decorated with candles, in honor of her daughter Christina's birthday.

NOWLAND SCHOOL NOTES.

More winter weather.

We are glad to welcome our new scholar, Adelbert Smith of Charlevoix, to our school.

The boys have built a snow house, modeled after an Eskimo igloo. They invite you to visit them.

Miss Daugherty is reading the story, "Tell Me a Story of Jesus," by Mary Stewart, for morning exercise.

The eighth grade have almost finished their history note books and are about ready to begin their arithmetic note books.

NORWOOD SCHOOL NOTES.

Hazel Teboe was absent from school Friday because of illness.

Watch out, Bertha! Your birthday is next Thursday, the 23rd.

Mrs. Lashbrook has a cold and is very hoarse. Hurry up and get well.

The fifth, seventh and eighth grades are having semester examinations this week.

Beatrice Kirby was absent from school Wednesday last week because her mother was ill.

There isn't enough room in the school house for New Year's since he has a new leather jacket.

Mrs. Alward, the leader of the Girls' 4-H club, visited school a few minutes Thursday noon to help the girls with their work. Come again.

Mr. Kirby has been busy helping the boys of the 4-H Club to build the cupboard and bench for tools and for work. They have a nice big heavy work bench for work and a nice cupboard for tools—"a place for everything and everything in its place."

PUT DOUBLE DECKS ON STATE FERRIES

New Loading Dock Planned at St. Ignace Will Facilitate Loading.

During this winter two of the present state ferries will be "double-decked" to increase their load capacities by nearly 100 per cent. The third boat now is equipped to carry autos on both decks.

In addition there will be built at Mackinaw City and St. Ignace two "ramps" to permit simultaneous loadings of both the upper and lower decks which will speed the loading process.

On the St. Ignace side of the straits a new dock will be located on a new site which will shorten the ships' trips between St. Ignace and Mackinaw City by 1.7 miles and cut the time for a one-way trip by about 15 minutes. The dock on the Mackinaw City side will be widened and extended.

The change in site at St. Ignace has been decided upon to give more room for the expansion of business which was impossible on the old site nearer the center of the town's business section. Plans have also been made for landscaping and beautifying the dock site so that tourists will receive the best possible impression on their landing at the gateway of the upper peninsula. The new site will also provide ample parking space which at present is lacking.

The double decks will be placed upon the two ferries by a Cheboygan concern.

OBITUARY.

John James Whaling, a resident of East Jordan and vicinity for a number of years, passed away Wednesday January 8, following a brief illness from pneumonia.

Mr. Whaling was born in Oceana county, Michigan, March 18, 1862. No record is obtainable of his first two marriages. Some 19 years ago he was married to Mrs. Emma Duffey at Alanson, Mich. She died April 9, 1929.

Deceased is survived by the following sons and step-children: Howard and George Whaling of East Jordan; Russell Duffey of Charlevoix; Wm. Clark of East Jordan. One son, Jesse Whaling, was last heard from at Bay City.

Funeral services were held from Watson's Funeral Parlor, Friday afternoon, with interment at Lake-side cemetery.

MORE MONEY FOR PICKLE GROWERS

CHARLEVOIX CONCERN SETS ADVANCES IN CONTRACTS.

Prizes to Growers Have Been Doubled for Next Year—Station at Harbor Springs Added.

The Charlevoix Pickle & Produce Company announces that pickle contracts are now ready for farmers, and at substantial price increases.

It has been the consistent policy of the Charlevoix company to always pay their growers the top-notch prices that prevailing conditions would permit; and in addition, to pay premiums when market conditions would allow this to be done. Such a premium was paid voluntarily to all growers in October 1926 for the 1926 season, the premium alone totalling $692.44.

Last year, and also in 1928, prices paid here were higher than many packers were paying in southern Michigan—and this, in spite of the fact that freight rates out of this Northern Michigan region are very much higher than rates from southern Michigan to the eastern markets. Fifty dollars in cash prizes were also paid to the 10 best growers in 1929, the same as in previous years.

The 1930 contracts carry exceptionally high prices of $3.15 for the No. 1 grade up to 3 1/2 inches; $1.25 for the No. 2 grade from 3 1/2 to 5 1/2 inches; and $1.00 for the No. 3 grade, or the small nubbins and crooks. These prices are again very much higher than other contracts being offered in Northern Michigan, and are even higher than many packers are offering this year in southern Michigan. And so, all good farmers should avail themselves of the opportunity to cash in on such excellent contracts.

This year prizes are doubled. Instead of the usual $50 offered and paid in cash awards, there will be $100 provided for this purpose in 1930. This will be divided into 15 cash amounts as follows: 1st, $20, 2nd, $15, 3rd, $10, 4th, $8, 5th, $6, 6th, $7, 7th, $6, 8th, $5, 9th, $4, 10th, $4, 11th, $3, 12th, $3, 13th, $2, 14th, $2, and 15th, $2. These prizes will again be paid to those 15 growers who secure the highest cash yields on a per-acre basis. But this year, they will apply only to acreages of one-half acre and larger up to five acres. That is, any contract smaller than one-half acre will not be accepted, but it will not share in this $100 prize money. This ruling is made to provide fairness to the larger growers who often are obliged to handle their crops less intensively. The salting houses are located at Charlevoix and Petoskey, with additional receiving stations at Atwood and Horton Bay. Preparations are also being made to open an extra receiving station at Harbor Springs this year, and plans are to operate all these places to their full capacity.

BAPTIST CHURCH
W. H. Rauch, Pastor

Those of you who attended the B. Y. P. U. at the Baptist church Sunday evening were not disappointed. The tableau was very effective, showing the work done by our missionaries. For the same reason we will look for you there next Sunday evening. The Service Group is in charge and promise just as good a meeting. One of the features will be the Junior Choir, which will sing for you. There will also be a play, showing how to find your place in the work of the church. Don't fail us. We're looking for you.

"AUNT LUCIA" WAS OUTSTANDING SUCCESS

Production Made Great Hit Both Nights of Showing Here.

Charlevoix citizens and those from surrounding communities are still talking about the comedy "Aunt Lucia," staged at the local gymnasium last Thursday and Friday evenings under the sponsorship of the Methodist Literary and Sewing Club.

The production was an outstanding success, both from financial and entertainment standpoints. Miss Ann Drake, who directed the production for the Universal Producing Company, showed rare judgment in choosing her cast of characters, all of whom carried their portrayals like veterans.

To make special mention of any one or more members taking part would be taking credit away from the balance of the cast, so we'll just say they were all fine.

BARGE ELMIRA BURNS AT BOYNE CITY

Ship Valued at $27,000 With Small Amount of Insurance.

The steam barge Elmira, of the Wolverine Steamship company of Boyne City, was totally destroyed by fire at its dock last Saturday. The blaze of undetermined origin was discovered in the cabin at 2:00 o'clock in the morning. The watchman had made a trip about this ship ten minutes before and reported he found no fire.

City firemen fought in the zero temperature, but a stiff breeze and the cold hampered their efforts and the fire soon gained such headway that the ship was doomed.

Captain J. W. Gallagher reported this ship valued at $27,000 with only a small amount of insurance. The Elmira was 185 feet long, and 30 foot beam and had been chartered for five years in the pulp wood trade of the upper lakes.

NEW PARISH HOME NEARS COMPLETION

St. Mary's Edifice Ready to Occupy March First.

The new parish home for St. Mary's church, which is being built here at an estimated cost of $9,500, is rapidly nearing completion and is expected to be ready for occupancy March 1.

The local parish, aided by the generosity of many Charlevoix summer resorters, both Catholic and non-Catholic, has made the erection of this fine home possible. Rev. Fr. R. E. Fitzpatrick has announced that a personal friend, Barney Flynn of New York City, has offered to completely furnish the new home. The offer has been accepted.

Announcement to Farmers 1930 Pickle Prices Boosted

Our 1930 Pickle Contracts are ready. And in accord with our policy of giving our growers always the top-notch prices that prevailing conditions will permit, we have made substantial increases in our contract prices for 1930.

Some packers in Northern Michigan (from which territory high freight rates prevail) are paying much less. We raised prices in 1928 and 1929, and now we BOOST THEM AGAIN—EVEN HIGHER FOR 1930 THAN MANY SOUTHERN MICHIGAN PACKERS ARE PAYING. Here they are:

No. 1 Grade (up to 3 1/2 inches)	$3.15
No. 2 Grade (3 1/2 to 5 1/2 inches)	$1.25
No. 3 Grade (small nubbins)	$1.00

And in addition, we are doubling our prizes for 1930. We offer $100 in 15 cash prizes to the 15 growers securing the highest cash yields per acre. (Prizes will apply only to contracts of 1/2 acre or more). As usual these prizes will be mailed to reach the winning growers on December 24th.

PETOSKEY INVITES ALL TO CARNIVAL

BIG TWO DAY EVENT OPENS
THERE NEXT TUESDAY.

World Champion Ski Jumpers and Nation's Best Skaters Are Coming—Big Ice Carnival.

The greatest winter sports carnival in all history is planned for Petoskey on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 11 and 12, and with all Northern Michigan assisting it promises to be a glorious success. The Petoskey Winter Sports club has provided a program covering forenoon, afternoon and evening of both days with only enough time left for dinners and luncheons. The event will bring to Petoskey and Northern Michigan the world's champion ski jumper, Henry Hall of Detroit; and a party of the nation's fastest and fanciest skaters, direct from the national ice event at Elgin, Ill.

The two-day program opens Tuesday forenoon with a great fox hunt on Little Traverse Bay, in which fox hunters from all over Northern Michigan and some from Ohio will participate. The sport of watching dogs work out the trail of Mr. Fox promises to be one of the exciting parts of the program. Fifty or more dogs are looked for.

Tuesday afternoon is given over to winter sports activities at the Petoskey City park, where there is a hockey rink, large skating rink for the races, a fine ski slide and hills over which the snow-shoers and ski fans will trek in races and special events. There also are places for bobbed racing and toboggan fans coast down through the flying snow with keen enjoyment. Northern Michigan ski championships will be run off, starting at one o'clock. At three o'clock will come the hockey game between Petoskey and Traverse City Winter Sport Club teams. Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 the visiting skating champions will stage an exhibition race. There will be at least 20 in this party and probably more.

The Grand Carnival Ball, with music by the famous Fischer's orchestra of Kalamazoo, is on the program for Tuesday night at 9:00 o'clock at the new high school gymnasium.

Wednesday forenoon at 10 o'clock occurs the annual Winter Sports Parade and the crowning of the Petoskey Snow Queen. The parade, which promises to excel those of the last 2 years which have been pronounced the finest in the world, will pass through the business section of the city.

Wednesday afternoon at one comes the skiing events for the young folks, boys and girls at the City Park slide. Following this at 2:30 o'clock will take place the regional skating championship races in all classes and also the fancy skating contest. The contests are open to all skaters of this region and ribbons and prizes will go to the winners in each class. These events will occupy the entire afternoon.

The annual masked ice carnival is billed for 7:30 o'clock at the ice rink in the City Park. Included in this wonderful display of fancy skating costumes will be an exhibition of costumed skaters from Detroit in a spectacular whirling demonstration, comedy acts and barrel jumping exhibitions. Prizes will go to the best costumed man and woman.

Closing the great two-day carnival will be a display of fireworks on the hills surrounding the Petoskey City Park.

AGED ELLSWORTH MAN CHOSE DEATH TO COUNTY HOUSE

Orville Clark of Ellsworth, aged somewhere between 70 and 75, committed suicide Monday of last week or the night before by drinking a mixture of paris green and water. He had been a resident of Ellsworth about 35 years.

The previous Saturday, Mr. Clark, who lived alone, was told by his guardian, George Klooster, that it would be best for him to go to the county infirmary at Bellaire. Mr. Clark objected, stating he was happy with his cat where he was.

On Monday morning when Mr. Klooster went to the old man's home to take him to Bellaire, he found him dead in the bed, with the cat curled up on his chest, and the cup of the poison on the table.

KIPKE'S CAGERS TRIM MANCERONA

BURIED VISITORS SATURDAY
EVENING 40 TO 4.

Charlevoix high school basketball team won their first class C competition last Friday evening on the home court by smothering Mancelona high 40 to 4 in a lopsided contest. Lack of home support for the high school squad was evidenced by the small crowd of fans present. The attendance was the smallest at any game this season.

Presenting a team of apparently green and inexperienced players, Mancelona never gave Kipke's men any opposition. The visitors substituted freely throughout the contest, but never found a line-up with any punch in it. Aside from Charlevoix's greater superiority, the game was featured by frequent fouls made by both squads, many penalties for steps and other ragged playing not usually shown by the local cagers.

Mancelona's only scores came via the free throw route and they might have had more if they could have found the meshes on their many free chances. Charlevoix led 11 to 1 at the quarter, 20 to 1 at the half, 32 to 3 at the third intermission and 40 to 4 at the final whistle. Eight of their points came from free throws. Novak, center, scored 18 points for Charlevoix. Supernaw and Ance each marked up 8, McCall 5 and Keldhouse 1. Kipke used all his reserves before the contest ended. John Perez of Traverse City, handled the game nicely as referee.

In a close and interesting preliminary game, the senior girls triumphed over the juniors by a score of 22 to 19. The contest was a nip-and-tuck affair most of the way. "Johnny" Ripley officiated as referee.

One of the feature games of the season is promised Saturday night when Kipke's team plays the Brother-ton-coached Boyne City team on the local court. Second teams of the two schools open the program at 7:00 o'clock and the main go is at 8:00 o'clock. Let's see a good turn-out for this contest.

The news of Mr. Ruegsegger's appointment and the resignation of Mr. Correll came as a distinct surprise to the majority of Charlevoix residents. Mr. Correll, who passed his 80th birthday last summer, had held the office since 1912. For several months past, however, he has been ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. Bolding of Belding, Michigan, and this condition is thought to have brought about his resignation. That he performed the duties of his office to the entire satisfaction of the voters of this county is proven by his re-election for so many years. It may be said that he leaves an enviable record for his successors to attain. Before his resignation, Mr. Correll was the dean of Michigan probate judges.

Mr. Ruegsegger, who succeeds Mr. Correll, is well known to residents of Charlevoix county. He has practiced law with offices in Boyne City for many years and was formerly prosecuting attorney of this county.

The appointment was made to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Servetus A. Correll, which went into effect that day. Mr. Ruegsegger assumed his duties at once, taking the oath of office before County Clerk Fenton R. Beulow at 2:00 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The appointment was made to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Servetus A. Correll, which went into effect that day. Mr. Ruegsegger assumed his duties at once, taking the oath of office before County Clerk Fenton R. Beulow at 2:00 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The news of Mr. Ruegsegger's appointment and the resignation of Mr. Correll came as a distinct surprise to the majority of Charlevoix residents. Mr. Correll, who passed his 80th birthday last summer, had held the office since 1912. For several months past, however, he has been ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. Bolding of Belding, Michigan, and this condition is thought to have brought about his resignation. That he performed the duties of his office to the entire satisfaction of the voters of this county is proven by his re-election for so many years. It may be said that he leaves an enviable record for his successors to attain. Before his resignation, Mr. Correll was the dean of Michigan probate judges.

Mr. Ruegsegger, who succeeds Mr. Correll, is well known to residents of Charlevoix county. He has practiced law with offices in Boyne City for many years and was formerly prosecuting attorney of this county.

KIPKE'S CAGERS TRIM MANCERONA

BURIED VISITORS SATURDAY
EVENING 40 TO 4.

Antrim County Team No Match for Local Tossers—Boys City Here
Saturday Night.

Charlevoix high school basketball team won their first class C competition last Friday evening on the home court by smothering Mancelona high 40 to 4 in a lopsided contest. Lack of home support for the high school squad was evidenced by the small crowd of fans present. The attendance was the smallest at any game this season.

Presenting a team of apparently green and inexperienced players, Mancelona never gave Kipke's men any opposition. The visitors substituted freely throughout the contest, but never found a line-up with any punch in it. Aside from Charlevoix's greater superiority, the game was featured by frequent fouls made by both squads, many penalties for steps and other ragged playing not usually shown by the local cagers.

Mancelona's only scores came via the free throw route and they might have had more if they could have found the meshes on their many free chances. Charlevoix led 11 to 1 at the quarter, 20 to 1 at the half, 32 to 3 at the third intermission and 40 to 4 at the final whistle. Eight of their points came from free throws. Novak, center, scored 18 points for Charlevoix. Supernaw and Ance each marked up 8, McCall 5 and Keldhouse 1. Kipke used all his reserves before the contest ended. John Perez of Traverse City, handled the game nicely as referee.

In a close and interesting preliminary game, the senior girls triumphed over the juniors by a score of 22 to 19. The contest was a nip-and-tuck affair most of the way. "Johnny" Ripley officiated as referee.

One of the feature games of the season is promised Saturday night when Kipke's team plays the Brother-ton-coached Boyne City team on the local court. Second teams of the two schools open the program at 7:00 o'clock and the main go is at 8:00 o'clock. Let's see a good turn-out for this contest.

POOR SCHOOL DIS- TRICTS TO GET AID

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY'S SHARE
OF MONEY IS $35,911.

Money Allotted Under Turner Act
Goes to 1,900 School Districts—
Totals Listed Below.

Approximately 1,900 poor school districts in Michigan will benefit under the $2,000,000 Turner act, Webster H. Pearce, superintendent of public instruction announced at Lansing last Tuesday.

The districts are those which previously had been paying a school tax of more than $10 per $1,000 and whose school attendance is in excess of the state average.

While Pearce announced this district allotments, there is, however, a considerable difference of opinion as to when checks will actually be mailed. Pearce appeared confident that the districts will get their money same time this week, but Auditor General O. E. Fuller holds a more pessimistic outlook.

Two counties in the upper peninsula—Houghton and Delta—will receive one-eighth of the total allotment, and Houghton's total of $146,497 is four times that of Wayne whose districts will receive but $35,590. One district will receive a check for 60 cents.

Following are the totals which will be received by some of the counties in this part of the state:

Antrim $29,821.15
Charlevoix 35,911.89

THE STATE POLICE

We have heard no criticism of the request by the department of public safety for an appropriation from the state administrative board sufficient to equip the state police with machine guns and other equipment, enabling them to speak to the modern criminal in his own kind of language.

In recent years the state police have arisen to an enviable position as a law enforcement body. We no longer hear them spoken of in terms of contempt. In hundreds of instances they have demonstrated their value in trailing down criminals and bringing them to justice. Nothing so discourages the wrong-doer as the fear of prompt detection and speedy punishment.

There was a time when the majority of our citizens, especially the rural districts, looked upon the state police as an arrogant body of uncivilized employes. So marked did this dislike become there was actual danger of the entire department being legislated out of existence.

All of that has been changed. Not only do they wage continued warfare against crime, but are helpful in straightening out our traffic problems, curbing reckless drivers, assisting motorists in distress, acting as first aid to any call for help that they have become indispensable in the present scheme of things. There will be no opposition to any reasonable request they may make for funds to carry on their work and enlarge their sphere of usefulness.

THE MATTER OF CREDIT

A citizen of this community was talking about one of our local institutions the other day. He said that it was not popular.

We tried to analyze the reasons for this opinion. We finally found it. That business enterprise was insistent that those who bought from it paid for what they got. Of course, such a course is not always popular.

This question of retail credit is becoming more and more complex. A business which is not careful will soon have itself in bankruptcy with goods on the shelves and many accounts on the books. Those who wish credit and do not wish to pay have a way of finding out who will be kind to them. Soon such a merchant wonders that he does so much business and has so many customers. Then he wakes up, usually too late. Most of these customers are on his books to stay.

Our sympathies are with the merchant. With him credit is one of the largest problems with which he contends. He slips in his attention to this feature of his business and he is in the hands of his own creditors.

The reason for slow payment of many accounts is that there is no money left for many of the necessities after the unnecessary things are paid for. The installments on the car or the radio must be met, come what may. The gasoline merchant gives no credit. The manufacturer of automobiles gets his cash. The car makers have had sense enough to keep the credit problem out of their business or to handle it in a way that they make some money on credit service.

In some respects the situation is improving. Merchants have better ideas than they once had. Several years ago credit was used as a bait for business. It still is. But there is not the competition for the book accounts that there once was. Business is learning that it is not the gross but the net that counts.

AGRICULTURAL STUDENTS ARE INCREASING

The business session of the Michigan Press Association is held each year at Michigan State College. The 1930 convention took place last week. There is a mutual bond existing between the college and the publishers of Michigan's community newspapers—both are vitally interested in the agricultural sections of the state.

These annual meetings have been held at the college for the past eight years. During that period an important change in student attendance has been noticeable. There is a steady increasing enrollment in the classes devoted to agriculture. At one time enrollment in these departments fell to such a low ebb that the word "agricultural" was wiped out as a part of the college name, although it was the oldest institution in the country devoted to the science of agriculture.

For a long time the graduate of an agricultural college was the subject of much ridicule in his neighborhood when he returned home following graduation. Other boys on the farm, unable to secure these advantages, sneered at the idea of a college education being necessary to successful farming. It took almost three generations to wipe out this belief.

This increasing attendance of agricultural students was discussed by the editors. Some said that it indicated a growing interest in agriculture and the desire for young people to succeed on the farm. Others claimed that the tendency revealed a desire to secure an education and get away from the farm.

It is true there is a growing desire by the young men on the farm to seek an agricultural education and then enter commercial activity that deals with agriculture. The education is useful and the tasks that are performed are useful.

However, the fact is established that most of the boys receiving an agricultural education are essentially boys who are to return to the farm, stay there and gain success. The old time prejudice against the college trained farmer has disappeared. That is a hopeful sign for the future of the farming industry.

THE DEADLY SPEAR

Thoughtful citizens, living in the inland lake regions of Michigan, are protesting the use of the spear during the winter months on the inland lakes of the state, especially those lying close to state trunkline highways.

Residents of these sections, mostly in the northern counties, say that good fishing for the summer tourist is being destroyed by these poor sports, too lazy to row a boat during the summer season, but not too lazy to sit all day long in a warm shack on the ice and deplete the lakes of their finest specimens, including the female fish filled with spawn at this time of the year.

We have faith in the men who are voicing these protests. We know them to be good sportsmen, willing to forego a part of their own pleasure that strangers may enjoy themselves during the vacation period, when they set forth to nature's paradise with visions of getting one of the big fellows on their hook.

The Michigan Department of Conservation should lose no time in putting forth restrictive measures to curb the use of the spear. It is a relic of barbaric days and should have been suppressed years ago.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS.

We may believe that our Government is the best in the world, but it does not follow that we believe it best fitted to do all our public work. It can do many things well. But of some things which it attempts it makes a pretty sad mess. However efficient it may prove itself in some directions, it is neither all-powerful nor all-wise.

This is a country of delegated powers and rights and functions, and our historic policy has been not to concentrate too many of them in one person or one legislative agency. We have never wished to create in the United States a system like that which used to prevail in Russia, when a man could not build a house in Vladivostok until he had got his plans approved at St. Petersburg.

If everything is loaded upon the Government, it loses what little efficiency it has and gets congestion of the brain, while the extremities are paralyzed. —From the New York Times.

FOR MORE SAFETY

Systematic traffic regulation is seen as the only remedy for reducing the rapidly growing list of automotive accidents, which during 1929 surpassed all previous years in the number of fatalities occurring.

This action was determined upon by the executive committee of the National Conference of Street and Highway held recently in New York, where the committee considered a comprehensive program for meeting this situation through uniform traffic laws and regulations, including drivers' licenses, enforcement, education, improvement of traffic facilities, protection of grade crossings and highway intersections, and the better maintenance of motor vehicles.

Plans were laid for completing and bringing up to date reports on all these phases, and a nation-wide movement to bring about the application of these remedial measures will be put under way immediately.

PROSPERITY CONFERENCE.

Probably no more notable assemblage of business, labor and agriculture leaders ever met than the gathering which listened to President Hoover in the building of the United States Chamber of Commerce. It was notable for its numbers, for the eminence in their respective fields of those who attended and most of all for the manifest unity of purpose which it reflected. These men had not come together to quarrel with each other. They were not there to seek legislation. They were not guiding their opinions by the question whether their courses would promote or retard the prospects of some party or aspirant in some future election.

It was a gathering which represented the community of interest in the general welfare. It typified the idea that prosperity is not made by dragging somebody down but by lifting somebody up. —Buffalo News.

determining the cost of production of the reasonably efficient producer. No decision has been reached, but the board tends to believe:

The cost of production must determine the base for marketing loans.

The price must be high enough to yield a profit, but not so high as to stimulate production.

The feasibility of the program depends on restriction of production.

While various devices will be employed to control acreage, it is clear that a continuous educational campaign is the chief reliance. Organization of the potato growers was the latest step taken by the commission.

THE BUSINESS FUTURE

Latest reports summarizing conditions in a number of industrial and trade groups substantiate to an appreciable degree earlier promises of orderly adjustment and continuation of normal activity, with hesitancy, which has existed in some lines, rapidly disappearing. In virtually all of the industries reporting changes, since the first Business Survey Conference was held at Washington, are in the direction of improvement and gathering momentum and the outlook is correspondingly clear. Psychological as well as actual factors, manifested in the greater degree of certainty in anticipating future conditions, appear most favorable.

BEAVER ISLAND NEWS

John Grill has his ice house nicely filled this week.

The Booth Fisheries Co. ice house was filled Thursday and Friday.

The ground hog surely saw his shadow Sunday, as the sun was shining brightly.

Gus Mielke has one of the boats for the conservation department almost completed.

Mrs. H. R. Pischner and son, Charles and Willard, drove to Garden Island Sunday to visit Mr. Pischner at his camp.

Miss Bernardine McCauley, who has been in Chicago with her aunt, Mrs. Gilden, returned Wednesday with the mail carriers.

About 24 friends gathered at the home of H. R. Pischner to help celebrate the birthdays of Emil, age 21, and Charlie, 17, whose birthdays are on February 2nd. Ice cream and cake was served.

Dr. Russell Palmer and L. J. Malloy went to the Maple Block Co. camp to bring Elmer Mathews into town so that he would be ready to go across the ice with the mail carriers Monday. Mr. Mathews will be taken to Petoskey hospital.

On January 27th, Elmer Mathews, working for the Maple Block Company at their camp, was seriously injured when a spring pole hit him in the side, fracturing two ribs and rupturing his kidneys. Dr. Russell Palmer is making daily trips to the camp, but will take the injured man to Petoskey hospital as soon as he can stand the trip.

IRONTON

Our teacher is planning a Valentine party.

There was a dance at the Grange hall on Saturday evening.

The Ironton church will discontinue services during the severe weather.

Mrs. Sam Alexander had as her guest last Wednesday, Mrs. Courier of East Jordan.

The fish seem to be biting better these days. Marion Jackson caught four on Sunday.

Mrs. George Hanson spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beals of Boyne City.

Mrs. Courier of East Jordan, spent Thursday night and Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Nason of Petoskey, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Price for a few days last week.

The Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Louis Peterson on Wednesday, February 11. Pot luck dinner to be served at noon.

There was a large attendance at the Ladies' Aid meeting at the church last Wednesday. Dinner was served at noon, a large amount of work arranged and distributed, and the session closed with a business meeting.

CENTRAL LAKE.

Roads are fine again.

Vic Stevens has been visiting in town.

Well, I guess we would have had three weeks more winter anyway.

We hear the Ellsworth Canning Co. has been bought by Dill & Company.

A. E. Sage has restocked the Bay View store again and will not close, as was anticipated.

Fern VandenBerg did not get home for the week end on account of school activities.

Miss Eva Morse from Lansing, is visiting with her uncle, John Dawson and family.

Customs Change
In Medicine, TooWhole Trend of Modern Medical Practice Is Away From Needless "Dosing"

Back in the old "horse and buggy" days, it was the custom to give large doses of internal medicines for colds and almost every human ailment. Then Lunsford Richardson, a North Carolina pharmacist, originated Vicks VapoRub—the better method of treating colds externally.

From the very first, Vicks has been appreciated, especially by mothers of young children, because it checks colds without the risk of upsetting delicate stomachs. Just rubbed on, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster, and, at the same time, it gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages.

Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing," and millions of families in more than 60 countries use Vicks for all cold troubles. Ever-increasing demand for this better method of treating colds is shown in the familiar Vicks slogan. Made famous when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly"—later raised to "21 Million"—there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

"I WISH I COULD

ABOUT KONJOLA"Michigan Lady Tells How New Medicine Put Speedy End to Her Suffering.

MRS. C. SEAMAN.

"I suffered terribly from stomach and kidney ailments," said Mrs. C. Seaman, 419 Webber street, Saginaw. "The simplest of foods caused gases to form in my stomach. I bloated and belched and the pain and discomfort was almost unbearable. I was bothered with shortness of breath and frequent dizzy spells. My kidneys weakened and my back pained me frightfully. I finally went to bed thoroughly ill and discouraged, and remained helpless for a long time.

"It is amazing, but three bottles of Konjola actually helped me so much that I was almost myself again. I no longer bloat after eating, and I can eat what I wish. Pains from the kidney and stomach weakness have disappeared, and I sleep well. I wish I could tell everyone about Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

at the Council of Religious Education meeting Monday evening.

A. I. Sage is helping at the Abe Arnold home this winter and is not "batching" it. Mr. Arnold is feeling pretty well, but is still paralyzed on one side.

O. N. Sage, contractor for the local canning factory, returned home Saturday from a visit at Grand Rapids and vicinity. He says it was too cold there to do much visiting.

Miss Martha Cornett, who is attending county normal at Mancelona, spent the week end at home here. She says the roads between here and Mancelona are the finest ever.

Arthur Carpenter and son, Aulton, who live west of town, made some fine catches of whitefish through the ice on Torch Lake last week we are informed. The bay and lake are now frozen over opposite here.

E. S. Carroll and Rev. Stanley Hyde will make a visit this week to Petoskey and Boyne City in the interest of the Sunday school work. While in Petoskey they will call on Arnold Preston at Lockwood hospital.

James Dawson spent the week end with his wife here. Mrs. Dawson has been caring for the three children since the death of Mrs. Lida Dawson Knowles. Mr. Dawson is "batching" it on the farm with his son, Johnnie.

HAYES

Mrs. Orson Cook and daughter, Dorothy, were Petoskey callers on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wightman.

Willis Gillett of Zeeland, Michigan, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wightman.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Kane spent the week end with Mrs. Kane's mother, Mrs. Wakefield of Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Webster and Miss Frances Best, were callers at the Floyd Webster home on Sunday.

Mrs. Gustave Jerichow is spending several days with her niece, Mrs. Jessie Gregory, who has been ill for some time.

Little Versal Shearer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shearer of Charlevoix, visited at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kane, for the past week.

ANTRIM CITY.

Margaret Michel spent the week end in Traverse City.

Martha Mason was a visitor at the Stott home Friday night.

C. L. Stott has been hauling logs to Central Lake for the past week.

George Post, who spent the past week at the Brooks home, left for his home in Detroit Monday.

Mrs. F. Brooks, Mrs. A. Brooks and Mrs. C. Stott and small daughter Edith, spent Thursday at the Slate home.

BARNARD

Only six weeks more of winter, so Mr. Ground Hog says.

All of our high school and normal students spent Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gregory visited at the Clyde Smith home on Thursday evening.

Ladies' Aid meets next week Wednesday with Mesdames William and Earl Shapton. Everyone welcome.

Our basketball fans attended the game at Charlevoix Monday evening. They say they aren't ready to play the Polar Bears yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete McPharland and children, also Helen Richardson, all of Charlevoix, were Sunday visitors at the Clyde Smith home.

We are glad to note that Evelyn Shapton is recovering from her recent severe illness, also others who have been ill are getting along fine now.

We hear from Detroit, of the arrival of a young son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frankie. Mrs. Frankie was formerly Margaret Smith of Barnard.

Barnard friends were sorry to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. William Richardson of Norwood, on Friday. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the community.

The band is anticipating a good time at the club house near Sam Strm's on Friday evening. Practicing games and pot luck supper will be the chief features of the evening.

NORWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. George Light of Charlevoix, visited relatives at Norwood Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jones and family of Charlevoix, visited at the E. R. Jones home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Penny Genett attended funeral services for Mrs. Genett's aged father, Albert Supernaw, held Monday at St. Mary's church in Charlevoix. Burial was in the family lot at Atwood.

Relatives who were called here by the death of Mrs. Wm. Richardson were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Publow and Mrs. Lyman Vandusen of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Walter of Chicago; Mrs. Walter Monty and Elmer Shiverley of Muskegon, and Wm. Publow of Gnylord.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS.

Miss Baker conducted a very interesting picture study for the training room and Normal class. The subject was "The Gleaners," by Millet.

The Normal class is looking forward to Friday when a play, "Important Days in February," and a short talk on Edison will be given under the direction of Miss LaCount and Mrs. Andrus.

The Normal class will have completed at the end of the week their study of School Law, taught by Mr. Palmer.

Daily enunciation drill is being conducted by Miss Trimble.

The class in psychology have been learning many things about themselves, which they think will lead to a better understanding of how to control children and themselves at the same time. As a result of the study and discussion of instincts and emotions the class have decided that a good motto for the furtherance of health and long lives is "to keep as calm under all circumstances as nature permits."

Anger takes so much more energy than joy and so beware! Those angry frowns are the doctor's main source of revenue. If people would exercise their fourteen "smile" muscles they would save on doctor bills. The class have also decided that perhaps after the study of facial expression is over that they would be able to solve the "riddle of the Sphinx."

AT THE MOVIES. Sharp Contrasts in Billy Dove's Latest Picture. Billie Dove, who was born in New York City, and is of Swiss descent, plays a titled English lady in "Her Private Life," the First National picture which comes to the Palace Theatre February 8-9.

However, it is declared by qualified critics that no English actress in Hollywood could be better fitted for the role of Lady Helen Haden in this story of Britain and New York than the beautiful First National star.

Walter Pigeon plays opposite Miss Dove, and Alexander Korda, the distinguished Hungarian director, was at the megaphone on "Her Private Life."

The big cast includes Montagu Love, Roland Young, Thelma Todd, Brandon Hurst, Zasu Pitts, and Holmes Herbert.

Greater Beauty - Finer Performance

Never has a Chevrolet car won greater praise for its appearance than the new Chevrolet Six. Its new Fisher bodies reveal in every detail the artistry that has made the Fisher name famous throughout the motor car world. In beauty of line and color, in balance and harmony of design, they represent one of the greatest style triumphs in Fisher history. Upholsteries are richer and more durable. The instrument panel carries a new and more attractive grouping of the control instruments. Seats are wider and deeper. In fact, not a single feature has been overlooked that would add to the comfort and convenience of both driver and passengers.

To Lighten Your Burden

Little more than a generation ago wise purchasing—even of the family necessities—required a great deal of time and effort. Manufacture was limited. Exact articles for particular needs were hard to find. And often one product after another had to be tried before the right one was found.

Today—manufacture that seems limitless has filled our stores with excellent articles of every nature. There are many brands for every need. The discriminating buyer can choose from a great array of goods that are continually being spread before his eyes.

But to buy wisely one must read the advertisements. In the pages of this newspaper, progressive merchants and manufacturers are telling you—truthfully and concisely—about their products. They are anticipating your needs. They know that they must meet your exacting requirements.

Read the advertisements regularly and carefully. They are the daily measure of business progress. They are the means to discriminate buying. They will help you to get the greatest value for every dollar you spend.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

2000 Times to Mars and Back

The automobiles of America will travel approximately 156 billion miles during 1930, according to a computation made by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. "Oh," thinks the modern American who is used to spinning miles during a single day, "that isn't so much; just remember how many automobiles we have." These 156,000,000,000 miles, however, represent more than 1,000 times the distance to Mars, states Alvan Macauley, president of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, and if one contrasts the distance with that motor-traveled in another country, it gains significance. In China, for instance, all the people, with the exception of a comparatively handful, are born, exist and die within a radius of twelve miles!

While we are congratulating ourselves on the progress and freedom that have been brought about by the motor, an enterprising historian has traced the automobile's origin to France and the year 1769. The blessed peace-time vehicle was actually invented as a military necessity by Nicholas Joseph Cugnot, a French captain of artillery, who was eager for some means of moving heavy cannon more rapidly. Captain Cugnot devised a crude tractor-form of machine that could carry four persons and even transport them at the terrific rate of two and a quarter miles an hour! The vehicles were steam driven. This was in the same time that Watt was striving to improve his steam engine. The year 1769 is also, incidentally, the year of Napoleon's birth.

Radio Makes Continents Next Door Neighbors

When a voice from an alien land floats through the loudspeaker in your living room, distances and national boundaries shrink to relative insignificance. The broadcast of King George's brief speech opening the naval parley at London was a high-water mark in trans-Atlantic radio relaying and opened a vision for the future of international communications. Now comes another nation, the Republic of Cuba, with the announcement that she has consummated an "association of interests" with the United States by which the island will enjoy direct connections with this country and the most important European and Central and South American nations. Two leading radio companies, the Radio Corporation of America in this country, and the Cuba Transatlantic Radio Corporation have made all necessary arrangements.

Juan Fernandez De Castro, president of the Cuban company, stated in Havana that: "In accord with the program of our illustrious president, General Gerardo Machado Y Morales, in encouraging the development of Cuban enterprises, and who has recently stressed the great importance to the commercial and economic Cuban life of enlarged and improved communication facilities, it gives me great satisfaction to announce a program of major importance in the further development of the communication facilities of Cuba."

Senior De Castro then sets forth the details of the development and the advantages arising therefrom. "With modern radio," he concludes, "no country will be beyond the direct reach of Cuba's latest communication facilities."

Woodchuck Villain in Movies

Boy who once relied largely on the gun and the woods for fun has come to look upon these things as a tame sport beside the pleasure of automobile driving and its opportunities for recreation. Because of this change in pastime, the woodchuck, or "groundhog," has profited, says the department of agriculture. This rodent, which was once hunted persistently, is the subject of a two-reel motion picture released by the department under the title, "The Eastern Woodchuck and Its Control."

Coming as it does just in advance of Groundhog Day, on February 2, it is an especially timely film. How alfalfa fields, fruit trees and garden crops are damaged by increasing numbers of woodchucks is vividly depicted in the department's motion picture. There are also shown the methods of control that were worked out by the biological survey of the United States after intensive study. Farmers who are desirous of reducing the woodchuck menace, especially in and near cultivated fields, with comparatively little labor and cost, will find any amount of helpful advice in this Hollywood version of modern scientific control.

The People's Business

An organization "on guard for the people," as it aptly describes itself, supported by the people, and furnishing information solely for the benefit of the people—that, in brief, is the makeup of the People's Legislative Service located at the national capital. This service is under the direction of Mercer G. Johnston, who is also editor of the organization's publication, The People's Business. It labors to throw some genuine light on the way legislation is conducted in Washington and to protect the man on the street from tariff raids, the power of monopolies and trusts, and similar oppression. The very first 1930 issue of The People's Business is dedicated to a subject that illustrates its zeal on behalf of Mr. Average Citizen; it is entitled "Fighting Facts About Sugar." A few excerpts from the article are especially worth reprinting:

"The tariff on sugar is a sales tax on an essential human food."
"That sales tax now is 2 cents a pound, refined basis. This is equivalent to a poll tax of upwards of $2, from which not a soul escapes from the cradle to the grave. It is a family tax (applied with drastic disregard of ability to pay) of upwards of $10 a year on every American family."

"Included in the $283,000,000 taken from the pockets of consumers, $137,561,560 goes as a subsidy to sugar companies (fabulously prosperous with minor exceptions)."
"Two-thirds of this subsidy goes as 'pure velvet' to Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines."

"Only one-third remains in the United States proper."

"But wait," says some foolish or bogus friend of the farmer. "You are forgetting the farmer."

"Indeed we are not. We have him both in mind and heart. We are sincere in our desire to see him get a square deal in this tariff business. At the same time we are sincerely convinced that the farmer (either as a whole or in special groups) do not have to become a 'racketeer' in the eyes of the general consumer in order to get a square deal."

Women Who Fly High

Women who are learning how and why airplanes fly carry on a variety of work at the same time. Glance over the list of fifty-four women students who have registered for ground school courses at the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service school in New York City, and you will find representatives of no less than eighteen different occupations.

Artists and lawyers, telegraph and advertising copy writers are among those numbered in the aviation school. No less than twenty secretaries have enrolled among the ambitious students of aviation. Two housewives, two airplane saleswomen, three students, a dramatic teacher, a department store worker, an accountant, a librarian, and a teacher of physical education find the prospect of doing things in the way of aeronautics more exciting than their present occupations. There is a waitress, who is also taking flying instruction and will be ready to take shortly. She goes off at three o'clock from the restaurant where she works and then goes out to the field for her flying lesson. Twice a week, in the evening, she attends ground school.

System Marks Social Evolution

Children who are suddenly made dependent by the death or disability of parents are not so likely now to be adopted haphazardly by any family in the community or shunted off into a handy almshouse. In both county and state administration an organized welfare service has been growing tremendously during very recent years. For this, the forces that fight delinquency, dependency and neglect are thankful. Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the Children's Bureau in Washington, calls the two

CAN'T TALK TO WIFE. TOO CROSS AND NERVOUS

"Even my husband couldn't talk to me. I was so cross and nervous. Vinol has made me a different and happy woman."—Mrs. N. McCall.
Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. F. J. Fessenden, druggist.

movements, county and state, "the most significant in organized social service at the present time."

The chaos that once raged around the care of helpless individuals makes one more appreciative of a new order. Town and city "poor houses" harbored adults and children alike. Homes were unnecessarily broken up. Inadequate records, or no records, were kept of the children's identity or exactly what had been done with them.

About 300 counties in the United States have organized their social service on a county basis. These counties are in the North, South, East, West and middle West, a fact that shows social progress to be national in scope. A closer co-operation between state departments of public welfare and county welfare work is another encouraging feature in this field of endeavor.

Soft Music, Soft Lights, Soft Silk

While people are pointing to lengthened skirts and more conservative coiffures as healthy symptoms of reaction in a time of extremes and exaggerations, it is pleasing to note another feature of growing popularity that does not quite harmonize with our jazz age. That is the reluctance of leading tea rooms and restaurants to ruin good digestions by forcing their patrons to eat to the hectic din of jazz orchestras. It was once thought essential to enter to "modern youth" by punctuating every mouthful of food with the tontonic beat of a primitive drum rhythm and the shriek of a saxophone gone mad. The old order is passing. In the dining rooms of large hotels, now, one can peacefully to the low melody of stringed orchestra and converse pleasantly without having to scream for attention.

Our national capital is taking the lead in routing the derivatives of hysterical music at meal times. Go to the dining room of any fashionable Washington hostelry—the Mayflower Hotel for instance, and what do you find? Low lights, soft voices, an undertone of violin and flute, and the occasional chirp of a canary. The painful blare and crash of dance tunes may be all right on the dance floor—but not in the rose-glow atmosphere of tea rooms and dining rooms. Washington restaurants and hotel managers are to be congratulated on their discrimination.

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES

NORWOOD SCHOOL NOTES.
Bohemia Hall came to school Monday.

The first grade will complete the study of Europe this week.

Newton Price celebrated his 15th birthday Sunday, February 2.

We are planning to have our club meeting Friday night of this week.

The seventh grade are beginning the study of Africa for geography.

Dorothy Hull and her mother visited at the Parsonage Sunday afternoon.

Dorothy Hull was absent from school Wednesday and Thursday of last week on account of sore throat.

The seventh and eighth grade history class are studying the times of Andrew Jackson, and find it very interesting.

The second and third grades are still waiting for readers and are using supplementary material from a normal instructor and "My Weekly Reader."

Marjorie, Catherine and Martin Richardson were called from school Friday noon on account of the death of their mother. We sympathize deeply with them in their great sorrow. School was closed Monday afternoon so that we might attend the funeral.

MURRAY SCHOOL NOTES

We now have two rooms.

Fred Yohr is our new janitor.

The sewing club are planning on a Valentine party.

The 7th grade are studying South America and working the note books.

The 7th grade enjoy their reading of "Sandy MacDonald's Man." We are making booklets on it.

We are serving hot lunches at noon. Each family furnishes material for soups and other dishes.

After a big fire and lot of excitement getting started again, we are yet alive at the Murray school.

We just received our little steel chairs ordered from Standard School Supply Co. They go very nicely with our new kindergarten tables.

The girls' sewing club meet every Friday afternoon. Last Friday we were served to a fudge cake by Arvilla Yohr and Dorothy Ferguson.

The cake was made at school.

Eighth graders are studying the Constitution, and wondering why such a document was written for them to study. They are now beginning to see light on the subject, however.

The semester tests were a big event of this week for the 7th and 8th grades. The following people were very successful in passing in all subjects: Frank Mindel, Louis Mawby, Mary Ellen Johnson, Margaret Yohr, Ralph Burnett, Ruth O'Dell, 7th grade; Fritz Deschermier, 8th grade. Some who were not so successful went back to the 6th grade.

W. E. Parmelee makes storm windows and doors.—Adv. 13tf.

UNDINE SCHOOL NOTES.

Are we still alive? Well, I guess!

We all had our pictures taken with the snow banks last week.

The seventh grade geography class are reviewing Europe now.

Mary Tepakeyah is not coming to school because of the snow.

We enjoy our physical exercise period with the use of our new victrola.

Valentine's Day is coming—that means fun. We drew names today.

We are burning coal today for the first time. We like it very much.

We have received nine dollars worth of new primary library books.

Patricia Baxter has moved to Grand Lodge. We miss her very much.

The eighth grade have finished studying agriculture and are now studying civil government.

Reading Club meets this Friday afternoon during language period with a peanut hunt during the recesses.

The seventh graders are enjoying the story of "Sandy MacDonald's Man." They like to learn the French and Indian words.

We have written to children in other states. Now we would like to correspond with schools in our county. We will answer all letters. Hope to hear from you. Address the letters to Miss Matchett, Route 3, Charlevoix.

We organized a reading club in the second, third and fourth grades after Christmas vacation. Marie Kloster is the president and Hilda Smith the secretary. The club meets once a month. Anna and Susan Tepakeyah and Marie Kloster are the members of the club who have read the most books so far.

NOWLAND SCHOOL NOTES.
Edna Lammach has finished her history note book.

We have received a cord of kindling wood. Thank you.

The seventh grade have finished their geography note books.

We are glad to have Cecile Belle Shaw with us again. She has been absent the past week on account of weather conditions.

The decorations of our school room remind us that Lincoln's Birthday, Valentine's Day and Washington's Birthday are coming.

We are all very interested in a February portrait contest, which ends on Washington's Birthday. The one finding the highest number of portraits receives a prize.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH.
Fr. R. E. Fitzpatrick, Pastor.

Low mass at 8:00 a. m., and High Mass at 10:00 a. m. on first, third and fifth Sundays at Charlevoix.

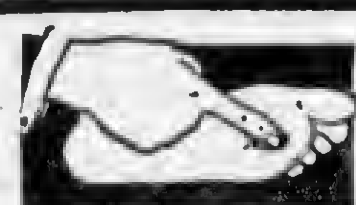

Mass every week day except Saturday at 8:00 a. m. at Charlevoix.

The pastor goes to Bay Shore on the second and fourth Sundays and on all Saturdays.

and down to the last few dollars—isn't that an unsound financial basis for anybody? Practically no cash on hand to ease the strain of an emergency, or to seize an opportunity if it should present itself.

There's a way to avoid such a condition—a way as logical as it is easy. It is simply to enlist the aid of your checking account—to use its accurate record of income and expenditures as a basis for a budget designed to keep earnings always greater than expenses—and to allow for the steady growth of a reserve fund in your account. Isn't that a wise method? Why not adopt it today?

MANCERONA MILL WORKER INJURED

Stick Thrown From Saw Pierced His Jaw/ Lost Several Teeth.

Jack McKinnon, feeding the splitter in the square-mill of the Antrim Iron Company shortly after beginning work last Monday morning, was painfully injured by one of the inch squares coming back and striking him in the face.

The square struck him on his lower jaw, making a hole and two other jagged wounds at the end of his mouth, and carrying away three teeth.

The inch-square piece of timber went through an inch board of the boxing covering the ring of saws, before striking Mr. McKinnon, which shows the force with which a piece is thrown sometimes by saws. Also this shows what the result would have been if no boxing had been there, as was customary in the old days before many companies installed all the protective devices they could arrange for.—Mancelona Herald.

DYKSTRA BILL IS WARMLY OPPOSED

ROAD MEN WILL FIGHT ATTEMPTS TO PASS MEASURE.

Northern Michigan Road Commissioners' Assn. Organize Against Proposed Change.

The Courier wishes to call the attention of its readers to the action of Michigan municipalities, chiefly Detroit and Grand Rapids, in their attempt to put before the legislature and voters a proposition, which, if passed, would change the distribution and benefits this and other sparsely populated counties derive from the automobile weight tax.

Interests in Detroit and Grand Rapids have secured the endorsement of the League of Municipalities for the Dykstra bill, and plan to present it to the next legislature, and if rejected there, to submit it to a referendum.

Briefly, the Dykstra bill proposes to split the auto weight tax into three equal parts, one to go to the state, one to the counties and the other to the cities. True, the bill says, cities, villages and townships, but the latter would get very little, the bulk being swallowed by Detroit, Grand Rapids and perhaps one or two other towns.

At a meeting of the Northern Michigan Road Commissioners' Association held in Cadillac last Tuesday, and to which R. T. Davis and W. E. Byers of the Charlevoix county road commission were in attendance, it was voted unanimously to oppose this bill and all similar attempts, to the limit. A fund of $2,500 for publicity was voted, to be raised and expended under direction of a committee composed of Geo. W. McCabe of Petoskey, Charles A. Francis of Arenac and Marius Hansen of Grayling.

Committees were appointed to work with similar ones already chosen by the Michigan Good Roads Association and the State Association of Commissioners and Engineers, and the Northern Good Roads Association of the upper peninsula.

A set of resolutions was adopted, declaring the position of the body. Deputy State Highway Commissioner Barton, former commissioner Rogers, and Auditor F. D. Fitzgerald attended the meeting and spoke.

The attendance was large for such a meeting at this time of the year. Twenty-three of the thirty-two counties answered the only roll call taken, and some were out of the room at the time.

HENRY O. JOHNSTON DIED LAST SATURDAY

End Came Following Illness of Approximately Four Weeks.

Charlevoix lost a respected citizen last Saturday in the death of H. O. Johnston, who passed away at the Charlevoix Hospital following an illness of about four weeks.

Deceased was born at Buffalo, N. Y., September 25, 1856, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnston. He came to Michigan with his parents at the age of 18 years, the family settling at Eastport. Several years later he moved to Charlevoix to follow the carpenter trade. He subsequently entered the employ of the Charlevoix Lumber company and was with that concern for 35 years. During that time his duties were varied. He was sash and door man, filer and millwright, in fact, filling whatever position required. About seven years ago he opened a wood-working and blacksmith shop on Mason street and conducted this business until ill health forced him to quit.

On March 17, 1884, Mr. Johnston married Miss Florence M. Cole of Charlevoix. To this union were born three children, all of whom, together with the widow, survive him. They are Mrs. Albert Taylor and Earl Johnston of Charlevoix, and George Johnston of Long Beach, Calif.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the home on Mason street. The services were under the auspices of the Odd Fellow lodge, of which order deceased was a member, with Rev. John E. Lockyer of the Methodist church officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

In Memoriam.

In sad and loving memory of our wife and mother, Mary A. Stephens, who passed away 10 years ago today, February 5, 1930.

When mother breathed her last farewell, The blow was more than tongue can tell.

This earth seemed quite another place, Without the smile of mother's face.

We think of her as one who sleeps, All free from grief and pain; And know the happy day will come When we shall meet again.

J. S. Stephens, Sr., Rex Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Pearl, Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens.—Adv. 611.

SMALLER SCHOOLS HAVE CONFERENCE

ORGANIZE LITTLE SIX SATURDAY AT BOYNE CITY.

To Award Trophy in Basketball and Have Championship Track Meet Next Spring.

The Little Six athletic conference, talked of for some months, came into being at a meeting at Boyne City Saturday afternoon and today is a full-fledged organization with a definite program, officers and directors, etc. The conference is patterned somewhat after the Big Six conference of class B schools, but holds the added advantage in that all six members are right in this region and the distance to travel for games is short.

The conference is made up of Boyne City, East Jordan, Charlevoix, Mancelona, Gaylord and Harbor Springs. The officers are: President, A. J. Duncanson, East Jordan; vice president, O. P. North, Charlevoix; secretary-treasurer, Ivan Tillotson, Gaylord.

At the Saturday afternoon meeting it was voted to award a trophy cup to the member school with the best record in basketball and to hold a Little Six track meet at East Jordan on May 31 and award a trophy cup to the winning school. Football was gone into and by a vote of the conference the football schedule meeting will be held at East Jordan on May 31. At that time an effort will be made to have each member school play all other member schools in football next fall. While this may not be possible, because of games already booked with other schools, it is the aim of the conference to reach this goal no later than 1931.

The schools present went on record as recommending $15 as the correct sum to pay athletic officials, both basketball and football, for class C games.

The basketball trophy cup will be awarded the Little Six class C champion sometime during the Petoskey regional tournament next month.

Headache, dizziness, nervousness, indigestion, crossed eyes and all other symptoms of eye strain can be relieved with glasses properly fitted. Consult Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, when he comes Tuesday, February 11. Office at Hotel Charlevoix.—Adv. 611.

FRANK O. GALLAGHER ILL AT THE BEAVERS

Plane Rushes Sister from Grand Rapids to His Bedside.

Floyd Becker, Michigan Air Express pilot, arrived here at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon with Miss Melody Gallagher of Chicago, who was rushing to the bedside of her brother, Frank O. Gallagher, who is dangerously ill at his home in St. James.

Miss Gallagher sped by train from Chicago to Grand Rapids, where she transferred to the waiting plane. Following a short stop here, Pilot Becker flew directly to Beaver Island.

Gallagher was operated on Tuesday noon for ruptured appendix by Dr. Russell Palmer, state employed physician on Beaver Island. Only in cases of emergency are major operations performed at the island. A telephone message from St. James Tuesday evening stated Gallagher's condition was very serious.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m. Subject, "Spirit."

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only. Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Love" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, February 2.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for their's is the kingdom of heaven" (Matt. 5:10).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The followers of Christ drank his cup. Ingratitude and persecution filled it to the brim; but God pours the riches of His love into the understanding and affections, giving us strength according to our day" (p. 5).

BELOVED NORWOOD WOMAN DIED FRIDAY

Community Shocked by Sudden Passing of Mrs. Wm. Richardson.

Citizens of the entire community were shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Wm. Richardson, who passed away very suddenly at her farm home near Norwood, Friday morning, January 31st, at the age of 50 years.

Kate Durling VanDusen was born near Norwood, April 6th, 1879, the fourth child of a family of five children, namely: Lyman of Lansing, Mrs. Mand Goodrich of Richmond, Vermont, Mrs. Alice Mayne and Mrs. Ruby Alward of Norwood. She spent her girlhood days on the farm home near Norwood, and at the age of 17 years was united in marriage to Wm. Richardson, also of Norwood, who survives her. To this union were born five children, Hazel Publow of Lansing; Frances Wolter of Chicago; Ruth, who died in infancy, Marjorie and Catherine, and an adopted son, Martin, now living at home. She also leaves a number of other relatives and a host of friends.

She was a loving wife, a kind mother and a friend to all who knew her, and will be greatly missed in our community.

Friends of both Norwood and Charlevoix join in extending their sympathy to the family. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. P. Stanford, Monday afternoon, at the residence, with burial in the family lot, which overlooks the beautiful bay at Norwood.—Contributed.

METHODIST CHURCH

A frequent time of worship is a necessity for every well founded and satisfying life. The life with no time or place for God is a narrowed, handicapped life. Each week at 10:30 a. m. we call you to worship through scripture, song and sermon. Share these things with us. Bring the children. The little tots will be cared for you while you are attending church services.

And a specially arranged vesper service comes at 4:45 p. m. If you can't attend one, then choose the other.

Church school is at noon and is having a fine attendance. Join the group and help it too.

Epworthians will close the Mission series on Sunday night at 6:00 p. m. Special music and another absorbing chapter from Hocking's religious novel called "Slam."

This Thursday the Literary Club meets with Mrs. Frank Bird and a good attendance is desired to plan for the Father and Son banquet next Tuesday evening.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The members of the W. C. T. U. are reminded that next Wednesday, February 12th, is the postponed date of the Day of Self Denial, for the benefit of the state reserve fund, which all state unions have been asked to provide and have in readiness for use when the opponents of prohibition attempt to repeal the state enforcement laws as they have done in New York and some other states.

DOG TAX PENALTY AFTER THIS MONTH

Dog owners of Charlevoix county are warned that February is the last month in which they may pay their dog tax. Those who are delinquent will be assessed a penalty after the end of this month. It is cheaper to pay within the time limit.

ANNUAL WINTER CARNIVAL FEB. 6

REGION INVITED TO JOIN FUN HERE NEXT THURSDAY.

Sports Parade, Dog Races, Horse Races, Skating, Hockey, Dancing Listed Attractions.

The center of winter sports in Northern Michigan will be at Charlevoix next Thursday. That day has been set aside for Charlevoix's 5th annual winter sports carnival, and crowds from over the entire region will gather here to witness the many attractions.

A splendid program has been outlined by a committee of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, of which Charles Gale is chairman. Starting at 10:30 in the forenoon, there will be something doing every minute until midnight.

The first big event is the annual winter sports carnival parade, which is scheduled at 10:30 a. m. Featuring this event will be the Winter Queen and her lady-in-waiting, who will lead the procession. Other features will be devotees of winter sports in their togs, dog sleds, floats, etc. Prizes will be awarded the best decorated automobile and sleigh taking part. Anyone having an old rig that harks back to the lumbering days is invited to bring it along for the parade. The committee has promised several features along the amusement line as well.

The afternoon program opens at 2 o'clock on Bridge street. The events listed are horse races, dog races and skiing races. Following these features, skating races for all ages will be held at the municipal rink on the school grounds.

The evening program opens at 8 o'clock with a hockey game at the municipal skating rink. Participants in the contest have not been named. Coasting will follow on Bridge street hill, and the day will wind up with a free old-fashioned dancing party at the school gymnasium.

For the benefit of those who wish to enter competitive events, we are listing chairmen in charge of various departments. Will Bellinger has charge of skating races, and entries should be made with him at once. Dog races are in charge of Charles Gale; hockey matches, P. D. Campbell; coasting, Clair Webster; and Frank P. Bird; skiing, Don T. McHugh; dancing, A. L. Livingston and H. I. Oels. Hand bills listing in detail every event, and possible additions following this announcement, will be circulated carnival day.

The committee in charge wish to emphasize the fact that the carnival is being put on for the entertainment of local citizens, farmers in the rural districts and those from neighboring towns. The main thought is to have a good time out-of-doors and everyone is invited. Several rural schools have announced their intention of closing next Thursday, and in all probability, local schools will close also.

HOMemade HEEL PROVES CLUE FOR GRABBING A THIEF

Trailing a thief by the imprint of a home-made heel, Harry Wolcott of the Northern Detective agency has solved the latest cottage burglary reported in the region.

B. C. Lingle told the detective that his place in Leelanau county on the bny shore was broken into Sunday and a pair of snowshoes stolen. The thief had torn his way into a screen porch. Inquiry brought information from a farmer, Ed. Kozak, who had seen a Traverse City boy in the neighborhood, and the detective called at the boy's home. At his request the boy's mother showed him the shoes worn by her son Sunday. They compared with tracks in the snow, one shoe having a ragged, home-made heel.

The boy, who is 16 years old, was taken before Juvenile Judge Pratt Saturday.—Traverse City Record-Eagle.

ALBERT WIDDIFIELD TO WED IN FEBRUARY

Chicago Daily News Tells of Coming Interesting Event.

The following article taken in part from the society column of a recent issue of the Chicago Daily News, will be of interest to Charlevoix residents: "One of the several interesting weddings set for February has been radically changed in plan the past week. Miss Virginia LaChance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leandre LaChance, has chosen February 15 as the date for her marriage to Mr. Albert Widdifield, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Widdifield of Charlevoix. Aside from retaining the date, however, she will not carry out the details of the large and elaborate wedding that was originally scheduled.

"The ceremony is to be of the simplest variety, with only relatives present, and is not to be followed by a reception.

"The reason for such curtailment was a recent bereavement in her family.

"After the wedding in California, Mr. and Mrs. Widdifield will return to Chicago, where they have already leased an apartment of their own at 3500 Sheridan Road, and are to move into it after a short wedding trip."

ANNUAL ICE HARVEST HAS BEGUN

WORK STARTED WEEK EARLIER THAN PREVIOUS YEARS.

Total Cut Will Be Around 15,000 Tons—Twenty-five Men and 15 Teams Employed.

The annual ice harvest by the Charlevoix Coal & Ice company got underway on Lake Charlevoix last week. Operations this season commenced more than a week earlier than in previous winters.

Charlevoix's bumper resort season last summer almost depleted the harvest taken last winter with the result that practically all local ice houses are nearly empty. This condition will result in a record cut before the harvest is completed. Lake Charlevoix has attained a thickness of nearly 12 inches and is in wonderful condition.

The Charlevoix Coal & Ice company report that the work of filling their large ice house on Lake Charlevoix is over half finished, and that they will start on other houses within a short time. The work is being expedited this year by the use of a motor-driven saw capable of cutting 200 tons per hour. This equipment was first used a year ago.

The total cut will probably be around 15,000 tons according to present estimates, and will be divided as follows: Charlevoix Coal & Ice Co., 4,000 tons; H. W. Widdifield, two houses, 4,000 tons; Booth Fisheries, 1,200 tons; The Inn, 500 tons; Belvedere Hotel, 200 tons; Chicago Club, 400 tons; Hallett Hotel, 250 tons; eight car loads or 400 tons for the Pere Marquette railway at Petoskey.

While the work of filling their own ice house has not taken such a large force of men, more will be employed as the harvest advances. The industry usually gives employment to 25 men and 15 teams. During the slack winter months, this work is very welcome. The value of the ice harvest runs into the net total of approximately $80,000.

CONGREGATIONAL W. M. S. ANNUAL MEET

Fine Program at Annual Event Held Last Wednesday Night.

The annual luncheon of the Congregational Woman's Missionary Society was served at the church last Wednesday by the South Side Circle.

The monthly missionary meeting followed the luncheon, and a topic, "As the Kingdom Comes"—a review of Christian activities for 1929, was presented under the leadership of Mrs. A. F. Bridge.

Many periodicals besides those published by the churches have featured articles on morals, religion, social service and missionary effort, and an afternoon was all too short to review the great quantity of interesting material available.

Some personal reminiscences of missionaries by Mrs. Shockley, and several vocal selections by Mrs. Livingston, Mrs. Mattson and Mrs. Stelter, were other interesting features of the program.

CANDIDATES FILE FOR CITY OFFICES

CONTEST ON IN ALL THREE WARDS OF THE CITY

Mayor Bergeon Seeking Re-election for Ninth Term, Opposed by Dr. C. J. Wieder.

The dead-line set for filing petitions of candidates for city offices at the March primary closed at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. While few petitions came in at that time, there was a marked rush Monday. There seems to be no lack of candidates this year.

Opposition has cropped out in every ward of the city, and from now on it will be a merry scramble for votes. Heading the bill is the mayornity contest between Arthur Bergeon, present incumbent, and Dr. C. J. Wieder, who heads the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, where he has shown himself a man of no small ability in city matters. Mr. Bergeon has a record of eight years in office behind him, in fact the longest term any man has ever served.

Mrs. Elma H. Cook, who has alternated as city treasurer or deputy for over twenty years, will not run again. Seeking her berth are Robert Rife, John H. Bugbee and Ralph Hamilton. Joseph Foster opposes Harry A. Craig for supervisor in the first ward. In the second Frank Partridge and Joseph Moore are seeking a berth on the board of supervisors and Richard C. Hammett opposes F. J. Fessenden for alderman.

Another scrap is on in the third precinct. William E. Parmelee and Archie Alcock oppose each other for supervisor and Harry Hooker, seeking re-election, is opposed by George Shearer for alderman.

Following is the line-up:

City Ticket.

Mayor—Charles J. Wieder, Arthur Bergeon.
City Clerk—Ray S. Hamilton.
City Treasurer—John H. Bugbee, Robert E. Rife, Ralph Hamilton.
Justice of the Peace (long and short terms)—Robert Withers, Horace R. Fowler.

First Ward.

Supervisor—Harry A. Craig, Joseph Foster.
Alderman—Clair S. Webster.
Constable—Joseph Howard.

Second Ward.

Supervisor—Frank Partridge, Joseph W. Moore.
Alderman—F. J. Fessenden, R. C. Hammett.

Third Ward.

Supervisor—Archie Alcock, William E. Parmelee.
Alderman—Harry F. Hooker, Geo. Shearer.

Constable—William J. Weikel.

Former Resident Dead in Iowa.

Word has been received here from Mrs. O. C. Hutchinson of New Hampton, Iowa, of the death January 15th of her father, James Harvey Cutler, a former resident and pioneer of this city. Death was due to heart trouble and other complications. Mr. Cutler, known to local residents as "Harvey," was a Civil War veteran and had passed his 81st birthday. For the past three years he had made his home in New Hampton with his daughter.

TRAVERSE SMOTHERED LOCAL FIVE

WON TILT SATURDAY NIGHT BY 24 TO 6 COUNT.

Contest Was Great Defensive Battle and Interesting to Watch Despite One-sidedness.

Coach Ray Kipke's Charlevoix high school basketballers experienced their worst set-back of the season on the local court last Saturday evening. Fighting to the last minute, they lost 24 to 6 to Traverse City's lanky Black and Gold combination.

Despite the one-sidedness, the game was packed with thrills from the first to the final whistle. The opening period was a great defensive battle. Neither team was able to count until near the close of the quarter, when Traverse sank two field goals. The visitors led 4 to 0 when the period ended. Charlevoix, fighting gamely to stop Traverse City's fast and accurate passing attack, were able to get but one or two shots at the ring. They could not break through the visitor's night-tight defense, and it was well towards the end of the contest before they got a shot from inside the foul line.

Traverse tied the game up in the second quarter. They snared seven field goals for 14 points, while Charlevoix's best efforts produced a single free throw. Repeatedly the visitors broke through for short shots, and Volk, their lanky center, who towered above the rest of the players, added substantially to his team's total. At the half Traverse led 18 to 1.

A determined Charlevoix quintet faced the visitors in the second half. Although unable to score themselves, Charlevoix held Traverse to a pair of field goals in the third stanza, and in the fourth stepped out to out-score them by a margin of three points. Novak garnered Charlevoix's first goal when he sank a long one from outside the foul line after several attempts. Supernaw repeated the performance for the other goal. Vic Smith accounted for Charlevoix's other two points on free throws. Despite their strong come-back in the second half, Charlevoix was unable to overcome Traverse City's lead and the final count was 24 to 6, Traverse.

Traverse displayed a beautiful defense. The few times Charlevoix got the ball inside the foul line, their efforts were smothered. However, Charlevoix's guarding was equally as good. Novak, who usually breaks through any team for short shots, never got within close range of the hoop.

Volk, center, scored 10 points for Traverse. Richter, left forward, made 4; Bain, right forward, 4; and Kaves, right guard, 4. Coach Brotherton of Boyne City, refereed the contest.

DEATH TAKES WELL KNOWN LOCAL GIRL

Sudden Passing of Sadie Curtis a Shock to Entire City.

Death, swift and unexpected, plunged the John Curtis family into grief early Wednesday morning, when their daughter, Sadie, aged 25 years, died at 3:30 at the Charlevoix hospital. Although ill for some time, her condition was not serious until last Saturday, when she was taken to the hospital. She was found to be suffering from diabetes in its most serious stage.

Sadie was born in Charlevoix in February, 1904, and had lived practically all her life here. Since attending the local schools, she had been employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone company over a period of probably eight years, one summer and two winters of which was in Florida.

Besides her grieving parents, she is survived by three sisters and five brothers, viz: Mrs. Glen Rose, Clara, Betty, Charles, Eugene, Frank, Harold and John, all of this city.

Funeral services have not been arranged at this time.

Sadies was well liked by everyone who knew her and the sympathy of the entire city goes out to her bereaved family.

CHEBOYGAN FIVE LATEST VICTIMS

DEFEATED TUESDAY NIGHT 28-22 BY POLAR BEARS.

Contest a Close One in Nearly Every Period—Harbor Springs Merchants Chants Here Tuesday.

The Polar Bears hung up another scalp Tuesday night—the 10th consecutive one, if we haven't lost track. Cheboygan Independents were the victims and the final count was 28 to 22.

Although slow in the first half, the game was close throughout and considerably more interesting than some of the lopsided affairs fans have been treated to. The last two periods were chuck full of action.

Manager Todd's opening line-up failed to function as expected. Their team work was rugged and they barely managed to keep ahead of Cheboygan. The first period ended with the Polar Bears leading 7 to 6, and at the half they still clung to that slender one-point margin. The count was 11 to 10 at the intermission.

With a re-vamped line-up, Charlevoix opened the third period with a barrage of field goals that soon gave them a comfortable margin. Cheboygan speared three markers during the quarter, but were out-scored by five points. The count stood Charlevoix 22, Cheboygan 16, as the period ended.

Both teams played hard in the final stanza, and as far as scoring was concerned, there was nothing to choose between them. Each marked up 6 points, Cheboygan snaring 3 goals and the Polar Bear 2 goals and 2 free throws.

For Charlevoix, Brown led with 11 points. Kipke scored 7, Novak 4, Cooper 3 and Davenport 2. Brackett, former Cheboygan high school star, led the visitors, being their most consistent player.

The Polar Cubs won 12 to 0 in their preliminary scramble with a team composed of local Indian youths. The losers showed apparent lack of practice, but their floor work and guarding was fair.

The Polar Bears have a game scheduled for next Tuesday evening with the Harbor Springs Merchants.

REP. F. P. BOHN WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION

Announces Candidacy for Second Term From 11th District.

Dr. Frank P. Bohn, congressman from the 11th district in the national house of representatives, Friday announced that he will be a candidate to succeed himself in the 1930 August primaries.

Dr. Bohn, who is serving his second term, was urged to again become a candidate, by a number of representative supporters from all over the sixteen counties in his district. He is at present busy with Washington matters, and will put very little time campaigning unless unexpected opposition should develop. To date he had been unopposed.

FATHER AND SON WEEK FEB. 10-16

COMMUNITY MEN'S CLUB SPONSORING THE PROJECT.

Full Week of Activities Are Being Planned—Annual Banquet on Wednesday, Feb. 12th.

Following a committee meeting held at the community club room recently, the Community Men's Club is ready to announce partial details for the observance of Father and Son Week from February 10th to February 16, inclusive. Rev. John E. Luckey of the Methodist church is chairman, and Fay Bradley, secretary.

Monday night, February 10th, is to be community recreation night. The plan is to have a group of men and boys meet at the gymnasium for an evening of sport. Games such as basketball, volleyball, indoor baseball, etc., will be under the leadership of John Nordrum, Stewart Coleman and Lee Shapton. There will be someone at the piano and a leader for songs.

Tuesday evening is a basketball game between the Polar Bears and Harbor Springs merchants. Fathers and sons desiring to do so should attend the game together.

Wednesday evening, February 12th, is the annual Father and Son banquet, which has been an extremely popular event in previous years. L. C. Reimann, director of Camp Charlevoix, will be the main speaker.

Thursday afternoon and evening, which is officially known as Polar Bear Day and given over to winter sports, will see a special program prepared by the Association of Commerce committee. Fathers and sons are asked to join in the fun.

The program takes on a more serious nature Friday evening, at which time fathers and sons are urged to observe "home night." The plan is to encourage fathers and sons to definitely plan for a program at home and, if possible, to emphasize throughout the community the value and need for more and better home evenings. The suggestion is that games be planned. Where the father and son are apart, to write letters. To look up boys who have no father and offer them companionship. Talk over with the son problems of interest to both. Help plan his future vocation, his school vacation, help choose his course in college, etc.

Sunday, the concluding day of Father and Son Week, will be "Go-to-Church Sunday." The plan is for fathers and sons to breakfast together and attend their respective churches together. Seating arrangements will be made to group them and a sermon along the lines of father and son relationship will be in order.

The plans as outlined, while only partially complete at this time, are excellent, and the idea brought forth is a very deserving one. Fathers and son of Charlevoix can do no better than to get behind the move.

COMMUNITY ROOM OFFICERS HAVE BEEN NAMED

The annual meeting of the managers of the Community Club room was held January 21st and officers for 1930 elected as follows:

Chairman, Mrs. F. J. Edwards.
Assistant, Mrs. F. J. Fessenden.
Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. B. Saltonstall.

The club room is primarily for the use of women's organizations with study and programs and small public meetings of an educational character. Anyone wishing to use the room should apply to Mrs. Edwards, who keeps the schedule of open dates.
